

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 16 - 16 - My Handphone

The Silla Seoul Hotel

Soo Yin has returned to work at the hotel today.

She actually was going with Dae Hyun. But on the way, Soo Yin asked to come down first and chose to use a taxi to get to the hotel.

Soo Yin would be in trouble if everyone at the hotel found her out.

Soo Yin was brewing a cup of coffee in the pantry, glancing at the clock that still shows seven in the morning.

She was still able to relax a little.

"Soo Yin, where have you been these few days?" Said Jean, who had just arrived.

"Hi, Jean," Soo Yin replied.

"You know, I miss you so much. I don't know anyone, other than you." Jean pursed his lips.

"Sorry, I wasn't well for the past few days, so I can't go to work," Said Soo Yin while sipping the warm coffee in her hand.

"Why didn't you call me? Your number wasn't even active," said Jean.

"I forgot to activate it. Did you go to the movies last Saturday?" Soo Yin asked.

Soo Yin and Jean were planning to go to the movies together. But, Dae Hyun made all of her plans fail.

"Hmmm, I went there myself, and it was unfortunate. Everyone came in pairs," Said Jean with a sad face.

"Let's watch it again next Saturday! I'll buy tickets for both of us," Soo Yin asked as she wanted to get rid of his sadness.

"Really? Take Jae-Hwa too. He intended to come yesterday, but because you weren't there, he chose to be alone in the middle of the city," Said Jean, bringing his face closer to Soo Yin's ear.

"I'm not sure if Jae-Hwa wants to come with us," Said Soo Yin while narrowing her eyes.

"Jae-Hwa will definitely like it if you ask him. It seems he likes you," said Jean.

Soo Yin coughed at Jean's words. Jae-Hwa did ask her to go to the movies several times, but Soo Yin always refused.

There was no time to relax when her father was in the hospital.

"Well, let's talk about it later. It's time for us to work," Said Jean while looking at the clock on the wall.

Soo Yin nodded while finishing her coffee. First, she changed her clothes, took the usual tools she used from brooms, mops, and others.

Soo Yin walked and passed the emergency stairs as the worker lift was under repair. She was breathless when she got to the fifth floor.

She then laid down on the bed in the hotel room.

Soo Yin played with her phone instead of cleaning the room right away after the fatigue slowly disappeared.

She put the headset on, listening to music. She then took some photos that she thought were pretty good to upload them on social media.

The door suddenly opened. Manager Han tried to calm himself down so that his emotions didn't explode.

"Soo Yin!" Manager Han shouted.

Soo Yin was so busy that she didn't listen to Manager Han's screams.

The manager was furious, but he still tried to calm himself down.

"Soo Yin!" Manager Han shouted again, patting her on the shoulder.

The girl jumped in shock, causing her cellphone to fall out. She just took a photo of the window with the great outside view.

"My phone!" Soo Yin shouted, poking her head out the window.

It was a pity that her phone must have been crushed to the ground.

She turned her body to face Manager Han, grumbling. She wanted to yell at the man in front of her.

"Soo Yin, so this is what you've been doing all this time?" Manager Han shouted, losing his temper.

Soo Yin covered her ears, hearing Han's voice almost breaking her eardrums.

"You startled me! I ... I just took a break," said Soo Yin defensively, even though she had been doing nothing.

"Look! You even still put the tools here," Said Manager Han as he kicked the bucket.

"Okay, I'll clean things up right away." Soo Yin grabbed a broom then lazily did her job.

Since her childhood, Soo Yin used to live well and had never done household chores like this.

"Once again you do like this, be prepared to be fired!" Said Manager Han while squinting.
