

Always Been Yours Chapter 1179

It wasn't that she didn't have a temper but that keeping a good partnership with those people would leave them at her disposal whenever she needed them.

Of course, the person in charge was oblivious to that. As soon as he heard that Wanda wanted to introduce him to a good overseas company, all his resentment disappeared. "In that case, I'll be waiting for your call, Miss Muller.

After exchanging pleasantries, Wanda ended the call and chucked her phone on the desk, snorting dismissively. Though her plan to set Timothy up failed this time, she would eventually find a way to take him down.

Yes, since her last defeat and what happened to Leah Stone, Wanda learned that defeating Tessa was impossible. However, defeating the people around her was still simple, and Timothy was her latest target.

She had looked into it; he was Tessa's only living family left and also the one she cared about the most.

"I'd like to see you sit back and do nothing while you watch your brother panic, Reinhart. Once you help your brother, I'll turn him into a black hole. Let's see if the Sawyers can still tolerate you," Wanda scowled through gnashed teeth.

that woman down. Meanwhile, Tessa had no clue about Wanda's day since the practice room was ready, and in about

Sofia sent her available students over, whom she went to pick up at saw her two seniors, Steven Hurst and the entire orchestra to dinner, and after the orchestra were already familiar with each other, they didn't have to go through the break-in period. Hence, the returned home exhausted, and she had just

Sawyer couple were here to visit

live with them, they could only come over every now living room, Stefania furrowed her brows when she found Tessa descending the stairs with ill-concealed tiredness. "You don't look so good, Tessa. Have you not been resting properly because of that Tessa had an

she wasn't into it when the news first broke