BENEATH HER DARKNESS: The Alpha's Little Demon Chapter 41

041- The Beast and I

LUCY.

I stood outside the car that would drive the grand Alpha couple and Alexa's family to the airport. Beside me were the Beta Couple and Lena. Gamma Kingston would be driving them and had taken some warriors on a convoy car.

But Adan was not here.

Momma wrapped her arms around me and kissed my cheeks before she reminded me to give her a call from time to time, especially since Adan usually forgets to check on them. I nodded my head as I returned her hugs.

I had already said my goodbyes to Alexa and her family, and only Pops was left.

I swallowed hard as I looked at him, not sure if he still wanted me to call him Pops after the event in the library.

I turned my body to face him before I smiled at him. "Have a safe trip, sir."

He opened his arms and hugged me, which made tears pool in my eyes. "Pops... I told you to call me Pops."

"Yes, Pops." I chuckled softly as my arms snaked around his body, and I hugged him back. "I'm sorry, Adan is not here. He was busy attending to something."

I was lying. I had no idea where he was, and when I asked Beta Collin, he said he didn't want to be disturbed.

“He already met us and said our goodbyes. Don’t worry about it. But remember what I told you. Keeping something from Adan won’t help you.” He whispered in my ear, and it made me close my eyes. “He deserves to know more about the female he is falling in love with.”

My heart began thudding loudly at his words. Does Adan love me?

He withdrew from hugging me and placed a soft peck on my forehead. “Send us the news if a pup is coming, and we’ll fly back home immediately.”

“Yes, please...” Momma added as Pop’s arm went around her.

“I don’t have a wolf yet,” I told them in a soft voice.

“I spoke to Elder Mercy, and she will visit you soon. In the olden days, they did rituals. and made herbal mixes to help the wolves within mature faster. So hopefully, she can help you.”

I nodded my head and smiled at the couple in front of me. “Thank you. I promise you’ll be the first to know if that happens.”

“No pressure, sweetheart. Take your time. Get to know each other well... and the pups. will come at the right time.” Momma added before she hugged me again.

3/14

I watched as the car drove off, and the moment they were gone from my sight, I turned my body around to face Beta Collin.

“Where is the Alpha?”

“He doesn’t want to be found at the moment. I’m sorry, Lucy.” Beta Collin answered.

“What’s going on?” I asked, my brows furrowing.

“The Alpha sometimes just wants to be alone. He’s fine. So just go on with your day and don’t mind him.” Laira smiled at me.

“Is he on a date with someone?” My heart clenched at the thought of him spending time with another female. Why would he refuse to see me if he was not busy with a female?

Beta Collin chuckled and shook his head. "The Alpha doesn't go on dates. And he has not spent any time with any females since he took you home. So relax. Like what Laira said, he just needs to blow off steam sometimes."

"Blow off some steam? Was he angry or something?"

They just both shrugged their shoulders, and I just let out a sigh before turning my body around to head inside the packhouse. "Fine.

I'll just wait until he comes home."

I was walking in silence when, all of a sudden, I heard a commotion from behind

I swiftly turned around and saw Beta Collin running toward the direction of the training grounds while some females were running past the packhouse heading in the other direction. 1

My eyes met with Laira, who was rushing to where I was standing. She grabbed my arm and pulled me to the packhouse.

"What's going on?" I asked.

"The Alpha shifted, there were many injured

5/14

041- The Beast

warriors already. Come let's get you inside?"

"What?" I shoved her hand away from my arm as I stopped walking. "I need to go there.

"No, Collin's instruction was to keep you away from there." She held my arm again, pulling me to the packhouse.

“But if Beast is there, he will calm down.

when he sees me!”

“No! Not now!” Laira’s voice was slightly higher as panic flitted from her eyes. “Let’s get you inside!”

“No!” I swatted her hand and turned my body around as I began running down the steps.

In seconds, Laira was blocking my way, and I was slowly getting pissed off.

“You can’t stop me!” I snarled at her.

“Fine! You want to know the truth! Listen! The Alpha is upset with you. That’s why he’s not here to say goodbye to his family! And maybe the reason Beast came out is that they’re upset with you!”

“What did I do wrong?”

“I don’t know! Collin didn’t say anything!

So, please... I beg you. Let’s go! Beast will surely attack...”

I didn’t let her finish her words as I skidded onto her side and ran. I was running my fastest, knowing Laira was also capable of running fast.

I had no idea why he was upset with me when we were on good terms during lunch. Unless Alpha Aurelius told him something about me lying. But he knew I would tell him sooner or later. And I was planning on telling him tonight, but of course, he couldn’t wait!

He needed to make some drama instead of demanding I tell it to him right away!

I kept running, and I knew Laira was on my heels, but I didn’t care.

The training ground was just 200 meters away, and soon, I could hear loud growls as I approached.

My feet came to a full halt when Beast came into full view. There were more than ten wolves around him, but I could see him fully since he was the biggest and he was the only black wolf there.

My eyes scanned the whole quadrangle, and a gasp left my throat when I saw three naked men bleeding on the side. They were being carried off somewhere while more wolves blocked them, to shield them if Beast planned to attack the injured ones again.

My attention went back to Beast as he leaped and attacked one brown wolf while the others, including Beta Collin, kept bumping their bodies at him to steer him away from the wolf he was messing with, but he wasn't budging.

Soon, Beast's fangs bit down on the brown wolf's neck, and it terrified me that he would kill him.

"No!!!" I just found myself screaming at the top of my lungs! And all eyes darted to me, including Beast.

He let go of the wolf and began running towards me as my eyes widened, knowing he was now aiming for me.

I kept moving my feet backward as I watched everything in front of me unfold. In seconds, all the wolves were already heading to form a wall in front of me, shielding me from his wrath, but Beast wasn't stopping.

A loud growl shook the earth before he leaped too high, over the wolves barricading me, and landed with a loud thud exactly on my front.

Another loud growl erupted from his chest. His mouth opened wide with his fangs out, just a foot away from my face. His breath blew my hair back, but I stood still, my eyes still wide open.

“Hi!” I finally found my voice at the same time I saw wolves about to jump on his back.

“No!!!” I yelled as my body flung forward, my arms clutching to Beast as if I could grab him away from where he was standing.

But of course, I couldn't! He was too damn big and heavy!

Beast must have realized what was happening

that his paws caged my body
as he dropped to the ground and rolled us over, with him covering me.

The wolves jumping on him missed his body and landed on the ground while Beast secured me under him.

“Stop!” Beta Collin shifted and stood between the other wolves, Beast, and me, and I couldn't help but see his round ass.

Beast's front leg snaked around my face and covered my eyes as a growl rumbled from his chest. I started to giggle while the quadrangle fell silent until I realized I was the only one making noise.

Shit! They would think I was insensitive, laughing after what just happened. Since I didn't know how to face them, I clutched my hands on Beast's neck and buried my face in his fur.

Soon, I felt him moving and wriggling his body as if he wanted me to let go. But I wasn't letting go.

If he was stubborn, I was more stubborn.

I didn't want him to attack someone or be attacked again.

"Lucy, he wants you on his back." Beta Collin's voice reached my ears, and my head snapped in his direction.

And he was standing a few feet away from us, fully naked. But he wasn't affecting me, I've seen too many naked men, and none of them came close to Adan, but I guess Adan didn't know that. Soon he was growling again, shaking the earth and blowing my hair slightly in the opposite direction. And I was sure, if I was plain human, I would be deaf by now.

I snapped my head back to look at Beast before I stood up in front of him. He was baring his fangs at me, trying to look tough and angry, but he just looked like a boy wanting mommy's attention.

I patted his head and smoothed my hand over his fur before I placed the tip of my nose on his snout. I could see the crowd in my peripherals holding their breath.

With our noses still touching each other and my hands cupping his jaw, I opened my mouth to talk to him. "I will ride on your back if you promise not to throw me away. Okay? Now lower your body so I can climb without any man's help."

In seconds, Beast slumped his body to the ground, and the noise from the crowd began. I couldn't help but smile and take pride in how he responded to my request.

Or was this the calm before he would eat me?

Well, it didn't matter. Dying in the hands of Adan and Beast didn't sound so bad at all.

I swung my legs and positioned myself comfortably on his back, my hands clutching the fur on his neck.

“You need to lower your body when he runs so the wind won’t throw you back.” Beta Collin suggested, and I lowered my upper body, letting my stomach and breasts lay flat on his back as I wrapped my arms around his neck.

Beast stood up, and my hold on his neck tightened as he began springing toward the forest line.

BENEATH HER DARKNESS: The Alpha’s Little Demon Chapter 42

042 – My Special Angel

LUCY.

A smile curled on my lips while my hold on Beast tightened as he sprang forward into the vast forest. The smell of earth and my hair dancing in the wind were exhilarating.

It had been far too long since I felt the wind slapping on my skin with this intensity. I miss my demon wings, but this was the next best thing – having to ride on Beast’s back. 1

I had no idea where he was taking me, but he’d been running for a long time now. Not that I mind; anywhere with him was just perfect.

Beast was walking uphill, and I could tell we were getting too far away and isolated. It would be a good thing if this was the case, so I could finally tell him my secret without anyone overhearing us.

The moment he decided where he wanted to be, he stopped and lowered himself to the ground, and I pulled my body up and slid down his back.

“Wasn’t it fun?” I asked him as I cupped his jaw, and he began licking me.

I was half expecting Adan to surge forward, but it didn’t happen. Instead, Beast was getting aggressive with his licks. His large tongue was all over my face and down my neck and arms

“What are you doing?” I chuckled as he licked my throat before feeling his paws on my shoulder, pushing me to the ground until I landed on my ass.

I anchored my palms on the ground and looked at him. “Are you mad at me? What did I do wrong this time?”

A low growl reverberated from his chest as he lowered his head to my stomach and began lifting my blouse with his snout. I just watched him with my eyes squinting, not sure if I understood what he wanted, but it seemed he wanted to lick what was under

my clothes too.

I sat up and cupped his face, rubbing his fur as I pecked his snout, making Beast whimper like a tamed dog. "What do you want to see under my clothes?"

His paws went to my shoulders again, and he pushed me to lay my back on the ground before he began tugging the waistband of my pants. The demon in me wanted to play, so I snapped my pants button open and tugged the zipper down before wiggling my hips to fully kick my pants off, leaving me just in my underwear.

And just as I expected, Beast wasted no time and began licking my core, which was covered by my underwear, and I would not deny that it tickled me. Soon, his fangs ripped my underwear, leaving my lower body naked.

I had no idea if Adan had already noticed the ground was cold and damp, covered with traces of snow, and that if I were an ordinary wolfless Omega, I would be shaking from the cold now.

I closed my eyes as I let the Beast ravage my body with his tongue. Wild thoughts were running through my demon head. Was Beast planning to mate with me?

Oh, Goddess!

Adan told me that if Beast wanted to, he would always take over, and never give control to him unless he was tired already. Which was usual. Wolves are stronger than their humans. And with Adam and Beast not on good terms, Beast never shared his strength and mind with Adan unless Adan was in danger.

"Adan... are you hearing me? Beast is having a good time... come out, come out, little Adan! Don't let the Beast eat me." I was trying to taunt Adan, thinking maybe he could overpower Beast because I was sure if he didn't shift back soon, Beast would push himself to me. And I don't think I was ready for that.

Beast needed to wait for my wolf.

But I think he didn't like my words to Adan. He growled and bared his fangs at me before moving his body and hovering over mine, his snout so close to my mouth.

I cupped his face and shook my head. "No mating with me, loverboy. You will destroy me." I giggled because I was sure he would not destroy me. I've seen demons mate with almost all creatures, and they all came out alive. "Wait for my wolf! Won't it be nice if she's the first one to taste you and not me?"

A low rumble formed on his chest, but he didn't let out a full growl. He moved back and began licking my pussy again.

Oh, Goddess! It seemed like Beast wasn't giving up control. His tongue swiped over my pussy, and I let out a loud whimper, and I knew if he kept doing it, I would eventually come.

Fuck!

"Adan, please!" My voice was louder this time.

A low growl reverberated from Beast's chest, and I swear it was a human growl, something that would come up from Adan's.

And I was right – the moment my eyes snapped open and I stared at the moonless sky above me, the tongue and mouth that were playing on my core were not Beast's anymore.

"Adan..." I moaned uncontrollably as I bucked my hips higher and strong hands gripped my ass as his deft mouth continued its assault on my pussy. He was lapping, slurping, and biting my folds, and the juices just came gushing out of my core.

“Goddess!” My cries were louder as my hands gripped the dried leaves, twigs, and dirt of the earth, not caring if anyone would hear me.

Adan withdrew from my pussy and slid his body up until his face was parallel to mine. A smug smirk was on his face as he licked his lips.

“Who licked you better?”

“Beast...” A seductive smile curled on my lips, teasing him.

I was sure Beast could make me come but my human body was craving for Adan.

Another growl vibrated from his chest before he crushed his lips into mine, kissing me brutally hard, punishing me for choosing his wolf as his hands took mine and pinned them above my head.

He lowered one hand and yanked my right leg, wrapping it around his hips as he positioned his hard cock on my wet entrance. “Do you even know why Beast went on a rampage?”

I shook my head, feigning innocence, but I already had an idea.

A smug smirk crossed his face as he pushed himself inside me, making my mouth part as I gasped for air. In no time, Adan was pouncing on me, his eyes never leaving mine, so that even if I wanted to close my eyes, I kept them open.

“I want to know everythingintiplyin

about you.”

“Yes...” I whimpered as my hold on his shoulders tightened.

“Now.”

“Yes...” He was fucking me so hard, my body jolting with each thrust, that I had to grab his body to keep from being dragged away from him.

“I swear this is the last time I’m going to fuck you if I don’t hear what I want to know.

My brows furrowed as a grunt escaped my throat, while my other leg wrapped around him as well, gripping his body tightly. “You didn’t mean that!”

“You have no idea how much control I have.

So tell me everything I need to know, and I’ll make sure you get fucked exactly how you want it, anytime you want.”

It sounds like a good bargain.

I nodded my head. I had nothing to lose. I was planning to tell him my secret, but his threat got my attention. I had never desired anyone as much as I lusted for him, and the thought of not having him inside me consumed me.

“Harder!” I moaned wantonly, but instead, he withdrew his cock from me.

I hissed, my eyes glaring at him, and he just gave me another smug smirk as he kneeled in between my legs and slipped his hands under my ass, dragging my body before lifting my lower back off the ground. And without a warning, he buried himself in me.

“Alpha!” I gasped, my eyes locking with his dark blue eyes, as he began bucking his hips back and forth, hitting every corner of my pussy.

My back was totally scratched from the ground by the harsh way he was pouncing on me, but the pain was just adding to my arousal. My hands reached for the hem of my shirt as I slowly tugged it off my body, tossing it away as Adan’s hand snapped the front hook of my bra, spilling my breasts out of it.

His eyes dilated as he roughly pulled my body up and captured my breast with his warm and wet mouth while he continuously rocked my body.

“Mine...” He growled under his breath as my body shuddered with the force of my orgasm at the same time he released himself inside

of me.

My arms clung to him as my eyes rolled back. I was at a loss for coherent words, but I knew whatever he would ask me to do, I would gladly do it in a heartbeat just to have a taste of him like this for the rest of my life.

We clung to each other as we rode our orgasms before Adan lowered our bodies to the ground.

“Lucy...”

“Hmmm...” I muffled my response, my hand rubbing against his naked chest as I lay on top of him while his body was lying down on the cold, wet forest grounds.

“How long before you’ll learn to trust me?”

“I trust you...”

11

“You don’t. And the thought that you don’t, kills me.”

“Adan... If it is about my father and family,”

“Yes, it’s always been that. What so special about him?”

I pressed my hands on his chest as I pushed my body away from him and sat a few feet away from where he was. “Will you promise me that you will hear me out first? that you won’t judge me?”

“When did I ever judge you?” He sat up and mirrored my position.

“But what if you realized I’m not who you thought I was? Maybe you will never like me again. It’s not my fault that I am who I am. I was born this way. They said you can choose your friends, but you can never choose your family, so I don’t...”

“How many times did you memorize that spiel?”

“I don’t know. Too many times, I suppose. Is it boring?”

“Yes. Only because I want to know...now!”

“I know, but I need you to understand that I didn’t choose to be like this.”

“Lucy... Are you a fucking rabbit?”

“What?”

“A bunny?” 4

I bit my lower lip to suppress a smile, but the sound of my giggle came from my throat as I shook my head.

“Oh, I thought you were. Dammit! So, are you a bear shifter?”

“No.”

“A witch?”

I shook my head again.

“Vampire?”

“A sea nymph?”

“A fae?”

“A fucking dragon...?”

13/14

For every question, I just shook my head, waiting for the one that would make me nod.

But it didn’t come.

“This is fucking getting too serious! What are you?” He pursed his lips into a thin line as he looked at me with inquisitive eyes.

I gripped the opal stone on my necklace before I slowly slipped the chain that holds it off my neck and threw it on the ground beside him. His eyes darted to it for a few seconds before his gaze followed me as I walked a few feet away from where he was seated.

His brows were raised and a smile tugged at his mouth. “Are you an Angel? My special Angel?”

LUCY.

A smile curled on my lips while my hold on Beast tightened as he sprang forward into the vast forest. The smell of earth and my hair dancing in the wind were exhilarating.

It had been far too long since I felt the wind slapping on my skin with this intensity. I miss my demon wings, but this was the next best thing – having to ride on Beast’s back. 1

I had no idea where he was taking me, but he’d been running for a long time now. Not that I mind; anywhere with him was just perfect.

Beast was walking uphill, and I could tell we were getting too far away and isolated. It would be a good thing if this was the case, so I could finally tell him my secret without anyone overhearing us.

The moment he decided where he wanted to be, he stopped and lowered himself to the ground, and I pulled my body up and slid down his back.

“Wasn’t it fun?” I asked him as I cupped his jaw, and he began licking me.

I was half expecting Adan to surge forward, but it didn’t happen. Instead, Beast was getting aggressive with his licks. His large tongue was all over my face and down my neck and arms

“What are you doing?” I chuckled as he licked my throat before feeling his paws on my shoulder, pushing me to the ground until I landed on my ass.

I anchored my palms on the ground and looked at him. “Are you mad at me? What did I do wrong this time?”

A low growl reverberated from his chest as he lowered his head to my stomach and began lifting my blouse with his snout. I just watched him with my eyes squinting, not sure if I understood what he wanted, but it seemed he wanted to lick what was under

my clothes too.

I sat up and cupped his face, rubbing his fur as I pecked his snout, making Beast whimper like a tamed dog. “What do you want to see under my clothes?”

His paws went to my shoulders again, and he pushed me to lay my back on the ground before he began tugging the waistband of my pants. The demon in me wanted to play, so I snapped my pants button open and tugged the zipper down before wiggling my hips to fully kick my pants off, leaving me just in my underwear.

And just as I expected, Beast wasted no time and began licking my core, which was covered by my underwear, and I would not deny that it tickled me. Soon, his fangs ripped my underwear, leaving my lower body naked.

I had no idea if Adan had already noticed the ground was cold and damp, covered with traces of snow, and that if I were an ordinary wolfless Omega, I would be shaking from the cold now.

I closed my eyes as I let the Beast ravage my body with his tongue. Wild thoughts were running through my demon head. Was Beast planning to mate with me?

Oh, Goddess!

Adan told me that if Beast wanted to, he would always take over, and never give control to him unless he was tired already. Which was usual. Wolves are stronger than their humans. And with Adam and Beast not on good terms, Beast never shared his strength and mind with Adan unless Adan was in danger.

“Adan... are you hearing me? Beast is having a good time... come out, come out, little Adan! Don't let the Beast eat me.” I was trying to taunt Adan, thinking maybe he could overpower Beast because I was sure if he didn't shift back soon, Beast would push himself to me. And I don't think I was ready for that.

Beast needed to wait for my wolf.

But I think he didn't like my words to Adan. He growled and bared his fangs at me before moving his body and hovering over mine, his snout so close to my mouth.

I cupped his face and shook my head. “No mating with me, loverboy. You will destroy me.” I giggled because I was sure he would not destroy me. I've seen demons mate with almost all creatures, and they all came out alive. “Wait for my wolf! Won't it be nice if she's the first one to taste you and not me?”

A low rumble formed on his chest, but he didn't let out a full growl. He moved back and began licking my pussy again.

Oh, Goddess! It seemed like Beast wasn't giving up control. His tongue swiped over my pussy, and I let out a loud whimper, and I knew if he kept doing it, I would eventually come.

Fuck!

"Adan, please!" My voice was louder this time.

A low growl reverberated from Beast's chest, and I swear it was a human growl, something that would come up from Adan's.

And I was right – the moment my eyes snapped open and I stared at the moonless sky above me, the tongue and mouth that were playing on my core were not Beast's

anymore.

"Adan..." I moaned uncontrollably as I bucked my hips higher and strong hands gripped my ass as his deft mouth continued its assault on my pussy. He was lapping, slurping, and biting my folds, and the juices just came gushing out of my core.

"Goddess!" My cries were louder as my hands gripped the dried leaves, twigs, and dirt of the earth, not caring if anyone would hear me.

Adan withdrew from my pussy and slid his body up until his face was parallel to mine. A smug smirk was on his face as he licked his lips.

"Who licked you better?"

"Beast..." A seductive smile curled on my lips, teasing him.

I was sure Beast could make me come but my human body was craving for Adan.

Another growl vibrated from his chest before he crushed his lips into mine, kissing me brutally hard, punishing me for choosing his wolf as his hands took mine and pinned them above my head.

He lowered one hand and yanked my right leg, wrapping it around his hips as he positioned his hard cock on my wet entrance. "Do you even know why Beast went on a rampage?"

I shook my head, feigning innocence, but I already had an idea.

A smug smirk crossed his face as he pushed himself inside me, making my mouth part as I gasped for air. In no time, Adan was pouncing on me, his eyes never leaving mine, so that even if I wanted to close my eyes, I kept them open.

"I want to know everythingintiplyin
about you."

"Yes..." I whimpered as my hold on his shoulders tightened.

"Now."

"Yes..." He was fucking me so hard, my body jolting with each thrust, that I had to grab his body to keep from being dragged away from him.

"I swear this is the last time I'm going to fuck you if I don't hear what I want to know.

My brows furrowed as a grunt escaped my throat, while my other leg wrapped around him as well, gripping his body tightly. "You didn't mean that!"

"You have no idea how much control I have.

It sounds like a good bargain.

I nodded my head. I had nothing to lose. I was planning to tell him my secret, but his threat got my attention. I had never desired anyone as much as I lusted for him, and the thought of not having him inside me consumed me.

“Harder!” I moaned wantonly, but instead, he withdrew his cock from me.

I hissed, my eyes glaring at him, and he just gave me another smug smirk as he kneeled in between my legs and slipped his hands under my ass, dragging my body before lifting my lower back off the ground. And without a warning, he buried himself in me.

“Alpha!” I gasped, my eyes locking with his dark blue eyes, as he began bucking his hips back and forth, hitting every corner of my pussy.

My back was totally scratched from the ground by the harsh way he was pouncing on me, but the pain was just adding to my arousal. My hands reached for the hem of my shirt as I slowly tugged it off my body, tossing it away as Adan’s hand snapped the front hook of my bra, spilling my breasts out of it.

His eyes dilated as he roughly pulled my body up and captured my breast with his warm and wet mouth while he continuously rocked my body.

“Mine...” He growled under his breath as my body shuddered with the force of my orgasm

at the same time he released himself inside

of me.

My arms clung to him as my eyes rolled back. I was at a loss for coherent words, but I knew whatever he would ask me to do, I would gladly do it in a heartbeat just to have a taste of him like this for the rest of my life.

We clung to each other as we rode our orgasms before Adan lowered our bodies to the ground.

“Lucy...”

“Hmmm...” I muffled my response, my hand rubbing against his naked chest as I lay on top of him while his body was lying down on the cold, wet forest grounds.

“How long before you’ll learn to trust me?”

“I trust you...”

11

“You don’t. And the thought that you don’t, kills me.”

“Yes, it’s always been that. What so special about him?”

I pressed my hands on his chest as I pushed my body away from him and sat a few feet away from where he was. “Will you promise me that you will hear me out first? that you won’t judge me?”

“When did I ever judge you?” He sat up and mirrored my position.

“But what if you realized I’m not who you thought I was? Maybe you will never like me again. It’s not my fault that I am who I am. I was born this way. They said you can choose your friends, but you can never choose your family, so I don’t...”

“How many times did you memorize that spiel?”

“I don’t know. Too many times, I suppose. Is it boring?”

“Yes. Only because I want to know...now!”

“I know, but I need you to understand that I didn’t choose to be like this.”

“Lucy... Are you a fucking rabbit?”

“What?”

“A bunny?” 4

I bit my lower lip to suppress a smile, but the sound of my giggle came from my throat as I shook my head.

“Oh, I thought you were. Dammit! So, are you a bear shifter?”

“No.”

“A witch?”

I shook my head again.

“Vampire?”

“A sea nymph?”

“A fae?”

“A fucking dragon...?”

13/14

For every question, I just shook my head, waiting for the one that would make me nod.

But it didn't come.

“This is fucking getting too serious! What are you?” He pursed his lips into a thin line as he looked at me with inquisitive eyes.

I gripped the opal stone on my necklace before I slowly slipped the chain that holds it off my neck and threw it on the ground beside him. His eyes darted to it for a few seconds before his gaze followed me as I walked a few feet away from where he was seated.

His brows were raised and a smile tugged at his mouth. “Are you an Angel? My special Angel?”

A smile curled on my lips while my hold on Beast tightened as he sprang forward into the vast forest. The smell of earth and my hair dancing in the wind were exhilarating.

It had been far too long since I felt the wind slapping on my skin with this intensity. I

miss my demon wings, but this was the next best thing – having to ride on Beast's back. 1

I had no idea where he was taking me, but he'd been running for a long time now. Not that I mind; anywhere with him was just perfect.

Beast was walking uphill, and I could tell we were getting too far away and isolated. It would be a good thing if this was the case, so I could finally tell him my secret without anyone overhearing us.

The moment he decided where he wanted to be, he stopped and lowered himself to the ground, and I pulled my body up and slid down his back.

“Wasn’t it fun?” I asked him as I cupped his jaw, and he began licking me.

I was half expecting Adan to surge forward, but it didn’t happen. Instead, Beast was getting aggressive with his licks. His large tongue was all over my face and down my neck and arms

“What are you doing?” I chuckled as he licked my throat before feeling his paws on my shoulder, pushing me to the ground until I landed on my ass.

I anchored my palms on the ground and looked at him. “Are you mad at me? What did I do wrong this time?”

A low growl reverberated from his chest as he lowered his head to my stomach and began lifting my blouse with his snout. I just watched him with my eyes squinting, not sure if I understood what he wanted, but it seemed he wanted to lick what was under

my clothes too.

I sat up and cupped his face, rubbing his fur as I pecked his snout, making Beast whimper like a tamed dog. “What do you want to see under my clothes?”

His paws went to my shoulders again, and he pushed me to lay my back on the ground before he began tugging the waistband of my pants. The demon in me wanted to play, so I snapped my pants button open and tugged the zipper down before wiggling my hips to fully kick my pants off, leaving me just in my underwear.

And just as I expected, Beast wasted no time and began licking my core, which was covered by my underwear, and I would not deny that it tickled me. Soon, his fangs ripped my underwear, leaving my lower body naked.

I had no idea if Adan had already noticed the ground was cold and damp, covered with traces of snow, and that if I were an ordinary

wolfless Omega, I would be shaking from the cold now.

I closed my eyes as I let the Beast ravage my body with his tongue. Wild thoughts were running through my demon head. Was Beast planning to mate with me?

Oh, Goddess!

Adan told me that if Beast wanted to, he would always take over, and never give control to him unless he was tired already. Which was usual. Wolves are stronger than their humans. And with Adam and Beast not on good terms, Beast never shared his strength and mind with Adan unless Adan was in danger.

“Adan... are you hearing me? Beast is having a good time... come out, come out, little Adan! Don't let the Beast eat me.” I was trying to taunt Adan, thinking maybe he could overpower Beast because I was sure if he didn't shift back soon, Beast would push himself to me. And I don't think I was ready for that.

Beast needed to wait for my wolf.

But I think he didn't like my words to Adan. He growled and bared his fangs at me before moving his body and hovering over mine, his snout so close to my mouth.

I cupped his face and shook my head. “No mating with me, loverboy. You will destroy me.” I giggled because I was sure he would not destroy me. I've seen demons mate with almost all creatures, and they all came out alive. “Wait for my wolf! Won't it be nice if she's the first one to taste you and not me?”

A low rumble formed on his chest, but he didn't let out a full growl. He moved back and began licking my pussy again.

Oh, Goddess! It seemed like Beast wasn't giving up control. His tongue swiped over my pussy, and I let out a loud whimper, and I knew if he kept doing it, I would eventually come.

Fuck!

“Adan, please!” My voice was louder this time.

A low growl reverberated from Beast's chest, and I swear it was a human growl, something that would come up from Adan's.

And I was right – the moment my eyes snapped open and I stared at the moonless sky above me, the tongue and mouth that were playing on my core were not Beast's anymore.

“Adan...” I moaned uncontrollably as I bucked my hips higher and strong hands gripped my ass as his deft mouth continued its assault on my pussy. He was lapping, slurping, and biting my folds, and the juices just came gushing out of my core.

“Goddess!” My cries were louder as my hands gripped the dried leaves, twigs, and dirt of the earth, not caring if anyone would hear me.

Adan withdrew from my pussy and slid his body up until his face was parallel to mine. A smug smirk was on his face as he licked his lips.

“Who licked you better?”

“Beast...” A seductive smile curled on my lips, teasing him.

I was sure Beast could make me come but my human body was craving for Adan.

Another growl vibrated from his chest before he crushed his lips into mine, kissing me brutally hard, punishing me for choosing his wolf as his hands took mine and pinned them above my head.

He lowered one hand and yanked my right leg, wrapping it around his hips as he positioned his hard cock on my wet entrance. “Do you even know why Beast went on a rampage?”

I shook my head, feigning innocence, but I already had an idea.

A smug smirk crossed his face as he pushed himself inside me, making my mouth part as I gasped for air. In no time, Adan was pouncing on me, his eyes never leaving mine, so that even if I wanted to close my eyes, I kept them open.

“I want to know everythingintiplyin about you.”

“Yes...” I whimpered as my hold on his shoulders tightened.

“Yes...” He was fucking me so hard, my body jolting with each thrust, that I had to grab his body to keep from being dragged away from him.

“I swear this is the last time I’m going to fuck you if I don’t hear what I want to know.

My brows furrowed as a grunt escaped my throat, while my other leg wrapped around him as well, gripping his body tightly. “You didn’t mean that!”

“You have no idea how much control I have.

It sounds like a good bargain.

I nodded my head. I had nothing to lose. I was planning to tell him my secret, but his threat got my attention. I had never desired anyone as much as I lusted for him, and the thought of not having him inside me consumed me.

“Harder!” I moaned wantonly, but instead, he withdrew his cock from me.

I hissed, my eyes glaring at him, and he just gave me another smug smirk as he kneeled in between my legs and slipped his hands under my ass, dragging my body before lifting my lower back off the ground. And without a warning, he buried himself in me.

“Alpha!” I gasped, my eyes locking with his dark blue eyes, as he began bucking his hips back and forth, hitting every corner of my pussy.

My back was totally scratched from the ground by the harsh way he was pouncing on me, but the pain was just adding to my arousal. My hands reached for the hem of my shirt as I slowly tugged it off my body, tossing it away as Adan's hand snapped the front hook of my bra, spilling my breasts out of it.

His eyes dilated as he roughly pulled my body up and captured my breast with his warm and wet mouth while he continuously rocked my body.

"Mine..." He growled under his breath as my body shuddered with the force of my orgasm

at the same time he released himself inside

of me.

My arms clung to him as my eyes rolled back. I was at a loss for coherent words, but I knew whatever he would ask me to do, I would gladly do it in a heartbeat just to have a taste of him like this for the rest of my life.

We clung to each other as we rode our orgasms before Adan lowered our bodies to the ground.

"Lucy..."

"Hmmm..." I muffled my response, my hand rubbing against his naked chest as I lay on top of him while his body was lying down on the cold, wet forest grounds.

"How long before you'll learn to trust me?"

"I trust you..."

11

"You don't. And the thought that you don't, kills me."

"Adan... If it is about my father and family,"

"Yes, it's always been that. What so special about him?"

I pressed my hands on his chest as I pushed my body away from him and sat a few feet away from where he was. "Will you promise me that you will hear me out first? that you won't judge me?"

"When did I ever judge you?" He sat up and mirrored my position.

"But what if you realized I'm not who you thought I was? Maybe you will never like me again. It's not my fault that I am who I am. I was born this way. They said you can choose your friends, but you can never choose your family, so I don't..."

"How many times did you memorize that spiel?"

"I don't know. Too many times, I suppose. Is it boring?"

"Yes. Only because I want to know...now!"

12/14

"I know, but I need you to understand that I didn't choose to be like this."

"Lucy... Are you a fucking rabbit?"

"What?"

"A bunny?" 4

I bit my lower lip to suppress a smile, but the sound of my giggle came from my throat as I shook my head.

"Oh, I thought you were. Dammit! So, are you a bear shifter?"

"No."

"A witch?"

I shook my head again.

"Vampire?"

"A sea nymph?"

"A fae?"

"A fucking dragon...?"

13/14

For every question, I just shook my head, waiting for the one that would make me nod.

But it didn't come.

"This is fucking getting too serious! What are you?" He pursed his lips into a thin line as he looked at me with inquisitive eyes.

I gripped the opal stone on my necklace before I slowly slipped the chain that holds it off my neck and threw it on the ground beside him. His eyes darted to it for a few seconds before his gaze followed me as I walked a few feet away from where he was seated.

His brows were raised and a smile tugged at his mouth. "Are you an Angel? My special Angel?"

LUCY.

A smile curled on my lips while my hold on Beast tightened as he sprang forward into the vast forest. The smell of earth and my hair dancing in the wind were exhilarating.

It had been far too long since I felt the wind slapping on my skin with this intensity. I

miss my demon wings, but this was the next best thing – having to ride on Beast’s back. 1

I had no idea where he was taking me, but he’d been running for a long time now. Not that I mind; anywhere with him was just perfect.

Beast was walking uphill, and I could tell we were getting too far away and isolated. It would be a good thing if this was the case, so I could finally tell him my secret without anyone overhearing us.

The moment he decided where he wanted to be, he stopped and lowered himself to the ground, and I pulled my body up and slid down his back.

“Wasn’t it fun?” I asked him as I cupped his jaw, and he began licking me.

I was half expecting Adan to surge forward, but it didn’t happen. Instead, Beast was getting aggressive with his licks. His large tongue was all over my face and down my neck and arms

“What are you doing?” I chuckled as he licked my throat before feeling his paws on my shoulder, pushing me to the ground until I landed on my ass.

I anchored my palms on the ground and looked at him. “Are you mad at me? What did I do wrong this time?”

A low growl reverberated from his chest as he lowered his head to my stomach and began lifting my blouse with his snout. I just watched him with my eyes squinting, not sure if I understood what he wanted, but it seemed he wanted to lick what was under

my clothes too.

I sat up and cupped his face, rubbing his fur as I pecked his snout, making Beast whimper like a tamed dog. "What do you want to see under my clothes?"

His paws went to my shoulders again, and he pushed me to lay my back on the ground before he began tugging the waistband of my pants. The demon in me wanted to play, so I snapped my pants button open and tugged the zipper down before wiggling my hips to fully kick my pants off, leaving me just in my underwear.

And just as I expected, Beast wasted no time and began licking my core, which was covered by my underwear, and I would not deny that it tickled me. Soon, his fangs ripped my underwear, leaving my lower body naked.

I had no idea if Adan had already noticed the ground was cold and damp, covered with traces of snow, and that if I were an ordinary

wolfless Omega, I would be shaking from the cold now.

I closed my eyes as I let the Beast ravage my body with his tongue. Wild thoughts were running through my demon head. Was Beast planning to mate with me?

Oh, Goddess!

Adan told me that if Beast wanted to, he would always take over, and never give control to him unless he was tired already. Which was usual. Wolves are stronger than their humans. And with Adam and Beast not on good terms, Beast never shared his strength and mind with Adan unless Adan was in danger.

"Adan... are you hearing me? Beast is having a good time... come out, come out, little Adan! Don't let the Beast eat me." I was trying to taunt Adan, thinking maybe he could overpower Beast because I was sure if he didn't shift back soon, Beast would push himself to me. And I don't think I was ready for that.

Beast needed to wait for my wolf.

But I think he didn't like my words to Adan. He growled and bared his fangs at me before moving his body and hovering over mine, his snout so close to my mouth.

I cupped his face and shook my head. "No mating with me, loverboy. You will destroy me." I giggled because I was sure he would not destroy me. I've seen demons mate with almost all creatures, and they all came out alive. "Wait for my wolf! Won't it be nice if she's the first one to taste you and not me?"

A low rumble formed on his chest, but he didn't let out a full growl. He moved back and began licking my pussy again.

Oh, Goddess! It seemed like Beast wasn't giving up control. His tongue swiped over my pussy, and I let out a loud whimper, and I knew if he kept doing it, I would eventually come.

Fuck!

"Adan, please!" My voice was louder this time.

A low growl reverberated from Beast's chest, and I swear it was a human growl, something that would come up from Adan's.

And I was right – the moment my eyes snapped open and I stared at the moonless sky above me, the tongue and mouth that were playing on my core were not Beast's

anymore.

"Adan..." I moaned uncontrollably as I bucked my hips higher and strong hands gripped my ass as his deft mouth continued its assault on my pussy. He was lapping, slurping, and biting my folds, and the juices just came gushing out of my core.

“Goddess!” My cries were louder as my hands gripped the dried leaves, twigs, and dirt of the earth, not caring if anyone would hear me.

Adan withdrew from my pussy and slid his body up until his face was parallel to mine. A smug smirk was on his face as he licked his lips.

“Who licked you better?”

“Beast...” A seductive smile curled on my lips, teasing him.

I was sure Beast could make me come but my human body was craving for Adan.

Another growl vibrated from his chest before he crushed his lips into mine, kissing me brutally hard, punishing me for choosing his wolf as his hands took mine and pinned them above my head.

He lowered one hand and yanked my right leg, wrapping it around his hips as he positioned his hard cock on my wet entrance. “Do you even know why Beast went on a rampage?”

I shook my head, feigning innocence, but I already had an idea.

A smug smirk crossed his face as he pushed himself inside me, making my mouth part as I gasped for air. In no time, Adan was pouncing on me, his eyes never leaving mine, so that even if I wanted to close my eyes, I kept them open.

“I want to know everythingintiplyin

about you.”

“Yes...” I whimpered as my hold on his shoulders tightened.

“Yes...” He was fucking me so hard, my body jolting with each thrust, that I had to grab his body to keep from being dragged away from him.

“I swear this is the last time I’m going to fuck you if I don’t hear what I want to know.

My brows furrowed as a grunt escaped my throat, while my other leg wrapped around him as well, gripping his body tightly. “You didn’t mean that!”

“You have no idea how much control I have.

It sounds like a good bargain.

I nodded my head. I had nothing to lose. I was planning to tell him my secret, but his threat got my attention. I had never desired anyone as much as I lusted for him, and the thought of not having him inside me consumed me.

“Harder!” I moaned wantonly, but instead, he withdrew his cock from me.

I hissed, my eyes glaring at him, and he just gave me another smug smirk as he kneeled in between my legs and slipped his hands under my ass, dragging my body before lifting my lower back off the ground. And without a warning, he buried himself in me.

“Alpha!” I gasped, my eyes locking with his dark blue eyes, as he began bucking his hips back and forth, hitting every corner of my pussy.

My back was totally scratched from the ground by the harsh way he was pouncing on me, but the pain was just adding to my arousal. My hands reached for the hem of my shirt as I slowly tugged it off my body, tossing it away as Adan’s hand snapped the front hook of my bra, spilling my breasts out of it.

His eyes dilated as he roughly pulled my body up and captured my breast with his warm and wet mouth while he continuously rocked my body.

“Mine...” He growled under his breath as my body shuddered with the force of my orgasm

at the same time he released himself inside
of me.

My arms clung to him as my eyes rolled back. I was at a loss for coherent words, but I knew whatever he would ask me to do, I would gladly do it in a heartbeat just to have a taste of him like this for the rest of my life.

We clung to each other as we rode our orgasms before Adan lowered our bodies to the ground.

“Lucy...”

“Hmmm...” I muffled my response, my hand rubbing against his naked chest as I lay on top of him while his body was lying down on the cold, wet forest grounds.

“How long before you’ll learn to trust me?”

“I trust you...”

11

“You don’t. And the thought that you don’t, kills me.”

“Adan... If it is about my father and family,”

“Yes, it’s always been that. What so special about him?”

I pressed my hands on his chest as I pushed my body away from him and sat a few feet away from where he was. “Will you promise me that you will hear me out first? that you won’t judge me?”

“When did I ever judge you?” He sat up and mirrored my position.

“But what if you realized I’m not who you thought I was? Maybe you will never like me again. It’s not my fault that I am who I am. I was born this way. They said you can choose your friends, but you can never choose your family, so I don’t...”

“How many times did you memorize that spiel?”

“I don’t know. Too many times, I suppose. Is it boring?”

“Yes. Only because I want to know...now!”

“I know, but I need you to understand that I didn’t choose to be like this.”

“Lucy... Are you a fucking rabbit?”

“What?”

“A bunny?” 4

I bit my lower lip to suppress a smile, but the sound of my giggle came from my throat as I shook my head.

“Oh, I thought you were. Dammit! So, are you a bear shifter?”

“No.”

“A witch?”

I shook my head again.

“Vampire?”

“A sea nymph?”

“A fae?”

“A fucking dragon...?”

13/14

For every question, I just shook my head, waiting for the one that would make me nod.

But it didn’t come.

“This is fucking getting too serious! What are you?” He pursed his lips into a thin line as he looked at me with inquisitive eyes.

I gripped the opal stone on my necklace before I slowly slipped the chain that holds it off my neck and threw it on the ground beside him. His eyes darted to it for a few seconds before his gaze followed me as I walked a few feet away from where he was seated.

His brows were raised and a smile tugged at his mouth. “Are you an Angel? My special Angel?”

LUCY.

“Are you an Angel? My special Angel?”

I should have smiled at the way he addressed me, but his words only cut my heart. 1

“I'm not. I'm the exact opposite.”

My eyes watered, as I let my horns surface from my temples while my tail began to swoosh around my back until it was standing proudly beside me.

Adan's mouth dropped as his body stiffened, and I saw the shock in his eyes, but I couldn't tell if he despised me or not. "Your eyes.'

I had horns and a tail, and all he noticed were my eyes. But yes, my eyes turned crimson red.

"Don't run." My voice broke as my shoulders began to shake, while I tried my best not to cry.

When did I get so weak?

I was standing naked in front of the only man I was willing to show my true self to, and I knew that if he ran away, he would shatter me to pieces.

"I'm sorry..."

'Don't be sorry for who or what you are.' A voice rang in my head. 1

Am I hearing something? I swallowed hard and looked around to see if anyone else was present. Maybe it was Selene speaking with My eyes locked with Adan's again. His face was void of any emotion, and I hated it. I wish I could read his mind.

'Calm yourself or the fire will come out.'

Whoever she might be, she was right, I need to calm down or the fire will come out.

My horns and my tail, as well as my wings, were things my father would not be able to detect because they were part of my body. They were my own.

But the fire was my connection to him it was a gift that linked me to him.

I dropped my gaze from the Alpha as I rushed toward where he was seated to grab the necklace on the ground beside him, but before I could take it, his hand grabbed mine and stopped me from picking it up.

I felt my horns retract, as well as my tail, because of the opal stone's presence.

I tilted my head to look at him as my heart thudded loudly. His face was still void of any emotion. I had no clue if he was repulsed or terrified of me.

"Show me more," he said in a calm voice.

"I need the necklace."

"I want to see your full demon form. Out your horns again!"

3/16

The way his deep, baritone voice came out with that order was too sexy, making tingles spread in between my thighs.

I gulped and shook my head.

"Is this the reason why you can't change into your demon body?"

"Yes," I answered.

"If I throw it far, you can let your horns and tail come out?"

I nodded my head at the same time and let out a loud shriek when I saw him grab the necklace and aim to throw it away.

"Please don't... I can't control fire without it!" I blurted it out as fast as I could as I tried to take it from his hand, but he was good at taking it away from me.

"What do you mean?" His forehead creased as he slowly lowered his hand.

My breathing slowed, but my gaze remained fixed on the necklace in his hand. "Let me explain... You promised you would hear me out."

"Explain then."

"The necklace suppressed my demon power. It means if it's near me, I cannot transform into my demon form. And fire will not come out of my body." I swallowed, waiting for him to say something, but he kept quiet. "I can't control fire yet. I tried to before, but it was stronger than me. I can burn this forest if I get upset."

I had no idea why I was not telling him about my father and the fire connection yet.

"If you want to see my demon form again, I will show it to you, all of it. But I need the necklace around so when my emotions overwhelm me, I can take it and the fire won't come out."

"There is something you're not telling me.

This is not just about the fire burning the whole forest. Why are you suppressing your demon power? Don't you want to be stronger so no one will abuse you and force you to do things you don't want, like the Omega feast?"

Adan knew me.

"My power of fire... it connects me to my father. If I use it, he will be able to locate my exact location. And then..."

"He would find you... Your father, is he half demon?"

"No. He's a full demon. The prince of darkness. And one day, maybe centuries from now, he will be chosen as the God of the Underworld."

"That powerful..."

I nodded my head. "He wanted to take away my werewolf blood and make me a full demon."

6/16

"Wow! Shit!" he grumbled as he brushed his palm across his face and tugged at his hair. "This is fucking overwhelming..."

"If you don't want me here anymore. I will walk away. I might be half demon, but I mean no harm."

"What did you say?"

"I said I mean no harm."

"No, the part where I don't want you anymore?"

"If you don't want me anymore..." I was not able to finish my words as he closed the gap between us and grabbed my neck, pulling my face close to his as he crushed his mouth against mine.

Tears trickled down my face as I slowly parted my mouth and kissed him back.

He still wanted me. But was it enough for him to let me stay?

7/16

"Just let me go, and I will walk away. But please don't let my secret out." I mumbled against his lips the moment he pulled away from kissing me.

"No one is walking away here." He answered hoarsely as he pecked my lips. "My little demon... Should I be scared of what you can do to me?"

I didn't answer him and instead wrapped my arms around his neck as I hugged him tightly. "Adan..."

His hands went to my ass as he lifted my body off the ground, and my legs wrapped around his hips. "I want to see all of you..."

I nodded my head before I answered in a whisper. "Promise me the necklace, you will throw at me if I ask for it."

“Yes... I promise.” He replied as he let me on my feet.

I was about to turn around but his hand

8/16

snaked around my wrist and pulled me back.

“Lucy.” His hand reached for my stray locks and tucked them behind my ear. “Will you let me ask questions, and will you answer me truthfully after this? I’m still trying to get my head wrapped around this.”

I nodded my head, his eyes looked solemn, and it made me uneasy. Was everything just sinking in now, and maybe he would change his mind about making me stay?

“Good, now let me meet my little demon.” He chuckled as his hand landed on my naked ass, slapping me a bit harshly, which made my body jolt as I jogged away from him.

I stopped more than 15 feet away, where I could no longer sense the opal stone.

“Ready?” I asked as my gaze wandered across the naked body of the Alpha.

Goddess, he was perfect! He placed a hand on his hips as the other went to cup his jaw, his fingers rubbing his chin while his gaze never left mine.

I swallowed and dropped my gaze to the ground, and slowly, little red veins began to show up on the skin of my legs up to my thighs and all over my body as a tail grew out in between my hip bones, just above my before it swooshed around me while the horns in my head popped out on my temples. 1 ass,

I knew my eyes were back to crimson red, and I was sure thin veins were on my face as well.

I slowly tilted my head up, ready to let Adan see my real demon skin, and my mouth dropped open at the view in front of me.

He was still holding his jaw, his tongue swiping over his lips, but he was sporting a very hard erection.

He snickered before he opened his mouth to speak. "You looked like the one who saw me transform into something."

"You're having a hard-on..."

10/16

"I am. Fuck! Lucy, something is fucking wrong with me, but you looked so sexy in my eyes. Can I fuck you in that form?"

A giggle rose from my chest, and I saw him drop the opal stone on the ground before he moved toward me. Halfway through his walk, I flexed my shoulders, and my big, black wings came out with a loud pop.

Adan stepped back with a surprised expression. "Mother of all fuckers! What the fuck was that?!" 2

His eyes were rounded before he began to chuckle as my wings flapped gently, blowing air his way. "Goddess, Lucy. I just want to hold you... Will there be more things popping out of your body?"

I shook my head, biting my bottom lip as I suppressed my giggles.

In seconds, Adan came like a tornado and grabbed my neck, and pulled me closer before smashing our mouths and kissing me brutally hard. He might have realized I was not the meek Omega that needed to be handled with care.

My tail swooshed and danced around until it wrapped around us, pressing our bodies closer together at the same time that Adan forced my mouth open. He slipped his tongue inside my mouth as I moaned in pleasure, but I was not done with my surprise yet.

I willed my tongue to extend longer and swiped it inside his mouth, up to the walls of his throat. His eyes snapped open, but my arms and tail around him tightened their hold, not allowing him to move.

Soon, his shoulders relaxed as we kissed again.

My wings flapped before embracing us into a cocoon while I lift our bodies a few feet off the ground.

Adan pulled away from kissing me, his eyes widened in shock before a smug smirk crossed his face. "This is fucking awesome..."

12/16

I giggled and withdrew my wings around us before my tail and arms let go of his body.

He dropped to the ground in an instant, his ass first with a loud thud, but he didn't even flinch.

I giggled as I dove toward him and pushed his body to the ground before I hovered and floated above him. My canines sharpened, but they weren't as sharp as his fangs. "Am I scaring you now, Alpha?"

"No, not a bit. You're still my little bunny..." He smiled as he cupped my core, his fingers sliding into my wet folds.

My body began to feel hot, and I was not sure if it was the desire or the fire that was making me feel hot. Either way, I didn't want to take a risk.

Before he could do more, I flew away to where the opal stone was, and in seconds,

13/16

my body dropped to the ground as everything retracted, leaving me as human as I was before I transformed.

I winced in pain. It wasn't much, but I did fall on my arm in a bad position.

Adan rushed to my side and pulled me up, letting me sit on his lap. "Are you okay? Why ..."

"You make me feel hot. I'm sorry. I was terrified it was a signal for fire to..."

"Sssh... it's okay." He smoothed his hand over my cheek before resting his forehead against mine.

"Adan, are you sure you're okay with me being here with you."

"Yes!" He growled, his eyes dilating as his breathing hitched. "You're not going anywhere."

"If my father finds out, I'm here."

"Then he will find out."

14/16

"I don't want to go back to the underworld. I want my wolf, Adan."

I saw pain flit across his eyes, but it was gone in seconds. "Yes, we will do everything to let your wolf out."

He might think I wanted my wolf so I could find my mate.

"And then Beast can mate with my wolf.

That would be fun..." I added as I smiled at him.

"Yes, it is." His eyes watered, but he blinked them back as he ran his knuckles along my cheek.

“Then you can mark me...” I said it in a very low voice.

“But your mate...”

“Alexa told me that a chosen one will never be lower than a fated mate as long as you choose each other for the right reason,” I said in one breath. “Of course, only if you want. I’m already thinking ahead. I just got excited that you’re not pushing me away.”

15/16

“I will never push you away,” he said as he pressed my head against the nook of his neck and wrapped his arms around my naked body. “You’re mine, Lucy, in all your forms.”

BENEATH HER DARKNESS: The Alpha’s Little Demon Chapter 44

044 – You Caught My Eye

ADAN STONE.

We went down the hill with Lucy on Beast and went back to the packhouse right away.

My Gamma and Beta were waiting for us at the top of the steps, but I had already informed them that Lucy was safe. But I knew I had to tell them more. If Lucy was in danger, having my trusted men know about it was fair play.

What could I do if I was up against a demon prince? Or worse, the whole underworld?

Lucy taught me an important lesson: never accept an invitation or volunteer to visit the underworld because once there, I could not leave anymore unless they allowed me to.

I was excited when I saw her in her demon form, but what she told me sent shivers down my spine.

This was real now. I was hooking up with a

she-devil. 1

And if Lucy wanted, she could simply set me up on fire, and then I’m a goner. But she was the least of my worries. Her father was looking for her, and the fact that she ran away a day before the ritual that would turn her into a full-fledged she-demon meant that he could be out hunting for her.

Was I ready to risk all to protect her?

I stood in front of Lucy, completely naked, as I dried my hair with a towel. We just finished our bath together, and she was now laying on her stomach with her elbow propped up on the mattress and her chin resting on her knuckles while she looked at

She only had her lacey panties on, and her breasts were out for me to enjoy, so I just let my eyes feast on her perfect form.

I couldn't believe the Omega I brought home wasn't what I expected. Although I was still complicated if I could protect her, I knew deep inside I would not be giving her up. 1

Beast growled in my head. He was mad, but not with me. It had been too long since the last time Beast had aired out his agreement for my action, but he did now we're not letting our Omega go. 1

"What are you thinking?" she asked, lips curling into a pout as she tried to read my expression.

I smiled before turning around and throwing the towel on the hamper inside the bathroom. I walked to my closet and grabbed a new pair of sweatpants before putting them on. I had things to do before the night was over.

"So... Will you be ignoring me the whole night? Are you regretting letting me stay?"

I chuckled as I sat on the bed with my t-shirt still in my hand. I moved closer to her and trailed my finger between her shoulder blades. "I'm thinking of ways on how I can protect you.'

“As long as I don’t use fire, there’s a big chance he won’t find me.”

“How long do you think you can hide? The world is such a small place for a royal like him. Sooner or later, he will find you.”

“I know. But I was hoping my wolf is out then before he finds me. Then maybe he can’t do as he wishes, to turn me into a full-fledged demon unless he kills my wolf.

Which is impossible without killing me, right?”

“I won’t allow him to kill you...” I grunted.

“He’s not going to kill me. I’m his only daughter, unless another one pops up.” She rose from the bed and sat up, crossing her legs.

My eyes darted to her bouncy tits, with her opal necklace caught in between the valley of her breasts. We just fucked in the forest and in the bathroom, and yet she was seducing me again, even if she was unaware of it.

“Put this on.” I placed the t-shirt in my hand over her head and helped her until she had put it on. I needed her to cover up, or I wouldn’t be able to ask questions and get solid answers.

“I can’t concentrate if I keep seeing your breasts like that,” I told her in a calm tone while she giggled softly, and it just made my dick tent up in my sweatpants. But I needed to focus. “What does he plan to do with you?”

She shrugged her shoulders. “I don’t know. But my mentor, the one teaching me how to summon fire, had slipped one time and told me my father was preparing me so he could offer me as a favor to one of the gods of the underworld.” 1

She talked nonchalantly as if it were nothing, while a growl reverberated from my chest in disapproval of what she just said.

Her head snapped in my direction as she looked at me with a surprised expression on her face. "Are you okay?"

"No." I stood up and went to my closet, slamming it open before grabbing a new shirt.

"Are you jealous of the gods of the underworld?" She asked in her usual teasing voice.

"Jealous? The fuck? I'm fucking furious right now. What could I do against those fucking gods? I only have a fucking dick!" I answered in exasperation as I slipped on a shirt while Lucy climbed out of bed and went to me.

Her hands rested on my chest, and my hands automatically held her waist.

"Well, you got me. I won't let them touch

I can scratch their faces with my claws. and tear them apart." She winked at me as if her ideas were fucking awesome, but we both knew that would be child's play versus the gods. 1

But I had to keep my cool and not show her how worried I was, or that I felt like a fucking ant in the presence of elephants.

"Like the way you threatened to scratch my face ten years ago? Imagine if you did, I might be called scarface now."

"Still a sexy scarface. But was it really you? I named you the creepy guy.

“Really, am I that creepy?” I wiggled my brows and Lucy began to laugh heartily, throwing her head back as she did.

I couldn't help but get mesmerized by her carefree ways, as if she was not facing a big problem.

“I was only ten. Were you crushing on me?” she asked, her eyebrow raised.

“I don't know. But I thought you were around 14 or 15 at that time, and I was just 18, so yeah, you caught my young eyes.”

“So instead of approaching me, you just decide to stare? Rude...”

“I would have approached if you didn't glare at me the first time you saw me looking at you...”

“Hmmm. My fault then.” She rolled her eyes.

before she hooked her arms around my neck. “So which one is prettier, the old me or now?”

“Goddess, Lucy, you were only ten then, or I thought you were 15. You caught my eye then, but now...”

“Now what?”

I swallowed. I had no fucking idea what to tell her. I couldn't even understand what I felt for her, but I knew it was more than Just.

“But now, I caught your dick?” She added before giggling.

“You and your mouth. What will I do without you?”

“Nothing. Life will be boring. So keep me, Alpha. I'm worth keeping. I'll be a good little she-demon for you. Or a meek Omega. Whatever suits your mood for the day...”

My hand grabbed her jaw, I knew I might be holding her tightly, but I knew she could take pain better than any female around here. "I told you I was going to keep you. Even if that means hell will rise on earth. We'll find a way to survive that."

The mischievousness in her eyes was gone in seconds as tears pooled in them. I didn't know my words would make her emotional, but they did.

Soon, her arms around my neck tightened as she slammed her body against mine. "Thank you, Adan! I promise you will never regret buying me and keeping me here."

She didn't have to say those words because

I'd never regretted stepping onto the Omega

Feast that night.

My hand went to her ass as I lifted her off the floor, and her legs swung around and snaked on my hips as I walked us back to the bed. "Now be a good little demon and wait for me. I will just talk to my Beta and

"Can't it wait until tomorrow?" She asked, pouting her lips as I dropped her ass on the mattress.

I shook my head. "My Beta and Gamma need to know we have a she-demon in the house."

"No! You're not telling them!" She hissed as she got out of bed.

"Do you trust me, Lucy?" I asked her, my eyes squinting as I waited for her reply.

She nodded her head.

10/11

"Good. Because if there are two people I would trust with my life and your life, those would be Collin and Kingston. I can't leave them in the dark..."

"But..."

"This is how a pack works, Lucy. I would not be able to run this pack without them, and for ten years, they never failed me. So I want you to trust them too."

"But what if they won't accept me as you did?" She looked devastated.

"Then they need to go..."

BENEATH HER DARKNESS: The Alpha's Little Demon Chapter 45

045 – A Shot At Life With Her

LUCY.

"Then they need to go," he said in a cold voice as if he was just throwing toys. 1

"You can't do that! These people are loyal to you, and you just can't throw them away just because..."

"Watch me do it then," he snapped back before heading for the door.

I went after him, doubling my step to catch up with his strides. I knew his men were good people, and I would never blame them if they thought I would be a liability and not worth having around because, let's face it, who conspires with demons?

I grabbed his forearm because he kept walking and soon we would reach the stairs. The last thing I wanted was for anyone to hear our conversation. "Promise me you will hear them out and not throw them away! Laira and Lena..."

"I'm sure they will do the same thing! They will fuck off and leave me if I tell them I don't want Laira and Lena here!" He cut me off as he stopped and combed his fingers through his hair.

"You're unbelievable!"

"Can you fucking calm down! No one is being thrown out!" He narrowed his eyes at me.

“Not now! But who knows what mood you’ll have later? If they disagree with you...”

11

“I’m the fucking Alpha here!”

That was the third time he didn’t let me finish my words, and it was already pissing me off.

“I can set you on fire, Alpha!” I emphasized the word Alpha, but instead of being annoyed with me, a smug smirk crawled across his face.

“You surely can, little bunny!”

“I’m not kidding! I will burn you if you kick them out!” I told him in between gritting my teeth.

“And risk being found by Lucien? Nice try, love. But you can’t scare the Alpha here.” He turned my body around so my back was facing him before his hand landed on my ass with a hard slap, jolting my body forward. “Now go back inside the room before I set your pussy on fire...” 1

My eyes were still wide from shock as my feet rushed forward and I ran back to our bedroom without any more complaints.

His words rendered me speechless.

No, not the one about setting my pussy on fire, but did the Alpha just address me as love?

That was the first time, and I had no idea how to react to it. Was it just out of habit? Maybe he was used to addressing females with that endearment. Or maybe, just maybe, the Alpha liked me a little too much already. 1

ADAN STONE.

I shook my head as I watched the she- demon run back to our suite. Her ass was jiggling, and the view was all mine to enjoy, but more than that, I saw how her cheeks turned scarlet red with my words.

Did she suddenly become conservative and not used to the dirty words coming out of my mouth?

I chuckled and turned around to head downstairs the moment our suite door closed. Collin and Kingston were already waiting.

I doubted they would not accept Lucy, these two were loyal to the bone. They may have had reservations, but I knew them – if I decided to go to hell, they would accompany me, just as I would for them.

I didn't waste time. As soon as the office door closed, I laid out everything I knew about Lucy. It didn't slip my eyes how their faces paled before they were able to compose themselves.

If we were talking about a different person who turned out to be a demon, I would probably react the same way.

But this was my Lucy – nothing she could tell me about her would scare me off. She could be the goddess of the underworld too, and I would still keep her.

“A demon?” Kingston said after I shut my mouth. “A fucking demon? What the fuck did you both get us into?”

“What do you mean both? This is all fucking Adan, not me!” Collin snapped at him.

“You're the one who dragged him to that Omega Feast!”

“Enough. Don’t tell me you both are cowering now?” My forehead creased as I shook my head.

“What if she decided to just fucking end our life? They have fucking magic.”

Kingston is still dominating the conversation.

“She calls it power,” I told him.

“Holy fuck! This is real now!”

“Collin? What’s on your mind?” My Beta had been quiet and the only time he spoke was when he told the Gamma this was all my fault.

“I don’t know, Alpha. From the get-go, knew she couldn’t be a simple Omega, but never in my wildest dreams did I think she’s a demon... she’s too tame to be one.

“Demons can be deceiving, and that’s the one thing that bothers me.” Kingston butted in.

“Don’t forget she’s half-wolf. Her foundation years are with wolves, and you can’t just disregard that.”

“I get that. But are you sure she’s not playing you? Playing us? Don’t get me wrong, I like Lucy, and Lena likes her too. But what if this is a trap to infiltrate us?”

“What can they get from us?” I asked him back.

“I don’t know. But we are one of the strongest packs in the North.” Kingston scrubbed his palms against his face. “Are we in trouble here?”

“Not yet.

“What does that mean?” Collin asked.

“She ran away from the underworld, as I mentioned earlier. And she’s sure her father is looking for her.”

“And you’re buying that excuse?” Collin asked.

“I trust Lucy. Do you have a problem with her?”

“I have no problem with her, but let’s not put all our guards down. We can’t just slack off because she’s your Omega.” 2

“I understand. That’s why I wanted to let you know. Because my judgment might be clouded when it comes to her because...

“I cleared my throat. I was not sure if I had it in me to admit to them that I was already falling for the she-demon in my bed.

“Because you like her...” Collin said it for

“We know it, man. We can see that. And we like her too, for you. If she was here with no hidden agenda.” Kingston added.

I let out a deep sigh as I rested my head back on my chair before placing my hands on my temple. I couldn’t deny that I was acting on impulse, and they might be right.

Was Lucy here with an agenda? How certain I was that she hadn’t used a spell to get my attention, because no one had gotten my attention like this in the 28 years of my fucking existence except her.

“So just let us be critical with her,” Collin said, but his tone was full of respect.

“But I don’t want you to treat her as if she’s an enemy.”

“Of course not, but we will keep our eyes open.”

“Good. I just want to make that clear, and if ever she felt threatened by any of you...

“We’re going to get sacked?” Kingston chuckled.

“No. I’ll tell her to send you to the depths of hell.”

“I know it’s a joke, but fuck man, it’s giving me shivers.” Collin shook his head and sighed.

I could see he was serious with what he said, but I ignored it.”And I want her wolf out. She thinks once her wolf is out, her father will be unable to turn her into a full demon.”

“Yup, we’ll work on it,” Kingston replied.

“You said, she thinks. So she’s not sure as well.”

“Yes. She’s just assuming that,” I answered, my lips pursing into a thin line.

“What if her father comes for her? Are we ready for it?”

“That’s the next step I want to discuss with you.”

I stood up from my seat and went for the liquor cabinet, taking out a bottle of rum and pouring it into three empty glasses as I discussed what I wanted them to do.

“Amp up the security, and I want it extended beyond our perimeters, day in and day out. I want the censor camera updated, and I want it to cater to Lucy’s body temperature when she’s not wearing her necklace. That way we can monitor people entering the border that have similar body temperatures as her.”

“Wait, do you think they will enter through the border and not use their power or sort of that thing.”

“They can, of course, but that will be a violation of an agreement between all supernatural creatures.”

“Do you think they care? They can wipe us all out if they want.

I grabbed the three glasses and walked to where they were, handing one to each before sipping from my own.

“I know. That’s why I need you to dispatch a tracker to find the witch who lives in red mountain. She’s been to the demon world and back. If she’s still alive, she might be able to help us. She most likely knew something about their weaknesses. I told them as I walked back to my chair.

“Isn’t it a myth? Someone getting in there and coming back alive?”

“Lucy did.”

“She’s a demon!”

“Half-demon!” I growled at him, and I felt my eyes burn. Beast was surely as pissed off as me.

Kingston was fucking right, but I didn’t like hearing him say that. I felt so possessive of her that I wanted to be the only one calling her that, and the demon word coming out of other people’s mouths sounded offensive to me.

“Whoah! Half-demon then. Chill man, I’m on your side.”

I nodded my head as I controlled my breathing. My gaze shifted between them before I spoke again. “I’m sure you’re fully aware of how impossible it is to beat a demon prince, so I’m giving you a chance – stay and help me protect her and the pack, or go. If you decide to walk away, I will let you. No questions asked.”

“Do you like Lucy, Adan? Like her enough to make her your Luna?”

“Don’t lie to us. If we’re going to make the biggest decisions of our lives, we deserve honesty too.”

I nodded my head. “I do. Enough to make her mine even if I know her wolf might not surface at all, and there is the possibility that she won’t be able to give me an heir.”

They remained quiet, and I was not sure if they were convinced or not. But I wasn’t lying.

“I want to make sure she gets to choose what will happen to her life, and I am hoping she will choose me too. So I’m taking a big step by protecting her when I'm not even sure she will make me a permanent fixture in her life. But I want to take that risk for a shot at life with her.
