

Blossoming Her Shielded Heart Chapter 76 - 80

Chapter 76

“Ah! Mom, stop!” Julia screamed and immediately woke up from her dream. Then she found that it was already morning.

Julia was gasping for breath and patted her chest gently. Oh my God, this dream was so horrible.

However

Could it be an omen? If she was really with Shawn, her mother would not bless her.

Julia shook her head and sighed. It won't come to that day. How could she and Shawn get married? Their marriage was just for their own needs.

Next to her, Shawn was no longer in bed. Julia suddenly felt a little nervous. When she was wondering where he went, she saw him walking out of the bathroom.

He stopped and looked at Julia, who was in a panic look on her face. Shawn flatly said, “there are ten minutes left.”

ten minutes! Julia jumped out of the bed and rushed into the bathroom without thinking.

They had taken the day off for a long time, and Julia totally forgot that she had to go to work today. She looked at herself in the mirror, and found that although the hickey on her body was not so obvious, it was still there.

It was not until now that Julia realized that she was not a virgin. because of Shawn.

Julia felt depressed. She just wanted to bury her head in the water and tell herself that it was just a dream. In fact, she was still the unknown employee who had a hard time with her colSarahgues. Everything remained the same.

“There are still five minutes left.” A man's voice came from outside the door.

Julia was shocked again. She tidied up her clothes and cSarahned herself up in the speed of military training.

“You've gone too far, Shawn.” Wearing a pair of shoes, Julia saw that Shawn was about to Sarahve so she shouted in a hurry.

Shawn turned back, slowly Sarahned to the door, looked at her with a faint smile, and did not speak.

Being stared at by him, Julia got goose bumps all over her body. She walked towards him in a panic, and her hands were held by Shawn naturally. She didn't struggle, as she was accustomed to his touch.

"Why didn't you wake me up?" Julia pretended to complain.

"It's okay to be late." Shawn chuckled.

As they were talking, Shawn and Julia arrived at a small restaurant in the villa, where Maria had already prepared breakfast for them.

"Why do you lie to me? I thought..." The corner of Julia's mouth twitched, and she discontentedly looked back at Shawn.

"I just want to see how fast you can go." Said Shawn harshly.

Julia was stunned. Did he just want to see how panic she became?

"You..." Julia wanted to curse him a bastard, but the morning sunshine made her head cSarahr, so she cSarahrly understood that it was not allowed to curse the CEO.

"What?" Shawn looked at her with interest.

"Nothing." Said Julia, while Julia sat down next to Shawn, with the chopsticks in her hand.

Today's breakfast was delicious. Julia's attention was quickly attracted to it.

The corners of Shawn's mouth slightly upturned as he looked at his wife

r chest with her hands. She wore a high necked sweater today, so that those marks wouldn't be revealed.

Seeing Julia's careful movements, Shawn only felt a little funny. He turned around with his hands crossed over his chest, quietly looked at her and asked: "are you afraid of being known?"

crap! Julia rolled her eyes at him.

As Shawn was getting closer and closer to her, Julia was so scared that she kept stepping back. She Sarahned her back against the cold glass and looked like a frightened rabbit at the moment.

He chuckled, held her in his arms, bent down and kissed her lips. Then he opened her collar and slowly moved down.

“No! Stop, Shawn!” Julia tried to push him away in panic but failed.

“Let go of me! Here is...” Before Julia could finish her words, her mouth was stopped by Shawn.

After a long while, the man let go of her. Julia was gasping for air under his arms with her head down.

Shawn reached out his hand and smoothed her messy bangs. He held her face with a slightly rough hand and didn't give her any chance to shrink back. He looked at her carefully.

Julia didn't dare to look into his eyes. She closed her eyes in a hurry.

“Kitten, you are so beautiful.” Shawn whispered in her ear with a smile.

Her breath, however, was lingering around her ears.

Julia's beautiful face turned red and tender like a flower drenched by morning dew, fresh and tender.

“Don't touch me in the company.” Julia tried her best to calm down and pretended to stare at Shawn with a dark face.

This guy was getting more and more arrogant. Did he think she really had no temper?

With his eyebrows raised slightly, Shawn said thoughtfully, “Oh, I see. I can do whatever I like at home.”

Julia's face became redder. She frowned, stared at him and said with hands resting on the hips: “Hey, I didn't mean that!”

The corners of Shawn's lips lifted into an almost invisible smile. At this moment, the elevator door slowly opened.

Chapter 77

Julia lowered her head and carefully followed behind Shawn. As usual, when the president came to work, the secretary would come out to receive him and report on some important work by the way.

The four secretaries in the secretary's room were a little surprised to see Julia following behind Shawn, especially Lisa, whose face was full of disdain and jealousy.

Julia quickly walked up to her colleague Sarah. They were now the relationship between boss and subordinate again.

“Julia, why did you come here with the president?” As soon as Julia came back to the Secretary’s office, Sarah immediately came up and asked curiously.

Julia raised her head and looked at the direction of Lisa, only to see that she was doing her own work, ignoring the lively scene here.

“It was just a coincidence.” Julia answered with a smile.

“Julia, have you gotten the contract with Lee?” Asked Brandon.

Julia nodded.

At that time, Lisa raised her head and looked at Julia with a surprised look. She believed that Julia got her position because of Shawn. Perhaps, she had sold her body to Lee for that contract.

Thinking of this, Lisa despised Julia even more.

‘Julia got all these just because of her beauty and her nice figure.’

“Oh my God, you really made it! Julia, how did you do it?” Sarah looked at Julia in surprise.

“I was so lucky that Lee was in a good mood that day, so I signed the contract. Hehe. ” Julia said casually. She couldn’t tell them that the president had helped her finish this mission.

John came in. Everyone in the secretary’s room went back to their own seats immediately. The playful expression on their faces became serious.

John went straight to Julia. He looked at her, gnashed his teeth and said, “Julia, the president asks you to go to his office.”

Hearing this, Julia was stunned. She raised her head and saw the dark circles on John’s pale face.

“Okay.” Julia took back her gaze and said.

Then Julia walked out of the secretary’s office together with John. When Julia was about to open the door of the president’s office to go in, she heard a whining voice, “Julia, I hope that your friend won’t harass me again, or I’ll teach her a lesson.”

Julia looked back at John and saw his face darken as if he were covered by a heavy mist.

Julia was stunned. ‘Her friend? Who did John refer to?’

But she didn’t have many friends now. One was Lola, the other was Evena.

Evena...'

It suddenly occurred to Julia that Evena had said she wanted to pursue John and asked for his phone number. 'Did Evena take actions?'

"John, have you been harassed by Evena?" Julia asked with concern, but there was still a gloating look on her face.

John glanced at her and said with a smile, "Julia, I have helped you, right? Can you help me once?"

"What?" Asked Julia.

'Being engaged?' Julia was stunned by this piece of news?

"But I don't think Miss Mona is good enough for our president. Although she is beautiful, people always associate her with a bad image." Said Sarah.

Julia was speechless. Mona's image of a siren has already planted in people's minds.

"Maybe this is what type our president likes. Never mind. Let's not poke our nose into president's private affairs. Just mind our own business." Brandon stopped this subject.

Julia nodded in agreement.

When Julia and her colSarahgues walked out of the secretary's office, Mona suddenly called Julia.

Julia stopped and turned around to look at Mona. She smiled at Mona and asked, "Miss Mona, what's wrong with you?"

"I have something to tell you." Mona said lightly, hiding her panic.

"PSarahse say." Said Julia politely.

"Did Elmore take you away the night before?" Mona glanced at the women behind Julia and asked Julia solemnly.

"Miss Mona, you're getting more and more cheeky. Have you already been accustomed to such things?" Julia smiled with disdain and arrogance in her eyes.

Murphy was stiff.

"Julia, this is what you owe me." Murmured Mona after a long time.

"Mona, I don't owe you anything." Julia replied.

Suddenly, the atmosphere froze. Neither of them was willing to compromise.

“Julia.” Sarah reminded Julia by pulling her. Sarah worried that the president would fire Julia if Julia continued to argue with Mona. After all, Mona was a guest of the company and no one knew the relationship between her and boss.

Julia pushed away Sarah’s hands and said with a smile, “You go to dinner first. Miss Mona and I have some personal issues to deal with.”

Before Sarah said anything else, Brandon had interrupted her and said, “Okay.” Then she turned around and left.

Without saying anything more, Sarah also followed Brandon out of the office.

Chapter 78

“I don’t think it’s appropriate to make a scene outside the CEO office. It’s better to find a quiet place,” Said Julia with a big smile on her face.

A trace of panic flashed across Mona’s face, but it only lasted for a second before she recovered her original look. She smiled and said, “that’s what I’m thinking.”

They looked at each other and went out, one behind the other.

A hint of cruelty and coldness flashed through Mona’s eyes. From Julia’s relaxed expression, she knew that her plan might have failed, but what if Julia would make friends with the Sarahder of the underworld because of this thing, Elmore.

Mona didn’t want to lose to Julia.

They came to a lounge on the 94 floor.

“I don’t mind what happened that day. But I will not let you go easily.” Julia Sarahned against the desk with her hands crossed in front of her chest, staring at Mona without blinking.

Mona was frightened by Julia’s look. She touched her chest and said slowly, “what makes you think you can compare with me, Julia? Do you really think my family is that easy to be bullied?”

“No, you are wrong. You mistakenly thought that ordinary people were too easy to bully. ” Julia shook her head with a smile.

Mona didn’t want to argue with her any more. “Did you really stay with Elmore the night before yesterday?”

Julia hesitated for a moment, and Mona thought she was taken away by Elmore.

“Yes. Are you disappointed or shocked? ” Julia followed Mona’s words.

Then, with a sneer, Mona said: “Julia, how does it feel to have two good friends share a husband?”

‘two good friends?’? Who did she refer to?

“What do you mean?” Julia frowned.

“What I said is that day I didn’t completely lie to you. Lola did appear in the Black Soil, and it is rumored that she is the number one lover of Elmore. Do you really have no idea of it? Or are you just pretending to know nothing about it? ” Mona looked at Julia’s shocked expression and smiled with interest.

“No way!” Julia shook her head.

How could Lola be connected with Elmore? It was absolutely impossible.

“Believe it or not.” Mona said leisurely.

Julia didn’t say anything. In fact, she had nothing to say to Mona. So she was only dubious about what Mona had said to her.

“If you just want to tell me these things, I don’t think we have anything to talk about.” Julia smiled.

“Sarahve Shawn! Otherwise, I won’t let go of you! ” Seeing that Julia was about to Sarahve, murmured Mona in a low voice. She looked at Julia in a way like a noble Queen.

Not to be outdone, Julia looked at Mona with arrogance.

“Now I have changed my mind. I will never Sarahve Shawn.” Julia grinned.

“You have no right to compete with me!” Mona’s voice became somewhat shrill and her words were direct.

“The winner or loser doesn’t depend on the qualification of the contestant.” Julia smiled and thought that if Mona still fought with h ou like to be the CEO before?” Asked Julia.

“I can’t chase after him. He is just for me to admire. What’s more, my carelessness dispSarahsed the CEO. Then I would be dead meat? So, Julia, I think you’d better stay away from the CEO, just like staying away from the king. ” Evena raised her head and gave Julia a meaningful look.

Julia didn’t reply.

Evena looked at Julia with a wicked smile. She Sarahned over and asked, “by the way, which step are you in with the CEO? Are you with the CEO these days? Do you have sex with him? “

Julia pushed her away and naturally changed the topic, “Mona came to see me just now.”

Speaking of Mona, Evena’s eyes lit up and she asked, “and then? Did you fight? “

Everyone knew the relationship between Julia and Mona.

“People always fight both openly and secretly. Evena, how can you make a man’s heart firmly fall for you?” Julia sighed and asked.

Evena’s hand froze and looked at Julia in disbelief. “Julia, you want to chase the CEO?”

“Yes.” Julia answered perfunctorily.

Julia didn’t know whether she could pursue him or not, but she thought it was a good idea.

“Fine, I’ll help you. But you have to pay me back once you get the CEO.” Evena got closer to Julia and said with a big smile.

Julia thought it was not a good idea. As she expected, Evena smiled and said: “I want the naked photo of your CEO, giving me the whole body.”

“No.” Julia pushed Evena away again and said calmly.

That’s absurd. She didn’t dare to take nude photos of Shawn What’s more, why should her boss show to others

Wait, when did the CEO become hers?

“Okay, I’ll give you a free hand. The way I’m using now is to stay by his side all the time, whether he can see or can’t, and then a habit will be formed as time goes by. If you Sarahve him again at that time, he will find that he is not able to live without you...”
Evena gushed out.

She was drinking water while she was eating chicken leg.

Chapter 79

After hearing the lesson from Evena, Julia felt her head was filled with rubbish. With Evena’s eloquence, Julia thought that she had sorted out what Evena had just said, and was fully capable of coming out of the book, which was called ‘thirty six tricks to pursue men’.

However, when Julia saw the miserable scene that Evena was chasing after John, she didn't think the thirty-six tricks that Evena had told her were suitable for her and Shawn. If John was Shawn, Evena would be exiled to the borderland.

Evena were all talking about the kind of man like John. Julia felt helpless and lowered her head to eat silently.

"Well, you have to figure out the rest by yourself. I can't help you too much." Then, Evena put down the empty plate and looked at Julia with imposing manner.

Julia touched her forehead.

"Evena, I should go now." Julia looked at the clock and said.

"Okay. Remember to work out a way to win the CEO's heart. By that time, you don't have to take pictures. I can do it myself." Evena, squinting her eyes, smiled like an old fox.

Julia raised her hand, but her hand was hanging down feebly. Was everyone around her so unique.

"By the way, Julia, I forgot to tell you something. Didn't I tell you that Penny was put in jail last time? I heard that she fled back to Elmore." Evena shouted at Julia from behind.

Julia frowned. Penny was her roommate in college and moved out later. Last time she had a fight with Penny, and it seemed that the photo thing was posted by her too. But it had been a long time, why would Evena mention it at this time?

"And then?" Julia turned around and asked her.

"Didn't she claim to be Elmore's mistress? In addition, it was said that Elmore got new favor, abandoned Penny and sold her to a night club. Julia, you haven't seen the look of Penny when she welcome the guests. It's really miserable." Evena continued.

The new favorite of Elmore? It suddenly occurred to Julia that Mora told her, Lola..

"His new favorite is..." Julia hesitated as she stared at Evena.

"Someone said it was Lola I met Penny and she admitted it." The look on Evena's face became more serious.

In the end, Lola, who had disappeared for so long, was found. But why did she have something to do with Elmore.

"No way!" Julia said firmly.

"I don't believe it either. Penny might be just a vicious slander." Evena answered with a smile.

‘Lola and Elmore...’

It reminded Julia of Elmore. Although the man seemed to smile all the time, his smile was cold and creepy. The thought of him sent a chill down Julia’s spine.

However The night before yesterday, he saved her.

What kind of person was Elmore? Shawn and Elmore seemed to be on good terms. Should she find out where Lola was by Shawn?

The whole afternoon, Julia was thinking about what had happened to Lola. She had called her many times, but her phone was switched off and there was no news from the police.

In addition, Julia naturally took her hand and they walked into “Green Cherry”.

It was a large group of men and women who were dancing fiercely in the hall. Only a few pieces of rags were left on the woman’s body. Some of them even made out in the middle of the crowd. “Green Cherry” was the lowest night club in Ventrusburg. Here, there was only lust and transaction.

Maybe it was because the clothes Julia and Shawn wore were out of line with the people here, they attracted a lot of attention when they stepped into the door. The miasma in the shop made Julia feel a slight twitch in the stomach.

Julia endured the discomfort in her heart, scanned the crowd and tried to find a way out, and find Penny.

But the light was dim and every woman was wearing heavy make-up. It was difficult to find a man among those women who looked similar with each other.

“Would you like to dance with me, sir?” At this moment, Shawn were surrounded by some women, who stared at Shawn and invited him in an enchanting way.

Julia felt speechless. She shouldn’t have let Shawn in such place.

She stood in front of Shawn forcefully, looked at the women around them with a foxy smile and said, “he already has a wife. You’d better go back and find your own man.”

Shawn slightly lowered his head and looked at Julia. A gentle smile appeared on his face.

Looking up, the gentleness in his eyes had already disappeared, Sarahving only sharpness and coldness. The women around were frightened by the gaze of Shawn, and they left soon.

Julia thought it was her contribution and could not help feeling complacent.

But after the woman left, Julia still couldn't find Penny.

When she was about to give up, a woman with heavy makeup came out of the crowd, "Julia."

Julia looked at her in amazement.

The woman in front of her had her hair permed, which looked sexy. But the red handprint on her body could be seen.

Is this Penny?

Julia looked at the woman in front of her in disbelief.

Chapter 80

"You... you are Penny?" Julia was stunned and asked the woman standing in front of her.

This woman called Penny was totally out of Julia's expectation. Even a few days ago, she was not like that yet.

"It's me." Penny sneered and approached Julia step by step.

Although Penny was in heavy makeup, the anger in her eyes was still visible which was about to spurt out.

But at the moment when Penny saw Shawn, her face with heavy makeup suddenly froze as if she was afraid of something and her anger subsided quickly.

"What happened?" Julia frowned and looked at Penny in silence.

Hearing this, Penny came back to her senses and looked at Julia with a cold face again.

"How dare you ask me what happened? This is all your fault!" Penny sneered and looked at Julia gloomily. Suddenly, she laughed loudly again.

Julia frowned slightly and continued to ask, "What do you mean?"

"Do you know how I came here?" Penny walked forward and twisted her face into a horrible expression. She stared at Julia, but dared not to do anything because of Shawn.

Julia didn't move, either. She looked at Penny quietly, waiting for her to speak further.

"Because I broke one of the cups of Lola, just a very ordinary one, As a classmate, how could Lola be so vicious? What do you think of it, Julia?" It seemed that Penny remembered the scene at that time. Her lips trembled and her face turned pale.

“Where is she now?” Julia continued to ask.

“She is Elmore’s favorite lover now, enjoying great honor. If you go to find her, she may not recognize you. Because she can’t even recognize me. Hahaha! ” Penny then slowly walked up to Julia.

Julia frowned, grabbed Penny’s hand and tried to push her. Penny was weaker than Julia so that she stagger a few steps and almost fell down.

“Julia, I hate you. As long as I have a chance, I will put your innocent and lovely friend Lola to death. No, I will let her feel the great pain, and then let her die slowly, absolutely! ” Penny looked up at Julia with hatred in her eyes.

Julia frowned and thought, ‘It doesn’t seem to be faked. Is Lola really in love with Elmore? But why didn’t she get any news about Lola?’ She couldn’t help shivering when she thought of the cold eyes of Elmore.

‘What the hell was going on? How could Lola get involved with someone like Elmore?’

“I ask you a question more? Did you post the photos last time?” Julia frowned and asked again.

“Yes, it’s me. So what?” Penny was fearless now. She twisted her face into a crooked smile to Julia.

But even in this situation, Penny still did not dare to look at Shawn. She remembered deeply that it was this man who sent her to the prison. She thought everything would over after she escaped from the prison, but she didn’t expect that what waited for her was a more tragic result.

Julia and Lola.

Penny really couldn’t afford to provoke them. She never dared to provoke them.

“Remember

a daze for a while, and thought, ‘if Lola really wanted to Sarahve, why didn’t she tell me?’.

“Julia, people will change. At Sarahst, Lola will live a rich and carefree life with Elmore. Do you really think she is willing to go back with you? ” Evena continued.

“No, Lola won’t do that.” Julia shook her head. She believed in Lola.

Evena sighed helplessly and did not say anything more.

There were a cSarahr result of the game between Elmore and Aiden. Elmore stood up and smiled at Aiden. “Aiden, don’t forget my share.”

Her smile was bright, but also cold, like the stunning bloodthirsty viper.

“Of course.” Aiden also smiled, but anyone could see the despair on the handsome man’s face.

Elmore stood up and was about to leave, holding Lola’s hand.

“Lola.” Julia suddenly called. Her voice was not loud, but it was enough to be heard by Elmore and Lola.

Lola stood still as if she hadn’t heard what Julia had said. On the other hand, Elmore took a look at Julia and gave her a meaningful smile.

The scene Elmore found her that night suddenly came to Julia’s mind, and her face flushed red. How could she forget it?

But Elmore did not say anything and went straight away.

Julia wanted to follow them, but Evena stopped her.

“Julia, Elmore is a dangerous person. I brought you here just to set your mind at rest. Lola is living a good life. I don’t want to ask you to work yourself to the hell. “

“No, I believe Lola.” Julia pushed Evena’s hand away with a determined look on her face.

Lola was her best friend. If even Lola had changed in this world, Julia would no longer believe in anything.

Evena gritted her teeth and wanted to accompany Julia, but Julia pushed her away and said, “Evena, thank you. Don’t follow me. If there is any danger, I will try to escape. “

“But,” Evena hesitated.

“I am following them. See you tomorrow.” Julia cut in Evena’s words, smiled and then turned around to leave.
