

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 181 - 181 - Substitute

Soo Yin was enjoying the fresh breeze in the backyard while enjoying the hilly scenery. By continuing to suck a smile, Soo Yin rubbed her stomach, never being bored at all since yesterday. There was a special sense of happiness when she heard that soon she will become a mother. It was far from her imagination that she did not want to have children yet, but there was no need to regret what happened.

"Miss!" Aunt Xia called by continuing to walk closer to Soo Yin.

The calling voice brought Soo Yin from the reverie. She turned her head back to see the middle aged woman. Quickly, Auntie Xia was behind her, clutching her cell phone.

"Miss, Mr. Dae Hyun would like to speak to you," Auntie Xia said with irregular sighing from the rush of walking.

"What is wrong?" Soo Yin asked with a frown. Even though they have just separated but have already contacted her. Soo Yin was suspicious that Dae Hyun will definitely say the words that he has spoken over and over again.

"Please, miss." Aunt Xia gave her cell phone to Soo Yin.

"Hello, what have you contacted me? Even though we just parted ways. If you just wanted to advise me again, I've remembered everything," Soo Yin said without letting Dae Hyun speak.

"Honey, sorry if I bothered you a little but I really need your help right now," Dae Hyun said frankly because there was no time.

"About what?"

"I want you to represent Aeri as Yeon Ho's mother. Will you do it?" Dae Hyun asked doubtfully.

"Where is your wife?" Soo Yin wanted to know where Aeri was so she can't come.

"I'll tell you later. Now get ready, in a moment I'll pick you up."

"No, let me come with Chung Ho."

"Okay, but tell Chung Ho to drive slowly. Don't wear high shoes...." Soo Yin loyally listened to Dae Hyun's prohibitions that shouldn't be done by her. Even though he said it repeatedly last night.

Soo Yin returned the cell phone to Aunt Xia after ending the conversation with Dae Hyun. She immediately returned to her room to change clothes.

Soo Yin took out several dresses on the bed. After sorting through, Soo Yin finally found clothes that look good on her.

Soo Yin chose a pink knee-length dress. Repeatedly looking at her body in the mirror, it turned out that her stomach didn't appear to be sticking out yet. Soo Yin lets her hair down by wearing a ribbon ornament on it.

"Hopefully this isn't too much," Soo Yin muttered while turning her body a few times.

Soo Yin wore silver shoes without heels because Dae Hyun didn't allow it.

After getting ready, Soo Yin met Chung Ho who was already waiting in the parking lot to leave immediately. But first, Soo Yin wanted to stop by somewhere

===== ≠ =====

Rose Apartments.

The sun was already shining through the glass window which was blocked by the curtain. A woman without a thread on her body was still sleeping soundly. She was alone there wrapped in a thick blanket.

The condition of the room was very messy with several bottles of drinks still scattered on the floor.

The sound of alarm ringing couldn't even wake her up from her current sweet dream.

"Dae Hyun, let's go deeper."

"I want to spend this long night with you."

Didn't know what Aeri was dreaming about so that she was babbling unclear. Even though last night had just done a hot struggle with her affair.

Now the alarm music rang again. Only then could Aeri hear it even though it was only vaguely.

"Where am I?" Aeri muttered as she felt the bed with her eyes only opened slightly.

With sleepy eyes, Aeri turned her gaze around the room. It's not like the paint color of her room at UN Village. Aeri immediately sat up after slowly remembering what happened last night.

"Shit, what time is it!" Aeri cursed as she reached for her cellphone in her bag. Turned out she forgot not to turn her cellphone back on. Recently active there was a short message that came straight in.

[Mother, why aren't you home yet? Mom is coming to my graduation party, right?] Nanny.

Aeri patted her forehead and hurriedly got out of bed while wrapping her body with a blanket. She picked up her clothes which were scattered on the floor then quickly put them on. Aeri almost forgot the important day for Jo Yeon Ho.

She had to go to the salon immediately to get ready. Hopefully it was not too late because going to the salon took a long time.

With a hungry stomach, suddenly the aroma of cooking aroused her taste. Aeri poked her head in the kitchen. There was Han who was standing in front of the stove wearing only shorts.

"Han, why didn't you wake me up?" Aeri grumbled irritably, even though she had previously told him to wake her up early.

"What are you getting up so early for?" Han turned his head back to look at Aeri.

"Today I have to come to Jo Yeon Ho's graduation ceremony," Aeri said as she stepped toward the dining table. Although she had to leave now, the worms in her stomach were struggling to ask for rations.

"What did you come there for. Such an event is not important," Han sneered while raising one lip upward.

"Actually, I'm also lazy but if I don't come then I will lose the child's trust," Aeri said with a sigh.

"Hurry up and prepare the food because I have to go to the salon to get ready. I want my appearance to stand out the most among the others," Aeri continued, who couldn't wait to eat because Han didn't serve it.

Han put two bowls of Ramyeon on the table. Aeri quickly pulled it closer. Hot as she devoured it, although her tongue was burning.

"Why aren't you ready yet?" Aeri asked because Han looked relaxed.

"I've faked the monthly income so I intend to resign. That money is enough to pay for my life for one year," Han said with a sly smile.

"What are you doing? Why are you so stupid as to do that? If Dae Hyun finds out about that I will also be carried away," Aeri said with a sharp glare at Han. She then stood up while pointing at Han's face with her index finger.

"Calm down, he will not be suspicious. The proof is that until now I'm still fine," Han said casually as he shrugged his shoulders.

"You think he's stupid! Why are you so reckless? If you get caught then I'll be dragged away too! Tomorrow give the original report if you still want to live!" Aeri said as she pounded the table.

"I told you he wouldn't be suspicious," Han said.

"I don't want to know. Today you must give it to him. Or we will never be in touch again," Aeri threatened with a flushed face holding her anger. It was unexpected if she had such a stupid lover.

"Okay, I'll give him the original report later," Han said. He could not possibly refuse Aeri's wish.

After finishing her meal, Aeri immediately went to the salon to make her face as pretty as possible so that everyone was stunned by her presence. She wanted to be the center of attention at Jo Yeon Ho's school.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 182 - 182 - Don't Be Nervous

Kindergarten.

Jo Yeon Ho kept looking at the empty chair. Both parents should have occupied the chair, even though the event was about to begin. His face looked very lackluster.

Earlier, Dae Hyun said goodbye to outside for a while, but until now he didn't appear. Jo Yeon Ho was getting saddened lest her father didn't love him anymore.

"Good morning, welcome to the guardians of the students. Thank you for agreeing to be present at today's event. Alright, we will soon open the program," the host said, who was already on the stage.

Jo Yeon Ho kept his head down by playing with his fingers without listening to the host's resounding welcome.

The event has also started with the first event being a welcoming ceremony for parents by female students who dance traditional Korean dances.

Dae Hyun had asked permission to leave the hall because he would be waiting for Soo Yin who was already on her way. The man was already standing at the gate leaning his hand on the side of the post.

Actually, Dae Hyun hesitated to ask Soo Yin to come there. Moreover, there was anxiety in his heart. But he could only ask his little wife for help.

It didn't take long before a car pulled up right in front of him. Dae Hyun immediately approached the car because he already knew that it was the car driven by Chung Ho.

"Do not come close!" Soo Yin said before setting foot on the ground. Didn't let everyone know their relationship because of her husband's carelessness.

"Be careful, a little," Dae Hyun said. About to reach out his hand grabbed Soo's wrist but Soo Yin brushed it off.

"Haven't I said many times, don't make me like a sick person," Soo Yin said by narrowing her eyes.

"Okay." Dae Hyun immediately moved away.

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin walked side by side with a little distance between them towards the hall where the event was taking place. Soo Yin asked Dae Hyun to walk first so she can follow the steps behind him.

The hall was cheerful with applause resounding in the room. One by one the students who had passed this time came on the stage to say goodbye together.

Jo Yeon Ho kept staring at his feet because every time he saw an empty chair it made him sadder. He looked so discouraged until the host asked all the students to look forward and Jo Yeon Ho lifted his chin.

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin were now sitting side by side. Soo Yin was excited to see Jo Yeon Ho on stage. She waved her hand when Jo Yeon Ho made eye contact with her.

Jo Yeon Ho was immediately excited when he saw his father and Soo Yin have arrived. Widened his smile until rows of teeth showed. Now Jo Yeon Ho was back in his spirits again.

"Yeon Ho is very handsome," Soo Yin said while continuing to clap her hands following the others.

"Of course, it's because his father is also very handsome," Dae Hyun said with his eyes fixed on the stage.

"You are too confident," Soo Yin sneered as she rolled her eyes.

"That's the fact. If not, how could I have two wives," Dae Hyun said with a wink.

"Kim Soo Hyun is much more handsome," Soo Yin said.

Dae Hyun turned to Soo Yin when he heard the vague words that come out of his little wife's mouth. This was enough to make him jealous.

"Really? No matter how handsome his face he will not succeed in getting my little wife," Dae Hyun said with great emphasis.

"What if one day I change my mind?" Soo Yin teased.

"That won't happen. Only I can touch you," Dae Hyun said in a cold tone. The grooves of his jaw muscles seemed to tighten.

Soo Yin pinched Dae Hyun's thigh hard enough that the man winced in pain. Soo Yin was furious that her husband's self-confidence was too high.

"Where is Aeri? Why doesn't she come to this event?" Soo Yin asked to change their conversation. Didn't let anyone eavesdrop on those sensitive chats.

"I don't know, Yeon Ho said she went to her mother's house but I'm not sure. But it's much better that she didn't come so that later I will easily give her the divorce papers," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"What do you mean? You're going to divorce her?" Soo Yin was quite stunned to hear Dae Hyun's statement.

"Of course, I want to immediately divorce her so that the three of us can live happily," Dae Hyun said, about to rub his wife's stomach but Soo brushed it off.

Soo Yin raised a glance that there were several people who seem to be watching them. Maybe they already know if Jo Yeon Ho's mother was Aeri.

"Watch your attitude, look some mothers watching us," Soo Yin whispered with a straight look forward.

"Leave it, don't bother," Dae Hyun said casually as he crossed his legs. His right foot overlaps the left.

Soo Yin shifted her chair a little away from Dae Hyun. His intimidating gaze made her uncomfortable. She felt like the accused.

"Alright, now we will enter the core program. We will call the students one by one to come forward. We hope the parents get ready to accompany their children," the MC said in a voice that echoed through the microphone. It didn't feel like the event had been going on for quite a while.

Soo Yin caught her breath to get rid of her nervousness. Repeatedly inhaling deep breaths from the nose then exhaling from the mouth. Even cold sweat ran down her palms.

"Why do you look so nervous?" Dae Hyun said with furrowed brows.

"This is the first time I've represented parenthood at an important event like this." Soo Yin looked around the hall maybe Aeri had come so she didn't have to. Moreover, the gazes of several women made her very uncomfortable.

"There's no need to worry. We just need to move forward then it's done," Dae Hyun said to convince Soo Yin.

Now some students have come to the stage to be awarded graduation certificates.

Chapter 183 - 184 - You Are The Best Mother

Aeri just got out of her car with hasty steps. If it was too late then she's finished. Not only will Jo Yeon Ho be angry, but it was very likely that all the residents of the house will corner her. Saying she was a woman who didn't care about her son.

"Next up is Jo Yeon Ho, please Mr. Dae Hyun and Mrs. Aeri to come forward." Aeri could faintly hear the host calling her name. With graceful steps, Aeri immediately entered the Hall in an extremely dazzling appearance. She really was like a queen because her clothes and make-up were quite glamorous. Very different from the others.

On the stage were only Jo Yeon Ho and Dae Hyun. With steps like on the catwalk Aeri walked towards the stage wishing a lot of attention from everyone. Until she stopped her steps when Soo Yin stood up then walked up the stage. She was standing on the left side of Jo Yeon Ho.

"Why is there always that girl?" Aeri muttered with the anger surging in her chest. She wanted to keep going, but she still had pride so she didn't want to make a fuss.

Irritated, Aeri turned to walk out of the hall. After the event was over she would make calculations to the girl.

Dae Hyun, Soo Yin and Jo Yeon were still on stage to be taken as a memento first.

The women who didn't know that Soo Yin was not her mother will say that they were a very good match. They seemed like a very happy family. Plus Soo Yin constantly looked at everyone with a friendly smile.

Likewise, when they walked down the stage everyone applauded because Jo Yeon Ho graduated with the best marks. Made everyone look amazed.

"Wow, they're a very good match."

"Jo Yeon Ho's mother is still very young."

"Is it true that it's her mother? She looks like she's under 20."

Those were the words of several people that could be heard vaguely in Soo Yin's ears. She walked while holding Jo Yeon Ho's hand. The boy also looked happy. No more sadness in the color of his face.

Jo Yeon Ho immediately returned to his seat because the event was not over. Likewise with Soo Yin and Dae Hyun who returned to sit in their chairs.

"It was quite stressful," Soo Yin said as she adjusted her breath to calm down and her pounding heart.

"Thank you for wanting to be Aeri's replacement. I don't know who to ask for help," Dae Hyun said with a smile. His heart was very grateful to have a wife like Soo Yin who was very understanding. He couldn't wait to part with Aeri. The important thing to do now was to make Park Soo Hyun reliable. That way he will feel calm to give up his position.

"Don't hesitate, am I not his mother too?" Soo Yin replied with a sweet smile etched on her lips. A smile that could melt Dae Hyun's heart for the first time.

"You are the best mother." Dae Hyun raised his thumbs up at Soo Yin.

"I'm just still a mother-to-be," Soo Yin said, chuckled.

In a place not too far from the guardians, Aeri looked for a seat after re-entering the hall. Since earlier, she had been keeping an eye on Dae Hyun and Soo Yin. Her heart was furious at the closeness that was seen between them. Her chest rumbled with deep envy. Because Dae Hyun has never been that close to her.

Seeing her husband smiling at the other girl, Aeri clenched her fists tight. Not because of jealousy but rather afraid that her position will be replaced because when she saw Dae Hyun's gaze towards Soo Yin was so soft. Very much different from her.

Aeri frowned when she saw Soo Yeon standing up and stepping out of the hall. Aeri hurried to her feet intending to follow her along with the two female guardians she had known a few days ago. She has to make a calculation for Soo Yin to stay away from Dae Hyun and resign from the hotel.

What a coincidence that Soo Yin went to the toilet so Aeri and her two friends followed behind.

After Soo Yin entered one of the toilets, she washed her face with water. It felt very refreshing because she didn't really like to linger wearing heavy makeup. It was more pleasant to use thin powder naturally.

Soo Yin removed her mature looking make up. Before leaving, she stopped by Do Jin's beauty salon. Ask Do Jin to make her face look mature. There was no way for anyone to believe her real face if it was not polished with makeup, at a young age she already has a child as big as Jo Yeon Ho.

Soo Yin already rubbed the maroon red lipstick that stuck to her lips. Not being used to wearing it made Soo Yin's lips feel thick. Her lips were moved repeatedly, which were already without lipstick, it felt light and comfortable. Soon the event was almost over, so she didn't need any more make-up.

As soon as she opened the door, Soo Yin jumped in surprise because there were two women standing across from her. She tried to remember if she had met, but the memory of the two women did not exist in her mind.

The expressions on the faces of the two women also looked creepy and full of intimidation.

"I, excuse me," Soo Yin said, about to step past the woman but unfortunately one of them pushed Soo Yin's body until her back hit the wall.

"How dare you be the mother of Jo Yeon Ho!" The woman in red dress said as she put her hands on her hips right in front of Soo Yin.

"Sorry, that's none of your business," Soo Yin said boldly.

"How dare you say that to me!" the woman in red said while glaring sharply that almost made her eyes pop.

"Maybe she intends to seduce Mr. Dae Hyun," the woman wearing the yellow shirt sneered. With jewelry hanging from her neck.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 184 - 184 - One Word Hurts

"What's all this fuss?" Aeri asked who had just come. Indeed, she deliberately did it to come later so as not to be too suspicious.

"Aeri, just beat this girl. Looks like she intends to seduce your husband," the woman in red said.

Soo Yin's body shook with sweat starting to run down her body. Her current feeling was really bad, she kept clutching her stomach. Hope Aeri didn't do anything wrong. To get away from them seemed very difficult.

"Wow, really?" Aeri made a face as if she was surprised to hear that.

"You must be kidding, how could she possibly seduce my husband," Aeri continued with a chuckle.

"Look at this photo." The woman in yellow showed a photo of Dae Hyun and Soo Yin staring at each other.

Soo Yin was quite surprised to see the photo. It showed as if their gazes were very affectionate. She drank her dry saliva.

"Geez, I never thought an innocent girl like her turned out to be a hypocrite. No wonder she also seduced Jo Yeon Ho to be close to her. So that's all your goal?" Aeri said with a sly grin looking at Soo Yin.

"How could that be. It's not true," Soo Yin said stuttered trying to defend herself. Said the bitch, it hurt too much for him.

"You bitch!" Aeri cursed, her hand was about to slap Soo Yin's cheek but when she was about to land on Soo Yin's cheek, Aeri's hand couldn't be moved.

Soo Yin had closed her eyes in preparation for a slap from Aeri. But nothing happened so Soo Yin slowly opened her eyes.

"Aeri, what are you doing?" Dae Hyun roughly grabbed Aeri's wrist and then threw her away. Made Aeri's body almost fall.

"Dae Hyun?" Aeri widened her eyes to see Dae Hyun was standing between them.

"I... I'm just trying to warn a bitch like her," Aeri continued stammering as she pointed at Soo Yin's face.

"What did you just say?" Dae Hyun asked with a cold tone and a fiery gaze. He was not willing Aeri to call his little wife a bitch.

"She's trying to seduce you. She approached our family because she just wanted money," Aeri said.

"You two please leave from here if you don't want to get into trouble," Dae Hyun said to the two women who were with Aeri.

The two women looked at Aeri and then chose to leave them.

Soo Yin was silent with pain in her chest. Her tears almost fell if she didn't try to hold back. Aeri's words hurt her so much.

Was she really like a bitch? One word but was able to crush her heart to pieces. But what Aeri said was true if she married Dae Hyun just because of money. But she was not a bitch like what Aeri said.

Dae Hyun gave a quick glance at Soo Yin's dim complexion and teary eyes. He can also see crystal beads that have pooled in the corner of her eye. Surely at this time her heart was beaten.

"Don't tell anyone else if you did it yourself. Didn't you marry me just because you wanted property?" Dae Hyun asked with a lopsided smile. He was not stupid to realize that.

Dae Hyun had realized the irregularity that night but Jo Yeon Ho's presence made him unable to move. That's because his extended family continued to insist on marrying Aeri.

"Of course not, I married you because after what you did that night to me. I ... I just want you to take responsibility," Aeri said stammering trying to hold back her nervousness.

"It's different from that bitch girl who tries to seduce someone's husband," Aeri continued while glancing at Soo Yin who was silent.

"Nonsense! Don't ever call Soo Yin a bitch again! Or I'll make you regret it," Dae Hyun said with a high tone staring into Aeri's eyes sharply. Emotions already in the crown.

"So you threaten me? Why do you always defend her?" She said in a rising voice.

"Of course, because she is much more valuable than a woman like you," Dae Hyun said. It didn't matter if Aeri will be angry, because this was all to remind Aeri not to mess with his little wife.

"She's just a poor girl. I wonder with all of you, why do you like girls like her so much?" Aeri sneered as she chuckled. Her gaze towards Soo Yin was cynical.

"That's because she is...." Dae Hyun almost lost control.

"Sir, that's enough," Soo Yin said with a pleading look, trying to break up the argument between them. Soo Yin was so sure that Dae Hyun will say that she was his wife that he tries to change the subject.

"You bitch! Don't pretend to be nice, you better get out of here!" Aeri sneered with a grin. Her hands violently pushed against Soo Yin's body. Luckily Dae Hyun was behind her so it didn't make Soo Yin fall to the floor.

Dae Hyun's chest heaved up and down, holding back the anger rumbling in his chest.

"Didn't I tell you not to say that!" Dae Hyun shouted in a high voice. He was about to land his palm on Aeri's cheek.

"Dad, Eunnie, it turns out you are here," Jo Yeon Ho said with a glowing face.

Instantly Dae Hyun's emotions faded so he lowered his hands to his side. There's no way to be violent in front of his son.

Hearing his son's voice Aeri put a genuine smile on her lips.

"Yeon Ho, honey," Aeri said, about to hug Jo Yeon Ho's small body. However, the boy actually stepped back. There was a line of disappointment that ran across Jo Yeon Ho's face at Aeri.

"Yeon Ho, let's go home," Dae Hyun asked while holding Jo Yeon Ho's wrist.

"Let Yeon Ho come home with me," Aeri said as she pulled Yeon Ho's other wrist.

"No, aren't you too busy? I'm afraid you can't take care of Yeon Ho properly," Dae Hyun quipped with his side lip raised upwards.

"Soo Yin, let's go home." Without waiting for an answer from Aeri Dae Hyun took Jo Yeon Ho's hand to follow him. Will not let Aeri instigate his son back.

Soo Yin also followed Dae Hyun's steps behind him with her lips pressed tightly together.

"Arghhh!" Aeri shouted with hatred.

"Look, you will regret for teasing my husband," Aeri said with trembling lips and fiery eyes. With slow steps, Aeri walked towards the parking lot to catch up with them.

This time she couldn't do much by complaining to her mother-in-law because it was her fault too.

Dae Hyun's car was no longer visible in the parking lot. It seemed they had already left even though Aeri still wanted to persuade Jo Yeon Ho. It's a shame they were gone.

Irritated, Aeri got into the car with slamming the door hard.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 185 - 185 - Don't Cry

Along the way, Jo Yeon Ho kept whining about going to take a walk around Seoul. The child sat in the rear passenger seat.

Meanwhile, Soo Yin just looked straight ahead with tightly closed lips. The word 'bitch' was still ringing in her ears today.

"Dad, I don't want to go home first. Come on, let's go around," Jo Yeon Ho whined with pursed lips.

"Where are you going? Next time we'll go. Aren't you tired?" Dae Hyun asked while massaging his temples.

"No, it's my graduation day. I want to take a walk," Jo Yeon Ho said with an excited face.

Dae Hyun sighed softly. Glanced briefly at Soo Yin who was staring at the street expressionlessly.

"Soo Yin, do you want to go somewhere?" Dae Hyun wanted to calm down his little wife, but what could be the power that Jo Yeon Ho still had so he couldn't do anything about it.

Soo Yin turned to the side to look at her husband before finally shook her head lightly. It was unthinkable where Soo Yin wanted to go.

Derrrrt ... derrrrt ... derttt ...

A cell phone ringing accompanied by vibrations echoed through the car so Dae Hyun answered right away.

It turned out to be a call from Chang Yuan who reminded Dae Hyun that there was a meeting with relatives who would cooperate with the hotel.

Dae Hyun sighed softly. Even though he wanted to comfort his little wife. It was a shame if he was so busy.

"Looks like next time we'll go, father has a lot of work." Dae Hyun turned his head back to glance at his son.

"Ouh," Jo Yeon Ho said with a line of disappointment on his face.

"Next time we'll go, I promise to take you wherever you want," Dae Hyun said so as not to upset his son.

"Very well," Jo Yeon Ho said at last.

Dae Hyun first escorted Jo Yeon Ho to UN Village only to the yard because Dae Hyun was in such a hurry. Now only Soo Yin and Dae Hyun were in the car.

"Honey, don't think about what Aeri told you." Now Dae Hyun can speak freely without worrying about Jo Yeon Ho again.

"But what she said is true. I married you only for money." Soo Yin lowered her head remembering Aeri's words that hit her chest deeply.

Dae Hyun stopped the car at the curb. His heart was not calm before winning his little wife.

"Shhh, don't talk like that. It's not true, because I forced you to marry me." Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's face to stare at him closely.

The tears that she had been trying to contain now slowly trickled down her cheeks. Soo Yin lowered her gaze and didn't dare look at Dae Hyun.

Seeing the sadness of his little wife Dae Hyun felt very guilty. He rubbed Soo Yin's cheek with his thumb. Kiss her forehead gently.

"I'm really sorry. Soon I will try to solve everything," Dae Hyun said while holding Soo Yin's chin to want to look at him.

Soo Yin shook her head as it was none of her husband's fault. She smiled as she held Dae Hyun's wrist.

Seeing his smiling wife made Dae Hyun's heart relieved.

"Honey, don't cry because our future baby will be sad," Dae Hyun said as he stretched his hand to Soo Yin's stomach.

Soo Yin remembered so she rubbed her stomach which was still flat. Hurriedly stopped the sadness she felt.

"Calm down, I will survive for our future baby," Soo Yin said.

After making his little wife calm down, Dae Hyun immediately drove the car back to take Soo Yin to the Villa. Only after that he returned to the hotel.

One week later.

Dae Hyun had been busy with the piling up work for several days. There was no time to meet his little wife because he also always stayed at hotels. Tonight Dae Hyun took the time to visit Soo Yin at the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Wanted to see his wife's condition, hopefully she will be well because Dae Hyun was always worried about her.

Actually, Soo Yin has asked to go back to work at the hotel, but if he remembered Mi Young's advice, Dae Hyun didn't allow her. He did not want the incident at that time to happen again because it was quite traumatic for him.

Dae Hyun continued to drive down the night street under the moonlight covered in clouds. Until the light was only visible vaguely. While looking at the restaurants lined up on the side of the road. Dae Hyun wanted to stop by to buy food for Soo Yin first.

While observing Dae Hyun accidentally saw Aeri's car parked in front of a five-star restaurant. There was a sense of curiosity that enveloped his heart. Looked like it was necessary there to make sure of something.

"What's that woman here for?" Dae Hyun muttered who had stopped the car in the parking lot.

After Jo Yeon Ho's graduation day, Dae Hyun never returned so he didn't know what had happened. It seemed lonely, it means Aeri didn't dare to complain to his mother.

With wide strides, Dae Hyun walked into a restaurant that was so wide and very crowded with visitors. Dae Hyun continued to circulate his gaze to see the chairs there. However, he did not find Aeri among the other visitors. He even repeated several times but the result was the same.

It was a fancy restaurant with food that was quite expensive so that only the rich went there. However, due to the delicious menu and satisfying service, visitors never give up. If you want to eat more privately, there was also a special closed room provided, even though the price was quite expensive.

So Dae Hyun walked over to the table reservation to ask where Aeri was. He was very sure that if Aeri must have been in the restaurant, there was no way he could mistake her car.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 186 - 186 - Stupid Man

"Welcome, sir, can I help you," the woman said in charge of receiving guests with a sweet smile on her lips. Moreover, seeing Dae's very handsome face made her embarrassed by trying to fix his make-up and clothes to make her look neat.

It's a shame Dae Hyun didn't even glance at her. He was busy circulating his gaze to the visitor table.

"I wonder, is there a woman named Aeri ordering a VIP table in this restaurant?" Dae Hyun asked with a flat face without expression. Seeing the woman in front of him embarrassed made him so sick.

"Sorry, sir, we can't tell you who has made the reservations," the woman said without winking at Dae Hyun. But immediately bent her body politely in a sign of apology.

Without speaking, Dae Hyun took out a wallet from his pocket which was quite thick. Take out a few dollar bills then put them on the table towards the woman.

The woman widened her pupils at the sight of enough money to unconsciously sip her saliva. Who didn't widened at the $ 1000 in cash. That money was very much for her who was only a girl from the lower class.

"Tell me where the woman named Aeri ordered," Dae Hyun said who was impatient.

"Al ... well, sir." The woman immediately checked the book that made guest bookings for the VIP room. There was indeed someone who ordered with the name Aeri.

"Miss Aeri booked room number 10, sir," the woman said.

"It is...." Just as the woman was about to explain where the place was, it turned out that Dae Hyun had already left. She immediately took the money and put it in her bag while looking around. Didn't let the boss find out what she has done. If caught, she will be fired.

Dae Hyun was no stranger to the restaurant because he has often visited to hold meetings with his relatives. He hurried down the hall to get there. Indeed, the VIP room was separated slightly to the back. The place was also comfortable and quiet.

As soon as he arrived in room 10, there was a loud laugh. There was a woman and a man who was chatting. Could be heard joking between the clink of plates shouting to each other when they touched the spoon.

Dae Hyun stood at the door to find out who the man was with Aeri.

"How is your relationship with your husband now?" a man's voice asked.

"What are you asking that for?" Aeri asked with a frown.

"I just want to know if a director like Dae Hyun pays attention to his wife," the man said.

"Of course, he was very attentive and spoiled to me," Aeri lied. She didn't want everyone to know her true personal secret. In order to maintain her pride, Aeri hid the truth.

"There's no need to lie to me. Wasn't your relationship never good? Or maybe he never touched you again after that night," the man guessed.

Aeri sighed softly, it seemed like it was useless to hide it if the man had guessed it.

"As usual he always ignores me, but it doesn't matter at all while I'm still the mistress there," Aeri said while chuckling softly.

"Aren't you tired of being with him? Didn't I tell you for a long time to part with him. It's better if you marry me," a man said, who was interspersed with laughter.

"I've been very difficult to get into their family so there's no way I just let it go," Aeri said.

Dae Hyun continued to listen to their chat even though it was only vague. Looked like this was the right time to finish his relationship with Aeri. With wide strides, Dae Hyun returned to the parking lot to get something from his car. He tucked a brown envelope into his coat pocket then returned to the place where Aeri was with a man whose voice could not be heard in his ear.

Dae Hyun eavesdropped on their conversation for a while to find out what they were talking about. Looked like the goddess of luck was on his side so Dae Hyun can hear everything.

"I wonder why a man like Dae Hyun is so easily fooled," the man said.

"He is really stupid and easily fooled," Aeri said while chuckling softly.

Dae Hyun had already lost his temper this time. Indeed he admitted that he was so stupid all this time. If Soo Yin wasn't present in his life, maybe until this moment he wouldn't really care about his personal life. What had been imagined so far was to work hard to bring his family hotel to the peak of success.

Brak....

Dae Hyun very rudely opened the door. It didn't matter if both of them will have heart disease.

The sound of the door banging against the wall made a sound that was loud enough to startle two people who were chatting.

Aeri, who was spooning the food into her mouth, immediately put her spoon on the plate. She widened so that her eyes almost fell to see who was currently standing in the middle of the door.

"Dae Hyun, w... what are you doing here?" Aeri asked stuttered until cold sweat came out of her forehead. If Dae Hyun caught her with another man for her it was fine because they weren't doing anything so Aeri could find an excuse to evade her. What Aeri was most afraid of was if Dae Hyun would listen to what they had just talked about.

"Sorry, I think I interrupted your dinner," Dae Hyun said, pretending to be surprised. As if he accidentally broke the door.

"Mr. Dae Hyun?" Lee Young Joun was quite surprised to see Dae Hyun suddenly entering their room.

"Looks like you guys are in the middle of a romantic dinner," Dae Hyun said, trying to act like normal. Even though his lips had been trying to hold back the mouth that wanted to swear roughly

Chapter 187 - 187 - Play With A Lot Of Men

"We ... we just met accidentally," Aeri said, stammered as she glanced at the man who was still sitting in her chair.

"You say someone else is a bitch but it looks like you're the one yourself," Dae Hyun sneered in a flat tone but the words were quite painful.

"It's not what you think," Aeri argued with a flushed face.

'Been caught but still evasive,' Dae Hyun sneered to himself. Dae Hyun really did not expect himself to marry a shameless woman like Aeri.

"Right, calm down first," the man said to defend Aeri. Actually the goal was to invite Aeri to meet because they wanted to work together. To find the secrets of any strategy so that The Silla Seoul Hotel can develop very rapidly. Because Lee Young Joun's hotel was far behind. It's a shame that Dae Hyun showed up before they reached an agreement.

"I thought you only played with Han, but I never thought you would actually play with many men," Dae Hyun said while glancing at the man who was none other than Lee Young Joun. The man who almost harassed Soo Yin if he wasn't too late. Until whenever Dae Hyun will never forget that incident.

"We're just here to work together," Aeri argued, trying harder to convince Dae Hyun.

"It's true what your wife said. I came here to invite her to work with me. I will make her a commercial star in one of my products," Lee Young Joun said as he got up from his seat.

"Really? Haven't you stopped modeling?" Dae Hyun asked while raising an eyebrow. He glanced at Aeri who had a scared face.

"This is just a plan," Aeri said quickly. Unexpectedly, Lee Young Joun said that reason.

"You think I'm stupid," Dae Hyun said while raising one lip up and then chuckled. He then reached into the file in his coat pocket.

"I'm just here to give you this letter. I won't interfere with what you are doing so you don't have to worry," Dae Hyun said with a grin.

Aeri even felt scared seeing Dae Hyun who looked creepy with a grin. Aeri never saw Dae Hyun's sly expression drawn on his face.

Dae Hyun placed the file on the table while looking at Lee Young Joun, who was just silent without any more defense. Maybe that man was tired of defending Aeri.

"Mr Lee, if you want it please just take it because I'm not at all interested in a bitch like her. You look more suitable," Dae Hyun sneered as he looked at the two people in front of him in turn.

"Mr. Dae Hyun, you insulted your wife too much," Lee Young Joun said, who looked very emotional.

"Come on, Mr. Lee, you don't have to pretend in front of me," Dae Hyun said casually without any emotion.

"Enough, stop all your words!" Aeri shouted while covering her ears with both hands. Even though what Dae Hyun said was true, Aeri still felt hurt.

"Aeri, if you've finished checking and signing it immediately give it to me," Dae Hyun said calmly without any jealousy at all. Dae Hyun had been waiting for quite a long time. Even if he had to see Aeri making out with other men.

With trembling hands, Aeri slowly reached out to reach the brown envelope. With a pounding heart Aeri opened the file Dae Hyun gave her. Her legs limp helplessly when she saw the title printed on the letter.

"What do you mean?" Aeri asked with a raised tone. With both legs feeling weak, Aeri tried to stay on her feet.

"I just followed what you wanted all this time. Don't you want the freedom to live with the man you want. You should be happy now because I have granted your wish," Dae Hyun said as he put his hand in his pants pocket.

"Do you intend to divorce me because of that girl?" Aeri asked with fiery eyes.

"Don't try to scapegoat someone. This all has nothing to do with anyone," Dae Hyun said while pinching the space between his eyebrows.

"I'm pretty sure you have hooked up with that bitch!" Aeri quipped with a trembling body.

"Never mind I want to go. I'm not disturbing what you are doing. If you already signed it, please contact me." Dae Hyun only glanced at Aeri while smiling lopsidedly and then stepped out of the Vip room. He did not feel anger at all for what he was angry about, Dae Hyun was grateful so he could be separated from Aeri. The burden on his shoulders was noticeably less.

With a happy face Dae Hyun left the restaurant. He could not wait to meet his little wife. It will be a surprise for Soo Yin. Surely his wife will be very happy.

After Dae Hyun was not there, Aeri's body collapsed to the floor. Aeri was very shocked by what she had just experienced. Firmly her fingers squeezed the letter and then tore it into small, irregular pieces.

"It's all because of you!" Aeri said while looking up at Lee Young Joun. If only Lee Young Joun hadn't asked her to meet up, none of this would have happened. Surely her position as Dae Hyun's mistress will not be bad.

"So you blame me?" Lee Young Joun asked with his hands on his hips.

"Of course, if you don't invite me to come to this restaurant then my position is still safe." Aeri's face flushed with hot tears that started to roll down her cheeks.

"Aren't you a bitch?" Lee Young Joun sneered with his sly grin.

Aeri slowly stood up even though her body wobbled. She wanted to reply to what Lee Young Joun was saying.

"You are insolent!" Aeri raised her hand about to slap Lee Young Joun but unfortunately the man grabbed her wrist first before landing on his cheek.

Lee Young Joun threw Aeri's hand roughly until Aeri's body almost fell to the floor. Lucky to be able to balance her body to stand back up.

"How dare you want to slap me!" Lee Young Joun felt so angry that he immediately pushed Aeri's body against the wall. Squeezed it until Aeri couldn't escape.

"That's to repay because you ruined my life!" Aeri shouted boldly.

Infuriated by Aeri's harsh words, Lee Young Joun grabbed Aeri's hands and then placed them on her head so that Aeri couldn't move.

"Let go!" Aeri shouted right on Lee Young Joun's face, making the man look even angrier.

"How dare you shout in front of me!" Lee Young Joun roughly grabbed Aeri's chin. If only Aeri hadn't blamed him then he wouldn't have been this angry. Even intending to help her explain everything to Dae Hyun.

"You bastard!" Aeri felt pain in her cheek because of Lee's tight grip.

Lee Young Joun studied Aeri's body from top to bottom. He then smiled with his sly grin.

Seeing the evil smile on Lee Young Joun's lips, Aeri felt a little scared. She already knew that the man was very perverted. In fact he will want whomever he met. There have been many women who have become pregnant because of his actions but there was no accountability.

"Mr. Lee, you don't mess around," Aeri said as she kept trying to get her hands out of Lee's tight grip.

"Calm down, I won't do anything bad." Lee Young Joun traced Aeri's face with his finger very slowly. He did it on purpose so that Aeri felt something he wanted to see. Every woman has never refused what he did.

"Mr Lee, please keep your hands away from my face," Aeri said as she moved her head to the right and left.

"Don't you miss your husband's touch? I can be a temporary substitute," Lee Young Joun said with a crooked smile.

Lee Young Joun brought his face so close to Aeri that he was only a few centimeters away. Aeri closed her eyes. This was the first time she felt scared like this.

"The body of a top model like you must be very tantalizing," Lee Young Joun whispered right in Aeri's earlobe, causing a strange vibration that began to spread.

"Mr. Lee, please let go! If not, I'll make sure if you will regret it," Aeri threatened, already feeling uncomfortable with what the man was doing.

"What are you going to do? Your husband doesn't even think of you as a wife anymore," Lee Young Joun sneered accompanied by laughter that echoed in the room. The VIP room has been soundproofed by the restaurant so no one will listen to them.

"He's just angry right now." Aeri will continued to do everything so she can to escape.

"Ughh, I really feel sorry for you. He even said his wife was a bitch," Lee Young Joun said with a sneer.

With all her strength Aeri tried to get her hand off, but it worked. Then she pushed Lee Young Joun's burly body to his back on the floor.

Seeing the man who was falling on the floor, Aeri immediately took her bag and cellphone which were on the table. Just about to open the door to escape, Lee Young Joun already pulled her hair from behind.

"Awww!" Aeri groaned, who was in pain because her head felt sore and hot.

"You bitch!" Lee Young Joun was really angry at this time so that the man roughly confined Aeri to the wall. Aeri's treatment made him lose his temper.

Lee Young Joun locked Aeri's hands behind her back with his left hand. Without warning, Lee Young Joun crushed Aeri's lips roughly without allowing Aeri to breathe.

Aeri felt pain on her lips because the man was biting her lips repeatedly like a person was possessed. She continued to struggle but it was useless because Lee Young Joun tightened the grip on her hands even more.

Lee used his left hand to roughly tear Aeri's dress, causing Aeri to widen her eyes. His naughty hands continued to trace two plump objects that were still covered by a black bra.

Aeri's body was feeling the intoxicating sensation. Even though her heart refused, her body responded differently.

"Look at your bitch body, really quick to react," Lee Young Joun said while chuckling. He just let go of his kiss.

"Son of a bitch!" Aeri cursed with a flushed face between restraining her embarrassment and anger.

Without listening to Aeri who kept cursing, Lee Young Joun continued to do the action by roughly removing Aeri's clothes then throwing them on the floor.

Aeri widened her eyes to see that her clothes were now sitting on the floor. Now her body was only wrapped in small underwear. Although not for the first time, Aeri didn't like coercion like that.

Lee Young Joun was even more excited to see Aeri's smooth body which looked really teasing him.

"My guess is right if the body of a model is very tempting!" Lee muttered while chuckling in awe with a misty gaze.

"I said let go!" Aeri continued to struggle but to no avail.

Lee quickly removed his tie with one hand and then used it to tie Aeri's hands behind her back.

"Shut up and don't rebel. You don't need to worry after this I'll pay you," Lee whispered then put Aeri's earlobe back into his mouth.

Aeri's body continued to react. She could no longer hold back the sighs and moans from escaping her lips because Lee made her feel a burning passion.

Several minutes passed. Aeri immediately realized that this was the wrong thing to do because Lee didn't even wear a safety. If she gets pregnant then she was finished. But was her strength unable to match the strength of Lee Young Joun. Long enough they did a hot struggle. Lee continued to do that until he was satisfied.

Now Lee Young Joun was wearing his clothes. He also took off his tie from Aeri's hand.

Aeri was still sitting on her knees with her breath still harsh on her chest. There was lust and anger boiling in her heart right now.

"Thank you for tonight," Lee Young Joun whispered with a sly grin. He took something from his shirt pocket, wrote a check which he would give to Aeri. Although a bastard, but he never denied what he said.

Aeri clenched her fist tightly against the floor with her lips pressed together. Her eyes stared blankly in any direction.

Lee Young Joun immediately left Aeri alone in that place without caring about Aeri's condition with her clothes torn.

Aeri was still on the floor a few minutes until she slowly regained consciousness. Aeri picked up her clothes which were scattered on the floor and put them on. Unsteadily, she tried to stand up. Her mind now felt empty.

"What an insolent man!" Aeri cursed while throwing away all the plates on the table so that they fell on the floor. She felt very angry at Dae Hyun's treatment of her plus Lee's harassment.

Aeri looked at her body. There was no way she would come out in a messy clothes. She quickly called her mother to pick her up because there was no way she could ask Han to come. If he find out that her condition was like this then he will likely be very angry.

"You two, we'll see later because I will repay you!" Aeri shouted with trembling lips.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 189 - 189 - Where Is My Wife?

Pyeongchang-dong Villa,

Dae Hyun just parked his car in the garage. While continuing to walk Dae Hyun observed the state of the house.

The condition of the house looked lonely, the situation was no longer light. Only a few rooms have light. Even the room looked dark.

Dae Hyun immediately opened the main door without knocking because he knew the password to enter so he didn't have to bother asking Auntie Xia to open the door for him.

"Why is it so quiet? Is Soo Yin asleep? Although it's not too late," Dae Hyun muttered and kept walking up the stairs.

It was nine o'clock in the evening. Because meeting Aeri made him late home. But it didn't matter, the man was grateful.

The room conditions were dark when Dae Hyun entered the room. He felt the wall to find the switch. After the light turned on Dae Hyun dropped the plastic bag that was in his hand. The room was empty, the bed was also very neat like it wasn't used.

Dae Hyun was so panicked that he looked for Soo Yin in all corners of the room. Starting from the bathroom to the changing room but Soo Yin was not there. Not to forget he also opened the door to the balcony but Soo Yin was also not there. Even Dae Hyun checked under the bed perhaps she was there.

With trembling hands with fear Dae Hyun reached his cell phone from his pants pocket to call Soo Yin's cell phone.

Derrrtt... derttt... derrrtt....

There was the sound of a vibrating cell phone. Dae Hyun looked for the source of the voice. After listening carefully, the sound came from the drawer. Dae Hyun rushed to open it immediately. Sure enough if Soo Yin's cellphone was in the drawer.

"Honey, where are you? Don't prank me!" Dae Hyun shouted as he walked out of his room. He opened the door to his study, maybe Soo Yin was hiding there. There was no one in the room.

Not to forget that Dae Hyun has also contacted Aunt Xia. The result was the same, the calls were also not answered.

"Did something happen to Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun's body now felt very weak. With slow steps he descended the stairs but did not know where to go to find his wife because there was no one to be contacted.

"Chung Ho!" Maybe Chung Ho knew where his little wife was right now.

Dae Hyun ran towards the security post where Chung Ho was on guard.

"Chung Ho!" Dae Hyun called from a distance as he continued running.

Chung Ho who was lying down immediately sat down to hear his boss calling his name. With wide steps Chung Ho approached Dae Hyun.

"What's the matter, sir?" Chung Ho asked while catching his breath.

"Tell me where Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun said as he grabbed Chung Ho by the collar. Worrying too much made Dae Hyun lose his mind.

"Miss Soo Yin?" Chung Ho asked with a frown.

"Tell me where my wife is right now!" Dae Hyun couldn't wait.

"Miss Soo Yin is inside, sir," Chung Ho said with a confused face

"My wife is currently not in. You think I haven't been looking for her before asking you," Dae Hyun said while holding back his emotions with a hand that had not yet been lowered from Chung Ho's collar.

"But, Miss didn't go anywhere, sir," Chung Ho said while raising an eyebrow.

"What's all this fuss?"

A voice so melodious echoed through the sound of the night crickets shouting to each other. Dae Hyun turned his head towards the source of the sound coming from the terrace.

The figure of a girl he had not met for several days was standing near one of the pillars on the terrace. Her face creased in confusion at the commotion that seemed to have just happened.

"Chung Ho, next time wear your clothes properly," Dae Hyun said while pretending to rub Chung Ho's shirt and then lowered his hand.

Before leaving, Dae Hyun glared at Chung Ho as a code not to tell her what just happened. His wife would have been furious if she found out that he was almost abusive towards Chung Ho.

Chung Ho just scratched his head on the back then shook his head.

Was Soo Yin that important in his life that not seeing her made him almost lose his mind.

"Honey, did you just arrive?" Soo Yin asked as she walked over to her husband. Her longing was also so high, but she still patiently waited.

"Sorry, just been able to visit here." Dae Hyun stretched out both hands to welcome Soo Yin's body into his arms.

Soo Yin stepped quickly to get into her husband's arms.

"Where have you been? Why didn't I find you in the room earlier?" Dae Hyun asked as he tightened his arms. His heart was very relieved to see that Soo Yin was fine. Even though he had thought badly if something happened to her.

"So you got inside?" Soo Yin looked up.

"Yes, you make me very worried. I thought something happened to you," Dae Hyun said while pinching the space between his eyebrows.

"So because you're worried, you want to beat Chung Ho?" Soo Yin asked while chuckling with amusement. Even though from a distance, Soo Yin could hear what he was saying.

"No, I... I didn't do that," Dae Hyun stuttered. There was no way he could admit the truth.

"Don't lie," Soo Yin teased as she broke away from Dae Hyun's embrace.

"I'm not lying," Dae Hyun said while looking up with his jaw tight in embarrassment. He felt ashamed because he nearly hurt innocent people.

"Next time don't be like that again, don't act carelessly," Soo Yin advised then hugged Dae Hyun again to vent her passionate longing. If she had a choice when she was pregnant like this she wanted to always have Dae Hyun by her side.

"Very well," Dae Hyun said.

"Where were you?" he continued.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 190 - 190 - There Is Someone Else Here

"I went to the backyard with auntie. Some nights I can't sleep so I prefer to enjoy the moonlight from outside," Soo Yin said while placing her cheek against her husband's chest.

"Are you still thinking about the incident at that time?" Dae Hyun worried if Soo Yin was still sad.

"A little," Soo Yin said.

Although she was also a weak woman when it came to heart and feelings, so she will not be so easy to forget anything like that. She needed time.

"Hmmm." Chung Ho, who had been observing his boss, cleared his throat so they wouldn't make out on the terrace because it was enough to hurt his eyes.

"Come on, come in. Poor Chung Ho to see us continue like this," Soo Yin said with a giggle.

"That's his fault for not looking for a lover," Dae Hyun muttered while staring at Chung Ho, who was only a few meters away but Chung Ho looked away, pretending not to see him.

oooooooooooooooo

Soo Yin leaned on the side of the bed while reading a book about pregnancy information. Her eyes focused on reading how the fetus develops in the womb. Information about pregnant women was very useful for her because she was still too ordinary. A few days ago it was Aunt Xia who looked for her at the bookstore.

Soo Yin was alone because Dae Hyun was still cleaning himself in the bathroom.

A few minutes later, Dae Hyun just came out while drying his wet hair. His gaze fixed on his little wife who seemed absorbed in reading.

Soo Yin remained focused on reading her book without taking her eyes off even though Dae Hyun was already nearby.

"You seem so focused. What are you reading?" Dae Hyun asked curiously as he brought his face closer to Soo Yin's face to find out the book she was reading.

"This is only information about pregnancy. I want to find a lot of information so that our child will grow up healthy," Soo Yin said without taking her eyes off the book.

"Have you had milk and vitamins?" Dae Hyun reminded.

Soo Yin closed the book then looked at Dae Hyun.

"I almost forgot about it." Soo Yin patted her forehead as she moved to the side of the bed to get off.

"Where are you going?" Dae Hyun asked.

"I'll go to the kitchen to make milk," Soo Yin said, who was already up.

"Stay here, let me make it," Dae Hyun said. Not being able to stay with her all the time made Dae Hyun felt guilty. But soon his desire to unite will surely come true.

"No need because you must be very tired. Let me make it myself," Soo Yin said as she walked past Dae Hyun.

"I'm not tired at all," Dae Hyun said as he grabbed Soo Yin's wrist then grabbed her face with both hands.

"Stay here," Dae Hyun continued softly. He rubbed Soo Yin's cheek with his thumb. Kissed those thin lips for a while to treat his longing. Dae Hyun didn't want to kiss Soo Yin's lips for too long, afraid to wake up his desire. He was afraid that he could not control the rush of passion that would slowly emerge.

"Okay," Soo Yin said with a sweet smile. Her heart was touched by Dae Hyun's attitude and concern for her.

Dae Hyun immediately went downstairs to go to the kitchen with only a towel wrapped around his waist. He didn't want to make Soo Yin wait too long.

Waiting for her husband to return to the room, Soo Yin went to the changing room to get her husband's clothes. It's been a long time since she did her job as a wife.

"Honey, where are you?" Dae Hyun said, the man that had returned to the room carrying a tray containing a special glass of milk for pregnant women.

"I just took a change of clothes for you," Soo Yin said, who just came out of the changing room.

"Drink while warm." Dae Hyun handed Soo Yin a glass to drink it right away.

"Thank you," Soo Yin said with a face that was so happy. Quickly finished the glass of milk until there was nothing left. Now Soo Yin rarely felt nauseous because the medicine given by Doctor Mi Young was quite effective. She also has an appetite for food even though she was still picky.

Dae Hyun nodded his head while rubbing the top of Soo Yin's head. After that immediately put on his clothes without going to the changing room.

"Why are you changing clothes here?" Soo Yin said with dilated pupils.

"So what? Haven't you seen it all? Are you afraid if you want it?" Dae Hyun teased, chuckling with amusement.

"N ... no," Soo Yin said with a flushed blush like a tomato. Although she has lived with Dae Hyun for a long time, Soo Yin still felt embarrassed.

"Really?" Dae Hyun teased, who actually stepped his foot closer to Soo Yin.

"There is someone else here, are you not ashamed of him?" Soo Yin asked.

"Who?" Dae Hyun looked around the room but couldn't find anyone.

"So, have you forgotten it? I never thought you would forget it so quickly," Soo Yin said as she pursed her lips forward.

"Honey, there's no one in this room apart from the two of us," Dae Hyun said. With a frown he scratched the back of his head, which didn't feel itchy. There was no way Soo Yin could hide someone else.

"Have you forgotten our child?" Soo Yin said with a sullen face. She lowered her head while rubbing her stomach which was slightly protruding.

Dae Hyun fell silent as he thought about what his wife said. He almost didn't understand what was being said if he didn't look at Soo Yin's stomach.

"I'm sorry, dear." Dae Hyun immediately knelt down to grab Soo Yin's stomach. Wiped it a few times before finally kissing it for a few moments.

"You can't change clothes in front of our child. He must also feel embarrassed especially if it's a woman," Soo Yin said.

"Okay, I won't do it again," Dae Hyun said. Before standing again, Dae Hyun kissed his future baby who was still in the stomach.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 191 - 191 - Good News

Dae Hyun finally went to the changing room to put his clothes on. When he came out, it turned out that Soo Yin was nowhere to be seen, which made Dae Hyun panic even more.

"Honey, where are you?" Dae Hyun shouted loudly.

"Don't scream, I'm right here," Soo Yin said as she poked her head from the balcony.

"You should have told me first before going out," Dae Hyun said.

"You're too much," Soo Yin said without feeling guilty.

Soo Yin was back on the balcony with both hands holding the balcony railing made of iron. The night breeze made her hair swirl flying.

"What are you doing here? It's so cold outside," Dae Hyun said as he hugged Soo Yin's body from behind.

"Every night if there was no you I would stand here or go to the back of the house. Sometimes it's hard for me to sleep," Soo Yin said with her gaze fixed on the moonlight covered in clouds.

"Sorry, I haven't been able to accompany through a beautiful night with you," Dae Hyun said in a sad voice.

"It's okay, I understand and quite self-conscious. After all I am an invisible wife. Maybe it's my fate to be like this," Soo Yin said softly. Even though she had tried to accept everything, her little heart still wanted more.

Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin's body to face him. His heart was sad to hear Soo Yin's words just now. He gently grabbed Soo Yin's face with both hands.

"Are you regret that you love a stupid and weak man like me?" Dae Hyun asked with sad eyes.

"Hmmm," Soo Yin said.

"Then do you want to leave me someday?" Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin lowered her gaze, reluctant to look at her husband.

"Maybe," Soo Yin said with a soft sigh.

Dae Hyun's face, which had been sparkling, now looked dim. His face turned sour with slightly sharp eyes but averted her gaze from Soo Yin's gaze. Can he live without his little wife?

Seeing her husband's changing expression, Soo Yin tilted her head to look at him. She smiled so sweetly that it shook Dae Hyun's soul.

"Don't be too serious because I'm just kidding," Soo Yin said while chuckling with amusement because she managed to prank her husband.

"So you teased me?" Dae Hyun turned his head to look at Soo Yin who was laughing.

"You're really driving me crazy." Dae Hyun pinched Soo Yin's nose. He almost had a heart attack and wanted to jump off the balcony.

"Ouch, it hurts!" Soo Yin grumbled.

Dae Hyun kept tickling Soo's stomach until she couldn't stop laughing. One thing on his mind was that if Soo Yin left then he'll live on a desert island alone.

"Enough!" Soo Yin struggled to catch her breath.

Dae Hyun stopped it then grabbed Soo Yin's waist to get closer. There was no distance between them.

"I have good news for you and our future baby," Dae Hyun said. Almost forgot about his divorce from Aeri.

"What's the good news?" Soo Yin asked while frowning.

"I've sued Aeri for divorce. Hopefully she won't act up and sign the papers soon," Dae Hyun said.

"Is it true?" Soo Yin's face lit up at the news.

"I just met her earlier. The timing is perfect because Aeri is with Lee Young Joun," Dae Hyun said.

"Mr Lee?" The name reminded her of an incident that had happened a while ago. Soo Yin thought back to the night she was almost harassed by a stranger. So that Soo Yin can imagine a little what they might do.

"That's right, I really wanted to punch him in the face. But for what reason I'm angry. I'm actually grateful because because of him I was able to catch Aeri with my own eyes," Dae Hyun said with chapped lips.

"What are they doing?" Soo Yin asked curiously.

"Actually they didn't do anything but their words made me feel angry," Dae Hyun said.

"Is it because you are jealous?" Soo Yin guessed.

"Why am I jealous of him? Instead, I thank him so that I have a reason to ask to be separated from Aeri as soon as possible," Dae Hyun said between his crisp laughter. His face looked happy.

Although Soo Yin was quite happy to hear that Dae Hyun was going to separate from Aeri, she felt sad when she remembered about their son.

With a sad face, Soo Yin walked forward a little. Back to look at the night sky where no stars can be seen. Her heart couldn't hurt Jo Yeon Ho.

"Aren't you happy hearing this news?" Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin let out a deep sigh with a distant thought thinking about Jo Yeon Ho's attitude one day.

"I only thought about how Jo Yeon Ho would feel if he found out about this," Soo Yin said softly. She couldn't imagine how Jo Yeon Ho would feel so devastated.

"There's no need to worry, I'm sure Yeon Ho can accept everything." Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's hands and squeezed them. He wanted to get rid of her worries so far.

"Hopefully," Soo Yin said hopefully.

"Let's sleep, it's already late." Without warning Dae Hyun lifted Soo Yin's body with both hands.

"You startled me," Soo Yin muttered as suddenly her body felt like she was floating in the air.

"Sorry," Dae Hyun said and then kissed her lips lightly.

Dae Hyun then stepped into the room. Lowering Soo Yin body on the bed slowly.

Dae Hyun stretched out his hand so that Soo Yin can use his hand as a cushion.

"Sleep on my arm," Dae Hyun said when Soo Yin was about to went away.

"Okay," Soo Yin said as she put her hand on Dae Hyun's stomach.

Now there was a soft snoring sound that was loud enough in the increasingly lonely night.

Dae Hyun felt a tingle all over his body as her fingers played under his stomach. In the midst of heavy sleep, Dae Hyun did as much as possible to endure it but those fingers didn't seem to want to stop and make him wake up.

"Don't wake the sleeping lion," Dae Hyun said in a hoarse voice and his eyes closed.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 192 - 192 - Hungry

"You're awake?" Soo Yin lifted her head slightly to look at Dae Hyun who was sleeping on her back.

"How can I sleep if you keep bothering me." Dae Hyun opened his eyes a little.

"I can't sleep," Soo Yin said while pursing her lips. Her stomach felt rumbling and asked for something to be filled.

"It's late, go to sleep," Dae Hyun said, who was already feeling very sleepy. But since earlier, Soo Yin had been bothering him. Quickly tilted his body towards Soo Yin.

"Do you want something?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Hmmmm," Soo Yin said. Now her hands were playing on Dae Hyun's chest which was overgrown with fine hairs.

Dae Hyun smiled even though he couldn't see her face because the lights had been turned off. It turned out that his little wife misses him so much that Dae Hyun thought Soo Yin wanted to do something romantic.

Dae Hyun quickly locked Soo Yin under him. Even though it was dark, Dae Hyun could still see every curve of Soo Yin's face even though it was faint. Plus, his desire to be restrained could no longer be contained by him.

Soo Yin was about to say something but her lips actually made a sighing sound because Dae Hyun had already scooped her lips first. Kissing her so softly that Soo Yin was lulled by the game Dae Hyun gave her.

The feeling was getting more and more wanting more but Soo Yin's mind was too strong because she wanted something else.

Dae Hyun's hands were about to unbutton Soo Yin's nightgown, but they immediately stop themselves because they remember something. Remembering Doctor Kang's words not to make love first while Soo Yin was pregnant young. So that stopped the hot kiss that had been going on for a few minutes.

"Honey, I can't do what you want. I don't want to hurt our future child," Dae Hyun said as he buttoned Soo Yin's shirt back.

"So, you don't want to grant my wish?" Soo Yin said with a disappointed face.

Dae Hyun uncovered Soo Yin's shirt then put his head on his wife's stomach.

"I don't want to hurt you like that time," Dae Hyun said sadly. If he granted Soo Yin's wish, he can't control his desire back.

Soo Yin was silent.

'Wasn't he the one who told me to eat well? Then why are you afraid to hurt my child now?' Soo Yin thought. Her feelings told her that Dae Hyun had misunderstood her.

"Will food hurt our children?" Soo Yin asked with an innocent face

"Food?" Dae Hyun knitted his brows together, trying to digest Soo Yin's words.

"I'm hungry, I really want to eat something," Soo Yin whined, who could no longer hold back her desire.

"Hungry? Don't you want to have sex?" Dae Hyun asked clearly.

"I want to eat not have sex," Soo Yin said as she got up and leaned back from the side of the bed.

Dae Hyun pinched the space between his eyebrows. It turned out to be mistaken.

"All right, let me make it. What do you want?" Dae Hyun asked. Luckily Soo Yin was still innocent so won't laugh at him.

"I want to eat gyeranppang," Soo Yin said. Gyeranppang is a Korean sweet cake that is oval shaped with a fried egg on top. This cake usually sold on the side of the road.

Dae Hyun got out of bed and looked for a switch to turn on the light so that it was bright.

"Okay, I'll wake up aunt to help me make it," Dae Hyun said about to step outside.

"Don't," Soo Yin said.

Hearing his wife's prohibition, Dae Hyun turned to approach her. Luckily there was no need to make it because his eyes were very sleepy.

"I want you to buy it," Soo Yin said. Her hand remained on her stomach to rub her growling.

Dae Hyun scratched the back of his head. There was no way anyone would sell that food in the middle of the night like this. Moreover, the weather outside was very cold. Sellers usually sell only until the afternoon.

"Honey, it's too late. I'm afraid no one will sell it anymore. How about tomorrow morning?" Dae Hyun said. Maybe his wife wants to wait until tomorrow.

"So you want our child to starve until tomorrow morning?" Soo Yin pursed his lips.

"It's not like that, but it's already midnight. Nobody will be selling anymore," Dae Hyun persuaded.

"If you don't want to buy it, let me buy it myself," Soo Yin said with a sullen face. She opened the closet door to find a sweater to warm her body.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples. The first time finding out if someone was pregnant turned out to be very difficult to persuade.

"Stay here, I'll look for it right now," Dae Hyun said while sighing softly.

"If you are not sincere, you don't have to. I don't want my child to eat something that was obtained by force," Soo Yin said when she saw Dae Hyun's expression that looked annoyed.

"I'm not forced at all. Stay here," Dae Hyun persuaded, trying to put a smile on his lips.

"Look at your face looking sour like that," Soo Yin said.

"No, I'm glad to have granted your wish." As much as possible Dae Hyun widened his smile so that Soo Yin would believe in him.

"Okay, don't keep me too long," Soo Yin said.

"Sure."

Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's forehead first before leaving.

The road was deserted, only a few cars were seen passing through the darkness of the night. Dae Hyun continued to drive down the dimly lit streets as he looked around to find a street vendor on the side of the road.

However, only the place and the cart were still visible. In the middle of the night like this the seller must have fallen asleep. There was no way he would wake the salesperson when they had rested. Besides, they didn't necessarily have the ingredients.

Chapter 193 - 193 - Don't Want It Anymore

For thirty minutes he had wandered back and forth but couldn't find it. Dae Hyun decided to call Soo Yin's cellphone. Soon the call was answered.

"Sorry, honey. No one is selling the food you want," Dae Hyun said. Actually the food was not too difficult to find during the day but in the middle of the night like this who will sell it.

"Anyway, you have to get it," Soo Yin said in a quite loud voice.

"What if ...."

Just now Dae Hyun was about to say something but his little wife turned off the phone. There was a little resentment in his heart but he shouldn't complain because Soo Yin was like that because of his request to get pregnant. Only this time Dae Hyun really felt like he was going to be a father.

Dae Hyun went back through the lonely streets but the result was still the same so he decided to stop in front of a gyeranppang selling shop that was attached to the house. It seemed that the house belonged to the seller. Dae Hyun hoped that the seller will make it.

Dae Hyun let out a deep breath, finally venturing out to knock on the door. There was no answer for a long time so Dae Hyun knocked it back. Then came the sound of footsteps approaching the door.

A middle-aged man opened the door while yawning and rubbed his eyes with his hands.

"What's the matter in the middle of the night waking me up?" the man asked in a slightly raised voice because he was annoyed that his sleep had been disturbed.

"Sorry for disturbing your rest, sir," Dae Hyun said while bowing his head politely.

"If there is no need please just leave here," the man said.

"I wonder if you are a gyeranppang seller?" Dae Hyun asked. Really he felt bad, but whatever the power for the sake of his little wife, he will do anything.

"Right, what's the matter?" the man said as he watched Dae perch down.

"Can you make it for me? No need to worry I'll pay one piece 10 times," Dae Hyun said trying to make an offer. It didn't matter how much money was spent. The most important thing was to get it.

The man was stunned by the price offered by Dae Hyun. He seemed to think for a moment.

"It's not that I don't want to make it, but I don't have the ingredients," the man said.

"Is there in the supermarket? If there is, no problem later let me look for it," Dae Hyun said hurriedly.

"If you want to look for it go ahead," the man said still with a sour face.

"Wait a minute."

After Dae Hyun got the recorded of all the required ingredients, Dae Hyun immediately rushed to the supermarket which was open 24 hours. Luckily the place wasn't too far away, so within fifteen minutes Dae Hyun was back with the ingredients.

It didn't take long for the sales man to be standing in front of the place to make the gyeranppang.

"Young man, I want to know why are you looking for this food in the middle of the night like this?" the man asked, who was still busy making gyeranppang.

"My wife asked for it," Dae Hyun said.

"Is she pregnant?" The man could guess. Otherwise an emergency would not have sought him on nights like this.

"That's right, I did not think that a pregnant woman could not hold back her desires," Dae Hyun said.

"You have to be more patient when dealing with a pregnant woman because sometimes she will ask for something unexpected. After you go home it is not certain that your wife will eat it," the man said with a more friendly line on his face.

"Is it true?" Dae Hyun asked.

"You can take my word," the man said, smiling.

After that, Dae Hyun paid 200,000 won for ten pieces of gyeranppang according to what was promised. Because one gyeranppang costs 20,000 won.

Carrying a plastic bag, Dae Hyun came into the room with a cheerful face. He hoped that his wife would not be angry for waiting for him for such a long time.

It turned out that Soo Yin hasn't fallen asleep and was still sitting on the side of the bed.

"Sorry, made you wait too long." Dae Hyun lifted the plastic bag slightly up to show if he got it. He walked over to Soo Yin on the bed to sit beside her.

Soo Yin opened the plastic bag to peek inside. Instead of taking it, Soo Yin put on a grim face.

"Eat," Dae Hyun said.

"I don't want it anymore. You made me wait for a long time. Now I want something else," Soo Yin said as she looked at Dae Hyun's face.

Hearing Soo Yin's words, Dae Hyun's body felt weak. It turned out that what the Gyeranppang seller had said was true. It's not necessarily that Soo Yin wants to eat it.

Dae Hyun felt so desperate. Now just give up what his little wife will ask for. He massaged his temples which ached.

"Honey, do you know where Assistant Chang lives?" Soo Yin asked as she looked at Dae Hyun's face with an adorable expression. There was no sense of guilt at all after making her husband wander around looking for the food she wanted. When he found it, she didn't want to eat it anymore.

"What is going on?" Dae Hyun asked while narrowing his eyes. His feelings were now becoming uneasy.

"Let's go there?" Soo Yin said while blinking her clear eyes. Her curled lashes moved up and down.

"Hah?" Dae Hyun patted his forehead. How could they visit someone else's place in the early morning like this. Although it didn't really matter.

"Fine, if you don't want to." Soo Yin climbed onto the bed with her face bent. Pulled on the blanket to hide her whole body. She also covered her head angrily. There was a sense of sadness and disappointment that Soo Yin was currently feeling because her husband didn't seem to want to grant her wish again. She squeezed the blanket firmly.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 194 - 194 - Assistant Chang's Ramen

Dae Hyun rubbed his face in a huff. Slowly stepping his feet to Soo Yin's side. Hopefully this time his little wife was just kidding and not serious. Maybe she meant early tomorrow. Hopefully it was still wrong to digest as he thought when bothering him.

"Honey, tomorrow morning we'll go to Assistant Chang's house," Dae Hyun coaxed as he rubbed the top of Soo Yin's head which was covered with a pillow.

No answer was heard. There was only Soo Yin's whirring sound that sounded up and down holding back the irritation in her heart.

Dae Hyun can breathe a little with relief when Soo Yin opened the pillow and thick blanket that covers her head.

Soo Yin did open it but only to glance at Dae Hyun with a sharp gaze and a flat face full of annoyance.

"Now go to sleep," Dae Hyun said, about to kiss his wife on the cheek but Soo Yin instead turned her face in another direction. Again hiding her body under the blanket.

Dae Hyun sighed in resignation.

"Okay, if you want it now then we will go," Dae Hyun said, relented. Didn't want to be late to realize the resentment in Soo Yin's heart. He also said he would do anything to make his little wife happy. He also didn't want to forget how his very difficult efforts to win the heart of a girl like Soo Yin who was so stubborn. Very different from now which looked very spoiled.

"Is it true?" Soo Yin immediately sat down to hear Dae Hyun say that. Her eyes opened perfectly round.

"Let's go," Dae Hyun asked with a slightly weak body.

After thirty minutes they arrived right at the door of Chang Yuan's apartment. Of course Dae Hyun knew because he was the one who bought this apartment for Chang Yuan as a gift for his hard work so far.

In the room, a young man was sleeping wearing only his shorts. The state of the room was very neat, far from being cluttered like a man's room in general that was neglected.

Chang Yuan was awakened by the sound of the doorbell from outside. Still so sleepy, Chang Yuan looked at the clock on the wall, which was still showing two in the morning. He was reluctant to get out of bed but the loud sound of the doorbell kept disturbing him. Like it or not, Chang Yuan was forced to get up to see who in the early hours like this came to visit.

Chang Yuan dragged his feet out of the room. He almost hit the door, so Chang Yuan tried to get rid of his sleepiness by shook his head from side to side.

He opened the door slowly without checking who had come first. The sleepiness disappeared instantly. The two people standing in front of him seemed like an illusion. There was no way what he saw right now was the big boss.

"Don't be surprised, what you see is us," Dae Hyun muttered because Chang Yuan didn't order them to come in. His legs were already sore from standing for too long waiting for Chang Yuan to open the door.

"Please come in, sir," Chang Yuan said. With wide strides Chang Yuan returned to the room to change first. Didn't want her master's wife to see her perfectly muscular body.

Soo Yin looked around Chang Yuan's apartment. Her eyes were so amazed at the paintings that were neatly lined up on the walls of the room with various objects. Other furniture was also arranged according to its place.

Dae Hyun, who was already feeling tired and sleepy, chose to lean against the back of the sofa, to reduce his fatigue for a while. In fact, he was very confused about why Soo Yin suddenly wanted to visit Chang Yuan's apartment. Perhaps ....

His eyes suddenly opened wide thinking of something that was on his mind. If it was proven that what he thought was right, then Dae Hyun will not hesitate to teach his assistant a lesson.

"Excuse me, is there anything I can help you with? Why are Mr and Mrs visiting at nights like this?" Chang Yuan asked in a tone that as much as possible not to tease the two guests.

"Assistant Chang, I want to eat your bowl of ramyeon," Soo Yin said bluntly. Her face lit up without any guilt.

Dae Hyun and Chang Yuan looked at each other. They were shocked at the simple request Soo Yin made. Even though Dae Hyun was also very good at making it. It tasted so much better with Chang Yuan's ramyeon.

"Ramyeon?" Dae Hyun said with an incredulous face. Dae Hyun's sneer glanced at Chang Yuan who still looked surprised.

Soo Yin nodded her head enthusiastically.

"Assistant Chang, did you hear my wife asked for ramyeon. Do you have the ingredients?" Dae Hyun asked dryly.

"Yes, sir," Chang Yuan said quickly. Luckily when he came home from work he stopped by the supermarket to buy various kinds of necessities so that he could be sure if the refrigerator was full.

Dae Hyun asked Soo Yin to sit on the sofa while waiting for the ramyeon to cook. Meanwhile, he went to the kitchen with Chang Yuan to make sure the food his assistant made was not poisonous.

"Assistant Chang, tell me what magic you have sent my wife to want your homemade food." Dae Hyun stood at Chang Yuan's side with his hands on his hips with a sharp glance in his eyes.

"Magic? I didn't do anything, sir," Chang Yuan replied with a frowning question mark.

"If my accusations are proven, I will not hesitate to warn you," Dae Hyun threatened.

Chang Yuan shook his head. How could he dare to do that to his boss's wife. Even so, not many words were spoken from Chang Yuan's lips. It's more resigned to what Dae Hyun accused him of. Why be afraid, because he really didn't do anything.

"Hurry up a little, don't make my wife wait too long," Dae Hyun said, who was impatient. Didn't let it happen again like what he did earlier.

15 minutes later the ramyeon was done.

Dae Hyun brought a bowl of ramyeon to the living room where Soo Yin was waiting. His legs went limp when what he was afraid of happened again.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 195 - 195 - Stay Overnight

Soo Yin was curled up on the corner of the sofa with his eyes tightly closed.

Anger and annoyance got into Dae Hyun's soul to the point that he felt like throwing the bowl on the floor. But as much as possible he tried to hold back the resentment in his heart.

He keeps repeating his activity, which is taking a deep breath and then exhaling through his mouth. After calming down Dae Hyun walked over to Soo Yin. Place the tray containing the bowl of ramen on the table.

Soo Yin looked cold, looked like she's trying to tighten the sweater on her body.

Seeing her sleeping soundly, Dae Hyun regretted all his resentment that almost exploded. Even though a pregnant woman tend to do that. Dae Hyun looked at his little wife for a long time.

Chang Yuan had just cleared the kitchen table before finally meeting the two highly respected people in the living room.

"Miss already asleep, sir?" Chang Yuan asked. His eyes glanced at the bowl of ramen he made, which was still intact.

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun said.

"Are you taking Miss home?"

"So you kicked us out?" Dae Hyun turned around to look at Chang Yuan's face.

"No, sir. You better take her to sleep in my room," Chang Yuan said. Unexpectedly, now the boss was more irritated.

Chang Yuan rushed to his room and changed the sheets and blankets he had just bought a few days ago. The young man lived alone because his parents lived in a distant village. All he need to do was work hard to send them money.

"It's finished, sir," Chang Yuan said, who had returned to the living room.

No matter where the assistant will sleep, Dae Hyun immediately brought Soo Yin's body into the room. His very tired body made him collapse beside his wife's body. Before joining to close his eyes, Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's forehead first.

This night seemed so long because there were so many things to went through. Really this was Dae Hyun's first experience facing a pregnant woman, which was not as easy as imagined.

The sun was already rising almost in the middle of the horizon. Three people in an apartment still closed their eyes. Reluctant to leave their subconscious.

Luckily, they weren't work today, so they didn't need to rush because they were rushed by time.

Chang Yuan slept in the living room lying on the sofa. For the sake of the boss, he was willing to do it because his life was much worse than this if he had never met Dae Hyun.

Meanwhile, in the room Dae Hyun and Soo Yin were still asleep in a hugging position.

Slowly, the sunlight that was already rising came in, illuminating the room through the glass window. Until one of them realized.

Soo Yin stretched to stretch het body muscles. Her eyes that had just opened slightly stared at the ceiling of the room with a strange pattern in her vision. Slowly she began to remember what had really happened last night.

Her eyes then immediately turned to a man who was still fast asleep beside her. Her lips were carved into a warm smile remembering that last night the man in front of her struggled to comply with all her requests.

Soo Yin gently rubbed his handsome face, which had started to have fine lines on his forehead, although it could not be denied that Soo Yin was already fascinated by him. It must be because all this time his life had been spent working very hard. If not, how could the hotel he leads be successful.

"Sorry, last night I bothered you," Soo Yin said with guilt enveloping her heart. Last night, she should have put off her wish until morning. But it seemed that last night really could not contain her desire. There were whispers continuously so that her wish was fulfilled right now. Not tomorrow.

Soo Yin lifted her head slightly then kissed Dae Hyun's cheek which was rough due to overgrown hair. It's not really visible because Dae Hyun was always diligent in shaving it.

Her stomach, which had been hungry since last night, was now growing rumbling. Soo Yin got out of bed then went to the bathroom to wash her face. The bathroom was so clean it amazed her so much. That's because the one who owned it was a man. From this it proved that Chang Yuan was a hard worker who liked neatness.

Soo Yin exit the room while turning her gaze towards the sofa. There Chang Yuan was still curled up in a messy blanket. This was all because of her so that other people must be disturbed. Soo Yin felt even more uncomfortable.

In the corner of the kitchen, Soo Yin saw a refrigerator there so quickly opened it to find some groceries. When she passed the dining table, she found that there was still a bowl of ramyeon that she wanted last night. Too bad last night was too sleepy so she overslept.

Soo Yin sat on one of the chairs then started to taste it. Actually it was better if eaten warm but Soo Yin didn't want to disappoint others including her husband.

After several mouthfuls of tasting it, it turned out to be quite delicious. Chang Yuan was good at cooking just like Dae Hyun. After finishing half a bowl Soo

Yin continued her activities wanting to make breakfast for two men who she had been bothered last night.

She tried to remember what ingredients were needed to make Kimbap according to the recipe that Hae Sok told her. Kimbap is rice rolled with dried seaweed which contains vegetables such as carrots, spinach, cucumber, eggs and meat. Actually it's not that hard to make.

The smell of the cooking was so delicious that it came into the nostrils of a man who was still asleep so that they began to wake up. Meanwhile, Chang Yuan was up first when he heard the clink of furniture from the kitchen.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 196 - 196 - Appreciate Your Hard Work

Dae Hyun patted the bed beside him to find Soo Yin with his eyes still closed. Nobody was there, so anxiously Dae Hyun sat down. Quickly get out of bed to find Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun continued to walk before finally stopping when laughter and jokes came from the kitchen. Secretly, Dae Hyun peeked curiously at what they were doing.

Soo Yin laughed crisply as she occasionally pinched Chang Yuan's arm. Dae Hyun's chest thundered at the scene in front of him. Heat accompanied by anger creeps all over the body. But Dae Hyun immediately realized that what he felt was a mistake. They were just joking so don't worry too much. There was no way Soo Yin liked Chang Yuan even if they looked harmonious because their ages were not that far apart.

"Hmmm." Dae Hyun let out a loud voice when he entered the kitchen.

Soo Yin who was in front of the stove turned her face backwards.

"Honey, you're awake." With a sweet smile on her lips, Soo Yin walked over to Dae Hyun. Not bothering to have Chang Yuan with them, Soo Yin put her arm around Dae Hyun's neck and then kissed him on the lips.

Chang Yuan didn't dare to turn around because he could already guess what they were doing. His hands were busy working on the pot on the stove to finish the dishes he had made.

Having Soo Yin treated so sweetly to him, made Dae Hyun get rid of his jealousy. It turned out that his jealousy was always too much.

Dae Hyun lifted Soo Yin's body and then sat her on the table with Soo Yin's arms still wrapped around his neck.

"Why didn't you wake me up?" Dae Hyun asked, staring into those bright eyes.

"I don't want to bother you after what I asked last night," Soo Yin said sadly. Regret raged in her heart.

"Shhhhhh, for the sake of our child I will do whatever you ask. I also apologize for being upset last night. Even though you are like this all because of my fault." Dae Hyun hooked his forehead against Soo Yin's forehead. Regret how stupid he was.

Chang Yuan began to feel stifled by what they had done. For a moment, making out with him as if he didn't exist. It seemed they think he was just a mosquito.

"Ehemmm," Chang Yuan said, awakening the couple who was standing behind him if he was with them.

"Assistant Chang, you better find a wife so that every night someone accompanies you. You don't have to worry about the cost of the wedding. Later I'll help," Dae Hyun said.

"I still want to live alone," Chang Yuan said simply. He was indeed the type of man who was quiet and rarely speaks.

"That's right, Assistant Chang. But you should only have one wife because you won't be able to take care of it if you have two," Soo Yin said with a giggle. She glanced at her husband's expression which turned sour.

"Of course, Miss. I only want to be loyal to one wife," Chang Yuan said, who unconsciously teased his boss.

"So, you insinuated me for being unloyal?" Dae Hyun asked irritably.

"Yes, don't be angry." To get rid of her husband's frustration, Soo Yin gave him a quick kiss on the cheek before letting go of the table. She felt bad about Chang Yuan because of their arbitrary actions in his apartment.

Dae Hyun's gaze fell on last night's ramen bowl, which turned out to be half of the contents.

"Are you still eating it?" Dae Hyun said.

"I just want to appreciate your hard work," Soo Yin said. Now she was helping Chang Yuan to prepare everything at the dinner table.

"You should say if you still want it. I will ask Assistant Chang to make it again," Dae Hyun said.

"I've tasted it. That's enough," Soo Yin said.

Now there were several menus on the dining table. There were Kimbab, kimchi, bulgogi or roast beef and others. It turned out that Chang Yuan was very good at cooking. No wonder the refrigerator was full of various vegetables.

Chang Yuan was actually quite happy with the two of them. But seeing them making out continued to make his stomach ache. He just shook his head during breakfast, his boss always looked intimate. Make him as a single person to be jealous.

After finishing breakfast Soo Yin took Dae Hyun to come home because they didn't bring a change. Soo Yin was also quite satisfied because all her wishes have been fulfilled.

Pyeongchang-dong Villa.

They arrived at the villa when it was midday. Soo Yin just cleaned her body. Still wrapped in the towel, she sat at the dressing table.

Dae Hyun was downstairs to meet Chung Ho to check the condition of his car as they were going to the hospital.

This afternoon Dae Hyun invited Soo Yin to have her womb checked. Even though Soo Yin still wanted to rest at home but for the sake of her future baby she was forced to follow Dae Hyun. According to doctor Mi Young's orders to have her womb checked frequently.

They were currently on their way to the hospital.

"Honey, we should go to a much better hospital," Dae Hyun said with his eyes focused on the busy street. Only occasionally glanced at his wife who kept rubbing her stomach.

"I want to go to the hospital yesterday." Soo Yin still insisted on seeing doctor Mi Young.

"We are looking for a much better female doctor," Dae Hyun persuaded, who never gave up.

For him meeting Mi Young after all this time made them feel awkward. After all, Mi Young was his past that had been so long to be forgotten. They decided to separate when Mi Young turned out to be an arranged marriage by her parents. Actually there was a choice at that time, Mi Young would not marry someone else if Dae Hyun proposed to her quickly. What could they do because at that time Dae Hyun had to work hard to develop a hotel business that was almost on the verge of collapse because it was led by his uncle.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 197 - 197 - Third Wife

His entire family also didn't allow Dae Hyun to marry young. With disappointment and a heavy heart, Dae Hyun has to let her go. Maybe they were not matched.

"I'm comfortable with Doctor Mi Young. She's very nice and friendly. Isn't she your schoolmate then why don't you want to go there?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes in suspicion.

"Ah... I think we can find the best doctor," Dae Hyun stuttered. It's impossible to tell the truth.

"Never mind, I still want to see doctor Mi Young," Soo Yin said.

Dae Hyun was only able to sigh in resignation because it was useless to persuade his little wife.

After a few minutes they were now in the Pyongyang hospital parking lot.

Dae Hyun continued to lead Soo Yin through the hospital corridor because they've already made an appointment with Mi Young so there's no need to wait in line.

Dae Hyun knocked on the door several times until someone opened the door.

"You guys have come, come in." It wasn't Mi Young or the nurse but it was Doctor Kang who had stood up to open the door wide.

Seeing Doctor Kang over there Dae Hyun narrowed his eyes. Why did he come to this hospital. It seemed that he didn't work at the hospital because Doctor Kang was a general practitioner. He already owned the hospital where he works.

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin went inside. Not waiting long Mi Young invited Soo Yin to come into the room to immediately check it.

Meanwhile, Dae Hyun was waiting outside with Doctor Kang.

"Dae Hyun, don't be tense like that on your face," Doctor Kang teased, chuckling with amusement as Dae Hyun's facial expression had turned sour ever since he entered Mi Young's room.

"I want to talk to you," Dae Hyun said with a cold gaze and then stepped outside.

"Okay." Doctor Kang just smiled, following Dae Hyun's steps to a place that was rather quiet from people passing by.

They were currently in the small garden area of the hospital. Stand with his back to Doctor Kang while folding his arms across his chest.

"Why does your face look so tense?" Doctor Kang said casually without caring about Dae Hyun who looked annoyed at him.

"Why didn't you say from the start if the female doctor you meant was Mi Young?" Dae Hyun said as he turned to look at Doctor Kang.

"So what?" Doctor Kang asked, pretended not to know their past.

"If I found out from the beginning. There's no way I could bring Soo Yin here," Dae Hyun muttered.

"Don't get carried away with feelings like that. She's just the past," Doctor Kang said. At that time, what occurred to the female obstetrician he knew was only Mi Young because most of them were men.

"Who gets carried away. I've forgotten her for a long time," Dae Hyun argued.

"Then what's the problem?"

"Because Mi Young is the doctor, it makes me not free to ask questions about my wife. There must be an awkward feeling between us," Dae Hyun said with an annoyed snort. Too bad his wife did not want to be invited to another place. Should he say that Mi Young was his ex for Soo Yin to agree.

"Just make her your third wife," Doctor Kang teased with a mischievous smile on his lips.

"You think I'm crazy," Dae Hyun said as he looked Doctor Kang's eyes but the man he was staring at was laughing out loud.

"Never mind." Dae Hyun left Doctor Kang and then returned to Mi Young's office because it's useless to talk to him which made him even more upset.

Dae Hyun now opened the door. It turned out that Soo Yin has finished checking.

"Honey, where have you been?" Soo Yin asked. She just came out but found her husband was not there.

"I went out for a bit. What about the condition of our future child?" Dae Hyun can't wait to find out how it's doing.

"He's fine. The baby's condition is not as weak as a few days ago. But you still have to be careful and diligent in checking with the doctor," Doctor Mi Young said, a little nervous being stared at by Dae Hyun. It was not the gaze of love that she had been longing for but his eyes were just as if they had never known.

"How long can we..." Dae Hyun stopped his questioning out of a bit of privacy and embarrassment too. He almost blurted out.

"Dae Hyun meant, when can they have sex," Doctor Kang said, who suddenly appeared.

"Shut up!" Dae Hyun exclaimed, his face flushed with embarrassment.

Soo Yin just bit her lower lip in embarrassment. Should her husband ask that.

"For that, you can do it but you have to be careful," Mi Young said a little shyly. This was a slightly sensitive conversation.

"Dae Hyun, I remind you not to let the incident happen again at that time," Doctor Kang said.

"Miss Soo Yin, if your husband is impatient, just prepare a stick to hit him," he continued with a smile. Somehow he liked to tease one of his friends.

"Doctor Kang, shut up! You should take care of your own life that doesn't even have a wife. Remember your age is old, don't let you no longer be able to serve your wife when you get married," Dae Hyun sneered with a sense of revenge so that Doctor Kang would silence and not embarrass him in front of his little wife and Mi Young.

"You don't have to worry about me. If I get married later, I will definitely ask you to teach me. Because you must be more experienced because you already have two wives," Doctor Kang said while blinking one eye and then chuckling with amusement. He just felt weird because now Dae Hyun was more possessive and didn't like to joke around.

Mi Young frowned, she was curious about what Doctor Kang said. Was it true that Dae Hyun has two wives? The woman really could not believe what she heard. Dae Hyun whom she knew was a loyal man. During a relationship with her he never wanted to be close to another girl. But Mi Young didn't want to interfere too much because this was none of her business.

ep calm and write something...

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 198 - 198 - Don't Need Any Woman

Dae Hyun's face was flushed red with anger and embarrassment mingling into one. His fingers clenched tightly because they needed an outlet. With a sharp glare at Doctor Kang, Dae Hyun stood up to approach him.

Seeing her husband who seemed provoked by emotion, Soo Yin immediately grabbed his wrist and rubbed it gently. Trying to calm him down so as not to get angry with what Doctor Kang said.

"Don't be so serious like that. I'm just kidding," Doctor Kang said.

"I don't like your jokes!" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone then sat back down because Soo Yin was holding his hand so tightly.

"Honey, never mind," Soo Yin said softly. Didn't let her husband make a fuss over a little thing like that.

Dae Hyun turned his head to the side to see his little wife. If she wasn't there, he would have punched Doctor Kang in the face. For him, the joke was really too much.

"Hmmm, Miss Soo Yin, do you still have morning sickness?" Mi Young asked to change the subject even though she was so curious.

"No, Doctor. After the doctor gave me the medicine I didn't feel nauseous anymore and my appetite has also increased," Soo Yin said enthusiastically.

"Okay, I'm glad to hear that," Mi Young said with a smile.

After finishing talking about Soo Yin's conditions. They hurried home because Dae Hyun could not stand to see Doctor Kang who was still there without wanting to leave. It seemed he did it on purpose.

During the return trip, Dae Hyun was mostly silent. When he arrived at the villa courtyard, then he opened his voice to reveal what was on his mind right now.

"Anyway, next time we go to another hospital," Dae Hyun said with great emphasis. His sharp eyes stared straight ahead. After leaving the hospital, Dae Hyun's heart still felt irritated. Just watch out if he met Doctor Kang alone. He made sure he would give a lesson worthy of the shame he felt.

"I don't want to go anywhere else." Soo Yin remained adamant about her stance. In her mind, it was not certain that in other places the doctor will be as friendly as Mi Young.

"Soo Yin, can't you just comply with my request for once?" Dae Hyun asked in a slightly raised voice.

Soo Yin turned her head with teary eyes hearing Dae Hyun yell at her. So far, her husband never said in a high voice to her. His words were always gentle.

'Will he leave me after getting everything he wants?' Soo Yin thought with the crystal beads that have pooled in her eyelids. Especially when pregnant like this, a woman tends to feel more sensitive.

It turns out that Soo Yin's guess was true. She shouldn't have believed everything he said from the start.

Soo Yin's chest felt tight and sad. Her father who had raised her had never even snapped at her, but why was the man who promised to take care of her was so heartily.

The tears that pooled could no longer be contained by her. Soo Yin opened the car door then got out and walked quickly into the villa.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes for a moment before going after his little wife. He felt so stupid right now. He should've been able to suppress his emotions.

With hasty steps, Dae Hyun followed Soo Yin who was already in the room. There was the sound of Soo Yin's sobbing in the room.

"Honey, open the door. Please forgive me," Dae Hyun said sadly.

Soo Yin ignored her husband who kept calling her name while knocking on the door. With tears in her eyes, Soo Yin packed her only a few pieces of clothes into a bag. Maybe to other people those words sound ordinary but to her it hurt too much. Moreover, realizing that she was just a mistress who could not have any meaning in Dae Hyun's eyes.

The soft and sweet words that always came out of Dae Hyun's lips had now disappeared due to one ordinary sentence but it was quite suffocating in her chest. It was true that there was a saying that if a thousand goodness will be lost with one mistake.

With trembling hands, Soo Yin held the knob and ready to open it. Before actually leaving, Soo Yin glanced over to the bed. A place she will never forget.

Dae Hyun was still standing with a bowed position. He placed both hands on the door. He tilted his head when he saw Soo Yin opened the door.

"Honey, what are you doing?" Dae Hyun's heart seemed to stop beating for a few seconds when he saw the wife he loved standing with a bag in her hand.

"I may have no meaning in your eyes. Sorry, if all this time I bothered you," Soo Yin said with trembling lips while holding back all her sadness. She wiped the tears that flowed freely down her cheeks.

"Honey, please forgive me. I... I was just feeling emotional. I yelled at you accidentally," Dae Hyun said as he grabbed Soo Yin's hand. Soo Yin quickly withdrew his hand.

Soo Yin's heart that was so fragile coupled with her current state of being pregnant. Her feelings were a little bit more sensitive than usual.

With heavy steps, Soo Yin passed Dae Hyun without even glancing at him.

No, Dae Hyun won't let Soo Yin go. His life had been more colorful since he met Soo Yin. He didn't want to lose her.

Dae Hyun quickly stood up to block Soo Yin's steps that were about to leave. Without thinking Dae Hyun knelt before her. Never mind kneeling, kissing the soles of her feet Dae Hyun was willing if it can make Soo Yin discourage from leaving.

"What are you doing?" Soo Yin was surprised when Dae Hyun knelt before her.

"I'll stay like this until you forgive me." Dae Hyun raised his face to look at Soo Yin wistfully.

"Never mind, you better just look for a new woman. One who is more beautiful and smarter. One more thing, look for a strong woman, not a weak and fragile woman like myself," Soo Yin said. She tried to hold back her tears so as not to fall.

"I don't need any woman. You are all I need right now." Dae Hyun embraced Soo Yin's legs very tightly.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 199 - 199 - Seductive Girl

Soo Yin closed her eyes for a moment. Tried to think about what she was doing right now because Dae Hyun didn't seem to be letting go of her legs. Was her behaviour so childish? Just a yell can hurt her. Then what if one day they really unite together? Was she able to accept all the blasphemy of people against her.

Soo Yin cursed herself for her fragility. In the past, she was never this whiny.

"I'm willing if you have to punish me. As long as you don't leave this house," Dae Hyun asked in a low voice. Drowned his head between Soo Yin's legs.

Even though Soo Yin got angry easily, his heart melted very easily if she was persuaded properly. Her heart could not bear to see her husband kneeling at his feet. But the resentment still hadn't gone away from her mind.

Soo Yin let go of the bag filled with clothes from her hands so that it fell to the floor.

"Or do you want us to be straightforward right now in front of everyone? Tomorrow I will announce it at the hotel," Dae Hyun said while looking up but Soo Yin just stared straight ahead without flinching.

Seeing his little wife who was silent, Dae Hyun stood up and then pulled her wrist to follow him. If this was what she wanted, for him it didn't matter at all.

Auntie Xia was about to go up to the second floor and wanted to say that dinner was ready but stopped her goal when she saw that Dae Hyun and Soo Yin seemed to had had a fight. Her heart was sad when she saw them fighting, even though before going to the hospital they looked fine.

There was a sound of footsteps descending the stairs so Auntie Xia hurried off to the kitchen before they caught her.

UN Village,

Dae Hyun took Soo Yin to his main house. He did not mess with what he said. Although it will be a big problem for his family. For him it didn't matter at all as long as if he can make Soo Yin trust him.

Soo Yin was still silent with her lips pressed tightly. Not a single word came out of her lips. She just wanted to know if what Dae Hyun promised would really be kept. She needed proof, not just a promise.

Dae Hyun continued to hold Soo Yin's hand until he reached the door. When he opened the door, Soo Yin let go of his hand.

When they stepped inside, there was a faint sound coming from the family room. There were several people chatting there. Two of them were Dae Hyun's uncle and aunt who hadn't visited for a long time.

Soo Yin continued to follow Dae Hyun's footsteps with her lips pressed tightly together.

"Wow, there are guests." Mrs. Park was so happy when she saw Soo Yin and her son was coming.

"Soo Yin?" Park Soo Hyun immediately stood up when he saw the girl he missed. After several weeks of not seeing her, it was like he dreamed of seeing her now.

"Soo Yin, come on, please sit down," Mrs. Park said.

Soo Yin greeted Uncle Jung Woo and Aunt Hyun Bin with a bow.

Dae Hyun who was one meter away squeezed his body closer to Soo Yin so that they stick to each other. This was a very good time because there were an uncle and aunt.

Soo Yin's heart raced faster. Fluttered helplessly, wanted to see how they would react if everyone found out about their relationship. Moreover, Dae Hyun's uncle and aunt were there.

Dae Hyun was about to grab Soo Yin's waist but his wife turned away.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath, before telling his family everything. Because after this it was certain that there will be an uproar in their extended family.

"Mother, what a coincidence that you guys are together because we have something to say. Starting tomorrow Soo Yin..." Dae Hyun's words were interrupted.

"Starting tomorrow I will return to work at the hotel," Soo Yin said, interrupting Dae Hyun's words. She was not ready if his family found out about this right now. She did not want to be the destroyer of that family. Moreover, destroying Mrs. Park's trust to her.

"Not that, but actually we already..." Dae Hyun argued as he turned to Soo Yin with a frowning face.

"Sorry, for the past few days I have not been able to work at the hotel properly because I have to take care of my studies," Soo Yin continued again, while bending her body.

Dae Hyun finally stopped his words because Soo Yin was always interrupting his words.

"Ah, it doesn't matter at all," Mrs. Park said who walked over to Soo Yin then led him to sit between Park Soo Hyun and herself.

Soo Yin met Dae Hyun's eyes then shook her head as a code not to say that again. There were uncle and aunt in this house so Soo Yin didn't want to make a fuss.

From the direction of the stairs, Aeri was going down the stairs, while holding her arms across her chest. She just escorted Jo Yeon Ho to his room. Her anger wanted to overflow again when she wanted to see Soo Yin who was sitting so sweetly with her mother-in-law.

"You bitch!" Aeri muttered softly with a look that looked cynical.

"Wow, it turns out that there is a seductive girl who came to this house," Aeri said while clapping her hands.

Everyone looked at Aeri questioningly.

Especially Dae Hyun who put on a sour face when he saw Aeri. He wanted to slap her cheek right now. However, Dae Hyun was not the type of man who liked to be rude with a woman.

"Mother, you should not go near that girl," Aeri said, unable to contain her emotions. The thought of Dae Hyun defended her even more irritated her.

"What do you mean, sister-in-law?" Park Soo Hyun said, did not accept.

"She's been trying to seduce your brother. You also have to be careful, not to be provoked by the innocence of her face," Aeri sneered.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 200 - 200 - Quarreling Have A Fight

Dae Hyun massaged his temples feeling Aeri's shameless attitude saying such things. But he wanted to know to what extent Aeri would instigate his family.

"Wow, is that true?" Aunt Hyun Bin said. Looked happy because it looked like there was going to be a scene.

"Eunnie, don't let a teaser enter this family," Aunt Hyun Bin said to Mrs. Park.

"Never mind, that's not true. Soo Yin is not that kind of girl." With great confidence, Mrs. Park defended Soo Yin in front of her sister-in-law.

"At Yeon Ho's graduation party she even replaced me at the event. What is her name if she doesn't want to seduce my husband? She would want to be considered a hero by everyone in this house," Aeri said, who had reached the floor.

"Aeri, stop your words! I asked her to come to replace you because you can't even be contacted," Dae Hyun said in a raised voice. He didn't like Aeri to say that especially to the point of saying the word bitch like that night.

"There is no need to defend her. At that time I was already on my way but my car broke down and my cellphone was left behind at my mother's house," Aeri stammered.

"Sister-in-law, don't put all your fault on Soo Yin. She's a good girl," Park Soo Hyun defended as he rose to his feet. Any man will not be willing if the girl he liked was accused of seducing a married man.

"You don't have to be fascinated by her innocence. As long as you know that she is the daughter of a husband-stealer. I'm sure she will also be like her mother," Aeri sneered.

Soo Yin just lowered her head. It seemed like these few days her ordeal was so heavy because she had to listen to words that hurt her enough.

"Enough, Aeri! I don't like you saying nonsense to my future daughter-in-law," Mrs. Park said.

Dae Hyun's uncle and aunt only listened to the commotion that was going on. This could be big news.

"Mother, believe me. I will prove what I said one day," Aeri said confidently. If later her words were not proven, she will try to prove it somehow. The most important thing was that the girl was far from her life.

Actually Dae Hyun wanted to say how Aeri was with another man last night. But there were still his uncle and aunt so he remembered his grandmother's message. Judging from the facial expressions, they looked delighted as if the commotion was an interesting spectacle. Fortunately, he hadn't had the chance to admit his relationship with Soo Yin. So that this problem will not be more complicated.

After his father returned to Korea, Dae Hyun was determined to give up his position as chief director to Park Soo Hyun so that he could live freely.

"Soo Yin, don't listen to Aeri's words. She might just be jealous," Mrs. Park said. She was afraid that because of this problem Soo Yin would stay away from Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin nodded her head while smiling faintly.

Aeri was getting sick of seeing her mother-in-law's sweet attitude towards Soo Yin. If her efforts this time failed to keep Soo Yin away from this family, she will immediately warn Soo Yin to give up.

Dae Hyun immediately grabbed Aeri's hand roughly to follow his steps to their room because he wanted to finish everything.

Aeri trudged on to follow Dae Hyun to the room.

"What do you mean by saying something like that about Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone.

"I'm sorry, dear. I just want to open the eyes of your hearts so as not to be tempted by her innocent face," Aeri said in her soft voice.

"Then, should I trust a woman like you?" Dae Hyun said with a lopsided smile.

"Don't forget to sign the letter I gave you last night," he continued. It didn't matter that Aeri will be nice to him. He was determined to part with her.

Aeri clenched her fingers tightly with a trembling body. Until she gritted her teeth tightly.

"Why do you have the heart to want to divorce me? Is it because there is already another woman in your heart?" Aeri shouted with a heart that felt torn.

"Why maintain a relationship that is no longer compatible? I'm tired if I have to pretend to be nice to you in front of my family," Dae Hyun said. This time he could no longer delay his wish.

"Is it because you already have another woman in your heart?" Aeri asked with high emotion.

"You are very accurate in your guess," Dae Hyun said casually. Hopefully with him being honest, Aeri will have some shame.

Dae Hyun packed some of his clothes to put in the suitcase. In the future, he intended to stay at a hotel only or in a villa with Soo Yin. Before Aeri signed the file, there was no intention of returning to that house. If Jo Yeon Ho missed him, he can visit him at the hotel.

Dae Hyun glanced at Aeri who seemed to be holding back emotions before finally leaving the room. Hastily he descended the stairs.

"Dae Hyun, what did you bring your clothes for? Are you going out of town again?" Mrs. Park asked while narrowing her eyes.

"I'll just stay at the hotel, Mom," Dae Hyun said while looking for Soo Yin, who was not there. It turned out that his uncle and aunt were also out of sight.

"Are you having a problem with Aeri?" Mrs. Park asked, who was suspicious, seemed like something was wrong between them.

"Where are Soo Yin, uncle and aunt?" Dae Hyun said without answering his mother's question.

"They have come home because there is a need. Soo Yin has also been escorted by Park Soo Hyun to her rented house," Mrs. Park said.

Hearing that Soo Yin had left with Park Soo Hyun, Dae Hyun immediately rushed to his car to catch up with them before they got too far.
