Always Been Yours Chapter 1207

'Am I the only one who cares about what will happen to these two women?' 'This Hadfield Group president is a complete jerk. Despite being engaged, he's still having fun with other women. Moreover, he refuses to take responsibility for these children.'

'That's right! I'm so pissed off. Who cares if he's wealthy?' 'The same goes for these two women. Why do they want to be his mistress?'

At that moment, Oliver and the two women who came to find him were the targets of harsh criticism from netizens. In addition, some people who brought up Wanda felt sorry for her, while others took pleasure in her misfortune.

"Although I dislike Wanda, I feel sorry for her. With such a fiancé, I'm afraid she won't be happy even after she gets married."

'She is pitiful, without a doubt. Can you even fathom the possibility that a woman will show up at their house with a child after they get married and claim the child is Oliver's?'

'Pfft! I couldn't help laughing when I saw the comment above.'

'I believe that this is karma. After all, she had previously destroyed the happiness of others.'

do bad things, guys. Otherwise, you'll on the Internet. She had been in and out of the meeting rooms throughout the day due to her packed schedule of meetings. Once the last meeting was over, she something careful inspection, during which she asked Samantha to critique her makeup, she concluded there employee, frowned, and inquired, "Why are how to respond to the question.

wore thin, and she hissed,

Quickly answer," Samantha chimed in as she prompted honestly. "There are widespread rumors on the Internet that the president of the Hadfield Group cheated on you, her face dropped as she turned and returned to the office. Samantha sensed the anger emanating from Wanda and chose not to follow her. Instead, she requested the employee to show her the news on the Internet. Soon, she read the news about Oliver's infidelity on the Internet and at her desk, reading the article about Oliver's

Frustrated, she clenched