

The ringing of the cell phone had rung for the umpteenth time but the two people who were still sleeping in a hugging position didn't hear it. It seemed that they were very sleepy because it was dawn when they could fall asleep.

Even a knock on the door from outside couldn't wake them up.

"Father, are you in there?" exclaimed Jo Yeon Ho for the umpteenth time accompanied by a knock on the door.

"If this is the father's room then where is the mother's room?" Yeon Ho muttered while looking for another door. Yeon Ho only understood that Soo Yin was like a teacher at his school who didn't have a relationship with his father. The child was too young to understand everything easily.

He then stepped into the next room which was Dae Hyun's office.

"Mother, aren't you awake yet?" said Jo Yeon Ho as he put his ear to the door.

Aunt Xia furrowed her brows when she saw what Jo Yeon Ho was doing.

"Yeon Ho, what are you doing?" asked Aunt Xia who approached the child.

"I was waking up mother but she didn't come out. I've also woken up father but they're the same," said Jo Yeon Ho with pouting lips as arms folded across chest.

Aunt Xia smiled with a long sigh. Understood if Jo Yeon Ho thought Soo Yin and Dae Hyun were in different rooms.

"Maybe they're so tired that they haven't woken up yet." Aunt Xia rubbed the top of Jo Yeon Ho's head.

"Did you already shower?" Aunt Xia added even though she already knew the boy's answer.

Jo Yeon Ho shook his head because usually early in the morning like this, Soo Yin had helped him to take a shower.

"You'd better take a shower first. Later I will wake them up. Let's go inside," said Aunt Xia because she didn't want Dae Hyun and Soo Yin to be disturbed while they were resting.

Yeon Ho finally complied even though he really wanted Soo Yin to help him.

After preparing warm water for Yeon Ho and making sure he got into the bathroom, Aunt Xia immediately came out to wake Soo Yin. Afraid that after Yeon Ho finished, he'd look for them again.

"Miss, Master," Aunt Xia called out in a louder voice that echoed enough in the room.

Soo Yin rubbed her eyelids then squirmed. Felt quite disturbed to hear a knock on the door and a call from Aunt Xia.

"Who?" She said with her eyes still very sleepy.

"It's me, Miss. Sorry if aunt disturbed your sleep but you should wake up because Yeon Ho has been looking for you two," said aunt Xia who was forced to say it.

Hearing Yeon Ho's name, Soo Yin's sleepiness immediately disappeared. Soo Yin moved Dae Hyun's hand which was around her waist.

"Honey, wake up. Yeon Ho is looking for us," Soo Yin said while patting Dae Hyun's cheek to wake him up.

"Hmmm, wake up first because I'm still very sleepy," said Dae Hyun with a hoarse voice and his eyes closed.

At the same time Dae Hyun's cell phone rang so Soo Yin shifted her body to reach for the cellphone that was on the dressing table. Soo Yin knitted her brows when she saw that Aeri's name was on the phone screen.

Honestly, Soo Yin still felt jealous of Aeri when the woman contacted her husband.

"Dae Hyun, wake up. Answer quickly because your wife has been calling for a while." Soo Yin patted Dae Hyun's cheek harder until the man jumped in surprise and sat up.

"You startled me. Why did you wake me up?" Dae Hyun said while yawning.

Soo Yin handed the phone to the owner without saying anything then lowered her feet to the floor.

Dae Hyun immediately looked at his phone, before Soo Yin left. With one hand, Dae Hyun had pulled Soo Yin's hand until she fell into his arms. He didn't want there to be a misunderstanding because from the look on his wife's face, Soo Yin seemed to be jealous.

"Let go," Soo Yin said as she struggled but Dae Hyun was too strong for Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun didn't let Soo Yin go. Instead, he pressed the answer button. Then pressed the loudspeaker button so that Soo Yin could hear what they were talking about.

"What's the matter with calling me in the morning?" Dae Hyun asked in an even voice.

"Honey, where are you right now? You're not with her, are you?" asked Aeri on the other end of the phone, wanting to know what her husband was really doing.

"That's none of your business," Dae Hyun said coldly.

"Dae Hyun, you didn't change your mind about our conversation yesterday, did you? Remember you've been betrayed, Honey. You better leave her right now. She's just taking advantage of you," Aeri said in a tone that sounded like she felt pity.

"Just so you know, if I've always been betrayed. Don't you remember that you also betrayed me?" quipped Dae Hyun while chuckling.

"Wh... when did I betray you? Did you see with your own eyes that I cheated on you?" replied Aeri in a stuttering voice.

"You always dodge. Tell me quickly, why are you calling so early in the morning? You're just disturbing my sleep," Dae Hyun grumbled.

"I just want to know where are you right now? I'll come see you right now. It's impossible if you're at home with her right now after what happened yesterday," said Aeri confidently that Dae Hyun might be at the bar right now.

"I'm with someone right now," said Dae Hyun, deliberately wanting to make Aeri curious about who she was now.

"Who is she? Do you have another woman?" Aeri demanded curiously.

"That's none of your business. It's up to me to be with any woman," Dae Hyun said as he tightened his arms on Soo Yin.

"I just found out if you play with many women. I really feel sorry because Soo Yin has been deceived. It doesn't matter to me if you want to play with many women. The most important thing is that in the end you'll still come back with me," Aeri said with a crisp laugh. As long as no woman dominated him, her position will remain secure.

"Enough, don't bother me." Dae Hyun immediately hung up the phone.

Soo Yin blinked her eyes. Didn't understand why her husband lied.

"Why did you lie to her?" asked Soo Yin.

"Let her think that our relationship is not good," said Dae Hyun because he had other plans.

"What for?"

"So that she wouldn't interfere with our relationship again." Dae Hyun landed a kiss on Soo Yin's lips.

Knock knock....

"Father, are you awake?" exclaimed Jo Yeon Ho who had already changed his clothes from outside.

Soo Yin immediately pushed Dae Hyun's body then got off the bed. Was about to open the door but Soo Yin just remembered that Yeon thought this was Dae Hyun's room.

"You'd better go out first," Soo Yin said to her husband. She wasn't ready to hear from Yeon Ho yet.

"Okay.." Dae Hyun shifted his body to the edge to get off the bed.
