

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 93

Lyra smiled, "You don't need to know the reason, just do what I say."

The former owner could not say anything else, and the two sides quickly finished signing the contract.

Lyra let Jackie Osborne from Darkbell work in the company and overhauled the overall strategy, staffing plan and management.

After doing this, she sat back in her car and turned on her phone to check the recent news in the real estate industry.

She found out that the Freeman group had been temporarily operated by Fiona!

She couldn't help but shake her head in amusement.

Although Fiona was a high achiever in finance from the university when she was young, the affluent life in a luxurious family for years had long worn away her little business ability.

However, it would be good for Fiona if she were to manage the Freeman group temporarily.

She was afraid when Melvin disappeared a little longer, the Freeman family's money can be directly drained by Fiona and Sheila without her doing anything.

But she didn't mind using means to speed it up.

With this in mind, she arranged for Darkbell to quietly check out the Freeman group's recent investment trends.

She found that Fiona seemed to be interested in the suburban land in the west of the city.

So she called Jackie.

"Pay more attention to the project of the suburban land in the west of the city. I am bound to take it."

"Yes, boss."

...

In the meantime, Fiona was enjoying herself in the President's Office as an acting president.

The old Freeman was once in this office before and then his husband and son.

Now, when she sat in the president's chair, she only felt the power in her own hands. She knew how cool it felt!

come back yet, she would still be the acting president for a few more days, which seemed the planning department came over with the information by a list of

and found that they were all small and unknown

group compete

be able to take the land, and if

was very upset with her of bidding for the land project. I can't guarantee to take the land, because the

her head and that the kind of attitude you're using to talk to me? Believe it or not, I'll tell you to get lost by the scolding that she pushed the door the conversation in the room just

"Hello, Miss Ashley."

grievance, Kristi ran out of situation, smiled and went up to advise, "Fiona, even if you don't like her, do not let her go at this time. When the bid meeting is over, warmly while walking up to help Fiona her face had healed, but the Knowing that she was wronged, her father won't risk to help her to fix Lyra that only start with Fiona here and cooled down a little bit, and went to take her you, otherwise I must be angry to death by this bunch of bastards. You must have learned a lot of business and management knowledge when you

Ashley was waiting slightly and blushed modestly, "No, just know some of it, but don't worry, I will her

the old departments that had been her completely and had let her manage days later, it was the bidding conference for the suburban land in the west of group to take care of business and other company executives scanning through all the companies that came, Fiona felt even more certain of winning the bid, were about to go in when they suddenly silver and gray Maybach that pulled up to out of the car. She dressed a rose-colored slim dress, which under her exquisite makeup, her stunning face was astonishing