

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 20 - 20 - Jealous

Dae Hyun was trying to call Soo Yin's number all night, but it was still inactive.

Dae Hyun even skipped breakfast with Jo Yeon Ho in the morning, even though his son nagged to have breakfast together.

Dae Hyun wanted to stay with his son, but he was anxious about Soo Yin's situation at the same time.

After getting ready, he immediately rushed to Pyeongchang-dong.

Dae Hyun saw Soo Yin was standing on the side of the road waiting for a taxi right before he reached the villa's gate.

He then chose to turn around to approach Soo Yin.

Soo Yin pretended not to see his car. She continued walking while looking at her watch.

Seeing the girl didn't stop even after honking a few honks, Dae Hyun stopped his car right in front of Soo Yin, trying to block her steps.

Dae Hyun hurried out of the car and immediately hugged Soo Yin's body.

Last night, he intended to return to Pyeongchang-dong but was afraid that Aeri would suspect him, especially at midnight.

It turned out that Jo Yeon Ho woke up and looked for him.

Soo Yin tried to break Dae Hyun's embrace. She struggled with all her might, but Dae Hyun didn't let her go.

He was relieved that Soo Yin was fine.

"Dae Hyun, get off my body!" Soo Yin shouted.

"You know, I was worried about you," Said Dae Hyun softly.

Soo Yin was silent when she heard Dae Hyun's words. But she then realised and didn't believe him.

Soo Yin still thought that Dae Hyun had fun with another woman last night. She tried to push Dae Hyun's body.

"Come on, let's go together!" Dae Hyun slowly released his hug as Soo Yin kept pushing him.

"I've ordered a taxi," Said Soo Yin flatly as she tidied up her clothes.

Shortly after, the taxi pulled up right behind them. Soo Yin turned to the taxi, but Dae Hyun grabbed her wrist.

"Soo Yin," Said Dae Hyun softly.

"Don't you see the taxi is waiting for me?" Said Soo Yin as she tried to let her wrist go.

Dae Hyun walked ahead towards the taxi. He gave some bills then told the driver to immediately leave.

"What are you telling him to leave for?!" Soo Yin shouted irritably.

"Never mind, come on in!" Said Dae Hyun, slowly pushed Soo Yin's body into the front passenger seat.

Along the way, Soo Yin turned her face to the side. She felt her emotions would explode every time she saw Dae Hyun.

"Why was your number inactive?" Dae Hyun asked, opening a conversation.

"Just ask Manager Han!" Said So Yin while rolling her eyeballs.

"What do you mean? Why does it have to do with Han?" Dae Hyun asked while frowning at his forehead.

"My phone fell off the fifth floor because Manager Han surprised me" Said Soo Yin while snorting.

"I'll buy you a new one later," Said Dae Hyun.

"No need, I'll buy it later after the payday," Said Soo Yin flatly.

"Just give it to your other lover!" Soo Yin continued in a satirical tone.

"I took my son last night. He wanted to sleep with me," Said Dae Hyun while looking at Soo Yin's face.

"Whatever! I don't care." Soo Yin straightened her seat while biting her index fingernail.

"I didn't do anything with Aeri. I slept in my son's room all night," Dae Hyun explained.

"It's none of my business." Soo Yin turned to look at Dae Hyun. They stared at each other for a few moments.

There were no lies in Dae Hyun's eyes.

Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun in jealousy.

"Are you jealous?" Dae Hyun asked with a crooked smile.

"Jealous? It's Impossible to be jealous of a player like you!" Said Soo Yin in a fiery tone.

"If you're not jealous, why on earth did you scream like that?" Said Dae Hyun, teasing.

Soo Yin was silent to hear Dae Hyun's words, trying to ponder it.

She didn't admit that she was jealous. She was just angry because the man was always lying and playing with women's feelings.

"Drop me off here!" Said Soo Yin. She asked to get off the car to change to a taxi as usual.

"Let's go eat this weekend!" Dae Hyun asked as he slowly stopped his car.

"No, I will go to the movies with my friends," Said Soo Yin as she took off her seat belt.

She then immediately walked out without even spare a passing glance at Dae Hyun again.
