

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 301 - 301 - Dance

"Hyeong, move aside I want to pass," said Park Soo Hyun. He hoped that he and Soo Yin will be chosen to dance in front.

"Stay there," said Dae Hyun while trying to shift his body whenever Park Soo Hyun wanted to approach Soo Yin.

Now the lights had been turned off so that only a dim light shone on them. A bright light moved here and there in search of male and female couples who were close to each other. Until the light caught Dae Hyun and Soo Yin.

Soo Yin and Dae Hyun looked at each other for a moment. All the invited guests also looked towards the two of them. Soo Yin really felt shocked about that. Made her feel nervous.

"Mrs. and Mr, please come forward with us," called the host while looking at Soo Yin and Dae Hyun.

"Next, we will look for a few more pairs," added the host.

The light moved back and forth to find a few more partners.

Dae Hyun felt relieved that he was the one who was his wife's dance partner. If he was just a little late, Park Soo Hyun will be her partner. He grabbed Soo Yin's waist with one hand. In a dark place no one would notice what they were doing. Meanwhile, Soo Yin was still quite shocked to hear that they will dance in front of invited guests.

"Hyeong, you don't like dancing, did you? Just let me replace you," asked Park Soo Hyun hopefully because he knew that his brother didn't like things like that.

"No need, I'll do it," said Dae Hyun in a flat tone.

"Aren't I the one who should dance with Soo Yin, not you," Park Soo Hyun protested with annoyance that was starting to take hold of him. Trying to talk nicely with his brother won't work either.

"Didn't the host already say that this was chosen randomly. So they don't know who was chosen and will be her dance partner," Dae Hyun said, who was getting annoyed at his younger brother who had always been persistent.

Soo Yin returned Dae Hyun's embrace by wrapping her arms around her husband's waist after her heart calmed down enough. Fortunately, her husband arrived late quickly. If not, sure enough she should dance with Park Soo Hyun in front. She didn't want that to happen because it would make Park Soo Hyun expect too much of her. Really Soo Yin felt really guilty about that.

"Soo Yin, you should just dance with me. My brother can not dance, later you will feel ashamed because of him," said Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin's hand was released from her husband's waist in reflex. She then scratched her head back because she was confused about what to answer.

"For the couples we have appointed please come forward," exclaimed the host in a booming voice.

Now the lights are back on as before. The atmosphere was getting busier as they kept shouting so that those who had been appointed immediately came forward.

Soo Yin's heart was pounding because she wasn't very good at dancing. She only learned it at school, and even then because of a party held at school so she was forced to learn it.

"Hyeong, I beg you to let me go forward with Soo Yin," Park Soo Hyun said hopefully. He then stood in front of the two who were about to take a step.

"Park Soo Hyun, move aside. If you want to dance please just invite someone else," Dae Hyun said coldly.

"I just want to dance with Soo Yin," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Move aside, you don't have to be childish like that," Dae Hyun muttered. Without caring, he stepped forward while holding Soo Yin's hand. It wouldn't be that easy for him to give up his wife to dance with his brother. It seemed that he had given them too much time.

Park Soo Hyun was forced to provide a way for them to move forward because the host had called them since a long time ago. His body immediately felt limp and lackluster.

"Sir, I'm not good at dancing," Soo Yin said when they were together with the others.

"Honey, you can do it. You just need to follow the rhythm of the song and my movements," Dae Hyun whispered to give Soo Yin a little direction.

"I'm nervous," said Soo Yin honestly.

If Park Soo Hyun wasn't there actually Dae Hyun was also reluctant to dance in front of a crowd like this. But it was fortunate that he had learned it with Mi Young when they were dating a few years ago. In the past, Mi Young liked dancing so much that she often forced Dae Hyun to learn it. It was unexpected that this would come in handy now.

Dae Hyun just hoped not to forget his movements because all he remembered were just basic movements. After that he didn't remember at all. Actually at this time he was also feeling nervous but trying to think positively if they could definitely do it.

"Calm down, I'm sure my very cute wife can do it," Dae Hyun said to try to encourage his wife.

Soo Yin started to inhale deeply through her nose then slowly exhaled from her mouth. It turned out that this was enough to make her heart felt a little calmer.

Dae Hyun instructed Soo Yin to put a hand on his shoulder. While one hand on his waist with their positions exchanged.

Soo Yin followed her husband's directions and lived up to what he remembered. Now the song had been played to accompany the dance. The music played so sweetly that Dae Hyun and Soo Yin unconsciously began to move their bodies to the rhythm.

There were six couples who were dancing, including the bride and groom who so gracefully followed the song. The audience started clapping their hands to encourage them all to dance.

Dae Hyun continued to stare at his wife's eyes so intensely. Reluctant to blink even if it's only for one second.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 302 - 302 - Dance (2)

Soo Yin's face heated up until she turned her gaze to look for another object to look at. But until a few moments when she turned her head back, Dae Hyun continued to stare at her.

"Don't keep looking at me," Soo Yin said with flushed cheeks. She was uncomfortable to be stared at by her husband like that in front of the crowd. Soo Yin was worried that people will suspect them.

"You look so beautiful tonight," Dae Hyun said, his lips drawn back into a smile.

"Is it just tonight?" The question just came out of Soo Yin's lips.

"You're beautiful all the time," Dae Hyun said with a dazzling smile.

Words of praise that were often spoken but can always made Soo Yin float into the clouds. Unconsciously, Soo Yin put on a smile. Dae Hyun was really able to make her blush.

"Am I handsome tonight?" Dae Hyun asked, whilst glancing mischievously.

"No, your younger brother is more handsome," Soo Yin said honestly.

No matter how much Soo Yin loved Dae Hyun, if she had to choose between the two brothers about who was the most handsome. Surely Soo Yin would say Park Soo Hyun. But it was not good looks that Soo Yin was looking for. She just needed comfort in a relationship. Soo Yin already felt very comfortable around her husband.

"Really? Then why do you prefer me?" Dae Hyun forgot that the one who caused Soo Yin to not be able to choose other options was himself.

"I have no other choice," Soo Yin said.

Dae Hyun sighed heavily. He shouldn't have asked about that again. It was certain that Soo Yin would answer it very honestly without further ado to please him.

Soo Yin caught the change in expression on Dae Hyun's face. If it was not in a crowded place like this, she felt like she wanted to laugh out loud.

"No need to frown like that. If I saw you only about your good looks maybe I've left you since I met Park Soo Hyun," Soo Yin said to please her husband. She sometimes wondered at a grown man who acted childish when there were absolutely no need.

Now Dae Hyun's face looked fluffy after hearing the statement from Soo Yin which had been spoken several times to please him. But still Dae Hyun felt happy every time he heard that.

They continued to chat casually while shuffling their bodies here and there. Actually, Dae Hyun deliberately asked his little wife to chat, so that she wouldn't feel nervous about being seen by many people. By asking her to chat, Soo Yin's attention will only be focused on him.

In a corner not far away from them, Aeri and Li Sa had been peering over with turmoil in their chests. Anger and resentment merged into one. Especially Aeri who had been staring intently at those who seemed to be chatting between the dances they were doing.

"You bitch! She seems very determined to tease Dae Hyun," Aeri grumbled as she hit the wall quite hard.

"She's not only bothering your husband, but she also teased Park Soo Hyun," Li Sa said.

"Mother, look at father and Eunnie, they are very good at dancing," Jo Yeon Ho said, who had been clapping his hands while praising Soo Yin continuously. Did not know if what he did anger the mother.

"Yeon Ho, shut up," Aeri snapped, who was starting to lose her temper listening to Jo Yeon Ho, who continued to cheer for her husband and his secretary.

Fortunately, the audience's voice was so loud that Jo Yeon Ho didn't realize that he was being yelled at. He got annoyed when the music stopped.

"Yeahh, it's finished," said Jo Yeon Ho who lost his spirit.

It felt like Aeri would scold her son if she was not remembering him as the only reason that she was not ashamed to stay. As a woman, actually Aeri was also ashamed to continue to stay at home when her husband didn't even want her anymore. But her ambition was so great that she was able to sever her veins of shame. During this time she did not want to fail at everything she wanted. She will keep trying to get it no matter what.

"Yeon Ho, go somewhere else. You don't need to be near me," Aeri expelled before she completely lost her temper and became violent.

Without thinking, Jo Yeon Ho then jogged to the place where the dance was taking place. Too excited to make him hit the body of someone who was talking to make his buttocks sat on the floor.

"Yeon Ho?" said Soo Yin who immediately crouched down to help the boy stand up. Her face immediately sparkled because she managed to find him although she was already looking around to find him.

"Where have you been? Eunie has been looking for you," Soo Yin said while rubbing Jo Yeon Ho's cheek, who was standing tall.

"I was with other friends as a ring bearer," Jo Yeon Ho said with a cute face that was very adorable. The red tie in the shape of a butterfly made him even more cute.

"You're very handsome," Soo Yin said while giving a thumbs up. She was so exasperated that it made Soo Yin wanted to pinch his cheeks.

"Eunie is also very beautiful," Jo Yeon Ho said sincerely. A child's praise was the sincerity of their hearts because they were still innocent.

Dae Hyun smiled seeing his son and wife getting closer so it didn't matter if Jo Yeon Ho found out about the separation between him and Aeri. He really believed that Soo Yin's closeness with his son was very sincere.

"Ouch!" Soo Yin exclaimed when she was about to stand up, apparently her feet ached. It looked like the skin of her feet was sore to friction from the high heels she was wearing.

"Soo Yin, are you okay?" Dae Hyun immediately looked panicked.

"It's okay, maybe my feet is just scratched," said Soo Yin as she looked down to see her feet.

"We'd better just go inside. Yeon Ho, do you want to come inside with us?" Dae Hyun asked his son.

Jo Yeon Ho quickly nodded his head because his legs also felt tired and needed rest.

Soo Yin then took off her shoes because it was hard to stand up. Looked like this happened because of dancing earlier. It was too much fun to make her not realize if her feet was injured.

"Let me carry it," Dae Hyun said when Soo Yin was about to carry her shoes.

Soo Yin then took Jo Yeon Ho's hand to enter the house while Dae Hyun was behind them.

When entering the living room, it just so happened that it was quite crowded with old people who seemed to be tired. Soo Yin was about to turn around because she didn't want to meet her mother-in-law, but too bad, Jo Yeon Ho kept pulling her wrist. She was afraid that her mother-in-law would say something to their extended family about her relationship with Park Soo Hyun.

"Grandmother!" Jo Yeon Ho exclaimed, making everyone who was chatting turned their head towards them.

"Hi, Yeon Ho, Soo Yin. Come here, sit with us," Mrs. Park said then got up.

Soo Yin's body felt limp. Meanwhile, Dae Hyun casually followed them as he stepped inside shamelessly while carrying Soo Yin's shoes.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 303 - 303 - Will Get Married Soon

Mrs. Park immediately focused on Soo Yin's bare feet and then her body, which turned out to have changed her dress.

"Soo Yin, where are your shoes? Why did you change your dress?" Soo Yin just arrived there and there were already many questions from her mother-in-law.

"Mother, these are her shoes meanwhile someone broke her dress," Dae Hyun said while showing the shoes he was carrying.

"Geez, then why don't you wear your shoes?" asked Mrs. Park.

"Her feet is injured while we were dancing earlier," Dae Hyun replied without giving Soo Yin a chance to answer.

"Then where is the dress that I bought you?" Mrs. Park was not quite satisfied with his son's answer.

"Earlier I accidentally spilled my drink, Mom. So that makes it dirty," said Soo Yin quickly. She thought that earlier was enough to teach Li Sa and Aeri a lesson so now there's no need to bring it up anymore.

"All right, I think you don't like it," said Mrs. Park with a relieved smile.

"Let me see. Your feet looks red and should be treated immediately," added Mrs. Park who was worried about the condition of her daughter-in-law's feet.

"What's wrong, Eunnie?" asked Shin-hye who walked over to them.

"Who is she?" She added while knitting her eyebrows. Looking at Soo Yin's very foreign face, if she thought about it, she didn't seem like her family.

"Let me introduce you, she is a candidate...." Mrs. Park words was immediately cut.

"Let me introduce you, she is Soo Yin, my personal secretary," Dae Hyun said quickly before his mother introduced Soo Yin as her future daughter-in-law.

"It turns out that this is your new secretary. Long time no visit to the hotel makes me don't know," said Shin-hye.

"Dae Hyun, your secretary is still very young. Watch out, don't be tempted," Shin-hye said with a teasing chuckle.

"Of course not, she will soon be in a relationship with Park Soo Hyun," said Mrs. Park.

"So she is the girl who is rumored to be close to Park Soo Hyun. It turns out that that child did not choose the wrong choice. Beautiful and still very young," she praised as she circled Soo Yin's body. Seeing her appearance from top to bottom.

Shin-hye had met Soo Yin earlier, but she was too busy with other guests that she didn't pay much attention to her.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples imagining that someday his extended family will find out the truth. Moreover, they thought that Soo Yin was in a relationship with Park Soo Hyun. Dae Hyun really wanted to end it quickly.

"Let's talk later, Soo Yin's wound must be treated first," said Dae Hyun so that they could escape the conversation which was sure would get further away.

"All right, just ask the maid in this house for medicine," said Shin-hye.

Dae Hyun nodded his head indicating that he understood and then invited Soo Yin to follow him to a quieter family room. He felt sorry to see his little wife who walked on tiptoes because of pain. If this weren't at his family's house, Dae Hyun would have picked her up.

By the time he walked away, Dae Hyun could still hear the conversations of his family members even though they only could be heard faintly.

"Hopefully they are matched. The girl looks still innocent and polite," said Shin-hye to Mrs. Park.

"Right, she also looks very kind," added another.

"I can't wait to see Park Soo Hyun get married. Looks like he's quite mature."

"That's right, especially when the girl got the flower bouquet. I'm sure they'll get married soon."

Soo Yin felt goosebumps at their statement about her and Park Soo Hyun. If she knew it was going to be complicated like this, she should have just rejected it bluntly at that time.

She looked at Dae Hyun who had a sour and worried face. Soo Yin knew that her husband felt the same way and his position must be very difficult.

Not wanting to listen to their chat any further, Soo Yin and Dae Hyun sped up their steps to the family room. Dae Hyun thought his son would stay in the living room with his grandmother but Jo Yeon Ho now jogged behind them.

"Yeon Ho, don't run around like that," said Dae Hyun who was worried that his son would fall. However, the child did not listen, instead he accelerated his run more and then threw himself on the sofa first.

Dae Hyun just shook his head at his stubborn son.

As directed by Shin-hye, Dae Hyun immediately asked one of the servants in the house for medicine.

"Your feet are turning red," said Dae Hyun, who was already crouched down to treat Soo Yin's wound.

He can see that the back of Soo Yin's feet was indeed scratched by the friction of her shoes. Maybe during the dance she moved too much. Moreover, Dae Hyun asked her to chat earlier so maybe Soo Yin didn't notice.

"Let me treat the wound myself," said Soo Yin, she was about to get off the sofa to squat down. She didn't feel good if anyone looked at them in a position like this. A boss treated his secretary's feet. That was something very absurd.

"It's okay, stay on top," Dae Hyun said in a tone of command. How could he have the heart to let his little wife treat her own wounds.

"Sir, it's not nice if other people see it," Soo Yin said as she looked around.

She could see several servants were looking at them with a look full of question marks. Less or more, they already knew that Dae Hyun was Aeri's husband.

Dae Hyun sighed softly, ignoring his wife's words. He really didn't care of what other people think of them. He just did whatever he wanted.

"Don't mind it," Dae Hyun said in a relaxed tone as he rubbed the ointment on Soo Yin's feet.

Soo Yin finally can only stay silent according to what her husband ordered. No matter how hard she would refuse her husband, he will persist. Even though now she felt completely uncomfortable.

After finishing treating his little wife's wound, Dae Hyun went off for a while to get Soo Yin a water. Was already guessed that his wife must be thirsty right now. So now there were only Soo Yin and Jo Yeon Ho who were sitting there.

Jo Yeon Ho was sitting while leaning his head on the sofa, he seemed like yawning. The child was sleepy and tired. Even occasionally he blinked to get rid of his sleepiness.

"Yeon Ho, sleep on my lap," said Soo Yin as she patted her lap. She felt sorry for Yeon Ho, whose eye strength to stay awake was only left a few watts.

Without refuting, Jo Yeon Ho immediately shifted his body closer to Soo Yin because now he was very sleepy. In fact, just a few minutes, he immediately fell asleep on Soo Yin's lap which he used as a cushion.

"Geez, this kid has slept very soundly," said Soo Yin as she shifted her seat to make it more comfortable.

"He looks very sleepy and tired," she added. She rubbed Jo Yeon Ho's head gently. Then also leaned her head on the back of the sofa because sleepiness was slowly starting to come.

Not long after that, Dae Hyun came with a tray in his hand containing drinks and foods. Actually he didn't have to bother because there was a waiter. But whenever Soo Yin was near, he wanted to always serve her.

"Geez, why is Yeon Ho sleeping on your lap?" Dae Hyun said as he put the tray on the table.

"He looks like he's really sleepy," said Soo Yin as she straightened herself up so she could sit up straight.

"Let him sleep on my lap, you must be tired too," said Dae Hyun as he stretched out his hand to move his son's body.

"No, he will wake up later. Let him be here a little longer," said Soo Yin. She was quite happy to hold Yeon Ho, who she was considered to be her own son.

Dae Hyun looked at the clock curled up in his hand, it was almost eleven o'clock in the evening. In the outside, the guests had started to go home. Only his extended families that were still together. If there was an event like this, they often used it to chat. Because it was rare for big families to gather, which was hindered by their respective activities.

"I better take you home," Dae Hyun said. He didn't mean to kick her out but he was afraid that his wife would be tired.

"Soon," said Soo Yin as she looked at Jo Yeon Ho's cute face who was fast asleep.

Finally they continued the chat with little things that were not really important.

Hae Sok was walking to her room to rest. She turned towards the living room when she heard the voice of people talking. It made her even more curious because it seemed like she heard Dae Hyun's chuckling voice.

"It turns out to be you, earlier I thought it was someone else." Hae Sok approached them while observing Jo Yeon Ho who was fast asleep. She acted casually seeing those who looked close because she already knew there was a relationship between them.

"Dae Hyun, your son should just sleep in my room. Poor Soo Yin if he is on her lap for too long," Hae Sok said.

"It's okay, Grandma," Soo Yin said with a friendly smile.

"How about your relationship?" Hae Sok asked as she threw herself on the sofa.

"Of course we're still fine, Grandma," Dae Hyun said.

"You must always remember what grandmother said at that time," Hae Sok said regarding their relationship that his uncle and aunt should not know. Not that she meant to support their relationship but if Dae Hyun insisted like that she couldn't do anything.

"Don't worry, Grandma," said Dae Hyun who understood what his grandmother meant.

They then continued the conversation that had nothing to do with Dae Hyun and Soo Yin. They had to hide it for now anyway so they wouldn't be caught.

o

It turned out that Aeri had been looking for her son's whereabouts at the location of the event. She thought the boy had been offended like before because she had spoken harshly. Jo Yeon Ho was going to be alone and that made Aeri feel anxious. Afraid that Jo Yeon Ho was getting away from her.

She did not dare to ask the others because if they found out that her son was not there, they would definitely blame her. Earlier she was too emotional to make her forget about her son.

It was only when she entered the house that Aeri found out that Jo Yeon Ho had been with Dae Hyun from her mother-in-law. She then went to the family room.

Her chest became hot again when she saw Yeon Ho was asleep on Soo Yin's lap. Her body trembled even more when she thought that Soo Yin was the woman Dae Hyun was referring to. If not, why didn't Dae Hyun bring the woman tonight. Aeri was even more confused because Soo Yin was also close to Park Soo Hyun.

With patience that was already restrained, Aeri approached them. Especially when she saw Hae Sok. She was sure that woman would defend her.

"Soo Yin, it turns out that you hid Yeon Ho here. I've been looking around for him but you just keep quiet," Aeri said with a cynical face. She couldn't hide her dislike for Soo Yin.

"Nobody's hiding Jo Yeon Ho because he's been with us," Dae Hyun said with a flat face. Looked like what Soo Yin did was always wrong in Aeri's eyes. Didn't know what sin that he was committed in the past to marry a wife like Aeri.

"Dae Hyun, you're always defending her," said Aeri.

"Don't argue, it's already late. Don't you feel ashamed of the other families if you're making a fuss just for something like this," Hae Sok grumbled. Aeri's arrival made her feel uncomfortable because she always made a fuss. Moreover, the last time they met made Hae Sok lose trust to Aeri.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 305 - 305 - News Circulating

"I just don't like Soo Yin to approach my son because there seems to be a hidden purpose to this family, Grandma," said Aeri while glancing at Soo Yin sarcastically.

"Sorry, I didn't mean it that way." Soo Yin dared to defend herself. If there were another purpose, Soo Yin didn't need to do it by approaching Jo Yeon Ho because she had even found two men who can be used.

"What a teaser!" Aeri sneered.

Soo Yin pretended not to listen to what Aeri said even though her chest felt very tight.

"Grandma, sir, I better go home," Soo Yin said before Aeri embarrassed her even more, it would be better if she resigned. Since her arrival at the party, Aeri seemed very ambitious to humiliate her.

"Wait here for a while, later I'll take you," Dae Hyun said, then stood up and took his son to the room occupied by Hae Sok.

Seeing Dae Hyun, who was nowhere to be seen, Soo Yin immediately said goodbye to Hae Sok to return to her house.

"Grandma, I'll go home first. See you later, Grandma," said Soo Yin politely and respectfully.

"If you want to go home then go," Aeri said indirectly.

Soo Yin just rubbed her chest at Aeri's cynical words that kept piercing her heart. Always convinced her heart that the real winner had to be in pain first.

After saying goodbye to everyone she passed, Soo Yin immediately walked out of Hyun Bin's house. Luckily, Park Soo Hyun didn't appear again because he was busy.

However, just about to contact Chung Ho to pick her up, her cell phone rang. It was Dae Hyun who contacted her.

"Honey, where are you? Didn't I say don't go? Why are you so stubborn to not listen to your husband? What if something happens to you?" Question after question immediately came out of Dae Hyun's lips, who was very worried about his wife. Bitter memories of that incident still flashed through his mind.

"Calm down, I'm in front of the gate. Besides, I also want to ask Chung Ho to pick me up," said Soo Yin.

"Stay there and don't go anywhere until I arrive," Dae Hyun ordered in a stern tone and cut the line.

Soo Yin just sighed in resignation. Not wanting to worry her husband but Soo Yin didn't feel good with his family. It was as if Dae Hyun was like a driver who had to pick up and drop her off.

Soon a silver Maybach stopped right in front of Soo Yin. Inevitably, Soo Yin had to enter and return home delivered by Dae Hyun.

=====

Two days later.

Today Soo Yin decided to go back to work at The Silla Seoul Hotel. After consulting with doctor Mi Young, she was now fully recovered and can do her usual activities. Even though it seemed that Soo Yin had always been doing her daily activities. In fact, she also often did her activities outside.

Since the wedding, Soo Yin had not meet her husband. So that today she wanted to surprise him.

Wearing a black skirt combined with a red shirt, Soo Yin got out of the car driven by Chung Ho. She got off on the side of the road before he entered the hotel area.

Today she also intended to meet with Jae-hwa to ask how the results of the entrance exam to the university were. Since yesterday she wanted to ask Dae Hyun to take her but unfortunately her husband did not have time. Soo Yin understood because Dae Hyun had to finish his job.

Soo Yin frowned when she met several female employees who looked at her quite cynically. Even so, Soo Yin was reluctant to ask because it seemed like she didn't do anything.

"Look at her, still have the balls to come to work at this hotel."

"That's right, she doesn't know herself. Look at the video how after she was with Mr. Park Soo Hyun, she danced with Mr. Dae Hyun."

"Maybe she is already shameless. Couldn't she take care of Miss Aeri's feelings?"

"An innocent girl but not as innocent as she looks."

"Took days off without knowing on how Mr. Dae Hyun has to work alone."

The employees just found out that Soo Yin took days off to go on a vacation as well as entered university exams. However Soo Yin had been on days off for too long so it's natural for them to say that.

When she walked from the lobby to the 10th floor, the only faint words could be heard. Soo Yin tried not to listen to them. It was unexpected that her intention to go to work today made her listen to their babbling.

Now Soo Yin was standing in front of the door to enter Dae Hyun's room. But undermined after hearing the chatter voice in the room.

"It's all because of you that people speak badly about Soo Yin." Park Soo Hyun raised his voice when talking to his brother. It had been two days since the rumors about Soo Yin had been spreading but they cannot be suppressed.

"Why are you blaming me? You don't have to bother listening to them all. You just need to make orders whoever talks badly about Soo Yin then get ready to be fired," said Dae Hyun calmly because he had previously asked Chang Yuan to make the announcement.

"Hyeong, you're the one who should give orders because you are the leader of this hotel," said Park Soo Hyun.

"You too will soon be the leader of this hotel. If you don't want the rumors to circulate widely, then do it now," Dae Hyun commanded firmly. He was also not willing to listen to employees talking about his little wife. It was all not Soo Yin's fault. Dae Hyun did not think that his intention to just dance would cause such a polemic.

"What do you mean, Hyeong?" Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows together. Trying to digest what his brother said.

"Never mind, after the board of directors meeting you will find out too," said Dae Hyun with a flat face.

"Don't make me curious, Hyeong. Tell me what's going on?" said Park Soo Hyun.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 306 - 306 - Need Hugs

"Hurry up and ask Chang Yuan to make his announcement before Soo Yin hears the employees talk about her," Dae Hyun ordered.

"Okay, then I'll go. When will Soo Yin be coming back to work again? Is her college business not over yet?" Park Soo Hyun actually wanted to ask Soo Yin directly but was forbidden by Dae Hyun.

The reason was fear of interrupting Soo Yin's study concentration. Actually that's a pretty plausible reason. With them keeping asking about it, Soo Yin will feel bad that she had been off for too long.

"Later when she's finished she will definitely return to work soon," said Dae Hyun.

Although not satisfied with his brother's answer, Park Soo Hyun finally decided to step outside. Actually, Park Soo Hyun can't wait to hear Soo Yin's answer because the time given had passed. At his cousin's wedding, he should have been able to get Soo Yin's answer. But because Dae Hyun, it made everything messed up.

Hearing the sound of footsteps approaching the door, Soo Yin immediately walked away to hide because she didn't want to meet Park Soo Hyun. She hid behind a pole until Park Soo Hyun slowly walked away and was out of sight in the hallway.

Soo Yin also very sad that she found out that the employees were talking about her. But what can she do because everything had happened. Maybe she really had to go through all of this.

Longing that was already at its peak, because she did not meet and sent messages by her husband, made Soo Yin then pushed the door open. She wanted to meet her husband soon.

Dae Hyun, who was focused on looking at the monitor screen, turned towards the door when he heard the sound of the door creaking open. He thought it was Park Soo Hyun who came back to his room.

"Honey," Dae Hyun said and then stood up and approached his wife who was locking the door.

Dae Hyun immediately showered an affectionate kiss on his wife's cheek and neck. Then hugged her so tightly like they hadn't seen each other for a long time.

"What's up in this hotel?" Soo Yin asked after Dae Hyun stopped kissing her cheeks.

"The news is very good. Why didn't you tell me if you're coming here today? So I can ask Chang Yuan to pick you up," Dae Hyun said.

"At first I wanted to surprise you but unfortunately I was the one who was surprised," Soo Yin said as she pursed her lips.

"What surprised you?"

"Don't cover it from me. I heard what you were talking about earlier. In fact, I also heard some employees sneer when they passed me," Soo Yin said with a sad face. No woman wanted to be accused like that even though they were facts.

"So, have you heard it? You don't need to care about that sneer because they all don't know what really happened," said Dae Hyun.

"Calm down, soon Chang Yuan will definitely take care of it. Sorry, maybe it's all because of me," Dae Hyun added regretfully.

"Never mind, I'm not here to talk about it," said Soo Yin while hugging Dae Hyun's body to get rid of her complaints.

Soo Yin needed Dae Hyun's hug to get rid of the words that were sounding so sadistic in her ears. Although not completely lost, at least able to calm her heart.

Soo Yin hugged Dae Hyun's body so tightly with her hands that continued to trace his back. Made Dae Hyun feel a strange feeling. Normal men will definitely felt that if they were around their women, especially since they had not united their love for a long time.

Dae Hyun stretched his body a little then grabbed Soo Yin's chin. Seeing the sweet smile etched on her lips made Dae Hyun thoughtlessly land his lips on those ripe lips.

Suck it and took a gentle sip to treat a little bit of longing that was eating away at his body. Soo Yin happily reciprocated because she felt the same way too.

They did it for a while until their breaths were chasing and panting. If he didn't remember there will be a meeting soon. Dae Hyun had carried Soo Yin's body into the room.

After enough to make their homesickness relieved, Dae Hyun let go of the kiss.

"Why don't you tell me you're going to work today? Have you consulting to doctor Mi Young?" Dae Hyun asked as he led Soo Yin to walk over to the sofa.

"Calm down, now I'm very much recovered," Soo Yin said with enthusiasm and cheerful face. Getting a sweet kiss made Soo Yin feel like she got new energy.

"Thank God, I'm very happy to hear that," said Dae Hyun.

"What are you carrying by the way?" Dae Hyun asked as he moved his body a little so that there was some distance between them.

"Ah, I almost forgot. Here I am bringing you food for breakfast. Have you had breakfast?" said Soo Yin while showing the box she was carrying. Fortunately, it didn't fall earlier when they kissed. Soo Yin hoped that if her husband hadn't eaten yet so she won't feel in vain for cooking.

Dae Hyun was about to say that he had breakfast but his lips felt heavy to open. He can't bear to say that.

"Not yet, how about you? Have you had breakfast?" Dae Hyun asked when his stomach was full. He thought Soo Yin hadn't left for work yet so he had breakfast first.

"Not yet, I purposely wanted to have breakfast with you," said Soo Yin as she put the lunchbox on the table.

Just as Soo Yin was about to open the lid, someone was already knocking on the door from outside. Forcefully Soo Yin stepped her foot to open it.

"Sir?" Soo Yin's eyes widened immediately. Then she immediately bowed her body politely to see who was coming. He was a middle-aged man who had become her in-laws.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 307 - 307 - Meeting Will Be Held Soon

"Is Dae Hyun in there?" Park Ji Hoon asked to the point.

"Please come in, sir. He's in there," Soo Yin said, while looking down, did not dare to look at her father-in-law.

Due to Park Ji Hoon's presence, Soo Yin chose to step into her desk which she had not occupied for a long time.

What made Soo Yin frown was when she saw the photo in the frame. The photo of her that was plastered on the frame was replaced with a photo of Dae Hyun. Photo of Dae Hyun who only had a serious expression. Without the slightest smile on his lips.

Soo Yin reached out to grab it until a smile etched on her lips. She did not expect that her husband would want to put his picture too. So where is her photo? Soo Yin intended to ask him later after Park Ji Hoon left.

Dae Hyun knitted his brows together when he saw Park Ji Hoon who came. Then they sat on the sofa. Dae Hyun could already guess that Park Ji Hoon's arrival in his room for sure to talk about something.

"Dae Hyun, can't you delay your intention." Although his son could not possibly want to abandon his intention. It couldn't hurt Park Ji Hoon to try.

"Now it's the time before it's too late. I think I've sacrificed so much time for this hotel. Now it's Park Soo Hyun's turn to do it," Dae Hyun said as he leaned his head on the back of the sofa.

"Your brother is not very reliable yet," said Park Ji Hoon with a sigh. His current position was really difficult.

"I feel like he's quite old. I used to serve in this hotel much younger than him. I'm doing this because it's just for the sake of goodness. Sooner or later my relationship will be uncovered," Dae Hyun said while staring at the ceiling of the room.

"If your brother finds out that you have a relationship with her, he will also be very disappointed," Park Ji Hoon said to express his anxiety.

"Someday he will understand, the most important thing is that this hotel does not fall into the hands of uncles and aunts. Besides, you don't have to worry, I will definitely help Park Soo Hyun's work until he really understands," said Dae Hyun to calm his father's heart so he wouldn't worry.

"It's up to you. I'm just worried about your brother and this hotel in the future," said Park Ji Hoon while sighing resignedly to what his eldest son would do.

Dae Hyun looked at the clock on his hand and it turned out that the meeting will soon begin. It cannot be denied that he was also excited. There were doubts if the board of directors will grant his request to step down from office. Remembered that while he was leading, the development of the hotel went very fast.

"Father, it looks like the meeting will start soon," Dae Hyun said. Indirectly trying to kick Park Ji Hoon out of his room. He wanted to talk to his wife before going into the meeting room.

Park Ji Hoon seemed to be able to read what his son was thinking so he immediately left the room.

Soo Yin was still in her chair even though her father-in-law had left as she was rearranging her desk so it was nice to look at.

After his father left, Dae Hyun immediately approached Soo Yin while carrying the lunchbox that Soo Yin had brought. He then threw his butt on the chair in front of Soo Yin's desk.

"Haven't you had breakfast?" Dae Hyun asked again to make sure. He then opened the lunch box.

Soo Yin shook her head.

"You have to eat a lot. Let me feed you," Dae Hyun said with a smile and then fed a spoonful of food into Soo Yin's mouth.

Soo Yin opened her mouth and chewed the food slowly.

"Aren't you eating?"

"I want to eat you more today," Dae Hyun said with a chuckle.

Soo Yin's heart was pounding. How not, everyone who hadn't felt it for too long will definitely felt it too. Made Soo Yin take another sip of saliva while imagining a hot sex that hadn't happened for a long time.

Check ...

Without a knock on the door, Park Soo Hyun suddenly walked into the room. His gaze immediately fell on Dae Hyun and Soo Yin. He was very stunned to see the scene in front of him at this time.

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin immediately looked at the creaky door. They thought it was Chang Yuan who came.

"Cough... cough... cough...." Soo Yin's throat felt choked at the arrival of Patm Soo Hyun who made the food that was in her stomach almost spurt out.

Dae Hyun hurriedly handed a glass of water to Soo Yin.

"What are you doing?" Park Soo Hyun knitted his eyebrows to see Dae Hyun who was about to feed food into Soo Yin's mouth but pulled it back because Soo Yin was coughing.

"Park Soo Hyun, can't you knock on the door first when you enter," said Dae Hyun coldly. He tried to be calm and hopefully his younger brother didn't think anything bad.

Park Soo Hyun stepped towards them. Began to feel suspicious but was quickly pushed over by him.

"What did you feed Soo Yin for?" Park Soo Hyun could no longer contain his curiosity. He felt like he was betrayed by his own brother.

"Do you want it too? Come eat with us. I'm happy to feed you," said Dae Hyun, trying to make a joke.

"Soo Yin's hand hurts because she just got caught in the bathroom door. She is having a little trouble eating so I helped feed her. Do you mind?" That absurd excuse just escaped Dae Hyun's lips.

"Is it true that you were caught in the door? Tell me which one hurts," said Park Soo Hyun who immediately grabbed Soo Yin's hand who was on the table and blew it.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 308 - 308 - Isn't It Disgusted?

Dae Hyun gave a code by blinking a few times at Soo Yin to pretend that her arm hurted. He didn't want Park Soo Hyun to find out about their relationship before his plan was successful.

"Ah, right, sir. My hand still hurts a bit," Soo Yin stammered with cold sweat that had already left her body and her heart was also beating very fast.

"Let me see it, why weren't you careful?" Park Soo Hyun then massaged Soo Yin's wrist.

Dae Hyun clenched his fists trying to hold back the emotion and chaos in his heart. Luckily he was able to find an excuse so that his younger brother would not be suspicious.

"Hyeong, you better let me feed Soo Yin," said Park Soo Hyun.

With great compulsion, finally Dae Hyun got up and went to his desk without a word being spoken. If he refused it, it was likely that Park Soo Hyun will be even more suspicious.

Park Soo Hyun sat and massaged Soo Yin's finger gently while blowing on it.

"Is it getting better?" Park Soo Hyun stopped the massage.

It really made Soo Yin feel bad because she felt like she cheated to him. Even so, she didn't dare to say it.

"Not bad, it doesn't hurt that much anymore." Soo Yin pretended to move her arm up to her fingers.

"Thank God, I'm glad to hear that," said Park Soo Hyun with a smile.

"Have you been to the hotel for a long time? I was here but you weren't around?"

"I haven't been here long," said Soo Yin with a faint smile.

"Alright, now eat it. I'll feed you." Park Soo Hyun started shoving food into Soo Yin's mouth so that Soo Yin couldn't help but open her mouth.

Dae Hyun, who had been observing from his proud chair, felt even more furious that he unconsciously punched the table. He couldn't stand it to see his brother did that to his little wife. His gaze had not been diverted from Soo Yin's table.

The stomach that hadn't been filled since morning made Park Soo Hyun felt hungry so he fed the food into his mouth using the same spoon as Soo Yin.

"Don't, sir," said Soo Yin when Park Soo Hyun was about to put food into his mouth.

"What is wrong?" Park Soo Hyun frowned.

"Aren't you disgusted by eating with the same spoon as me?" asked Soo Yin with an innocent face. She glanced briefly at Dae Hyun who seemed to lower his head with his clenched fists on the table.

"Ha ha ha." Instead of answering, Park Soo Hyun laughed so crisply that it made Soo Yin goosebumps hearing it.

"Should I be disgusted? Never mind eating with the same spoon used by you, I don't even feel disgusted if I have to eat your bite marks," Park Soo Hyun said lightly.

Soo Yin just stunned to hear the man's answer. Really made her feel even more headache. It turned out that the two brothers were the same. According to her, Park Soo Hyun was even worse.

"Then just finish it all because I'm full. I'll excuse myself to the bathroom first," said Soo Yin as she stood up then stepped into the bathroom.

Soo Yin immediately washed her hands. Dae Hyun would really get angry because Park Soo Hyun touched her. However, it was not entirely her fault because it was her husband's idea to say that her wrist hurted.

"What should I do now?" Soo Yin felt frustrated between the two men. They did not make any sense either.

For a while, Soo Yin decided to linger in the bathroom. Hopefully, when she came out, Park Soo Hyun was no longer there.

Park Soo Hyun returned to feed the food into his mouth. His life felt really happy right now. It turned out that eating Soo Yin's marks tasted very delicious. It was like tasting the sweetness of Soo Yin's very seductive lips. Without realizing it, Park Soo Hyun imagined that one day kissing Soo Yin would really arouse his passion. The man smiled to himself at the thought.

Dae Hyun could no longer contain his anger. This was Park Soo Hyun's second time doing that. Even now blatantly did it before his eyes. With wide strides, Dae Hyun rushed to Soo Yin's table again.

"Park Soo Hyun, that's Soo Yin's food , why did you finish it?"

"So what? Soo Yin also said that she was full," said Park Soo Hyun casually.

Dae Hyun grabbed the food box and sat on Soo Yin's chair. He quickly finished all his food using his hands. Not willing the food that should be eaten with him was Park Soo Hyun who finished it.

"Didn't you have breakfast earlier?" Park Soo Hyun widened his eyes in disbelief that the lunchbox was already empty.

"I'm still hungry," Dae Hyun said curtly.

The siblings both glanced at Soo Yin's glass of half water. For a moment they looked at each other. Before finally they reached out to grab the glass simultaneously.

"Park Soo Hyun, remove your hand," Dae Hyun ordered firmly.

"I'm thirsty too," said Park Soo Hyun, did not wanting to lose.

Soo Yin finally got out of the bathroom because she seemed to hear some noise. Soo Yin stared at the sight of two grown men who were fighting over a glass like a child.

"What's all this fuss?" said Soo Yin while knitting her eyebrows.

"No," Park Soo Hyun said with a grimace and then loosened his hand from the glass. So that the opportunity was immediately made Dae Hyun to drink the water until it ran out.

"Hyeong?" Park Soo Hyun put on an annoyed face at his brother.

"Now, you better get ready because soon the meeting will start. Come back to your room right now," said Dae Hyun who didn't care about Park Soo Hyun who would protest.

"There's still fifteen minutes left," said Park Soo Hyun who was reluctant to get out of his seat.

"Hurry out, before I drag you," said Dae Hyun who was already emotional. The image of a romantic breakfast with his wife ended in chaos because of Park Soo Hyun.

"Alright," Park Soo Hyun said with a sigh of resignation.

"Soo Yin, see you later," he added with a smile that was so alluring. He kissed his own finger for a moment then pointed it at Soo Yin.

"Park Soo Hyun, come out quickly!" Dae Hyun shouted, who was very sick of seeing his brother did such childish things.

Park Soo Hyun immediately left his brother's room. Actually he felt strange with his brother's attitude. But the joy of meeting Soo made him forget about it.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 309 - 309 - Meeting

After Park Soo Hyun came out, Dae Hyun then locked the door while holding back the emotions in his chest. Angry, so angry that he went back to punching the door so hard. He was angry because Park Soo Hyun was more annoying every day to tease his wife. Whereas he can't do many things.

Soo Yin even rubbed her chest in surprise. She looked at the face of the man who had occupied the highest position in her heart.

Dae Hyun then put his fist against the wall with a bowed position.

Soo Yin slowly stepped over to her desk to pick up her bag. Unexpectedly, her purpose to give him a surprise today would've ended up with a commotion between the two brothers.

Soo Yin let out a deep sigh as she continued to walk toward her husband.

"If I'm just making a fuss here, I'd better go home," Soo Yin said with trembling lips. Trying to be strong so that the crystal ball didn't fall out of the corner of her eye.

Soo Yin didn't regret coming to the hotel early in the morning but she was sorry that she will cause a fight between them someday. It was already like that now, what about later. Really Soo Yin couldn't imagine if Park Soo Hyun would find out everything.

Dae Hyun turned his head to hear his little wife say that. His eyes looked very clear to reduce anger. Without saying anything then he stepped his feet toward Soo Yin.

Seeing her husband's expression made Soo Yin move backward. Never had seen Dae Hyun look at her like that.

Dae Hyun quickly grabbed Soo Yin's nape so that she couldn't move then landed a kiss on her lips.

Soo Yin was suddenly surprised by what Dae Hyun did because she thought he was going to do something else. When Soo Yin's mouth opened, Dae Hyun then played with his tongue to explore every corner of his wife's mouth.

Until Soo Yin slowly closed her eyes and put her hand around Dae Hyun's neck. She felt that Dae Hyun's kiss this time was very different from being hasty. Not the soft, affectionate kiss he was used to. Dae Hyun continued to crush her lips roughly for a long time.

Dae Hyun let go of his grasping after his emotions started to stabilize and he realized what he had done.

"Sorry," Dae Hyun said softly as he moved his body away. He almost lost control.

"Are you mad?" Soo Yin said, while looking into her husband's eagle eyes. She moved her lips a little because they felt a little swollen.

Instead of answering, Dae Hyun hugged Soo Yin's body tightly. Trying to convince himself that his wife was only his and will not be owned by anyone else including Park Soo Hyun.

"I'm just mad at myself for putting you in a difficult situation like this." Dae Hyun kept stroking Soo Yin's hair then kissing her forehead repeatedly.

"Then what should I do? Sooner or later Park Soo Hyun will definitely ask me to answer him," Soo Yin said sadly. Really can't bear if she had to reject Park Soo Hyun after giving him a long time.

"I promise that after this meeting it will all be over. You just have to turn him down." Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's face then kissed her forehead for a few moments before finally letting go.

"Hopefully everything goes well. Now go, didn't you say the meeting will be hold soon," Soo Yin said.

"Hmmm, it's okay to be late sometimes. Are you coming?" Dae Hyun asked.

"For what? Isn't the meeting attended only by family and important people?" Soo Yin just asked back.

"With you being there will make me feel much stronger," Dae Hyun said with a smile and then rubbed his wife's lips with his thumb.

Seeing Soo Yin's face this morning made Dae Hyun even more determined to immediately end his term as director of the hotel. He was sure that he will never regret his decision.

"I'm just gonna be here waiting for you," said Soo Yin with a smile. She grabbed Dae Hyun's finger which was still on her cheek and squeezed it lightly.

"Okay, stay here," Dae Hyun said before finally stepping out. He was ten minutes late which was sure to piss off the board of directors. It's actually even better, making it easier for him to step down from his position.

◦

◦

In the meeting room,

Sure enough, as expected by Dae Hyun, all the chairs were filled with important hotel people. There was also Park Ji Hoon who had sat across the table. He seemed silent while massaging his temples. There were also his two uncles, namely Jung Woo who represented Aunt Hyun Bin and Goong Min who represented Aunt Shin-hye.

The others were investors who had invested a considerable amount of money in The Silla Seoul Hotel. Although there were some who did not come because some were outside the country.

Meanwhile, Park Soo Hyun sat next to Park Ji Hoon.

Dae Hyun first looked at everyone present and then bowed his body as a sign of respect and courtesy. The one who knew about the meeting that was held that day was Park Ji Hoon. Others didn't know anything about it because Dae Hyun didn't tell them when the invitation was given. They just thought it was like a regular meeting that was held every month.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath of air from his nose then exhaled from his mouth to get rid of all his nervousness. Without sitting down first, he immediately stood at the place usually used for speeches.

"Good morning, everyone. Thank you for coming to the meeting this time," Dae Hyun said while catching his breath.

The others seemed to be focused on listening while wondering what Dae Hyun's purpose was to gather them all.

"To the honorable Board of Directors, I would like to thank you all because all of you have entrusted me to lead this hotel. After much deliberation, it seems that we have to replace the head of this hotel with a new director." Dae Hyun paused for a moment.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 310 - 310 - Meeting (2)

Everyone looked at each other, then looked at Dae Hyun questioningly.

"What do you mean, Hyeong?" said Park Soo Hyun who was flabbergasted like the others who heard the narrative of his brother.

Park Ji Hoon was silent while listening to the people arguing with each other. Did not want to participate in responding because he already know it first.

"Dae Hyun, you don't have to make jokes like that," Jung Woo said with a laugh followed by the others.

"Never mind, there's no need to replace it with anyone. Only you who deserves to be the director of this hotel," Goong Min said.

Dae Hyun's two uncles said that because now Dae Hyun was fine and they didn't know about his relationship with Soo Yin yet. If they found out maybe at this time his two uncles would be fighting over the position of director.

Dae Hyun gave them time to argue and share their opinions. Even though it wouldn't be taken into consideration but at least he had to listen to what they wanted. Dae Hyun's determination was made up so nothing could stop him.

"I'm doing this just intending to make the hotel even more advanced," Dae Hyun said again.

"You don't have to bother looking for it because I've already appointed who will replace me. I'm sure if you guys will definitely agree to make him a director," Dae Hyun added while sighing softly.

The meeting room was getting more and more clamorous now as several people were talking to themselves. It seemed that they didn't want Dae Hyun to step down from his post. However, Dae Hyun pretended not to listen to what they said.

"I will appoint Park Soo Hyun as the new director of The Silla Seoul Hotel," Dae Hyun said in a loud and firm voice. Now there was a feeling of relief that he had said everything.

"What?"

Everyone said this in unison while looking at Dae Hyun with a look full of question marks. Until a few moments the meeting room was silent because everyone was so shocked. Thought that Dae Hyun had gone crazy. Basically no one will want to step down from their post. They didn't expect Dae Hyun to say that after he worked so hard work for the hotel for so long.

"Dae Hyun, didn't we say we don't have to make jokes like that. Park Soo Hyun is still too young. He...." Jung Woo stopped his words when he glanced at Park Soo Hyun. Willing to say unreliable but immediately discouraged.

"Watch your words, don't play around like that," said Pak Ooh who was one of the board of directors.

They continued to argue against the idea of Dae Hyun wanting to quit his position.

"You don't need to worry, I will keep helping Park Soo Hyun's work until he really can do it himself," Dae Hyun said to make sure that Park Soo Hyun can be relied on.

"Please, rethink what you have said. Because not only is this hotel that will suffer losses, but we will also feel very disadvantaged," Mr. Choi protested.

"Hyeong, what are you really thinking? Where are you going exactly?" Park Soo Hyun said as he stood up because he was the one who was the most surprised among the others.

"I'm not going anywhere. I just want us to change positions so you can feel how it is like to be a leader. It's enough that I have devoted my life to work in this hotel. Now is the time for you to do it," Dae Hyun said firmly.

"I have no experience with all of this. How can you think like that?" Park Soo Hyun said, who participated in the protest about his brother's unreasonable idea.

"Father, what's the matter with him? Why is he suddenly like that?" Park Soo Hyun said, while looking at him.

"It's okay, you also have to learn to be a leader," Park Ji Hoon said calmly. As a father he also wanted his youngest son to come forward.

Everyone sounded rejecting what Dae Hyun was doing. They couldn't just let the hotel being led by an inexperienced person.

"Please, calm down everyone. Allow me to speak," Dae Hyun said, taking a deep breath and then let it out.

"My decision is unanimous. Even though I am no longer the director, I will still work well at this hotel. I hope you will accept my decision well. Starting tomorrow I will swap rooms first with Park Soo Hyun as a trial," Dae Hyun said again.

"One more thing, I am releasing this position because I want to focus on taking care of branches in various places," Dae Hyun continued.

"How can we believe what you say?"

"You really are out of your mind."

"No one would resign for just such a reason. You thought our money at this hotel was a joke."

Protest after protest came from the members of the board of directors.

"I think the meeting this time is enough. Please if you still want to talk," Dae Hyun said, who immediately resigned.

Dae Hyun decided to sit down because the results of the meeting had already been decided. It was up to them to agree or not. Just waiting for the appointment process of Park Soo Hyun, then everything will be over. After that, he just needed take care of his divorce from Aeri. Only then he will remarry Soo Yin to erase the traces circulating so that all this time Soo Yin was not considered as a side chick and a mistress.

The thought of how they walked on the altar made his heart flutter.

'Honey, be patient. Just one more step, I will make you my only queen, ' Dae Hyun thought with a smiling face.

Not wanting to listen to their arguments, Dae Hyun decided to leave the room. With casual steps, Dae Hyun walked towards the exit. Now the burden on his shoulders felt a little less. Hopefully his decision won't create chaos at the hotel.

Everyone in the meeting room discussed with each other asking for their opinion from Park Ji Hoon of why Dae Hyun suddenly did that. Even though lately it didn't seem like anything had happened.

-
-

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 311 - 311 - Wrong Room

Waiting for the meeting that must have been held a long time, Soo Yin decided to look for Jae-hwa. Maybe she can find him because his cellphone was always inactive when she tried to contact him. Soo Yin thought that probably Jae-hwa changed his cell phone number.

Finally, after searching through several places, Soo Yin saw from the end of the hall the figure of Jae-hwa who had just entered a hotel room. As usual he would do the job after the customer left the room.

It was a shame that suddenly there were so many employees outside that her way was blocked. Soo Yin can't see what hotel room Jae-hwa was in. When she reached the end of the hall, Soo Yin was even confused between entering room 133 or 134. Usually if there were workers inside, the door would not be locked.

Soo Yin ventured to turn one of the door knobs, but it was not locked. It was certain that Jae-hwa was inside. Soo Yin hoped that she won't go to the room wrong. When she entered the room there was no one inside. Only heard the water running came from the bathroom.

She thought that Jae-hwa was cleaning the toilet. Before becoming Dae Hyun's secretary, Soo Yin did the same thing Jae-hwa did so Soo Yin decided to sit by the bed waiting for Jae-hwa to come.

The sound of the door opening from the bathroom made Soo Yin turn her head.

Soo Yin widened her eyes when she saw who was standing in the middle of the door. It wasn't Jae-hwa who was there but a strange man she never knew. The man was only wearing a knee-length towel with water droplets dripping from his wet hair. The man looked like in the same age as Dae Hyun.

"Where's Jae-hwa?" thought Soo Yin who then stood up and immediately turned her face in another direction.

"Sorry I entered the wrong room, sir," Soo Yin said, didn't dare to look at the man. Immediately she hurried toward the door. When she wanted to open it, it turned out that the door was locked, making Soo Yin even more restless. Hopefully that guy wasn't a masher.

"Is it true that you entered the wrong room? Didn't you really intend to tease me?" said the man, while pulling one lip up.

Soo Yin finally got up the nerve to turn around. Didn't care about that man who hadn't put on his clothes. Her emotions rose because she was considered something bad by a man she didn't know.

"Please, watch your words!" Soo Yin snapped as she gritted her teeth. As much as possible she was still trying to be polite because that man was a guest of this hotel.

"Ha ha ha ... please don't pretend like that. Just tell me how much is your fee then I'll pay it," the man said with a mocking smile.

Soo Yin was completely flabbergasted by the statement the man that indirectly thought of her as a bitch. She clenched her fists tightly because she was holding back her anger.

"Once again please watch your words." Soo Yin's voice got even higher this time.

"Indeed, many girls are now selling dearly," the man said, while chuckling.

Soo Yin was eager to slap him but she didn't have much time to take care of a masher like him.

Reluctant to argue any longer, Soo Yin immediately turned around to open the door but the door was locked again.

"Please give me the key, sir," Soo Yin asked with the limits of politeness that had almost run out.

"It's not that easy for you to get out of this room," the man said with a meaningful smile.

Soo Yin's body immediately trembled looking at the man who was getting closer and closer toward her. The man continued to observe Soo Yin's body from bottom to top. As well as looking at Soo Yin's face who was considered very attractive.

Thin lips with long black hair and slanted eyes were enough to arouse his passion.

"Don't come near or I'll scream!" Soo Yin threatened without playing because the man didn't stop in his tracks.

"Isn't this room soundproof? No matter how loud you shout, no one will hear it," the man said with a chuckle.

Soo Yin was about to call someone but she even forgot to bring her cell phone. There was no thought that he would mistake the room like this. Soo Yin kept shuffling backwards until her back hit the door. She immediately turned around and then pounded on the door with all her strength hoping that someone would hear her.

"Please, please, help!" Soo Yin kept on screaming for help while trying hard to knock on the door. It made her hand hurt because it was too hard.

"You won't be able to run, little girl. You're like a little rabbit that enters a lion's den," the man said, followed by a really jarring laugh.

Soo Yin was completely terrified by the man's laughter. She thought back to the tragedy where Soo Yin was brought to the apartment by Lee Young Joon a few months ago. It really traumatized her. Soo Yin didn't know what was her fault that she had to go through something like that again.

Quickly the man lifted Soo Yin's body onto his shoulders then threw Soo Yin's body on the bed quite hard. Until Soo Yin felt her hand hurt.

"Don't mess around! Just so you know if I'm the secretary of this hotel," Soo Yin said in between grimacing due to the pain. She tried to sit up.

"Really? I don't believe in your nonsense at all! If you were a secretary you shouldn't have entered the wrong room."

The man looked impatient so he bumped into Soo Yin's body. Luckily Soo Yin was able to dodge and immediately rose to her feet.

"Apparently you are a very clever rabbit who likes to play, huh," the man said with a sly grin.

Soo Yin as much as possible went away so as not to get caught by the man. She was disgust to see him like that. All she wanted was Dae Hyun, no one else could touch her.

The man had run out of patience because Soo Yin always escaped and made fun of him. He immediately pursued Soo Yin wherever she avoided. Until he made Soo Yin cornered in a corner of the room.

Unexpectedly, the man Soo Yin slapped her cheek hard enough to make her stagger. The slap of a man with large palms was incomparable to a slap of a woman which will only cause red cheeks.

"Don't blame me for being rude to you. It's because you started it," the man said then grabbed Soo Yin's wrist then dragged her to the bed.

"Let go!" Soo Yin shouted while spitting on the man. As a result, the man became even angrier because Soo Yin's spit hit his face. It was an insult to him.

The man grabbed Soo Yin's hands back and grabbed his tie which was above the nightstand. Then tie it so tightly that Soo Yin was unable to rebel.

"Ah ... you cowardly man!" Soo Yin cursed boldly to him. The look in Soo Yin's eyes was fiery.

The man actually got up from the bed and took a pill that was above the nightstand. Put the pill into the water that was available there.

"Do you know what is it? You must have drunk it often," sneered the man, showing the glass filled with water that had been dissolved with the drug.

Soo Yin widened her eyes, wondering what kind of medicine the man was referring to.

"What would you do?" Soo Yin shouted angrily. Even though she didn't know what it was, clearly Soo Yin didn't want to die yet.

"Don't pretend," the man said with a sly grin. The man forcefully opened Soo Yin's mouth and spilled the water into her mouth.

With all her strength Soo Yin tried not to swallow it. Until she continued to spray the water into the man's face. Making the man even angrier then took a few pellets of medicine and immediately put them in Soo Yin's mouth.

Inevitably, Soo Yin swallowed it until it didn't take long for the drug to react in her body. Soo Yin felt a little dizzy accompanied by her body that was feeling hot and hot so that she wanted to take off her clothes.

Seeing that the stimulant was working, the man then untied the ties in Soo Yin's hand. He looked at Soo Yin who was writhing passionately.

Check ...

The door opened from outside.

"Je Ha," said a woman who had just opened the hotel room door from outside.

Hearing someone said his name, the man immediately turned his head towards the door. He thought Mi Na won't come back that soon.

"Je Ha, what are you doing? Who is that woman?" Mi Na's chest was very thunderous knowing that her boyfriend was with another woman. She continued to stand at the door for a few moments.

"Mi Na, calm down. She came to tease me earlier," said the man who turned out to be Je Ha. He then rushed over to Mi Na and held her hand.

Mi Na frowned then let go of her wrist. She walked to the bed to find out how the face of the woman in bed looked like.

Mi Na's eyes immediately widened when she saw Soo Yin up close.

"Soo Yin?" Mi Na said with an incredulous face as she turned her head towards Je Ha.

Mi Na had met Soo Yin when she was a tour guide a few months ago to accompany Mr. Peter Anderson. They were together long enough that Mi Na couldn't possibly mistake Soo Yin's face.

"What did you do to her?" Mi Na glared at Je Ha.

Even though Mi Na never met Soo Yin again, she was sure that Soo Yin was not a seductive woman.

"Didn't I say she was trying to tease me," Je Ha said to convince his target girl.

"There's no way Soo Yin teased you," Mi Na said while shaking her head.

"Do you know her?"

"Of course, we've met before."

"She just suddenly came and wanted to tease me. Look at her body if you don't believe it. She even immediately took a stimulant drug," Je Ha said nervously when Mi Na caught his rotten sense.

"Then why don't you wear your clothes? Hurry up and change your clothes," Mi Na said.

Je Ha sighed to refuse but he didn't. If he refused then he will definitely be caught by Mi Na. But his desire was unbearable. It occurred to him that having two girls would be better. Je Ha grinned slyly whilst glancing at Mi Na.

Je Ha then grabbed Mi Na's wrist, then threw the girl's body onto the bed next to Soo Yin. Because he was caught, he would do to both of them.

"Je Ha, what are you doing?" Mi Na tried to hit the chest of the man who had managed to confine her body.

"You kept me waiting too long," Je Ha said with a lopsided smile and was full of passion. Made Mi Na feel scared of that man.

Mi Na was a tour guide who accidentally met Je Ha a few days ago. Je Ha said that he liked Mi Na. They just checked in at this hotel this morning. Mi Na didn't know if Je Ha was a bad person.

"Please, let go!" Mi Na didn't think that Je Ha was a jerk.

Meanwhile, Jae-hwa who just finished cleaning up the room next to the room that Je Ha occupied. As he passed through the door he heard the vague voice of a woman asking for help.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 313 - 313 - Ex-lover's Husband

Dae Hyun was there at the same time. He had intended to find Soo Yin because he read the message sent on his cellphone. Soo Yin said that she wanted to see Jae-hwa. That's why Dae Hyun was looking for where Jae-hwa was cleaning the room.

"Jae-hwa, where's Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun asked, while turning his gaze behind Jae-hwa.

"Soo Yin?" Jae-hwa knitted his eyebrows of why Dae Hyun asked him about Soo Yin.

"I don't know, sir," he replied quickly.

"Isn't Soo Yin with you?" Dae Hyun said.

"Help! help!" There was a girl's voice asking for help. Luckily the door to the room was slightly open so they could hear it.

Without thinking, Dae Hyun immediately opened the door until there was a loud crash.

Je Ha then turned his head towards the door. He was very angry because someone bothered him. He almost managed to take off Mi Na's clothes. Meanwhile, Soo Yin only felt heat all over her body because the stimulant drug he was giving was quite a lot.

"Je Ha?" Dae Hyun exclaimed.

"What are you doing?" he shouted after seeing that it was not Mi Young who was on the bed but Mi Na and his wife.

With quick steps, Dae Hyun immediately punched Je Ha in the face until he fell to the floor. The corners of his lips seemed to be bleeding.

"How dare you to betray Mi Young!" Dae Hyun shouted with a fit of passionate anger.

"Apparently you still remember your ex-lover?" Je Ha sneered as he tried to get up. He wiped the blood that came out from the corner of his lips. The look in his eyes meant that he felt very happy because he made Dae Hyun angry.

"What a jerk! What did you do to Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun said as he gritted his teeth with a fiery gaze. He glanced briefly at Soo Yin who was on the bed while curling her body. Meanwhile, Mi Na was now sitting while trying to revive Soo Yin.

"Jae-hwa, call Assistant Chang and security to come here!" Dae Hyun ordered while throwing his fist into Je Ha's stomach.

"Yes sir." Jae-hwa immediately did as he was told. He quickly ran towards the elevator to find Chang Yuan in his room.

"Dae Hyun, you will always lose to me. I have dumped your beloved girlfriend. If you want to pick her up, take my ex," Je Ha said, while staggering because Dae Hyun kept punching him several times.

"She's not an item so you can just dump her!" Dae Hyun exclaimed, his chest was rising and falling from holding back his emotions.

Unexpectedly, Dae Hyun gave up Mi Young to Je Ha so that they would be happy. But the reality was quite the opposite. Dae Hyun really can't understand why Je Ha did it. No wonder when they met at the hospital Dae Hyun was suspicious because Mi Young was in Korea.

Dae Hyun continued to hit Je Ha in the face blindly because he felt so angry that he had left Mi Young .

Je Ha, Dae Hyun and Mi Young used to attend at the same school. Je Ha always approached Mi Young but he was always rejected. Until one day Mi Young's parents arranged her marriage with Je Ha. Making Dae Hyun even more devastated and with great force, they finally broke up.

It was not that Dae Hyun still lives Mi Young, but he just regretted that a woman as good as Mi Young had to marry a lecherous man like Je Ha.

"Dae Hyun, no matter how hard you punch me, you won't be able to change everything. Mi Young is still my ex, ha ha ha." Je Ha's laughter was so jarring as his blood had already come out of his mouth and nose. Until he fell to the floor.

"Enough, sir!" Chang Yuan exclaimed when Dae Hyun was about to throw his fist back at Je Ha. Chang Yuan didn't want his boss to be accused of being a murderer if something happened to the man.

Chang Yuan and his men immediately took Je Ha out of the hotel before Dae Hyun actually killed him. His boss's condition this time seemed shaken.

Dae Hyun immediately approached Soo Yin who was on the bed with breathlessness. Soo Yin seemed to be biting her lower lip while continuing to squirm while her eyes were kept closed.

Dae Hyun immediately carried Soo Yin's body to take her out of the room. He was disgusted by the former room that Je Ha had occupied.

"Jae-hwa, please take her with you," Dae Hyun said to Jae-hwa who was still standing there.

Dae Hyun immediately went into another the room then laid Soo Yin in there.

As Dae Hyun ordered, Jae-hwa immediately took Mi Na, who looked still in shock, out of the room. Actually, Jae-hwa wanted to protest when Dae Hyun took Soo Yin outside, but he couldn't. Preferred to approach Mi Na who was sitting on the side of the bed with a blank stare.

Dae Hyun locked the bedroom door first before turning back to the bed where Soo Yin was currently lying. When Soo Yin opened her eyes, her eyes were sad and excited.

"Honey, come here," Soo Yin said with a foggy look. Was about to get up to sit down but her head felt a little dizzy.

"Soo Yin, wake up," Dae Hyun said while shaking his wife's body.

"Honey, I love you. Ouch, it's so hot. Quickly take off my clothes." Soo Yin babbled incoherently while squirming.

Dae Hyun wanted to revive Soo Yin first. Although he could have taken the opportunity when his wife was half conscious under the influence of a stimulant drug, Dae Hyun didn't want to do it. Really, he can't bear to see Soo Yin who was in torment like that. Roughly Soo Yin tried to tear her clothes but can't.

"Honey, open your eyes. I beg you to realize," Dae Hyun said with a feeling of anxiety that was eating away at his heart.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 314 - 314 - I Want You

"Dae Hyun, let's do it. Don't you miss me too. Our hearts have been tormented for a long time." Again Soo Yin rambled while stretching and pulling her skirt up.

Dae Hyun ignored it. Now he went to the bathroom to prepare cold water to revive Soo Yin. Hopefully his efforts will be successful. After preparing the water in the tub until it was full, Dae Hyun hurriedly turned around and carried Soo Yin's body into the bathroom.

Dae Hyun slowly tucked into Soo Yin's body and positioned her head against the side of the tub. Then he took Soo Yin's clothes off one by one so that her body would return to normal due to the influence of the drug. Dae Hyun could still a little bit feel how excruciating it was.

Dae Hyun was about to get up as Soo Yin's hand gripped his wrist.

"Don't go anywhere," Soo Yin asked sensually.

"I just want to take a towel, I'm not going anywhere," Dae Hyun said with a smile.

Soo Yin shook her head. What she wanted right now was to be with her husband.

"I want you," Soo Yin said hoarsely.

"We'll do it after you recover," Dae Hyun said firmly. Who wouldn't be tempted by the naked Soo Yin. Coupled with her who had been teasing him since earlier. Dae Hyun was a normal man who will definitely be tempted. However Dae Hyun only wanted to do it after Soo Yin was not affected by drugs. Not at a time like this.

"Honey, I want it now," Soo Yin whined in a spoiled tone.

"After you really realize, we will do it," Dae Hyun said with a heavy sigh. It hurt his heart to see Soo Yin tormented like that. But Dae Hyun just wanted to do it with feelings of love. Not just passion.

"Do you not want me anymore?" Soo Yin's gaze was dark and foggy.

"Now, soak properly so you don't feel dizzy. After this, we will just do it," Dae Hyun said as he gently stroked Soo Yin's hair in a squatting position near the bath.

He was even more furious at Je Ha who almost did it to Soo Yin. After what he did to Mi Young. If he knew it would be like this maybe he would never let Mi Young go at that time.

However, Dae Hyun realized that if he was still with Mi Young, he might not have met Soo Yin. He didn't regret marrying Soo Yin at all.

Later he will make another calculation to Je Ha. Dae Hyun deeply felt sorry for Mi Young's broken household. No wonder the look on her face was very different when they met.

Finally Soo Yin nodded her head as the cold water slowly was able to relieve her turmoil and burning desire.

"Are you getting better?" Dae Hyun said after a while. He kissed the top of Soo Yin's head.

Soo Yin struggled to blink her eyes and lifted her head properly against the side of the bath. Even though her head still felt heavy but the feeling of passion had started to subside.

"Wait here a moment, I'll bring you warm water," Dae Hyun said. Before getting up, he squeezed Soo Yin's finger.

Dae Hyun immediately came out to ask the waiter to bring chamomile tea in order to make Soo Yin even more fit.

Suddenly his phone rang. Dae Hyun sighed softly and was forced to answer it.

"Hyeong, where are you? I want to talk to you right now," Park Soo Hyun said.

"I'm busy, if you want to talk me, we can talk later," Dae Hyun said flatly. He had already asked Chang Yuan not to spread this news.

"But, I want to talk right now," Park Soo Hyun protested.

"What do you want to talk about? If it is about work, then later."

Dae Hyun then turned off the phone when he saw a maid knocking on the door. As ordered, the waiter brought chamomile tea.

After getting it, Dae Hyun went back to the bathroom to meet his wife. It turned out that Soo Yin was already standing in the shower so Dae Hyun came back out afraid that he can't hold back his desire anymore.

He almost forgot if he hadn't contacted Chang Yuan to buy clothes for his wife. Before it was connected, it turned out that there was a knock on the door so Dae Hyun rushed to open it.

Chang Yuan stood in front of the door with a paper bag in his hand. As if he could read Dae Hyun's mind. So that before he asked Chang Yuan, he had the initiative to buy it.

"These are clothes for Miss Soo Yin, sir," Chang Yuan said.

"You are the best assistant," Dae Hyun praised.

Dae Hyun chose to sit on the bed while waiting for his wife to finish bathing. For almost half an hour, the shower was heard but Soo Yin still hadn't come out. It made Dae Hyun worried if his wife suddenly fainted inside.

Unable to contain his curiosity anymore, Dae Hyun walked towards the bathroom. Then he knocked on the door to make sure his wife was okay. But unfortunately there was no answer so Dae Hyun was getting more and more anxious about her.

"Soo Yin!" Dae Hyun called while firmly opening the door. He would have almost fallen if his hand hadn't been on the doorknob.

"What is wrong?" said Soo Yin who had not put on a towel yet.

Dae Hyun was stunned for a moment while gulping his saliva.

"Dae Hyun, close the door!" Soo Yin exclaimed while covering her chest. She had now realized so she felt embarrassed if Dae Hyun have seen it.

Dae Hyun didn't close the door. Instead, he covered his eyes with loose fingers.

"Close it right now! Or I'll douse you with hot water!" Soo Yin threatened.

"Hurry out, don't take too long you'll catch a cold," exclaimed Dae Hyun, who had closed the door again.

"I'll be out in a minute," Soo Yin shouted.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 315 - 315 - Knowing The Truth

Dae Hyun rubbed his chest which kept beating fast. Could have taken the opportunity earlier but Dae Hyun wanted to do it later in a place where no one would disturb the two of them.

Now Dae Hyun chose to stand while looking at the scenery outside through the window pane. The weather outside looked very sunny today.

Check,

The sound of the door opening made Dae Hyun turn around. Soo Yin came out wearing a towel and rolled up her hair in a small towel.

The face that had looked very excited was now back to normal. The innocent Soo Yin without any make-up. This time Dae Hyun gulped his saliva again after fasting for more than a month without touching his wife.

If he only thought about lust, Dae Hyun can take it out on Aeri. But his love for Soo Yin was too great to remove his lust to see other women.

"Aren't there any clothes that I can wear?" Soo Yin said while frowning. Then she walked over to her husband.

Dae Hyun remained motionless in his place. His mind was currently very dirty, thought about his desire that needed to be fulfilled.

"Honey, what happened to you?" said Soo Yin when she saw her husband who just stood still. His gaze continued on to her without blinking at all.

"Ah, this is your clothes," Dae Hyun said nervously after realizing that Soo Yin was talking to him. He handed the paper bag to Soo Yin. The smell of fragrant that was very fragrant permeated his sense of smell. Until it awakened the nerves of greater passion.

Dae Hyun tried his best to hold it in because he didn't know if Soo Yin was allowed to be touched or not. For a moment he observed Soo Yin's left cheek which looked red. It looked like a large palm print.

"What happened to your cheek?" Dae Hyun then rubbed her cheek which he had just realized looked different.

"That man slapped my cheek," Soo Yin said casually and then covered her mouth. She shouldn't have said it because Dae Hyun would definitely be very emotional again. Although she could vaguely see Dae Hyun had beaten him earlier.

Dae Hyun immediately clenched his fists hearing his wife being slapped. Now he wanted to repay everything that man had done.

"Where are you going?" Soo Yin said before Dae Hyun was about to leave.

"I want to beat that guy again," Dae Hyun said as he gritted his teeth hard.

"No need," said Soo Yin as she squeezed Dae Hyun's fingers gently.

"Why? He dared to slap and even almost stain my wife," said Dae Hyun with anger that re-entered into his soul.

"It's not entirely the man's fault. I'm also guilty because I entered the wrong room," said Soo Yin.

"I thought it was the room that Jae-hwa was cleaning but it wasn't," added Soo Yin.

"Still there's no reason for him to hurt you," Dae Hyun said, his voice was rising.

"This wound will heal by itself if you continue to be by my side," Soo Yin said as she pressed her cheek against Dae Hyun's palm.

"Honey, next time find out first. Don't make decisions like that because there are many bad guys who might hurt you. I also didn't think that Je Ha was a jerk," Dae Hyun said while chuckling in annoyance.

"Did you know that man?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together.

"Of course, he is the man who took Mi Young from me. I only knew that they had separated," Dae Hyun sighed heavily. He sounded regretful when he said it.

"Is it true?" Soo Yin was flabbergasted to hear that. She just found out the truth and it seems her husband is very sorry.

"Luckily today he hasn't had the chance to do anything lewd to you," said Dae Hyun. Then he hugged Soo Yin's body tightly.

"Do you regret knowing that doctor Mi Young has separated?" Soo Yin's voice sounded sad.

"Regret for what?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Regret that maybe you still want her," Soo Yin said quietly.

"No, I'm just feel sorry for her." Dae Hyun loosened his embrace and lifted his wife's chin.

"How many times have I told you that I only want you for now and forever. She's just the past that can't be my future. You are my future, honey," Dae Hyun said sincerely.

Soo Yin was silent when she heard her husband's statement. She shouldn't be so childish. Even though Dae Hyun had said it from the start. But it was undeniable that Soo Yin will feel jealous if Doctor Mi Young one day approached her husband.

"I'm just afraid of losing you," Soo Yin said, unable to contain the jealousy that was presented in her heart.

"Believe me, you're the only one in my heart right now," Dae Hyun said and hugged her back very tightly. He was always happy when Soo Yin felt jealous like this because it meant that she really wanted him.

"Now put your clothes on or do you want me to put them on?" Dae Hyun teased to break up the awkwardness that just happened. So that Soo Yin wouldn't think anything bad about him.

Soo Yin immediately pushed Dae Hyun's body away.

"Now face the window. Don't peek at me," Soo Yin said with a sharp look.

"Why are you so embarrassed? I've seen you before. I even saw your body," Dae Hyun teased while chuckling at his little wife's unchanged behavior. Still shy even though they've often been together.

"Turn around quickly!" Soo Yin exclaimed while glaring.

"Don't you remember when you said that you really wanted me?" Dae Hyun said while glancing mischievously. Soo Yin's blushing face looked very adorable.

"Turn around quickly!" shouted Soo Yin as she threw a pillow at her husband's face. She was furious because Dae Hyun was always teasing her. About what happened earlier, Soo Yin really didn't remember because she was under her consciousness.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 316 - 316 - Nice To Meet You Again

Soo Yin quickly put on her clothes. Now she stepped over to the dressing table to look in the mirror and dried her wet hair with a small towel.

Dae Hyun approached his wife and took the towel from her hand.

"Let me help you dry your hair," Dae Hyun said. When they looked in the mirror they looked at each other.

"Go back to work, I can do it myself. Besides, you must have a lot of work," Soo Yin said.

"There is already Park Soo Hyun who will replace me. You don't need to worry, soon we will always live together. I can't wait to do something like this every morning," Dae Hyun said with a smile. His hands kept moving to dry Soo Yin's hair. He reached for the comb that was on the table. Then he used it to comb Soo Yin's beautiful hair.

"Is the meeting over?" Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun through the mirror reflection.

"Well, I can't wait because soon there will be no need to hide our relationship." Dae Hyun's face lit up.

"Then what about Jo Yeon Ho and Aeri?" asked Soo Yin who was still in doubt.

"Aeri will be willing to divorce if Yeon Ho wants to accept you as his mother. I'm sure that Yeon Ho will want you." He stroked his wife's hair which was now neatly combed.

"Is it true that Aeri wants to part with you?"

"There's no need to hesitate. Whether she wants to separate or not, it's all my decision," said Dae Hyun.

"I let her stay in the house because I didn't want Yeon Ho to feel sad if he suddenly lost his mother," Dae Hyun continued.

"I understand," said Soo Yin.

"Well, I'd better get out first. I'll wait for you in my room. After Park Soo Hyun officially becomes the main director, I want us to go on a honeymoon," said Dae Hyun with a meaningful smile.

"I don't want to," Soo Yin said quickly.

"I will force you," Dae Hyun said with a triumphant smile.

"You're annoying," Soo Yin grumbled as she pursed her lips.

"Even though I'm annoying but you also really love me," Dae Hyun teased.

"Never mind, if you don't want to come out. Then I will go out now," Soo Yin said then stood up. It was not that she was annoyed to hear the temptation from her husband but Soo Yin felt embarrassed.

"Okay," said Dae Hyun. He casually stepped out of the room while looking left and right, afraid that Park Soo Hyun would suddenly appear.

After Dae Hyun arrived at his room, it was now Soo Yin's turn to leave. It just so happened that she saw Jae-Hwa walking down the hall with someone.

"Jae-Hwa!" Soo Yin called while waving her hand.

Jae-hwa walked together with Mi Na. They had met with Dae Hyun to ask about Soo Yin's condition. After knowing everything was fine, they immediately rushed to meet her.

Seeing Soo Yin's waving. They walked quickly to get there.

"Soo Yin, are you okay?" Mi Na immediately hugged Soo Yin's body while sobbing because she could not contain her fear.

Soo Yin just stood there because she had forgotten about Mi Na's face. Moreover, when she hadn't recognizing her face, Mi Na had rushed to hug her.

"Soo Yin, it's good that you came earlier," Mi Na said in between sobs because she was traumatized by what almost happened in her life.

Soo Yin wanted to ask what her name was but didn't feel good for fear of offending her. But right now she really didn't remember her.

"Calm down, it's all over now," Soo Yin said as she let go of Mi Na's embrace.

Soo Yin continued to observe Mi Na's face while remembering. After a while Soo Yin finally managed to remember if it was Mi Na.

"Mi Na, it turns out you are Mi Na?" Soo Yin said with a smile on her face.

"You just remembered me?" Mi Na frowned.

"Sorry, we haven't seen each other for a long time. I thought it wasn't you," Soo Yin said, while grinning as she scratched the back of her head.

"Really," Mi Na said while wiping her tears. Her sadness vanished in an instant.

"Come on, let's chat at the restaurant over there," Soo Yin said.

"Jae-hwa, are you going to join us?" Soo Yin asked to Jae-hwa. Her intention to ask about the campus admission announcement was forgotten.

"Thank you, but I have to work. You two go," said Jae-hwa.

Soo Yin then invited Mi Na to eat at a restaurant not far from the hotel. They just needed to walk and they were already there.

They entered a restaurant that sold Jjajangmyeon because Soo Yin suddenly wanted to eat it. If she remembered, it had been a long time that she hadn't enjoy it. They were seated immediately while waiting for the order to arrive.

"Mi Na, tell me what really happened? How come you know a man like him?" Soo Yin asked curiously.

"I met him a few days ago when I was his tour guide. This morning he invited me again so I wanted to. I didn't feel suspicious at all because I thought he was a good man," Mi Na said with a long sigh. Regretted her decision to trust a man she had just met.

"Don't think about it anymore. The most important thing is that you're okay right now," Soo Yin said while holding the person who was considered her best friend even though Mi Na was a few years older than her.

"It's all thanks to you, if you didn't enter the wrong room I might have....and he almost made you...." Mi Na covered her face unable to say what would happen next.

"It's okay, there's no need to remember because I'm fine now. My husband has taken care of the man," Soo Yin said without realizing that she was slipping.

"Husband? When did you get married?" Mi Na frowned.

"Ah... I mean Mr. Dae Hyun is taking care of him. I said the wrong thing," Soo Yin said nervously. It was not that she didn't believe that Mi Na can keep her secret but she didn't want any more people to know. Soo Yin wanted everyone to know when the time came.

"I thought you were married," Mi Na said with a snort.

"That's not true," Soo Yin said with a grimace.

Not long after, their order finally arrived, which was two portions of Jjajangmyeon along with the drink.

"Now let's eat," said Soo Yin who immediately took the chopsticks.

They ate in silence. Only once in a while Mi Na opened a conversation. After finishing chatting Mi Na decided to go home. She was relieved because she had met Soo Yin.

"Soo Yin, next time we have to meet again," Mi Na said.

"Of course, you only need to call my name three times then I'll come," Soo Yin said with a chuckle.

"Then see you." Mi Na immediately got into the taxi after hugging Soo Yin for a while.

Soo Yin immediately returned to the hotel because she had forgotten not to send a message to Dae Hyun. She was worried that her husband was currently looking for her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 317 - 317 - Want To Learn Self-defense

Dae Hyun paced here and there looking for Soo Yin. After half an hour of waiting in his room, Soo Yin didn't show up even though she had promised to follow him soon. He had even mobilized the security forces to look for Soo Yin but she was nowhere to be found. Too panicked, they didn't even remember checking the CCTV.

The man even went back and forth in the elevator to find his wife. Leaving some of his work undone. Luckily he had delegated his position to Park Soo Hyun so he wasn't too worried about his job.

"Hyeong, what's wrong?" asked Park Soo Hyun when they met in the elevator. This was the third time he'd gotten into the elevator to where they last met.

"Nothing," said Dae Hyun briefly while trying to calm down because it was impossible to tell his brother. He might just make the fuss much worse.

"Hyeong, where is Soo Yin? Is she in your room? I really want to meet her," said Park Soo Hyun while carrying the file in his hand.

"She's out," said Dae Hyun curtly.

"Where?"

"Never mind, don't ask too many questions. You think my life is just to take care of it," said Dae Hyun curtly. Before Soo Yin was found he will not feel at ease.

Ting

The elevator stopped and the door swung open because they were already in the lobby.

Soo Yin stood in front of the elevator while pressing the button for the door to open immediately.

Right after the door opened, stood two brothers who looked straight into her face. The younger brother looked at her with a smile. While the older brother put on a cold face. Soo Yin didn't know whether to smile or not to respond to the two of them.

"Soo Yin, where are you from?" Park Soo Hyun asked as he walked out of the elevator to Soo Yin so that Soo Yin wouldn't come in

"I've eaten out for a while," said Soo Yin with a faint smile. She glanced at Dae Hyun who had a flat face. It was certain that Dae Hyun must be very angry because she had disappeared. She had completely forgotten to send a message and she didn't even have her cell phone with her.

"Too bad, even though I wanted to take you to lunch," said Park Soo Hyun who lost enthusiasm.

"I'd better go back to the room. If you two want to have lunch together, please," said Soo Yin. She hastily pressed the button for the elevator to open immediately. The atmosphere there was so tense that Soo Yin didn't want to take any chances. Better to run away now.

"Soo Yin, wait!" said Park Soo Hyun. Before they could speak, the elevator door was already closed. Even though he wanted Soo Yin to accompany him to lunch.

Dae Hyun was relieved that Soo Yin had finally been found and she was fine. What made him annoyed was that she had lunch but didn't invite him.

"Hyeong, let's have lunch together," said Park Soo Hyun. Now he was more confident after being convinced by Dae Hyun that he can be a good director. Everything needed to be learned from the bottom first. With his new position, Park Soo Hyun was increasingly convinced that Soo Yin will definitely accept him. Who did not want to be the wife of a director.

"Go, I don't have the appetite to eat," said Dae Hyun flatly then stepped back into the elevator to catch up with Soo Yin.

"What's wrong with him? Why is he going back and forth in the elevator?" Park Soo Hyun muttered while raising an eyebrow. He then went to a restaurant because his stomach was asking to be filled.

o

Soo Yin chose to go to the bathroom to hide temporarily from Dae Hyun. She didn't feel good when she saw the expression on her husband's face.

"Oh, how is it?" Soo Yin said as she looked at herself in the mirror. She then washed her face to calm down. After all she went to the restaurant not with other men. But with Mi Na, hopefully Dae Hyun can understand.

After combing her hair with her fingers because she had forgotten not to bring a comb.

When she just opened the toilet door, she immediately jumped in surprise until her heart was about to burst.

"Dae Hyun, you startled me," said Soo Yin who didn't care about Dae Hyun's cold face.

"Where have you been? I even almost died of a heart attack from worrying about your whereabouts. But you didn't mean to explain it to me at all, Soo Yin!"

Dae Hyun felt very angry at his wife. Dae Hyun violently pulled Soo Yin's body against his chest. Even if he couldn't find her, soon he intended to call the police to come look for her.

"Are you satisfied that you always make me worry? Soo Yin, next time if you go, leave a message. So that I don't worry," Dae Hyun said I, then held Soo Yin's hand and put it on his chest.

Soo Yin can feel that Dae's heart was beating very fast and Soo Yin can even hear the sound of his heart beating.

Dae Hyun was very traumatized by the memory of Soo Yin who always got into some trouble and almost got hurt when she was alone.

"Sorry, I just wanted to chat with Mi Na for a while. I didn't mean to make you worry," Soo Yin said guiltily.

"Next time you can't be like that. You have to report to me before going anywhere," Dae Hyun said firmly, giving orders to Soo Yin.

"I promise to do as you say," Soo Yin said earnestly.

"What if I practice self-defence? So you don't worry too much about me anymore," Soo Yin asked. She had wanted to say this to her husband for a long time but had not been able to convey it.

"Self-defense?" Dae Hyun frowned as he considered Soo Yin's request. Actually it was good if Soo Yin would learn self-defence. At least she can take care of herself in an emergency.

"It's better from now on that you will be watched by a bodyguard. Wherever you go he will follow you," Dae Hyun said because his idea was much better.

"No, no," Soo Yin refused.

"I want to learn self-defense instead of having a bodyguard," Soo Yin said. Because it was too much.

"Self-defense is too dangerous for you," Dae Hyun said.

"Come on, honey. I beg you," Soo Yin pleaded.

Dae Hyun sighed softly at Soo Yin's idea. For a moment he was silent while thinking about the pros and cons of practicing self-defence.

"Okay, later I will ask Chang Yuan to find a coach," Dae Hyun said.

"Really?" Soo Yin's face immediately lit up hearing that.

"Hmm," Dae Hyun said. He had to agree to his little wife's request because Soo Yin would be angry if her request was not followed.

"Thank you." Soo Yin then kissed Dae Hyun's cheek because she was too excited.

"You are indeed very smart to make my heart happy," Dae Hyun said then kissed Soo Yin back.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 318 - 318 - Hope You Don't Regret It

The news about Dae Hyun resigning from his position had already spread even though it had only been a few hours. Until all the investors wanted to have a meeting that afternoon with Dae Hyun. They wanted to ask for an explanation of what really happened.

Luckily he managed to convince them even though there were some people who were not sure about Park Soo Hyun's performance in the future. After Dae Hyun said that if he will remain as a representative then everyone felt relieved. The hotel didn't only concern himself with his family but there were a lot of people involved in it. Surely they wanted everything to be okay.

Including many employees who depend on their lives to work at the hotel. That's why Dae Hyun will keep helping Park Soo Hyun's work.

At night, Dae Hyun finally finished his meeting with all of them. He returned to UN Village tonight because his mother asked him to come home.

With a tired feeling, Dae Hyun walked while removing his coat through the living room. Tonight he will sleep with Jo Yeon Ho in his room.

When he stepped, he still heard the sound of the television in the living room so Dae Hyun stepped in there. It turned out that there was his mother and grandmother who were chatting. He thought they were asleep.

After the wedding at Hyun Bin's place, his grandmother had not returned to Busan. Maybe tomorrow or the day after tomorrow. Dae Hyun steeled his heart and walked over to them. Maybe soon he will receive a scolding from his mother knowing the decision that he had been taken.

"Ehmmm." Dae Hyun cleared his throat to distract them from the television screen that was showing a news program.

The woman who had always been respected was now looking at him flatly. Not as usual who looked at him gently and affectionately. Dae Hyun understood that his mother might be disappointed with the decision he just made without telling her beforehand.

"You haven't fallen asleep yet," Dae Hyun said to break the awkwardness.

Dae Hyun's decision also actually took Hae Sok by surprise. Unexpectedly, Dae Hyun relinquished his directorship. Even though he had promised with the mandate given by his grandfather.

"Dae Hyun, I want to talk to you seriously," said Mrs. Park while looking at her son.

"Alright, Mother." Dae Hyun then threw his body on the sofa next to his grandmother.

"Why did you suddenly resign from your position? What really happened to you? Have you thought about all the risks?" Question after question immediately fell from the lips of the middle-aged woman.

Dae Hyun knitted his brows together. Although he could understand if his mother was disappointed but wouldn't it be good if he wasn't too ambitious about his position. He happily gave it to his brother.

"Isn't it good if I relinquish my position to Park Soo Hyun, Mom? Park Soo Hyun is also your son, you should believe in his abilities," Dae Hyun said calmly.

"Tell me, is there a plan behind all of this?" Mrs. Park caught another goal from her eldest son's decision. She knew her son better than anyone else so her guess would not be wrong.

"What plan, Mom? I don't intend to do anything. I really want to take turns with Park Soo Hyun. This is very good for him to get better," said Dae Hyun while directing his gaze to the television which was still on. Afraid that his mother would find a lie in his eyes.

"I don't mind if you resign because of your brother. But if you resign because of a woman, I hope you won't regret it later," said Mrs. Park.

It was true that a mother's feelings for her child were very strong. Dae Hyun was now silent, not wanting to refute anything that was said. It was hard for him to tell the truth right now.

"So, is it really because of that woman?" Mrs. Park's question immediately intimidated him.

Dae Hyun just lowered his head, silent without daring to answer his mother.

Hae Sok just watched her grandson and daughter-in-law talking to each other. She began to understand what Dae Hyun meant at that time. It turned out that the purpose of his resignation was not to let the hotel fall into the hands of his uncle and aunt.

But his way was wrong, delegating work to his younger brother who was just started working at the hotel will have fatal consequences as well.

Since childhood, Park Soo Hyun had been very pampered so he acted as he pleased without caring about people. When he was in middle school, his parents were often called to school because he always made a mess.

"Dae Hyun, why do you really want to be with a woman you don't really know? Are you sure that after this she still wants to be with you? Don't you have any more love for Aeri and Yeon Ho?" As a woman Mrs. Park sometimes felt sorry for her daughter-in-law who was still willing to survive even though Dae Hyun didn't want her anymore. She also felt sorry for Jo Yeon Ho who often asked where his father was.

"Mother, Aeri is not as good as you think," Dae Hyun said.

"Then is a woman who is in a relationship with a married man good? Dae Hyun, please aware of what you are doing," Mrs. Park said while holding her chest to contain her emotions.

"Didn't you promise to support my every decision? Why did you suddenly change your mind?" Dae Hyun said.

Mrs. Park just took a deep breath.

"I don't want you to be too blinded by a woman you don't even know," said Mrs. Park.

"I already know her. Mother, don't get me wrong because I'm the one who teased her not her. I better go to my room because it's late." Dae Hyun said goodbye because he didn't want to go too far in arguing with his mother.

"Get some rest," Mrs. Park said.

Dae Hyun immediately left them.

"Mother, please persuade Dae Hyun not to be influenced by that woman. Only Mother who can make him undo his decision," Mrs. Park asked to her mother-in-law.

"My daughter-in-law, calm down," Hae Sok said. If she could choose, it's better not to know everything than this.

"Mother, I'm not completely sure about Park Soo Hyun's abilities," Mrs. Park said, worried. If Park Soo Hyun's performance was bad then his two uncles would definitely protest. Then will propose their son.

"I'll talk to your son later," Hae Sok said while calming her daughter-in-law.

She also didn't want the hotel to experience another gloomy tide before Dae Hyun took the lead.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 319 - 319 - Won't Part

Dae Hyun went straight to Yeon Ho's room because he didn't want to meet Aeri. His intention to dodge turned out to be wrong because in Yeon Ho's room, there was already Aeri who was still awake. She was putting the storybook on the nightstand.

Dae Hyun wanted to leave but he had already entered. With heavy steps Dae Hyun still approached her.

"What are you doing in here?" Dae Hyun asked just to make small talk.

"Do I have to answer? You don't even know what your son wants now. Every night he wants me to call you so you can go home," Aeri said. Now she intended to change her strategy in defense. Won't be begging as much as usual. She will be indifferent because she knew Dae Hyun was not the type of guy who was easy to seduce.

"Why didn't you call me then?" Dae Hyun now asked back.

The thing that Dae Hyun disliked the most about Aeri was that she was always good at battling tongues. Even if Aeri was wrong, she will never admit it.

"Aren't you with that cheap woman? How could I dare to interfere," Aeri pouted to provoke Dae Hyun to get emotional.

Dae Hyun realized that Aeri just wanted to make him angry so he chose to leave his son's room, afraid that Jo Yeon Ho will wake up hearing their words. Which was getting more and more emotional.

Aeri was about to call Dae Hyun but didn't want to. She didn't want to act like a beggar asking for mercy from now on. There was a sense of irritation at not being able to provoke Dae Hyun's anger.

Aeri peeked at Dae Hyun who was slowly out of sight. Actually, she accidentally found out if Dae Hyun came home. So she rushed to Yeon Ho's room, pretending to have just read a fairy tale to him.

From now on she will treat the child even better so that Dae Hyun didn't want to divorce her. She will persuade her son so he didn't want to be introduced to any foreign woman including Soo Yin.

Aeri returned to her room to sleep soundly. Aeri didn't know if Dae Hyun had resigned yet so she still felt safe. With Dae Hyun being the number one person made her life easier. That was why Aeri desperately maintained her status as his wife.

Dae Hyun chose to sleep in the guest room tonight. The image of Aeri putting medicine into his drink was still vivid.

Dae Hyun threw his body on the bed. While staring at the white ceiling, observing every detail while thinking. If it wasn't for his mother who asked him to come home, it would be better if he went back to Pyeongchang-dong villa instead.

Could hug Soo Yin's body tightly. The thought of him spending the night with his little wife made Dae Hyun's mind long to meet her. He looked at the clock, it was already eleven o'clock. He wanted to send a message but was afraid to disturb his wife's rest.

Dae Hyun put his phone back on the nightstand. Then he closed his eyes so he could fall asleep. But he imagined that Soo Yin smiled seductively as if she was now in front of his eyes. Dae Hyun really couldn't sleep so he sat back down and grabbed his phone again.

There's nothing wrong with trying rather than making him curious.

[Honey, are you asleep?] Dae Hyun was not good at expressing his heart through writing so he only typed as necessary.

[No, I can't sleep] It didn't take long for the reply message to arrive.

[You must be missing me now. Come let me hug you]

[Just hug Aeri]

Dae Hyun turned sour when he read Soo Yin's reply.

[Alright, then good night. I will spend my time tonight with Aeri] Dae Hyun replied to tease his little wife.

After that, there was no more answer from his wife. Dae Hyun guessed that Soo Yin must be angry.

Dae Hyun finally got out of bed and put on his coat. Instead of not being able to sleep, it was better for him to just go home to Pyeongchang-dong villa.

He had just stepped when he heard a knock on the door. Dae Hyun thought that it was Aeri so he just let it go for a while without any intention of opening the door.

"Dae Hyun, are you asleep?" A voice was heard calling out to him from outside.

"Grandmother?" Dae Hyun muttered. He quickly stood in front of the door and slowly opened it.

"What's wrong, Grandma?" Dae Hyun said while raising his eyebrows.

"Grandma wants to talk to you," Hae Sok said and then stepped forward to the terrace.

Dae Hyun followed his grandmother's footsteps without asking much.

"It's better to talk inside, Grandma. It's very cold outside," Dae Hyun said.

"In here the wind is very fresh," said Hae Sok briefly.

Dae Hyun shifted the chair for his grandmother's seat. He then sat down in one of the chairs opposite the table.

The air outside was blowing quite hard. Hae Sok tightened her coat to reduce the shivering.

Seeing his cold grandmother, Dae Hyun took off his coat and put it on his grandmother's shoulders.

Dae Hyun remained silent while waiting for Hae Sok to start a conversation.

"Can't you two separate?" Hae Sok broke the silence between them after a while.

The question that came out of Hae Sok's lips really cornered Dae Hyun if his grandmother asked him to separate from Soo Yin.

"Never, Grandma," said Dae Hyun because he already knew where their conversation was going.

"Can't you make sacrifices for your grandfather and brother?" Hae Sok looked at Dae Hyun who still had a straight face.

"I think this has been enough to sacrifice my time. For Park Soo Hyun's problem, I can't do it," Dae Hyun said with a straight look ahead.

"Don't you think about your brother's feelings if he finds out everything?"

"I've thought about it, that's why until now I'm still hiding my relationship." Daehyun closed his eyes for a moment.

"Grandma knows that you don't love Aeri but your decision to part with her will definitely hurt Yeon Ho's heart," said the woman.

"I'm sure after this Yeon Ho will accept it," said Dae Hyun while looking at his grandmother with a pleading gaze to support his relationship with Soo Yin.

They stopped the chat because they saw Park Soo Hyun had just come home from work even though it was almost midnight.

"Why haven't you slept yet? Grandma, you better go inside. The night breeze is not good for your health," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Oh my gosh, my grandson works so hard that he just got home in the middle of the night," Hae Sok said as she rubbed her youngest grandson's shoulder.

"That's right, Grandma. My brother didn't even want to wait for me to come home," Park Soo Hyun grumbled while glancing at his brother.

"But it doesn't matter Grandma, because starting tomorrow I will start working in the same room as Soo Yin," added Park Soo Hyun with a happy face.

Hae Sok stared at Dae Hyun for a moment before finally inviting Park Soo Hyun to get in. Meanwhile, Dae Hyun was still in his place. His intention to go to the Pyeongchang-dong villa was thwarted. He remained sitting on the terrace until almost morning.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 320 - 320 - Waiting Day

Today was the time that Park Soo Hyun had been waiting for because his appointment will soon be implemented. He thought swapping positions meant changing secretaries too.

Although while holding back heavy sleepiness, Park Soo Hyun dragged his feet towards the bathroom. After flushing his head, his sleepiness began to disappear. Plus the image of Soo Yin's smile on his head made him even more excited.

Park Soo Hyun looked at himself in the mirror after he finished changing his clothes. He was wearing a white shirt combined with white pants.

He then used hair oil to style his hair to make it look perfect. Short hairdo with side bangs. All women would be crazy to see it.

Although at first he strongly refused with the reason of not being confident, but every time he thought of Soo Yin sitting with him during work made him even more excited. Anyway what he did this time was for Soo Yin's sake.

Nothing can make him more excited than the idol of his heart.

"Park Soo Hyun, can grandma come in?" Hae Sok shouted from outside accompanied by a knock on the door.

"Just come in, Grandma. I didn't lock it. Besides, I'll be ready soon," said Park Soo Hyun as he combed his hair again to make it neater.

Hae Sok smiled when she saw her grandson who looked excited this time.

"Here, let grandma straighten your tie," said Hae Sok as she stood in front of Park Soo Hyun to straightened his tie.

"Thank you, Grandma," Park Soo Hyun said while smiling as he looked at his grandmother from the mirror reflection.

"What about my appearance? Will Soo Yin be impressed by my appearance, Grandma?" he continued while moving his face to look at his expression in the mirror.

"You are very handsome. Certainly many women are impressed with your appearance," Hae Sok said.

"Don't get your hopes up with just one woman. It's better to choose a few for your lover," added the woman. Just reminding her grandson so that later he won't have a broken heart.

"For what, Grandma?" Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows together.

"So that you have a choice," said Hae Sok.

"I don't need any choice, Grandma. What I want now and forever is Soo Yin who will be my lover. I'm only attracted to her," said Park Soo Hyun confidently.

"That's because you've only met her. After you've met so many women you'll want them too."

"Is it true?" Park Soo Hyun narrowed his eyes.

"It seems that Grandma's words this time are wrong because after meeting Soo Yin I don't want to be close and get acquainted with any woman. For me, now she is like my life," he added.

"What if she doesn't love you?"

"She must love me, Grandma. I'll take her to meet somewhere this week. She must answer my declaration of love," said Park Soo Hyun with a radiant and excited face.

"Well, good luck to you." Hae Sok sighed heavily then patted her grandson's shoulder.

They immediately came down for breakfast after a waiter called them.

In the dining room, everyone had gathered around the dining table. Only Park Soo Hyun and Hae Sok who had just arrived.

"Park Soo Hyun, you look different today. You're much more vibrant and bright," Aeri said.

"Thank you, sister-in-law. Today is my first day as the main director so I have to look perfect," said Park Soo Hyun as he pulled a chair for him to sit down.

"How do I look?" he added with a chuckle.

"You will always look handsome, dear," said Mrs. Park.

Park Ji Hoon and Dae Hyun who sat across from each other stared at each other for a while before Dae Hyun finally chose to bow his head. There was a feeling that was raging in his heart right now.

"What do you mean by being the main director? Isn't Dae Hyun still the director?" Aeri's face looked a little confused. She felt that she seemed to have missed important information.

"I resigned," Dae Hyun said indifferently without intending to tell everything to Aeri.

"What?" Without realizing it, Aeri immediately stood up and dropped the cutlery she was holding. It caused a loud clank to echo through the room.

That statement seemed to paralyze her muscles which immediately felt weak. She seemed to have heard wrong.

"Sorry, I was just surprised," said Aeri who sat back in the chair.

"Honey, you must be joking," Aeri said while chuckling looking at Dae Hyun.

"There is no joke in my life. I did resign," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"How come?" Aeri said with a body that began to tremble.

"Don't be too surprised." Dae Hyun snorted seeing the look on Aeri's face that looked shocked. He pulled his lips back into a mocking smile. He was sure that after this Aeri would definitely ask to separate.

"Sorry, I didn't know about it. Congratulations Park Soo Hyun on your new position. Hopefully the hotel will continue to progress as it is today," said Aeri. She seemed to have missed important news. How could she not know this. Aeri really felt very stupid.

Everyone had started eating quietly. Unlike Aeri who kept thinking. As much as possible she had to persuade Dae Hyun to undo his intention.

Dae Hyun can't resign. Aeri couldn't imagine if she met her friends. She was famous for her perfect life. With Dae Hyun no longer being the main director, everyone would laugh at her.

After finishing breakfast, Dae Hyun intended to take a tie in the room he usually shared with Aeri. Just opened the cupboard and saw that Aeri was standing behind him.

"Dae Hyun, why did you resign? Park Soo Hyun must be unreliable. What if suddenly the hotel was destroyed in the hands of your brother?" Aeri assured Dae Hyun that his brother's abilities were not much.

"That's none of your business. You don't have to interfere," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"Of course this is still my business. I don't want them all to be disappointed if they find out that Park Soo Hyun can't be trusted," said Aeri.

"Just tell me if things don't go your way." Dae Hyun smirked.

"That's not true," Aeri said nervously.

After finding his tie, Dae Hyun then left Aeri's room. He decided to go straight to the hotel. Can't wait to meet his little wife. He hoped that Soo Yin would not be angry.

"Arghhh, why is he so stupid!" Aeri grumbled angrily. It was unexpected that Dae Hyun would do that. She had to keep trying to persuade Dae Hyun to come back before the news spread to her friends.