

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 66

The two stared at each other. Katelyn was defeated and could only grit her teeth in hatred.

"Fine! I believe you once, but if anything happens to my daughter, I'll kill you, even if I have to risk my life!"

Without her standing in the way, Lyra entered the room unhindered and ordered someone to pick up Abigail.

With Katelyn's reluctant and worried expression, Abigail was taken away.

By the time Lyra returned to Keith's villa, it was at nightfall.

The afterglow of the sunset tinged the sky with a gentle orange color, enveloping the entire Frayton in a soft glow.

Keith picked a guest room, settled Abigail in, and joined Lyra on the couch to discuss the next steps.

Abigail's expression was calm. Her eyes were tightly closed, as if she was sleeping peacefully.

"Her condition looks stable, and all vital signs are normal." Keith took the examination report from his personal doctor and rubbed his chin.

Lyra took the report and looked again at Abigail in the bed. Her shapely eyebrows furrowed.

"It's hard to get her out of the vegetative state. The Matthews family spends a lot of money hiring famous doctors from home and abroad, but they couldn't do anything about it. If we want to start with Abigail, we have to use our trump card."

Keith knocked on the coffee table with his knuckles and turned an ashtray around.

"You mean?"

A glint of doubt flashed in Lyra's eyes.

"Rara, do you even forget this?"

Keith tapped her gently on the head helplessly.

"Have you forgotten that you have a medical elite brother? Not many people in this world can question his medical skills and authority."

It dawned on Lyra that she hadn't been in touch with the Lloyd family for so long that she had forgotten that her second brother, Micah Lloyd, was such an excellent person.

"But ...Micah is usually reticent, withdrawn and eccentric, and always busy. He lives in the neighbor city. He may not be willing to help this favor."
