

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 321 - 321 - Jealous

Dae Hyun drove his car slowly while calling Soo Yin several times which she didn't answer. He thought that Soo Yin was always angry if he teased her. Even though he had been explained hundreds of times.

When passing in front of a restaurant, Dae Hyun accidentally saw his little wife who had just entered.

"Why did Soo Yin go to the restaurant so early in the morning?" Dae Hyun muttered. Usually if she hadn't had breakfast she will choose breakfast with him at the office. Too curious, Dae Hyun then pulled his car to the side of the road.

Dae Hyun stayed inside while watching Soo Yin from the restaurant's transparent glass window. It was so coincidental that Soo Yin sat on the side so Dae Hyun could see her face who was sitting alone.

Just as Dae Hyun was about to leave, there was a figure of Jae-hwa sitting across from Soo Yin. Dae Hyun inhaled through his nose and then exhaled through his mouth. Didn't want think negatively about what they did. They probably only met because they had things to talk about.

But the image of Soo Yin's hand being held by Jae-hwa made him want to get off of the car. He had to make sure himself that Soo Yin didn't play behind him.

Finally Dae Hyun decided to drive his car back into the restaurant area. It was much clearer now that Dae Hyun didn't have to come down. It was enough to observe his wife from inside the car.

He can saw Soo Yin waving her hand to the waiter. Seemed to want to order food and drinks. After the waiter left, Soo Yin was seen laughing, didn't know what made her laugh. It made Dae Hyun's heart boil.

Dae Hyun then took his cellphone which was on the dashboard. Hoping that Soo Yin would answer, but again the call went unanswered.

Dae Hyun was getting jealous when their chat looked very fun because it was accompanied by the two of them laughing together. The man can't stand it anymore when he saw Jae-hwa was handing Soo Yin a tissue.

With a sour look on his face, Dae Hyun immediately went down to confirm his suspicions. If it was true that they were playing behind his back, then be prepared that Jae-hwa will be finished by him.

Soo Yin accidentally met Jae-hwa on the way to the hotel. She wanted to ask about the university entrance exam, Soo Yin immediately got off when she saw Jae-hwa was waiting for the bus on the side of the road.

After Soo Yin asked Jae-hwa, it turned out that today was the announcement so Soo Yin decided not to go to work. As for Jae-hwa, he did ask the manager for permission since yesterday not to work today. As for Soo Yin, it turned out that her cellphone was left on the nightstand so she couldn't contact Dae Hyun to ask for permission.

She intended to say it later when she got home from university. Maybe they won't last long either. Just looking at the announcement and after that she can go back to the hotel. Unlike Jae-hwa who wanted to go to the bookstore to find more science books about medicine.

With an empty stomach because she hadn't had breakfast, Soo Yin finally invited Jae-hwa to stop by at a restaurant first. After that, they will go to campus.

"Jae-hwa, I'm really nervous," Soo Yin said in between enjoying her food.

"Calm down, I'm sure you'll get away with it," Jae-hwa said to encourage Soo Yin.

Actually there was a bad feeling to have breakfast with Soo Yin, he didn't spend money because Soo Yin treated him. Jae-hwa didn't bring any extra money because the money had to be saved for his college fees. He even had to be extra frugal because the cost of entering the medical school was not cheap.

"If you, I'm sure sure you'll pass because you're very smart," said Soo Yin, while laughing loudly.

Jae-hwa really liked Soo Yin because she was a cheerful girl. Even though she was often angry with other people, Soo Yin was always sweet to him. That was why Jae-hwa had always liked Soo Yin but he never dared to express his feelings. Plus they were going to college soon. He was afraid of disturbing the concentration of both of them while studying.

Jae-hwa just stared at the food in front of him while gulping his saliva. His stomach was rumbling too.

"Jae-hwa, eat. Don't be shy. I treated you because I just got more salary from my boss," Soo Yin said, lied to made Jae-hwa feel good.

"Is it true?"

Soo Yin nodded her head quickly. So Jae-hwa was willing to eat it again. After all, it was a shame if he didn't eat it although it had been ordered.

Jae-hwa grabbed a tissue that was on the table and held it out to Soo Yin when he saw that there was gravy on Soo Yin's lips.

Soo Yin furrowed her brows because she did not realize that.

"Your lips are dirty," Jae-hwa said with a thumping heart. He wanted to rub those lips directly like in the romantic movies he'd ever watched. But how come Jae-hwa had the courage to go to that level.

"Ah, thank you," said Soo Yin as she reached out to grab the tissue in Jae-hwa's hand. Then she rubbed her lips slowly. Until the atmosphere felt awkward.

"Hmmm."

A voice that sounded distinctive immediately made Soo Yin's heart almost burst. Reflexively she stood up to confirm the person behind her.

Soo Yin hoped it was just a lookalike voice, not really her husband's voice. It was not that she didn't want to meet, but if her husband found out, there will definitely be another misunderstanding.

"Sir," Jae-hwa said, he immediately stood up then bowed his body.

Soo Yin's body immediately felt weak knowing that Dae Hyun was currently standing behind her. Before she could turn around, Dae Hyun was already standing beside her. Then pulled the chair with a flat expression without glancing at Soo Yin at all.

Soo Yin wanted to apologize but didn't want to because Dae Hyun had also annoyed her last night. By saying that he would spend the night with Aeri, he made her unable to sleep all night.

Soo Yin again threw her butt on the chair with a nonchalant attitude as well. But because Jae-hwa was there, it was rude not to say hello to her boss.

"Good morning, Sir." Soo Yin forced a faint smile.

"It's so nice you two have breakfast here. Do you guys not intend to go to work?" Dae Hyun quipped, while glancing at his wife briefly.

Soo Yin just rolled her eyes in response to her husband's sarcasm.

"Sorry, sir. I asked permission not to work today. We're going to the university to see the announcement," Jae-hwa replied politely.

"It seems that your friend hasn't asked me for permission," Dae Hyun said, while looking at Jae-hwa, who looked more handsome than him if he looked closely. Dae Hyun got scared that he was his competitor too.

Chapter 322 - 322 - Ride The Bus

Soo Yin was flabbergasted at her husband's statement. Should she ask permission continuously if she left? Soo Yin chuckled in annoyance because it seemed that her husband was indeed looking for trouble with her.

'Can't he be polite in front of Jae-hwa?' ~ Soo Yin grumbled while biting her lower lip.

"Sorry sir, I left my cellphone behind so I couldn't contact you. But after coming home I will also go to work again," Soo Yin said while trying to be polite.

"Do you think that's your boyfriend's hotel so you can get permission at will," said Dae Hyun. He deliberately said it so that Jae-hwa wouldn't take his wife out on his own.

Soo Yin snorted at her husband's very annoying words. Wanted to hit him right then and there. If she didn't remember Jae-hwa's presence now, she might just walk away.

"Once again I'm sorry, Sir," Soo Yin said as she glared at her husband.

Seeing the annoyed expression on Soo Yin's face, Dae Hyun really wanted to pinch her nose.

"You too, Jae-hwa, don't force Soo Yin to do what you want. As a man, you should tell Soo Yin to go to the hotel first to ask for permission. It's not like this, instead, you invited her to breakfast," said Dae Hyun.

'Ughh, what's with him today? Why is he so annoying?' ~ Soo Yin cursed in her heart. If it wasn't for Jae-hwa, maybe she would have vented all her anger by now.

"Very well, sir," Jae-hwa said.

"It's not Jae-hwa's fault, sir. I took him to the restaurant because I'm hungry and haven't had breakfast yet. Didn't I tell you I'd ask for permission after I got back to the hotel?" Soo Yin said, tried to be calm and not provoked by emotions.

"Why do you always defend him? Jae-hwa is even ready not to repeat his mistakes," Dae Hyun said casually and didn't feel guilty at all.

Soo Yin could only rub her chest.

"I've met you here so right now I'm asking for permission. It's up to you if you will fire me in the future," Soo Yin said curtly then grabbed Jae-hwa's hand and stood up.

"Jae-hwa, now we have to go. Excuse us, sir," said Soo Yin as she invited Jae-hwa to leave the place.

Dae Hyun clenched his fists because Soo Yin was insensitive to the jealousy that was gnawing at his heart right now.

"Look, she just left me. It seems like she wants to play with me," Dae Hyun muttered. Then stood up to follow them.

Now Soo Yin and Jae-hwa were standing at the bus stop waiting for the bus to continue their journey to campus. Soo Yin could have taken a taxi but Jae-hwa must feel bad if she payed for him again. Considering the taxi fee was more expensive than the bus.

"Soo Yin, why did you talk like that with Mr. Dae Hyun? What if you get fired for real?" said Jae-hwa who actually felt uneasy.

"It's okay, I'll look for another job later," Soo Yin said lightly. After all, she was very sure that Dae Hyun couldn't fire her.

"Looking for a job is very difficult. Moreover, a job as a secretary must be very difficult to find. You shouldn't have said that to Mr. Dae Hyun," said Jae-hwa.

"Well, don't worry about it. There are plenty of other jobs out there." Soo Yin smiled to comfort Jae-hwa.

Not long after, the bus finally stopped right in front of them. Soo Yin and Jae-hwa went straight in so they wouldn't be left behind.

Seeing his wife and other men boarding the bus, Dae Hyun then ran and then entered. He looked around to find Soo Yin, who was sitting in the back.

Calmly and did not holding on something, Dae Hyun walked towards Soo Yin causing him to fall to the ground as the car slowly sped up. Luckily Soo Yin reflexively stretched out her hand. If not, then it was certain that Dae Hyun will fall on his stomach to the bus floor.

Everyone immediately looked at Dae Hyun while frowning. They sneered at Dae Hyun's clothes that showed he was a rich man who never ride a bus.

Dae Hyun casually tried to get up then held on. But still he lost his balance and almost fell again.

Since childhood, Dae Hyun used to live with the facilities of the rich, so he never took public transportation such as buses. Although he was used to living independently, he had never really taken a bus.

Soo Yin glanced at her husband in annoyance. Why did he follow her all the way to the bus?

Jae-hwa who was sitting next to Soo Yin was uncomfortable seeing his boss who was standing up. So he got up from his seat.

"Please have a seat, sir," said Jae-hwa who was already standing behind Dae Hyun.

Without saying thank you, Dae Hyun finally sat down next to his little wife.

"Why are you taking the bus? You should just take your car which will be much more comfortable," Soo Yin whispered as she pursed her lips.

"So I'm interfering with your time with him?" said Dae Hyun while resetting the position of his tie.

"What a pain!" Soo Yin cursed in a low voice while rolling her eyes.

"You're used to driving luxury cars so it's not suitable to take the bus. You better get off," Soo Yin quipped to her husband. She felt uncomfortable too because some of the women kept looking at them.

"I also used to take the bus," said Dae Hyun.

"If you get used to it then there's no way you almost fell over," Soo Yin sneered.

"It's up to you if you don't believe it," said Dae Hyun.

It was useless for Soo Yin to try to talk to her husband if his answer was always annoying. Even though their relationship yesterday was fine.

"If you don't want to come down, just sit there," said Soo Yin because her husband was sitting quietly in the chair with his arms crossed over his chest.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 323 - 323 - Childish

Sometimes Soo Yin saw that Dae Hyun was not a 35-year-old man because his attitude was sometimes very childish. It really didn't suit him when he was doing his job and meeting important people. Looked more mature and authoritative.

Maybe because Soo Yin's childish attitude started to rub off on him.

"Are we almost there?" Dae Hyun asked casually.

"Get up quickly," Soo Yin said as she reached into the money from her bag.

"Just let me pay," said Dae Hyun who immediately took out the card.

"Do you think this is paying at the mall?" Soo Yin then gave the money for her and her husband to the conductor because Dae Hyun didn't seem to have brought cash.

The bus stop while the campus was still a few meters away so they had to walk for a while to get there.

Dae Hyun continued to follow Soo Yin who walked first with Jae-hwa in front of him. This was a sacrifice for having to establish a relationship in secret. Dae Hyun put his hand in his pants pocket.

Every now and then Soo Yin glanced at Dae Hyun who was behind her. There was pity mixed with unwillingness because some female students looked at Dae Hyun with smiles that made Soo Yin wanted to gouge out their eyeballs.

"Soo Yin, what did the boss do to follow us?" Jae-hwa whispered.

"Maybe he wants to reminisce about his past when he was studying here," Soo Yin whispered.

"You go first, I want to talk to him so he'd better go back to the hotel," Soo Yin added.

"Okay," Jae-hwa said. Before leaving, he said goodbye to his boss as a courtesy.

After Jae-hwa was out of sight, Soo Yin immediately grabbed Dae Hyun's wrist to follow her to a quiet place. If they talk in there, then it will most likely attract people's attention.

"Where are we going, honey? Do you want to do it here?" Dae Hyun teased while chuckling amused to see his wife pursed her lips.

Soo Yin didn't respond to her husband because she didn't think it was funny. She continued to take Dae Hyun to a quiet corner. Only a few students were passing by.

"Why are you following us? You'd better go back to work now," Soo Yin said as she threw her butt on the bench.

"Didn't you ask me to accompany you a few days ago? Why are you bothered by my presence now?" Dae Hyun quipped.

"Aren't you busy?" Soo Yin turned her face the other way to hide her annoyance about last night to the message her husband replied to her. The man certainly wouldn't have thought that all night Soo Yin thought about how Dae Hyun was making out with Aeri. That was to make the pain in her chest felt more gaping.

"I can take my time. But unfortunately, my beloved wife actually looked engrossed in having breakfast with other men," Dae Hyun said while chuckling in annoyance. He had repeatedly said that Soo Yin could not be with other men but she was still stubborn.

"Jae-hwa is my best friend, he's not another man," said Soo Yin while narrowing her eyes.

"Besides, last night you said that you'll spend the night with Aeri," she continued with a sullen face.

"So, you just believe it right away?" Dae Hyun asked. He threw his body at the side of his wife who was still jealous.

"Of course, which woman doesn't believe the words of her husband who is spending time together with another woman. Whereas you two are actually in the same room," Soo Yin grumbled with a bent face.

"So did you intend to revenge?" Dae Hyun looked at his wife's face whose shape was like a tangled thread. Even though she was frowning, she couldn't hide her beauty. Then he sat back on the chair while reaching his hand behind Soo Yin's shoulder, he was intending to embrace her.

"Who's taking revenge anyway. I just happened to meet Jae-hwa, after all, we also have a business," said Soo Yin as she shifted her body.

"Get your hands off me, I don't want them to see us like this," Soo Yin spoke. Moreover, she knew that Li Sa also studied at this place, she would definitely cause trouble with her.

"Aren't you jealous when girls look at me?" Dae Hyun teased.

"If you're just here to spread your charm that's up to you." Soo Yin was starting to get annoyed with Dae Hyun's attitude today.

"Calm down, honey. I just came here to take a look at this campus after so many years of not visiting," Dae Hyun said, he was stopping his intention to tease his wife because she already looked very upset.

"Did you study in here too?" Soo Yin turned to Dae Hyun while raising her eyebrows. She just found out that her husband had studied at Seoul National University.

"I used to study here before moving to Harvard University," Dae Hyun said while looking around to observe the building that had been renovated a lot.

Too bad, when he was just telling a little story, suddenly Dae Hyun's cell phone rang. This time it was Chang Yuan who contacted him, there must be something that had happened at the hotel.

"What's the matter, Assistant Chang?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Sorry sir, did you forget that today is Park Soo Hyun's appointment? Where are you now?" Chang Yuan said through the phone. He had been looking for his boss ever since.

"Okay, now I'm going to the hotel," Dae Hyun said then hung up the phone. Because he saw Soo Yin with Jae-hwa, he forgot about the event.

"What is wrong?" asked Soo Yin curiously.

"Too bad I have to go back to the hotel. Remember, as long as I'm not around you have to close your eyes so you don't see them," said Dae Hyun while pointing at the group of prospective students who looked the same age as his wife.

"If I close my eyes, how can I walk? Do you feel inferior because they are younger than you?" Soo Yin said with a chuckle.

Chapter 324 - 324 - Change So Fast

"Just see if they dare to tease you. I'll make them regret it," Dae Hyun said coldly, made Soo Yin a little scared.

"Then just take me to the Amazon jungle so I can only see the Anaconda," Soo Yin said while rolling her eyes.

"Seems like your idea is very good," Dae Hyun praised her.

"Now hurry back to the hotel. You'd better take a taxi, don't take a bus when you've never been on it if you don't want to almost fall over like earlier," Soo Yin said.

"Do you think I really fell over? I was just pretending so that Jae-hwa won't be sitting next to you," Dae Hyun said casually.

"Now hurry back to the hotel. Later people will be waiting for you," Soo Yin said, she didn't want to argue too much to her husband. She pushed Dae Hyun's body to stand up immediately.

"Honey, when you're done please come back right away," Dae Hyun said sweetly this time. Very different from when he was at the restaurant.

Soo Yin thought that he might be sick or had amnesia so Soo Yin on tiptoes put the back of her hand on Dae Hyun's forehead.

"I'm not sick," Dae Hyun said.

"Why did your attitude change so quickly? You were so annoying in front of Jae-hwa," Soo Yin said with a snort.

"I can't be nice in front of a man who dares to tease my wife," Dae Hyun said, whose face immediately turned sour.

"He didn't tease me. Why are you acting childish like this now? Don't you remember how old you are?" Soo grumbled while hitting Dae Hyun in the stomach with her bag.

"I'm like this because you taught me."

Soo Yin flabbergasted, she was opening her mouth at her husband's statement. Why was she the one to blame? Soo Yin was completely clueless.

Dae Hyun also didn't understand the change in his attitude after meeting Soo Yin. He felt jealous, irritable and liked to tease his wife. Dae Hyun had never done that before. He was usually indifferent and tended to take things seriously. But now, he always wanted to be spoiled when he was around Soo Yin.

"Don't frown like that. Now have some fun while you're not with me." Dae Hyun ruffled Soo Yin's hair into a mess.

"Don't ruffle my hair," Soo Yin grumbled.

"Let it be, so that no man will glance at you," Dae Hyun said.

"Ughhh!" Soo Yin cursed as she ran her fingers through her hair to keep it from tangling.

Li Sa accidentally saw Dae Hyun with Soo Yin so she walked over to them. Luckily, she didn't see Dae Hyun who was ruffling Soo Yin's hair. Of course, she would report it to Aeri.

When Li Sa was close, Dae Hyun's attitude immediately turned serious as usual.

Li Sa approached Dae Hyun and Soo Yin because their movements were very suspicious. Why would a big boss wanted to take his secretary to the campus?

"Mr. Dae Hyun, what are you doing in here?" Li Sa asked with a furrowed brow.

"I just happened to drop by while dropping off Soo Yin," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"Sorry sir, my cousin always bothers other people," Li Sa said in a gentle manner. Until Soo Yin wanted to throw up seeing her act like that.

"It's not a hassle at all. Then I'm going to go back to the hotel now," Dae Hyun said goodbye to Li Sa without further ado.

"Why are you in such a hurry, sir?" said Li Sa.

"I have business," the man said simply.

"Soo Yin, you have to remember that when you're done with your business, go back to the hotel," he added as he looked at his wife's beautiful face.

"Yes, sir," Soo Yin said. She looked at her husband's back, which had slowly disappeared.

"It must be because of your seduction so that Mr. Dae Hyun wanted to take you here," sneered Li Sa while observing Soo Yin's eyes which had black pouches like a Panda's eyes.

"That's none of your business," Soo Yin said.

"Look at your baggy eyes. You must have spent the night with a masher man so you didn't sleep." Li Sa looked disgusted to see Soo Yin, as if she looked at trash piled on the side of the road.

"So what? Do you want to come with me?" Soo Yin challenged her with a snort. Explaining properly was also useless because Li Sa couldn't possibly believe her words.

It was useless to explain to someone who hated us. No matter how good we were, in their eyes, we will still be bad.

"Shameless bitch!" Li Sa sneered.

"Of course you have to do that, because relying on your salary will definitely not be enough to pay for your college. Ah, I almost forgot that you weren't necessarily accepted," Li Sa sneered while chuckling disdainfully.

Soo Yin just rubbed her chest hearing the insults that Li Sa always threw. It was not that she didn't want to retaliate but she was already quite invulnerable. Instead of responding to her, it was better to just give in.

"If you're done talking then I'll go now," Soo Yin said, then stepped away from Li Sa. There was no need to listen to the words of someone like her.

Jae-hwa waved his hand when he saw Soo Yin was walking towards him. Soo Yin was reaching into something from her bag so she didn't see Jae-hwa who was waving his hand.

The bulletin board had just been pasted near the open field to make it easier for prospective students to read the results.

"Soo Yin, let's have a quick look!" Jae-hwa rushed over to Soo Yin and grabbed her wrist to follow him.

"Jae-hwa, what's wrong?" Soo Yin asked as she followed him with stumbling steps.

"The announcement has been posted, let's see," Jae-hwa said excitedly while holding Soo Yin's hand tightly.

Soo Yin tried to let go of her hand but it wasn't that easy until she finally gave up. The important thing was that there was no Dae Hyun, so everything will not be a problem.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 325 - 325 - Wrong Room

Jae-hwa invited Soo Yin to jostle with the other prospective students who wanted to see their names on the board.

Soo Yin's heart was pounding even more when she saw some of them who looked gloomy. Looked like they didn't pass the test. There were even those who cried hysterically because they were too happy to be accepted.

Jae-hwa started to look up his name and Soo Yin's name. They enrolled in the same faculty so it was very easy to find them.

Meanwhile, Soo Yin just watched the others while gulping her saliva. She will be very grateful if she got accepted even though she felt very unsure.

Soo Yin frowned when Jae-hwa turned to her with sparkling eyes. Then he hugged Soo Yin's body tightly in his arms. It was the first time that Jae-hwa had dared to get that close.

"Finally we can be together again," Jae-hwa said with happiness that hit his heart.

"What do you mean?" asked Soo Yin who did not understand the meaning of the man's words while trying to free herself. Because her body felt tight.

Li Sa who saw Soo Yin was hugging another man and then took a picture of them with her cellphone. She intended to show it to Park Soo Hyun later when they meet.

"Soo Yin, be prepared that everyone will find out about your ugliness," Li Sa said with her lips pulled back. Felt happy because she didn't need to do violence to make Soo Yin stay away from Park Soo Hyun. After taking some photos, Li Sa immediately stepped away.

"Soo Yin, we're both accepted to this campus," Jae-hwa said with sparkling eyes.

"Really? Are you not lying?" Soo Yin then looked for her name which was written on the bulletin board. She then pranced with joy because she was too happy. Soo Yin wanted to contact Dae Hyun right now but it was a shame that she didn't bring her cellphone with her.

"Jae-hwa, I feel like I'm dreaming," Soo Yin said with teary eyes from feeling too happy. She repeatedly slapped her cheeks in turn.

"I've told you, we would definitely success," Jae-hwa said.

They both really felt very happy today. They can't wait to learn and pursue their dreams.

"Are you going back to the hotel after this?" Jae-hwa asked.

"It seems so, you know that our boss is sometimes grumpy. Instead of getting into trouble, I should go back to the hotel," Soo Yin said.

"Okay, I thought you'd come with me to the bookstore." There was hope that Soo Yin would come with him even though he didn't invite her directly.

"Next time, for now I'm really busy," Soo Yin said with a sweet smile etched on her lips.

They finally parted ways with their respective goals. Soo Yin went to the hotel by taxi. Her face continued to glow with joy. Really, she can't wait to meet her husband to tell him the good news.

After twenty minutes on the way, Soo Yin finally arrived at the hotel area. Several female employees were heard sneering at her as they were in the elevator.

"It's really nice to be someone who likes to seduce. You can go to work on your own," said one of them, while glancing sarcastically at Soo Yin.

"She didn't even go with her boss to a desert island."

"It's nice to live a full salary but have a very relaxed job."

Soo Yin was silent in response to their words. She realized that was the case so it was natural for them to talk about it.

Soo Yin remained indifferent until the elevator finally opened. Cheerfully, she rushed to her room. Without knocking, she went inside. She saw Dae Hyun who was sitting in his proud chair with his back to the table.

"Honey, I have good news today!" Soo Yin exclaimed with a sparkling expression and then walked over to her husband.

Park Soo Hyun's heart immediately skipped a beat when a girl he loved so much called him 'honey'. It really made his heart tremble and wanted to hug her immediately.

With an alluring smile, Park Soo Hyun then turned his great chair that Dae Hyun usually occupied. His position was now facing the idol of his heart.

Soo Yin was so flabbergasted that she subconsciously opened her mouth wide. She was shocked to see the man in front of her. It was not her husband, but it was someone else. Her heart seemed to stop beating at the thought of her presumptuous mouth.

"Mis...ter, Park... Soo Hyun," Soo Yin stuttered until her eyeballs almost fell out of shock.

"Hi, honey," Park Soo Hyun greeted with a wink.

'No! Are my eyes already short-sighted that I see wrong?' ~ Soo Yin thought as she rubbed her eyes. Her eyes could be wrong but it was a shame that she when blinked a few times, the man's face didn't change to her husband's face.

"Why... why are you in here, Sir?" Soo Yin asked, she was stuttering with cold sweat dripping from her body and her hands was now shaking.

"Don't you remember that this is now my room?" Park Soo Hyun said with a frown. At first, he was happy to hear Soo Yin called him 'honey'. But now he felt suspicious.

Soo Yin's tongue felt numb to answer. If she told the truth, then Park Soo Hyun will definitely be very suspicious. If she told a lie, then Park Soo Hyun will assume that Soo Yin really called him affectionately.

"Ahh, n... no. Of course I remember, I... I just came here to congratulate you." Nervously, Soo Yin finally stepped forward and reached out to shake Park Soo Hyun's hand. This was just so the man wouldn't feel suspicious.

"Can you say the word 'honey' one more time? I really want to hear it again," Park Soo Hyun said with a smile and then stretched out his hand to shake Soo Yin's hand which felt so soft. Even just by holding her hand made his heart skip a beat.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 326 - 326 - Turns Out He Left

Soo Yin bit her lower lip. Didn't know what to do at this point.

'Oh my God, what should I do?' ~ Soo Yin thought.

She accidentally called him 'honey' because she thought that it was her husband who was sitting on the chair, not Park Soo Hyun. If she knew it was going to be like this, she really would have better not go back to the hotel again. Soo Yin cursed her fate which seemed to have gone the wrong way.

"Say it, don't make me more nervous waiting for it," said Park Soo Hyun, who couldn't wait to hear that word from Soo Yin's lips again.

"Ho... Ho...." It was really hard for Soo Yin's tongue and lips to move.

Park Soo Hyun kept waiting for Soo Yin until she managed to say it. He knew that maybe meeting face to face like that would make the girl felt ashamed to speak her heart.

"I'll be patiently waiting for you to say it until this weekend. You don't have to say it now," said Park Soo Hyun as he rubbed Soo Yin's finger with one of his hands.

"Oh, didn't you just say there is a good news? What is the good news?" Park Soo Hyun asked.

"I'm accepted to study at Seoul National University," Soo Yin said shyly.

"Congratulations then. I'm very happy to hear that," said Park Soo Hyun excitedly.

"Thank you, Sir," Soo Yin said.

"Okay, then I'd better go to Mr. Dae Hyun's room," said Soo Yin as she tried to free her hand.

"You don't need to go there because my brother is also on a business trip," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Business trip? Where?" Soo Yin asked quickly because she wanted to know where her husband was at this time. Instantly, her chest felt tight because she felt like something was missing inside of her. She was really sad because Dae Hyun didn't even say anything when he met her.

"He went to Geoje Island," Park Soo Hyun said with a sigh. Without Dae Hyun, his work will definitely pile up.

"Will Mr. Dae Hyun be long?" Soo Yin asked with a dim heart.

"Maybe before the weekend he's already home. Besides, my brother has asked me to ask you to work in this room to help me. That's why you just have to always be in this room," Park Soo Hyun said, he was lying because Dae Hyun didn't even say anything about Soo Yin. Park Soo Hyun just wanted to make her feel at home around him. Let's just say these were all his way to approach her.

"Really?" Soo Yin did not expect her husband to let her continue to be near Park Soo Hyun. Even though he had previously said that he should not be close to anyone, including his brother. It made Soo Yin feel annoyed that her husband forgot about what he said.

"From now on you have to help me. You don't need to do anything and just being near me is enough to help me," Park Soo Hyun said.

"I'd better go back to my seat. If there's something I need to do, just say it, Sir," Soo Yin replied.

"Of course, today we have a meeting with some colleagues. You'd better come to accompany me," said Park Soo Hyun, who just learned about it from Chang Yuan.

"Yes, sir," Soo Yin said briefly without listening to what Park Soo Hyun said properly. Her mind was now so muddled so that she just did whatever Park Soo Hyun said.

Soo Yin then turned her body, with languid steps, she walked towards her desk. She threw her body on the chair and saw a table that was neatly arranged with various kinds of flowers on it. She was stunned by the photo on her desk. Dae Hyun's photo had been replaced with Park Soo Hyun's photo.

Soo Yin really couldn't understand the two brothers who behaved the same way. Should they put their picture on her desk? While her photo at that time was out of nowhere because Soo Yin had not had time to ask Dae Hyun.

This afternoon, according to the schedule, Soo Yin followed Park Soo Hyun who held a meeting with relations related to the cooperation they would carry out.

Mr. Takashi was quite surprised because the one who met him was Park Soo Hyun instead of Dae Hyun. At first he didn't believe it, but Soo Yin's presence there made him believe it because they had met before.

The meeting did not last long because it was only the signing of the contract agreement. After that they again held a meeting with the others.

It was now dark so Soo Yin wanted to just go home because there was nothing else to do. All of today's meetings also went smoothly.

oooooooo

Soo Yin wanted to go home without saying goodbye to Park Soo Hyun but it felt rude to go home without saying anything. So, Soo Yin chose to rest her head on the table with her hands as a cushion. Her head felt a little heavy because she kept thinking about her husband's whereabouts.

Park Soo Hyun just left because of some business. Soo Yin didn't want to know too much about his business so she didn't ask.

Not having a cell phone in hand made Soo Yin feel more and more bored because she was eager to see the messages her husband might have sent to her cellphone.

Park Soo Hyun entered the room slowly and quietly. Soo Yin who was facing the other way with thoughts that kept wandering in her mind, didn't notice Park Soo Hyun's presence behind her.

"Soo Yin, did you fall asleep?" Park Soo Hyun put the tray he brought on the table. Then he stroked Soo Yin's hair gently.

Soo Yin immediately straightened her head like before. The touch of his hand really made her feel uncomfortable.

"No, sir," Soo Yin said curtly.

Chapter 327 - 327 - Forced To Lie

"Let me take you home. But you better drink this coffee a little. I specially made this for you," Park Soo Hyun said, he immediately took the tray that was on the table. Then he handed it to Soo Yin.

"Sir, you shouldn't have bothered like this." Soo Yin felt even more uneasy because Park Soo Hyun had done something he shouldn't have done. Where there was a boss who made a drink for his secretary. Wasn't Soo Yin the one who had to do it instead? Even Soo Yin rarely made coffee for her husband.

"It's not difficult. With my eyes closed, I can easily make it," Park Soo Hyun said, followed by a crisp laugh. Then sat down on the chair facing Soo Yin.

"Thank you again," said Soo Yin.

Felt bad, Soo Yin immediately took a sip of it. Even though she didn't really like black coffee, there was nothing wrong with appreciating the people who have made it hard.

"Do you like it?" Park Soo Hyun asked, hopefully his coffee wasn't too bad.

"I prefer Cappuccino," Soo Yin said carefully, she was afraid to offend him.

"But, this also tastes very good on my tongue," added Soo Yin.

"Next time I'll make you a Cappuccino," said Park Soo Hyun.

"No, I should have made it for you."

"Then make me coffee tomorrow morning," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Sure," said Soo Yin as she took another sip of her coffee until her lips turned black.

Park Soo Hyun quickly reached for a handkerchief from his trouser pocket. Then gently stroked Soo Yin's lips. Soo Yin reflexively pulled her body slightly away so that Park Soo Hyun couldn't reach her.

Soo Yin wiped her lips with the back of her hand. Until the atmosphere became more awkward, after her husband came home, Soo Yin intended to make calculations to her husband. It was because of him that Soo Yin had to face Park Soo Hyun by herself.

"Sir, if I don't have any work anymore, I should just go home," Soo Yin said as she put down the half-filled cup. After working here and there all day, it was enough to made her body feel tired.

Working with Park Soo Hyun turned out to be quite fun because he always made her comfortable by talking to her. Even so, Soo Yin still preferred to work with Dae Hyun.

"Well, then let's go home. Coincidentally, tonight there is no work anymore. Soo Yin, thank you for tonight," said Park Soo Hyun while looking into Soo Yin's beautiful eyes until they met each other's eyes for a while. Made Soo Yin then averted her eyes.

"Thank you for what?"

"Thank you because having you here makes me even more excited to finish work immediately. I hope we will always be like this until we are old," said Park Soo Hyun.

'Old?' ~ Soo Yin thought in her heart.

'Is he thinking about getting married?' ~she added with a confused feeling.

"This weekend I want you to answer about what I've told you a month ago. Don't forget to bring the necklace I gave you that day." Park Soo Hyun just reminded.

Soo Yin gulped her saliva, really, she forgot where she put the necklace. So many things had happened to her over the past month that she had forgotten about it.

"Alright, let's go home," Park Soo Hyun said while reaching out his hand to take Soo Yin's hand but Soo Yin pretended not to see it. So Park Soo Hyun pulled his hand back.

"I'd better go home by myself, Sir. Our houses are in the opposites way so your time will be wasted if you take me," Soo Yin said, she was hoping that the man would stop his intention.

"Not at all, aren't you still living in your old rented house?" Park Soo Hyun said with a frown.

"I've moved to live with my cousin," Soo Yin said while scratching the back of her neck.

"Do you mean Li Sa?"

"No, I live with my other aunt." She felt bad to lie like this. But she was also impossible to tell the truth.

However, Soo Yin thought that found a way to escape from Park Soo Hyun was very difficult. Even though Soo Yin said that her cousin's house was quite far away, the man still insisted on taking Soo Yin until Soo Yin gave up on her efforts.

ooooo

After half an hour on the way, they finally arrived at the intersection in the direction of Pyeongchang-dong villa. Soo Yin purposely asked Park Soo Hyun to stop his car in front of a house that looked simple.

"Do you live here?" asked Park Soo Hyun while observing a house that was already looking a bit dark. Maybe everyone was asleep.

"Yes, sir," Soo Yin said.

"Then let me pick you up tomorrow morning," Park Soo Hyun said.

"No, sir. You don't have to pick me up because my aunt is very grumpy. She doesn't like seeing a girl being picked up by a man," Soo Yin stuttered. She was worried that the man was desperate to come to a house that she did not know who the owner was.

"Okay, I'll just wait for you at the hotel then."

"Thank you for bothering you. I'm going out now," said Soo Yin as she unbuckled the seat belt that was still wrapped around her body.

"Good night, I hope you can sleep well tonight and have sweet dreams," said Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin just smiled faintly in response, then got out of the car so there wouldn't be too much of a conversation. After all, she had to get to the villa immediately to find out where the necklace was.

Too bad, Park Soo Hyun's car didn't move even though Soo Yin had hoped for the car to leave soon.

"Sir, please go home first," said Soo Yin from the window.

"Come in first," said Park Soo Hyun.

After a bit of debate, Park Soo Hyun finally relented. Left that place first. Only then did Soo Yin stop the taxi to continue the journey to the villa.

Chapter 328 - 328 - Men Should Message First

As soon as Soo Yin arrived at the villa, the first thing she looked for was her cell phone. With hasty steps, Soo Yin then climbed the stairs to her room. It was true that her phone was lying on the nightstand.

As soon as Soo Yin opened the phone screen, it didn't turn out as expected. There was no message from her husband. There were only a few calls he had made this morning.

"Annoying!" Soo Yin grumbled then threw her phone on the bed. She pursed her lips as she walked to the bathroom.

Under the shower, Soo Yin remembered that she had to find the necklace that belonged to Park Soo Hyun. Hopefully it didn't lost because the necklace must be very expensive. The thought made her rush back to take a shower in order to find the necklace as soon as possible. It really made her uneasy.

After changing her clothes, Soo Yin immediately opened almost every drawer in the room. But unfortunately the necklace couldn't be found.

Soo Yin's hands were shaking so much so she asked Aunt Xia to help look to for it.

"Miss, what does the pendant look like?" asked Aunt Xia who was already getting ready to help Soo Yin. Although she just wanted to rest after waiting for Soo Yin to come home.

"It's shaped like a heart, Auntie," Soo Yin said with her hand continuing to rummage through the drawer.

The two of them then ruffled almost all the places where the necklace might be. Now Soo Yin's room was a mess with the things that were taken out. Until Soo Yin remembered the clothes she wore that night.

Soo Yin quickly looked in the closet and then reached into her pocket and found the necklace was there. Luckily, the necklace was not lost.

"Auntie, I found it!" Soo Yin cheered like she had just found a treasure.

"Thank goodness, was it a gift from Mr. Dae Hyun?" Aunt Xia asked.

"No, this is his brother's. Don't talk about Dae Hyun." Soo Yin's face was now bent again, remembering her husband who didn't give any message.

"Why?" Aunt Xia said with a frown.

"Auntie, he went out of town but didn't even tell me," Soo Yin replied with her lips moving forward.

"Why didn't you contact him first?" Aunt Xia said, maybe Soo Yin would listen to her.

"It should be the man who sent the message first, not the woman," Soo Yin grumbled with teary eyes. Maybe soon she will burst into tears.

Aunt Xia walked to the side of the bed and walked over to Soo Yin and put her arm around her shoulder to ease the restlessness she was feeling a little.

"Auntie, why is he so annoying! Doesn't he understand what I'm feeling right now? This morning when I met him, he didn't even say anything if he was going to leave," said Soo Yin while leaning her head on the shoulder of Aunt Xia who was considered like her own mother. Unknowingly, crystal beads also flew down her cheeks.

"Maybe tomorrow Master will also come home," Aunt Xia said. She rubbed Soo Yin's shoulder gently. That was how a woman felt when she was away from the man she loved. Will feel sad and her heart felt empty if there was no news.

"He won't be home tomorrow, he will come home this weekend and it's still 6 days away." Soo Yin was now sobbing to pour out all the anxiety she was feeling.

"Don't worry, Master's phone might run out of battery. Now it's better for you to rest, I'm sure that tomorrow Master will call you, Miss," Aunt Xia said.

Soo Yin nodded her head then inched up onto the bed. Her heart was really sad to hold back the longing, even though that she had not seen him only for a few hours.

"Auntie, I'm sorry for bothering you," Soo Yin said quietly as she looked at the things that were lying on the floor. She wiped her tears because she felt much calmer after talking to Aunt Xia.

"It's okay," said the middle-aged woman with a smile.

Soo Yin laid her head on the pillow, she was wishing she could close her eyes so she could forget about her husband for a moment.

Aunt Xia continued her work of rearranging the things that had been taken out earlier. It didn't take long, because half an hour everything was in order.

She glanced at Soo Yin who was on the bed who she thought was asleep because she seemed to have closed her eyes. Aunt Xia then spread the blanket to cover Soo Yin's body.

"Be patient, Miss, Mr. Dae Hyun loves you so much that there might be another reason why he didn't call," Aunt Xia said while stroking Soo Yin's hair. After that, she left the room.

Soo Yin opened her eyes again because she couldn't sleep. No matter how hard she tried to close her eyes, she couldn't. Until she was tired and chose to sit while she was leaning on the side of the bed.

She reached for her cell phone that was on the nightstand which suddenly rang. But sadly it was just a mobile operator who was sending messages.

Soo Yin chose to look at their photos at the Horizon Gimje festival some time ago. They really were like a happy family.

"Don't you miss me?" Soo Yin muttered as she looked closely at Dae Hyun's face.

"Actually where are you right now?" Soo Yin said. There was a feeling of wanting to contact Dae Hyun first but it was a shame if a woman called a man first when she was angry.

Soo Yin rubbed her face angrily. Then bent her knees to bury her head between her legs. Soo Yin was eager to catch up with her husband now.

It was getting late and Soo Yin only could close her eyes before the morning. She woke up after only two hours of sleep.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 329 - 329 - Drunk

Soo Yin left for the hotel with a yawning mouth holding back the drowsiness that was torturing her immensely. Her eye circles were black like a panda. She staggered as she entered the elevator. Park Soo Hyun was lucky to be there so he immediately supported her.

"Soo Yin, are you sick?" Park Soo Hyun said while holding Soo Yin's shoulder.

"No, I'm just sleepy," Soo Yin said, while yawning again.

"If you are sleepy then sleep. You don't have to work today," said Park Soo Hyun who was very worried about Soo Yin's condition.

Park Soo Hyun continued to lead Soo Yin into his room. Made the female employees who passed them became very jealous. They were jealous to see their boss was very close to a secretary. Moreover, they knew that the way he saw and treated Soo Yin was very different from other employees.

Again, Park Soo Hyun made a cup of cappuccino coffee which made Soo Yin's eyes more literate and could work as usual even if it had to be forced.

Soo Yin didn't want people to think that her job was very easy because of her boss's kindness. She had to work hard so as not to be underestimated even though she had to open her eyes with all her might.

After finishing work as usual, Park Soo Hyun always asked to take her home even though she had repeatedly refused. Soo Yin just surrendered to asking to be escorted to her usual place.

Three days later,

It had been three days and there was no news from Dae Hyun. It made Soo Yin even more frantic with her heart. During that time, Soo Yin could never sleep at night. She just fell asleep after almost morning.

It just so happened that tonight Park Soo Hyun didn't escort her. So before going home, Soo Yin stopped by a shop. She wanted to spend some more time outside so that when she came home her eyes would be sleepy.

Once, Soo Yin tried to contact Dae Hyun but unfortunately the number was not active. It made her immediately think badly about her husband. Women will definitely feel it when her husband did not give any news.

After sitting down, Soo Yin ordered a bottle of Meishilji, a Korean alcoholic drink that tasted sweet. This drink was made from fermented green plums with brown sugar or honey.

Tonight the weather was very cold because it was snowing so Soo Yin ordered a bowl of Budae Jjigae using gochujang sauce with a slightly spicy but savory taste. There was a mixture of beef and vegetables in it.

Before the order came, Soo Yin had already finished two glasses of Meishilji. It turned out that drinking alcohol when her heart was down was enough to relax her. Until suddenly Soo Yin wanted to drink it again and again.

It was now almost ten o'clock at night, but Soo Yin had not moved from that place. Luckily the shop was open for 24 hours so the owner won't kick her out even if she had to sleep there.

One bottle was finished by her. Now she was ready to open another bottle. Soo Yin didn't care at all about the visitors who were looking at her. They all thought that Soo Yin was heartbroken so it was natural to want to forget the pain for a while by drinking alcohol.

After finishing two bottles of Meishilji Soo Yin finally came out of the shop at eleven at night. The snow was still falling even more and more heavily. Soo Yin staggered across the sidewalk. Sometimes she even almost fell if she did not hold on to the fence. In the middle of the snow, Soo Yin walked aimlessly because she was drunk.

Chang Yuan was driving his car at a low speed because the road was slippery due to the heavy snow that was starting to cover the road. His gaze shifted when he suddenly saw a very familiar figure. He slowed down the car.

"Is that the young lady? Why is she here at night like this?" Chang Yuan said to himself as he pulled the car over. At first he had no intention of going out because he thought it wasn't Soo Yin.

Soo Yin's head really felt so dizzy, plus the colder night made it difficult for her to walk properly. She walked with a stagger until several times almost fell on the road. In the end, Soo Yin could no longer support her weight.

"Miss!" Chang Yuan cried from inside of the car when he saw Soo Yin fell on the pavement. He then got out of the car and walked over to Soo Yin.

"Miss? What happened to you?" Chang Yuan said as he helped Soo Yin to get up.

"Who are you? Are you my husband?" Soo Yin babbled incoherently while chuckling.

Chang Yuan then carried Soo Yin to take her to his car. He laid her in the back passenger because Soo Yin was drunk. The possibility of being able to sit was very difficult.

"Honey, why did you make me sit in the back?" Soo Yin chirped while waving her hands.

Chang Yuan really felt sorry to see Soo Yin like that. He didn't know what really happened but what was clear now was that he must also contact Dae Hyun.

Chang Yuan grabbed his cell phone that was on the dashboard and looked for a number to call someone.

"Hello, can I speak to Mr. Dae Hyun?" Chang Yuan asked the person on the other end of the phone.

"Mr. Dae Hyun is resting. You better call tomorrow morning," said a man's voice who already knew that Chang Yuan was Dae Hyun's assistant.

"I can't, because I have to say it right now. Just tell him that it's about Young Lady," Chang Yuan said. It was impossible to wait until tomorrow because Soo Yin's condition seemed like she needed his boss.

"Okay, wait a minute," the man said.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 330 - 330 - Geoje Island

Chang Yuan turned his head towards Soo Yin who was sitting in the back. She occasionally coughed because her throat felt dry.

"Hello, what's up Assistant Chang?" Dae Hyun said after a few minutes later.

"Young lady, Master...." Chang Yuan didn't have the heart to say when he saw Soo Yin who kept talking incoherently.

"What's wrong with my wife?" Dae Hyun's voice sounded very worried when Chang Yuan mentioned his wife's name.

"Young lady is drunk, sir. I just found her on the side of the road," Chang Yuan said cautiously, afraid of angering his boss.

"How come she's drunk?" Dae Hyun was frustrated to hear his wife's condition

"Since earlier, Miss Soo Yin raved about while occasionally calling your name, sir," said Chang Yuan.

"Oh my God, what really happened to Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun mumbled, but Chang Yuan could hear it.

"Assistant Chang, how is she now? I want to talk to her," Dae Hyun said.

Chang Yuan understood, then shifted his body slightly back.

"Miss, Mr. Dae Hyun wants to talk to you," Chang Yuan said as he handed his cell phone to Soo Yin who was lying down.

"I don't want to, just tell him that he doesn't have to call me anymore. What husband who can let his wife be lonely," Soo Yin snarled as she pushed the phone away from her ear.

Chang Yuan just let out a long sigh. Then put the phone to his ear again. He was sure his boss had heard it.

"Why does Soo Yin sound so hurt?" Hearing his wife's voice made Dae Hyun's chest flutter. Her voice sounded so sad.

"Have you contact young lady, Sir?" Chang Yuan asked.

"I haven't contacted her yet because I've been busy." Dae Hyun's words stopped for a moment.

"I also can't go home anytime soon. Tomorrow morning tell someone to bring her here," Dae Hyun ordered without thinking.

"What if she doesn't want to?"

"Anyway, that's your business. You have to get someone to bring her here. Tonight, if possible," said Dae Hyun who was impatient. Hearing Soo Yin's voice who was so sad, he couldn't delay it any longer to meet.

"It's just stopped snowing now. It might be too late to get there," Chang Yuan said.

"No problem, I'll wait," said Dae Hyun.

"Alright, now we'll be leaving immediately," said Chang Yuan with a long sigh.

Grateful because now the weather looked clear and the stars had started to appear. So, Chang Yuan immediately drove his car. Before that, he had contacted Aunt Xia so as not to worry about Soo Yin.

It took about 5 hours to get to Geoje Island if the weather was sunny and not snowing.

On the way, Chang Yuan had asked his men to take Soo Yin to Geoje Island because tomorrow he had to go back to work. He chose the most trusted people to take his boss's wife.

Geoje Island

Geoje Island was not much less beautiful than Jeju Island. It was just that the tourism sector had not yet developed so it was not well known by tourists. When in fact the island was also beautiful with a bridge that stretched between one island and another. So people didn't need a boat to get there.

Dae Hyun's main goal to Geoje Island was also because someone wanted to offer cooperation to develop tourist attractions in there. It was so sudden that he didn't have time to say goodbye to his wife.

Dae Hyun rented an inn that was far from one place to another. The room was made of transparent glass. It was located in the mountains with a very wide expanse of green scenery. We can also enjoy the night sky with a sprinkling of stars and moonlight if the weather was sunny like this.

In the room, the facilities were very complete, from the bathroom to the television. Usually tourists had to book in advance to stay there. Luckily Dae Hyun knew the owner very well so he didn't take long to occupy the room after knowing Soo Yin was coming.

It was almost morning but Soo Yin hadn't arrived yet. The man just paced around the room because his eyes didn't even want to close. They had been on their way for five hours but until now there had been no news.

Dae Hyun continued to be plagued by anxiety. He was worried about Soo Yin who, according to Chang Yuan, was very drunk. All this time, he had never known if Soo Yin wanted to get drunk. Except when they were in the same house on the first time. He remembered when Soo Yin was drunk because he hadn't visited her for a few days. After that Soo Yin had never drink again.

Dae Hyun was impatient, so he decided to wait for Soo Yin at the main gate. He had to walk down a long flight of stairs. Though the air in the mountains felt very cold than the cold air in Seoul.

Not long after, Dae Hyun stood in front of the gate, finally the men who had been appointed by Chang Yuan managed to get there safely.

"Why are you guys so slow? Did you come here in a car or a snail?" Dae Hyun grumbled while looking coldly at his two men.

"Sorry sir, on the way it snowed so the road became slippery. We have to be careful because we don't want to slip," said one of his subordinates, while bowing his head. Didn't dare to look at the big boss.

"Alright, is my wife all right?" Dae Hyun asked. Then stepped into the back passenger to see his wife.

Opening the car door, Dae Hyun heaved a sigh of relief to see Soo Yin was sleeping. Dae Hyun immediately carried Soo Yin's body.

"Now you can go home," Dae Hyun said when he turned his body to his two men before finally climbing the stairs to his room. He carried Soo Yin's body breathlessly because the distance was quite far and the road was uphill. It was quite exhausting to get to the top.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 331 - 331 - I Miss You

Dae Hyun had intended to rent a regular inn but it didn't seem impressive to his wife. It didn't matter if he got tired now because later everything will pay off.

Dae Hyun slowly laid Soo Yin's body on the king size bed. It was spacious enough for two people.

Dae Hyun wanted to change Soo Yin's clothes that looked messy. But unfortunately he did not ask Chang Yuan to bring clothes for his wife.

He took off Soo Yin's coat, which was probably wet from the snow, then spread a blanket to cover her body. Dae Hyun also laid down beside Soo Yin while hugging her waist. The scent of Meishilji still lingered on Soo Yin's body but Dae Hyun just let it be.

Now Dae Hyun was relieved that his wife was beside him. Slowly sleepiness came and he could fall asleep comfortably.

It was now ten o'clock in the morning, but the two humans still closed their eyes while they were embracing each other. Dae Hyun's sleepiness made him reluctant to wake up even though his alarm rang several times.

Just today, Dae Hyun turned on his phone after a few days there. He thought that Soo Yin wouldn't be that bad when he left. He didn't contact Soo Yin because he wanted to reduce his jealousy and excessive possessiveness towards Soo Yin. He was really angry when he found out Soo Yin was with another man. But this time his efforts seemed unsuccessful.

Now Soo Yin was using Dae Hyun's hand as a cushion. Until Dae Hyun couldn't wake up for fear of disturbing her deep sleep. Her face looked tired with eye bags wrapped around her eyeballs.

Soo Yin stretched her arms as her body felt sore. She blinked when she saw someone was staring at her.

"Who are you?" said Soo Yin who was not yet aware. She was too drunk that the effects of the alcohol were still in her head.

"Of course I'm your husband," Dae Hyun said while tracing his wife's face with his finger.

"My husband is going somewhere, he's impossible to be here," Soo Yin said, talking incoherently.

"Honey, wake up," Dae Hyun said as he shook Soo Yin's body to wake her up.

"Oh, I must be dreaming. I will sleep again so I can return to the real world," Soo Yin said, while closing her eyes again. She thought it was because she missed him so much that she felt Dae Hyun was now in front of her.

Dae Hyun just sighed looking at his wife who thought it was all just a dream.

"Honey, I miss you." There was a sobbing sound from Soo Yin's lips without her realising it.

Dae Hyun hugged Soo Yin's body tighter. Unexpectedly, his intention to reduce his jealousy ended up like that.

"Honey, wake up," Dae Hyun whispered as he brushed the hair away from her face. He kissed Soo Yin's cheek so many times until she opened her eyes again.

"Am I not dreaming?" Soo Yin said as she gently stroked her husband's chin which felt rough because of the hairs that grew there.

"Soo Yin, why are you like this? Why are you torturing yourself by drinking until late at night?" Dae Hyun said while burying Soo Yin's head in his chest.

"You're annoying, you're mean. You let me be in Seoul while you're here." Soo Yin hit her husband's chest while sobbing.

"You have no idea how much I miss you."

"I think you'll be fine. I just want to calm myself because of the small fights that often happen," Dae Hyun said while pressing his lips to the top of Soo Yin's head.

"You even have the heart to let me be with your brother every day. Even though you said I shouldn't be close to any man," Soo Yin grumbled.

"Okay, I'm really sorry. I promise I won't do it again," Dae Hyun said with full of regret for making his wife lonely.

Soo Yin kept sobbing in her husband's chest. Letting out all of her anger this time. Dae Hyun was also silent when his chest kept getting hit and sometimes Soo Yin also pinched his stomach. But it didn't matter to Dae Hyun as long as she still loved him and was willing to be together forever.

If Soo Yin wasn't in love, how could she be so sad when he didn't tell her. Made him more and more not hesitate to stay with her even though there were many obstacles that hit.

"I'm sorry, for not contacting you. Yesterday my number didn't have a network and I was immediately busy with various jobs," Dae Hyun said.

"Wait, if your number is off then who did tell you if I'm drunk?" Soo Yin wiped her tears.

The last time that Soo Yin remembered she was at a tavern to eat and drink and then went out. Soo Yin didn't remember anything after that, only vaguely remembered someone who carried her then put her inside.

"Assistant Chang contacted someone who was here. That's why I found out and told them to bring you here. Next time don't act stupid like that again," Dae Hyun said.

"It's your fault, because I couldn't even sleep while you were away. You should know that longing is so torturous," Soo Yin said with pouting lips.

"Then, what now? Has it been cured?" Dae Hyun teased.

"You suck!" Soo Yin grumbled further and buried her head into Dae Hyun's arms.

After half an hour of venting all the anger, Soo Yin's heart now felt more relieved. She slowly released herself from Dae Hyun's arms.

"Has your longing been cured enough?" Dae Hyun asked with a smile.

"Ughh ... now take a shower, after that I'll take a shower," Soo Yin said as she got up to sit on the side of the bed. She felt that her body felt sticky and the smell of Meishilji on her clothes made her nose uncomfortable.

"Why don't we take a shower together? Hasn't it been a long time since we did it?" Dae Hyun shifted his body to sit on the side of the bed with Soo Yin. Then grabbed her waist again.

"Hurry up and shower." Soo Yin immediately shook her body to release. Then pushed Dae Hyun's body to get off the bed.

"Alright." Dae Hyun was only able to obey his little wife's request before she got angry.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 332 - 332 - Special With You

While she was waiting for Dae Hyun to take a shower, Soo Yin slowly stood up from her seat. With a staggered body, Soo Yin walked to the curtain to open it. She wanted to know where exactly they were now because it can't be on Amazon. Soo Yin pulled the curtain to open slightly, which immediately revealed a wide expanse of green scenery.

Soo Yin's eyes immediately widened so that her hand reflexively shifted the curtains to open wider. There was also a view of the sea that seemed to be not far from where she was standing.

She was really amazed at the sight that was very beautiful.

"Where exactly is this?" Soo Yin muttered as she looked around the room. She just realized that the roof was round like a ball that was still covered with curtains so that sunlight could not penetrate.

Soo Yin's gaze returned to the expanse of green trees that thrived and soothed her eyes.

Dae Hyun closed the bathroom door slowly and walked carefully. So that Soo Yin didn't notice the arrival of Dae Hyun who was now already right behind her.

With no clothes on, Dae Hyun hugged Soo Yin from behind.

"How? Do you like this place?" Dae Hyun said while resting his chin on Soo Yin's shoulder.

With one hand, Dae Hyun pulled the hanging rope. Instantly the curtain that covered the roof opened. The sunlight, which was almost in the middle of the horizon, burst in. The room was brightly lit like without a roof.

"Wow..." Soo Yin said, looked amazed. She thought she could only dream of staying in a place like that.

"I just found out that this room is made of glass," Soo Yin said while looking around.

"I booked this place because it's special with you. I want us to feel our honeymoon again," Dae Hyun whispered sensually.

"We have been married for a long time. Where is there another honeymoon event," Soo Yin said.

"As long as you're with me, I feel like we've just gotten married. I want to go on a honeymoon every day," Dae Hyun said as he kissed the top of Soo Yin's head and tightened his hands on Soo Yin's waist.

Soo Yin didn't respond to her husband's words because she was still too amazed by the place. Turned out they were in the middle of the mountains. A place that Soo Yin really dreamed of.

"Actually where are we now?" Soo Yin tilted her body to look back at her husband.

"We are on the Geoje Island," said Dae Hyun.

"I just found out that Geoje Island is very beautiful," Soo Yin said.

"Do you like being in here?"

Soo Yin nodded her head very enthusiastically. For a while, Soo Yin continued to observe the scenery outside.

"Now take a shower first if you don't want me to bathe you," Dae Hyun teased as he loosened his embrace.

"But don't stay in the bathroom too long so I don't leave," he added with a meaningful smile.

Soo Yin freed herself from Dae Hyun's embrace then turned to look at him with a sullen face. She really didn't like Dae Hyun's threat to leave.

"Okay, I'm going to take a shower right now. Stay here and don't go anywhere. Or I'll be angry and I'll never forgive you again!" Soo Yin threatened while narrowing her eyes and pouting her lips forward. With a stomp, Soo Yin immediately entered the bathroom.

"Don't worry, I'll always be here waiting for you," Dae Hyun said with a chuckle. He really liked Soo Yin's spoiled attitude like this. Will sulk because of little things that were not much. For him, making Soo Yin annoyed was like entertainment for himself when he was tired from work. But that didn't mean he liked it if Soo Yin was angry.

Waiting for Soo Yin to finish cleaning herself, Dae Hyun first changed his clothes. Just remembered that Soo Yin didn't bring clothes. Maybe they'll come out later. But he was sure that Soo Yin wouldn't be able to go anywhere today.

Soo Yin splashed her head with joy and hummed happily. Being in that place was still like a dream so the feeling of happiness was difficult to express in words. While taking a shower, she looked up at the sky which seemed to be getting cloudy. The clouds slowly covered the sun. Maybe it will snow in the area soon.

After finishing, Soo Yin immediately came out of the bathroom.

It turned out that Dae Hyun was lying on the bed on his side with his hands to support his head. He only wore shorts and a casual t-shirt because he didn't want to go anywhere.

Today Dae Hyun had asked permission to not go anywhere. Will enjoy their honeymoon together again after a long time of not doing anything with Soo Yin. He was really impatient, just imagining it made his heart skip a beat.

Seeing her glowing skin with the remnants of water stuck to her body, Dae Hyun unconsciously gulped down his saliva. Even though he's done it many times with Soo Yin, he always felt the same way.

"Honey, where are my clothes?" Soo Yin said in a spoiled tone. She only used a towel up to the knee that was wrapped around her body.

Dae Hyun thought for a moment because actually there were no Soo Yin's clothes there. Then he sat on the side of the bed.

"You can just wear my clothes for a while. After lunch, we'll go out later. That's if you want, but I'd prefer if you don't wear any clothes." Dae Hyun said with a very seductive smile.

Soo Yin then glared at Dae Hyun. It turned out that her husband was very perverted.

"Okay," Soo Yin said with a deep breath. It was better to wear her husband's clothes than to just wear a towel. After all, she was unprepared. If Soo Yin knew that she would be taken to that place, she would have prepared beforehand. She didn't even realize when she was on the way to go there.

Chapter 333 - 333 - Start (21+)

Dae Hyun immediately got out of bed and chose clothes that was inside for his little wife. He found a white long-sleeved shirt even though it would be loose on Soo Yin's body it didn't matter because they weren't going anywhere. So no one will see her.

"Just use this," Dae Hyun said as he handed it to Soo Yin. He smiled triumphantly because he was carrying a thin white shirt.

"Am I just going to wear this? No underwear?" Soo Yin said with a frown.

"It's okay, after all we're not going anywhere today," said Dae Hyun whose heart had begun to beat erratically.

Soo Yin nodded her head then went back into the bathroom to change her clothes. She walked out while pulling her shirt which was loosen above her knees. It was just that her innocent body didn't wear any underwear, made the protruding parts so transparent that Dae Hyun unconsciously gulped his saliva.

Dae Hyun wasn't sure he could hold back all his desires when he saw Soo Yin's transparent body. He was indeed not wrong to chose and give the clothes to his little wife.

"Your clothes are very big," said Soo Yin as she walked to the front of the dressing table. She rolled up the part of her arm that was too long with her hand. Turned around a few times then sat down to dry her hair.

"You're just too small." Dae Hyun chuckled then got up to his wife. Like that time, he was reaching for a small towel to help her dry her still wet hair.

"You are very beautiful when you wear my clothes," Dae Hyun said as his lips pulled back into a meaningful smile.

Soo Yin didn't realize that there was a hidden meaning in her husband's compliment so she just smiled.

"Has Aeri ever done this?" Soo Yin asked as she looked at her husband from the mirror reflection.

"She cares so much about her appearance so she won't want to. Now, don't talk about her," Dae Hyun said. He didn't want any small commotion to occur between them.

"Are we not going anywhere? Then what are we going to do in here?" Soo Yin asked with an innocent face.

"What do you think?" Dae Hyun whispered in Soo Yin's ear so sensually that it woke up strange sensations like electric shocks which ran through Soo Yin's body.

Soo Yin tilted her head then turned slightly back to look at her husband's face.

"Is this place very secluded?" Soo Yin asked.

"According to your request I did take you to a secluded place, so that no one sees you and you can't see any man but me," said Dae Hyun who pressed his cheek near his wife's lips.

"You're so naughty. How could it be like that," Soo Yin grumbled.

"Since meeting you, I've turned to be naughty again," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin got up from her seat wanting to open the curtain, so she could see more of the view. It felt like she was not satisfied looking around because Dae Hyun had told her to take a shower.

Just stood up and had not have time to move, Dae Hyun had already turned Soo Yin's body towards him. He quickly brought their lips together to unite.

At first, Soo Yin struggled because she felt unprepared, but the soft kiss was so intoxicating that Soo Yin slowly returned it. They both closed their eyes to enjoy and taste their melded lips tasting each other. It was undeniable that Soo Yin also missed her husband very much.

Soo Yin's hand that was hanging from her side, now wrapped her arm around Dae Hyun's neck. Because her body felt out of balance with the passion she felt. While Dae Hyun wrapped his arms around his wife's waist.

They made out passionately with desires in their chests. Until Dae Hyun's hand began to trace his wife's back. Then slowly around the two beautiful mountains that looked so transparent.

A strange sensation ran through Soo Yin's body even more that she couldn't support her weight unless she held on to her husband's neck.

Realizing that there was no resistance from Soo Yin, Dae Hyun stopped the kiss.

"Why did you stop?" Soo Yin said sensually with a ragged breath in her chest. The dark circles in her eyes made Soo Yin's eyes looked even more foggy.

"Do you want more?" Dae Hyun teased, who actually already felt his desire was at the crown.

In the midst of the flooded consciousness, Soo Yin nodded her head. It had been a long time of not feeling it, it made her desire grow even bigger.

"Are you okay? I'm afraid of hurting your body because you're not ready yet," Dae Hyun said, he took time to hear Soo Yin ask him. How could he not know if Soo Yin's condition had recovered after asking Doctor Kang a few days ago.

Soo Yin was impatient so she immediately tiptoed and then pressed their lips back together. Dae Hyun really felt happy to see Soo Yin who was more aggressive like this.

Dae Hyun then pushed Soo Yin's body to lie on the bed before she slumped down. Now Dae Hyun had managed to contain her.

Without refusal, one by one, Soo Yin's shirt buttons had been successfully removed by Dae Hyun. When he was about to unbutton the last button, Dae Hyun suddenly heard Soo Yin's stomach growled.

Dae Hyun was confused between stopping or continuing his activities because of his burning desire.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath with his breath that was still racing in his chest. Should he continue what they were doing? Or just stop because he can't bear to hear Soo Yin's stomach growled?

He closed his eyes for a moment while thinking as he enjoyed the kiss that Soo Yin gave. After thinking for a while, it was better to continue later than Soo Yin fell ill. That was more fatal consequences because he most likely will have to wait even longer.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 334 - 334 -Failed

Dae Hyun finally broke the kiss even though the desire had filled his head and was ready to explode. But what was his power because it was impossible to do it when his wife was starving. He wasn't a maniac who couldn't delay his desires.

Slowly Dae Hyun began to button Soo Yin's shirt back one by one.

Soo Yin opened her eyes slowly. She did not realize if her stomach asked to be filled. Maybe because she was too engrossed in the game that Dae Hyun was doing so she didn't feel hungry.

"Why did you stop?" Soo Yin said with a breath that was still out of breath. Her gaze looked sad and her face looked sullen because Dae Hyun stopped his game.

"Let's eat first. I don't want you to starve until the afternoon," said Dae Hyun as he pulled his lips back into a mischievous smile.

"I'm not hungry," Soo Yin said, while pursing her lips.

"If you're not hungry, why was your stomach growling?" Dae Hyun chuckled.

"Now we eat first. Later after getting a stamina, then we can continue again. Until whenever you want," Dae Hyun said while glancing mischievously.

Soo Yin immediately got up from her sleep then walked towards the bathroom with a sullen face. She was annoyed that she was only half way through but it had to end. She cursed her uncompromising stomach.

Dae Hyun just took a deep breath as he watched Soo Yin walk away and then shut the bathroom door very hard. It was natural that Soo Yin was angry because Dae Hyun shouldn't have teased her before they had breakfast. But he really couldn't hold back the turmoil in his heart.

Dae Hyun immediately asked the waiter to bring lunch to their room because it couldn't be called breakfast anymore. If it wasn't cloudy, it would be hot by now.

Soo Yin washed her face while grumbling incoherently. She was really mad at her husband. With a sigh, Soo Yin finally came out of the bathroom after being there for half an hour.

"Finally you came out too, I thought you fell asleep inside," Dae Hyun said while scratching the back of his head which didn't itch.

Soo Yin glared at him briefly then turned her face the other way. Disappointment was still in her soul.

"Are you still angry?" Dae Hyun blocked Soo Yin's steps by spreading his arms.

"Get out of my way, I want to sleep," Soo Yin said flatly, who was about to walk towards the bed.

"Let's have lunch first. I hope you like it." No matter how much Soo Yin struggled, Dae Hyun grabbed her wrist to invite her to eat out.

Only a few steps, they arrived in front of a small hut consisting of two chairs and a table. The roof was shaped like a giant colorful umbrella.

On the table there was already a large portion of seafood and one young coconut, there was also a glass of juice. Each had two straws and a spoon.

"Why did you only order one?" Soo Yin asked with a furrowed brow.

"So that we can eat in a plate together and drink in a glass together," Dae Hyun said lightly. He then pulled a chair for Soo Yin to sit there.

A light breeze blew against Soo Yin's loose hair, making it even more fluttery and messy. The cool weather made her rub her arm to reduce the cold she felt.

"If you're freezing, we can just eat inside," Dae Hyun said while observing his wife.

"In here is fine," said Soo Yin as she put her hand between her legs.

"Wait a minute, let me go inside," Dae Hyun said. Then, he went back into the room.

Not long after, Dae Hyun finally came out with a coat in his hand. He put it on Soo Yin's shoulder. Her body must have felt cold because the clothes she was wearing were thin.

"Thank you," said Soo Yin who was no longer angry. Getting such a sweet and romantic treatment melted Soo Yin's heart. Her eyes kept moving as far as she could see, it looked so beautiful from the outside that she was able to forget her frustration.

"Eat first," Dae Hyun said as he brought the spoon that already contained food to Soo Yin's mouth.

"Let me eat by myself," Soo Yin said in a spoiled tone.

"No, this is my apology." Dae Hyun smiled, adamant about what he was doing.

In the end, Soo Yin just obeyed her husband's words. A husband who never changed in treating his wife well. Even though they often fight over small things, it may be all just spices of love that will accompany them together until they were old.

"I don't think I want to go home and leave this place," Soo Yin said.

"Yeah, we'll just stay here from now on," Dae Hyun replied lightly without thinking about the burden and all the risks.

"What about your family if they find out?" Soo Yin's face looked serious.

"They will also not be too suspicious because I will build a resort in this area," said Dae Hyun.

Geoje Island was actually an island that was no less beautiful than Jeju Island. It was just that the tourists were still too foreign and assumed that the island was a remote island and far from the crowds.

"Shouldn't we go for a walk?" Soo Yin asked. It was a shame if she had been in that place but hadn't gone anywhere.

"Later, if you're still strong enough to stand up," Dae Hyun teased with a chuckle.

Soo Yin's face immediately turned red with embarrassment from her husband's words. She remembered when they were on Jeju Island. Just walking to the bathroom was also difficult.

"Only after you get clothes, then we can go out. Do you intend to wear those clothes in front of everyone?" Dae Hyun asked. Although he deliberately didn't buy clothes so that Soo Yin wouldn't go anywhere. He just wanted to spend some time alone together with her.

Soo Yin pursed her lips in response to her husband's words while looking at her long legs that looked innocent. Then nodded her head in agreement to her husband's words.

Chapter 335 - 335 - Lying For Good

They had finished eating but Soo Yin didn't want to leave yet even though the weather looked unfriendly. So that the cold air immediately seeped into their pores.

"Come here, honey," Dae Hyun called while patting his lap.

"What's wrong?" Soo Yin asked while frowning.

"Well, just come here," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin did as Dae Hyun told her to get up and then sat on his lap.

If they were relaxed like that, they were like a couple of uncle and niece. Soo Yin's face looked much younger without makeup. Soo Yin's height which was only about Dae Hyun's shoulders made her look like a child.

After Soo Yin was in his lap, Dae Hyun hugged her tiny body so she won't feel cold. Soo Yin kept pointing to some scenic spots to find out where she was.

Without boredom, Dae Hyun continued to answer question after question that Soo Yin asked. Soo Yin looked very enthusiastic and wanted to visit the various places that had been told. It was a shame because some places looked foggy so it was not clearly visible.

They were outside long enough for the weather to slowly start to snow. Made their bodies freeze even though they hugged each other

"Honey, let's go in. The weather is not friendly," Dae Hyun said.

"Okay," Soo Yin said as she stood up from her husband's lap.

Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's waist so they could walk side by side.

After entering the room, at the same time, Dae Hyun's cell phone rang. So Dae Hyun rushed to answer it. Hopefully it was not someone who intended to cooperate with him because today he really didn't want to be disturbed.

It turned out that it was Park Soo Hyun, he couldn't help but have to answer. Maybe he had something important to say.

"What is wrong?" Dae Hyun asked briefly.

"Hyeong, Soo Yin is not in the office. I've called her but she didn't answer. I'm really worried about her," Park Soo Hyun said in a voice that sounded panicked.

"Really? Maybe she's reluctant to come to work because you're so annoying," Dae Hyun said casually, followed by a small chuckle.

"Of course not, I treat her very right and like a princess. You might not even treat her as well as I do," Park Soo Hyun said, making Dae Hyun put on a sour face to hear that.

"Maybe I should visit her house because a few days after you left she said she couldn't sleep at night. So when she came to work she often looked pale. I'm afraid that Soo Yin is now sick," continued Park Soo Hyun without pause.

"Do you know where her house is?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Of course, I took her home every night," said Park Soo Hyun.

Dae Hyun glanced at his wife who was standing behind him. She looked calm as if she was not tired of looking at the waves on the beach which was a bit far away.

"Okay, then let Chang Yuan find out her whereabouts. All you need to do is stay in the office," Dae Hyun said.

"No, Hyeong. I can't stay like this before meeting her. Sorry to interrupt, I'm going to look for her right now," said Park Soo Hyun.

Before Dae Hyun could answer, the phone line was cut off.

"You stubborn bastard," Dae Hyun grumbled.

Hearing the curse of her husband who seemed to be annoyed, Soo Yin turned to him.

"Who called you?" Soo Yin asked curiously with a frown on her forehead.

"Honey, does Park Soo Hyun often take you home when I'm not in Seoul?" Daehyun asked.

Soo Yin nodded her head while biting her lower lip for fear that Dae Hyun might get angry.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath. His chest felt tight and it was difficult to breathe with the jealous snort he felt at this moment.

"Where did he take you? Looks like he wants to go to the house you showed him," Dae Hyun said. He knew that it was impossible for his wife to ask to be taken to the Pyeongchang-dong villa.

"What? That can't be happening. If he goes there then he will know if I'm lying," Soo Yin said worriedly then bit her fingernails.

She then rushed to find her cell phone which was in the bag that was on the table. Luckily she didn't leave her phone behind. After checking it, it turned out that there were more than ten missed calls. Soo Yin quickly contacted Park Soo Hyun. But it was a shame that her call was not answered.

"How is it, Park Soo Hyun is not picking up my calls?" said Soo Yin while pacing here and there because she felt very restless. She kept trying to call but still no answer.

Dae Hyun approached Soo Yin who looked very anxious and hugged her from behind.

"Don't think too much about it. Sooner or later everything will be revealed. It's better for him to know now," Dae Hyun said to calm his wife down.

"He just asked me to meet this weekend," Soo Yin said as she covered her face with her palms.

Dae Hyun tightened his embrace and rested his chin on Soo Yin's shoulder.

"Calm down, honey." For him, it didn't matter if it had to be exposed now because his goal of making Park Soo Hyun the main director had been realized.

Now Soo Yin's phone was ringing again so she quickly picked it up, after looking at the phone screen, it was Park Soo Hyun.

"Hello, sir," Soo Yin said, tried not to be nervous.

"Soo Yin, where are you now? Why haven't you called me back since earlier? Do you know that I'm really worried about you?" said Park Soo Hyun.

"Sorry, sir. I went to my grandfather's house because he suddenly got sick," Soo Yin said, stammered.

"You're really okay, right? I'm worried if you are sick," Park Soo Hyun said.

"I'm really okay right now."

Chapter 336 - 336 - Don't Do It Strongly

Ten minutes had passed since she received a call from Park Soo Hyun. But Soo Yin continued to chat because it seemed that Park Soo Hyun was reluctant to end their conversation. Made Dae Hyun annoyed and very jealous. Moreover, when he heard Soo Yin was carried away by the atmosphere of their chat, he heard her chuckling a few times.

Dae Hyun could only close his eyes to contain his anger. Can't wait, Dae Hyun was now starting to get naughty, he bit Soo Yin's ear. So that Soo Yin had to muffle the sighs that would come out of her mouth.

"Sir, I'll hang the phone up. I have to ... have to go to the bathroom," said Soo stuttered then immediately hung up the phone. Didn't want to let Park Soo Hyun hear her muffled sighs because Dae Hyun's hand had now slipped into her shirt. Made a strange sensation immediately spread throughout her body.

"You're naughty," Soo Yin said while squirming spoiled when Dae Hyun started to play his two beautiful hills that didn't have any barriers. So without much effort, Dae Hyun could hold it.

"That's because you are also naughty. You talked with other man when your husband is behind you," Dae Hyun said. Then traced Soo Yin's collarbone with his lips.

Soo Yin squirmed uncontrollably until she unknowingly dropped her phone on the floor. It didn't matter if the phone got damaged.

Realizing his wife who can no longer support the weight of her body. Dae Hyun immediately lifted Soo Yin's body and laid her on the bed.

Now Dae Hyun started to land a soft kiss on Soo Yin's lips until slowly the kiss became hotter and more passionate.

Soo Yin wrapped her arms around her husband's neck then grabbed him when Dae Hyun started touching her unbearable sensitive parts.

Beneath her floating consciousness, there was a feeling of fear and anxiety in Soo Yin's heart. She was afraid that it would hurt like that time.

Now Dae Hyun took off the coat and threw it in any direction. Then unbuttoned her shirts one by one. It was easy for him to see Soo Yin's sensitive parts because she wasn't wearing any underwear.

Dae Hyun stopped his kiss on the lips and then traced her collarbone until Dae Hyun managed to taste two twin hills which immediately made Soo Yin shake violently erratically.

After successfully undressing his wife, then it was Dae Hyun who was now throwing all his clothes on the floor.

Soo Yin bit her lower lip as a feeling of fear ran through her heart.

"I'm afraid, don't do it strongly," Soo Yin said in between the desire she felt.

Suddenly she remembered Doctor Mi Young's message in her mind.

"Wait!" Soo Yin said, stopping Dae Hyun who was getting ready.

"What else, honey?" Dae Hyun's voice sounded so frustrated because it was unbearable.

"Doctor Mi Young said that we have to wear safety when we have sex. She said that I can't get pregnant first. What does that mean?" Soo Yin asked innocently. Married at an immature age made her less educated of it.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath then got up and opened the drawer. Fortunately, there was already a condom that the resort manager had provided. Dae Hyun quickly put it on.

"Will it hurt like the first time?" Soo Yin asked with such an innocent look on her face. Making Dae Hyun even more excited to see it.

"Trust me, it won't feel like the first time." Dae Hyun continued to patiently reassure Soo Yin even though his desire was almost unbearable.

Soo Yin bit her lower lip as she kneaded the bed sheet. It felt like it was being torn apart again even though it wasn't as painful as before until the stinging feeling came back. Dae Hyun did it slowly because he realized his wife was wincing in pain.

Dae Hyun also didn't think it would taste like the first time. It was probably because they hadn't done it in a while. Moreover, the effect of the medicine given by Doctor Mi Young.

"Hold on for a while because it won't be long," said Dae Hyun as he wiped the sweat that was dripping down Soo Yin's forehead.

They began to unite their bodies with a love that had long peaked to be released. The pain that was initially felt was now replaced with the pleasures of the world. Until Soo Yin felt the pleasure many times until she floated to the seventh heaven.

Soo Yin thought that wearing safety would be as painful as the first time. Unexpectedly if it had no effect.

The cold weather had now been replaced by a burning feeling of heat. Sweat was dripping down both of them. Dae Hyun wasn't even satisfied. He continued to do so for several rounds. They only stopped after almost noon.

Tired body made Dae Hyun lay beside his wife. Soo Yin immediately fell asleep while Dae Hyun only treated his tiredness for a moment to lie down and then sit back up.

"Sleep well." Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's forehead whose eyelids were already closed.

Dae Hyun then reached out to grab the neatly folded blanket on the side of the bed. He covered Soo Yin's innocent body which was without a single thread.

After that he immediately rushed to the bathroom to clean his sticky body.

o

Without them realising, the sun was about to set. This was a good time to enjoy the sunset view. The resort was created with the aim of enjoying the stunning natural scenery. That was why it was located in a hilly field. So that the visitors can see anywhere more freely.

Remembering when they were on Jeju island and Soo Yin got angry when he woke her up in the afternoon. Dae Hyun now intended to wake her up. He was already beside his wife, lied on her side using one hand as a support for his head.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 337 - 337 - Bored

"Honey," Dae Hyun whispered softly into Soo Yin's ear. Then he removed the hair that was covering her face. Soo Yin's sleeping position was still the same as before.

"Get up, don't you want to see the sun go down?" Dae Hyun whispered back.

Now Soo Yin only responded by squirming a little, she was spreading her arms but her eyelids hadn't opened yet. Her face looked tired after the hot struggle this afternoon.

Seeing Soo Yin who looked tired, Dae Hyun couldn't bear to disturb her sleep. He chose to get up and then pulled back the curtain which covering the roof so he could see the night sky. The weather since the afternoon was very sunny which made the place even more suitable.

The paper bag containing Soo Yin's clothes, he put it somewhere that Soo Yin didn't know so she wouldn't go anywhere tonight. Tomorrow, Dae Hyun had to have a meeting. Only today he can enjoy a full day with his wife.

The sun was slowly setting. Dae Hyun just enjoyed it alone because Soo Yin just squirmed and closed her eyelids again even though he had repeatedly woken her up.

Soo Yin was still fast asleep, made Dae Hyun feel bored. He'd rather be scolded than have to wait for her to sleep.

Dae Hyun looked at the clock which turned out to be seven in the evening. Soon it will be night.

"Soo Yin, do you want to let your husband continue to be lonely like this?" Dae Hyun sighed in resignation. Since then he just laid beside Soo Yin, hoped his wife would wake up soon.

Soo Yin could faintly hear Dae Hyun's voice calling her name. Since earlier she actually already knew but feeling sleepy and tired that she really couldn't stand it anymore. She began to stretch her arms while turning her body to lie on her back.

"What time is it now?" Soo Yin asked while rubbing her eyes.

"It's already night, wake up. Don't you want to see the moon that shines very brightly," Dae Hyun said right on Soo Yin's face so that Soo Yin could feel his breath.

Soo Yin slowly opened her eyes, when she saw the moonlight, her eyes immediately widened. She could see it while she was lying down like that.

To get rid of her sleepiness, Soo Yin tried to sit up then leaned against the side of the bed. She didn't realize that her body was innocent so she lowered the blanket to her stomach.

Dae Hyun massaged his head when he saw it. His desire was provoked again until he wanted to do it again. Dae Hyun as much as possible tried to hold it because he remembered Soo Yin who must be still tired.

"Why didn't you take me to this place earlier?" Soo Yin said while leaning on Dae Hyun's chest.

Dae Hyun's heart was beating so fast that the heat began to overwhelm him.

"Honey, can you move your body a little bit?" Dae Hyun said carefully, afraid of offending Soo Yin.

"So what?" Soo Yin tilted her body and turned her face.

"Do you want to torture me? Or do you really want to tease me again?" Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin frowned for a moment as she thought about what her husband meant.

"Don't you want to take a shower or get dressed?" Dae Hyun looked at Soo Yin's chest then completely averted his gaze before it happened again.

Suddenly Soo Yin lowered her head to look at her body.

"Arghhhh!" Soo Yin shouted as she pulled the blanket up to cover her body. She really didn't remember if she didn't wear clothes, because she thought she had taken a shower before going to bed.

"Keep facing that direction," Soo Yin said as she got up and wrapped the blanket around her body.

"Okay," Dae Hyun said. If he didn't remember his wife hadn't had dinner, it was certain that he will do it again.

Soo Yin immediately ran off into the bathroom. She closed the door tightly before Dae Hyun followed her.

Soo Yin had been on Geoje Island for two days. It felt so boring because she didn't go anywhere. All day, she was just sitting around at the resort while doing nothing. Even though Soo Yin wanted to explore the Geoje Island further.

Dae Hyun had been gone since this morning. He said, at noon he will go home but until now he had not returned.

Soo Yin wanted to go but she can't go out by only wearing Dae Hyun's clothes. Since yesterday, she only wore an oversized of Dae Hyun's shirt.

After being tired of playing with her cellphone, Soo Yin suddenly wanted to organize Dae Hyun's clothes in the closet. Maybe tomorrow they will return to Seoul so Soo Yin wanted to put some clothes into the suitcase. But unexpectedly when she was taking out his clothes, she found several paper bags in the closet.

"What is this?" Soo Yin muttered. Then took the paper bag from a slightly dark place. She was curious to know what was in it.

Soo Yin peeked at it first, it turned out that inside of it, there were several pieces of women's clothes. She then took it out of the paper bag. Instantly, Soo Yin's chest rumbled.

Soo Yin's hands immediately trembled and then squeezed the clothes so tightly until they wrinkled. She felt suspicious if it belonged to someone else. If the clothes were meant for her, there was no way that Dae Hyun had not given them to her.

Soo Yin's eyes began to heat up until there were tears that slowly condensed from the corners of her eyes. She wanted to run from that place but it was a shame because it was impossible to wear Dae Hyun's clothes that were too loose on her body. She remembered if she had her clothes when she came here.

Soo Yin immediately looked for it everywhere but unfortunately couldn't find it. She could have worn those clothes but she was disgusted to wear clothes that didn't belong to her.

Forcibly, Soo Yin chose to close her eyes even though it was very difficult. Because of the clothes she found, Soo Yin's mood immediately turned bad. Bad thoughts about Dae Hyun who didn't contact her a few days ago filled her mind. Until her head felt dizzy just by thinking about it.

Soo Yin wasn't in the mood to go anywhere anymore. Feelings of sadness and anger made her just lay in bed until the afternoon, after putting all the clothes in the closet even though it was very messy.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 338 - 338 - There's Another Woman

Dae Hyun climbed the stairs quickly and in a hurry. He looked at the clock on his wrist, it was already evening. Even though he had promised to come home at lunchtime. Unexpectedly, reality did not match what was planned. There was so much to discuss that Dae Hyun couldn't come back early.

When he grabbed the doorknob, he found that the door was unlocked. His eyes immediately fell on the bed on which there was a mountain of blanket.

Then Dae Hyun stepped his foot to approach his little wife. Guilt sank into his soul. He hoped that Soo Yin wouldn't be angry because he had works to do. Dae Hyun immediately climbed onto the bed and sat next to Soo Yin.

"Honey," Dae Hyun said, so gently. If only Soo Yin wasn't angry, it was certain that she would immediately hug her husband tightly.

Dae Hyun slowly removed the blanket that was covering his little wife's head. He frowned when he saw that there were so many tissues scattered on the side of the bed right next to Soo Yin.

"Honey, are you sick?" Dae Hyun checked her by placing the back of his hand on Soo Yin's forehead. But the temperature was fine. There must be something wrong.

She hadn't woke up, he kissed Soo Yin's eyelids over and over again. Dae Hyun must immediately find out what happened so that his heart could feel calm.

Soo Yin was just pretending to be asleep right now because she woke up when she felt someone climbing onto the bed. It turned out that it was her husband who came.

Soo Yin cried all day which apparently made her unable to sleep. Dae Hyun's kiss on her face slowly made her feel uncomfortable that she wanted to open her eyelids.

Dae Hyun smiled when he saw Soo Yin slowly opening her eyes. But unfortunately, Soo Yin actually turned her body to look the other way.

"What's wrong, honey? Tell me," Dae Hyun said worriedly. He couldn't stand if Soo Yin was sulking like that. His hunch said if there was another misunderstanding. They just got better though.

Marrying a young girl did require a lot of sacrifice. Because the desire and nature were very different from a girl of mature age. Moreover Soo Yin often changed her attitude.

Soo Yin pulled the blanket back until her head was completely covered instead. No word escaped her lips.

"Honey, don't be like this. If I'm guilty, tell me so I know what I did wrong," said Dae Hyun who was now lying down and then hugged Soo Yin tightly.

Soo Yin remained motionless in her place with annoyance in her chest. The thought of another woman was occupying this room made her eyes feel hot again. It turned out that the initial guess about Dae Hyun was right. If that man was a crocodile who spoke about sweet words on his lips.

Dae Hyun purposely dugged his hand into Soo Yin's shirt to tease her.

"Go!" Soo Yin expelled in a hoarse voice after crying. Roughly, she threw Dae Hyun's hand away. Then she got up to sit on the side of the bed.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples. It was certain that Soo Yin misunderstood again because when he left, she was fine. Dae Hyun finally sat down because Soo Yin was already sitting with her back to him.

"Honey, what really happened to you?" said Dae Hyun who was getting frustrated because Soo Yin didn't want to say it. If only it was someone else, Dae Hyun would have let it go without persuading.

"Tell me, which woman did you bring to this room!" Soo Yin's voice was calm but contained with anger.

"Woman?" Dae Hyun knitted his brows together.

"Don't lie to me." Soo Yin turned her body towards her husband. Her eyes were puffy and her eyelids were swollen too. Her reddened eyes stared intently at Dae Hyun while pouting her lips.

"Honey, I didn't bring any woman into this room except you," Dae Hyun said, he was getting carried away by emotion but tried to hold it in.

Soo Yin then got up from the bed and walked towards the closet. She quickly found the paper bag and threw it on the bed.

"Whose clothes are those?" Soo Yin asked in a cold tone and fiery eyes.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples, this morning he forgot to tell Soo Yin that he had bought clothes for her.

"Okay, I'll explain everything," said Dae Hyun with a long sigh.

"The clothes are actually for you," Dae Hyun explained as he grabbed Soo Yin's hand but she pushed him away firmly. Now their distance was getting further away as Soo Yin kept retreating. An angry girl was scarier than a lion.

"Lies! If it's for me, why don't you give it to me? Why do you hide it when I always ask?" Soo Yin's face was now bright red from holding the anger in her chest. She didn't just believe what Dae Hyun said.

"Honey, this is really for you. I forgot I didn't give it to you this morning," Dae Hyun said. Knowing that it was also his fault, Dae Hyun tried to be gentle again.

"Lie!" Soo Yin exclaimed with the crystal grains already condensed in the corner of her eyes.

"Then why did you find a condom right away, when I just said it. It's certain that you deliberately prepared it with another woman before I came here," Soo Yin said in a rising tone because her anger needed an outlet.

Earlier, Soo Yin was looking for the name of the item Dae Hyun was using. How it worked and how it was used. In the article, it was written that we must be aware that if a man had it, he was most likely doing it with other people. Soo Yin was too ignorant so she just believes it.

"It was indeed provided by the resort. I have repeatedly said that I am no longer interested in any woman after meeting you," Dae Hyun said while rubbing his face angrily. Feelings of tiredness because he just got homemade his emotions provoked.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Dae Hyun can't stand this fight anymore. Instead of making his emotions more uncontrollable, he approached his wife. Dae Hyun quickly covered Soo Yin's lips which were about to open to say something.

Dae Hyun continued to kiss those thin lips firmly even though Soo Yin was struggling, he still didn't let go. That was what happened when you woke a sleeping tiger. As patient as a man, if he felt tired, he will be annoyed if he was accused of something bad.

"Hmph...." With all her might Soo Yin managed to push Dae Hyun's body. She was having trouble breathing because Dae Hyun didn't let her escape. From the way he kissed, Soo Yin could tell if it was accompanied by anger.

"Do you want to kill me?" Soo Yin grumbled while wiping her lips with the back of her hand. Her lips were sore and swollen because Dae Hyun was doing it so rough.

Dae Hyun sighed softly as he closed his eyes for a moment to suppress his emotions. Didn't want to take it out on Soo Yin.

"Honey, tell me how to make you can always trust me and not always think badly of me?" Dae Hyun said after his heart had calmed down enough.

"Tell me, why don't you give me clothes?" Soo Yin asked with a look full of intimidation.

Dae Hyun took a step forward then whispered in Soo Yin's ear. Soo Yin who was about to walk away was immediately grabbed by her wrist.

"That's because I prefer you to only wear clothes like this. It's very tempting to me," Dae Hyun said with his lips pulled back into a mischievous smile.

"So you did it on purpose?" Soo Yin said with wide eyes.

"Honestly I'd prefer you to be wearing nothing. I don't want you asking to go anywhere. That's why I didn't give you the clothes."

"You're so cruel." Soo Yin punched Dae Hyun in the chest. Although her face was still sullen but now her emotions have begun to subside.

"I just want the two of us to spend time in this place," Dae Hyun said in a soft tone after seeing Soo Yin's anger began to subside.

"Haven't we spent two days together. Is it still not enough?" Soo Yin said while knitting her brows together.

"I want while we're staying here, you're not going anywhere," Dae said with a cheeky smile on his lips.

"You're being unfair. I was told to stay here while you went out."

"I left because I had work to do. Otherwise, I won't go anywhere either," said Dae Hyun.

After Dae Hyun said clearly and seduced her, now Soo Yin had started to believe and could smile shyly.

"Never cry again for things that are not necessarily true," Dae Hyun said while kissing Soo Yin's forehead.

"Now let's take a shower first. Look at my wife's face, which is very beautiful now swollen like this," Dae Hyun teased so that Soo Yin wouldn't be angry anymore.

"It's your fault, you should have said from the start. You know I'm easy to get jealous but you're still insensitive," Soo Yin grumbled with pursed lips.

"I also just found out that my little wife is very jealous," said Dae Hyun with a chuckle.

"You're so annoying." Soo Yin punched Dae Hyun in the chest then leaned against it.

"You're not angry? Next time make sure first, don't just accuse me carelessly like that. You know, my emotions were almost provoked," said Dae Hyun.

"You shouldn't just let your wife wearing nothing," Soo Yin grumbled as she pursed her lips.

"That's because I like it more," said Dae Hyun as he winked, made Soo Yin's face turn red with embarrassment.

Dae Hyun then lifted Soo Yin's body and carried her to the bathroom. They stared at each other for a moment, stared deeply at each other. After reaching the bathroom, he lowered Soo Yin into the bathtub slowly.

Dae Hyun helped to unbutton Soo Yin's shirt one by one.

"Don't look at me," Soo Yin said as she covered her chest with her palms.

"You're always like that and never change. I'm not a stranger, honey," said Dae Hyun who had taken off his clothes one by one. While chuckling, Dae Hyun then went into the tub that was already filled with flowers.

After the misunderstanding that occurred, the couple was now joking with each other by splashing water on each other's faces in turn. The quarrel that had just occurred now seemed to have disappeared.

Where can a man stand to see his wife's innocent body So Dae Hyun then hugged her from behind. His naughty hands had touched Soo Yin's sensitive area to the point that his wife couldn't help but want to feel more.

Making love after a small fight that occurred gave its sensation. Dae Hyun liked Soo Yin because even though she got angry easily, it was also easy to meet her.

They came out of the bathroom after an hour's heat struggle.

As promised by Dae Hyun, before they returned to Seoul they first explored the Geoje Island. They planned that tonight they will return to Seoul.

Their first destination today was to Windy Hill or windmill hill located in Nambu-myeon. From that place you will be satisfied to see a beautiful view of the hills and the ocean. It was much prettier than where they were staying.

Soo Yin just found out that it was not too far from their resort. Luckily Soo Yin kept whining to go around first because Dae Hyun had wanted them to stay at the resort.

"Why didn't we just come to this place since yesterday?" Soo Yin grumbled while clinging to Dae Hyun's arm.

"Hmmm, if I knew this I wouldn't take you anywhere," said Dae Hyun in a flat tone.

"You are so annoying!" Soo Yin said while pouting her lips.

Dae Hyun only responded with a crisp laugh. Something he rarely did because he was the type of person who was always serious.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 340 - 340 - Go Around Geoje

While they were walking, they met a woman who was holding her son. The woman immediately approached them with a gleaming face.

"Dae Hyun, you're on vacation here too," the woman said happily.

"Yeon Woo, I didn't think we'd meet again here," Dae Hyun said without letting go of his hand that was wrapped around Soo Yin's waist.

"We just got here because Sehun wants to go on vacation. Aren't you going to stop by grandma Hae Sok?" Yeon Woo said while glancing at Dae Hyun who looked so intimate.

"No, my grandma just visited Seoul a few days ago. We'll be home soon after all."

"Who is she?" Apparently Yeon Woo didn't really remember Soo Yin's face anymore. It was only natural because they only met briefly at that time.

"She .....", Dae Hyun said, he was glancing at his wife.

"I'm Soo Yin, Dae Hyun's wife. We met a few months ago. Don't you remember me?" Soo Yin said as she stretched out her hand. It was far from Seoul here so they didn't have to hide their relationship. Yeon Woo was also far away in Busan so she was impossible to meet Aeri then tell her.

"Ah, yes. I remember you," said Yeon Woo with a faint smile then ended their handshake.

Soo Yin rolled her eyes. She really didn't like it when a woman was bothering them in the middle of a walk like this.

"Are you two alone?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Yeah, it's just the two of us. Do you want to join us to make it more crowded?" Yeon Woo said so that her trip with Sehun had a friend to talk to.

"Hmmm, it seems that...." Dae Hyun's words were cut off.

"Sorry, we should just go by ourselves. Thank you for offering," Soo Yin said then grabbed her husband's wrist to move away from the woman.

"Wow, it turns out that my little wife is now brave," Dae Hyun said while chuckling.

"Why did that woman invite us along?" Soo Yin grumbled with a sullen face.

"It's natural, maybe she feels lonely because she's just walking alone with her son. Never mind, don't sulk like that. Let's continue again, after this we will go somewhere," Dae Hyun said. He shook his head because his wife was very jealous.

Soo Yin nodded her head. Then they continued their steps towards the windmill which was located on the hill. From close range, it turned out that the windmill was very large. Until Soo Yin was constantly amazed.

She then asked Dae Hyun to take a photo for them. On a vacation alone was used well by Soo Yin. They didn't necessarily can go on a vacation together again.

At first, Dae Hyun refused to take pictures but slowly was forced to give in for his wife. That was why Dae Hyun wanted to accept Yeon Woo's offer to escape from Soo Yin. It was a pity because Soo Yin didn't want to.

After quite satisfied walking around in Windy Hill. Now they continued their journey to climb Mireuk-san in the Hallyeo National Marine Park area.

Now they were getting ready to ride the cable car. Cold sweat instantly dripped from Soo Yin's body. Because this was the first time for her to ride the cable car.

"Are you afraid?" asked Dae Hyun who was worried if Soo Yin was afraid of heights.

"A little," Soo Yin said, while blowing her fists because she was so nervous. Dae Hyun then gripped Soo Yin's hands with his fingers.

"If you're scared, we shouldn't go," Dae Hyun said. He didn't want anything to happen to his wife.

Soo Yin bit her lower lip while thinking about Dae Hyun's words. She remained silent for a few moments. However, she soon made up her mind to shake off all of her fears. Thought positive if they will be okay to get to the top.

"No, I'm fine," Soo Yin said as she took a deep breath of air from her nose and then let it out from her mouth.

"Okay, don't be so tense." Dae Hyun stroked Soo Yin's cheek with his thumb to calm his wife down. Seeing her scared like that made him feel uneasy. But what can be done if Soo Yin insisted on still wanting to ride it.

Now that the cable car had started to run slowly, Soo Yin had to hold her breath.

"Arghhhh!" shouted Soo Yin as the cable car accelerated. She covered her face with both palms. Hi body was also shaking until Dae Hyun could feel it.

Seeing his frightened wife, Dae Hyun immediately changed positions to sit beside her.

"You said it is fine. We shouldn't have had to go," Dae Hyun said worriedly.

"I thought it wouldn't feel like this. But I'm really okay," said Soo Yin.

"If you're okay, now open your eyes, don't you want to see the view from up here?" Dae Hyun whispered as he held Soo Yin in his arms.

"Really? Is the view so beautiful?" Soo Yin said, she didn't dare to open her eyes.

Dae Hyun held Soo Yin's hands to help open her eyes.

"Look," Dae Hyun said as he pressed his cheek against Soo Yin's.

As soon as she opened her eyes slightly, Soo Yin's eyes immediately rounded perfectly at the very beautiful view of the cable car. So she immediately opened her palms.

"Wow, that's amazing!" Soo Yin praised with admiration. The fear of heights she felt was now slowly disappear.

After about 10 minutes of traveling by cable car, they finally arrived. The tension she felt was reciprocated by arriving at the peak and walking down the highest part of Mireuk-san.

From the top we can see from all parts of the Geoje Island. Made Soo Yin even more amazed and didn't want to get down from there. Did not forget, they also took photos for memories.

"Honey, it's late. We'd better go back to the resort to get ready," Dae Hyun said because they had been at the top long enough. The place was also a bit foggy.

"Soon," said Soo Yin.

"Shall we take the cable car to come down?" Soo Yin asked, which made her guts shrink again.

"Of course, if you're afraid I'll ask Chang Yuan to bring a helicopter to pick us up here," Dae Hyun said as he reached into his cell phone which was in his pants pocket.

"No, we'd better take the cable car," Soo Yin said quickly.

"Why?"

"Never mind, let's go down now," Soo Yin said. The helicopter ride was scarier for her than the cable car. She would definitely get nauseous if she rode it.

"Okay," Dae Hyun said.

They immediately boarded the cable car again to get back down. Now Soo Yin didn't feel tense anymore because Dae Hyun always held her finger and hugged her tightly.
