

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 81 - 81 - Don't Want To Work

Dae Hyun, who was already burning with desire, immediately crushed Aeri's lips with passion. To which Aeri responded more aggressively. Their tongues dance to each other.

Dae Hyun felt strange with his kiss this time. It was not like Soo Yin's lips because that girl has never kissed him so aggressively like this. This fondling was only done by someone who was experienced. When Aeri's hands continued to guerrilla, suddenly Dae Hyun's mind woke up, so he immediately stopped her fondling.

Dae Hyun immediately opened his eyes wide in the sigh that was still hunting. Widened their eyes when he saw Aeri who was above him wearing only her underwear. Dae Hyun immediately pushed Aeri's body.

"I'm sleepy, don't bother me!" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone. Got out of bed then go to the bathroom to wash his face and cool his head. Fortunately, he quickly regained consciousness, even though it was almost too late.

"Shit!" Aeri cursed, clenched her fists tightly until her nails stuck. Gave a red mark on the palm of her hand. Now felt so annoyed because her efforts failed again.

Every night you are not with me, am I still in your heart?

~Soo Yin ~

The night was so quiet, only the sound of nocturnal animals could be heard outside the house. Soo Yin rolled around without falling asleep even though she had tried hard enough to close her eyes.

Soo Yin opened her eyes again. The girl stared at the ceiling in her room. Observing every corner with thoughts that drifted nowhere. Her body was indeed in the Pyeongchang-dong villa but her mind wandered to UN Village.

Yes, that girl always imagined what Dae Hyun was doing with Aeri right now.

Soo Yin repeatedly looked at her cell phone but there was no message at all. So she immediately deactivated the cellphone. It didn't matter if someone contacted her. Felt annoyed that she felt like crying as hard as she could to vent her anger. Dae Hyun didn't even try harder to drive her home. Even now, he has not contacted her at all.

The girl could not bear the burden of her thoughts until she sobbed while hugging a bolster pillow. Realizing that being a mistress turned out to be this painful. Can't get in touch openly in front of everyone. Can't be together every night because Dae Hyun has to go home to his old wife.

The image of how they made out filled Soo Yin's brain. Made her heart ache, burning with jealousy. Made her sob even longer. After being tired of crying, Soo Yin finally fell asleep until the morning sun shone.

????????????

Aunt Xia knocked on the door to check on Soo Yin because it was already morning but the girl had not come out of her room. Although yesterday she said she would make breakfast for Dae Hyun every day. But this morning she wasn't even awake, so Aunt Xia intended to wake her up, perhaps forgetting.

There was no answer for a long time, so Auntie Xia turned the knob, which turned out to be unlocked. She can see the girl who was still sleeping on her side while hugging the bolster very tightly.

"Miss!" Auntie Xia slowly shook Soo Yin's body in fear of shocking her.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin stretched while turning her body to lie on her back.

"Miss, it's already morning. Aren't you going to work?" Aunt Xia said.

Soo Yin slowly opened her eyes which felt heavy. Crying last night made her eyes turn red and her eyelids swell.

"I'm not going anywhere," Soo Yin said in a hoarse voice waking up.

"Didn't yesterday you said that you wanted to cook every morning for Mr. Dae Hyun?" Auntie Xia wondered why the girl forgot what she had said for just a day.

"What should I do it for? He doesn't even appreciate it at all," Soo Yin said with pursed lips.

"What do you mean, miss?" Aunt Xia who didn't understand asked.

"I was tired of cooking yesterday but he just told me to give the food to his brother. How annoying!" Soo Yin swore.

"Did you say that it was for him?"

"I haven't had time to say it," Soo Yin said grumpily.

"Then are you not going to work?" Aunt Xia said again.

"I'm not in the mood." Soo Yin covered her head under the blanket.

Auntie Xia only shook her head looking at her master's young wife. Looked like Dae Hyun should be more patient with her. The middle-aged woman could neither persuade nor blame Dae Hyun for not knowing what had really happened

??????????????

The Silla Seoul Hotel.

Dae Hyun entered the room in a hurry. Hope to see his little wife soon. But the table was still empty and there was no sign of Soo Yin coming.

He saw the clock that showed eight o'clock in the morning. Usually already came. Dae Hyun assumed that maybe soon she will arrived. Really hope that his wife was not angry anymore. His heart was in torment if Soo Yin didn't want to talk to him.

Dae Hyun started to open his laptop to check reports on hotel expenses and income.

"Hi, Hyeong," Park Soo Hyun who had just entered the room said with a happy face.

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun replied without turning his head. There was a sense of suspicion because his brother had come here so early in the morning.

"Where's the girl?" Park Soo Hyun looked for Soo Yin who wasn't at her desk. Walk over to Soo Yin's table by hiding both hands in his trouser pockets. Observing each object on the girl's desk one by one.

Dae Hyun immediately looked at his watch again, which turned out to be ten o'clock. This was completely unusual.

'Was she really mad about last night?' Dae Hyun's mind still thought that Soo Yin was angry because last night he had disturbed her and Jae-hwa's togetherness.

"Isn't she coming today?" Park Soo Hyun who approached his brother asked, but Dae Hyun did not answer his question. In fact, he was busy closing the laptop and tidying up his desk to tidy up the scattered papers.

"I'll be out for a while, if someone is looking for me you can contact Chang Yuan," Dae Hyun said.

"Hyeong, where are you going?" Park Soo Hyun asked but Dae Hyun was already in a hurry to close the door.

"Geez, where exactly is he going?" Park Soo Hyun said while placing his index finger on his lips. Just when he about to go outside to follow his brother, someone suddenly opened the door.

It was Jean who was standing while carrying cleaning supplies. Her heart was pounding when she saw the figure of Park Soo Hyun who was now facing her. Want to keep going forward but her legs felt very heavy. She's still scared about yesterday's incident.

"You ..." Park Soo Hyun said looking Jean up and down.

Jean lowered her head to hide her face. Cold sweat escaped her skin. Her body felt trembling.

"Are you Soo Yin's friend?" Park Soo Hyun asked. Yesterday he accidentally saw her walking with Soo Yin. They seemed to be chatting very well.

Jean nodded her head slowly. Don't dare to raise her head.

"There's no need to look down like that. Is my face so scary that you won't look at me?" Park Soo Hyun did not like it when someone talked to him but instead looked down.

"I'm sorry, sir." Jean finally ventured to see the handsome face of the man who was now in front of her. The man who made her heart beat so fast for the first time.

'This girl is pretty too,' Park Soo Hyun thought in his heart. A girl with a crossbreed European and Korean faces. Has golden yellow hair. Her skin was like most Korean people but his her eyes make her indicate where she came from.

"Do you know why Soo Yin didn't come today?" Park k Soo Hyun asked.

"I don't know. Yesterday she didn't say anything," Jean said again remembering that Soo Yin seemed fine.

"Well, it looks like you came here to clean the room," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Ah, yes." Jean remembered her purposed there. Immediately entered the room with hasty steps so that her feet tripped over the table. It made her body almost touch the floor if Park Soo Hyun didn't catch it.

They looked at each other for a few moments. Moreover, Jean was so fascinated by the good looks of Park Soo Hyun.

"Better if you walk carefully." Park Soo Hyun helped Jean to stand properly.

"Yes, Sir." Without saying another word, Jean went straight into the room and locked the door. Leaning against the door, holding her very hot chest that it felt difficult to breathe.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 82 - 82 - Apologize

As a man, sometimes we must be required to understand women's feelings. Because most women want men to know what they want without wanting to say it.

~ Dae Hyun ~

Without thinking Dae Hyun immediately rushed to the Pyeongchang-dong villa. It was useless to contact Soo Yin because since morning he sent a message but there was no reply. Even the message didn't seem to be opened.

Dae Hyun slammed the car door and walked quickly into the villa. The atmosphere seemed quiet. Just about to climb the stairs, Aunt Xia appeared.

"Aunt, where is my wife?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Miss Soo Yin is in her room, sir," Aunt Xia replied.

"Is my wife okay?"

"Hmmm, Miss ...." Auntie Xia hesitated for a moment to answer.

"Okay, I'll be upstairs to see her," Dae Hyun said, who couldn't wait to see his wife's condition.

"Wait, Sir. Can we talk for a moment?" Aunt Xia said when she saw Dae Hyun wanted to go up the stairs. She didn't want Dae Hyun's misunderstanding and insensitivity to make their relationship strained like this. Moreover, when she saw Soo Yin whose eyes were swollen, she indicated that she had been crying last night. Aunt Xia couldn't bear it if Dae Hyun hurt her feelings.

"What is wrong?" Dae Hyun asked as he held the edge of the stairs.

"Please, Sir." Aunt Xia told Dae Hyun to sit down on the sofa. It didn't feel good to talk standing up. Moreover, it concerned Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun stepped onto the sofa. When he looked at Auntie Xia's expression, it seemed like there was something important that she wanted to talk about.

"Sir, I want to ask about yesterday morning. Did you not have breakfast with her yesterday morning?" Aunt Xia asked carefully.

"No, why?" Dae Hyun didn't understand what breakfast has to do with Soo Yin.

"Yesterday, Miss learned to cook with quite a lot of effort. The lunch she brought yesterday was her homemade. Miss Soo Yin said that she wanted to have breakfast together with you," Aunt Xia said politely.

"Oh, God!" Dae Hyun patted his forehead. Remembering that he told Soo Yin to give it to Park Soo Hyun. No wonder she ignored him and looked angry. Dae Hyun felt really stupid for not realizing all of that.

"Then, I'll ask permission to go," Aunt Xia said.

"Very well, Auntie." Dae Hyun already knew that Auntie Xia would want to visit her family.

Dae Hyun immediately went up to the top by running until his breath was gasping.

Ceklek ....

The door opened from outside. Soo Yin was still buried under the blanket. Only her head remained facing sideways with her left hand as a pillow. Even though she was not sleepy, Soo Yin was still lazy to wake up.

The sound of Dae Hyun's footsteps was getting closer and closer.

'Who is that? It couldn't be Aunt Xia. If Auntie Xia, she must have knocked on the door,' Soo Yin thought, she was lying on her stomach while pretending to close her eyes when she felt someone sitting beside her.

Soo Yin recognized the fragrance of perfume that was so good in her sense of smell. It was Dae Hyun's perfume.

"Are you still sleeping?" Dae Hyun rubbed the top of Soo Yin's head very gently.

"What's he here for?" Soo Yin thought.

"Honey, I'm sorry. I'm a man who can never understand a woman's feelings." Dae Hyun's voice sounded so sad.

'Oh, he just realized it,' Soo Yin mind remained without opening her eyes. Wanted to know what that man will do.

Dae Hyun rubbed his wife's smooth cheek. Made Soo Yin uncomfortable. She couldn't stand it when Dae Hyun treated her like this.

"Honey, wake up. Don't you miss me?" Dae Hyun put Soo Yin's hair that was covering her face behind her ear. He kissed the top of his wife's head for a few moments.

Soo Yin didn't want to open her eyes which were swollen from crying last night. Somehow she suddenly became a crybaby like that.

"I'm so hungry. Don't you want to cook for me? Do you want me to starve to death?" Dae Hyun said. Knowing that actually Soo Yin was pretending to be asleep. If the girl was sleeping, how could he possibly hear her heartbeat, which seemed to jump when he kissed the top of her head earlier.

Soo Yin raised her hands. Pretend to stretch her muscles. Typical actions that people do after falling asleep. Yawned while covering her mouth with her palms. Pulled the blanket over her head.

There was no response from Soo Yin, finally Dae Hyun immediately got up and left the room. Maybe the girl was really tired and still sleepy.

After hearing the sound of the door closing. Soo Yin immediately opened the blanket covering his head. Sitting on the edge of the bed while pursing her lips.

"Is that all the effort?" Soo Yin grumbled, could not understand that her husband was like that. Immediately got up while removing the blanket from her body to reveal her body wearing only light green lingerie on his thigh. Throwing the blanket on the bed, wanting to go to the bathroom. Actually Soo Yin felt uncomfortable. After all, because she also slept alone so it didn't matter to her.

Ceklek ...

The door opened again. It turned out that Dae Hyun did go out on purpose so that Soo Yin would wake up. But once he entered he was presented with a view of Soo Yin's sexy body. After last night he was almost tempted. Now Dae Hyun has to endure it again.

"What did you come back for?" Soo Yin was suddenly surprised by Dae Hyun's presence, and immediately took a blanket to cover her body. Can't stop thinking if Dae Hyun went back into the room. She thought the man had left because she heard the sound of the car earlier.

Dae Hyun walked into the room but this time he went to the dressing room to get something.

Soo Yin was surprised by her husband, she poked her head a little to see what Dae Hyun was doing.

"Could he have come back for his clothes?" Soo Yin thought but then immediately shook her head. Why he needed to take it when he has that much treasure.

Not long after, Dae Hyun brought a coat. Walk closer to Soo Yin until their faces were very close. Soo Yin shuffled backwards while continuing to hold onto the blanket.

"Arghh," Soo Yin shouted as Dae Hyun pushed the blanket away from her. Soo Yin's reflex immediately covered her exposed chest with both hands.

"Put it on." Dae Hyun put on a coat to cover her beautiful body. He was afraid he couldn't hold it any longer. Seeing her like that made his head feel throbbing. If only their relationship was fine as much as possible he would try to seduce her.

Soo Yin looked up to see Dae Hyun's face.

"What did you come here for?" Soo Yin said in a harsh tone.

"Of course to see my wife," Dae Hyun whispered in Soo Yin's ear. He wanted to eat her at this time. But he must not be careless because his wife was still angry.

"Go! Don't you have a lot of work?" Soo Yin said as she turned her face towards the window. Didn't want to show her eyes that were swollen from crying last night.

"I'm not leaving until you forgive me." Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's wrist.

"There's nothing to be forgiven for."

"Sorry, I'm really sorry." Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's hand until the girl's body pressed against his chest. Hold her very tightly. Regretted his stupidity.

Soo Yin was silent, actually also wanted to hug her husband back. But her ego and resentment in her heart made her not want to do it. Leaving her hands hanging by her sides.

Dae Hyun realized that Soo Yin was not like usual. It turned out that it was very difficult to melt down a woman who sulked. But Dae Hyun understood his wife's attitude like that. The age was still too young for her to cross the household ark.

Dae Hyun slowly let go of his embrace. He held Soo Yin's shoulder so that the girl will look at him. His heart was deeply cut when he saw the swollen eyelids. It seemed that the girl must have cried last night.

Dae Hyun touched his wife's cheek with his thumb.

"Are you crying?" He said.

Soo Yin looked away without answering Dae Hyun's question. Feeling stupid for crying over a man who even has another wife. Soo Yin was not sure that she can handle this situation.

"Don't mind me!" Soo Yin said in a harsh tone.

"If you frowned like that it makes you look really cute," Dae Hyun teased with a wink.

Soo Yin just glared at him with a smile when she heard that. Her heart began to melt along with the frustration that had happened to her yesterday. Being around that man made her unable to be angry for too long.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 83 - 83 - Husband's Cooking

"You suck!" Soo Yin hit Dae Hyun's broad chest.

"Arghh!" Soo Yin shrieked as her body suddenly floated up in the air. It quickly turned out that she was in Dae Hyun's arms.

"Where are we going?" Soo Yin said when Dae Hyun took her out of the room. Because of fear of falling so reflex immediately draped her hands around the man's neck.

Dae Hyun just smiled as he continued walking down the stairs. Until finally he reached the kitchen and sat Soo Yin on the table there.

"What are we going to do here?" Soo Yin didn't know what her husband really planned.

"To make up for my mistake yesterday, I'll cook something for you," Dae Hyun said while still facing Soo Yin. Even the girl's hand was still wrapped around her neck. Without any intention of letting go.

"You know I'm angry?" Soo Yin asked.

"Sorry, I just realized. Forgive your husband who does not know himself." Dae Hyun stared deep into Soo Yin's eyes with a warmth gaze. No lies at all.

"Maybe from now on I should learn how to read someone's mind," Dae Hyun continued.

"What for?"

"So that I will be sensitive if you are angry," Dae Hyun said with a hand wrapped around Soo Yin's waist.

"What did you follow me for last night?" Soo Yin asked, changing the subject. Her face felt hot at this time.

"I didn't follow you," Dae Hyun said, lying. It was also impossible to tell the truth.

"Then why did you take me home when I still wanted to go for a walk?" Soo Yin muttered while pursing her lips.

"So you would rather go out with another man than accompany your husband to work?" Dae Hyun was very upset last night.

"Your fault to told me to go home," Soo Yin muttered as she rolled her eyes.

"Next time you can't go outside without my permission. What's more, if you're going with another man!" Dae Hyun spun around to turn his back to Soo Yin by crossing his arms across his chest. Pretended to be annoyed.

"Didn't you sleep with another woman last night?" Soo Yin whispered in Dae Hyun's ear. All night, she even thought about how Dae Hyun did something with Aeri.

"Of course."

Soo Yin clenched her fists at Dae Hyun's answer. She herself really hoped that Dae Hyun would not explicitly admit it. Even though he did it with Aeri, but can't he just lied and said that they didn't do anything.

Soo Yin's heart was completely burning until her eyes turned red. About to get off the table but Dae Hyun immediately turned around to face back at her. Immediately grabbed Soo Yin's wrist.

"What do you think?" Dae Hyun said when he saw his wife's face frown.

"Are you jealous if I'm together with Aeri? Don't think that kind of things I didn't do anything with Aeri even though she kept teasing me," Dae Hyun said with a smile of victory because it made his little wife jealous.

The crystal ball that was about to fall from Soo Yin's eyelids instantly disappeared and replaced with annoyance that Dae Hyun had played with her feelings.

"From now on, don't think that kind of things when I'm with Aeri because I'll always keep my heart just for you." Dae Hyun put Soo Yin's fingers on his chest.

"You know, I'm even willing to hold back everything for you. I'm willing to do nothing to keep my chastity for our honeymoon. But when are we going to go on honeymoon?" Dae Hyun continued.

There was the sound of Soo Yin's stomach that seemed to be starving.

"Stay here, I'll cook for us." Dae Hyun immediately got up and opened the refrigerator to find some groceries.

"Are you good at cooking?" Soo Yin is not sure what her husband said. There was no way a man like him could cook.

"You seem to doubt my abilities?" Dae Hyun who was busy cleaning some vegetables said.

"I'm just not sure," Soo Yin said.

Dae Hyun just smiled faintly while preparing the ingredients. Not forgetting to put an apron on his body which he took from the cupboard.

Soo Yin continued to observe whatever her husband was doing. Especially when he sliced an onion, he looked so deft. Soo Yin becomes suspicious that he once studied cooking class. He even knew various spices that Soo Yin didn't even know of.

"Where did you learn to cook?" Soo Yin who was curious asked without moving from his seat.

"From my grandmother," Dae Hyun said curtly.

"Surely your grandmother is really good at cooking," Soo Yin said guessing.

"Of course, because she was a chef at a famous restaurant. Until finally Grandma managed to have her own restaurant," Dae Hyun said.

"Then where does Grandma live now? I didn't see her when I went to your house at that time."

"Grandma lives in Ghosan. I will take you there sometime," Dae Hyun said as he turned around to catch a glimpse of Soo Yin.

"Sure, I also want to learn to cook with her," Soo Yin said with a happy face. It felt shameful if a woman was not as good at cooking as she was.

"I'm sure Grandma will like you," Dae Hyun said.

"Has Aeri been there?"

"Grandma only met Aeri once during our wedding. I don't know, Grandma doesn't really like her. Neither do I."

"Then why did you two get married?" Soo Yin couldn't stop the curiosity that was running through her mind. Dae Hyun often said he did not love Aeri but did not include his reasons.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath, reluctant to explain everything to Soo Yin.

"It was just an accident," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin understood a little if someone says that they get married because of an accident, they may be doing something extramarital. Soo Yin shuddered in horror at the thought. Meanwhile, with Dae Hyun, who she has married with, Soo Yin always refused. She herself still scared.

So how was it possible not to love each other but to do it? That sounds impossible.

"I was drunk at the time and someone gave me a stimulant medicine so I didn't remember what happened. Don't think that kind of things!" Dae Hyun could already guess what his wife was thinking. Surely now thinking nonsense.

"Then after that did you still do it?" Soo Yin asked with an innocent face.

Dae Hyun turned to look at his wife when he heard her statement. Really made him want to bite her lip right now.

"On our early marriage, of course, because I was a normal man, but after meeting you I didn't do it anymore. I just wanted to wait for you," Dae Hyun teased, smiling mischievously.

"Waiting for me? For what?"

"Didn't you say you were going to honeymoon with me?"

"When ... when did I say that?" Soo Yin said, stuttered. Her heart was really pounding at this time.

Dae Hyun walked up to Soo Yin.

"I better take a shower first." Soo Yin immediately got off the table then immediately ran away. She had a bad feeling when Dae Hyun looked at her with a mischievous smile.

"Watch out for you later!" Dae Hyun shouted while shaking his head.

Soo Yin immediately ran to her room and locked it from inside. Afraid if her husband suddenly appeared. She was not afraid, it was just that she didn't want to mention the honeymoon. At that time she said it because of the words drifted itself.

Soo Yin was soaking in the bath for a long time while waiting for her husband to finish cooking. It was also useless to be in the kitchen if she didn't do anything. Nearly half an hour of soaking made her body a little shivering, especially when the weather seemed dark. Maybe soon it will snow.

The girl immediately got down after changing her clothes. When she walked into the kitchen, she couldn't find Dae Hyun's whereabouts. Even kept looking to the backyard but never found him.

"Dae ...." Soo Yin was about to call him, but the man had already appeared from the main door while being followed by someone behind him.

There was a strange man who was followed by Chung Ho behind him, who was carrying a bunch of colorful flowers.

"Hi, honey," Dae Hyun said when he saw his wife who looked confused.

"What is this?" Soo Yin asked while frowning. Remember if she didn't seem to be ordering flowers.

"Chung Ho, please bring everything into the room," Dae Hyun ordered Chung Ho who was busy carrying flowers.

"Yes, sir," Chung Ho said, who immediately went upstairs followed by the foreign man.

"I hope you like it because all of this is my apologies," Dae Hyun said while hugging his wife's waist from the side.

While Soo Yin was taking a shower, Dae Hyun told Chung Ho to order lots of flowers for his wife. Not expected if it will come sooner than expected.

"What's all this for?" Soo Yin asked. For her this was all too much. So many bouquets with various kinds of colorful flowers. There were Azaleas, Lavenders, Roses and Tulips.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 84 - 84 - Delayed

"I want to learn to be a romantic man," Dae Hyun said as he tightened their body together. But Soo Yin pushed him away.

"Aren't you ashamed that there are still people here?" Soo Yin protested while pursing her lips.

"Then let's go to our room where there are no people," Dae Hyun teased.

"I'm hungry," Soo Yin said, did not respond to her husband's invitation. Immediately, just stepped her feet towards the dining table.

It turned out that on the dining table there were several menus already. There were Maeuntang and Jeongol. There were also candles and a bouquet of roses on the table.

"You cook it? Aren't you able to eat spicy? Why cook Maeuntang?" Soo Yin said. Maeuntang was a type of soup that uses freshwater or fresh sea fish as the main ingredient which was boiled with spicy gochujang sauce. Then topped with green vegetables, radishes, beef, tofu, zucchini and herbs.

"I'll just eat Jeongol. But I'm willing if you tell me to eat Maeuntang," Dae Hyun replied. Jeongol was one of his favorites. Jeongol was a dish made of chewy noodles that are boiled together with processed meat and green vegetables.

"Sit down, princess." Dae Hyun pulled a chair back for his wife to sit down.

Soo Yin's face turns red when she heard Dae Hyun called her the princess. Yesterday's resentment and disappointment has now replaced with happiness.

"I'll do it myself," Soo Yin said when Dae Hyun was about to get Maeuntang into her bowl. Not to forget that Soo Yin also got food for her husband. She wanted to do whatever Aeri did like that time.

"Wow, it tastes pretty good," Soo Yin said with a happy face. Made Dae Hyun felt happy seeing her.

"Of course, I told you that I'm good at cooking," Dae Hyun said confidently.

They continued eating in silence. Only the eyes and the heart talk to each other. They looked at each other, even Soo Yin felt embarrassed when she was caught staring at her husband.

When finished, Dae Hyun immediately cleaned the dining table. At first, Soo Yin wanted to help but that man forbade her.

"Honey, are you going back to work?" Soo Yin clung on spoiled by holding Dae Hyun's arm while he washing his hands in the sink.

"Tell me one more time? What do you call me?" Dae Hyun pretended not to hear it. This was the first time the girl had called him affectionately.

"I won't!" Soo Yin turned around then covered her face in embarrassment. By calling him honey, Soo Yin unconsciously admitted that she loved her husband. Then immediately left Dae Hyun to go to his room.

Dae Hyun was about to follow his wife but his hands were wet so it took time to dry his hands.

Soo Yin opened the door to her room. The fragrance of flowers filled her sense of smell. It turned out that Chung Ho arranged the flowers very neatly. Even on the bed there were scattered red rose petals. The room looked like a flower garden. Every corner was filled with flowers. If only the flower was a live flower it would be better because it could last quite a long time.

The girl took a white rose and brought it to the balcony. Inhale the aroma deeply. Her heart was now blooming like those beautiful flowers.

Dae Hyun walked up to Soo Yin on the balcony with something in his hand.

"You like the flowers?" Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin nodded her head quickly and enthusiastically.

"I have something for you." Dae Hyun took something out of his pocket.

Initially, Soo Yin's expression was normal but after seeing what her husband said. The girl widened her eyes when she saw two rings of the exact same style in front of her eyes. It looked like a pair of wedding rings.

"Honey, will you wear this ring from now on?" Dae Hyun said while kneeling in front of his wife as he handed her the ring box.

The ring was their wedding ring. Soo Yin immediately threw it away when she found out that Dae Hyun already has a wife. She felt very disappointed because she felt that she had been lied to.

"Are you also going to wear it?" Soo Yin asked with sparkling eyes.

"Of course, I want you to put it on my finger," Dae Hyun said.

"Now do you intend to propose to me?"

"You could say that. Sorry if I didn't propose to you first. Married you right away without caring about your feelings. What was on my mind at that time was that I didn't want to lose you," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin was so moved by Dae Hyun's words and actions that she felt like crying happily. She thought she only dreamed that one day she would be proposed by the man she loved. Although now the situation was reversed. Dae Hyun proposed to her after being married for a long time.

Soo Yin grabbed the rings one by one then examined them. It turns out that there are D&S initials on the ring. One had Dae Hyun's name and the other had Soo Yun's name.

"You have to put your name on my finger," Dae Hyun said with a very charming smile.

"Why?" Soo Yin just wanted to know the meaning and reason.

"I want us to both remember each other when we weren't together," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin immediately put a ring on Dae Hyun's right ring finger.

"We really are like a married couple." Soo Yin looked happy.

"You like it?"

"Of course."

"From now on, trust me, I only think of you wherever I am," Dae Hyun said, getting up and staring at Soo Yin.

Soo Yin immediately hugged her husband. Felt very comfortable in his arms like this.

"Have you not been wearing your wedding ring all this time?" Soo Yin looked up.

"No," Dae Hyun said with a smile. He never wanted to wear the ring again after the wedding seven years ago.

"Then what if Aeri finds out?"

"Don't think about her." Dae Hyun rubbed Soo Yin's lips with his thumb. Brought his face to his wife's face so that their breaths can be felt each other.

Dae Hyun immediately kissed his wife's lips gently. Soo Yin also kissed him back which made Dae Hyun deepen his kiss. To him his wife's lips were so sweet, he was reluctant to let it go. Likewise Soo Yin also really enjoyed it.

Dae Hyun lifted Soo Yin's body and then placed her on the bed covered in flowers. Really like newlyweds. But Dae Hyun with all his strength endured all the feelings that tormented him.

"Aren't you going back to work?"

"There's Chang Yuan and Park Soo Hyun, there shouldn't be a problem." Dae Hyun lied beside Soo Yin. The girl immediately got up on top of him, making Dae Hyun's body immediately heated up.

"Is he really your younger brother?"

"Of course, so what?" Dae Hyun tried to get Soo Yin to move away from his body because if it was like this he was not sure he can withstand his burning turmoil.

"He still looks very young. How many years apart are you two?" Soo Yin lied back on Dae Hyun's arm as the cushion.

"About eight years," Dae Hyun said casually.

"Huh? How old are you?" Soo Yin was shocked and finally sat up.

"35 years, don't tell me you didn't know?" Dae Hyun firmly believed that his wife did not know his age who was nearly four heads.

"Geez, I feel like I'm dating sugar daddy. We're even 17 years apart?" Soo Yin said while looking at her husband in disbelief.

"Are you regret when you found out I'm old?" Dae Hyun said with a shady gaze.

"I really feel like an uncle's mistress." Soo Yin even talks to herself without answering her husband's question.

"So you think I am an old man?" Dae Hyun pretended to sulk by tilting the other way to turned his back to Soo Yin.

Cup ...

"Don't be angry, let's go to the hotel." Soo Yin grabbed her husband's hand to wake up.

oooooooooooooooooooo

While on the way to the hotel, Soo Yin was hanging on to hold onto Dae Hyun's arm, who was driving his car. Moreover, it was snowing which made her feel so cold even though she was wearing a sweater.

"If you're like this, I won't want to go back to work. Shall we go on a honeymoon?" Dae Hyun teased as he glanced at Soo Yin who was leaning her head on his shoulder.

Soo Yin lifted her head after hearing her husband's explanation. Looked at Dae Hyun for a moment.

"You perverted uncle!" Soo Yin kept away from getting too close to her husband.

"You are very naughty now, huh?" Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's wrist so she didn't get too far then stopped the car at the side of the street.

"What do we stop here for? Shouldn't we hurry to the hotel?" Soo Yin looked around. They were in a less crowded place.

Dae Hyun stared at Soo Yin who was looking up at him. Until their faces are only inches away so they can feel each other's roaring breaths. Their hearts were racing very fast.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 85 - 85 - Meeting Cousin

Although it was not the first time for Dae Hyun to be close to a woman. But the man felt like falling in love again.

"Honey, I love you." Dae Hyun could not stand it until without hearing his wife's answer, he immediately landed a soft yet sweet kiss on Soo Yin's lips. Made the girl fell in Dae Hyun's game which was so intoxicating and now seemed to be addictive for her.

The kiss grew hotter until Dae Hyun stopped it. Afraid that he could not contain the desire that was already at the crown. Earlier he even put some red marks on his wife's neck.

"Let's just go shopping today," Dae Hyun said as he drove his car back.

"Aren't you have a lot of work?"

"I've told Assistant Chang to take care of everything. Besides, there's Park Soo Hyun there," Dae Hyun said with a smile.

"Is he going to work at the hotel too?"

"Maybe, he's only been in Seoul for a few days."

It wasn't long before they arrived at the Yeosu Premium Outlet. This time, Dae Hyun turned off his cell phone so that no one would interfere. Because there were always people who interfere when he was with Soo Yin.

"Aaaaaa ...." Soo Yin screamed when she was about to come down and accidentally saw a red mark all over her neck. It looked really terrible.

"What is wrong?" Dae Hyun, who had just come down, immediately rushed to open the door for his wife to be afraid something would happen.

"Why is my neck like this?" Soo Yin said with an innocent face.

Dae Hyun scratched his head which was not itchy. He thought something that made his wife scream but it turned out that she was only surprised to see red marks by his actions.

"I don't want to go down, my neck looks so terrible. What if people will be afraid to see me?" Soo Yin covered her neck in disbelief.

Dae Hyun was eager to laugh at the terrified expression on Soo Yin's face. However, if he did, the girl would likely get angry again.

Dae Hyun took the scarf that was wrapped around his neck then wrapped it around Soo Yin's neck.

"How, it's not visible right?" Dae Hyun said with a charming crooked smile.

"Wow, that's right. Wait!" Soo Yin remembered Dae Hyun made her neck turn red at that time. But not this bad.

"Did you do it?" Soo Yin glared at Dae Hyun while pointing at her neck.

"I'm just trying to control myself. Sorry, I barely hold back. That's why don't make me wait too long," Dae Hyun said with a wink.

"Just do it with your wife!" Soo Yin pursed her lips. The hot kiss earlier made her fell to the point where she didn't feel it.

"Okay, because you asked me tonight I'll do it with Aeri," Dae Hyun asked.

"Whatever!" Soo Yin got out of the car straight past Dae Hyun at the door. Stepped quickly at the entrance.

Dae Hyun just shook his head with his wife's adorable behavior. His wide strides weren't difficult for him to catch up with Soo Yin. Glued his hand on his wife's finger.

"It turns out that my young wife is very jealous and angry."

Soo Yin pinched Dae Hyun's waist, her face red and hot at his words. Indeed, Soo Yin admitted that she was the cool type but jealous and also angry but only towards the people she loved.

Dae Hyun took Soo Yin's fingers to enter a luxury clothing store in Yeosu Premium Outlet. A luxury shopping center they ever visited but failed. The price of clothes there was quite a drain on the pocket. Mostly only rich people and official families who shop there. There the security of privacy was guaranteed so that Dae Hyun didn't need be afraid.

Soo Yin was so happy when he saw so many kinds of clothes in front of her eyes. Every woman would love to go to a place like that.

"Choose what you like." Dae Hyun was very happy to see his wife looking happy like that.

"Can I choose anything?" Soo Yin confirmed Dae Hyun's words once again.

"Of course." Dae Hyun ruffled his wife's hair.

Soo Yin wanted to give him a gift kiss. But it was not possible to do it in a public place like this. Afraid that someone will see them.

"I'll just wait here." Dae Hyun sat in a waiting area. It was the first time in a lifetime to accompany a woman shopping. During his marriage with Aeri, he never even wanted to take her.

Soo Yin went through each hanging outfit. For her everything was so good that she was confused to choose it herself. But suddenly her eyes saw a peach-colored dress. A long dress made from chiffon which made her stunned immediately.

Having just reached out to grab it someone had already snatched it from her hand.

"I don't think you can afford it," A young girl her age sneered. Which was none other than one of Soo Yin's cousins.

"Li Sa?" Soo Yin said while widened her eyes in disbelief. They haven't met for a long time since Soo Yin moved to Seoul.

"Do you know me?" Li Sa looked Soo Yin up and down. Seeing everything she was wearing with a crooked smile.

"Ah, it turns out to be you Soo Yin! How are you after your family went bankrupt?" Li Sa said without further ado.

"I'm fine," Soo Yin said with a smile even though Li Sa's words always hurt her.

"You look much better now. Who is supporting your life?" Li Sa said with a lopsided smile. Looking at Soo Yin with a look of disgust and dislike.

Soo Yin also took a deep breath to continue to be patient with her cousin, who had not changed at all.

"Tell me which masher guy invited you here!" Li Sa looked around for someone behind Soo Yin.

"You must be like your mother trying to hook a married man to get a handful of treasures!" Li Sa quipped.

Soo Yin felt her blood rising to the crown so that she clenched her fingers tightly. Even though she had forgotten the insults she had always got in the past.

Plakkk ....

Unconsciously Soo Yin swung her palm right at Li Sa's cheek. For a long time harboring that anger seemed enough for her to suppress it all.

"You dare to slap me?" Li Sa shouted, clutching her hot cheek. Her eyes stared sharply at Soo Yin.

"If you dare to say it one more time, I'll stitch your mouth!" Soo Yin said with red eyes.

"What's all this fuss?" A female servant who accidentally saw their commotion asked.

"Get that woman out of here! She's trying to snatch this shirt from me," Li Sa lied to the servant.

"Li Sa, what happened?" Aeri who appeared from behind Li Sa said.

"Eunnie, look at her trying to snatch this dress from me," Li Sa said while holding the dress to her chest.

Soo Yin knitted her brows together when she heard Li Sa call Aeri the 'eunnie'. So many questions arose in her mind. How do they know each other?

Aeri frowned when she saw Soo Yin's figure in front of her. It was really unexpected that during working hours like this she was actually outside the hotel.

"Li Sa, what happened to you?" Aeri asked when she saw the cheeks redden.

"Eunnie, she slapped me because I didn't want to give this dress to her," Li Sa whined as she pursed her lips.

"Soo Yin, how can you do this atrocity just because of a dress," Aeri said with a sarcastic tone.

Soo Yin was silent, it seemed that it was useless to defend herself in front of Li Sa.

"What are you here for anyway? Aren't you supposed to be at the hotel?" Aeri asked as she folded her arms across her chest. There was a dislike of seeing that girl.

"I ... I ...." Instantly Soo Yin's neck felt tight when she wanted to lie. Can only swallow back what was about to bring up by her.

"Do you know her?" Li Sa who was also surprised asked.

"She's my husband's secretary, we've also met several times," Aeri said. After the incident at Namsan Park there was a feeling of dislike for Soo Yin.

"Eunnie, you have to be careful with her. She is the daughter of a flake, I'm afraid that your husband will be teased by her," Li Sa said. So far, Li Sa has never liked Soo Yin so she often humiliated her.

"Do you know her?" Aeri asked to Li Sa.

"Of course, we are cousins. Ah, no! To be more precise we are ex-coisins because I don't want to have blood relations with illegitimate children like her," Li Sa said with a disgusted look at Soo Yin.

Soo Yin felt like throwing her hand back to Li Sa's cheek. But he did realize that what Li Sa said was true. But who wanted to be a mistress and a second wife. Really, she never wanted that to happen.

"It's really interesting," Aeri said, smiling mysteriously.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 86 - 86 - Recalled

Suddenly Li Sa stepped towards Soo Yin, about to pull the scarf that was covering her neck. But it was fortunate that Chang Yuan had her hand blocked.

"Don't do anything to her!" Chang Yuan grabbed Li Sa's wrist firmly and then let go.

"Assistant Chang, what are you here for?" Aeri asked suspiciously.

Chang Yuan actually intended to secretly follow Aeri. But because it seemed like they wanted to embarrass Soo Yin, he immediately appeared from his hiding place.

Li Sa looked at Soo Yin with a look of disgust because earlier she accidentally saw a kissmark on Soo Yin's neck even though it was only vague. As if Soo Yin was a bitch. She thought that Chang Yuan was her lover.

"I'm only accompanying Soo Yin," Chang Yuan replied curtly. This was the first time calling the girl by her name so that Aeri wouldn't be suspicious.

"Are you her lover?" Li Sa asked as he observed Chang Yuan's appearance from top to bottom.

"That's none of your business," Chang Yuan said in a cold tone.

"You better teach your lover a lesson so she won't slap me carelessly," Li Sa said to Chang Yuan while pointing at Soo Yin's face.

"Looks like it's not her fault. Instead, you better watch your mouth! If not then I will report you on cases of slander and libel," Chang Yuan replied in a flat tone without expression.

"You really are ..." Li Sa clenched her fists in anger.

"Li Sa, we'd better get out of here. We'll find a nicer place and more expensive." Aeri grabbed Li Sa's wrist to take her out of the place. With Chang Yuan there, their arguments would be useless.

Li Sa immediately threw the dress at the frozen Soo Yin then followed Aeri's steps to leave.

Soo Yin felt what people in the past said to her ringing back in her memory. The girl clutched her ear so that she almost staggered down if only Chang Yuan didn't support her back.

"Are you all right, Miss?" Chang Yuan who was holding Soo Yin's back said.

"Ah, I'm fine," Soo Yin said, she immediately realized that and she immediately corrected her standing position.

Soo Yin's hands trembled as she remembered Li Sa's words. The old wound she felt was now open again. Unconsciously the tears that had pooled in her eyes dripped.

Dae Hyun finally found Soo Yin after circling the place. However, he was surprised to see Chang Yuan with his wife.

"Honey, what happened to you?" Dae Hyun said while holding his wife's shoulder. He just came from the toilet so he didn't know what happened.

"Chang Yuan, why are you here?" Dae Hyun said while knitting his eyebrows.

"I just happened to stop by here, Sir," Chang Yuan said.

"You'd better go back to the hotel, later we will catch up," Dae Hyun ordered.

"Yes sir." Chang Yuan immediately left the two of them.

"What happened to you? Tell me quickly," Dae Hyun said when he saw tears on Soo Yin's cheeks.

Soo Yin just smiled as she wiped her tears. Tried to be strong, she can't be a weak girl.

"Ahhhh ... I ... I was just winking so that my eyes hurt," Soo Yin said while trying to smile so that Dae wouldn't be suspicious. Just about to rub her eyes but her hand was already blocked by Dae Hyun.

"Don't rub it, your eyes will be damaged later," Dae Hyun said while holding Soo Yin's wrist. Then he started blowing his wife's eyes until Soo Yin could feel the roar of breath catching on her face.

"Are you feeling better?" Dae Hyun said but Soo Yin continued to stare deep into his eagle eyes. Shortly thereafter she immediately realized it.

"I'm fine," Soo Yin replied.

"Have you found what you like?" Dae Hyun glanced at the dress that was in his wife's hand.

"I do not like this." Soo Yin put the dress that was earlier in place.

"Well, choose whatever you like."

"I want you to help me choose," Soo Yin said in a spoiled tone. Tried to forget what just happened. Having Dae Hyun beside her made her more relaxed.

"Alright."

Dae Hyun continued to follow Soo Yin's footsteps wherever she walked. Gave an assessment of every outfit his wife tries on. In order to make his wife happy, Dae Hyun was willing to spend time to shopping with her.

After an hour, Soo Yin finally finished choosing clothes that she thought would fit her small body. Immediately go to the cashier to pay for everything. Soo Yin frowned when it turned out that Dae Hyun bought clothes for her that had been put in a paper bag.

"What is this? Why so many?" Soo Yin started carrying paper bags one by one helped by Dae Hyun.

"You can open it at home later," Dae Hyun said with a sly smile.

Dae Hyun put everything in the trunk. After that, he sat behind the wheel.

Soo Yin leaned her head on Dae Hyun's shoulder. Felt very comfortable for her.

"Are you tired?" Dae Hyun asked when he looked down on his wife's face. His left hand was used to rub his wife's back. His right hand was on the steering wheel.

Soo Yin shook her head softly.

Seeing his wife's mood that seemed less good. Dae Hyun turned around to get her somewhere.

"Where are you going? Isn't this the way to the hotel?" Soo Yin looked up to see the mature face but still looking handsome.

"I want us to enjoy more time together," Dae Hyun said.

"Can I ask you something?" Soo Yin said.

"Say it!"

"Earlier I accidentally met with Aeri and she was along with my cousin named Li Sa. Do you know that?"

"Did you meet them?" Dae Hyun asked, frowning.

Soo Yin nodded her head.

"Li Sa is the girl who has been chasing Park Soo Hyun. But my brother never likes her. Did they do something to you?" Dae Hyun felt something was wrong with his wife.

"Ahh, nothing. We only met briefly," Soo Yin said.

????????????????

Not long after, they arrived at the Namsan Seoul Tower. A tower located on the Namsan mountain. There it was famous for its love padlock for couples in love. According to the myth that was believed there, the couple who writes the name on the locked padlock, their love story will be eternal.

Unfortunately they went there during the day so they couldn't enjoy the lights on top of the tower. At night they can also see the beauty of the city of Seoul.

Dae Hyun has been wanting to take Soo Yin there for a long time. When he first asked her to join Jo Yeon Ho, he actually wanted to invite her here. But it was impossible because there was his son. Moreover, Jo Yeon Ho was a little afraid of heights.

"What are we here for?" Soo Yin didn't understand why her husband brought her here when they should have returned to the hotel.

"Wait a minute." Dae Hyun immediately got out of the car and walked across the street. The man entered a shop, and soon came out with something in his hand.

Dae Hyun walked over to Soo Yin, opening the door for his wife. Help her get out by grabbing the girl's wrist.

"Dae Hyun, what if someone recognizes us?" Soo Yin felt worried, afraid that someone might expose their togetherness.

"Take it easy," Dae Hyun said with a smile. Most of the visitors who come to this place were just lovebirds who were in love so they didn't care about their surroundings. Young couples will feel that the place belongs to both of them while the others are just hitchhiking.

Dae Hyun immediately took Soo Yin to a place that was used to hang a padlock, which was a neatly lined iron fence. There were already a lot of locks installed there.

"What for?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together. Wondering what to do with that padlock. There was no way a man like Dae Hyun would believe the myths that developed in society.

"You know, according to the myth, every couple who writes their name here their love will last." Dae Hyun smiled as he wrote his name.

"Do you believe it?" Soo Yin asked.

"I just hope our love will always last. Write your name here." Dae Hyun handed the padlock to Soo Yin.

Soo Yin finally complied to write her name. Indeed there were so many locks hanging there. Soo Yin took a look at what's written there. It was true that there were the names of the partners and their hopes.

The girl began to write down her wishes.

"Is it like this?" Soo Yin showed what she wrote to Dae Hyun.

After finishing writing down their names and wishes. Dae Hyun immediately hung the padlock together with the others then threw it into the wooden box.

"I want our love to remain eternal. I wish you would never leave me. You want to do it?" Dae Hyun said while staring intensely at his wife's light brown eyes.

"Are you going to do the same?" Soo Yin asked back.

"Of course." Dae Hyun embraced his wife's waist to get closer to him.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 87 - 87 - You Are My Wife

Love can come anytime, anywhere, to whom, without being prevented or forced.

~ Dae Hyun ~

?????????????

Soo Yin looked around. It turned out that someone was watching them. It might feel strange that Dae Hyun looked mature but Soo Yin was still like a teenager. Their age difference was in contrast and cannot be covered.

Instead of being embarrassed, Soo Yin hugged her husband back instead. From now on, she will no longer care about those who will blaspheme her.

Although sometimes Dae Hyun's attitude was enough to upset her, deep down Soo Yin didn't want to be away from him. It was really torturing her mind.

"Dae Hyun, when are we always together without hiding like this?" The words flow spontaneously representing the feeling that was being felt in the moment.

"If you want, right now I will announce that you are my wife," Dae Hyun said.

"What if your family doesn't accept me?"

"I don't care, I've prepared the possibility that happens. Let's meet my mother and father," Dae Hyun asked with determination.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin thought about all the risks that occur. She felt quite traumatized as a child being bullied by the people closest to her.

Soo Yin shook her head softly. Her heart could no longer feel all the humiliation, especially when Li Sa knew Aeri. It was unexpected.

"Why? Don't you believe me?" Dae Hyun looked disappointed.

"I want to be the only one and I don't want to be accused of being the one who has ruined your relationship with Aeri," Soo Yin said.

"I've found some evidence that Aeri lied. That could be the reason for me to be separated from her. I hope you are patient waiting for that day." Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin's body to face him. Hold her hand tightly.

"Are you sure she's lying?"

"I was suspicious for a long time, but I didn't really care about it. Now I want to be separated from her so that we can always be together without anyone disturbing us." Dae Hyun took Soo Yin to sit under a tree.

"I'll wait for that day to come. But may I ask you something?" Soo Yin took something out of her bag. Handed it to Dae Hyun. It turned out to be the brochure that Jae-hwa gave him.

"What is this?" Dae Hyun started reading a little.

"Can I go to university?" Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun with a sparkling face.

Dae Hyun thought of everything. If Soo Yin entered university there will likely be many men who will approach her.

"What if there are a lot of men who try to approach you? I can't afford to compete with them. Maybe even I will be very jealous," Dae Hyun said, disapproving of his little wife's idea. It was not he didn't want to give her the permission, but he didn't not want to have too many competitors.

Soo Yin lowered her face. Self-conscious enough because Dae Hyun helped her a lot. It was lucky that Dae Hyun was a man who was not demanding. Although Soo Yin was initially forced to marry him, Dae Hyun never hurt her physically and forced his will.

Dae Hyun held Soo Yin's chin so he can see the look on her face. But Soo Yin didn't dare look Dae Hyun's eagle eyes. Suddenly an idea came to Dae Hyun's mind.

"Okay, but with one condition," Dae Hyun said with a crooked smile.

"What is that?" Soo Yin asked.

"But I'm not sure you want to do it." Dae Hyun made a sad face.

"Say it," Soo Yin whined while holding her husband's arm.

"I want us to go on a honeymoon," Dae Hyun whispered in his wife's ear.

"That's always what you think," Soo Yin said as she pursed her lips. Her face now looked red.

"Are you going to keep torturing me like this?" Dae Hyun put Soo Yin's fingers on his chest so she can feel his fast beat. It could be that Dae Hyun forced her to do that intimacy. But he didn't want Soo Yin to do it out of compulsion.

Soo Yin actually felt guilty about behaving like that to her husband. Even a little worried for Dae Hyun, afraid that he would take it out on another woman. That's according to an article she just read last night.

"Alright, let's go right now," Soo Yin said lightly. It was certain that the man would not be able to because he was still very busy.

"Fine, I'll get Chang Yuan to prepare a trip for us." Dae Hyun was about to reach into his pocket for the cell phone but Soo Yin held him back. Didn't expect Dae Hyun to accept her challenge.

"Let me prepare myself first." Soo Yin felt anxious and gasped for breath.

But it turned out that someone was calling so Dae Hyun answered it. It was from Chang Yuan saying that he should return to the hotel immediately because he had to finish some of his work immediately.

"Arghhh, what a shame. Even though I wanted to invite you to go up to the top of the tower," Dae Hyun muttered. Put his cell phone in his pocket again after turning off the phone connection.

"Next time we can come here again," Soo Yin said.

"Hmmm, are you coming to the hotel or want to go home?"

"I come along," Soo Yin said while clinging spoiled to Dae Hyun's arm, making the man very happy. That meant the girl has already accepted him.

????????????????

The Silla Seoul Hotel,

They arrived at the hotel at four in the afternoon. Dae Hyun and Soo Yin get on a special elevator for hotel officials so that they can freely hold hands because there were no people. When Dae Hyun opened the door, the man immediately let go of Soo Yin's grip because in the room there were his father and his younger brother.

They seemed to have serious facial expressions. Dae Hyun felt weird because his father was not usually in his room. Even though Park Ji Hoon was rarely in Korea, as a president, he had his own room.

Dae Hyun approached them who were both silent.

"It's not unusual for Dad to come here," Dae Hyun said as he sat on the sofa. Meanwhile, Soo Yin chose to sit at her desk despite being curious. She didn't know what happened.

"Where have you been?" Park Ji Hoon said in a slightly sarcastic tone.

"I just went out for a moment," Dae Hyun answered honestly. For him it was indeed a moment although people might think it was quite a while. Can only hope that his father didn't suspect anything.

"Hyeong, starting tomorrow I will start working at this hotel," Park Soo Hyun said with a radiant expression.

"What do you mean? Didn't Father tell you to take care of the hotel in Ghosan?" Dae Hyun did not expect that his father would change his mind so easily.

"He needs to study here so that later he can be applied there. Starting tomorrow, Park Soo Hyun can work here. You better be able to work with your brother. He will serve as deputy director," Park Ji Hoon said.

Dae Hyun widened his eyes in disbelief at what his father said. How can a child who doesn't even want to use his surname but is given a position so easily in the main hotel as deputy director.

"Dad, he never even did his job properly," Dae Hyun argued.

"Well, that's why you have to teach him," Park Ji Hoon said firmly.

"But ...." Dae Hyun stopped his words because it was useless to protest that Park Ji Hoon wouldn't listen to him.

"Alright, both of you must be nice." Park Ji Hoon gave advice like to two young boys.

"Thank you, Dad." Park Soo Hyun escorted Park Ji Hoon outside the room followed by Dae Hyun behind him.

Park Ji Hoon turned to Soo Yin who was turning on the computer on her desk. Soo Yin was a little nervous so in reflex immediately stood up while bowing as a sign of respect. Her heart was beating fast when the man who was called her father-in-law looked at her. Even though Park Ji Hoon didn't know yet, it still felt a little different.

"Miss Soo Yin, come to the house this weekend for dinner. We haven't even thanked you yet," Park Ji Hoon said, smiling kindly. His gaze was as comfortable as a father looking at his daughter.

"Don't bother, Sir," Soo Yin replied with a faint smile.

"Our family is truly indebted to you," Park Ji Hoon said.

"Not at all. I just helped a little so you don't have to feel that way," Soo Yin said.

"You're really a good girl," Park Ji Hoon said.

Good girl? Should Soo Yin feel happy to be called a good girl in the eyes of her father-in-law? Will her father-in-law be able to accept her as daughter-in-law? There was fear in Soo Yin's heart.

"Anyway, you have to come," Park Ji Hoon continued.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 88 - 88 - May I Hug You?

"Thank you for the invitation but it is not necessary at all," Soo Yin said softly. She felt awkward when hanging out with Dae Hyun's family members.

"Don't worry, Dad. I'll definitely take her to the house," Park Soo Hyun said, making Dae Hyun furious.

"If Dae Hyun is too mean to you, just tell me," Park Ji Hoon said.

"Yes, Sir," Soo Yin replied, glancing at her husband. She didn't know what her in-laws meant about Dae Hyun. So far, Dae Hyun has never been pushy or cruel to her at all. Never scolded her or said harshly.

Park Ji Hoon immediately left the room after having a little chat with Soo Yin.

"Hyeong, I also have to go home first to get some of my stuff." Park Soo Hyun talked to Dae Hyun but what he had seen was Soo Yin.

"Soo Yin, see you tomorrow."

"Go! Tell Jo Yeon Ho tonight I'll be working late," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone. Never had Soo Yin heard his tone like that.

"Why don't you just contact sister-in-law?" Park Soo Hyun refused. He was reluctant to talk much to Aeri.

"If you don't want to say it, don't expect me to help you here!" Dae Hyun threatened.

"Arghh, alright. Bye bye, Soo Yin." Before leaving, Park Soo Hyun first made goodbye.

Soo Yin just nodded her head with a faint smile on her lips.

"Honey, you can just rest at home if you're tired. Maybe I'll stay over here." As a result of almost a day away with Soo Yin, there were already many towering piles of files that must be checked immediately. Moreover, this was the end of the month, there were certainly a lot of reports piling up that must be resolved immediately.

"You kicked me out?" Soo Yin pursed her lips as if she didn't like it.

"It's not that, I'm just worried about you," Dae Hyun said softly. The stiff and cold expression he had seen just suddenly disappeared. Soo Yin felt that she didn't really know her husband yet. She didn't even know what his true nature was.

"I'm fine. I'll wait as usual," Soo Yin replied, still pursed her lips.

"Okay, but if you're tired, just tell me later I'll take you home," Dae Hyun said while gently rubbing his little wife's cheek.

"Of course." Soo Yin nodded quickly with a cheerful face back.

Dae Hyun immediately returned to his desk. First, stretch the muscles by raising both hands. Remembering that his cellphone was still active, Dae Hyun immediately turned it off because he didn't want anyone to interfere. Nor did not want Aeri to contact him.

Three hours later ....

Soo Yin looked at the clock which showed seven in the evening. It was time for dinner but Dae Hyun still looked busy with the pile of papers in front of him. Afraid to disturb him, Soo Yin walked slowly over to Dae Hyun. Make the man raised his face.

"What is it, honey?" Dae Hyun said. Even though Soo Yin's presence was not helpful enough, his wife's presence made him even more excited.

"Aren't you hungry?" Soo Yin asked.

"Geez!" Dae Hyun was surprised when he saw that the watch, it was already late. Seemed like time flies really fast.

"Come on, I'll take you home," Dae Hyun asked while turning off his work laptop.

"No need, just continue your work. I'll immediately bring dinner here," Soo Yin said. She did not want to leave her husband to live alone.

"Well, you are the best wife," Dae Hyun said honestly.

"Just wait a minute." Soo Yin immediately left the room, she intended to take food in the canteen. It could have actually ordered the waiter but she didn't want to do it. The girl wanted to prepare it herself even though it wasn't herself who cook.

Soo Yin got into the elevator to get down to the first floor towards the canteen. The canteen was deserted, only a few people were still there. It turned out that the food has also run out so Soo Yin went out of the hotel.

To get rid of the boredom of accompanying Dae Hyun, Soo Yin went to the supermarket across the street. The distance was quite far if she walked. She wanted to give some kind of snacks and drinks. Due to cold weather Soo Yin didn't buy food for dinner. Let Dae Hyun order his food at the restaurant later.

Soo Yin only wore a knee-length dress and short sleeves. So that the cold immediately pierced the pores of her skin. It felt translucent to the bones so that it ached. Soo Yin returned to the hotel while rubbing her arms in turn so that there was a little warmth.

Soo Yin come back into the room biting her lower lip so as not to shiver. Dae Hyun, who heard the door open, turned his head. His gaze was fixed on the plastic bag his wife was carrying, so Dae Hyun immediately walked over to her.

"Where are you from?" Dae Hyun asked when he saw his wife's pale lips.

"I ... I ... just went to the supermarket," Soo Yin who stammered said as she held back the cold, making her lips tremble a little.

The supermarket was quite far from the hotel. No wonder his wife had not returned for a long time. Dae Hyun immediately took off his coat.

"Put it on." Dae Hyun put his coat on Soo Yin's body. Then touched the girl's icy fingers.

"You're so cold, we'd better go to the room." Dae Hyun immediately pulled Soo Yin's hand into the room. There was a thick blanket so she could warm his body.

"Lie down," Dae Hyun said as he took a thick blanket in the closet.

Soo Yin obeyed to get on the bed because her face to her feet felt really cold. Dae Hyun immediately spread the blanket to cover Soo Yin's body until only her head remained.

"Is it better?" Dae Hyun sat next to Soo Yin. Worried that his wife might have a fever. He shouldn't had let the girl to go alone.

"Hmmm ...." Soo Yin hesitated to speak her heart. The blanket only warmed her body a little.

"Is something hurt?" Dae Hyun immediately massaged Soo Yin's leg. Worried, maybe something might get hurt.

"No." Soo Yin grabbed Dae Hyun's wrist who was about to massage her leg. How could she have the heart to let her husband who was working hard to massage her.

"What is it, honey?" Dae Hyun asked softly as he rubbed Soo Yin's lips with his thumb.

"May I hug you?" Soo Yin asked with a flushed face. She really felt ashamed to say it even with her own husband.

Dae Hyun was very happy to hear his little wife's request. Happily, he immediately spread his arms to embrace Soo Yin's body.

Despite being embarrassed, Soo Yin leaned closer to enter the broad chest because her body really needed warmth. Put her arms around her husband's waist. It really felt warm and comfortable in Dae Hyun's arms.

Soo Yin pressed her ear against her husband's chest so she could hear his heartbeat pumping the blood flow rapidly. Could felt the warm breath that hit her face.

Dae Hyun hugged his wife very tightly. Did not think if his wife asked to hug him first. He used one hand to stroke her long wavy hair.

"I'll tell Chang Yuan to get your clothes in the trunk of the car." Dae Hyun was about to leave for a while but Soo Yin tightened his hug instead. Although he only wanted to go out for a moment to get the cellphone.

"Later," Soo Yin whined while looking up to stare at her husband's eagle eyes with a sad gaze. Soo Yin really didn't want Dae Hyun to leave even if it's only for a moment.

"Alright," Dae Hyun said while removing the hair covering Soo Yin's face. Place it behind the ear so that he can see that beautiful face freely.

They don't know how long they hugged each other. Now Soo Yin's body has slowly warmed back up thanks to Dae Hyun because the man's body temperature was indeed a bit hot.

Dae Hyun slipped his hand away from his wife's body when he heard something like a rumbling stomach. He immediately remembered that they had not had dinner.

"Are you hungry?" Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin who really felt hungry immediately nodded her head without hesitation and embarrassment.

"Let's go outside, looks like you are not cold anymore." Dae Hyun squeezed his wife's fingers to make sure. Then kissed the red lips briefly until Soo Yin put a hand around his neck.

"Or are we going to stay like this?" Dae Hyun teased because Soo Yin tightened her hands even more.

Hearing what her husband said, Soo Yin immediately let go and sat down. Keep her body away from her husband.

Dae Hyun only smiled at his wife's behavior. If he didn't remember that the girl was hungry, he would definitely continued kissing her.

"I will ask Chang Yuan to order dinner for us," Dae Hyun said as he went out first to contact Chang Yuan.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 89 - 89 - Romantic Movie

Soo Yin stepped in front of the mirror to comb her messy hair. Smiling to herself when she saw her reflection in the mirror. Thinking about her current feelings, somehow the man who was once she hated so much now became the man she loved so much that she didn't even want to let go.

Soo Yin spun around while holding Dae Hyun's coat. It felt very warm and the aroma was also intoxicating.

"Honey!" A voice that suddenly appeared startled Soo Yin who was fantasizing.

Soo Yin didn't think that Dae Hyun was now behind her. Hugging her waist from behind until it made her shudder, felt the breath tickling her ears.

"Let's go outside."

"What if someone sees us like this?" Soo Yin said when she saw the open door.

"Let it go," Dae Hyun said, burying his face in the nape of his wife instead.

"Dae Hyun?" Soo Yin whined.

"Hmmm, say it," Dae Hyun said.

"I'm really hungry." Soo Yin tried to let go of Dae Hyun's hand that was curled around her stomach. It felt quite tight to her.

After a while, there was a knock on the door, so Soo Yin immediately rushed away. Afraid someone will see them. Once outside, Soo Yin felt relieved because it was Chang Yuan who had a paper bag in his hand.

"Miss, these are clothes for you." Chang Yuan handed the paper bag to Soo Yin. The loyal assistant frowned at the sight of his boss's coat being worn by his wife. Actually it doesn't really matter, but if someone saw it, they would be suspicious.

"Thank you, Assistant Chang," Soo Yin said with a smile.

"When will the food come?" Dae Hyun asked Chang Yuan.

"In a moment, Sir," Chang Yuan said curtly. He was indeed the type of man who didn't talk too much. After that he immediately left the room.

"Do you really trust Assistant Chang?" Soo Yin said.

"Calm down, he can't mess around and reveal secrets between us. He is the person I can trust the most from a long time ago," Dae Hyun said while embracing Soo Yin's body but the girl kept her distance.

"Thank God," Soo Yin said. Just now, it just felt like Chang Yuan was looking at her with intimidation and dislike.

Finally the servant brought them dinner. Even if Soo Yin was there they wouldn't be suspicious because as a secretary it was certain to help his boss during overtime.

The servants were only a little suspicious when Dae Hyun's coat was worn by Soo Yin instead. But immediately think positively of his boss. There was no way his boss would be interested in an ordinary girl like Soo Yin. Meanwhile, he already has a model wife who was super beautiful and sexy like Aeri.

After finishing dinner, Soo Yin helped Dae Hyun to check some files so it would finished soon. Over and over, Soo Yin stretched his muscles while yawning. Even so, every time Dae Hyun told her to rest she always refused. Even though it was ten o'clock at night, it was actually time to rest.

"Honey, go to sleep. It's late." Dae Hyun approached Soo Yin who was sitting on the sofa. Indeed, Dae Hyun deliberately asked her to work on the sofa so that it was not too far from his sight.

"I'm not sleepy yet," Soo Yin said, unconsciously covering her mouth because yawning made Dae Hyun shook his head at his wife's stubbornness.

"You can just lie down if you're not sleepy or you can watch a movie." Dae Hyun can't bear if Soo Yin helped him until late at night like this. Soo Yin was a wife not an employee for him. Appointing her as secretary was just an excuse to always be near her.

Soo Yin thought about what Dae Hyun said, it seemed like watching a fun romantic movie was also to get rid of her sleepiness. It's been a long time since she saw a movie in the cinema.

"Okay." Soo Yin tidied up the file that she had checked then stood up while stretching her neck muscles which felt stiff from looking down for too long.

"Just use this." Dae Hyun took his laptop on his desk and handed it over to Soo Yin. Even though there was no movie file, his wife can still watch it with an Internet connection through an application that showed the film.

"Don't be too late to sleep," Soo Yin suggested as she looked at her husband who looked wistful.

"I'll be sleeping soon." Dae Hyun stroked Soo Yin's hair before returned to his desk.

Soo Yin entered the room intending to change her clothes first. Ruffling the contents of the paper bag which turned out to only contain very minimal white lingerie.

"Assistant Chang, why did you get these clothes? Looks like I didn't even buy them at all," Soo Yin muttered while holding the lingerie with he fingertips.

But it didn't seem to matter, after all there was a blanket in the wardrobe so that it can be used to cover her body which she thought was like a wild woman.

After finished changing, Soo Yin immediately got on the bed. Wrapping her body tightly in a blanket until only the head was left. Just turn on the table lamp so it would not too bright.

Started looking for a good film according to her. Until accidentally playing a romantic film. At the beginning of the story, the scene was normal like a movie in general, but over time there was a kissing scene for so long that it makes her body feel strange. What's more, there was an adult scene. Instead of retreating, Soo Yin continued watching. She was a little curious about what the adults were doing.

Soo Yin didn't really watch it out of embarrassment. Often times she even covered her face with a blanket. There was a hot temperature running through her body that made her shudder.

Dae Hyun went into the room then took off his clothes so that he only wore shorts. Climbing onto the bed next to Soo Yin who looked absorbed in watching a movie so she didn't notice his arrival.

The man was suddenly surprised to see the movie Soo Yin was watching which contain a bed scene. Dae Hyun quickly closed his laptop.

Soo Yin turned his head to look at Dae Hyun. Her face immediately flushed red because she was caught watching an adult film.

"Have you been here long?" Soo Yin asked.

"Do you intend to tease me?" Dae Hyun just asked back.

"Teasing you? I just want to watch it," Soo Yin said with a flat expression because she didn't understand what her husband meant.

"Than you watch it we better practice it," Dae Hyun whispered in Soo Yin's ear.

Soo Yin widened her eyes when she heard that. Instantly the color of her face turned bright red. It didn't really mean anything. She even only watched two minutes with a kiss scene.

Dae Hyun immediately turned his laptop back on because it seemed that his wife didn't understand. After a few minutes of the film playing, there was a bed scene that suddenly made Soo Yin cover her eyes. Really feel ashamed to see it.

"Turn it off quickly!" Soo Yin's commanded didnt dare to look at the screen. Can hear the sound of groans and sighs that can be heard.

"Didn't you say it was fun?" Dae Hyun teases wanting to see Soo Yin's expression.

"Quickly turn it off right now!" Soo Yin said impatiently.

"Okay." Dae Hyun complied to stop the film. Although he was curious to see how her reaction. Maybe there was a chance for him.

Dae Hyun then got up to put his laptop on the nightstand and then turned on the light to make it brighter.

Soo Yin just realized that her husband slept without wearing clothes. The man was still shirtless showing his abdominal muscles which looked very muscular.

"Why aren't you wearing clothes?" Soo Yin protested.

Without answering, Dae Hyun immediately opened the cupboard to find a t-shirt he could wear. Immediately lay down on the bed beside Soo Yin.

Soo Yin actually put some distance between them. The girl was still leaning on the side of the bed, holding tight the blanket that covered her. If Dae Hyun knew the clothes she was wearing she would be very embarrassed.

Dae Hyun who also felt cold immediately forcibly pulled the blanket to reveal Soo Yin's body under the transparent lingerie.

"Geez, why is she always teasing me today? Does she want me to die quickly?" Dae Hyun thought. His gaze could not be separated from his wife's body, which was so seductive that he unconsciously sipped his saliva.

Seeing Dae Hyun's gaze, Soo Yin immediately pulled the blanket that her husband had grabbed.

"This ... this is Assistant Chang who brought it. I was forced to wear it because there is nothing else," Soo Yin stammered.

"How smart is Assistant Chang!" Dae Hyun said to himself. It was unexpected that the Assistant thought about that. Maybe he wanted to make his boss happy so he brought her the right clothes.

Dae Hyun immediately grabbed Soo Yin's wrist until the girl hit her broad chest. When the two squishy things touched Dae Hyun's chest, he felt a sting.

"Go to sleep." Dae Hyun hugged Soo Yin tightly as he tried to close his eyes.

Soo Yin felt tight and tried to escape. It was not that difficult because Dae Hyun was already asleep. Maybe because he was so tired he fell asleep. Soo Yin traced her husband's face with her fingers.

Cup ....

Soo Yin shyly landed a kiss on her husband's cheek before closing her eyes too.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 90 - 90 - Get Caught

Knock ... knock ... knock ...

There was a knock on the door repeatedly. Made Dae Hyun blink. He glanced at Soo Yin who was still fast asleep. Without hesitation, Dae Hyun immediately opened the door because it was definitely Chang Yuan who had come this early. Even though the working hours will soon start. Exhaustion made them sleep very soundly and forgot to turn on the alarm.

Dae Hyun widened his eyes so and he was about to fall to the floor when he saw the person who was standing at the door.

"Father? ... What are you here for in the morning?" Being too shocked, Dae Hyun forgot to close the bedroom door so that Park Ji Hoon could see that a woman was still sleeping. Her face could not be seen clearly because it was covered by her long hair.

Dae Hyun was really regret that he forgot to lock the door last night. Now it was too late for him when the regret arose.

"Who is she?" Park Ji Hoon said in a slightly sarcastic tone. Even though he was not too surprised, he did not expect that his son who looked quiet was playing with other women while he already had a wife and children.

"She... she..." Dae Hyun stammered, his tongue stiff to be honest or lie. The two choices seemed equally difficult to him.

"You know if your relationship is known to the enemy?" Park Ji Hoon who was furious shouted at his son. Luckily he had no history of heart disease.

The enemy here was interpreted as another hotel that was their rival. If Dae Hyun got involved in a scandal it will definitely affect the condition of the hotel.

"Father, she is my wife. I was married to her a few months ago," Dae Hyun said honestly. If he has been caught like this it was better to be honest. Hasn't it been a long time since he wanted to introduce his little wife to his family? For him this was a very suitable time.

"What?" Park Ji Hoon glared at his eldest son. Feelings of anger and disappointment were now mixed into one for the eldest son whom he always proud of in front of his extended family.

"Father, I love her." Dae Hyun lowered his head.

"Love you say? Do you intend to embarrass us for the second time?" Park Ji Hoon said with a sarcastic tone.

"You can easily say love now. After what you did with Aeri seven years ago?" Park Ji Hoon thought back to how the news about Dae Hyun and Aeri was very embarrassing for his family. It was fortunate that Dae Hyun was such a reliable person that the news was slowly being forgotten.

"Dad, I've never loved Aeri. I was just being trapped at that time, but you still don't believe me," Dae Hyun said trying to defend himself.

"You coward! So that's what made you cheating on Aeri?"

"Well, don't be hypocritical. I also know that Dad did the same thing," Dae Hyun said, glancing at Park Ji Hoon with a lopsided smile.

"You ... You are an insolent child!" Park Ji Hoon really wanted to hit his son's face with a punch. Fortunately Dae Hyun was a child that can be relied upon, it was not possible to kick him right away.

"Well, you don't need to be angry like that," Dae Hyun said in a relaxed tone. For a long time, he actually knew that his father had an affair when he was still in school. But he remained silent because he didn't want to hurt his mother's feelings who loved her father too much.

"Hurry and tell her to come out! I want to see and talk to her in person," Park Ji Hoon ordered as he stepped towards the sofa because it was useless arguing with his son.

Park Ji Hoon did have an affair but it's been a long time. It was just a mistake that would never be repeated in his life. Although he could not be honest with his wife, he was very sorry and promised not to do it again.

Soo Yin just opened his eyes. She seemed to dream of hearing the sound of people chatting outside. She was about to get up to take a look but Dae Hyun had already opened the door.

"Honey, are you awake?" Dae Hyun walked over to his wife. Kissed her forehead for a moment which Soo Yin replied with a hug.

"Did you sleep well?" Dae Hyun kissed the top of his wife's head.

"Of course, I wake up dreaming that I hear someone's talking." Soo Yin stretched out both hands to stretch her body muscles. So that Dae Hyun can see every inch of his wife's upper body. But immediately remembered that there was his father outside.

"You're not dreaming, now there is indeed my father outside," Dae Hyun said as he raised an eyebrow.

"What?" Soo Yin shouted, immediately covering her mouth with her hand. Her body suddenly went limp.

"Go take a shower first, Father wants to talk to us." Dae Hyun knew that his wife was feeling anxious now, so he squeezed her fingers to try to calm her down.

"So he already know?" Soo Yin was so scared at this point that cold sweat spilled out of her skin.

"Don't be afraid. Take it easy, I'm here will always protect you." Dae Hyun gripped Soo Yin's fingers tightly.

Soo Yin complied, she hurriedly went to clean herself in a great haste. Intended to run away was also useless because it was on the 10th floor, it was impossible to jump. She might not have survived, but instead her life would lost.

"Honey, these are your clothes." Dae Hyun handed over the paper bag containing the clothes Soo Yin bought yesterday. Chang Yuan just escorted them.

With the remaining water still dripping from her hair, Soo Yin stretched out a trembling hand. Because there was only one bathroom, Dae Hyun now turned to the bathroom.
