

Blossoming Her Shielded

Heart Chapter 127 - 128

Chapter 127

Peter had been waiting for them there.

There were still a lot of people. Julia looked out of the window. Although she didn't tell Zoey, she was still a little uneasy at the flash of a black figure in front of the warehouse door. Was it an illusion or someone really passed by? And if someone really passed by, who would be the one behind him?

About the dairy in Juliet's room that Mike told Zoey, what was recorded on it?

Julia's mind was in a mess.⁴

"That green candy is delicious. What's its name? I'll ask second elder brother to buy it for me later." Zoey's voice brought Julia back to her senses. She smiled, "what is Green candy? It's marshmallow."

"That's not same as what I have seen." Zoey retorted with a frown.

"You buy it in the mall. It is not real marshmallow" Julia smiled and pinched Zoey's cheek.

"....." Zoey stared at Julia angrily. Julia stopped and thought the little princess had temper.

Back to the villa, Shawn waited for them in the hall.

"Brother, I ate a large lollipop just now." Zoey threw herself into Shawn's arms and said sweetly.

"Well, take some tissue to wipe your mouth and wash your face." answered Shawn. Then he stared at Zoey's swollen eyes and frowned.

"Okay," With her eyes winking in disbelief, Zoey jumped out of Shawn's embrace and ran to the bathroom to wash her face.

Julia felt stressed to be with Shawn alone.

"Where did you go?" Shawn asked.

Puff Kaaahhkkk, kaaahhkkk, kaaahhkkk Julia coughed violently. She thought that Shawn didn't care about these things, but he just didn't ask Zoey.

"We went to a park." Julia replied honestly.

"I don't think you went to park just because you were bored." Shawn said in a cold voice.

Julia thought to herself, 'sure enough, it's not easy to perfunctory with Shawn.'. Julia thought for a while and said with a smile, "we found a stray dog in the park. It was pitiful. Zoey was afraid it would rain tonight. We want to make a home for it."

She looked around, but never looked at Shawn.

Shawn slightly frowned, and after a long time he said, "you'd better think of a reason I agree with your lie, or..."

The last suspension points were full of threats.

Julia shrank her head, thinking that Shawn and Zoey were not from the same world Zoey didn't have a sharp sight as Shawn did

When Zoey came out, their talk stopped abruptly.

"Brother, I want to sleep with Julia tonight." Zoey held onto Shawn's arm and pSarahded.

Shawn tapped her on the forehead and chuckled. "When did your relation with Julia get better?"

Julia felt deeply ashamed. It was all because of Mike that they had to discuss with each other about tomorrow's plan.

"I just want to find someone to sleep with me." Zoey went on acting in a pettishly charming manner.

Julia was very worried about Shawn's arm. She was afraid that Zoey would break his arm

At last, Shawn had no choice but to push Zoey away. "I can only borrow her to you for one night."

"Okay

ywhere in the abandoned warehouse.

Holden put the gun back and said, "dispose of the body."

Then he picked up Zoey and looked at Julia on the ground, then ordered coldly, "take her into the car."

A dozen men in black suits were left, Sarahving the dilapidated warehouse behind.

“Zoey, don’t worry. We’ll be fine. No one can threaten us one day.” Holden obsessively looked at the girl in his arms and gently stroked her pink cheeks.

Julia felt something vibrated. ‘is it a car?’ she thought?

But the pain in her neck made her unable to open her eyes. She only heard someone call Zoey, but soon, the pain came again and she fell asleep again.

The second time she woke up, she was on the familiar bed. Julia opened her eyes in a daze. The surroundings made her feel very familiar: the familiar curtains, the familiar ceiling, and the familiar desk.

This was the bedroom of Shawn’s.

She slowly opened her eyes and stared at the ceiling. When did she go back to Shawn’s bedroom. She remembered that she and Zoey went to the abandoned warehouse to find Mike and wanted to send him out of Ventrusburg.

She heard Mike shouted at Zoey to let her run, but the next second, both she and Zoey seemed to have been knocked out and no one knew where they were.

Julia checked her body in a hurry. There was nothing wrong with her clothes

Who sent her back?

Where was Zoey? Where is Mike?

A series of questions flooded into her mind. Her head was heavy and she couldn’t sort it out.

Her temples throbbed suddenly. Who hit her? Before she fell down, she seemed to see the face of Holden. Could it be done by Holden?

And just sent them back because the man was Holden?

Julia’s mind was in a mess. She massaged her painful temple and sat up slowly from the bed. She could still feel the pain on her neck. She shook her head. If it were Holden, Zoey would be safe. But what if she was wrong?

Julia struggled to get up, put on her shoes and staggered towards the door.

Chapter 128

Julia staggered to Zoey’s door and was about to push the door in, but was stopped by a scene from the crack.

Zoey and Holden were in the room?

She was so surprised that she covered her mouth tightly with her hands. She She saw that Holden and Zoey were kissing

Indeed, it was Holden who kissed Zoey. Zoey seemed to have not woken up from the coma and did not resist at all, being controlled by Holden. Julia's brain was blown up, and she was completely sober now.

How could Holden do such thing to Zoey? Should she push the door?

When Julia was hesitant, she heard Zoey's soft voice, "Brother? Where is Julia? "

Hearing that Michelle had woken up, Julia's Dangling Heart finally dropped to the ground and dashed back to her bedroom. She jumped into the bed and wrapped herself with the quilt, but she couldn't help shivering.

Holden Zoey..

Don't tell her that they are not related by blood too

"Brother, why am I here?" Zoey looked around in confusion, her mind in a mess. Wasn't she in the abandoned warehouse?

"I found you on the stone bench of the park. How did you and sister-in-law fall asleep in the park?" Holden frowned, with gentle eyes.

"I I saw my father... " After hesitating for a while, Zoey confessed everything. She had never cheated Holden.

With knitted brows, Holden pulled Zoey into his arms. "I'm so glad that you're fine. Maybe his creditor is here. Fortunately, they don't get you and sister-in-law involved."

"Creditor?" Zoey was confused.

"I heard that he was in great debt due to gambling." Holden kissed her hair and said softly.

"Well, he said you caught him." Zoey didn't buy it.

"Zoey, do you believe me or him? Have brother ever lied to you? " Holden fondly gazed at Zoey as he fondly stroked her cheeks.

Zoey paused for a while and shook her head. Her second elder brother had never lied to her. She trusted Holden.

"But he is my father..." Zoey couldn't believe Mike lied to her.

“People will change. The world is a mess. Zoey, just stay with me forever.” Said Holden gently, and then gently held Zoey in his arms.

I just want you to stay with me forever.

A sudden knock on the door startled Julia, who was hiding in the quilt and shivering. Then she heard Zoey’s voice. “Julia, are you awake?”

Zoey!

Julia jumped from the bed, wrapped in quilt, and went to open the door. Her face became even paler when she saw Holden standing beside Zoey. Didn’t Zoey know anything about the incident “What’s wrong with you? Do you have a fever?” Zoey frowned and raised her hand to feel Julia’s forehead.

“Yes I’m sweating...” Julia didn’t dare to look at Holden’s face.

Holden said still with the gentle voice, “sister-in-law, you go back to bed first, I’ll call the doctor over.”

“Well Okay...” Julia’s mind was still in a mess. She staggered back to the bed and lied down.

Why did this happen to her?

Zoey

Younger sister really fell in love with his younger sister. As their brother, what would he do? But considering Shawn’s capability, he would definitely guess what she wanted to say if she told him something

Julia was depressed.

Not allowing Julia to calm down for a few minutes, Zoey came in.

“Do you know where my father is? Shall we go back to have a look? Or shall we call the police?” Zoey asked hesitantly.

Hearing this, Julia immediately sat up and nodded: “let’s go.”

Maybe there would be the evidence she wanted at the scene.

“Yes, yes.” Zoey nodded in agreement.

Zoey looked at Julia who was full of energy. She thought that Julia didn't look like a person who caught a cold

When the two of them returned to the abandoned warehouse of the park, there was no change in the warehouse, not even a trace of Mike. The slightly wet floor had been stepped on by someone. Julia walked around the abandoned warehouse, but found nothing.

Where is he now?

"What should we do?" Zoey tugged at the corner of Julia's dress, her voice trembling with fear.

"It's okay. We have to think positively. Maybe your father has already left Ventrusburg safely. After all, he can escape from Holden. This time he can definitely escape." Julia tried to comfort her with a smile.

That's all I can say now. Julia doesn't know what else to say. Should I tell Zoey that I thought your father had passed away.

"Let's go home." Julia said to Zoey. They slowly walked out of the abandoned warehouse, hand in hand.

By this time, the sun had already set, and the lights on the roadside were lit up one after another. The city where the superstar left had regained its peace.

Zoey didn't say anything on the way. And Julia just followed her. Zoey and her dad had just met with each other for less than a day, and they had been apart. This must be very uncomfortable.
