

Always Been Yours Chapter 1184

Meanwhile, Tessa had been held up by Gregory the moment she returned home. “Mommy, play with me, please.” “Sure.” Tessa naturally wouldn’t say no to the little one. However, her mind was on Reinhart Group’s issue the whole time, for she found Timothy and Sabrina’s behavior suspicious.

Later that night, Nicholas returned home to find Tessa spacing out on the couch alone. With that, he sat next to her, pulled her into his arms, and asked, “A penny for your thought?”

“You’re back.” Tessa smiled lovingly at Nicholas after coming to herself. At that,

Nicholas tapped her nose dotingly and reiterated, “What’s distracting you so much that you didn’t even realize I’ve come back?”

“I was just thinking about how you compete for a project and if someone can steal it from you at any time.” The young woman thought out loud as she looked at her beloved, who gladly explained it to her when he met her expecting gaze.

“It’s usually a fair competition for all. But because the market is ever-changing, normal for any company

he paused and gazed quizzically to your mind?”

Timothy at his company in the afternoon, and I say another one of their projects had been hearing what you have just said, let’s hope I’m recounted her afternoon reassuring it should be fine. No need to so, he, too, thought

Edward a call while dealing recent situation with “Yes, sir.” Edward obliged, then investigated the situation at once, only to something amiss.

Feeling things might be complicated after to

After knocking on the study door, he entered have indeed

Nicholas frowned grimly in response. By right, the Group and Sawyer

one would be dumb actually someone who demanding icily, leading nervousness. "It'll require further investigation, Nicholas narrowed his gaze threateningly. "In that case, I want you it. See that it's dealt with before