

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 99

Her hands turned white at the knuckles from clutching the sheets so hard.

She was obviously fearful that he would answer her question with a yes, but she still expected it a little bit.

But this time, Micah said nothing, coldly letting go of her hand and pushing the door without looking back.

Katelyn and Lyra, who were chatting on the couch outside the door, were startled to see the appalling expression on Micah's face as he came out.

Katelyn was the first to ask, "Mr. Micah... what's wrong?"

Micah ignored her and looked directly at Lyra, "You knew it well that she's faking it."

Was he ... really angry?

It was the first time Lyra had ever seen Micah scowl on her.

She blinked her eyes sheepishly, "I ..."

Micah didn't want to give her a chance to explain, and just went downstairs in stride.

Lyra was just about to go after him when she was pulled by Katelyn to see how Abigail was doing in the room.

Abigail's eyes were red, as if she had just cried, and she was not in a good mood.

Katelyn rushed to her and was heartbroken, "My dear daughter, I have advised you. Micah is so cold. He will not like you, but you insist on trying!"

Abigail bit the corner of her lip and didn't say anything.

Katelyn knew she was always stubborn and could not be dissuaded to do what she had decided, so she turned to Lyra and begged her.

"Lyra, for the sake of our friendship, can you help Abigail? You can make Mr. Micah be here in Frayton, so you must have a way to make him stay in Frayton!"

Lyra shook her head with a serious expression, "It's useless. He is a very principled man. Persuasion is not useful."

Maybe her words were too merciless for Abigail, but Lyra had no other choice but to say it straight.

Long pain was better than short one. Abigail can only rely on herself to think clearly early.

Katelyn sighed in disappointment.

Lyra saw this sad scene. She really can not help much, turned her head and intended to leave.

"Lyra!"

out to her, asking uncertainly, "Would you be my downfall was still fresh in her mind, so she silently for a

around, she

Keith's car

opened the door

with a stony

here? Who has offended

was unhappy, "I offended

"Rara, you did the right thing. Micah is dedicated to his medical research, with no angry ..."

cold, but in fact is shy. Anyway, you don't need to care about this. If he and Abigail really have the destiny that Lyra was finally relieved.

seemed to remember something and his

a very long time. And looked at him with a serious

about ... your

Melvin?

find out where he was. She only knew that he suddenly disappeared the

"You have found

Keith nodded his head.

found out that he is in the mountains

was indeed

But ...

"What's he doing there?"

say anything, as if there was something hard

all the dots and

over carefully, she shook her head didn't think I am dead and went there to get my corpse, did he? Even if I'm dead, he in coming back this time because he's stuck in the mountains.

Lyra's expression froze slightly.

in time to preside

could see her

what's your next

him and smiled slightly, "Well, I will give him a big 'surprise' on the day with a burning

fact, there were two other things that he hid from Rara ...

men who trapped Melvin was sent by Collin because Collin hated him. Therefore, Collin took this opportunity