

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 241 - 241 - Don't Run

Jean looked up at the two men in front of her. The look in their eyes looked very scary, making Jean's body tremble. She had a bad feeling about this.

The two big, sturdy men narrowed their eyes when they looked at Jean. Like two hungry wolves.

Jean reflexively shifted backward, her body was now completely trembling until cold sweat poured out of her body.

"Who ... who are you?" Jean asked, slightly stammered. Tried to be brave and hoped that they were good men who were just making fun of her.

The two men looked at each other.

"You don't need to know who we are," said one of them with a sly grin.

Seeing his terrifying expression made Jean even more terrified. Jean tried to be calm and not nervous so she could run away now.

"Is she really the girl?" asked the one with long hair..

The short-haired man checked his cellphone then looked at Jean and his cellphone in turn. As if he was observing something.

Jean took the opportunity to stand up and then immediately ran with the strength of a thousand steps.

"Hey, don't run away!"

"God damn it!"

Jean continued to run with all her might. As much as possible to stay away from the pursuit of the two men who were chasing her. Her breath now felt heavy and gasping. Her stomach that had not been filled made her felt weak faster. Jean patted her forehead for forgetting to eat dinner. Although after working hours, she intended to have dinner first.

Unfortunately, her fate was bad. With a rush of breath, Jean kept trying to run with the remaining strength.

"Do not run!"

Apparently the two men didn't give up at all, so they continued to chase after Jean. They exchanged glances for a while before finally breaking up to pursue Jean.

Jean ran while looking back occasionally. Made sure the two men were out of reach.

Immediately, Jean stopped running when in front of her there was a man who had been on his hips. Jean immediately turned back hoping to run again but unfortunately there was a man there too. Now Jean felt surrounded and had nowhere else to go.

"Help! help!" Jean shouted with all her might so that her voice sounded loud enough.

"It's lonely in here, no one will help you," the man said, whilst raising one lip upward.

"What do you really want?" Jean took out a small penknife from her pocket. This was the weapon she accidentally found on the table. It looked like it belonged to one of the visitors who was accidentally left it behind.

"We want you to come with us," said the short-haired man while narrowing his eyes.

"Hurry up and you go right now!" Jean shouted, while pointing the knife at them.

"Or I'll kill you one by one," Jean threatened with a trembling body.

"Ha ha ha." The laughter of one of them echoed out in a very quiet street. Jean even shivered with fear at the sound of it.

"You think that knife can kill us," the long-haired man said, while pulling one lip up.

"We don't have time to play with a little rabbit like her. Let's catch her now," said the short-haired man. With quick strides, he was right in front of Jean.

Jean's hand was immediately held back by the long-haired man who was right behind her.

"Poor little rabbit," sneered the man, while pushing Jean forward.

"Let me go!" Jean shouted, trying to get her wrists off.

"Hurry up and walk before we hurt you!" the man said in a cold tone that was enough to make the hair on Jean's neck stood up.

'Jean, you can't be afraid. Be a strong woman,' Jean said while catching her breath and continuing to step on her feet. Convinced herself so she could fight the two bad men. At this time she only thought of her mother who was still in the hospital. Surely right now she was waiting for her to come.

Remembering her mother who was worried about her, with all her might Jean tried to step on the feet of the man who was gripping her hands and finally succeeded.

"Damn girl, catch her and teach her a lesson to give up!" the long-haired man said angrily.

Jean immediately ran even faster in any direction, what was the most important was to get away from the two men. But it turned out that Jean was running in the wrong direction because she was actually running towards the old factory that she had been passing by earlier. Jean didn't understand why did she running into such a scary place.

The eerie air immediately hit the hair on her neck. Jean continued to take her steps by trying hard to get rid of her fear. The situation was getting tense because only a faint light that shone on the old factory.

Jean wanted to turn around, but the sound of footsteps running towards her made Jean run even faster with the sweat ran down her forehead.

She must be able to hide if she wanted to meet her mother.

Brakk...

The situation was only dimly visible, making Jean not see clearly if there was a large wooden block in front of her that was blocking her steps. Instantly Jean's body collapsed to the ground quite hard. Made pain in the abdominal area as she fell on her stomach.

Jean immediately rounded her eyes when she saw a light shone on her. She immediately turned and covered her eyes because of the glare. Realizing that it was a danger, Jean tried to get up, but when she took a step, her feet could not support her weight. Looked like her right leg was sprained.

Jean tried hard to convince herself to try to escape. With tears slowly flowing from the corners of her eyes, Jean dragged her feet while enduring the excruciating pain in her ankles. She felt like she couldn't stand it until Jean's body fell to the ground again.

This made it easier for the two men to find Jean.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 242 - 242 - Help!

"What a pain!" the long-haired man cursed. Very roughly he grabbed Jean's hair so that her head was pulled back.

"Arghhhh!" Jean shouted very loudly. She tried to get the man's stocky hands out of her hair but it didn't work because the man immediately grabbed her hands behind her.

Slap! ....

"That's the result because you've exhausted our patience!" said the man with the cropped hair who slapped Jean's cheek so hard that there was a drop of blood on the corner of her lips.

The head that felt sore from her hair that was pulled by the long-haired man still hurt a lot. Now coupled with a very hard slap on the cheek that made Jean's head felt heavy.

Plaque....

Jean's the other cheek got slapped again until it really made her feel dizzy. Jean's body felt like collapsing to the ground.

"Come on, take her there," the long-haired man said while pointing with his index finger.

Jean's body was violently pushed forward to walk. Jean now felt a lot of pain in her leg because she was forced to walk following the two men. Still with the position of the hands blocked behind. Her body was no longer able to rebel because she was exhausted.

Jean was only able to surrender when her body was pushed to the floor so hard that her head hit the wood. With trembling hands, Jean felt something that flowed on her forehead, it turned out that it was fresh blood that was coming out of her head.

"Sir, please let me go. If you want money, I don't have anything," Jean said as she looked hopefully at the two men in front of her to let her go.

"We don't need your money. There are already people who pay us as long as we can catch you," said the short-haired man while narrowing his eyes. He crouched down and then grabbed Jean's chin before finally throwing her so hard. The man immediately stood back up and then adjusted his clothes.

"Sir, actually what is my fault for you to arrest me?" Jean asked while looking up. Her messy hair covered part of her wet face. Sweat and blood flowed together.

"Your fault is only one because you've become a cheap woman!" the long-haired man sneered as he chuckled irritably.

"Now tie her up!" the short-haired man ordered to his friend.

"Let go of me, sir. Please let me go out of here." Jean continued to plead with tears streaming down her cheeks.

The two men didn't listen to Jean, who kept on pleading. They were like merciless robots. The generous payoff had blinded them.

Jean was seated roughly on a wooden chair until her back hit the back of the chair, which was pretty hard. Her hands were tied very tightly on both sides. Even her legs were tied.

"Help! help!" Even though Jean knew that the old factory was uninhabited and no one else can hear her, Jean hoped that some miracle will arise.

"Noisy!" cursed the short-haired man. He then fumbled around his pants pocket to find something but he found nothing. So that he very strongly tore the clothes that Jean was wearing.

"Arghh!" Jean shouted because the part of her chest was now slightly open.

The torn shirt was used by the man with the cropped hair to tie Jean's mouth so that she was not noisy.

Jean shouted but her voice couldn't even be heard so she stopped her roar. Now only the tears were running down her cheeks even harder.

'God, help me,' Jean said to herself. She lamented her fate like that and was always unlucky.

The long-haired man then reached into his cellphone from his pants pocket. He intended to contact someone who had told him to do all that. Now was the time to ask for her opinion of what to do.

"We've got her," he said with the cell phone on his ear.

"Fine, do it."

That was all that Jean's ears could faintly hear. Looked like the man contacted someone who had ordered him. Jean did not understand why anyone would want to hurt her. She remembered that she never did anything to offend other people. All this time she tried to be nice to anyone.

Now there wasn't much Jean was doing in this tight-knit state. She can't even shout. One thing she was thinking about right now that she was afraid that her mother would worry about her. Hopefully her mother's condition wouldn't drop.

The two men walked back to Jean with a sharp glare while looking at her. The situation were not too dark because they installed flashlights that were sufficient to provide light for a building that was cluttered because it was uninhabited.

"Let her speak."

The long-haired man immediately untied the cloth that covered Jean's mouth.

So that Jean immediately moved her lips. It was very painful because they tied her tightly.

"Please get me out of here!" Jean shouted hoarsely. Didn't care about her voice that sounded hoarse.

"Do you know this man?" the man with cropped hair asked while showing a photo of a man. Didn't care about the roar that Jean made.

Jean immediately widened her eyes when she recognized the handsome face from Park Soo Hyun in the photo, so Jean subconsciously nodded her head. A face that already vibrated her heart. Jean wondered why they showed her the photo of the man.

"Don't you dare come near him again!"

"Actually, who are you? Get off me!" Jean shouted again.

In accordance with the orders of someone who had told him to teach the girl a lesson. The long-haired man took off his waist belt.

"Sir, please let me go," Jean said in a softer voice because the two men didn't want to hear her with a louder voice. Jean was so scared that they would do something to harass her because the long-haired man had managed to untie his waist belt while walking closer.

His sly grin looked really creepy coupled with his big hands that tattooed on his body.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

"Arghhhh!" Jean screamed very loudly as her back hurt so badly.

The long-haired man stabbed Jean's body using his waist belt several times. Making Jean's body really felt like she was crushed. Every part of her body were stinging and hot.

After doing it several times the man stopped it because it seemed like he was teaching the girl a lesson.

"Now show her the photo again."

The short-haired man immediately placed his cell phone screen right in front of Jean's face, which had almost lost consciousness. Jean's body trembled even more when she saw her best friend's beautiful face plastered on the man's cell phone screen.

"If you want us to let you go. Call this girl right now, send her here!" the man with the cropped hair snapped right in front of Jean's face.

Jean immediately shook her head quickly. She felt suspicious if they intended to do something to Soo Yin too. Better to die in that place than to sacrifice her best friend. Even though Jean still had feelings of annoyance, Jean won't want to contact her. However, Jean missed Soo Yin a lot, too.

"Give me your cell phone." The man forcibly reached into the cell phone that was in Jean's bag.

"Do not!" Jean said but the man didn't want to listen to her at all. In fact, he had already checked the name of the contact who he knew if her name was Soo Yin. He quickly contacted her immediately.

"Speak up, tell her to come here!"

Jean prayed that Soo Yin's cell phone number was off. However, her prayer was not answered because it was not after a while that a voice was connected.

"Hi Jean, you finally contacted me." A voice that was so cheerful was immediately heard. It was Soo Yin's voice that sounded very happy.

Jean closed her mouth tightly even though the two men had already given the code for Jean to speak by pulling her hair back. Jean remained silent and kept trying not to make any sound when one of them grabbed her shoulders very hard.

The short-haired man then turned off the telephone connection. Even though Soo Yin's voice was still talking.

"Talk or you want something to happen to your mother!"

Hearing them threatened her through her mother, Jean tried hard not to believe their words. Her mother was currently in the hospital so nothing will happen.

"I won't do it!" Jean said boldly.

"Fine if you don't want to do it."

The short-haired man put his cell phone screen back in front of Jean's face again. Her eyes immediately bulged when she saw the video.

In the video, it appeared that someone had entered a hospital. The masked man entered the room where there was Jean's mother who was lying weakly while closing her eyes.

"If you don't want to, then your mother will die right now," the man with cropped hair said while grabbing Jean's chin.

"Sir, please don't hurt my mother. I will do whatever you want but please don't hurt my mother," Jean said between sobs when she saw the contents of the video which showed a masked man about to remove the breathing apparatus that was attached to her mother's nose.

"Do not!" Jean shouted with her eyes wide open. She cannot lose her mother.

"Then talk to that girl to come to this place. Tell her to come alone!"

Jean finally nodded her head this time. It was difficult for her to choose between her mother and her best friend.

The man switched off the video call that was going on with someone then switched on Jean's cell phone to call Soo Yin.

In a different place

Soo Yin just walked out of the supermarket while carrying two plastic bags in her hands. Tonight she was shopping for snacks to stock up at home. Did not forget to buy chocolate ice cream.

With a cheerful face, Soo Yin was looking for a suitable place to enjoy the two cups of chocolate ice cream that she has bought. Until her gaze fixed on a chair that was located not too far from where she was currently standing. There it was very fitting because the place was far from the crowd so that Soo Yin can calmly enjoy the ice cream.

Derttt... derrtt... derrtt....

Just taking a step, Soo Yin felt her cell phone vibrate, which was in the pocket of her pants. First she put the plastic bag on the street. Her face was immediately happy when she saw the name that was printed there.

"Jean?" Soo Yin muttered as she immediately pressed the answer button. She wanted to feel like jumping for joy if she didn't remember that she was being in a crowded place.

"Hi Jean, finally you contacted me," Soo Yin said, greeting first. She was too happy that her friend finally wanted to contact her first, even though a few days ago she had contacted her but she was not active.

Soo Yin stopped her words while waiting for Jean to say something. However, there was silence on the phone, only a noise that was not clear.

"Jean?" Soo Yin called because Jean didn't say anything.

Soo Yin looked at her cellphone screen because the phone line suddenly dropped. All of that was quite confusing for Soo Yin.

"What's the matter with Jean?" Soo Yin muttered as she put her cell phone back to her pocket. Once at the house, Soo Yin intended to contact Jean again.

Soo Yin brought the plastic bag back. Thought that maybe Jean squeezed it wrong or maybe just didn't want to talk to her yet. She continued her steps towards the bench not far from where she was standing.

It felt strange to eat ice cream at night coupled with the very cold weather. However, Soo Yin was unable to hold back her desires. Although enjoyed it at night, it still felt good on her tongue. Really lived up to her imagination.

Chapter 244 - 244 - Looking For Jean

Soo Yin had finished one cup of medium size of ice cream. The corners of her lips were smudged just like a child.

"Honey, how does it taste?" Soo Yin said while rubbing her stomach which had begun to look bigger. Now the womb had been running for three months.

Derrttt... derrttt... derrttt....

While enjoying the second cup, suddenly her cell phone vibrated again. Very quickly Soo Yin had reached it from her pants pocket. Maybe her husband called her.

"Jean?" Soo Yin frowned when again her best friend's name was clearly displayed on the screen. Soo Yin let it be for a moment, afraid that Jean didn't say anything like earlier. However her cell phone kept on ringing so Soo Yin answered it.

This time Soo Yin was silent, waiting for Jean to speak first. Making sure that it really was Jean.

"Soo Yin, can you come see me?" Jean's voice sounded hoarse as if she had been crying.

"Jean, what's wrong with you?" Soo Yin asked while knitting her eyebrows. It felt really strange, why did Jean suddenly ask Soo Yin to meet her.

"Can we meet?"

From across the phone Soo Yin can hear Jean's sobbing voice.

"Of course, where are you now?" Soo Yin replied quickly.

"I... I'm now in an old factory not far from the city. Can you come here?" Jean's voice sounded like she was in pain.

"Jean, what happened to you?" Soo Yin asked with great worry.

"I can't explain it right now. Come here immediately," Jean said in a restrained sobbing voice.

"Jean? Jean?" It turned out that the telephone connection had been cut off. No matter how hard Soo Yin yelled, Jean won't be able to hear it anymore.

What a coincidence that currently Soo Yin was not far from the old factory that Jean said. With quick steps, Soo Yin rushed to her destination. She left the plastic bag on the chair.

Fifteen minutes of walking, Soo Yin finally arrived in front of the old building. A former textile factory which had been neglected for a long time. There was a scary story behind it that made Soo Yin's neck hair stand.

She stood for a long time as she mustered up her courage to enter. Already contacted Jean, but the call was not answered. Her feet felt very heavy when she was about to step in to enter. Plus Soo Yin who felt scared in a dark place.

"It's creepy," Soo Yin muttered with her body trembling a little. Since childhood, Soo Yin was really scared when she was in a dark place.

Soo Yin was about to turn around to leave but her cellphone rang again.

"Jean, where are you? I've been in front of the place you said but the place is very dark. I'm afraid to enter," Soo Yin said while rubbing the nape of her neck which felt goosebumps.

"I... I'm inside," Jean stuttered.

"Come here quickly if you don't want her to get hurt!" A male voice was heard across from the phone and then immediately hung up.

"Jean?" Soo Yin was getting more and more worried about her best friend's current condition. Looked like she needed someone else's help. Soo Yin immediately swiped the screen to find a name of the contact who can help her this time.

Having just shifted the screen of her cellphone, a hand immediately grabbed her cellphone until it fell. Soo Yin turned her head while glowering at the person who had dared to bother her.

"Why did you drop my cell phone?" Soo Yin grumbled as she bent her body to pick up her cellphone which was lying on the floor. Had not had time to take it, her hand immediately pulled to stand. Then gripped her wrists back.

"Let go!" Soo Yin shouted as she tried to let go of her hand. Tried to step on the man's feet too, her small feet's stomping was not much strength.

The man's face was not very visible because it was dark. He also silent without a word out of his lips. The man immediately pushed Soo Yin's body to walk.

"Help!" Soo Yin shouted while turning to the cold man behind her who was silent. His facial expression was flat like a robot.

"Are you deaf? Hurry and let me go!" Soo Yin snapped irritably.

"Shut up!" the man said in a cold tone that was so loud in Soo Yin's ears. His right hand was used to grab Soo Yin's wrist. While his left hand he used to cover Soo Yin's mouth who kept on screaming.

The man continued to push Soo Yin's body, leading her into a fairly dark building. Making Soo Yin even more frightened, but she can't scream for help because the man was holding her mouth too hard.

Bug ...

Soo Yin's body was thrown to the floor by the man until her stomach hit a block near her. Soo Yin felt pain in her stomach.

The man then closed the door very tightly then left her.

Soo Yin grimaced a little, she endured the pain that was still bearable.

"Hold on, honey," Soo Yin muttered as she rubbed her stomach.

"Soo Yin?" Jean said with her body still tied up so that she couldn't do anything to help her friend to stand up.

"Jean?" Soo Yin turned her head towards the place that was dimly visible. She thought she was alone in the room.

While enduring the pain in her stomach, Soo Yin tried to get up and walked over to Jean with limping steps.

"Jean, what really happened?" Soo Yin was so sorry to see how her best friend was now with a face covered in blood and tears. Her messy shoulder-length hair covered her face. Soo Yin tried to help to release her tied hands.

"Soo Yin, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have told you to come here." Jean immediately hugged Soo Yin's body as soon as her hands were free.

Now there was no time, they better ran away immediately because Jean knew if that guy was planning something bad on Soo Yin, that's why they hadn't appeared again.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 245 - 245 - Want To Kill You

There was the sound of the door opening, which made Soo Yin and Jean turned their heads. Three men came, each carrying something in their hands.

"You ...," Soo Yin said while widened her eyes when she saw one of the three men who had a bald head. Even though he was only vaguely visible, Soo Yin was sure that this man was the same person who kidnapped Jo Yeon Ho a few months ago. There's no way if Soo Yin forgot his face.

"I never thought we would meet again. I thought you were dead because you were shot at that time," said the bald man while narrowing his eyes at Soo Yin because he also still remembered the face of the girl who had tried to thwart his plan at that time.

The bald man had been looking for Soo Yin's whereabouts for revenge for a long time. Unexpectedly, when he was a little forgetful, he could meet at an accidental time.

They were a gang of criminals who were accustomed to killing their targets without mercy. They were used to being paid very dearly because they can erase traces so that whoever ordered them will not be exposed.

The bald man immediately walked over to Soo Yin.

With a trembling body, Soo Yin grabbed Jean's hand which was already cold. Soo Yin remembered how at that time she nearly lost her life after being shot. Luckily Dae Hyun came right away, otherwise ... Soo Yin shuddered in horror at the thought.

Soo Yin was afraid that this time she won't pass.

The man squatted right in front of Soo Yin while narrowing her eyes.

"Time for me to get revenge little girl," he whispered right in front of Soo Yin's face with one lip raised upwards. The man really hated anyone who dared to foil his plans.

"What do you really want?" Soo Yin said as she ventured to look at the men in turn.

"Don't ask too many questions!" the short-haired man snapped with a cold facial expression. He seemed to have started running out of patience because he wanted to quickly complete his task so that he could enjoy the results immediately.

With quick steps, he was now in front of Soo Yin then pulled her hand away from Jean. With all her strength Soo Yin kept holding Jean's hand so as not to get loose. But the man's pull was so strong.

"Soo Yin!" Jean cried, she was about to rise to her feet, but one of them had pushed her body until she fell.

"We take her to the next door!" The long-haired man ordered.

"Let me go!" No matter how hard she tried, Soo Yin was still a little girl who was still weak. Her strength would not be able to match theirs.

Only a few steps they had brought Soo Yin into a room that was so dark that Soo's body was pushed and fell to the ground in front of someone. Again, her stomach was now in pain.

There was someone who was standing there waiting for her a long time ago. He looked back briefly to look at Soo Yin before finally returning to normal.

Soo Yin couldn't see who was in front of her right now because he was facing the wall and wearing a black robe.

"Who are you?" Soo Yin asked.

The man remained unfazed, he then raised his hand to give the order. Looked like he was the boss among the criminals earlier.

The two men immediately returned to hold Soo Yin's hand. Then forced Soo Yin to walk, they tied Soo Yin's two hands to a hanging rope.

"You coward! Don't you only dare to a girl!" cursed Soo Yin boldly.

The person in the robe seemed to be moving his hands upwards without a word being spoken.

As if getting orders, the bald headed man who already looked impatient immediately approached Soo Yin while carrying something in his hand.

"Arghh!" Soo Yin shouted when something hit her back very hard. It was very painful for her.

"That's the result because you failed my plan before," said the bald man while slapping Soo Yin's cheek hard.

Soo Yin felt like her head was bobbing. Now there were fresh blood coming out from the corner of her lips.

Slap!....

"It's because you dared to slap our boss."

It felt like Soo Yin couldn't stand up again. The slap of a large man could be a hundred times stronger than the slap of her little hand.

"Manager Han?" In the midst of feeling the pain, Soo Yin tried to guess the person in front of her. She remembered that a few days ago she had slapped him so it could be that he was currently taking revenge.

"Do we have to do it right now?" the short-haired man asked, who had been very ambitious to finish his job. He then took out a gun from his waist.

Instantly Soo Yin's eyes widened seeing the man pointing a gun at her. Cold sweat started pouring from her forehead.

"What would you do?" Soo Yin asked as she tried to untie her hands from the ties. She shook her head slowly. She didn't want to leave this world yet. She still had a lot of things to do with Dae Hyun.

"Of course to kill you," the man said with a snort.

"Actually, what's my fault that you want to kill me?" Soo Yin said with trembling lips. In her heart, Soo Yin cursed her fate as being a weak girl.

"No! Please don't hurt her!" Jean shouted. With limping steps Jean tried to follow them. When she saw that they were about to kill Soo Yin, with all her might Jean dragged her feet into the room.

"Well it looks like you two want to die together." The short-haired man immediately put his gun on Jean's head.

Jean fell to her knees with her current body condition that no longer able to fight back. All she can do was get their attention so Soo Yin can escape.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 246 - 246 - Honey, I'm Sorry

After trying hard enough, Soo Yin finally managed to let go of her wrist. Looked like they were caught off guard because of Jean's arrival. She had to think of a way to distract them from hurting Jean.

Soo Yin looked back, lucky that there was a door. She couldn't leave her best friend in there alone. Especially having to watch Jean get shot.

"Hey, chase me!" Soo Yin exclaimed then ran through the door behind her. Even though her head felt very heavy and wobbled, Soo Yin tried to gather all her strength to run.

The three men who were focused on torturing Jean were immediately distracted.

"Your job is to kill her. Not to take care of that girl!" Furiously the man in the robe finally let out of his voice. Very angry because his men were taking care of a girl who was not important at all. They can fail to earn money if they didn't succeed in executing Soo Yin. He was indeed the leader of the criminals who was assigned to kill Soo Yin.

The three of his men immediately chase after Soo Yin.

Soo Yin held her aching stomach. With limping steps, his legs continued to run so he could get away from the criminals. Hoped that nothing happened to Jean. If this was all her life, Soo Yin only hoped to save her best friend. Let all her dreams be buried.

The long-haired man had been tired from playing romp. With the strength he had, he immediately lunged at Soo Yin's body from behind, made Soo Yin fell to the ground.

The two men quickly grabbed Soo Yin's wrists and then pulled her body up to her feet.

Bug ...

A kick landed right on Soo Yin's stomach until she felt something throbbing violently. Too much pain made her voice unable to scream. She just winced with tears coming out of the corners of her eyes. Her stomach churned so much.

Repeatedly they beat Soo Yin's small body alternately with the robed man who was in charge of recording the video. It was for proof that they have done their job right. After they succeeded in killing Soo Yin, they would hide abroad.

Even though Jean's body felt crushed but she seemed to have a little strength to look for Soo Yin's whereabouts. She didn't want anything to happen to her friend. Not far away, she heard a woman's voice even though it only could be heard faintly.

Jean immediately dragged her feet into the open area. Her eyes widened when she saw Soo Yin's current condition with a state that no longer had the strength. Her head was drooping in resignation, if there weren't two men who was holding her hand, she would have fallen to the ground. The criminals continued to beat Soo Yin's body blindly.

The criminals released Soo Yin's body after she was impossible to escape.

The man in the robe immediately took out a gun then pointed it right at Soo Yin's head.

Soo Yin just gave up at this time.

"Honey, I'm sorry. I can't take care of our child and you anymore," Soo Yin whispered amidst the intense pain all over her body.

She also looked at Jean for a moment with a smile. Soo Yin realized that the man was getting ready to pull the trigger.

Dorrr... dorrr... dorrr....

A gunshot echoed through the air. Soo Yin closed her eyes, prepared that she might now leave Dae Hyun forever.

But Soo Yin did not feel any bullets streaking through her body. Slowly she raised her head. A man fell to the floor right before her eyes.

"How dare you!" Chang Yuan shouted who had just came along with his men.

They shoot at each other and fought. Chang Yuan took them a little away from the place because he was afraid that something might happened to Soo Yin. He had to divert them then taking care of Soo Yin.

Jean dragged her feet closer to Soo Yin with tears running down her cheeks.

With a blurry vision Soo Yin smiled seeing a limping Jean walked towards her. Soo Yin's body now didn't feel anything. All the pain mixed into one at this time.

"Jean, I'm sorry," Soo Yin said softly with haggard eyes. Her face was full of bruises. Her hands reached out to embrace Jean's body. But her body was too weak to wake up.

"Soo Yin, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have brought you here," said Jean while helping Soo Yin to sit down. She continued to cry seeing her friend's current condition.

"Jean, I'm sorry. I don't have any relationship with Mr. Park Soo Hyun," said Soo Yin with trembling lips.

"I'm not mad at you, I just want to be alone," Jean said. Her tears broke out immediately while hugging Soo Yin's body very tightly.

"Actually I... I.... Arghhhh!" Soo Yin screamed when she felt her stomach. Her hands were released from Jean's body and then she held her stomach.

Soo Yin's stomach churned, the pain immediately filled her nerves.

"Soo Yin, what's wrong with you?" Jean was panicked. Her eyes widened when she saw that there were blood stain on Soo Yin's pants.

"Jean, if I can't open my eyes again, tell my husband that I really love him," Soo Yin said with a fading consciousness and her vision was blurred. Until everything seemed dark, there was nothing in her eyes.

"Soo Yin, wake up!" Jean shouted while shaking Soo Yin's body which was already limp on her lap.

Chang Yuan who had just finished his business with the criminals and now success on caught them. For the boss, he died on the spot because he put a gun right on his head.

"Miss," he said as he crouched down, trying to wake Soo Yin but she still didn't open her eyes.

"Now let's go to the hospital," Chang Yuan said to Jean then immediately carried Soo Yin's body. It seemed that now there was no time.

Blood splattered from Soo Yin's pants as long as Chang Yuan ran. Jean, who could not walk quickly, was helped by Chang Yuan's men to get into the car.

Chang Yuan lied Soo Yin's body on the back seat. Hurriedly got behind the wheel. Meanwhile, Jean was still unmoved where she stood.

"Jean, hurry in. Stay with Miss Soo Yin at the backseat," Chang Yuan said as he lowered the windshield of his car.

Jean's mind felt blank at this moment. Can't digest all that happened yet. The incident that had just happened was like a nightmare and she wanted to wake up from her sleep. But Chang Yuan's voice immediately awakened her, so she immediately got into the car and then put Soo Yin's head on her lap.

Chang Yuan immediately drove the car at full speed considering Soo Yin's condition that was quite severe. He was worried if Soo Yin was miscarriage. Even though he didn't really understand, Chang Yuan could understand a little about all of it. His worries grew because he just realized that his hands were covered in blood.

Chang Yuan's eyes continued to look forward to focus on breaking through the night streets. His other hand was used to attach earphones to his ears. Now he had to get in touch with Dae Hyun before it was too late.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 247 - 247 - Hospital

Pyongyang Maternity Hospital.

After half an hour of driving, Chang Yuan finally managed to park his car in the hospital yard. Because they arrived at midnight, the hospital was quite quiet. Only a few nurses were on duty.

Chang Yuan immediately got out of his car, he swiftly lifted Soo Yin's body, who was in the back seat with Jean.

Dae Hyun had previously contacted Doctor Mi Young for the first treatment so that when they arrived the nurses were ready in front.

The nurses immediately pushed the gurney towards Chang Yuan. Slowly they helped Chang Yuan to lie Soo Yin's limp body down.

With a limp step, Jean immediately got out of the car. Tears incessantly flowed down from her cheeks. She was still confused about what Soo Yin actually meant by saying the word 'my husband'. Right now she was really a shock that her brain couldn't digest what was happening.

Chang Yuan, who had escorted Soo Yin to the operating room with the nurses, immediately turned around to see Jean's condition because she also needed medical attention.

"Assistant Chang!" Jean called when the man seemed to be looking for something by repeatedly turning his gaze around.

With wide strides, Chang Yuan immediately walked over to Jean. Then asked the nurse to bring a wheelchair for her.

"Assistant Chang, how is Soo Yin?" Jean said with deep worry.

"Calm down, I hope Miss Soo Yin is fine. Now you should be treated because your body is injured too," Chang Yuan said. His heart was so pity because tonight he had to witness two innocent girls nearly killed. It was fortunate that he had arrived on time, if only a little late, Chang Yuan could not imagine what would happen next.

Jean shook her head. What she was worried about right now was her best friend's condition. For her, everything she experienced did not mean anything. The most important thing was that her best friend could be saved.

"Jean, you also need to be taken care of," Chang Yuan said softly.

Currently there were two nurses who have brought wheelchairs and they wanted to treat Jean but Jean still insisted on refusing because she didn't care about her current body's condition.

Even though Pyongyang Hospital was a maternity hospital, they also provided a general practitioner there so that not only pregnant people who visited there.

"Assistant Chang, actually why is Soo Yin bleeding?" Jean asked.

"Actually, Miss Soo Yin is pregnant," Chang Yuan said while sighing softly.

"What?" Jean froze where she stood. Her mind swayed and confused at that one sentence which immediately made her blood sizzle.

How could Soo Yin be pregnant? Who was her husband? So many questions were now on Jean's mind. However to ask Chang Yuan any further, her lips seemed to be locked.

The rancid smell of fresh blood penetrated his sense of smell. Chang Yuan forgot that he hadn't washed his hands because he was busy looking for Jean.

"Jean, I'll go to the bathroom first. Come with the nurse," Chang Yuan said, while looking at Jean who was still stunned and her eyes looked blank.

Jean nodded slowly with tightly pressed lips. She almost fell to the floor if the nurses weren't ready to support her. They immediately took her to the room so that Jean immediately got treatment.

With swift steps, Chang Yuan immediately went to the bathroom. There were deep worries at this time. When the boss came home, he was ready with all the possibilities that will happen.

As soon as he heard from Chang Yuan about Soo Yin's situation, Dae Hyun immediately made his way back to Seoul. Fortunately, the distance from Nami Island to Seoul was not that far, so it can be reached in just a few hours.

Dae Hyun stepped half running when he arrived at the hospital. He can't wait to know the condition of his little wife, who was currently still in the operating room. Hopefully nothing that endanger her life happened.

Chang Yuan was sitting while covering his face with both hands. Tired and anxious at this time mixed into one. Currently he was in front of the operating room, still waiting for the doctor who was treating Soo Yin. She had been in there for quite a while but it was not over yet.

"Assistant Chang, how is Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun asked while panting breathlessly.

Chang Yuan immediately got up and then looked up at his boss with a wistful gaze and sad face.

"Miss ... Miss ... still inside, Sir. Doctor Mi Young is trying to save her," Chang Yuan said with his head bowed back.

"Tell me who did all that to my wife?" Dae Hyun asked in a cold tone. He almost grabbed Chang Yuan by the collar with his outstretched hand, but Dae Hyun tried to keep his emotions under control.

"We've caught them, sir," Chang Yuan said. Chang Yuan was prepared that Dae Hyun would take all his anger out on him.

"Now go watch them, don't let them escape. I will make calculations to them because they dared to harm my wife," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone.

"Yes, sir," Chang Yuan said as he bowed his body and then immediately left the hospital.

Dae Hyun had deliberately sent Chang Yuan away before becoming the target of his current anger. Upset, of course at this point Dae Hyun wanted to tear apart the people who had dared to harm his little wife.

Actually, Dae Hyun also wanted to beat the criminal with his own hands right now, but for now it was impossible to leave Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun punched the wall so hard it made a sound. Regret was something he currently felt. He shouldn't have left when Soo Yin asked him to stay. Even if he still go, he should have brought Soo Yin with him at that time.

He vowed to take revenge on anyone who had harmed Soo Yin.

"Sir, how is Miss Soo Yin?" Aunt Xia just arrived after getting news that something bad happened to Soo Yin. No wonder she had a very uneasy feeling when Soo Yin said goodbye to leave.

"She's still in there," Dae Hyun said softly with wistful eyes. How can he not worry if Soo Yin had been inside for almost two hours but hadn't come out yet.

Dae Hyun must felt for the second time that Soo Yin was in such a critical state. Dae Hyun became even more guilty, thought that Soo Yin was like this because she was around him. If Soo Yin didn't marry him, there would be no way to experience those painful things.

"Forgive Aunt, sir. Auntie should have insisted on forbidding her to go," Aunt Xia said while sobbing.

"It's not your fault, if only I didn't go, maybe now she would be fine," Dae Hyun said bitterly and in such a sad voice.

"I also apologize for not being able to look after Miss, sir." Chung Ho was the person who was the most scared right now. He should have followed Soo Yin when she left.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 248 - 248 - Miscarriage

Dae Hyun sighed softly. Right now there were no one to blame because everything had happened. The one who had to take responsibility right now was the person who hurted Soo Yin.

"Don't blame yourself, we better pray that Soo Yin is fine," Dae Hyun said, while looking at the door, which hadn't been open since earlier.

"Yes, sir," Aunt Xia said, while wiping her tears.

Dae Hyun kept pacing back and forth right in front of the operating room door. Since coming to the hospital, he hadn't sat his butt on the chair for a second. His mind was not calm before knowing the condition of his wife and future children.

There was a sound of a door creaking. Making Dae Hyun immediately turned his head towards the door with a pounding heart. He immediately walked toward the door.

Doctor Mi Young came out while opening the door wide.

"Mi Young, how is my wife right now?" Dae Hyun asked, who couldn't wait to find out about his little wife's situation.

Doctor Mi Young didn't answer right away. She wiped her sweaty face with a tissue. Then she looked at the man who had been in her heart. Mi Young's lips were very heavy when she was about to speak.

"Mi Young, quickly tell me how my wife is?" Dae Hyun shook Mi Young's shoulders to quickly answer his question.

Mi Young took a deep breath first. Seeing the man in front of her who looked really worried really made her very jealous. If time could repeat itself, she wanted to go back to how it used to be. But unfortunately all of that was just a dream for her.

"Your wife is fine, but..." Mi Young really can't tell the bad news.

"But what?" Dae Hyun asked in a rising voice.

"But the fetus in her womb can't be saved," Mi Young said softly as she lowered her head. Without realizing it, there were clear droplets falling from her eyelids.

Mi Young remembered Soo Yin's face, which shone brightly when she found out about her pregnancy. Really can't imagine if Soo Yin knew that the fetus she was carrying couldn't be saved.

"What do you mean?" Dae Hyun grabbed Mi Young's shoulder hard, making Mi Young moaned in pain. He could not believe what he heard.

"Your wife had a miscarriage," Mi Young said softly as she held Dae Hyun's firm grip.

It was like being struck by lightning in the daytime, that was what Dae Hyun felt right now. The world seemed to collapse at once hearing Mi Young's statement. His body was limp and wanted to collapse to the floor.

Dae Hyun slowly removed his hand from Mi Young's shoulder. His mind at this time felt empty, making him almost stagger but swiftly he used the other hand to hold on to the wall as his muscles felt weak. He closed his eyes for a moment to be stronger even though from the corner of his eye, there was now water that had stagnated.

"I'm sorry, Dae Hyun. I couldn't save it because it was too late. She was bleeding when she arrived at the hospital. Luckily, your wife can still be saved because of the heavy bleeding ... that almost took her life," Mi Young said with a look of pity. She wanted to feel like embracing him right now to give him strength. But when her hand reached out, Mi Young pulled it back.

As a doctor, Mi Young also felt guilty if she can't save her patient. She felt like it was her responsibility.

"When will she wake up?" Dae Hyun asked, his eyes red and looked haggard.

"Hopefully it won't be long," Mi Young said. Her heart felt a deep sadness for the man in front of her. They had been together for a long time but Dae Hyun never seemed that sad. Even when they parted ways, Dae Hyun looked normal.

Dae Hyun nodded his head. He actually couldn't wait to see his little wife. However, the nurses had to first move her to the inpatient room.

"Dae Hyun, be patient." Mi Young patted Dae Hyun's shoulder lightly to give him a little strength. Then immediately stepped away because right now she needed to rest.

After all the medical equipment was installed on Soo Yin's body, finally Dae Hyun was allowed to enter.

It hurted, it really hurted Dae Hyun to see Soo Yin who was lying weakly on the bed. A breathing apparatus was attached to her nose. This was the second time Dae Hyun had seen Soo Yin's condition like this. With almost the same cause.

Soo Yin's face was pale with bruises almost all over her body. Her thin lips were injured, Dae Hyun could still see the dried blood stained there.

The stomach, which had been sticking out a bit, was now back to its original. Unconsciously a single tear flowed from the corner of Dae Hyun's eye. This time, Dae Hyun couldn't hold back his sadness anymore. If it was possible to ask, let him lie there to replace his little wife.

Dae Hyun sat on the chair next to his little wife's bed. He grabbed Soo Yin's long fingers as he lowered his head. Lament all his guilt which was mounting. But no matter how much regret that he felt, everything had happened.

Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's finger for a long time. Really he couldn't bear to look at Soo Yin who was like that.

"Honey, wake up. Don't worry me," Dae Hyun said softly as he put Soo Yin's finger on his lips. Then with his eyes closed, Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's forehead gently.

Check....

Suddenly the door to the room opened from outside.

Jean widened her eyes so that she almost fell over to see something she saw. It seemed like she dreamed of seeing her boss gripped her best friend's fingers then kissed her.

Her mind swayed knowing that. Her heart kept asking of what was the relationship between them. If it was just superior and subordinate, why did her boss kissed her. Didn't that feel very strange?

Jean had just been treated by a doctor, her condition was not too good but Jean insisted on seeing Soo Yin's condition first.

There was a bandage wrapped around Jean's head and she was currently using a stick to walk up to Soo Yin's room.

Dae Hyun didn't turn his head, still kissed on Soo Yin's fingers for a while.

With slow steps, because her ankle still hurt so much, Jean approached the bed that Soo Yin occupied.

"Sir?" Jean called softly. Her body trembled as she wondered if there was a special relationship between her best friend and her boss.

Hearing someone called his name, Dae Hyun turned his head towards Jean with a wistful gaze, his face was now expressionless. He still didn't release his grip from Soo Yin's hand. Let Jean know if there was a connection between himself and Soo Yin.

"How is Soo Yin?" Jean asked while looking at Soo Yin who still closed her eyes. Even though she already knew how she was, Jean just wanted to make sure her best friend was okay.

"As you can see," Dae Hyun said bitterly. His lips can't tell how Soo Yin's condition was right now.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 249 - 249 - I'm Her Husband

Jean sighed softly with guilt flowed through her blood.

"Actually, what is the relationship between you two?" The question immediately escaped Jean's lips. She couldn't help but ask the question that had been in her mind.

"I'm her husband," Dae Hyun said briefly, while glancing at Jean for a moment. Then his hand stretched out and stroked Soo Yin's hair very gently.

Jean felt that her hearing had a problem. There was no way Dae Hyun was the husband of her best friend while that man already had a wife. If they were married, why wasn't there a wedding ceremony for Soo Yin's family.

"Don't you already have a wife? How can Soo Yin marry you?" Jean asked. There was a sense of disrespect for her best friend who married a man who was married and their age seemed too far away.

"I've been married to Soo Yin for a long time. You shouldn't be surprised to hear that." Dae Hyun didn't answer Jean's question. He was reluctant to explain everything. Let Soo Yin to be the one who someday say it.

"I i ...." Jean was unable to continue her words. She was currently very scared because maybe she will get into trouble because she had made his boss's wife hurt.

Instantly Jean's body immediately slumped to the floor. She then sat on her knees next to Dae Hyun's feet. If it was true that Dae Hyun had married Soo Yin, now she can only surrender if Dae Hyun will hold her accountable for what she had done.

"Sir, I was the one who was guilty. I brought Soo Yin there," Jean said between sobs because of her guilt that had asked Soo Yin to come.

At first Dae Hyun was very angry when he heard this from Chang Yuan but blaming Jean was useless because it seemed that the girl was a victim.

"If you want to put me in prison or want to kill me I am ready, sir," Jean said, while lowering her head and then holding Dae Hyun's leg.

Dae Hyun let out a deep breath as he closed his eyes.

"Jean, get up."

"If I don't ask Soo Yin to come then she won't lose her fetus," Jean said while continuing to sob. She found out about this from a nurse if Soo Yin had a miscarriage.

"Get up," Dae Hyun said without being able to say anything to Jean. It seemed like he was dreaming because he had lost his future child, even though yesterday everything was still fine.

"Sir, I'm really sorry." Jean bursted into tears.

Dae Hyun was forced to get up from his seat and then bend over to help Jean to stand up. He clenched his fists tightly because he couldn't wait to make a calculation for the criminals.

"Jean, I'll leave Soo Yin for a while," Dae Hyun said in a soft tone so that Jean wouldn't feel scared anymore.

"Where are you going, sir?" Jean asked, who was now standing.

"I will take revenge on those who have hurt you two," Dae Hyun said. First, he kissed Soo Yin's forehead before stepping out.

Jean looked at Dae Hyun's back that slowly disappeared behind the door. She immediately sat down on the chair Dae Hyun had occupied because her leg felt hurt if she stood for too long.

Jean gripped Soo Yin's hand tightly with tears falling back down her cheeks. She deserved to be blamed right now.

"Soo Yin, I'm sorry." Jean regretted that she never trusted her best friend if she had no relationship with Park Soo Hyun. So that made her stay away even though she had repeatedly explained it.

"Why didn't you say anything if you were married?" She continued, whilst looking down.

"If you're going to hate me for the rest of your life, I'm willing," Jean said again. Really cursed her stupidity that did not believe in her own friend.

Auntie Xia just walked in because she went home first to get Soo Yin's clothes. She looked at Jean who was sobbing. Aunt Xia knew that the girl was Jean because several times Soo Yin told her about it.

Jean didn't realize that Aunt Xia was standing beside her at this time.

"Jean, you better go rest. Let aunt take care of Miss Soo Yin," Aunt Xia said. Seeing the condition of Jean who had a wound on her head made her feel sorry.

"Who are you, Aunt?" Jean asked as she turned her head towards the middle-aged woman.

"My name is Aunt Xia. I work at Mr. Dae Hyun and Miss Soo Yin's house. Go rest because your body doesn't seem good," Aunt Xia said once again.

"Auntie, is it true that Mr. Dae Hyun and Soo Yin are married?" Jean did not just believe what she heard. It was hard for her to believe all of these things because they happened suddenly.

"That's right, they are married. At first Miss Soo Yin hated Mr. Dae Hyun, but slowly, Master was able to melt her heart. Now, when she is almost happy, she has to lose her fetus," Aunt Xia said sadly as she looked at Soo Yin's face.

Jean was silent, no wonder Jean used to feel strange when suddenly Dae Hyun appointed Soo Yin as secretary. But Jean never thought that far.

"Auntie, what should I do now? I've made Soo Yin hurting." Jean raised her face with a clear grain pooling on her eyelids.

"Jean, calm down. It's not entirely your fault. Currently Mr. Dae Hyun is investigating the person who is responsible for this incident," Aunt Xia said, tried to calm Jean down. Even though the middle-aged woman also felt the same way as Jean felt.

"Jean, have you contacted your parents? Don't let them worry," Aunt Xia said, reminding that at this time Jean's parents must be desperate to find her.

"Mother?" Jean forgot if she hadn't contacted her mother. Surely right now she was worrying about her. But her cellphone had been lost and had been destroyed by the criminals.

"Auntie, I have to go right now. I have to go to the hospital to see my mother," Jean said as she stood up.

"Is your mother sick?" Aunt Xia asked.

Jean nodded her head. Thinking too much about Soo Yin's situation made Jean forgot her mother's current condition. She remembered again when she saw her mother's condition in the video.

"Auntie, can I borrow your cell phone?" Jean wanted to make sure that her mother was doing well. It was not possible to visit her mother if her condition was like this. This will make her mother shocked.

Aunt Xia immediately handed her cellphone to Jean.

Jean memorized the nurse's cell phone number that she used to call when she was busy. The frequent calls made her slowly remember the number and soon the line was connected.

Jean immediately asked about her mother's current condition. But the cellphone stuck to her ear immediately fell when she heard the words of the nurse who was talking on the phone.

Jean's body immediately limp and powerless. Her mind was empty that made her stagger. Slowly, Jean's body immediately collapsed to the floor.

"Jean, wake up!" Aunt Xia said as she shook Jean's unconscious body.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 250 - 250 - There Is No Mercy

Dae Hyun had now arrived at a secret place where the people who had hurt his little wife were held captive by his men. His steps were very rushed when he got out of the car with clenched fists. His cold eyes continued to look forward. He couldn't wait to teach the criminals a lesson.

"Sir," Chang Yuan said, who was at the door welcoming Dae Hyun.

Chang Yuan immediately took Dae Hyun to a basement. Indeed, they deliberately took them there so that the criminals could not escape. It was a secret place that no one else knew except for Dae Hyun's confidant who had been chosen by Chang Yuan.

From the outside it just looked like an ordinary house in general. However, after entering, there was a door that connected to the basement.

Dae Hyun used to come to that place often when he needed time alone. It never occurred to him that it could be used to lock up criminals.

The three criminals had their hands tied to the chain in a standing position. They immediately looked down in fear when they saw Dae Hyun coming.

Dae Hyun, who was impatient, immediately threw his fist at the bald man until his nose was bleeding.

"Please forgive us, sir," the bald man said, begging for release, while wincing in pain.

Bug....

"Asking for mercy? You three have even made my child die!" Dae Hyun shouted as he punched the bald man one more time until his mouth was bleeding.

Dae Hyun, who was known to be a friendly man, currently looked very creepy like a hungry lion without mercy on his prey. Remembering Soo Yin's situation that almost took her life made him lose his mind.

One by one, the criminals were battered. In fact, he almost shot them dead if Chang Yuan did not remind him to ask who was the person behind their evil plan. The thought of them blindly torturing Soo Yin made him lose his mind.

"Tell me who ordered you?" Dae Hyun asked with a fiery gaze. He looked at them alternately with sharp eyes.

Instead of answering, the three criminals looked at each other. Making Dae Hyun's blood rose back up. He took a deep breath, it was enough to beat them up.

"If they stay silent, shoot them to death right now," Dae Hyun said as he turned to walk away. It was just a bluff to get them cornered and say it all. There was no way they would suddenly harm Soo Yin if there was no one behind them.

"Do not!" the bald man shrieked tremblingly. He didn't want to die right now.

"We... we will tell you who paid us," he continued in a halting voice. Didn't want to die stupidly like their boss who got shot first.

Dae Hyun stopped in his steps as he raised a hand without turning his head. Give a signal to his men not to pull the trigger that were ready to pierce their heads at that moment.

"Say it!" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone, still with his back to them.

"Who paid us...." The man stopped his words.

"Shoot right now!" Dae Hyun who was standing right now was not Dae Hyun who can be played with easily.

"Mr. Han ... Han paid us," the short-haired man said quickly.

"Han?" Dae Hyun muttered as he turned to look at the criminals.

"Yes, sir," the short-haired man said.

"Where's the proof if he ordered you?" Dae Hyun asked as he put his hand in his pants pocket. He tried to be calm, didn't want to get the wrong target. But there was a point if Han did it because at that time Soo Yin had slapped him.

"We recorded the conversation, sir."

"Give me the tape!" Dae Hyun stepped to get closer.

"Let us go first, sir. Then we will give it to you," the long-haired man said.

Dae Hyun snorted as he raised one lip upward. They thought he could be so easy to be fooled by their nonsense. Dae Hyun did not believe what they said at all.

"Assistant Chang, shoot them right now after that you can release them!" Dae Hyun ordered as he glanced at Chang Yuan.

"Yes sir."

"Say if you still want to live, but if you already bored then it's up to you," Chang Yuan said while looking at the criminals.

"W ... well. The tape is in my pocket," the man with the cropped hair said.

Chang Yuan immediately walked over to the man and then checked all the pockets that attached to his clothes. It was true, there was a recording device shaped like a pen. It was exactly the size of a pen so that no one would know if it was a recorder.

After getting what he was looking for, Chang Yuan immediately gave it to Dae Hyun.

When the tape was played, it turned out that it was true that the voice that can be heard was Han's voice who was asking the criminals to kill Soo Yin and Jean.

Dae Hyun's blood rustled back up to the crown. The grip of his clenched fist was so strong that it could be seen that his muscles was tensing.

"Han!" growled Dae Hyun, making his teeth creak.

Dae Hyun immediately turned around to get out of the place. He felt like he wanted to finish Han right now.

"Sir, please let us go," said the long-haired man.

"Assistant Chang, finish them all. I don't want to forgive people who nearly took my wife's life," Dae Hyun said.

"Yes, sir," Chang Yuan said as he bowed his body.

"Let go of us! Didn't you promise to let us go if we tell the truth," the man with the cropped hair shouted.

"There is no mercy on anyone who has touched my woman!" Dae Hyun shouted while turning his head briefly with narrowed eyes.

The criminals were now even more scared because there were already three people armed with guns standing in front of them. They kept asking for forgiveness but Dae Hyun was not that easy to forgive them. For him life must be paid with life.

Bang!

The sound of gunfire echoed through the basement, making a terrifying sound.

The three criminals immediately died with one shot each because who were in charge were the snipers who worked for Dae Hyun. They died with wounds on the head until the blood continued to pour out.

Dae Hyun let his men do it because he didn't want to get his hands dirty just to finish off losers like them.

Chang Yuan followed Dae Hyun's steps, knowing that his boss will head straight to Han's apartment.

This time it was Chang Yuan who drove the car. It would be too dangerous for Dae Hyun to drive because he was very emotional right now. The car in front of them might get hit.

It was only this time for Chang Yuan to find out that Dae Hyun could be so angry that he mercilessly killed the criminals. It seemed that Soo Yin really meant a lot in his life.

During the trip, Dae Hyun's sharp gaze only focused on looking ahead. Chang Yuan didn't even dare to just glance at him.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 251 - 251 - Sadness

Not long after, Chang Yuan finally parked his car in front of an apartment occupied by Han. Dae Hyun stayed in the car waiting for Chang Yuan to find his whereabouts because he had a hunch that Han was no longer in that apartment.

After checking it, Chang Yuan immediately got back into the car.

"Han is not in his apartment, Sir," Chang Yuan reported.

Dae Hyun was silent because he had suspected that this would happen. It seemed that Han already knew that the criminal he ordered was caught.

Without waiting to be ordered, Chang Yuan immediately tracked down Han through his cell phone. It turned out that now Han was at Incheon International Airport. Looked like he was about to take a flight overseas to get away.

"Are we going to the airport, sir?" Chang Yuan asked as he looked back at his boss.

"Just tell your men to catch him," Dae Hyun said with a flat face.

Chang Yuan immediately contacted his men to look for Han at Incheon International Airport right now. Then made an appointment to meet up somewhere.

As agreed with his subordinates, Chang Yuan drove his car to a quiet place on the outskirts of Seoul. The place was not too far away, only about twenty minutes to reach the place.

"Have they found him?" Dae Hyun asked flatly as he crossed his arms across his chest.

He really believed that Chang Yuan could be relied on but he couldn't wait to finish off Han as quickly as possible because he didn't have much time. Dae Hyun wanted to return to the hospital immediately to look after his wife.

"They are already on their way here, sir," Chang Yuan said.

Sure enough, it wasn't long before a car finally stopped not far from where Dae Hyun was standing. There was a male voice who was struggling to be released.

"Dae Hyun?" Han immediately widened his eyes with a body that began to tremble while observing someone in front of him.

Even though Dae Hyun was standing in a dim place and turning his back, Han could see that the figure in front of him was Dae Hyun. He couldn't be wrong.

Dae Hyun remained standing calmly even though his fists continued to clench without turning his body.

His men kept pushing Han's body to walk closer to his boss. But Han kept on rebelling, maybe it would work, but Chang Yuan's men kept gripping his back hard. Until now, they were only one meter away from Dae Hyun.

Bug....

After hearing the sound of footsteps stopping right behind him, Dae Hyun immediately threw a punch at Han's face so that Han's body immediately fell to the ground. He looked at Han with sharp and fiery eyes. Dae Hyun's breath fluctuated because he was too emotional.

"What did you do?" Han said without feeling that he had done something wrong. Tried to get up even though his head wobbled.

"Are you still asking about what I did?" Dae Hyun grabbed Han by the collar. Pulling him to his feet immediately, then flung his fist back at Han's face blindly until fresh blood immediately came out of his mouth and nose.

At this time Dae Hyun could not control his emotions when he saw Soo Yin's face who was lying weakly on his mind because it was all caused by Han.

Dae Hyun did not stop the punch even though Han had been moaning in pain and begging for mercy. For him nothing could be forgiven because Han's mistakes were so big.

After being quite satisfied to see Han who had fallen to the ground, Dae Hyun stopped it. All that felt like enough, even though it's not worth the price that Han had to pay because he made Soo Yin lose her fetus.

"What shall we do, sir? Is it the same as before?" Chang Yuan asked because Dae Hyun seemed to have stopped his tantrums.

"No, I want him to go to prison so he can feel the beauty of being in the cell," Dae Hyun said coldly.

Chang Yuan nodded his head as a sign that he understood what Dae Hyun had ordered. His boss didn't want Han to die too soon so he wanted Han to slowly rot the prison.

"Take all the property he has because all of it is the result of embezzlement of hotel's financial," Dae Hyun said.

"Yes sir."

Dae Hyun immediately left the place. He saw the clock that curled up in his hand, which showed that it was almost five in the morning. Time had passed so fast.

With high speed Dae Hyun drove his car towards the Pyongyang hospital. Hoped that when he get there, Soo Yin had woken up.

In a burial area.

Jean knelt in front of a new tomb. She continued to hug the tombstone with her mother's name on it.

Yes, last night when she was still in that old factory her mother breathed her last breath because she had a heart attack. Jean regretted for not being able to be near her mother at her last moment.

Jean continued to cry hysterically alone in her mother's grave because everyone who presented at the funeral had all left. There was no one that she had right now. The only person she loved was gone forever. Even though her mother was the source of the spirit of her hard work so far.

"Mother, why did you leave me?" Jean said softly in a hoarse voice after crying for too long.

"I can't live without you, Mom." Jean continued to wipe the tombstone with tears that kept pouring out of the corners of her eyes.

The girl seemed so reluctant to leave her mother's tomb that her hands hugged the mound of ground that were still wet.

Hearing that Jean's mother died from Aunt Xia, Chang Yuan decided to look for her. There was Chang Yuan's concern for Jean because right now she must have been devastated.

He looked at Jean who was kneeling and crying. Really can't bear to see her like that so Chang Yuan walked over to her and then crouched down.

"I'm sorry about your mother's death, Jean," Chang Yuan said softly as he patted Jean's shoulder.

Jean stopped her crying for a moment as she turned to Chang Yuan who was beside her.

"Thank you, Assistant Chang," she said with eyes that were very puffy from tears. Her face was also still bruised from the incident last night.

"We'd better go home because it will rain soon," Chang Yuan said as he looked at the sky that was getting dark.

Jean shook her head slowly with her eyes turning teary, while staring blankly at the mound of ground in front of her.

"I want to come with my mother," Jean said sadly, making Chang Yuan's chest cut when he heard it.

"Jean, you can't be like this. Your mother will definitely feel very sad seeing you like this," Chang Yuan persuaded. This was Chang Yuan's first time for being gentle and caring.

"I don't have anyone anymore in this world," Jean said with tears that broke again while hugging the mound of earth again.

Chang Yuan could only sigh softly because he did not know what to do at this time. He wasn't used to being close to a girl at all.

The snow was slowly starting to fall quite swiftly. After dozens of persuasions, Chang Yuan finally managed to get Jean out of the funeral.

Chang Yuan went to Jean's room first. She needed to change her wet clothes before returning to the hospital. Jean had to be treated again because her condition had not fully recovered. Even she still had trouble just by walking.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 252 - 252 - Where Is My Child?

Did not sleeping all night made Dae Hyun's eyes looked gloomy with black circles on his eyelids. Even though it felt heavy, his eyes were reluctant to close. Since coming to the hospital, he kept staring at Soo Yin's face, hoping she would open eyes soon.

Even though Aunt Xia had told him to rest but Dae Hyun still insisted on refusing to sleep. How could he possibly fall asleep if his wife had not woken up until now. Even though according to doctor Mi Young, Soo Yin had awakened from the influence of the medicine she was giving.

"Sir, you'd better rest," Aunt Xia said. Didn't know how many times the middle-aged woman said it. Didn't feel bored even though Dae Hyun continued to refuse.

"I don't want to rest before my wife opens her eyes," Dae Hyun said dryly. Even though his eyes already felt very heavy.

"Then you better eat first. It's too late for breakfast," Aunt Xia said, who knew that since this morning Dae Hyun hadn't even filled his stomach with food.

"Later," Dae Hyun said briefly.

Auntie Xia only let out a resigned sigh at this time. She won't be able to persuade Dae Hyun this time because her boss was the type of guy who was stubborn and steadfast in his stance. The middle-aged woman then said goodbye to go out for a while.

Not long after that.

Doctor Mi Young opened the door, for a moment she stopped her footsteps with her gaze fixed forward. Looked at the figure of a man who was looking down while kissing his wife's hand. Looked like he didn't notice her presence.

After her heart calmed down enough, Mi Young stepped into the room even with a pounding heart. For some reason, being near Dae Hyun made her heart kept on pounding.

'Mi Young, what happened to you? He's just your past, '~ Mi Young thought to herself as she managed to relax her breath.

"Hmmm." Mi Young cleared her throat to bring Dae Hyun away from his reverie.

Hearing such a close voice, Dae Hyun lifted his head then turned to look at Mi Young who was already beside him.

"Dae Hyun, can I check on your wife for a moment," Mi Young said, asking permission because Dae Hyun didn't moved from his place.

"Hmm," Dae Hyun said and then got up from his seat.

Doctor Mi Young checked Soo Yin's current condition, whose condition was actually getting better, maybe in a few hours she will wake up.

"Mi Young, why doesn't Soo Yin wake up yet?" Dae Hyun, muttered who couldn't wait for his wife to wake up.

"Her condition has improved quite well but the effect of the medicine is still there. Stay by her side because I'm afraid she will be shocked to find out...." Mi Young didn't continue because it felt so heavy.

As a doctor for a long time, Mi Young had had experiences with women who have just lost their future babies. Moreover, this was the first child, Soo Yin will definitely be devastated by all of that.

"I understand," Dae Hyun said bitterly. Even though his heart was broken, but for the sake of his wife, he must look strong and tough.

"I'm really sorry," Mi Young said.

"It's not your fault, there's no need to blame yourself," Dae Hyun said flatly.

Mi Young took off the breathing apparatus because Soo Yin didn't need it anymore. Her breathing was stable and regular. Just waiting for her to open her eyes.

Mi Young immediately left the room because she had another patient to treat.

Dae Hyun sat back at Soo Yin's side.

"Honey, wake up. Don't you miss me?" Dae Hyun said while sighing softly to comfort himself so as not to dissolve in sadness.

He stroked Soo Yin's long hair gently. He rubbed Soo Yin's face, which still had some wounds but her beauty still radiated perfectly.

Soo Yin could feel a large hand touching her skin. She slowly tried to collect her memories. Her aching head couldn't digest anything, so she chose to open her eyes.

Soo Yin's eyes looked up at the ceiling of the room. Her eyes rolled around to observe the all white paint. The smell of the drugs immediately penetrated her sense of smell.

Soo Yin really hated the smell of drugs because it will make her head hurt.

"Honey," Dae Hyun said, while holding Soo Yin's hand so tightly. His heart feels very relieved that Soo Yin was conscious.

"Where am I?" Soo Yin asked, didn't remember of what happened to her at all.

"You're in the hospital," Dae Hyun said while developing a faint smile.

"Does your body still hurt?" he continued.

Soo Yin moved her body a little. It was true that her body was painful enough to move. Her hand then reached out to touch her stomach.

She immediately sat down with difficulty when she found a flat stomach.

"My child? Why is my stomach getting smaller?" Soo Yin glared at Dae Hyun as she continued to grope her stomach. Her hands were shaking when she started to remember what happened. The shadows of events one by one began to enter into her memory when she felt excruciating pain.

Dae Hyun immediately hugged Soo Yin very tightly. Words could not be able to come out of his mouth.

"Honey, where is our child?" Soo Yin's crying voice immediately broke out. She could no longer held back her tears. Her heart was cut into pieces right now.

The world was devastated for Soo Yin to find out what happened to her future baby. Even though Dae Hyun hadn't said anything, Soo Yin can already guessed what happened. It hurted her heart to remember that the baby she had been waiting for to be born into the world now turned out to be gone.

"Calm down," Dae Hyun said softly as he rubbed the back of his little wife's body who currently looked so fragile. Even though currently Dae Hyun felt the same, he wanted to give Soo Yin strength.

"My child ... sob ... sob ... sob ... I don't want to lose it," Soo Yin said between sobs while gripping Dae Hyun's back firmly.

"I'm a stupid mother who can't look after my child properly," Soo Yin muttered, who blamed herself.

"That's not true, you are a great mother. You've been taking care of it all this time." It was true what Mi Young said if Soo Yin would blame herself.

"My child ... why did you leave mother," Soo Yin said softly with a blank look.

Dae Hyun kept trying to calm her down. Gave her a few words to comfort her shaken heart.

After trying to calm her down for a while, Soo Yin started to calm down a little. Although still crying, but now she didn't sob anymore.

"Lie back down, you must rest in order to recover quickly," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin shook her head blankly. She cannot accept the fact that the fetus she was carrying was gone. Just yesterday she bought ice cream to fulfill the baby's wish, but it was unexpected that it was the last wish of her future child.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 253 - 253 Abortion

UN Village

Aeri had been pacing on the balcony while holding her cellphone. Since last night, she had been trying to contact Han but his number was not active. A glimpse of worry was present in her heart. In fact, when he arrived in Paris, Han promised to contact her immediately.

She felt anxious, afraid if something happened to Han. Han was a man who had sacrificed a lot for her. So it was not that easy not to think about him. After all they had been in a relationship before she married Dae Hyun.

The fake marriage was only forced by Aeri to gain fame and Dae Hyun's wealth. But in fact, until now her wish had not been fulfilled. Aeri had promised Han that if Jo Yeon Ho had inherited the inheritance, she would soon leave Dae Hyun's life. Now it looked like the situation was in reverse. It wasn't Aeri who left Dae Hyun but Dae Hyun who intended to leave her.

Dae Hyun right now was not Dae Hyun who was too innocent and easy to be fooled. From now on, Aeri must be more careful.

Aeri patted her forehead remembering that Dae Hyun would take her to the doctor for a check-up on her womb after he returned. If it was exactly what he said then Dae Hyun will return to Seoul tomorrow.

Her heart immediately fluttered uncertainly imagining what would happen next. Aeri immediately went back into her room. Rushed to crouch to open a drawer to look for something.

Not finding it, Aeri took out all the items in the drawer consisting of her various accessories. She had to act as quickly as possible before Dae Hyun returned to Seoul. Didn't want to let her husband find out the truth.

"Finally I found it," Aeri muttered as she stood and looked at the small plastic bag filled with medicine.

After finding the item she was looking for, Aeri immediately took the water that was above the nightstand. With trembling hands, she was about to drink it but Aeri discouraged. Remembered about the risk of the drug she was about to take that was too big. It could be that not only the fetus in her stomach who died, her life could be gone too. Moreover, Aeri remembered that she had a miscarriage.

Aeri put the medicine back in the plastic and put it in her shirt pocket. Didn't want to let the people in this house find out because it will be very dangerous.

Currently her mother-in-law was out with Jo Yeon Ho so this was the perfect time to go to her mother's house. Aeri wanted to see Sun Book to ask her help to solve this problem.

With a quick steps, Aeri climbed down the stairs, hoping that the fetus she was carrying would be shaken so that it would be easier without bothering to think of a way to abort it. Even Aeri deliberately jogged from the terrace to the car garage.

Aeri immediately left UN Village by driving her own car. Even though there was a driver who intended to take her, Aeri insisted that she didn't want to. She even scolded the driver.

Aeri didn't have to worry about fatigue because that's what she expected. Initially, she intended to maintain the pregnancy but considering Dae Hyun who suspected her, it should not be necessary because it would ruin her life.

The black car started to penetrate the road during the day which was quite busy with motorists. Aeri continued to drive her car while looking at the cellphone screen to contact her mother. Intended to invite her to meet at a restaurant because she was reluctant to go to her house. Too focused on looking at the cellphone screen made Aeri unaware that there was a big car in front of her.

There was almost a collision if Aeri didn't look ahead. Aeri kept turning the car aimlessly because it seemed like the brakes had failed so that it didn't want to be stopped. Panic immediately hit, Aeri didn't want to die silly before she got what she wanted. The car she was driving hit the road divider and then finally stopped after a large tree was in front of her.

This caused Aeri to hit her head and knocked her unconscious.

All the people around the place helped to call an ambulance to take her to the hospital. One of them also called the cell phone number Aeri had called for the last time.

Hallym University Medical Center,

Sun Book was waiting for the doctor to check Aeri's current state. Worries now enveloped her heart, afraid that something bad will happen to Aeri. Since earlier, she remained standing in front of the door without wanting to move.

Not long after, the doctor who handled Aeri finally came out. Sun Book immediately walked over to him.

"Doctor, how is my daughter?" Sun Book asked anxiously.

"She is fine at the moment, please come inside if you want to see her. Now Miss Aeri is already conscious," a young male doctor said.

"All right, thank you doctor," Sun Book said. Immediately stepped her feet to enter.

Aeri held her head which still hurt. Luckily, the wound on her head was not too bad even though there was a little bleeding.

"Aeri, what hurts?" Sun Book said while holding Aeri's head then rubbing it.

"I'm fine, Mom," Aeri said as she removed Sun Book's hand from her head. Quickly she immediately felt her stomach, perhaps because the incident had made the fetus she was carrying gone.

"Argggghh!" Aeri shouted irritatedly because it seemed that her womb was fine.

"What's wrong with you?" Sun Book asked with a confused face seeing her daughter who was suddenly screaming even though her condition was fine.

"Mother, why is this fetus still in my stomach?" Aeri said with a disappointed face and then rubbed her face in a huff.

"What do you think? Never mind, now mom will contact your husband's family," Sun Book said while grabbing Aeri's cell phone which was on the nightstand.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 254 - 254 - Lost Baby

"Mom, don't contact anyone first," Aeri said, while grabbing her cell phone from Sun Book's hand.

"Why are you so strange. Your in-laws should have come here to visit and take care of you," Sun Book said in a rising voice while raising an eyebrow.

"Mom, I want to abort this fetus," Aeri said with a pleading look.

"What do you mean?" Sun Book said as she glared at Aeri. Didn't understand with what her daughter was thinking.

"Mom, Dae Hyun seems to realize that this fetus is not his child. If I keep it, I will get caught," Aeri said nervously and then bit her lower lip.

"He wouldn't know. You could fake the DNA results," Sun Book said.

"No way, Mom. Dae Hyun is not that stupid now."

"Then, if you intend to abort it. Won't they suspect?" Sun Book asked.

"I can say it all happened because of the accident that happened to me today. Besides, Dae Hyun is out of town. Now, find a gynecologist who is willing to help me, Mom. There's not much time," Aeri said as she pushed her mother's body away.

"But it's very risky," Sun Book said anxiously.

"No need to worry, I'm sure I'll be fine. Now meet the gynecologist at this hospital. Pay as much as they want," Aeri said.

Sun Book was forced to follow Aeri's orders to secretly find a gynecologist at the hospital. Too bad they didn't want to handle abortion.

Sun Book finally looked for another clinic that was willing to help Aeri to abort her fetus. After finding it, Sun Book immediately took Aeri out of the hospital to an abortion clinic which was not far from the hospital. They left secretly so as not to be caught by the hospital employees.

UN village.

Mrs. Park and Jo Yeon Ho just got home in the afternoon. Jo Yeon Ho looked very happy right now. Finally, his desire to go for a walk was materialized, made Mrs. Park happy too.

They threw themselves on the sofa to relieve fatigue after traveling all day.

"Are you very happy?" Mrs. Park asked while stroking her favorite grandson's hair.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded his head enthusiastically and his face was lit up. Even though he couldn't go to a vacation with his father yet, today his grandmother was enough to make him happy.

Mrs. Park's cell phone suddenly rang. The woman immediately took it from the bag. Her forehead frowned when she saw the name who was calling. It was rare for Sun Book to contact her. Mrs. Park immediately answered, perhaps there was something important.

"Mrs. Park, can you come to the hospital right now?" Sun Book said from across the phone.

"Who's sick?" Mrs. Park immediately stood up.

"Aeri... Aeri just got into an accident," Sun Book said while sobbing.

"Isn't Aeri in her room?" Mrs. Park did not really believe that Aeri had an accident because when she said goodbye, Aeri said that she would not go anywhere.

"Aeri had an accident on the way to see me," Sun Book said while continuing to sob.

"All right, tell me where you are now?" Mrs. Park said.

"We're at Hallym University Medical Center," Sun Book said.

Without asking about Aeri's condition first, Mrs. Park immediately turned off her telephone connection. She asked Jo Yeon Ho to change his clothes first. Initially, she didn't intend to bring Jo Yeon Ho but the child kept on whining and asking to come along. He was also worried about his mother's current condition.

Hallym University Medical Center,

Sun Book had brought Aeri back to the first hospital they visited after leaving the abortion clinic. Luckily the abortion went well even though Aeri had been bleeding for a while.

"Will my mother-in-law come here?" Aeri asked to Sun Book after finding out that her mother had made a call.

"Of course, you better be prepared to look sad and devastated. You just lost your baby. Act right, don't let your mother-in-law get suspicious," Sun Book said. Reminded Aeri to put on a sad face instead of a happy face.

"Calm down, Mom. I'll do it right," Aeri said as she pursed her lips.

Not long after that, Mrs. Park arrived at the hospital while holding Jo Yeon Ho's hand. The look on her face showed that she was very worried. With quick steps, they immediately went to the room that Sun Book had told her where Aeri was being treated.

Check ...

Mrs. Park immediately opened the door. Her eyes were immediately fixed on Aeri who was lying on the bed in a tilted position. There was no Sun Book in sight.

"Aeri, how are you?" Mrs. Park said while shifting the seat beside the bed. Set Jo Yeon Ho there.

Hearing her mother-in-law's voice, Aeri immediately turned around while sobbing. Then tried to sit back on the side of the bed.

"Mother, I'm sorry," Aeri said while holding Mrs. Park's hand. Tears slowly flowed from the corners of her eyes.

"Sorry?" Mrs. Park frowned to hear Aeri apologize.

"I... I can't take care of my future child, Mom. I've lost it now. I... I can't give a grandchild to you." Aeri bursted into tears and then hugged her mother-in-law's body tightly. Her tears spilled over Mrs. Park's shoulders.

Mrs. Park unmoved in her place, tried to digest what Aeri said. Her hand reached out to return her daughter-in-law's hug and then rubbed Aeri's back to calm her down.

Even though her son wanted a divorce from Aeri, Mrs. Park still couldn't bear to see her cry like that. Before the divorce took place, she would still treat Aeri as her daughter-in-law.

"What exactly happened?" Mrs. Park asked after Aeri had started to stop crying.

"I lost my child in an accident earlier, Mom. What should I do now? Maybe he left knowing that his father didn't want him." Aeri continued to sob while covering her face with both hands.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 255 - 255 - Sad

Mrs. Park didn't know what to do at this time. Her heart was so touched to see Aeri who was crying very sadly. All she could do was try to calm her daughter-in-law.

"Mother, don't cry," Jo Yeon Ho said with a sad face. Even though he was still a child, Jo Yeon Ho can't bear to see his mother continued to be sad.

Seeing Jo Yeon Ho's adorable face, Aeri immediately stopped her tears and then wiped the tears from her cheeks.

"I'm sorry, dear. Your sibling is no longer there now." Aeri had to convince the two people in front of her that she was really sad so that they would not be suspicious.

Aeri grabbed Jo Yeon Ho's small body to get him closer to her. Hugged him tightly while pouring out her sorrow. Even though it was just a fake sadness.

"Mrs. Park, you've come," Sun Book said, who just entered the room.

"Actually, what happened that caused Aeri to get into an accident?" Mrs. Park asked to reconfirm the cause of Aeri's accident that made her miscarriage.

"I also don't know, because someone contacted me if my daughter had an accident. Look at her, she looks very devastated because she has lost her fetus," Sun Book said while looking at Aeri with a sad face.

"Never mind, the important thing is Aeri's condition is fine even though she has to lose her fetus," Mrs. Park said bitterly. Very sorry that thing could happened. Although, yesterday Dae Hyun said that he wanted to prove something.

"Is your son not be able to come home? He should have looked after Aeri in times like this," Sun Book said.

"Sorry, I forgot to contact Dae Hyun," Mrs. Park said. She immediately reached for her cellphone that was in her bag.

It didn't take long before the telephone connection was connected.

"Dae Hyun, have you finished your work?" Mrs. Park asked, not knowing that Dae Hyun had actually returned to Seoul.

"What's wrong, Mom?" Dae Hyun asked from across the phone.

"Aeri... Aeri just had an accident. She really needs your presence right now," Mrs. Park said, though not sure if her son will come home. At least she had told him.

"An accident?" Dae Hyun's voice was heard rising.

"Yes, she even lost her fetus," Mrs. Park stammered a little.

"Really? Too bad I can't go home yet, Mom. I have some work to do right away," Dae Hyun said.

"All right, when it's finished you hurry home. Mother is very sorry to see her because Aeri looks very devastated," Mrs. Park said. As a mother, she also felt bad for Sun Book if her son didn't come home.

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun said.

Mrs. Park did her best to persuade Dae Hyun to come home even if it didn't work. She thought about her son if he might not love his wife anymore. She can only surrender to obey whatever her son wanted. She can't arrange Dae Hyun's life the way she wanted because her son was old enough. Right now all she can do was try to calm Aeri and her mother.

Pyongyang Maternity Hospital,

Dae Hyun just finished a call from his mother. As a man who still had a conscience, Dae Hyun actually wanted to see Aeri's current state. But it was impossible to leave his little wife when her condition was still like this.

But it felt very coincidence that Aeri and Soo Yin miscarried at about the same time. Dae Hyun thought that Aeri had intentionally aborted it for fear of being caught. Regretted that yesterday he did not immediately take her to see the doctor. Dae Hyun did not want to worry, because whether there was an evidence or not, he will still divorce her.

Soo Yin was still devastated because she just lost her baby. Ever since she woke up she didn't even want to eat even though Dae Hyun had persuaded her many times. She was still pensive then suddenly would cry.

It made Dae Hyun feel tight in his chest to see his little wife like that. Unexpectedly, Soo Yin really wanted her baby's presence. Whereas in the past she said that she would not want to have children yet.

Dae Hyun went back into the room to see Soo Yin again. His little wife seemed to be sitting on the bed while staring blankly. Her gaze was fixed on the glass window with the curtain that was slightly ajar. Stares at the sky that was getting dark. It could be seen that there were crystal beads that was pooling in her eyelids.

It hurted Dae Hyun to see that his wife had not accepted all the harsh reality. Even though he also felt the same, he still tried to be strong. Really, having a baby with Soo Yin was something he really craved for. But it seemed that fate had said something else.

"Honey, you should eat," Dae Hyun persuaded tirelessly as he took the bowl filled with porridge from the top of the nightstand.

Soo Yin remained unmoved in her position then shook her head lightly. Even though Dae Hyun was already preparing to bribe her. Seeing his wife who didn't want to eat, Dae Hyun took a deep breath and then he put the bowl of porridge back on the nightstand.

Dae Hyun cupped the face of his little wife who looked gloomy. There was not even the slightest radiance of happiness from her face.

Soo Yin met her husband's gaze with swollen and reddened eyes. Nearly half a day Soo Yin did not stop her crying.

"Honey, don't be like this," Dae Hyun said bitterly as he drank his saliva.

Soo Yin remained silent as she continued to stare into the eagle eyes of the man she loved so much. She felt very guilty for not being able to take care of her baby. She should've fought them that night.

Instantly Soo Yin's tears broke out again. With a sob, she pressed her head against her husband's chest. Poured out the feelings of disappointment, guilt and loss that were so deep.

For her it was not that easy to forget everything. It took time to accept the bitter circumstances that had befallen her.

"Honey, stop blaming yourself," Dae Hyun said softly. He had said it over and over again but Soo Yin still blamed herself. His heart broke even more when he heard Soo Yin who kept sobbing.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 256 - 256 - Jean's Presence

Jean walked with a slight limp because her leg was still a little sore. Currently, she wanted to visit Soo Yin. Based on the news from Chang Yuan, Soo Yin had regained consciousness.

Today felt like the worst day of her life. Must witnessed Soo Yin who was losing her future child and she must lose her mother forever. Jean didn't know how to behave in the future. She can't afford to live without her mother.

Jean slowly turned the knob so that Dae Hyun and Soo Yin didn't hear it. Jean froze right in the middle of the door while watching the sorrowful of Soo Yin who was sobbing in the arms of a man who was none other than her boss. Until unconsciously the crystals fell from the corner of her eye.

It felt like Jean still dreamed of seeing those who looked so close. Even the man continued to kiss the top of her friend's head with great affection. Jean needed an explanation on how they got married while Dae Hyun had another wife. Jean didn't want Soo Yin to be played with by a rich man like Dae Hyun.

But seeing Dae Hyun's attitude towards Soo Yin, it seemed like Dae Hyun really cared about her best friend, so Jean intended to turn around because she didn't want to bother them.

"Jean?"

A hoarse voice stopped her steps. For a moment she remained standing in her place, while mustering up the courage to meet her best friend. Jean immediately thought of clearing the misunderstanding that had occurred between her and Soo Yin so that Jean turned her body. On the other hand, Jean also wanted to apologize.

With slow steps, Jean approached Soo Yin on her bed.

Seeing Jean's arrival made Soo Yin's thin lips smiled even though it was only a little. Her face was much brighter now.

Dae Hyun was so aware of this that as soon as Jean got close, he immediately stood up.

"Jean, I entrusted my wife to you," Dae Hyun whispered in Jean's ear before finally stepping out. Gave a little time for the two of them to talk.

Soo Yin immediately hugged Jean's body. Feelings of longing towards her friend momentarily erased her sadness.

"Soo Yin, I'm really sorry. I shouldn't have asked you last night," Jean said regretfully. If she knew that her mother would die in the end, Jean would not have brought Soo Yin to that place.

"You're completely innocent. I'm sorry about aunt's death," Soo Yin said with tears that had flooded on her cheeks.

"I'm also concerned about the situation that happened to you," Jean said softly. This time she did not want to remind something that made Soo Yin even sadder.

The two girls cried to each other to vent the sadness they were experiencing at this time.

Dae Hyun chose to stay away from the front door because he didn't want to listen to their sobs. He can only hope that with the presence of Jean, his little wife will not remain still in her sadness.

Jean had released Soo Yin's hug. After saying all of that made Jean's heart felt relieved, making the burden on her shoulders felt lighter.

"Soo Yin, why didn't you tell me that you were married?" Jean said as she pursed her lips. The current situation had begun to calm down, they both had stopped crying.

"I'm ashamed to say it," Soo Yin said.

"What are you ashamed of?" Jean knitted her brows together at Soo Yin's answer.

"You will definitely make fun of me for marrying an adult man. Don't you remember that I didn't even accept a confession from a man that was two years older than me," Soo Yin said, lying a little. Even though the fact was that she was afraid that Jean might slip up and say it to other people.

"Geez, you're so cute." Jean chuckled while shaking her head. Hearing Soo Yin's statement comforted her a little.

"Jean, don't ever stay away from me again. I don't have a friend to chat with like you. You now know that I'm married so don't think that I love Mr. Park Soo Hyun," Soo Yin said. She needed to get this straight so that their friendship would not fall apart.

"No need to discuss it, I understand. We will remain friends forever," Jean said with a thin smile. She herself felt very embarrassed by that. Chose to stay away from Soo Yin for some unknown reason.

Soo Yin was very happy because chatting with Jean was able to made her forget her feelings of loss a little. They kept on remembering happy things to comfort themselves even though their hearts were tight. They continued chatting into the night until Dae Hyun returned and told Jean to return to the room where she was treated.

A few days later.

Soo Yin was now in a better condition. Doctor Mi Young allowed her to go home even though she had to be under surveillance. So Dae Hyun asked Doctor Kang to check her after being discharged from the hospital. Only those who can be trusted who will not leak his secrets to his family members regarding to his relationship with Soo Yin.

Thanked to Jean who was always by her side that made Soo Yin had started to accept a little of the fact that her future child was gone. Not only that, Soo Yin was also very grateful to have a husband like Dae Hyun who continued to strengthen her. Gave her support, even willing to not go to work just to stay by her side.

Currently they were in the backyard of the villa. Sat together while enjoying the beautiful view of the orange sun. Accompanied by the late afternoon breeze. It was rare to be able to sit together like this because Dae Hyun was so busy. Times like this were used by Dae Hyun as best as possible to always comfort his beloved wife.

Dae Hyun embraced Soo Yin's waist so that there was no distance between them. Made Soo Yin lean her head on the man's broad chest. Her smile was now starting to appear even though it was not as cheerful as before the incident happened to her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 257 - 257 - It's Getting Naughty

I want to know who intends to harm me with Jean," Soo Yin said while looking up at her husband's eagle eyes.

"I've killed them but I let the person behind it rot in prison," Dae Hyun said while rubbing his wife's shoulder.

"You're so cruel." Soo Yin blinked her eyes. Quite surprised to hear that Dae Hyun had killed the criminals.

"Life must be paid for with life," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"Who is the person behind that incident?" Soo Yin asked curiously. If it was what she thought then Soo Yin was eager to beat him up with her own hands.

"Han, it looks like he intends to get back at you because you slapped him at that time. But I'm sure if there are other people," Dae Hyun said. He had ordered his men to torture Han to open his mouth if someone else was behind him. But even though he was already battered, Han still didn't want to say it. So Dae Hyun decided to throw him in prison.

"Manager Han?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together. Although not too surprised but did not expect if what she thought turned out to be true.

"Honey, I will definitely find out who is behind it all," Dae Hyun said.

"That's right, you have to take revenge because they made our child die," Soo Yin said in a sad tone. If she remembered of how the three months that she had spent with her fetus, Soo Yin's eyes immediately filled with tears and wanted to cry.

"Now don't be sad anymore. You must be my strong little wife." Dae Hyun kissed the top of Soo Yin's head. Let his lips touched there long enough.

Soo Yin closed her eyes while trying to hold back her tears from falling. It had been quite a few days since she had carried out in grief. She had nothing to do in these last days but cry and ponder.

"Don't you intend to meet Aeri? What would people say if you weren't there when she needed you," Soo Yin said. Took out what's on her mind. For her, it didn't matter if Dae Hyun met Aeri because she really believed that Dae Hyun will not lie to her.

"I'm not leaving until you're really better." Dae Hyun tightened his embrace even more.

"Besides, they thought that I was still on Nami Island," Dae Hyun continued casually without caring about Aeri's feelings at the moment. Since knowing about her photo with Han, all the trust that had been built so far had crumbled.

"Hmmm, it's up to you," Soo Yin said. The most important thing was at least she had warned.

"Can I go to work tomorrow?" Soo Yin felt really bored that Dae Hyun won't let her do anything. Even for eating, Dae Hyun fed. Made Soo Yin feel like a baby.

"You haven't recovered yet. Didn't Mi Young already say that you have to rest for a few days until your condition recovers," Dae Hyun said.

"I'm bored at home," Soo Yin said while pursing her lips.

Dae Hyun sighed softly.

"If you're bored invite Jean here to accompany you," Dae Hyun said.

"Can I invite her?" Soo Yin's face looked so happy, like a child who got a toy from her father.

"Of course, Jean can come here whenever she wants as long as she can make my wife smile," Dae Hyun said while nibbling Soo Yin's chin.

Soo Yin tightened her embrace even more. How happy she would be if Jean was allowed to come to the villa because she could be a friend to chat with.

"Honey, is it okay if Jean goes back to work at the hotel?" Soo Yin bit her lower lip afraid that Dae Hyun would refuse her request again. She felt that in recent days she had been asking for a lot.

"Hmmm, she can come back to work at any time." Dae Hyun tried to comply with Soo Yin's request so as not to upset her heart. Besides, the requests were not all bad so it was easy to do.

"Thank you, you are indeed my kindest husband."

Kiss...

As sincere thanks, Soo Yin kissed Dae Hyun on the cheek.

Dae Hyun tried to hold back his urge to eat his wife right then and there. But it seemed that Soo Yin was teasing him. Even just seeing her smile at this time was so seductive to his soul.

"Don't be naughty," Dae Hyun said while pinching Soo Yin's cheek because she looked so cute.

"It hurts," Soo Yin muttered, while holding her cheek.

"Come on in, it's getting dark. Go clean up, I'll prepare dinner for you," Dae Hyun said as he stared at the sky on the western horizon. Where the sun had begun to show no more light.

During these few days, it was Dae Hyun who always prepared everything. Painstakingly, the man obeyed whatever Soo Yin wanted. Always persuaded her to eat even though just by looking at food, Soo Yin already felt lazy.

"I don't want to, I want to take a shower with you," Soo Yin said in a spoiled tone. She embraced her husband's wrist when the man was about to get up from his seat.

"Don't tease me," Dae Hyun said gently. Worried that he couldn't hold back his desire like before, seeing Soo Yin just a little bit in revealing clothes would definitely arouse his passion.

"Okay, I'll take a bath myself." Soo Yin immediately let go of Dae Hyun's wrist while grumbling. There were disappointed that was streaking on her face.

"Okay, but don't be naughty," said Dae Hyun. How could he refuse the wishes of his little wife. Especially if he saw her bend her face like that.

Taking a shower together with his little wife gave Dae Hyun a headache. It seemed that Soo Yin was indeed testing his patience this time. Now Soo Yin wasn't even embarrassed to change her clothes in front of Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun immediately went downstairs to prepare dinner before his patience ran out and something unwanted happened.

Chapter 258 - 258 - You Kicked Me Out?

Because of Soo Yin who persistently insisted, today Dae Hyun started to get back to work at the hotel. Even though he was a bit anxious to leave her, the man had asked Jean to come so that she could help to look after her for a while. But Dae Hyun will go to work after waiting for Jean to come.

If usually after preparing breakfast Dae Hyun would leave her but this time the man joined the meal with his little wife. They even eat in a plate together because Soo Yin wasn't allowed to eat alone. Even to drink it must be in the same glass.

"Aren't you disgusted by drinking the rest of the glass I just used?" Soo Yin asked.

"Why would I be disgusted if I like the sweetness of your lips. Drinking with the same glass as you makes me feel like when we are kissing. So don't let any man drink your used glass," Dae Hyun said while winking one eye.

Soo Yin's face immediately flushed red knowing how her husband now, who turned out to be so romantic.

Aunt Xia who witnessed the two felt jealous seeing how Dae treated Soo Yin so well. Only one thing that was unfortunate because Soo Yin was still a mistress.

"Honey, go. I'm fine now," Soo Yin said because Dae Hyun didn't go even though it was already noon. The man chose to sit on the sofa while checking some of his work.

"Wait for Jean to come." Dae Hyun looked away from the laptop screen for a moment. Looked at his little wife who was standing beside him.

Soo Yin let out a deep sigh as she rolled her eyes. Convincing Dae Hyun to leave turned out to be very difficult. Although she was uncomfortable, afraid that his family would look for him even though they knew that Dae Hyun was out of town. It didn't make sense, Dae Hyun didn't even want to go home to visit Aeri.

Soo Yin threw herself on the soft sofa right next to Dae Hyun. Wanted to disturb him so he got to go soon. Soo Yin deliberately rested her head on her husband's shoulder as the man's hand started touching the keyboard.

Instead of being angry, Dae Hyun was happy to see his little wife who was acting so spoiled. Kept moving his finger on the keyboard swiftly without being disturbed by her presence.

"Honey, go, it's already noon. Aren't you having a meeting soon," Soo Yin said, who had run out of ways to make Dae Hyun leave.

"You kicked me out? You don't have to worry about my job because I've asked Chang Yuan to arrange everything. There's Park Soo Hyun too," Dae Hyun said.

"I just don't want me to be too highly priority while you have another family," Soo Yin said with a sullen face.

Dae Hyun stopped his finger and closed his laptop. He turned his body to the side to see Soo Yin. He stared her for a moment then cupped Soo Yin's sweet face with his two hands. Gazed deeply at her without batting an eyelid.

"You are my top priority from now on even later. You will always be the first in my life," Dae Hyun said while rubbing Soo Yin's lips which seemed to move. Seeing her pink full lips made Dae Hyun can't hold back his desire. Despite he tried hard to endure it.

"I just don't want you to get into trouble because you have a lot of work to do. Not only always take care of me." Soo Yin lowered her gaze in another direction.

Dae Hyun raised Soo Yin's chin so she wanted to look at him.

"I won't, my job is fine. You don't have to worry about it," Dae Hyun said as he looked at Soo Yin's eyeballs deeply.

"But...."

Before Soo Yin argued and protested again, Dae Hyun had already gently brushed those lips with his. Enjoying those sweet lips that were so chewy that woke the nerves of their body.

At first Soo Yin was just stunned and didn't reply. However more and more there were something twitching and wanting to be channeled so Soo Yin slowly started to open her mouth. Let Dae Hyun's tongue traced every inch of her lips.

Soo Yin had now put her hand around her husband's neck. Until his neat clothes become messy.

Dae Hyun tried to stay conscious to remember the boundaries because Soo Yin can't be touched yet. All he can do was just enjoying her lips to shed some of his sometimes burning passion. Even though something that was in there had awakened.

Dae Hyun was about to break the kiss but now Soo Yin was even more aggressive in taking over. Without any basis, even now his wife was already in his lap. Crushed his lips with his panting breath while holding the nape of his neck. Dae Hyun just closed his eyes while enjoying what Soo Yin was doing even though he had to try hard not to cross his boundaries.

Jean was standing at the door of the Pyeongchang-dong villa. She came a little late because she had just visited her mother's grave first. Several times Jean knocked on the door but there was no answer. Seeing the slightly open door made Jean decide to just go in. Perhaps the person in the house was busy.

Jean's footsteps stopped when she saw two people who were making love. She immediately turned her body while covering her face with both hands. Although she often saw this scene in films, Jean felt embarrassed to see it in real life.

What annoyed her even more, the two people seemed to not to have noticed her presence until they continued kissing without wanting to stop. Afraid that Dae Hyun was crossing his line, Jean ventured to turn around even though she still covered her face with her fingers.

"Hmmm," Jean shouted in a voice a little loud for them to hear.

Chapter 259 - 259 - The News Is Circulating

Sure enough, Soo Yin immediately pushed Dae Hyun's body when she heard Jean's voice faintly. Immediately tidied up her messy hair. Likewise Dae Hyun who immediately tidied his clothes back.

"Jean?" Soo Yin said both surprised and happy.

"Can you guys not do it in front of my virgin eyes?" Jean grumbled, her palms still covered her face.

"Sorry, why didn't you knock on the door anyway?" Soo Yin said with a flushed face. Felt ashamed that Soo Yin had kissed in front of Jean.

"I even hurt my fingers because I knocked on the door but you didn't hear it at all," Jean said as she shifted her palms from her face.

"I'm really sorry." Soo Yin scratched her head back and grimaced because she was wrong.

"You too, sir. Can't you resist the urge to make love to Soo Yin." Jean didn't care if the husband of her best friend would get angry. She was only afraid that they would go too far.

"All right, Jean," Dae Hyun said. It turned out that Jean's presence was like mothers who were ready to scold him.

"Honey, now Jean has come so I'm leaving," Dae Hyun said while rubbing his wife's cheek.

"Wait, let me go first." Jean hurried off up the stairs so as not to see their romance that made her jealous.

Soo Yin just shook her head softly while sucking a smile. Then she switched to fixing her husband's slightly messy clothes on tiptoe.

She grabbed the tissue on the table to wipe Dae Hyun's lips because there was a lipstick stain on his lips that stuck there.

"Take care of yourself," Dae Hyun said while kissing Soo Yin's forehead and cheeks alternately.

"Of course," Soo Yin said.

Soo Yin escorted her husband to the terrace then waved her hand after the car started to drive away from the villa.

The Silla Seoul Hotel.

The news about Aeri losing her fetus had caused an uproar at the hotel. Women flock to talk about it almost every day. What made them think was nonsense was that their boss hadn't come home yet even though his wife needed him.

Dae Hyun coolly walked into the room. Although the gazes of several people seemed to be judgmental. He didn't care if people would think of him as a man without feelings.

There were also rumors that Dae Hyun had been seduced by his secretary. So he didn't want to go back to Seoul even though his wife was in the hospital.

As soon as he entered the room, Dae Hyun frowned to find his father sitting on the sofa. It turned out that he had returned to Korea.

"I thought you forgot the way back to this hotel," Park Ji Hoon said without taking his eyes off of the newspaper he was reading.

"When did Father return to Seoul?" Dae Hyun asked, ignoring his father's insinuation because he was reluctant to argue.

"Father returned to Seoul because you messed up. Didn't I tell you not to do anything," Park Ji Hoon said in a raised voice even though his face looked calm.

"Calm down, soon I'll also hand over my position to Park Soo Hyun so you don't have to worry if this hotel will fall into the hands of uncle and aunt," Dae Hyun said casually as he put his bag on the table.

"What do you mean?" Park Ji Hoon looked dumbfounded at the statement from his son.

"Park Soo Hyun seems to have started to be reliable and his job is also pretty good. I want to give my position to him so that my life can be calm. So that I don't have to hide my relationship from other people," Dae Hyun said. He leaned back on the chair for a moment imagining how happy his life with Soo Yin would be without always worrying about the state of the hotel.

"Are you out of your mind? He wants to work hard for your wife, if he finds out that that Soo Yin is married, your brother will definitely return to the way he used to be," said Park Ji Hoon who stood up from his seat. Dae Hyun's words made his head dizzy.

"That's why I'm still hiding it now. I'll say everything after the appointment process runs smoothly. So that he won't shirk his job," Dae Hyun said with a deep sigh.

"What about Aeri? Are you going to just dump her? You haven't even come home until now." Park Ji Hoon had started to get angry. His son did not realize that there was a commotion in his family. That's why he returned to Seoul.

"Father, didn't I tell you that I would divorce her as soon as possible," Dae Hyun said with a sigh of annoyance.

"Are you crazy? What do people say if you divorce her when she just had a miscarriage? Don't be selfish because your grandfather's family name will also be involved if you are reckless," Park Ji Hoon said in a slightly harsh tone because it was useless to speak softly to Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples hearing a lecture from his father. Indeed, what was said by the man who had raised him was true.

"Haven't I told you for a long time not to put too much importance on your personal life? You also have to maintain the good name of your family," Park Ji Hoon said while holding his tight chest.

"Father, don't worry, I won't embarrass you," Dae Hyun said with a sour face.

That was why until now he still hid his relationship with Soo Yin because he still remembered that his secret marriage act will put a bad mark on his family.

"It's up to you. Come home tonight, don't embarrass the family. Rumors have grown if you intend to divorce Aeri because of another woman." After saying that, Park Ji Hoon immediately left the room. Allowing his son to be able to think maturely and not as he will.

Chapter 260 - 260 - Rumors

In the business world, it was actually not something new for men to have many women. However only one woman occupied a legal position, they will choose the first wife that took priority. As for Dae Hyun, how could he do it if he never loved Aeri at all.

Dae Hyun pondered Park Ji Hoon's words so that he didn't take a wrong step. He also doesn't want Soo Yin to be seen as a usurper.

He buried his head in his palms and kept thinking until he heard the sound of approaching footsteps.

Park Soo Hyun went straight to Dae Hyun's room after finishing his meeting. His ears could no longer stand the rumors that were circulating because it was related to his idol. He didn't want Soo Yin to be their gossip.

"Hyeong!" Park Soo Hyun exclaimed as he pounded on Dae Hyun's desk.

"Can't you be polite to your own brother?" Dae Hyun grumbled as he raised his head.

They met each other's eyes with cold eyes. They both had emotions in their hearts that they wanted to vent.

"Hyeong, I ask you to clarify that right now," Park Soo Hyun said, his chest heaving with emotions.

"Clarify about what?" Dae Hyun frowned, tried to digest his brother's words.

"Don't you know, if during your trip to Nami Island there were rumors that was not good? Soo Yin was accused of stealing you from sister-in-law," Park Soo Hyun said in a high tone.

"What?" Dae Hyun was shocked to hear what his brother said. No wonder all the employees at this hotel looked at him with strange looks. Even though he had heard it from Park Ji Hoon earlier, he didn't expect it to be Soo Yin who was accused.

"It's because you didn't go back to Seoul when sister-in-law got into an accident. Rumors are circulating that you would prefer to be with your secretary over your wife." Park Soo Hyun couldn't take it anymore to get everything out of his mind.

"Create a new rule, anyone who still wants to work at this hotel should not talk about their boss. If they keep doing it then get ready to be fired," Dae

Hyun said calmly. It was impossible to clarify it because it was the truth. But it was also impossible to admit that for now.

"What do you mean, Hyeong?" Park Soo Hyun felt confused by his brother's nonsensical idea.

"Never mind, after this nobody will talk about Soo Yin. I will ask Chang Yuan to make the announcement," Dae Hyun said while clenching his fists. Very sure if Aeri was behind these rumors.

"Where's Soo Yin? Why isn't she here?" Park Soo Hyun turned a glance at Soo Yin's work desk which looked empty. Even though he really wanted to meet her. It had been several days of not seeing her that made him homesick.

"I told her to take a day off. She needs time off after following me to work," Dae Hyun said flatly. Luckily a few days ago he said that Soo Yin had to go to work with him so giving an excuse to take a day off was a common thing.

After Park Soo Hyun spoke everything that was on his mind, he immediately left the room to do the other work. It felt like his heart had now calmed down so that no one in this hotel will talk about Soo Yin as the destroyer of her brother's household. Every man will not be willing if the girl he loved was accused of destroying people's households.

Although reluctant, Dae Hyun was forced to return to UN Village. According to Park Soo Hyun, his two aunts will visit tonight to share some happy news.

Dae Hyun grabbed his cell phone to text Jean to accompany Soo Yin's sleep tonight. He was afraid if he didn't return to the villa because his family would not allow it. Especially if there were two aunts at home, they would definitely felt suspicious.

[Honey, I can't sleep with you tonight.] Dae Hyun immediately sent the message to his little wife.

[I understand, keep your heart always for me, okay] replied Soo Yin with the added love emoticon.

They continued to send several messages until Dae Hyun smiled as he read it. To the point that he didn't realize that Park Soo Hyun was right in front of his desk.

Park Soo Hyun said nothing while observing his brother who seemed very busy with his cellphone. It was really strange seeing Dae Hyun who smiled and even occasionally chuckled without knowing what he was laughing at.

Reading Soo Yin's message after message made Dae Hyun forget to go back to UN Village immediately. Even though it was eight o'clock in the evening. He was engrossed as he kept looking down at the cell phone screen that kept ringing every once in a minute.

Park Soo Hyun had never seen his brother chuckle and get excited like that. He became suspicious if it was true that another woman had came in his heart. Park Soo Hyun very slowly walked over to the point where he finally managed to grab his brother's cell phone very quickly.

Dae Hyun reflexively reached out to take his cellphone back but it was a shame because Park Soo Hyun had moved away a little.

"Park Soo Hyun, give me back my cell phone!" Dae Hyun exclaimed. The facial expression that had looked so happy and excited now turned cold.

"I just wonder who you sent a message to," Park Soo Hyun said without caring about Dae Hyun who glared at him.

Finding Park Soo Hyun who didn't want to return his cellphone, Dae Hyun immediately got up from his seat. Walked with wide strides towards Park Soo Hyun but unfortunately Park Soo Hyun had managed to step away.

Dae Hyun didn't want his brother to read Soo Yin's message. Even though he changed the name, he was afraid that Park Soo Hyun would memorize Soo Yin's cellphone number.
