

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 441 - 441 - Go Or Not?

Soo Yin tried to escape because Aunt Xia was waiting. But Dae Hyun actually pressed her nape firmly. Kissed her passionately. Even to open her mouth, Soo Yin didn't have a chance because Dae Hyun had already stuck their tongues together and danced in her mouth.

"Hmmphhh... Dae Hyun, stop it." Soo Yin tried to push Dae Hyun's body strongly until she finally managed to escape.

"I'm coming or you're not going anywhere?" threatened Dae Hyun firmly.

Soo Yin took a deep breath while rolling her eyes. It turned out that her husband was still like a child.

"Go or not?" Dae Hyun repeated his question.

"Hurry up, Aunt Xia is waiting downstairs," said Soo Yin.

"Give me five minutes," said Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun immediately changed his clothes in a hurry because Soo Yin had already come down.

"Auntie, wait a moment because Dae Hyun wants to come," said Soo Yin, who was already at the terrace, meeting Aunt Xia.

"Master is coming?" Aunt Xia furrowed her brows, feeling like she was dreaming and had misheard. There was no way a Dae Hyun would want to go to the fish market.

"Hmm, he said so. Just wait a moment," said Soo Yin as she threw herself on the chair at the terrace.

"Has Miss said we would go to the market too?" Aunt Xia knitted her brows in doubt.

"Yes, but he still insists that he wants to come. Just drop it, he will also give up," said Soo Yin, chuckling amused.

"Okay." Didn't know what she dreamt last night so that Dae Hyun and Soo Yin wanted to go shopping. Instead of feeling happy but Aunt Xia actually felt doubtful. Fear that their actions will make the seller uncomfortable.

It wasn't long before Dae Hyun came down and met them on the terrace. He wore a t-shirt and trousers.

Aunt Xia was grateful that Dae Hyun wasn't wearing clothes that are too much.

"Let me get the car out first," Dae Hyun said and then descended the terrace steps.

"Aren't we going with Chung Ho?" Aunt Xia said.

"No, I will drive myself," said Dae Hyun flatly.

oooooooooooooooooooo

At the same time, there was a car parked on the side of the road not far from the gate of the villa. Park Soo Hyun wondered of why Soo Yin didn't go to work so as soon as she sent a message, he rushed to Pyeongchang-dong villa. He had doubts about Soo Yin's reason, even though she had said that there was a lecture.

Park Soo Hyun's eyes focused on the silver Maybach car that had just come out of the villa. Between confused and surprised at this moment was what he felt.

"Isn't that Dae Hyun's car? Why is he here? Isn't he will come home tomorrow from Geoje Island?" muttered Park Soo Hyun curiously. It was impossible if the car was stolen by someone or sold because it was his favorite car. He was very sure if the car belonged to his brother.

Park Soo Hyun drove his car slowly to follow where the car was even though he didn't know who was inside. Because the windshield was not see-through. He wondered where they were going at once wanted to find out who was driving it.

Soo Yin continued to cuddle in Dae Hyun's arms without feeling embarrassed about Aunt Xia who kept smiling while shaking her head in the back seat.

"Dae Hyun, are you sure you want to come with us?" Soo Yin said.

"So what?" Dae Hyun said while frowning.

"I just wanted to say if we'll go to the fish market not to the supermarket," Soo Yin giggled.

"So what? You must think I've never shopped. Aren't you the one who's never shopped?" sneered Dae Hyun while chuckling.

"Did you ever?" Soo Yin straightened up and narrowed her eyes at her husband.

"Soo Yin, I used to be used to doing it. When abroad, I used to shop by myself," said Dae Hyun flatly.

"I don't believe what you're saying at all." Soo Yin folded her arms across her chest.

"It's up to you," Dae Hyun said as he focused on looking at the street.

Aunt Xia who was sitting in the back just shook her head, looking at the two lovebirds who were arguing with each other. Soo Yin was still the spoiled and sulky Soo Yin.

It wasn't long before they finally arrived at the Noryangjin fish market. A market that was open from dawn to midnight. A market that always presented fresh fish. The market also provided sea monsters such as octopus, clams and other large fish. That's why Aunt Xia preferred to shop here rather than at the supermarket because she can freely choose.

Park Soo Hyun, who was still following Dae Hyun's car, frowned when the car stopped in the parking lot of a fish market. He stopped the car some distance away for fear of being caught.

His eyes immediately went wide with a passionate chest when he saw Soo Yin and was followed by Dae Hyun. He can see that there was also Aunt Xia who he did know.

"Dae Hyun is with Soo Yin? What are they together for?" muttered Park Soo Hyun with a face of disbelief. He rubbed his face with both hands.

Soo Yin followed Aunt Xia's steps who entered first while holding Dae Hyun's hand. At first Soo Yin thought the market would be dirty but it wasn't as bad as she imagined. Although the fishy smell was quite disturbing but it didn't matter.

Park Soo Hyun wanted to follow them into the market but was afraid of being caught so he chose to stay in the parking lot waiting for them to come out.

The man still couldn't believe what he saw. The girl he loved so much turned out to be in a special relationship with his own brother. It would be impossible if there was nothing while they were holding hands so affectionately.

"Is this what you guys were doing behind my back?" said Park Soo Hyun with indignation and anger that began to seep into his soul.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 442 - 442 - Surprising Facts

Soo Yin continued to cling to Dae Hyun's arms even though many sellers and buyers were looking at them.

Everyone felt weird about the two of them. Wanted to think of them as a couple but Soo Yin looked so much younger. If a child and a father, but they looked so intimate.

"Honey, aren't you ashamed of everyone looking at us?" Dae Hyun asked because Soo Yin was always clinging to his arm like she didn't want to let him go.

It didn't really matter and made Dae Hyun feel quite happy. It was just that he began to feel uncomfortable with the intimidating gazes of the people in the market.

"Why should I be ashamed?" Soo Yin said casually. They continued to walk after Aunt Xia.

"Didn't you hear what they were saying?" said Dae Hyun who was starting to feel annoyed because many words were quite disturbing to his ears.

"Don't listen. That's the result of having a wife who is too young and sweet like me," said Soo Yin, chuckling confidently.

"Ughh... you're 19 years old. Actually, we're not that far apart. But why does everyone always think that if we're not siblings, then we're father and daughter," said Dae Hyun to express his anger.

"Still, you will always be much older than me," Soo Yin said lightly.

Aunt Xia who was walking in front of them just sighed long and heavily.

"Miss, let's go with auntie to pick fish," said Aunt Xia so that they wouldn't act like a couple who just started dating.

"Alright, Auntie." Soo Yin then released her hand that was wrapped around Dae Hyun's arm. Then walked parallel to aunt Xia.

They were currently in front of the seller of various seafood. There were many kinds of fresh seafood sold at the seller's table.

Soo Yin felt ticklish when she saw the octopus that was still moving. She wanted to take it but didn't because the octopus kept moving its tentacles.

"Are you afraid?" whispered Dae Hyun who was standing behind Soo Yin.

"I just feel ticklish," Soo Yin said with a shudder.

Dae Hyun took an octopus and placed it in front of Soo Yin's face.

"Keep it away from my face," said Soo Yin as she pushed Dae Hyun's hand away from her face.

"It won't bite. This octopus just wants to kiss you," Dae Hyun teased, chuckling.

"Keep it away or I'll cut off your hand!" threatened Soo Yin while squinting her eyes.

"If you cut it then how can I touch you," Dae Hyun whispered sensually in Soo Yin's ear then chuckled.

Soo Yin then pinched Dae Hyun's waist because she was angry that in a public place, he was still having perverted thoughts.

In a distance, Park Soo Hyun couldn't help but stay in the car so he went out to follow them even if he had to hide. His chest was getting hotter as his hands clenched into fists at his sides.

He was very jealous of how Soo Yin laughed out loud with Dae Hyun. Since earlier, he also saw how Soo Yin was clinging to his brother's arm. They seemed to be joking with each other.

Park Soo Hyun can't understand why Soo Yin preferred a married man over him who obviously didn't have anyone. Their age gap was also too great. When together, they just looked like brother and sister and sometimes even like father and daughter if Soo Yin's face was without makeup.

No wonder Dae Hyun's attitude was very strange every time he wanted to approach Soo Yin. Always forbade him, it turned out they played behind and lied to everyone.

"Dae Hyun, you guys really...." Park Soo Hyun's mouth felt heavy to open when he wanted to get the harsh words out of his mouth.

Still can't believe that Dae Hyun lied to all of his family members. No wonder he often used reason for overtime and out of town together. Turned out that they had a secret.

"Soo Yin, how could you be this cruel to me," said Park Soo Hyun bitterly and his eyes were fiery.

He had felt a lot of things that were off. He just didn't think that far. He only felt strange when he heard Dae Hyun's voice on a call with Soo Yin. Turned out his guess was right.

"Arghhhh," exclaimed Park Soo Hyun in a fairly loud voice. Until some people looked at him strangely.

Kim Soo Hyun finally turned around and wanted to wait in the car instead. He had to investigate everything.

It turned out that the reason for his brother's sudden resignation from the position of director was found, because he did not want to be involved in a scandal that could undermine the hotel's reputation. And so that the hotel would not fall into the hands of their uncles and aunts. He should have refused at that time.

Park Soo Hyun continued to walk by stomping his feet hard enough on the ground towards his car with a sharp look in his eyes. Then closed the door very loudly.

Park Soo Hyun leaned his head back on the chair to cool his head that was about to explode. Tried to think positively, maybe Dae Hyun already thought of her as a sister so that they were very close.

But the way they looked at each other was very different. They were like lovers who were in love. Their gazes seemed full of love even though Dae Hyun looked indifferent.

Park Soo Hyun thought back to when they were at the wedding of Aunt Hyun Bin's daughter. Dae Hyun insisted on dancing with Soo Yin even though he had been begging to take his place.

"Soo Hyun, why didn't you realize of what they were doing behind your back?" muttered Park Soo Hyun, cursing his own stupidity because he was easily to be fooled.

Now so many events were replaying in his memory.

Park Soo Hyun continued to stare ahead blankly. It felt like rubbing the salt in the wound. He can accept if Soo Yin rejected him because there was a man she might really love. But he would not be willing if the man was his own brother.

They had left the market area and were walking towards the parking.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 443 - 443 - Threat

Again, Park Soo Hyun had to see the sight of their intertwined fingers. Park Soo Hyun wanted to punch his brother in the face. But tried to hold it in because now was not the time.

Luckily Park Soo Hyun didn't use his car so they didn't know that he was following them.

"Auntie, where are we going after this?" asked Soo Yin.

"We just need to go shopping for vegetables. You'd better go home. Look at your dirty and fishy bodies," said Aunt Xia. It wasn't that she didn't like it, but that she felt bad.

"It's okay, we love to go shopping. So if my child asks about it, later I can easily answer it," Soo Yin said while winking at Dae Hyun.

"Then make cute children while auntie can take care of them and is not too old," said Aunt Xia with a smile.

"Just pray that we'll get it soon. Isn't that right, honey?" Soo Yin asked her husband.

Dae Hyun smiled then ruffled Soo Yin's hair into a mess.

Park Soo Hyun smiled bitterly when he heard their conversation.

"It turns out that your face is not as beautiful as your heart," Park Soo Hyun muttered while chuckling. He could hear their conversation because he had deliberately parked his car next to Dae Hyun's car.

=====

Pyeongchang-dong Villa.

Soo Yin rushed upstairs after arriving at the villa. They spent almost half a day going to accompany Aunt Xia shopping.

Soo Yin closed her eyes as she leaned against the side of the bathtub. Soaked in water filled with foam felt very comfortable.

"Honey, aren't you done yet?" asked Dae Hyun, which was accompanied by several knocks on the door.

"Hmmm, be patient. I'll be done soon," Soo Yin exclaimed as she played with the soap foam and then blew on it. The smell of the soap was so fragrant that it made her feel like wanted to linger in the tub.

"Honey, open the door. My body is already very hot," said Dae Hyun impatiently.

"No, just wait outside or you can take a shower in the next room," said Soo Yin firmly, didn't want to let her husband inside.

"You really have the heart," said Dae Hyun. Unable to persuade Soo Yin to open the door, Dae Hyun was forced to go to the next room to take a shower. Because it seemed that Soo Yin had already guessed his intentions and goals.

Soo Yin didn't answer because she didn't want to be framed by her husband. They had just arrived so she wanted to rest. Because she knew if her husband was very perverted.

After leaving, Soo Yin changed her clothes first before drying her hair using a hair dryer.

Beep...

There was a message tone coming from her husband's cell phone. Soo Yin was curious so she grabbed it because it was lying on the bed.

Soo Yin can easily unlock it because Dae Hyun told her the password to unlock his phone.

Instantly Soo Yin's hands trembled when she saw the message which turned out to contain a photo of herself and Dae Hyun who were holding hands when they were at the fish market earlier.

In the photo they looked very intimate.

[Shameless bastard! Look, your relationship won't last long!] It was just a message from an unknown number.

Soo Yin tried to dial the number but too bad that it didn't connect. The number cannot be reached.

Soo Yin took a few steps back because she was afraid of the threat.

"Soo Yin, what's wrong?" asked Dae Hyun who had just entered and suddenly saw Soo Yin staggering backwards. Immediately support so that his wife's body would not fall.

"Honey, who sent this message?" Soo Yin said softly as she handed the phone to Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun tried to be calm, despite the fear that it was a woman who sent the message and sent the wrong one. He hastily accepted with his right hand while his left hand supported Soo Yin's body.

Dae Hyun narrowed his eyes at the photo and the words written on it.

"Looks like someone is threatening us," Dae Hyun mumbled casually. Didn't forget he also contacted but unfortunately it was not active.

Soo Yin tried to stand up and calm down even though she had to hold on to Dae Hyun's arm. Her face couldn't believe her husband who looked so relaxed.

"Honey, who sent this photo?" Soo Yin said with fear. She suddenly had a bad feeling about it all.

"Calm down, don't worry about it. Everything will be fine," said Dae Hyun as he grabbed Soo Yin's waist and then tightened his hug. He himself was really curious as to who had been following them. Then took that photo. He didn't think anyone was following them.

"Honey, what if they share the photo to your family?" Soo Yin covered her face with both palms.

"No problem, it's actually good so we don't have to say everything." There was no restlessness in Dae Hyun's heart at all. If they really wanted to say so. Sooner or later everyone will also find out everything. Because before marrying Soo Yin, he had already thought of all the risks.

"Why are you so relaxed? Aren't you afraid that we might get caught?" Soo Yin grumbled while pursing her lips.

"You should feel happy because I look relaxed. So what I said if I really love you is the truth and I'm not lying," said Dae Hyun. He led Soo Yin to sit on the side of the bed.

"Still, your relaxed feeling is too much," Soo Yin said as she hit her husband's chest.

Dae Hyun just sighed in resignation. It turned out that whatever men do was still wrong. Women always wanted to win.

"You have to find out who's been following us," said Soo Yin.

"Yes, honey. I'll ask Chang Yuan to do it later. Don't be so sullen anymore." Dae Hyun rubbed Soo Yin's back gently.

Dert... dert....

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 444 - 444 - What's With Him?

Dae Hyun's phone rang again, so he quickly checked for it. Maybe there were people who suddenly asked for money as a form of threat if they didn't want their photos to be spread.

Dae Hyun can already guess all the cunning of the criminals. But unfortunately it turned out that Chang Yuan who contacted him.

"What's the matter, Assistant Chang?" Dae Hyun said after receiving the call and put the phone to his ear.

"Master, Han escaped," said Chang Yuan, who had just received information that their prisoner had escaped.

Han kept his mouth shut even though he had been given a lesson to find out who was behind the kidnapping at that time. He still didn't say it so they decided to imprison him underground.

"How did he run away?" Dae Hyun's jaw muscles started to tighten.

"You can follow Aeri wherever she goes because I have a feeling that Han will meet her," said Dae Hyun.

"Yes sir."

After chatting for a bit, Dae Hyun finally turned off the phone.

"Was Han the one who took the photo?" Soo Yin said with big pupils and it made her even more scared. It looked like they will soon be found out.

"Han definitely wants revenge with you after what you did to him," added Soo Yin.

"I don't know, I don't know for sure because Han just ran away. But it's possible." Dae Hyun had a complicated expression on his face.

Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's finger and squeezed it. Reassured her that everything will be fine. Even though they were caught, he wanted to leave Seoul to a house that Dae Hyun had prepared in advance.

"Later we will leave Seoul if that happens," said Dae Hyun with a smile so as not to scare Soo Yin and made her anxious.

"Where are we going?" asked Soo Yin as she lifted her face.

"Somewhere far away, of course. It's just you and me living there." Dae Hyun lowered his gaze to look at Soo Yin.

"You didn't really take me to the Amazon islands, did you?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes.

"If you want, I'll be happy to take you there," said Dae Hyun.

"I don't want to because I want a beautiful place not scary," Soo Yin grumbled.

"Everything will be beautiful if everything is passed together." Dae Hyun poked Soo Yin's nose with his index finger. Felt exasperated with Soo Yin's face.

=====

UN Village.

Park Soo Hyun had just returned after almost midnight. His body staggered and almost fell. Yesterday he went straight to the bar after following Dae Hyun's car without returning to the hotel for work.

"Park Soo Hyun, why are you always like this? What really happened to you?" Mrs. Park was stunned to see Park Soo Hyun staggered. Though she thought tonight he will be overtime like the night before.

Park Soo Hyun didn't answer her with half consciousness that was starting to disappear. Just smiled lopsidedly when he saw his mother who was beside him. The look in his eyes wanted to sneer at his mother because the girl who had been considered good had actually deceived them.

"Soo Hyun, do you love Soo Yin so much that you can't forget her yet?" Mrs. Park helped Park Soo Hyun walk by supporting him because he almost fell to the floor.

"What's with him?" said Park Ji Hoon with his brows knit together.

"I don't know, the past few days his mood has improved. But why is Soo Hyun like this again tonight." Mrs. Park looked restless because Park Soo Hyun was drunk again. Afraid that he will return to the way he used to be.

"What exactly happened?" Park Ji Hoon had just returned to Seoul so he didn't know everything that was going on.

"He just got rejected by Soo Yin a few days ago. He seems to be very upset. Ji Hoon, I beg you to persuade Soo Yin to come here," said Mrs. Park hopefully. For the sake of her son she was willing to do anything.

"No need, Mom. I'm disgusted to see them now," raved Park Soo Hyun who had started to lose consciousness.

Mrs. Park frowned, not understanding why Park Soo Hyun said that. Yesterday he said he still wanted to fight for Soo Yin.

"What's the matter with you? Why have you given up like this?" said Mrs. Parks.

"Just ask your other son." Park Soo Hyun collapsed from drinking too much from day to night.

Park Ji Hoon massaged his temples because it seemed like what he was afraid of would really happen. Park Soo Hyun must have known that Dae Hyun was in a relationship with Soo Yin. But how did he know that?

"Ji Hoon, why are you daydreaming? Quickly help me to bring him into his room," said Mrs. Park, who was furious with her husband who looked pensive.

Mrs. Park broke Park Ji Hoon's daydream so he quickly moved to support Park Soo Hyun to help him to his room.

It was noon when Park Soo Hyun woke up from his long sleep. Anger still permeated his soul remembering yesterday's events. Then he got up and threw his things on the table.

His heart was still very upset even though he had tried to vent it by drinking last night. But also it was not able to make his memory forget.

"Why don't you guys disappear from my mind?" Park Soo Hyun grabbed his hair out of frustration. This was the first time he had felt this heartbreak. What hurt even more was because it was his own brother.

"Arghhhh!" shouted Park Soo Hyun quite loudly.

Mrs. Park immediately approached Park Soo Hyun's room when she heard the sound of things breaking and it sounded so chaotic. The sound of his son's screams also sounded quite loud.

"Soo Hyun, can mother come in?" said Mrs. Park asked for permission first even though she was currently very worried.

Park Soo Hyun just stayed silent then sat down while catching his breath to calm himself down.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 445 - 445 - Please, Stop Your Arguing!

"Come in, Mom," said Park Soo Hyun, who was already sitting on the side of the bed, covering his face with both hands.

Mrs. Park opened the door slowly, her eyes widening at the sight of the scattered floor. Some glass shards and some other stuff. But she returned to acting as if she didn't see it.

The middle-aged woman walked up to her son with a friendly face. She wanted to know more about why her son was like this when he had just returned home after a busy few days at the hotel. Mrs. Park also always got news that he was fine and was working overtime with Soo Yin.

"Soo Hyun, try to explain what really happened to you?" said Mrs. Park gently. Wanted to have a heart to heart talk with her son.

"It's okay, Mom. I'm fine," said Park Soo Hyun with a sour face. At first he really wanted to tell his mother. However, he immediately abandoned his intention. However, he once loved Soo Yin very much, even now he still loved her.

Park Soo Hyun didn't want his mother to hate Soo Yin. Let her slowly figure it out herself.

"Your face is telling me that you're not okay right now." Mrs. Park knew her two sons very well. So that she can know what they feel from the look on their faces.

"I'm really fine," said Park Soo Hyun with a bitter smile.

Dae Hyun, who had just arrived at the UN Village, immediately followed his mother into Park Soo Hyun's room. He got word from the servant that his brother was causing a chaos.

"Soo Hyun, are you out of your mind to act like a teenager?" Dae Hyun felt emotional when he saw his brother's room which looked like a broken ship. He couldn't believe that Park Soo Hyun will be like that.

Park Soo Hyun clenched his fists so hard that his nails stuck to his palms. His eyes were sharp and fiery. He wanted to punch his brother in the face at that moment.

"None of your business!" said Park Soo Hyun coldly as he turned his gaze to another direction. His chest continued to pound with anger.

"Of course this is my business. You didn't even work today. A leader must set a good example for his employees," Dae Hyun sneered with his hands on his hips.

Park Soo Hyun's stomach felt like throwing up listening to the words that came out of Dae Hyun's mouth.

'Tch, he himself is even worse than me!' Kim Soo Hyun cursed in his heart. In order to protect his mother's feelings, he restrained his urge to make a fuss.

"Why are you silent? Are you so deaf that you don't hear me?" said Dae Hyun who had started to get angry because Park Soo Hyun responded very casually.

"If you want to set a good example. You'd better be the director instead of letting go of your responsibility to me," said Park Soo Hyun as he stood up because he was fed up with his brother.

"Hey, what's the matter with you guys?" Since then Mrs. Park watched as her two sons were talking more and more heatedly.

The atmosphere in the room was getting hotter because the two men were sneering at each other without wanting anyone to budge.

Mrs. Park was overwhelmed as both sons were both stubborn and felt like wanting to win on their own.

"Soo Hyun, why are you being so emotional like this? What really happened to you?" Dae Hyun said because his brother had not changed and was still the same as before.

"So what if I'm like this? At least I'm not worse than your act. Likes to cheat by pretending to be nice in front of everyone!" Park Soo Hyun cursed while squinting his eyes. Without caring if he had to talk politely with his older brother anymore. The man who usually looked friendly and laughed easily was now filled with the desire to attack.

"Please, stop your arguing! Dae Hyun, can't you have a nice talk in front of your brother. Why are you guys like this?" Mrs. Park glared at Dae Hyun because his arrival actually made Park Soo Hyun's emotions even more out of control.

"Mom, he's not a kid anymore to be advised. How can women be attracted to him if his behavior is still childish. A man has to have a lot of authority and not easily get drunk to solve problems. Do you think drinking can solve problems?"

You'll actually get into trouble," sneered Dae Hyun while glancing at Park Soo Hyun with one of his lips pulled up into a lopsided smile.

Mrs. Park rubbed Park Soo Hyun's back to try to calm him down, so as not to get emotional with Dae Hyun's statement. She knew that Dae Hyun's intentions were good to make Park Soo Hyun even more mature. But the way he said it was quite rude and even hurt his brother's heart.

Park Soo Hyun had clenched his fingers tightly, preparing to throw a punch at Dae Hyun's face if Mrs. Park didn't hold his wrist firmly enough.

A mother did not want her two sons to fight each other only because of a trivial thing.

"I admit that you are much more mature than me. You are so charismatic that many women are fighting over you," said Park Soo Hyun in a mocking tone after he calmed down enough.

Park Ji Hoon was already standing in the doorway with a long sigh. Seeing their fight, he remembered when he was little. His two sons always argue because they had quite a lot of differences.

"Now get ready because you have to go back to work. Assistant Chang said you didn't come in yesterday. Set a good example for the employees. If you continue to act like this, then it's certain that the hotel will not progress," suggested Dae Hyun who was already lowering the tone of voice when he realized Park Ji Hoon was behind him. He realized that maybe his words had gone too far.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 446 - 446 - Emotion

"I don't care. You should just lead it back. I've said a long time ago that I'm not as talented in business as you are," said Park Soo Hyun.

"Isn't it my job to always throw tantrums? You should think before handing over your power to me." Park Soo Hyun turned his face the other way. Reluctant to see Dae Hyun who always wanted to make him emotional.

"You can't play with that position. Now get ready so we can go together," Dae Hyun persuaded because he didn't want Park Soo Hyun to resign from his position.

"It's up to me, want to play or not. All of that is none of your business," said Park Soo Hyun still in a sarcastic tone. He was too fed up with Dae Hyun's advice.

"That's also my business because after all you are my brother. I want you to be someone great and make both of parents proud. If you are like this, grandfather will not feel uncomfortable seeing it," said Dae Hyun as he stepped to approach Park Soo Hyun.

"I'll just resign starting tomorrow," said Park Soo Hyun while looking at his brother.

"No, you can't do it. I'm sure you can because everything takes a process. I felt it too when I first entered like you." Dae Hyun patted his brother's shoulder. He will do everything to make Park Soo Hyun undo his intention because it will be fatal to his plan that had been arranged neatly.

Park Soo Hyun snorted at Dae Hyun's persuasion to him. Even though he knew there was a certain meaning behind it.

"Don't persuade me because it won't work out," said Park Soo Hyun flatly.

"Enough, stop this debate. Now we should get together for lunch," said Mrs. Park to mediate the heated debate. Didn't let any words come out of Dae Hyun's lips, which will make the atmosphere tense again.

Meanwhile, Park Ji Hoon didn't want to get too involved in their fight, so he chose to remain silent and just observe. Just let them take care of it themselves. His two sons were not small children to be counseled.

"Go, I'll catch up, Mom," said Park Soo Hyun to his mother.

After everyone left Park Soo Hyun closed the door tightly. Every time he lost control, Soo Yin's sweet smile always appeared in his mind. A smile that couldn't make him sleep the last few days. But after yesterday's incident, Park Soo Hyun really wanted to hate Soo Yin even though it was difficult.

Beep...

A message ringtone came into his cell phone. Park Soo Hyun just glanced at it without wanting to open it because it must be a message from an unimportant cellular operator.

Beep...

It rang once again so Park Soo Hyun then checked his phone. He frowned when he saw the name 'My Honey' who sent the message. Just remembered that Soo Yin's cell phone number was named like that.

Park Soo Hyun took a deep breath and wondered what game they were going to play. Curiously, he opened it.

[Master, good afternoon. I want to ask where is the file that I need to rework. I didn't find you today]

Usually Soo Yin's message or call was eagerly awaited by him because it rarely happened. Now Park Soo Hyun was fed up.

"You are indeed worthy of being named a top artist!" cursed Park Soo Hyun with a crooked smile that really hurt in his heart.

Park Soo Hyun didn't reply to the message and chose to go to the bathroom instead. His heart was already hurt by the lies they did. He didn't think they would hurt him. It turned out that being cheated by his own brother was much more painful.

oooooo

The atmosphere at the dining table was quiet and serene. Eating, which was usually filled with occasional jokes, now no one wanted to speak.

There was only the sound of utensils clinking and clinking that echoed through the room. They just talked to themselves without wanting to express it.

Luckily today Aeri wasn't there so Dae Hyun could sit beside his son. Jo Yeon Ho's eyes look very different when Aeri was with them. Jo Yeon Ho wanted to smile when Dae Hyun looked at him.

"Yeon Ho, do you want to go with father to the hotel today?" asked Dae Hyun while Aeri wasn't around. So he can make a comeback. Yeon Ho was just a child who was still easily being seduced by adults and did not yet have a strong stand.

Jo Yeon Ho just kept quiet while blinking his eyes, looking at Dae Hyun. There was a desire to go with his father but on the other hand he also remembered his mother's words.

'If you don't want to lose a father then you have to stay away from him for a while.' That was what Aeri always said over and over in front of Yeon Ho.

"Don't worry, your mother isn't home. Later we will go for a walk because it just so happen that today father doesn't have too much of work," Dae Hyun said with a smile. Really wanted to be close to Jo Yeon Ho again.

Jo Yeon Ho looked at Mrs. Park to ask permission.

The middle-aged woman also took part in Aeri's plan because she didn't want her son's household to be destroyed. Moreover, there was already a child among them. Divorce was also not good for children.

But if they see the look on his face, Dae Hyun looked so longing to be close to his son again. Until Mrs. Park seemed to think for a moment.

"Go with your father. Have you two not been out together for a long time?" said Mrs. Park while smiling, finally agreed.

Jo Yeon Ho then nodded his head enthusiastically. If his mother got angry later, someone will defend him.

Dae Hyun was very happy that there was finally a chance to get close to Jo Yeon Ho.

Park Soo Hyun just listened without wanting to join their conversation.

'No wonder Aeri insisted on persuading Yeon Ha to not get too close to Dae Hyun. It's because she already found out about her husband,' Park Soo Hyun muttered, guessing about what had happened. The reason he insisted on divorcing Aeri turned out to be because of Soo Yin.

'What a loser!' cursed Park Soo Hyun while glancing at Dae Hyun with a sharp gaze. Before averting their gazes, they stared at each other for a moment.

Dae Hyun frowned when he realized that Park Soo Hyun's gaze on him was very unfriendly and disapproving.

'Is he so mad that I made fun of him?' Dae Hyun thought as he narrowed his eyes. Even though those words were actually for encouragement so that Park Soo Hyun wasn't lazy and serious in his work. At the same time, Dae Hyun wanted to say that women in this world were not only Soo Yin, because she already belonged to him. No one can snatch her from him.

After finishing lunch, Dae Hyun finally took Jo Yeon Ho to the hotel. Meanwhile, Park Soo Hyun also followed to the hotel even though he was very lazy.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 447 - 447 - Boyfriend Or Husband?

The Silla Seoul Hotel,

Soo Yin did her assignment which was delayed because she didn't go to work yesterday. She was currently in Park Soo Hyun's room. According to the agreement this morning, she'll pretend not to know that Dae Hyun had returned to Seoul.

Her eyes were focused on the monitor as she sat restlessly. It was really uncomfortable to work overshadowed by the fear of not being able to go anywhere like yesterday and having to work overtime without being able to return to the Pyeongchang-dong villa.

But she had to stay there so that Park Soo Hyun wouldn't suspect if she knew Dae Hyun was back.

Check.

There was the sound of the door opening, Soo Yin still remained in her sitting position. A little nervous made her slide over to the edge of the chair. Her heart fluttered when she glanced at him, it turned out that Park Soo Hyun was walking towards her desk.

"Good afternoon, sir," said Soo Yin, standing up. She couldn't help but look at her brother-in-law's face.

The face that used to look friendly now looked like his eyes were empty and tended to be scary. Soo Yin then lowered her gaze because there was a sharp gaze piercing her.

"What are you still working with me for? Isn't your boss back already?" said Park Soo Hyun in a cold tone. But turned his face the other way because he didn't want to see Soo Yin's face. There was a fear that Soo Yin would be hurt by the tone of his voice.

"Really? I thought Mr. Dae Hyun hasn't worked today," said Soo Yin, trying to dare to answer.

"Now you will be free from me. You must be very happy because you are not working with me anymore," said Park Soo Hyun while glancing at Soo Yin with a fierce look.

Soo Yin was quite scared and had goosebumps when their eyes met. The warm gaze that was usually obtained was now nowhere to be seen.

"That's not true, sir," Soo Yin stammered as her head now bowed again. Didn't want Park Soo Hyun to see the lies in her eyes.

"Aren't you the first to find out that Dae Hyun has been home since yesterday?" quipped Park Soo Hyun.

"N... not true. How... how could I know about that," Soo Yin stuttered. Really, she did not expect if Park Soo Hyun would guess it right on target.

Soo Yin then looked at Park Soo Hyun. G guessed if the one who sent the message was the man who was now in front of her.

"Don't be nervous like that. I'm just guessing but if it's true that you know, it doesn't matter. After all, Dae Hyun is your boss, so it's natural for you to call each other and ask how you're doing," Park Soo Hyun quipped in a flat tone.

Soo Yin was grateful that it didn't seem like it was Park Soo Hyun. It must be Han behind it all or it could be Aeri too.

"Now you can leave my room. Dae Hyun is back so it's impossible for me to let you stay in my room," Park Soo Hyun kicked her out subtly.

"If you ask for my help until the afternoon, then it's fine." Soo Yin suddenly felt bad.

"No need," said Park Soo Hyun very briefly.

"Okay, I've also finished everything. You can check it," said Soo Yin as she handed over the printed file.

"Thank you," said Park Soo Hyun nonchalantly and then turned to his desk.

Soo Yin froze in her place. Felt strange about Park Soo Hyun's sudden change. But Soo Yin immediately thought positively, maybe he was angry because she didn't come to work yesterday and only gave him sudden news.

oooooooo

Before leaving the room, Soo Yin packed all her things. Then approached Park Soo Hyun who still seemed busy checking files.

Park Soo Hyun remained indifferent and did not take his eyes off the file, even though Soo Yin was standing right in front of his desk. There was silence, all that could be heard was the sound of a sheet of paper being opened.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin cleared her throat so that Park Soo Hyun would notice her presence. But the man just corrected his sitting position. Crossed one leg over the other.

"Sir, if I have caused trouble these past few days, I'm really sorry. Regarding your feelings for me, I also can't accept it because I already have a boyfriend and it's impossible to leave him," explained Soo Yin.

"Boyfriend or husband?" Park Soo Hyun said flatly without looking at Soo Yin.

"What do you mean?" Soo Yin gaped as some of her guesses today didn't go wrong.

"I just want to make sure that you only have a boyfriend, not a husband. Because if it's a boyfriend, you can leave him at any time. Unlike a husband, you have to maintain that relationship no matter what," said Park Soo Hyun with a furrowed brow, looking at Soo Yin.

"Of course boyfriend, sir," said Soo Yin stammered.

"Have you found out if your boyfriend is indeed a single person? Don't let you regret marrying someone who already has a wife. It could be that he has a child that is impossible to leave behind. One more thing, the child definitely wants a complete family," said Park Soo Hyun with a penetrating gaze and insinuated with soft words so that Soo Yin would stay away from his brother. He also didn't want Jo Yeon Ho to lose his father.

Soo Yin was silent because her lips felt heavy when she tried to refute. Park Soo Hyun's words that were so right on target hit the deepest recesses of her heart. It was impossible to argue because it was all true.

It was also impossible to admit everything because Soo Yin didn't have the courage to speak frankly to her sister-in-law.

"Sorry, if my words are true because I just guessed. You don't need to put it in," said Park Soo Hyun.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 448 - 448 - It Was Too Late

"No problem. Then I'll excuse myself, if you need help you can contact me," said Soo Yin.

"Of course, although I'm not sure if Dae Hyun will allow it. If there is him I don't seem to have the opportunity to ask for your help," said Park Soo Hyun with a chuckle.

Soo Yin only smiled bitterly in response to Park Soo Hyun's statement which was indeed true.

"I'm sorry," said Soo Yin who resigned because she didn't want Park Soo Hyun to keep her from moving with more guesses that came out of his lips.

With quick steps, Soo Yin immediately stepped into Dae Hyun's room.

Just as she was about to open the door, Soo Yin heard the sounds of a child and adult joking and laughing so loudly. Soo Yin recognized that the voice was Jo Yeon Ho's voice. The boy's voice sounded very cheerful this time.

Soo Yin then let go of the doorknob as she remembered that a few days ago Yeon Ho was very scared when he saw her. She was afraid that Jo Yeon Ho still hated her.

It seemed that they had made up so that Soo Yin refused to enter. Afraid that her arrival would disturb the warm atmosphere.

Soo Yin decided to turn around to get away from Dae Hyun's room.

Then took the elevator to go downstairs. She wanted to get some fresh air after being too tense when she was dealing with Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin walked toward the park in the back area of the hotel. Usually she would linger there just to calm her mind. She looked around to find an empty seat.

After finding it, she sat her buttocks on a long chair under a tree. The atmosphere was very cool and can calm her mind. Plus the breeze in the hot weather which was perfect.

There were several children playing with their parents who were not far from Soo Yin's sight. They seemed to be tourists staying at the hotel. They were seen joking with each other and laughing together. The joy of the child radiated from the face when the father hugged him.

Soo Yin only imagined that they were Dae Hyun, Jo Yeon Ho, and Aeri. Her heart now seemed to waver even though she was taking another step. Park Soo Hyun's words replayed in her mind.

'There are children who still need the integrity of both parents.'

Soo Yin let out a long sigh with complicated thoughts. It was impossible to give up because she had gone too far. Meanwhile, she also knew that Aeri was not a good mother for Yeon Ho. The woman only changed after Dae Hyun intended to divorce her.

Soo Yin lowered her head and then covered her face with her palms. Didn't realize that there was someone sitting next to her.

"Soo Yin, what are you doing here? Do you miss your father? Because you look really messed up today," Jae-hwa guessed as he stretched his arm behind Soo Yin's back.

Soo Yin opened her palms then adjusted her body to sit in an upright position.

"Jae-hwa? Of course, because I haven't seen him for a long time," Soo Yin said quickly.

"Then what are you here for? Shouldn't you be working?" Soo Yin added with a frown.

"I just want to rest for a bit," Jae-hwa said.

"Where exactly were you yesterday? Why didn't you go to college?" continued Jae-hwa.

"I... I'm not going anywhere. Mr. Park Soo Hyun gave me a lot of work so I didn't feel comfortable if I have to leave him," Soo Yin said while racking her brain to find the right reason.

"Is that true?" Jae-hwa doubted Soo Yin's words this time.

Soo Yin nodded her head with a faint smile.

"Yesterday Mr. Park Soo Hyun came to campus to meet me. He was looking for you but you weren't on campus until the class ended," said Jae-hwa.

Soo Yin's mouth fell open to hear that Park Soo Hyun had come to campus to look for her. No wonder today his attitude was very different. Maybe he felt that he had been tricked by her.

"Jae-hwa, I'd better go back inside to work. Next time we'll talk." Soo Yin immediately got up and walked towards the building.

Soo Yin was in a hurry to go back into the building because she wanted to meet Park Soo Hyun and explain everything so that misunderstandings wouldn't continue.

'No wonder he was so cold and indifferent,' Soo Yin thought as she patted her forehead.

It just so happened that when Soo Yin was about to get out of the elevator, she passed Park Soo Hyun who was right in front of her, waiting for the elevator to stop.

Their gazes accidentally met for a moment but Park Soo Hyun immediately looked away. Pretended not to notice Soo Yin's presence there.

"Soo Hyun, about yesterday ... I didn't mean to lie to you." Soo Yin finally spoke up before Park Soo Hyun stepped into the elevator.

"That's up to you, after all it has nothing to do with me anymore. You want to be alone with your boyfriend or someone's husband, it doesn't matter," said Park Soo Hyun indifferently and shrugged his shoulders.

"I'm really sorry. At first I was going to go to college but he contacted me to accompany him," said Soo Yin then bowed her body.

"You don't have to feel guilty because it's none of my business anymore," Park Soo Hyun said with a snort.

"Jae-hwa said yesterday you were looking for me on campus. You shouldn't have bothered like that," said Soo Yin.

"Don't be too confident because I just happened to drop by." Park Soo Hyun immediately stepped into the elevator because it was about to close again for the second time.

Soo Yin sighed heavily. Honestly, she didn't want their relationship to be strained because after all, they will become a big family.

It turned out that creating one lie will result in another long lie. But it was too late.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 449 - 449 - She's Bad Woman

"Soo Yin, where have you been? I just came from Park Soo Hyun's room but you weren't there."

Dae Hyun's voice that was already in front of her interrupted Soo Yin from her thoughts. Her gaze was immediately fixed on Yeon Ho who was holding Dae Hyun's hand.

The look in his eyes was still the same as yesterday even though Soo Yin had a sweet smile on her lips.

"I just went out for a while to get some fresh air," Soo Yin said as she looked away from Yeon Ho.

"I thought you were gone so you didn't come to my room," Dae Hyun said with a warm smile.

Dae Hyun frowned when he realized Yeon Ho had hidden himself behind him.

"Yeon Ho, what's wrong with you? Don't you really like Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun said.

"No, she's a bad woman. She's going to take father away from me. It's better if you don't get close to her anymore," Yeon Ho said with a cold tone and an unfriendly look in his eyes when he looked at Soo Yin.

Deg....

Soo Yin felt that something was tugging at her heart deeply. Her heart ached from the wound that Yeon Ho had inflicted.

The words that came out of Yeon Ho's small lips made Soo Yin lowered her head and couldn't open her mouth. Without even realizing it, clear tears spilled out of the corners of her eyes.

Without saying another word, Soo Yin stepped away from them, wiping the tears that flowed from her eyes.

"Soo Yin, wait," Dae Hyun called out.

Soo Yin continued to walk very fast regardless of Dae Hyun's screams that kept calling her name. It turned out that the picture of being a young wife was not as easy as she imagined. For her, Jo Yeon Ho's words pierced her chest.

Dae Hyun was about to chase his little wife but couldn't because Yeon was with him. Didn't know what kind of incitement Aeri said so Yeon Ho really obeyed her words. Previously, their relationship was fine.

"Father, where are you going?" Yeon Ho held Dae Hyun's hand who was about to go after Soo Yin.

"Wait here for a moment. Father's just going for a while," Dae Hyun coaxed while heaving a heavy sigh. Today was a dilemma because he had to choose between his son or his wife.

"I don't want to. Didn't father say we will go for a walk?" Yeon Ho looked up and looked at Dae Hyun with sharp eyes.

"Yeon Ho, we have to get Soo Yin to come with us too," Dae Hyun coaxed as he crouched down to align his body with his son.

"I don't want to. She's so mean, if you're going to be with her then I'll go and I'll hate you forever," Yeon Ho said coldly and folded his arms across his chest.

Park Soo Hyun watched from a distance, observing what father and son had done. Then walked over to them out of curiosity.

"Uncle," Yeon Ho said when he saw a familiar man, then ran to Park Soo Hyun and hugged his leg.

"What's wrong, Yeon Ho?" said Park Soo Hyun as he lowered his gaze to grab his nephew's hand.

"I don't want to be with father. He chose that mean woman over me," Yeon Ho said sarcastically.

This was the first time Park Soo Hyun and Dae Hyun had seen Yeon Ho so angry. The boy was the quiet type and was easy to persuade.

Park Soo Hyun glanced at his brother with a snort.

'That's the result if you act without thinking first,' said Park Soo Hyun in his heart. It was not that he didn't dare to say it but there were several people passing by so Park Soo Hyun cancelled his intention.

"Who is the woman?" Park Soo Hyun pretended not to know then looked around.

"Her name is Soo Yin, she's a bad woman. I just want to be with Uncle," whined Yeon Ho who hugged Park Soo Hyun's legs very tightly.

Some passers-by looked strangely at them because the sight of father and son feuding was very rare. Yeon Ho used to be known to be very close to him.

"Uncle is busy today. You should just be with your father because he doesn't have too much work," said Park Soo Hyun.

"I do not want to!" refused Yeon Ho vehemently.

"Yeon Ho, let's go to Lotte World again like that night. Don't you like it a lot?" Dae Hyun coaxed while smiling warmly to make his son melt.

The boy quickly shook his head vigorously. He didn't care anymore about his father's invitation even though he really wanted it.

"Let him be with me for a while. When he calms down, you can see him," said Park Soo Hyun in a flat tone.

Dae Hyun rubbed his face angrily. But in the end, he nodded his head.

"It's better to think carefully before acting. Don't be rash and greedy," sneered Park Soo Hyun. Then walked past Dae Hyun while holding Yeon Ho's wrist.

Dae Hyun went around, looking for Soo Yin to several places but can't find her. Had also tried to call her several times but she won't answer his calls.

Now the man was standing in front of the women's restroom and leaning against the wall. Every time he wanted to go in, there were many female employees passing in and out. So Dae Hyun can only wait.

His eyes shone brightly when he saw Soo Yin answer his call on the phone screen.

"Soo Yin, where are you right now? Are you okay?" Dae Hyun only felt anxious because Soo Yin was often narrow-minded.

"I'm fine. Don't look and worry about me," Soo Yin said on the other end of the phone.

"Go back to my room because I want to talk to you," said Dae Hyun.

"Okay, I'll be there later," said Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun felt a little relieved because he knew that Soo Yin was all right. He didn't want his little wife to be consumed by Jo Yeon Ho's words earlier. After getting the news, Dae Hyun immediately returned to his room.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 450 - 450 - He Said Is True

Soo Yin was still in the toilet, then in front of the sink to wash her face. Jo Yeon Ho's words really hit her heart. If she was a bad woman who really intended to take Dae Hyun, maybe Soo Yin didn't need to worry about the child's words. But she was not that kind of woman, even from the beginning, she had asked for a divorce.

"Soo Yin, what happened to Yeon Ho and Mr. Dae Hyun? It seems that they are fighting and Yeon Ho doesn't want to be with his father," said one female employee named Bee Dan to Soo Yin. She seemed very curious to know what was really going on.

"Hmm, I don't know either," said Soo Yin with a bitter smile. Even though she knew, there was no way he would tell her everything because it involved her life.

"Earlier I heard if he mentioned that you are a bad woman. What really happened and what did you do to make Yeon Ho to say something like that?" The woman looked at Soo Yin with a penetrating gaze. Dug deep to find as much information as possible.

"He's just a kid who's upset. I accidentally dropped his toy," said Soo Yin flatly. Didn't want to talk much because women like that usually after getting information, they will gossip with others.

"But I also heard that he said if you are going to take his father." Bee Dan narrowed her eyes because Soo Yin's answer was so unsatisfactory.

"You better ask him yourself. I really don't know. Remember, don't make gossip if you're still working at this hotel," Soo Yin threatened. Before finally stepping out of the toilet. She began to get annoyed with women who liked to look for information too deeply and then spread it.

"What a strange girl," the woman grumbled.

Soo Yin was already in front of Dae Hyun's door as she raised her hand to knock but hesitating. Until Soo Yin jumped in surprise when the door opened wide.

In the doorway, Dae Hyun was standing with his eyebrows knit together.

"Come in, Yeon Ho isn't here," said Dae Hyun, knowing that his little wife was worried about his son's whereabouts.

Soo Yin closed the door and walked in, following Dae Hyun. She lowered her head too much so that Soo Yin didn't notice that Dae Hyun had stopped and turned around until Soo Yin hit her husband's chest.

"Ouch," cried Soo Yin who almost fell to the floor, if Dae Hyun didn't hold her wrist.

"Don't keep daydreaming," Dae Hyun said as he grabbed Soo Yin's hand and led her to sit on the sofa.

Soo Yin agreed to sit on the sofa but quickly moved her body away from Dae Hyun so that there was quite a distance between them.

"Don't be too far from me," said Dae Hyun with a look of dislike.

"I don't want Yeon Ho to see it," said Soo Yin while shifting her body again to the end of the sofa.

"He's in Park Soo Hyun's room." Dae Hyun can't stand talking to Soo Yin but they were very far apart. So he stood up and then sat down beside Soo Yin.

"Stay away, quickly talk. You said you wanted to talk to me," said Soo Yin while pushing Dae Hyun's body so they wouldn't be too close. Yeon Ho's words really bothered her this time.

"Honey, please don't take what Yeon Ho said to heart. He's just a kid who doesn't know anything," Dae Hyun said softly. He stared at Soo Yin's two bright eyes.

"Hmmm, I see," said Soo Yin with a sour face and a complicated expression. She knows that Yeon is just a child who doesn't understand anything but her heart feels like it's being stabbed.

"I know that you must be hurt by what he said. There's no way that you were okay while you were crying. Yeon Ho will definitely melt again with time." Dae Hyun tried to explain everything so there was no misunderstanding.

"But what he said is true. I am a bad woman who is trying to snatch you from his side." Soo Yin laughed hollowly, mocking herself. Remembered what Yeon Ho and Park Soo Hyun said this morning.

"Shhh, what you're saying isn't true. You're not that kind of woman. I've repeatedly said that I'm the one at fault here for being so selfish and greedy that I didn't give you up," said Dae Hyun with a long sigh.

"Honestly, I was really scared that Yeon Ho would hate me." Soo Yin looked far away as they often went to various places together. She thought it would be a wonderful start if they could become a family one day.

Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's head and rested her head on his chest to give her peace.

"I'll try to persuade him so he'll understand that you're not the woman he has in mind." He rubbed Soo Yin's back so gently.

"Don't be too pushy because I don't want your relationship to be tenuous. Yeon Ho still needs a father at such a young age," Soo Yin said with eyes that were already feeling heavy and hot, but as much as possible she tried to keep them from falling heavily on her cheeks.

"I will do everything for both of you. I can't choose one of you because to me both of you are equally important," Dae Hyun said guiltily for not being able to fulfill his promise yet again. If this continued, the plan will continue to be implemented.

"Thanks, but if you ask me to give up. I'll gladly do it." Soo Yin buried her face in his chest even more when her tears unconsciously escaped from her eyes.

Brak....

The door swung wide and strong enough to make a loud sound when it hit the wall.

Soo Yin and Dae Hyun suddenly widened their eyes when they saw who was standing in the doorway.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 451 - 451 - Better Forget About Him

Yeon Ho pushed the door so hard. He was standing in the doorway with Park Soo Hyun standing behind him.

Yeon Ho's face immediately turned sour. The boy groaned when he saw his father sitting next to Soo Yin.

Luckily Dae Hyun and Soo Yin immediately distanced themselves so that Yeon Ho didn't have time to see them while hugging.

'Shameless bastard!' Park Soo Hyun cursed in his heart. Can see at a glance what they just did. He wondered of why Soo Yin preferred Dae Hyun over him.

If you only rely on good looks, Park Soo Hyun felt much more handsome than Dae Hyun. Many girls were after him.

"Why are you around her again?" Yeon Ho accused with a flushed face as he walked up to his father by stomping his feet so hard. The pounding of the shoes made by Yeon Ho sounded quite loud.

"Father is discussing work," Dae Hyun lied because it was impossible to say honestly.

"Honey, come here." Dae Hyun patted his lap for Yeon Ho to sit there.

"Father, don't get close to her anymore," Yeon Ho said while glancing at Soo Yin with a sneer.

Park Soo Hyun casually stepped inside while putting his hands in his pockets. Looked at Soo Yin who was looking down, he really didn't have the heart and regretted for having spoken so harshly. But that was the only way for Soo Yin to realize her wrong actions.

"I'd better get out, Master," said Soo Yin, not wanting to cause a ruckus between them.

As soon as Soo Yin was about to take a step, it turned out that someone had opened the door. So that Soo Yin's footsteps stopped.

"Yeon Ho, you're actually here? I've been looking for you for a long time," said Aeri who looked down sadly as she looked at her son.

Yeon Ho then got off Dae Hyun's lap and jogged towards Aeri. Then hugged her legs tightly.

"Mom, I'm sorry that I didn't listen to what Mom said to not see father," said Yeon Ho while looking up at her face.

"It's okay, honey. I'm also sorry for forbidding you to meet your father," Aeri said with such a soft and warm smile. Then squatted down to align her body with Jo Yeon Ho's height.

Dae Hyun just looked at Aeri's attitude towards his son with a complicated look. No wonder Yeon Ho melted and obeyed all of her words. It turned out that Aeri had changed her attitude 180 degrees to Yeon Ho. It was this kind of attitude that his son had always dreamed of.

"Thank you mom." Yeon Ho kissed Aeri's cheek alternately on both sides.

"Grandma said father took you to Lotte World? Have you guys gone there and didn't take mom?" Aeri put on a face pretending to be sullen in front of her son.

"Not yet, because she keeps bothering father," Yeon Ho said while pointing at Soo Yin.

Soo Yin just gawked when Yeon Ho pointed to her as the mastermind.

"You can't talk like that because it's natural for them to be close. Soo Yin is your father's secretary," Aeri said while glancing at Soo Yin with pleasure.

"Why don't you just accompany father to work? You must be smart to do it too," suggested Yeon Ho.

"Your mother is a model, Yeon Ho. She is not suitable to be a secretary," Dae Hyun refused firmly. He wouldn't let Aeri really control himself.

"It doesn't matter, because I can do everything right," said Aeri.

"Once again I won't do it. It's like there are no other employees so I make you a secretary," Dae Hyun said with a snort and looked at Aeri with a look of dislike.

"Father, you said you wanted to take me to Lotte World. Let's go right now," whined Yeon Ho who couldn't wait to go there again because it was already night and he wasn't satisfied going around the rides.

Dae Hyun wanted to refuse but it was impossible because this was one of the ways to get Yeon Ho back close to him.

"Let's go," said Dae Hyun while looking at Soo Yin's face with a sad look.

"Soo Yin, you should just go home or help Park Soo Hyun with work. Dae Hyun must accompany Jo Yeon Ho this afternoon," Aeri quipped subtly. She wanted to say that Dae Hyun will not refuse with all of Jo Yeon Ho's requests.

Soo Yin just stayed silent while looking at Aeri. This time she won't be carried away by emotions because she already knew her rotten mind that intended to make her jealous.

"Soo Yin, you can go home. Besides, there is no work for today. See you tomorrow morning," Dae Hyun said softly and then walked away.

"Yes sir." To be honest, Soo Yin felt sick to her stomach seeing them go together but what could be done. She was just a mistress who couldn't demand too much.

Soo Yin and Park Soo Hyun were still standing where they were, looking at all of them who had disappeared behind the door.

Soo Yin sighed heavily then bent down to reach for the bag lying on the sofa. She was just silent as she passed Park Soo Hyun.

"Are you not aware and don't want to give up? You should know that Dae Hyun already has a wife."

Park Soo Hyun's words stopped Soo Yin's steps. Her body was shaking because she just found out that Park Soo Hyun knew about her relationship with Dae Hyun.

"Dae Hyun has a child that is impossible to leave. You must know about it," explained Park Soo Hyun to clarify his words.

Soo Yin tightened her grip on the shoulder strap of her bag.

"You'd better forget about him and find another man. How much money or wealth did Dae Hyun give so you want to marry him," Park Soo Hyun quipped with a chuckle.

Something stabbed deep in her chest when she heard Park Soo Hyun's words. Was she so low that everyone thought it was just for the sake of money.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 452 - 452 - You Really Are Crazy!

Soo Yin couldn't hold back her tears until a single drop fell. It was true that it was only as a form of gratitude. But she was also forced.

Soo Yin finally got up the courage to turn her body towards Park Soo Hyun.

"You... do you know that I'm married to him?" asked Soo Yin, stammering.

"Only a fool hasn't known it for too long," said Park Soo Hyun in a cold tone.

"You really have the heart to lie to me all this time." Anger was now starting to enter Park Soo Hyun's soul. With a quick movement, Soo Yin's body was pressed by him against the wall. His gaze was sharp and fiery.

Soo Yin tried to push Park Soo Hyun's body but the man gripped her arm tightly enough to make her unable to move. Seeing his sharp gaze made Soo Yin's body tremble.

"Soo Hyun, what are you doing? Let me go!" shouted Soo Yin with all her might in rebellion.

"Tell me, why do you prefer Dae Hyun over me? What are the advantages that make you willing to be a lowly woman?" shouted Park Soo Hyun with anger that was already on the threshold. His head felt hot and wanted to explode since a few days ago, wanted to vent it out.

Slap!

A hard slap landed on Park Soo Hyun's cheek. Soo Yin struggled with all her strength and finally managed to let go of one of her hands.

Park Soo Hyun lowered his head while holding his cheek which was still hot. The slap was less painful than their betrayal.

"How dare your dirty hands touch me!" shouted Park Soo Hyun right in front of Soo Yin's face while punching the wall right next to Soo Yin's head.

Feeling very angry, Park Soo Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's hand and dragged her into the room in the study.

Soo Yin tried to hold on tightly to the door but Park Soo Hyun pulled her hand too hard.

"Park Soo Hyun, stop it! What do you really want?" Soo Yin exclaimed as her body was slammed hard enough on the bed that her back hurt quite a bit.

"I just want to know how Dae Hyun's wife feels when she's in bed," said Park Soo Hyun with a sly grin. He seemed to have lost consciousness this time.

Soo Yin sensed that he wasn't like the Park Soo Hyun she knew. He was very different. His gaze and manner of speaking were like a possessed person.

"What are you saying? Watch your mouth," shouted Soo Yin angrily.

"Just tell me how much money Dae Hyun gives you every single night you spend with him. Let me pay three times as much," sneered Park Soo Hyun with a disgusted look while looking at Soo Yin.

"We love each other and I'm not a cheap woman who is in a relationship with a man for money," Soo Yin said in a high tone. Her hair was disheveled and sweat dripped down her face.

"Many bitches like you in this world say that they are in a relationship with rich men because of love. Even though you all only want to drain their wealth," said Park Soo Hyun with a lopsided and dismissive smile.

Every word that Park Soo Hyun spoke was like a dull sword slashing her chest. Tore her heart that was so fragile.

"That's enough, Park Soo Hyun. Aren't you satisfied with saying everything!" Soo Yin exclaimed as clear beads slowly running down her cheeks.

"Don't cry, honey. I'm just saying what I think." Park Soo Hyun traced Soo Yin's face with his finger so gently that Soo Yin closed her eyes.

Soo Yin couldn't do anything because Park Soo Hyun locked her up and grabbed her hands above her head. She could only shake her head vigorously.

"Park Soo Hyun, wake up. I'm your brother's wife. If Dae Hyun knows you are doing this, he would definitely be very angry and beat you up," Soo Yin threatened as she continued to try to escape.

"I don't care if he's mad. You have to feel who is better, me or him." Park Soo Hyun had completely lost control of himself.

"You really are crazy," said Soo Yin.

"I'm really crazy because I'm crazy about you," said Park Soo Hyun while chuckling.

"Help! Help" Soo Yin shouted as loud as she could, hoping that someone would save her from such a situation.

"Shut up, because no one will help you," said Park Soo Hyun, squinting his eyes. He was like a hungry wolf.

Park Soo Hyun was about to put his lips on Soo Yin's but luckily Soo Yin was able to dodge it by turning her face to the side.

"You don't have to refuse because after this you will definitely ask for more from me," said Park Soo Hyun sarcastically.

"I am your sister-in-law. You should have manners," said Soo Yin as she continued to struggle with all her might.

"You are not my sister-in-law. You are just a cheap woman who is present in our lives," said Park Soo Hyun in a cold tone.

"Then why do you love me when I'm so cheap?" said Soo Yin with a heart that felt like it was starting to boil.

"That's because you tricked us."

Soo Yin finally kicked Park Soo Hyun in the stomach with all her might until he fell to the floor, when his guard was overtaken by emotion.

"Shit! It turns out that you are very wild. No wonder Dae Hyun is crazy about you and wants to divorce Aeri." Park Soo Hyun tried to get up.

Soo Yin was now out of bed, trying to get away and walking towards the door. Until finally managed to turn the door knob. But unfortunately the door was locked.

"Shit!" Soo Yin muttered as she kept trying to open it.

"You bitch!" Park Soo Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's hand, pulled her then threw her back on the bed.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 453 - 453 - Serve Me Just One Time, Honey

Soo Yin inched backwards while covering her chest with both hands. Park Soo Hyun's gaze seemed to be stripping her body.

Park Soo Hyun then took off his coat and threw it in any direction.

"Soo Hyun, what are you going to do?" Soo Yin was wide-eyed to see Park Soo Hyun who had managed to remove one by one the buttons of his shirt with a position of embracing her body.

"I just want to know why you chose Dae Hyun over me. What exactly are his advantages?"

"Help! Help!" Soo Yin tried to scream for help again. She didn't want Park Soo Hyun to do anything bad to her.

"Can't you shut up?" Park Soo Hyun snapped because he was annoyed with Soo Yin who kept struggling and screaming.

"I'll be quiet if you let me go," Soo Yin said as she shifted her body so that she could be released.

"I won't let you go this time. If Dae Hyun can get you, I should be able to too. We should just enjoy this game," said Park Soo Hyun as he gritted his teeth hard.

Park Soo Hyun who had lost his mind. Then he pulled the clothes Soo Yin was wearing so tightly that it tore. Luckily Soo Yin was wearing layered clothes so she still had a barrier covering her bra.

Soo Yin shook her head with tears spilling out. Even though she was not a virgin anymore, Soo Yin just wanted to give herself up for her husband.

"Soo Hyun, please let me go," Soo Yin pleaded with her eyes closed when Park Soo Hyun was about to untie the belt around his stomach.

"Serve me just one time, honey. Because you will definitely like it," said Park Soo Hyun while smiling lopsidedly with a scary grin.

Park Soo Hyun did not listen to what Soo Yin said even though she begged to be released. The man was completely blinded by unrequited love.

"Soo Hyun, wake up. There are still many women in this world who want to live with you," Soo Yin reminded him as best she could.

"I don't care because you're the only one I want," Park Soo Hyun said firmly right in front of Soo Yin's face so she could feel his burning breath.

Brakk...

There was a knock on the door so hard that it swung open.

Bugh...

A man who had just entered then hit Park Soo Hyun on the back until he fell to the floor and his grip on Soo Yin was released.

Gong Yoo was about to submit a report to Dae Hyun when he heard a girl's voice asking for help. So with all his might he managed to break down the door.

Gong Yoo approached Park Soo Hyun then punched him in the face with a fist that was quite hard. Until it made Park Soo Hyun fell down with blood coming out of the corner of his lips.

"It's a good thing you're the director here. If not, I'll take your life," Gong Yoo threatened when he was about to land his punch again.

"Master Gong Yoo?" Soo Yin immediately sat on the edge of the bed while embracing her body because her clothes were torn. Tried to cover her exposed chest with both hands.

"Are you okay?" Gong Yoo approached Soo Yin while looking at Park Soo Hyun who was still trying to get up.

"How dare you bother me!" said Park Soo Hyun with mounting anger.

"Is this the behavior of a hotel leader? Wants to embarrass and destroy the hotel's reputation," Gong Yoo sneered with a snort.

"I will also resign soon," said Park Soo Hyun as he stood up. His body was giddy, tried to process what had just happened. Gong Yoo's punch slightly woke him up with what he had just done.

Suddenly his heart touched when he saw Soo Yin who was sobbing on the edge of the bed.

"What did I just do?" Park Soo Hyun muttered while holding back the pain at the corners of his lips.

"We'd better get out of here. If he dares to do anything, I will make sure he won't live anymore," said Gong Yoo while looking at Park Soo Hyun with a sharp gaze. If he didn't remember if he was the leader of the hotel, it was certain that he'd been battered.

Gong Yoo took off his coat, then put it on Soo Yin's shoulders. Then led her out of the room.

"Soo Yin, wait! I didn't mean to do it," said Park Soo Hyun with regret because he had almost lost control of himself. He sat still while holding out his hand.

"Soo Yin, I'm sorry," said Park Soo Hyun regretfully. He ran a hand through his hair furiously and punched the wall hard.

-
-

Gong Yoo took Soo Yin into a room in the hotel. Then sat her on the edge of the bed, because it was impossible to take her out of the hotel with torn clothes.

"Stay here, I will go out for a while to find clothes for you," said Gong Yoo.

Soo Yin just nodded her head. Her gaze was blank at any direction. She never thought that Park Soo Hyun would almost rape her.

A man who had been very nice to her now looked down on her. Said that she was a cheap woman.

Soo Yin sobbed remembering the words the man said. Her heart ached and constricted. Was she so cheap that people always look down on her?

Her hands were now red because of Park Soo Hyun's strong grip. Her clothes were out of shape because Park Soo Hyun tore them forcibly as he was filled with anger.

It hurt to have to experience something like that over and over again. Soo Yin cursed herself for being too weak and unreliable.

Check...

Soo Yin immediately inched backwards when the door opened. She put her hand on the jacket that wrapped her body. It was undeniable that she felt traumatized by a foreign man.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 454 - 454 - Are You Okay?

Gong Yoo frowned when he saw Soo Yin who looked scared while looking at him. He just took a deep breath while massaging his temples.

"No need to be afraid, I won't hurt you," said Gong Yoo who slowly walked over to Soo Yin. But Soo Yin stood up instead.

"I just want to give you this. Wear it, after that I will take you home," said Gong Yoo while handing the paper bag to Soo Yin.

Soo Yin just stayed silent without a word coming out of her lips. With quick steps, she immediately went to the bathroom to change clothes. Then washed her face to feel fresh.

Soo Yin didn't know whether or not to tell Dae Hyun about the matter later. If she told him everything, then they would be at problems and Soo Yin was sure that her husband would get angry and throw a tantrum.

Soo Yin leaned against the wall with her mind still in turmoil and didn't expect this to happen.

Knock...kck...kck....

"Soo Yin, are you okay inside?" asked Gong Yoo who was worried that something would happen to Soo Yin because just changing clothes shouldn't take up to half an hour.

Soo Yin gasped from her daydream but didn't answer Gong Yoo's question. She just turned on the faucet on the sink to say that she was okay.

It wasn't long before Soo Yin came out and was already combing her hair with her hands.

Gong Yoo looked at Soo Yin with mixed and complicated feelings. It was undeniable that he felt very sorry for the girl. So many questions were now present in his mind. But Gong Yoo didn't want to ask about it, it seemed that now wasn't the right time.

"Soo Yin, let me take you," said Gong Yoo.

"Thank you, Master. But I can go home by myself," Soo Yin refused. Without saying anything else, she immediately left the room.

Soo Yin was shocked beyond measure when she saw that Chang Yuan was standing at the door.

"Assistant Chang?" Soo Yin muttered with wide eyes.

"Come on, Miss, I'll take you home," said Chang Yuan politely.

"Alright," said Soo Yin. At least if she was escorted by Chang Yuan, she would feel more comfortable and there was no need to be afraid.

'Did he know about that incident?' Soo Yin thought, if Chang Yuan knew then her husband would already know.

Gong Yoo just watched Soo Yin's back which slowly drifted away from his reach.

"What's the real relationship between them?" Gong Yoo muttered. However, he quickly walked to his room. He also had to turn to Dae Hyun's study because his file was left there.

oooooooo

Soo Yin just kept quiet while watching the sky from the car window which looked cloudy and snow might be falling soon.

"Sorry, I didn't help you, Miss," said Chang Yuan to break the silence.

"It's okay, Assistant Chang. I also didn't think that Park Soo Hyun would almost go that far," Soo Yin said with a bitter face.

"Does everyone know that?" Soo Yin added.

"Only a few, but I already threatened them to shut up," said Chang Yuan.

"Does Dae Hyun know about this?" This was what Soo Yin wanted to know the most.

"I have already told him, Miss, this is an important matter so it is impossible to let him not know," said Chang Yuan with a focused gaze ahead as he stared at the darkening street.

"Why are you in a hurry to say it? If Dae Hyun knew, he would be angry," said Soo Yin, looking down languidly.

"Mr. Dae Hyun has the right to know about this matter as soon as possible. Don't let him find out from others because he will be much more angry later." Chang Yuan knew better that his boss would be angry if he wasn't told when there was a problem involving her.

Soo Yin just sighed heavily because Dae Hyun already knew. Though she intended to hide it for a while. She didn't want them to fight just because of her.

=====

Lotte World,

There was an uneasy feeling this time that Dae Hyun had felt when he left the hotel. Like something bad happened. Even though his body was on the playground, Dae Hyun's mind kept remembering Soo Yin's existence.

"Father, I want to ride that game," said Jo Yeon Ho while pointing to one of the games there. The child looked very happy because he can go out with his parents. He no longer needed to be jealous of other children.

"Just go with your mother," Dae Hyun said while looking at his cellphone screen.

"Mother, let's go," said Jo Yeon Ho.

"You'd better ride alone. Look there are only children who ride it," Aeri coaxed whilst pointing to several children who were riding on merry go round.

"Okay, but you guys have to stay here to see me."

"Of course," Aeri said while waving her hand when Jo Yeon had managed to get on with the help of the ride workers.

"Dae Hyun, can you focus on us here? Why did you seem more focused on your phone since earlier?" said Aeri who was starting to feel annoyed. Why were they together if Dae Hyun had always looked at his cellphone screen repeatedly. Even when spoken to, he will answer as he pleased.

"The important thing is that I'm here with you. You don't have to bother with what I do," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone. If he had not already promised Jo Yeon Ho, he was also reluctant to go with Aeri.

"Are you worried about your favorite secretary?" Aeri pouted cynically.

"If so, so what? Do you mind?" Dae Hyun said casually.

Aeri gaped at Dae Hyun's answer, which did not refute her accusation at all.

"Of course I mind, my status is still your legal wife. Which wife will be silent if her husband thinks about other women," said Aeri in a high tone.

"Then, you don't have to make our divorce difficult if you mind. If we divorce we are free to determine each other's lives for the future," said Dae Hyun.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 455 - 455 - Something Happened

They stood a few meters away from the rides that Jo Yeon Ho was riding. So Dae Hyun didn't have to worry that his son will hear.

"Ughhh... look I'll tell mom if you have a relationship with that girl," threatened Aeri with a triumphant smile.

"Go ahead if you want to say it because I don't mind at all if she knows," Dae Hyun said while smiling lopsidedly, sneering at Aeri's threats that didn't mean anything to him.

"You are really outrageous. How can you say something like that," said Aeri with emotions that had started to rise.

"We both know that neither you nor I are loyal. We both want to be free, so let Jo Yeon Ho be close to me again."

"I will never divorce you. If you want to marry her, go ahead. The most important thing is that I will not let Yeon Ho fall into your hands," Aeri said with a face that was already reddened by her anger.

This made their divorce even more difficult because one of them did not want a divorce. Moreover, if Yeon Ho's custody rights fall into the hands of Aeri, his parents will not remain silent because later his son will inherit the hotel.

"Okay, we'll see," said Dae Hyun with a smirk.

'If you don't want a divorce, then be prepared, I'll give you a surprise soon,' Dae Hyun thought with a snort.

Derrttt...

Dae Hyun immediately looked at the phone screen when he felt a vibration in his hand.

"What's the matter, Assistant Chang?" Dae Hyun immediately answered the call because he thought it was Soo Yin.

"Something happened to the young lady, sir," said Chang Yuan cautiously.

"What?" Dae Hyun immediately skipped a beat when he heard Chang Yuan's words about his little wife.

Chang Yuan immediately explained a bit of what had happened to Soo Yin.

"Okay, I'll be right there," Dae Hyun said with his hands tightly clenched. His chest heaved up and down, feeling the emotions rising. No wonder he had a bad feeling earlier but he tried to push it away because he thought Soo Yin was safe.

Aeri who saw Dae Hyun put on a bright red face, only frowned. She didn't expect what made Dae Hyun look so emotional.

"Father, now let's go there again." Jo Yeon Ho just got off the ride but had asked to get on again.

"You'd better go up with your mother," said Dae Hyun.

"Dae Hyun, can't you make time for Yeon Ho for just a day? But if you're busy go away, we won't beg for company," Aeri threatened.

"Okay, then I'm leaving right now because I have business. Have fun," Dae Hyun said goodbye and really left them.

"Shit!" Aeri muttered angrily because her threat actually made Dae Hyun leave. Even though she just wanted to bluff but she didn't think it had to end like this.

"Come on, Mom," Yeon Ho whined as he grabbed Aeri's wrist to follow him.

Aeri wanted to be angry but couldn't because if Yeon Ho hated her, it would be harder to endure.

"Soon we should go home because it's late," said Aeri with a sour face.

????????????????

Dae Hyun immediately drove his car to the Pyeongchang-dong villa.

"Park Soo Hyun!" Dae Hyun said angrily as he hit the steering wheel. If something happened to his wife then his brother was finished. It didn't matter if they were brothers but when it came to Soo Yin he would make the calculations.

Not long after, Dae Hyun arrived at the villa. He then hurriedly got off and climbed the stairs to check on his little wife.

Soo Yin just came out of the bathroom with her hair rolled up in a small towel. Her small body only wore a towel up to her knees. She looked in the mirror, watching her shoulders which turned red from Park Soo Hyun's strong grip. There were also scratch marks on her chest when Park Soo Hyun forcibly tore her clothes.

"Mom, I just want to be with you," Soo Yin sobbed as she sat down on the chair in front of the dressing table. It was very tiring to get harassed for the umpteenth time.

"Soo Yin," said Dae Hyun who immediately approached his wife quickly and knelt in front of her.

"Honey, which one is hurt?" said Dae Hyun panicked while wiping the tears that flowed down Soo Yin's cheeks.

Soo Yin shook her head slowly with her eyes still teary.

Dae Hyun then saw the red color of the finger marks that were still there.

"Did Park Soo Hyun do all this?" Dae Hyun stood up and rubbed it.

"Calm down, let me avenge what he did later," said Dae Hyun with emotion, wanting to punch his brother in the face.

Soo Yin rested her head on Dae Hyun's chest to relieve some of the trauma of what had happened. People close to her even intended to harass her.

Dae Hyun then led Soo Yin to sit on the edge of the bed so he could hug her more freely. His heart ached every time he heard her sobs. He knew that his wife was still scared and traumatized.

Dae Hyun grabbed the folded blanket at the end of the bed to wrap Soo Yin's body which was still in his arms. A gentle night breeze came in through the vent and was enough to chill them.

"Honey, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have left you there," said Dae Hyun as he kissed the top of Soo Yin's head over and over again. Can't understand that Park Soo Hyun dared to do it.

Soo Yin was silent as she buried her face in Dae Hyun's chest. The clear beads dripped again despite trying to hold it in. Leaning on her husband's chest made Soo Yin feel so comfortable that she closed her eyes and slowly drifted off to sleep. Soft snoring sounded regular from her lips.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 456 - 456 - Don't Fight

Realizing that Soo Yin had fallen asleep, Dae Hyun immediately laid her on the bed. Then took another blanket to cover Soo Yin's body so she wouldn't get cold.

Dae Hyun's hands gripped the sheets very tightly. His jaw tightened so that his muscles could be seen. He felt angry at the thought of what might happen to Soo Yin today.

"Park Soo Hyun, I'll make sure you'll regret what you did to my wife," Dae Hyun said while gritting his teeth hard.

He looked at Soo Yin's beautiful face who was sleeping. Her eyelids looked red and puffy.

Dae Hyun felt like a failure as a man who can't take care of his wife. Instead of making Soo Yin happy, he repeatedly made Soo Yin shed the tears of sadness.

"You have to pay for the tears that came out of Soo Yin's eyes." Dae Hyun immediately got up because he didn't want to wait too long to meet Park Soo Hyun. Tonight he will also teach him a lesson.

He first kissed Soo Yin's forehead before turning to walk away. He had just taken a step when a hand reached out to hold him by the wrist.

"Don't go," said Soo Yin while tightly holding Dae Hyun's hand. She knew that the man would return to the UN Village and would make calculations to Park Soo Hyun. This was what Soo Yin was afraid of, they would definitely get into a fistfight.

Dae Hyun turned to look at Soo Yin with a warm smile and sat down beside her.

"I'm not going anywhere," Dae Hyun said while caressing her cheek. Maybe he should hold back his emotions until tomorrow morning. After all, it was impossible to leave Soo Yin in such a state.

"Are you going home?" Soo Yin asked while blinking her eyes. Even though it was only a short sleep, it was able to treat the trauma a little. Moreover, Dae Hyun was now beside her. Soo Yin felt safer and didn't have to be afraid anymore.

"Hmmm." Dae Hyun can't deny that he really wanted to meet Park Soo Hyun.

"Don't be too emotional with your brother," Soo Yin suggested while rubbing her husband's chest.

She realized that Park Soo Hyun was emotional. Who wouldn't be angry to find out that the person they like is actually married to their brother?

"I'll still teach him a lesson. He's gone too far, luckily you're okay. What if something bad happens to you?" Dae Hyun closed his eyes briefly to suppress the turmoil that burned his soul.

"I don't want you to fight just because of me," Soo Yin said with a sad eyes.

"We won't fight if he didn't throw a tantrum," said Dae Hyun, who had lowered his voice.

"Don't make mother feel anxious about your brotherly relationship. Mother will definitely feel very sad if you two fight," said Soo Yin in a sad tone.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples, even when she was hurt Soo Yin was still thinking about the person who had hurt her.

"That won't happen because our relationship will be fine," Dae Hyun said while smiling warmly to make his wife calm. Even though he wouldn't stand still.

"Promise not to scold him. I'm sure he didn't mean to," Soo Yin pleaded.

Dae Hyun finally nodded his head, though he wasn't sure he could hold back his emotions when he met Park Soo Hyun.

"Have you eaten?" Dae Hyun added to change the subject.

Soo Yin shook her head slowly. She just remembered that she hadn't eaten since noon. Now the worms in her stomach began to ask for rations.

"Wait a minute, I'll get pajamas for you to wear." Dae Hyun immediately got up and then stepped into the dressing room to look for clothes. He got her long sleeves pajamas because it was cold outside.

"Do you want to wear it yourself or should I do it for you?" Dae Hyun teased to make the atmosphere more melt and less tense.

"I'll wear it myself. You can go out," said Soo Yin with a smile and a blush on her face.

"Hmmm, shall we eat at home or do you want to eat outside?" Dae Hyun asked with a frown before walking away.

"Just stay at home, I don't want to go anywhere," said Soo Yin.

"Okay, I'll prepare it."

Dae Hyun immediately changed his clothes first before going downstairs to prepare dinner.

"Don't stay in the room too long because I want you to be in the kitchen to watch me cook," Dae Hyun ordered while rubbing Soo Yin's cheek with his thumb.

"Do you want to teach me to cook again?"

"No, you don't need to cook because I will do everything," said Dae Hyun.

"Then hurry up, I'm hungry," said Soo Yin, because Dae Hyun hadn't come out of the room.

"You're impatient." Dae Hyun pinched Soo Yin's nose excitedly.

ooo

Dae Hyun immediately went to the kitchen and took out some ingredients from the refrigerator.

It so happened that Aunt Xia wasn't home tonight because one of her children was sick. So that cooked food was not yet available.

Dae Hyun only wore shorts and a shirt that fit perfectly on his body. It actually didn't seem good for a man with a stout body like himself to be in the kitchen. But for his beloved wife, he would do everything with pleasure.

Aeri who had been married to him for almost seven years had never even tasted his cooking.

Dae Hyun stood in front of the kitchen table in silence while thinking about what menu to eat during this cold weather. Because Soo Yin said that she was hungry, Dae Hyun will make a quick meal.

Dae Hyun opened the rice cooker to see the rice and thought about making Kimchi Bokkeumbap or kimchi fried rice.

Having a wife who was not good at cooking made Dae Hyun feel happy because she will be easy to give a good impression. It was rare for a husband to prepare a meal for his wife.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 457 - 457 - I Will Always Beside You

Soo Yin was already in the kitchen with her hands in her pockets. She smiled when she saw her husband seemed excited to move his hand that was holding the knife. His muscular body made Soo Yin couldn't bear to approach him, then hugged him from behind.

Dae Hyun was slightly surprised when a hand wrapped around his waist. But after lowering his gaze, he knew that it was Soo Yin's hand.

"Honey, you said you're very hungry now. If you bother me like this I won't be able to cook it properly," said Dae Hyun who stopped his activities and turned his head back.

"I just want to hug you for a while," Soo Yin said while burying her face in Dae Hyun's back. Smell the masculine scent that always intoxicated her.

Dae Hyun just took a deep breath and let Soo Yin do what she wanted. He didn't want to hurt her feelings.

"What are you going to cook?" said Soo Yin who poked her head slightly forward without letting go of her embrace.

"I wanted to make Kimchi Bokkeumbap. I wanted to make something else but because you are hungry I'll make one that can be served quickly," said Dae Hyun, starting to peel the spices and vegetables even though Soo Yin's hug was quite disturbing.

"Can I cook it? I'm a wife but you're the one who cooks most of the time when we're at home together." Soo Yin pursed her lips, feeling uneasy.

"Didn't I tell you, I'll cook when we're together? Don't worry because I feel very happy to be able to do everything for you." Dae Hyun turned around and smiled at Soo Yin.

"It's up to you," Soo Yin said, breaking away then walking towards the dining table to sit down and wait.

"It won't take long, wait a moment," said Dae Hyun, who immediately quickly sautéed the spices and then put some complementary ingredients into the pan.

Soo Yin just watched the man who was moving the spatula in a pensive state. Suddenly the memory of how Park Soo Hyun had forcibly tore her clothes made the fear come back.

Soo Yin covered her face with her palms as she shuddered in horror if such a bad thing had happened.

Dae Hyun watched Soo Yin who shook her head with her palms covering her face. Feeling worried, Dae Hyun then walked over to her. Previously, he had turned down the heat so that it wouldn't burn.

"Honey, are you all right?" Dae Hyun asked as he took Soo Yin's hand and lowered it from her face. He could see a drop of water was running down her cheek.

Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun with a sad and frightened look. Dae Hyun hastily hugged her tightly.

'Park Soo Hyun, be prepared, if we meet I will make you pay for everything,' Dae Hyun thought even more furiously. His hands that were behind Soo Yin's back clenched tightly.

"Honey, I'm sorry that I couldn't take good care of you. From tomorrow on we will always be together. I won't leave you alone anymore," said Dae Hyun, gritting his teeth tightly and determinedly.

"I'm fine," Soo Yin said, trying to be calm and not make her husband feel anxious. Immediately wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes with the back of her hand.

"Tomorrow, come with me to the UN Village," said Dae Hyun as he let go of his hug.

Soo Yin lifted her face with knitted brows.

"What for?" asked Soo Yin with a confused look on her face and a scrutinizing look. Suspected if her husband was up to something.

"Nothing. Maybe mom misses you, haven't you two seen each other for a long time?" Dae Hyun couldn't possibly say everything right now because Soo Yin wouldn't agree to it.

"We haven't seen each other for a few days. Mother seems very disappointed in me, even though her attitude is still normal, but the warm smile that usually radiates from her face ... now I feel it differently," said Soo Yin with a gloomy face.

"There's no need to worry. If mom finds out you're my wife. Her attitude will definitely go back to how it used to be and feel very happy to have a daughter-in-law as kind as you." Dae Hyun embraced Soo Yin's face. He wanted to kiss those luscious lips even if it was only for a moment but Dae Hyun refused to do so. Afraid that Soo Yin was still traumatized by what just happened.

Soo Yin suddenly inhaled another scent so her nose sniffed to see what smell that she smelled.

"Honey, it looks like your food is burnt," said Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun immediately let go of Soo Yin and then rushed to the front of the stove to see the fried rice that was still on the burning stove. Hadn't stir it for too long made the bottom burn.

"Ah, damn it. Why should it burn?" Dae Hyun grumbled in annoyance, when the food should have been cooked but he had to start over again from the beginning.

"Dae Hyun, can we cook something else? I want to eat grilled squid or grilled crab," said Soo Yin. It crossed her mind if at night eating something burned tasted good.

"Okay, I'll prepare the ingredients," Dae Hyun said as he opened the refrigerator to take out all the ingredients because it so happened that Aunt Xia just bought fresh fish yesterday.

Soo Yin only helped prepare the cooking utensils, taking them out of the cupboard. According to her, homemade food was not as delicious as if someone else cooked it.

"Honey, can we grill it outside?" asked Soo Yin.

"We better stay inside because it's very cold outside," Dae Hyun said gently because he didn't want to take the risk if Soo Yin got sick from the cold.

"I want to go outside," Soo Yin whined with a frown.

If she had put on a face like this, Dae Hyun will not be able to refuse his little wife's request.

"Okay." Dae Hyun was forced to obey Soo Yin's request. Immediately shifted the table on the kitchen terrace. Brought all the equipment there.

Soo Yin just sat there, watching her husband who was grilling various seafood.

"Is there something funny?" Dae Hyun said while narrowing his eyes.

"No, at this rate you look like a professional chef. Why don't we set up a restaurant and you become the chef?" Soo Yin said with a sparkling face.

"Hmm, that seems like a good idea. I'll think about it later. But you shouldn't be upset if a lot of women want to enjoy my cooking." Dae Hyun winked to tease Soo Yin.

"I will always be beside you. If they mess up, be prepared to face me," said Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun just smiled at the idea of his little wife.

They ended up enjoying dinner outside accompanied by the cold snow that slowly started to fall more and more heavily.

Soo Yin smiled happily because Dae Hyun always granted all of her requests. When she was happy, Soo Yin didn't want to give up on achieving the perfect happiness.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 458 - 458 - Stay With Me Tonight

Park Soo Hyun pulled his own hair while driving his car aimlessly. Repeatedly he was hitting the steering wheel because he felt very sorry. Didn't know what demon possessed his soul so that almost do something indecent to Soo Yin.

The car was now speeding faster through the darkened street. Without thinking, Park Soo Hyun turned his car at the Griffin Bar. He didn't want to go home.

Park Soo Hyun booked a room along with several bottles of wine at an expensive price. His old habit of drunkenness was now back.

Some visitors looked surprised to see his bruised face. But everyone was silent, there were some who remembered that some time ago Park Soo Hyun was involved in a fistfight with other bar patrons.

Ignoring people's gazes, Park Soo Hyun immediately climbed to the third floor with the rooms that had the best facilities.

????????????????

The day was getting late and the snow continued to fall, making the atmosphere even colder.

Jean had just arrived at the Griffin Bar due to her more often evening work schedule. She tightened her sweater with both hands. She was the only one there who didn't go to college so she had to be willing to switch positions with anyone when there were other workers in need.

"Jean, please take this drink back to the third floor of room number 10. I want to go to the toilet for a moment," said one of the fellow waiters to Jean.

"Okay," said Jean while frowning because the tray on the table contained several bottles of expensive wine. It seemed that the order was from a rich person.

Jean put her bag first into the drawer along with her sweater, because the bar had its own uniform. Then climbed up the stairs to the third floor.

When she was in front of the door of room number 10, she didn't know why Jean felt her heart beating fast.

"What is wrong?" Jean muttered while holding her chest with one hand. It was unusual to felt nervous just by delivering drinks to customers. Who was inside?

Knock...knock...knock....

After a while, Jean finally got up the courage to knock on the door. But there was no answer from inside so Jean turned the door knob slowly to open it.

The condition inside was not bright enough because it was only lit by a faint lamp.

Jean's gaze immediately focused on the man who was now leaning on the sofa. He closed his eyes, his face covered in bruises.

Although she could still faintly see the dried blood stains at the corners of his lips.

'Is it too frustrating because of Soo Yin's refusal that he is like that?' Jean thought bitterly and her chest tightened to breathe. Remembering if the man in front of her had not been able to forget her best friend.

"Sir," Jean called softly.

Park Soo Hyun slowly opened his eyes when he heard a girl's voice calling him that sounded so sweet to his ears. He had finished two bottles of wine since this afternoon.

Park Soo Hyun could still faintly see Jean's face even though it was a bit blurry. But slowly Jean's face transformed into the figure of the girl he loved in his eyes.

Jean immediately put the bottle of wine on the table while lowering her head. Not daring to look into his eyes when Park Soo Hyun looked at her quite intensely with a wistful gaze.

"Excuse me, sir," said Jean then turned to leave. Just two steps, Park Soo Hyun held Jean's wrist and then pulled it quite firmly.

Jean who was not in a balanced position immediately fell into Park Soo Hyun's lap until their faces were so close. Without realising, Jean dropped the tray on the floor. Jean's heart suddenly stopped beating, feeling the turmoil in her chest.

They looked at each other. Their faces were so close that Jean felt Park Soo Hyun's breath hit her face along with the sweet and tantalizing aroma of wine. "Stay with me tonight," said Park Soo Hyun with a misty look, thinking that the girl in front of him was Soo Yin.

Jean's lips locked when she was about to refuse. Instead, she subconsciously nodded her head. But immediately shook her head.

"Sorry, sir. I have to go back to work," said Jean who was about to get up but Park Soo Hyun wrapped his arms around her stomach so Jean couldn't move at all.

"Love me just one night," Park Soo Hyun pleaded with a very sad tone. Then landed a soft kiss on Jean's lips.

Jean, who had felt a kiss from a man for the first time, was wide-eyed. Her heart wanted to refuse because what they were doing was wrong. But her body couldn't move, enjoying Park Soo Hyun's lips with the aroma and taste of wine still on his tongue.

The man's lips were so sweet when his tongue slipped into her mouth.

'Jean, wake up. What are you doing? That man doesn't love you,' - Jean thought to herself, trying to make herself aware so as not being carried out.

Jean gasped when Park Soo Hyun's hand landed on her twin hills. She immediately felt a strange tingle that ran through her body.

"Master, let go." Jean tried to push Park Soo Hyun's burly body so that her lips were released. Now her tears slowly rolled down her cheeks. She didn't want to be touched before marriage, even though the man in front of her right now was the man she loved so much.

"Don't refuse because I don't like rejection," said Park Soo Hyun with a cold tone and scary eyes.

Jean's body shook with fear because the man's gaze was so piercing.

Park Soo Hyun then stood up, carrying Jean's body to the bed. Although Jean had struggled but Park Soo Hyun did not stop his steps at all. All he had on his mind was wanting to enjoy just one night with Soo Yin.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 459 - 459 - Thanks For Beautiful Night

Park Soo Hyun immediately threw Jean's body on the bed and then locked her up so that Jean couldn't do anything.

Jean rebelled while hitting Park Soo Hyun's chest but the man didn't care at all.

With fast movements and filled with burning desire, Park Soo Hyun had pulled Jean's clothes to shreds and separated from her body.

Jean was wide-eyed and so surprised. She was about to scream but Park Soo Hyun had already covered her mouth with his lips. Crushed it roughly as if accompanied by a burning anger.

Jean couldn't help but shed tears because Park Soo Hyun gripped her hand tightly above her head. Jean resigned to what the man did. Even the tears that were so heavy couldn't make Park Soo Hyun realized.

Jean's screams were muffled when she felt excruciating pain and sore in her sensitive area. Tears were now streaming down her cheeks. Her throat felt constricted with suppressed sobs.

Park Soo Hyun felt something very strange because he felt that Jean's was so narrow and a little difficult to penetrate.

'Should it not feel like this?' Park Soo Hyun thought, pausing his activities for a while. But he was already filled with a burning desire to the point where he didn't care about it anymore. Thought it was because Soo Yin's small body so it felt like that.

Park Soo Hyun continued to stab Jean's body as he pleased until Jean only felt a very deep pain. The tears had even started to dry up from crying. She felt nothing more than a stinging sensation in her sensitive area.

Even though she tried to rebel, her body was too weak to fight a man like Park Soo Hyun.

"Soo Yin, thank you for this beautiful night. The most beautiful night I first felt was only with you" Park Soo Hyun whispered in Jean's ear then kissed her forehead. His tired body and half consciousness made him immediately collapse on top of Jean.

Jean's heart was sliced and it hurt when Park Soo Hyun mentioned the name of another woman in front of her. She wanted to scream to the world, why they were so cruel to her.

Jean wanted to get up but her body was too weak to push Park Soo Hyun's body off of her. So that she can only move her body a little.

Wanted to get out but her body felt crushed so Jean chose to close her eyes because her eyes also felt heavy.

????????????????

Jean blinked her eyes. Her head felt dizzy and heavy. She glanced around. She thought what happened last night was just a nightmare that would never happen, but it turned out to be real.

Jean tried to get rid of Park Soo Hyun's hand that was wrapped around her stomach.

"Jean, why do you have such bad luck?" mumbled Jean with tears flowing again. She had been tainted and didn't mean anything anymore even though the one who did it was the man she loved the most in her life.

Jean tried to get out of bed as she put her feet on the floor. Her legs trembled as soon as she stood up then took a step forward. Her sensitive area was so sore that she ended up sitting on the floor.

Jean sobbed while looking for her clothes that had been scattered everywhere. Even her clothes were out of shape. Can't be used to get out of the room.

Jean thought of a way to get out. Until she found Park Soo Hyun's clothes and coat which were lying on the sofa. Jean grabbed it and put it on.

With slow steps and as casual as possible, she walked, Jean exited the bar through the back door. The front was too crowded that it was impossible for her to pass in such a disheveled state. Her body condition was too pathetic for many to see.

Jean shuffled along wearing only Park Soo Hyun's clothes. She chose to pass through a quiet road that was not too crowded. Her mind was very confused and she couldn't think clearly. She felt unsteady and her body staggered.

Jean could not believe the bitter events that had just happened to her life. Her gaze was so blank that when she was about to cross the road she didn't notice a car was driving towards her.

Luckily the driver was very good at driving the car so he can turn towards the sidewalk so as not to collide with other drivers.

"Jean?" muttered Chang Yuan who was in the car, gasping for air. Didn't expect that Jean would cross suddenly without looking around.

Chang Yuan looked at Jean's condition who looked disheveled and her clothes were disheveled. His brow furrowed when he realized that the clothes Jean was wearing belonged to Park Soo Hyun.

Chang Yuan immediately came out when he saw Jean's blank stare. Thought something bad must have happened to her.

"Jean," called Chang Yuan.

Jean realized then stopped in her tracks. She looked around which turned out to be the wrong way because she was too daydreaming.

"Jean, wait. Let me take you home," said Chang Yuan as he stepped even faster.

Jean turned her face back with teary eyes when she saw Chang Yuan.

"Jean, what happened to you?" Chang Yuan felt very sad as Jean's eyes looked haggard.

"Assistant Chang," Jean said as she sobbed and covered her face with her hands.

Chang Yuan immediately led Jean to get into the car because it was uncomfortable when some people looked at her with strange looks.

"Jean, can you tell me what happened?" said Chang Yuan while furrowing his brows. Even though he already knew what might happen, Chang Yuan didn't want to guess.

Jean's sob got louder and louder. She couldn't be honest because she was too sad and ashamed.

Chang Yuan was about to reach out to rub her back but he cancelled his intention.

"If you don't want to say it, that's fine. You can tell me another time," Chang Yuan said bitterly as he took a deep breath.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 460 - 460 - What Should I Do?

"Assistant Chang, now my life is meaningless," said Jean, with trembling lips and uncontrollable tears.

"Jean, you can't say that," said Chang Yuan, trying to be wise in responding to Jean's words.

"Tell me who did it?" Chang Yuan slightly raised his voice when he said that.

Jean shook her head slowly. Even though she didn't want this, she didn't want to hurt Park Soo Hyun.

"You don't need to know who did it," Jean said as she wiped her tears with the back of her hand.

"Jean, I know that you love him but you shouldn't act stupidly by sitting around and not holding him accountable," Chang Yuan said with a heavy sigh.

"He doesn't know because he won't even notice." Tears rolled down Jean's cheeks again. It hurt from the pit of the heart to the heart as Park Soo Hyun only remembered her as Soo Yin. The man didn't see her as Jean at all.

"What do you mean? Anyway, you have to hold him accountable. I'll accompany you to talk about it tomorrow." Chang Yuan was able to confirm that today Park Soo Hyun would not go to work.

"He only saw me as Soo Yin and I was also the one who was at fault for entering that room." Jean thought that if she didn't deliver the drinks she might still be fine right now. It was all too late and turned to mush. It was impossible to go back to how it was.

Finally Chang Yuan dared to stretch out his hand and rubbed Jean's back to give her a sense of calm. Didn't want to say more about what happened to the girl.

Chang Yuan immediately drove his car to Jean's house. It wasn't long before they arrived.

"Jean, if you need a friend or help I will be there for you," said Chang Yuan.

"Thank you, Assistant Chang." Jean nodded her head then immediately got out of the car without turning her face back.

The pain in her sensitive area seemed to no longer be felt because her heart was much more painful when she felt an invisible wound. No bleeding wounds were more painful.

=====

Griffin Bar.

Park Soo Hyun blocked his eyes from the dazzling sunlight. Which was hitting his eyes when they were about to open. He was still sleeping in a prone position until he was slowly turning his body while stretching his arms.

"Ugh, Soo Yin?" Park Soo Hyun was shocked to remember what he had done last night.

His eyes looked around for someone's whereabouts but there was no one there. There were only torn clothes lying on the floor.

Park Soo Hyun accidentally noticed that there were bloodstains on the white sheets. Until it looked very clear and Park Soo Hyun can already guess what happened last night. He then rubbed his face up to his hair.

He wasn't sure if the girl from last night was Soo Yin because it was so impenetrable. After all, it was impossible for Soo Yin to come to the bar after what happened yesterday afternoon.

"Who is that girl?" muttered Park Soo Hyun. He couldn't remember who the girl was because last night he only saw her as Soo Yin.

Park Soo Hyun then looked for his clothes and didn't find it, there were only pants at the end of the bed. He wanted to get out immediately to find out who the girl he had been tainted last night was.

After putting on his pants, Park Soo Hyun searched every corner for clothes but couldn't find them at all. Then he crouched down to pick up the clothes lying on the floor. It was a barmaid uniform. It meant that the one who accompanied him last night was one of the barmaids.

Park Soo Hyun then left the room without paying attention to his shirtless body, showing off his perfect body muscles.

A male barista frowned at Park Soo Hyun who came over.

"Can I see the CCTV footage?" said Park Soo Hyun who was already starting to feel anxious. Can't wait to find out who that girl was.

"For what, sir?" Barista asked with a probing look because he felt very strange, suddenly there were visitors who asked about it.

Park Soo Hyun reached into his wallet and pulled out a few bills. Then handed it over to the barista as money to keep his mouth shut so he wouldn't ask too many questions.

The barista understood then accepted it and escorted Park Soo Hyun to the CCTV room.

Park Soo Hyun's eyes immediately went wide perfectly when he saw who came to his room last night.

"Jean?" he muttered with a flabbergasted face then massaged his temples.

After seeing repeatedly that only Jean entered his room for the last time, Park Soo Hyun immediately left the Griffin Bar.

"What should I do?" Park Soo Hyun said in disbelief.

Park Soo Hyun finally decided to go home first before looking for Jean's whereabouts.

=====

UN Village.

Dae Hyun can't wait to teach Park Soo Hyun a lesson. In the morning, he decided to go home without going to the hotel first. For him it was useless to go to work but his mind was not calm because he was holding back anger.

"Park Soo Hyun, come out. Where are you? There's no need to be a coward," shouted Dae Hyun as he stepped in by stomping his feet hard enough. But as much as possible, he held himself from swearing.

"Dae Hyun, what's wrong? Why did you come screaming like this?" said Mrs. Park, who was confused because when her son came home, he immediately became angry uncertainty.

"Mother, where is Park Soo Hyun? Let me cut off his head," said Dae Hyun with boiling blood because he had been trying to hold back his anger since last night.

"Calm down, tell me what really happened? Park Soo Hyun hasn't come home yet. Wasn't he working overtime at the hotel due to a lot of work last night?" said Mrs. Park with a frown. Since the afternoon, Park Soo Hyun said that he would not go home because he had so much work to do.