

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 90

Kawa, who hadn't seen Lyra in years and was happy, was instantly angered by Sheila's remarks.

"Insulting my master, and insulting me. You are impatient to live?!"

When people who practiced martial arts were angry, one can feel her powerful oppressive force even in the screen.

Sheila instantly wimped out.

Kawa continued, "How dare you call her a parentless orphan?! Do you know that she ..."

"Kawa!"

Lyra interrupted and gave her a frowning stare.

Kawa froze and was a little puzzled, but in the end did not continue to say anything.

Lyra turned her attention back to Ashley.

Ashley was still in shock, stunned speechless.

Originally she thought that she can teach Lyra this little bitch a lesson through the opening ceremony, but no one expected that she not only really beat Master Dacey, but also made a big splash!

Who was the disciple?! Who was the thief?!

She was Kawa's master! Who would have thought that?

Anger overpowered Ashley .

At this moment so many pairs of eyes stared at her and she felt too ashamed to show her face.

However, she was still too naive.

Lyra had always been a vengeful person, so how could she let her go so easily?

"Miss Harrington, so are you wrong? Or I am?"

Ashley gritted her teeth in anger because Kawa's video call was still on, Keith was also nearby, and Lyra was supported by all the important figures.

She didn't dare to say anything too aggressive, so she forced a smile and said, "I was reckless this time. I offended you."

"That's it?"
