

"I didn't disappear but I was caught by your husband," said Han with a tone that sounded fiery.

"Really?" Aery was very surprised to hear that. Really did not expect if Han was caught. She thought, all this time Han didn't want to contact her because he was bored.

"Come on in, we'll find a comfortable place to chat," Aeri said as she let go of her embrace.

"Go home, aren't you afraid of being caught?" said Han who remained in his position.

"We have to talk right now," said Aeri.

In the end, Han complied with Aeri's wish to get into the car.

Aeri then took Han to her villa on the outskirts of Seoul. It was her secret villa that was recently built.

"Whose villa is this?" said Han while observing the villa in front of him.

"Of course mine. We'd better talk inside," said Aeri.

Aeri then asked the maid in charge of cleaning the villa to prepare dinner because Aeri didn't eat with Li Sa earlier.

Aeri went upstairs to clean her body. Looked like tonight she will be staying at the villa. If her mother-in-law called then she just had to say that she was staying at her mother's house.

Han sat while leaning on the sofa while waiting for Aeri who was taking a shower. Lately he kept hiding because Dae Hyun's men kept chasing him. He couldn't even go back to his apartment.

"Han," called Aeri who was sitting beside the man, interrupting Han from his thoughts. She observed the man who now looked thinner. His face was also unkempt, very much different from the last time they met. There was a fine hair growing on his chin.

"Tell me how you got caught that night?" continued Aeri while taking off the hat covering Han's head.

"I was caught when I was at the airport. I didn't expect my men to betray me and told him what I told them to do," said Han with a long sigh.

"What did you actually do to Soo Yin?"

"I asked them to kill her. But unfortunately the girl didn't get killed but at least they managed to make the fetus in her womb die," said Han. He still clearly remembered how Dae Hyun beat him blindly.

Dae Hyun was furious because he had killed his future child.

"So that bitch was pregnant?" Aeri didn't think that Dae Hyun had been in a relationship with Soo Yin for a long time before they all got caught.

"That's right, it turns out that they have been in touch for a long time. It seems that since the first time Soo Yin became his secretary," said Han. He used to also feel strange because suddenly a lowly worker was immediately appointed as secretary.

"God damn it!" Aeri cursed by gripping the sofa with her nails.

"Then how did you escape?" said Aeri.

"I ran away actually for quite a while but I didn't dare show up because I had to prepare everything."

"What do you mean?" Aeri's brow furrowed.

"I must have the strength so that I can take revenge. I will not remain silent from now on," said Han coldly. The image of how he was being tortured for not wanting to mention Aeri's name behind him was palpable.

But Han will never say it because he loved Aeri so much.

"From now on you can stay here. We will prepare everything for revenge. I'm also tired of always failing to get rid of that bitch," said Aeri. Han's return would make her feel like she had a supporting force behind her.

=====

Today Soo Yin returned to visit Jean before going to a restaurant, she was taken there by her husband.

"Too bad it's noon. I can't get off to visit Jean," said Dae Hyun with a tone of regret because he had to go to the office. He was no longer the boss so he can't come to the office on his own.

"No problem, Jean will understand," said Soo Yin.

"You don't need to take a taxi, later I will ask Chang Yuan to pick you up," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin nodded her head because if she refused then there would be an argument. She would just have to call Chang Yuan so he wouldn't have to pick her up.

Soo Yin waved her hand as she watched the silver Maybach slowly drift away from Jean's house.

"Jean, are you awake?" called Soo Yin while knocking on the door.

"Come in, the door is unlocked," said Jean from inside in a weak voice.

Soo Yin then opened the door and entered the house. She didn't forget that she had already prepared the breakfast that Aunt Xia had made for Jean.

"Jean, is your body still feeling weak? We should go to the hospital to check your condition," Soo Yin said worriedly.

"I'm fine. Maybe I was like my mother when she was pregnant with me. My mother always told me that in the past she was very weak when she was pregnant with me," said Jean, smiling faintly. She tried to sit back on the edge of the bed which was helped by Soo Yin.

"Jean, why are you so stubborn? If in a few days your condition is still like this, then I will force you to see a doctor," said Soo Yin firmly.

"You're just like old lady," said Jean, chuckling amused. Although her body was weak but Jean was happy because there was Soo Yin who cared for her. In fact, every day she sent food for her. There was also Chang Yuan who still visited her frequently.

"Of course, because I'm already a mother," said Soo Yin with a cheerful face. Wanted to comfort Jean so she could smile again.

Soo Yin hadn't had time to meet Park Soo Hyun yet. Maybe today she will meet him so that the problem will be resolved soon.

"Now you must eat. Poor fetus in your stomach. It must be starving because its mother is so careless," Soo Yin grumbled as she opened the lunch box.

"Did you cook it yourself?" said Jean.

"Of course... no," said Soo Yin, grinning.

"Hmm, I understand.. You're not really good at cooking," said Jean, laughing crisply.
