

Always Been Yours Chapter 1209

With that, Oliver left crossly, leaving Wanda sitting on the couch alone, her face was dark and ugly. On the other hand, Nicholas was relieved to see that the netizens were distracted by Oliver's scandal.

Seeing this, Kieran took the opportunity to claim credit and said, "How did I do? I did a good job on this matter, right? How do you plan to reward me?"

"Do you really want a reward for helping your sister-in-law?" Nicholas glanced over. Just as Kieran was shaking his head and saying that he wouldn't dare, Nicholas' cold voice sounded in his ears again.

"However, if you seek justice for her, a reward isn't out of the question." "What reward?" Kieran immediately asked curiously.

Nicholas pretended to be secretive and said, "This depends on how well you handle things." "Okay, I'll take care of this matter! I will definitely seek justice for Tessa!"

Then, Kieran left happily. In fact, even if his brother didn't offer him a reward, he would still find a way to help Tessa out. After all, he would never let Tessa be wronged unjustly.

In the afternoon of the same day, news about Hadfield Group broke out again on the Internet. It turned out that after Kieran went back, he used his personal social media account to call Oliver out.
