

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 92

Leon was confused for a second.

A nearby staff member who knew Lyra explained, "This is the agency director of Angle Group."

"So it's just a director. I thought it was the owner of Angle Group who was here."

The Leon's people roared with laughter.

Lyra, not shying away from the scene, walked over to Cody to make sure he wasn't hurt.

Fortunately, although this little brat lost the momentum today, he was not so passive to be beaten.

After confirming that Cody was intact, Lyra walked directly to a chair and sat down as if no one was there.

She was really tired and can sit and negotiate while never standing up.

But this act of hers was completely disrespectful in Leon's eyes.

"Your artist pissed me off, the contract is questionable, and this is the attitude you use to beg me?"

Lyra laughed, "Who says I'm here to beg you?"

Leon was flabbergasted.

Lyra changed to a comfortable position and sat down. Cody, seeing that she seemed tired, stood behind her obediently and rubbed her shoulders.

She enjoyed Cody's attentive service for a short while before continuing, "I'm here to ask for compensation."

"What! Compensation?"

Leon almost laughed out loud, "I didn't ask Angle Group for the set damage fee and lost work fee. Why do you have to ask me for compensation?"

Lyra cleared her throat, "You said there was a problem with the contract you signed with Angle Group and that's why you're holding Cody for extra hours, right?"

"That's right."

"But the contract was signed by the person in charge of you after repeatedly confirming it. You are not forced by Angle Group. Since it was confirmed before signing, it proves that there is no problem with this contract, and now you are actively picking trouble with the contract. Who is trying to exploit the legal loopholes?"

"You!"
