

Always Been Yours Chapter 204

Chapter 204

Similarly, Tessa nodded at the novelty of the sight. This place is really beautiful.

Gregory tugged at the corner of her clothes lightly. When she leaned down, he whispered in a hush voice, "Miss Tessa, this is the first time I've been somewhere like this."

Upon hearing those words, she couldn't help feeling astonished. However, it made sense when she thought about his family background. Nicholas was such a busy man. He had never even gone to the movie theaters before, what more bringing Gregory out to play at these kinds of places? Thus, she couldn't help feeling a little sad for the little boy.

She smiled. "What a coincidence. It's also my first time here."

When Gregory heard those words, his eyes brightened, and a tinge of red climbed up his ears. He pursed his lips and smiled. "In that case, Miss Tessa, we have to let loose and play to our hearts' content today!"

She nodded and walked through the ocean tunnel with him. The aquarium was very large and could even be said to have everything. Be it deep-sea fish or coastal fish, anything they could think of could be found here.

He was stunned when he saw a bloom of glowing jellyfish. Pressing himself against the glass, he stared at them curiously. "Miss Tessa, I heard that these kinds of jellyfish are poisonous."

She nodded. "Little guy, you sure do know a lot."

Hearing the compliment made him blush in slight embarrassment. "I learned about them while reading my picture books. They were also mentioned in the encyclopedia on the animal world. These jellyfish are really beautiful. The books claim that the more beautiful something is, the more dangerous it is. However, I don't believe that. That's because you are so beautiful, Miss Tessa. But, you're not dangerous at all."

It was her first time being complimented by a child, so she couldn't help blushing furiously at those words. Despite being so young, he is already so honey-tongued, not to mention how good looking he is. I'm sure he will be a master at seducing thousands of girls when he grows up.

"Wow! That's a coral!" His attention was instantly drawn by another display, and he ran over excitedly.

She laughed and followed him while taking a lot of pictures of the child at the same time.

Gregory looked very similar to Nicholas in appearance. They both had very delicate features. It was just that this little guy had yet to grow up, so he was much more delicate than his father. For that reason, his gentle appearance made him even more adorable and charming.

Many people had been sneaking glances at him from the moment he entered the aquarium. They secretly complimented on his good looks and couldn't help being tempted to kidnap him home for themselves.

"Miss Tessa, this place is beautiful. Let's take a photo here together!" he suggested with a smile.

Tessa had long wanted to take a photo together with him but was too embarrassed to mention it herself. Now that he brought it up himself, she no longer hesitated and immediately nodded in agreement.

There was a click of a shutter, and their picture was taken. The smile on their faces conveyed their overflowing joy that almost spilled out from the screen on the phone.

He was very satisfied. "Miss Tessa, don't forget to send the photos to me later!"

All of a sudden, an announcement rang out across the aquarium. "Dear guests, the beluga whale performance this afternoon is about to begin. All guests who wish to watch the show are welcomed to enter the venue."

The little guy looked at her expectantly. "Miss Tessa, can we go?"

"Of course." She smiled and took his hand, then she headed directly toward the venue of the beluga whale performance.

The beluga whale performance was very entertaining and exciting. By the time the show was over, Gregory's hands were red from clapping too hard.

The host on the stage smilingly announced, "Did you think the show's over? We are going to have an interactive session next! We now invite the guest sitting at seat No. 118 to come up to the stage!"

Tessa glanced at Gregory's seat number, which happened to be the lucky No. 118!

Gregory was elated to see that he had been chosen. Thus, he immediately stood up and walked toward the stage excitedly.

Worried that something might happen to him, she got up and accompanied him for the interactive session.

“Miss Tessa, he is so cold! It’s so nice to touch!” He was very bold and immediately reached out to stroke the beluga whale’s head gently.

Seeming to sense that he had no malicious intentions, the beluga whale affectionately rubbed itself against his palm and even kissed him.

This action immediately made him laugh out loud, and he looked at the beluga whale with crinkled eyes.
