

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 44

"Bell! Do I need to come over? Is Alex there with you?" I asked in a concerned voice hoping that she is okay.

"Choco! It's a mild fever and Alex is down the kitchen making me soup and you don't need to come cause you need to attend the medical conference, remember?" Bell replied sounding weak and after talking with her for a while and asking her to rest, I ended the call.

A while ago Alex had called me asking me to send him the recipe to make soup and when I asked him further he told me that Bell has got a fever and she had called him early in the morning to call him over. At first, I was disappointed as my BFF didn't call me when she needed me but then Alex reason out that she didn't want me to be late for the conference.

And talking about it, it will be starting in ten minutes so I grabbed my phone and unlocking the car, I get out and step inside Peter's hotel where the conference will be held with the presence of the top doctors, business associates, medical associates, and few government officials.

I passed the keys to the chaperone and entered the lobby. I looked around in hope of finding someone I know but all I saw was the strangers. So I walked to the reception desk and asked the beautiful lady about the medical conference.

"Mam, can you please tell me your name?" The burnet asked me with a beautiful smile.

"I'm Dr. Shalifa Velour. I a-" I was saying with a small smile playing on my lips when a voice came from behind and poke in between.

"No. It's Dr. Shalifa Shaub Reghen." A husky and familiar voice said from behind and I turn around to find the jerk giving me a playful smirk which made me to glare at him.

"Don't listen to him? Anyway, can you show me the way?" I asked sounding a little irritated and impatient.

"Thanks Laibya. I will take her." The jerk said snaking his hand on my waist and gave me a smug look.

"What the hell are you doing?" I hissed trying to free his hand but he tightened his grip and pulled me closer while gazing intensely at my face.

"I'm too here for the conference and I'm accompanying you, my love." He said in a playful voice and walked ahead but I stop in my track and was about to yell at him when an old lady gave me a nasty glare.

"Oh! What a handsome young man!" She chirped eyeing Shaub hungrily which was a disgusting sight to see as she was old enough to be his grandmother but no, she was shamelessly flirting with my jerk.

My jerk!? God! What's wrong with me?

"...Aww that so sweet of you and let me introduce you to my daughter. She..." A gorgeous woman with blonde hair walk towards us like a Victoria secret model and gave a seductive look to Shaub.

Shaub too gave a flirty grin to her and return the hug with me still at his side and not to forget the tight grip he has on my waist. Mother was not enough so now the daughter too is shamelessly batting her eyelashes at him.

I roll my eyes with a disgusted look and then thought of freeing myself from his hold but no the jerk didn't let me go. What the hell he is trying to do? I had a very good week without his presence but now he is not letting me go.

He had been sending me presents with a message written on the card and had continuously called me but I had ignored his every approach and now he is ignoring me by openly filtering with this two women when I'm trying to get rid of him.

"ahole." I muttered underneath my breath while boring hole on the side of his head.

"Shaub! If you are doing this to make me jealous then you have got the wrong move. So let me go." I lost my patience and with luck, I get rid of him.

I then walked away to the conference hall asking the bell boy for the direction and then my phone rang.

"Hello! Mom." I answer my phone walking down the hall.

"Honey! Your father is going to sue Shaub. He is not listening to me." Mom said in a panic voice and I could hear dad telling her to end the call.

"Mom! I had told him already that I don't want anything to do with Shaub anymore. He had already done enough damage and I don't want further destruction. What he had done has already been done? So it's waste of time fighting over something in which we will lose. Please mom make him understand. Please!" I don't want that jerk to make our lives more difficult and he is so powerful and rich that it would be of no use to case a file.

“Okay choco. I will try to make him understand. You know we love you and your dad has been through a lot so hope you understand. Don’t stress and believe in me.” Mom aured me and I inhale a long breath clearing my mind.

“Mom loves you too and you are the best. And now I got to go. Bye.” I tried to sound happy and with a bye, she ended the call. Then I felt someone’s presence behind my back which startled me and I gasped out loud with a scared look.

“Oh! Luim. You scared me to death.” I shake my head trying to control my breathing and he holds my arm with a sheepish look.

“Mm..I haven’t thought you will be scare like this. So now let’s go inside.” He intertwined our fingers and he looks at the side with a hard look.

I gave a confused look to him and followed his gaze to find a very pissed Shaub who was burning with angry and muttering curses under his breath. I just ignored the looks he was giving me and walked inside with Luim with a straight face.

I sat beside Luim and other colleagues and then the conference started with the introduction of medical care. And the whole time I could find Shaub penetrating gaze on me and when it was my time to speak his glare was making me hard to speak but I somehow ended my speech. Then the conference finally ended at 6 and bidding goodbye to others Luim and I walked towards the lobby.

“Choco! Can you have dinner with me? I want to take you out.” Luim asked once we were at the front door and gave me a hopeful eye. But before I could answer an annoying voice beat me to it.

“She is having dinner with me.” Shaub said glaring at Luim and halt beside me.

“I didn’t ask you ahole. So, Choco! Shall we go?” Luim hold my hand and gave me a pleading look to walk along but Shaub grabbed my another hand and pulled me towards him.

He could have made it through but half way Luim pull me towards him. And for a moment I couldn’t get what the hell is happening and they kept on pulling me back and forth, fighting for a mouth watering candy like small children.

“Stop it, you two!” I screamed trying not to gain much attention but all the people around the lobby were eyeing us differently like we were insane.

"I'm going my home so you two do the same or go wherever you want. But just leave me." I huff in annoyance and then I received a message from mom telling me to come home early for dinner.

I glare at them for the last time before walking out of the hotel and drove towards home. Ugh those two men are good for nothing. They always create scenes whenever they are together and embarra me in front of everyone. Why don't they understand that I don't want to go with both of them?

And when I reached home, mom was cooking dinner and she had taken out new sets of dinner plates which she does only when someone is coming for dinner. I asked her who was coming and she said that someone whom we knew but didn't tell me the name and send me off to change my dress. Then I asked mom about dad and she told me that dad listened to her and decided to agree with us.

After the dinner was ready and the table was set, someone rang the doorbell and mom asked me to look for it. Who could come at this hour? Dad had already arrived and Syong is in his room then it might be...mom's guest. I walked to the front door without looking at the side screen and opened the door to see the least expected person.

"What the hell? What are you doing here?" I shouted at Shaub who was wearing black shirt with denim and was carrying a bag in one hand.

"Is this your way to welcome the guest? Then I must say you are a bad host but you don't have to worry when I'm with you, my love?" He said with his signature smirk which made me to roll my eyes in irritation.

And I was about to close the door in his face but mom stop me while welcoming him inside like he is her freaking son.

"Mom! What ar-" I was about to ask mom when dad loud voice boomed from the living area.

"...GET OUT BEFORE I DO SOMETHING BAD." Dad shouted at Shaub with a venomous voice and gave a sharp glare at mom when she entered the room.

"Nat! I a-" Mom tried to reason out but Dad cut her off.

"No Rory! How could you invite him when he was the reason of our princess pain? How could you do this to her?" Dad screamed at mom and then Syong entered the room giving a disgusted look to Shaub.

"I invited him over to talk Nat and don't tell me that I couldn't invite him cause he is the only one who could fix the pain which our daughter is facing. But before that I want all of you to be civil with others. Dinner is getting cold so let's eat first. And thanks for the cookies, Shaub." Mom said in a stern voice leaving no place for argument and we all went to the dining area.

Dad denied having dinner but mom dragged him and made him to take the sit. Then mom served the dinner and mouthed sorry to me when Shaub seated next to me and our shoulder and thigh slightly touched making me shiver in the contact. There was a huge tension going in the room but mom was trying her best to ease the tension and converse with Shaub but dad was busy plotting his death and Syong too was giving out the same vibe.

I could hear Shaub's confident voice but I know that he was intimidated by dad's presence and he is afraid of making the wrong move so he didn't spare a glance at me. Not that I was disappointed but I wanted to tell him to go back as I could see my dad clenching and unclenching his fist and if he is mad then nobody could stop him not even my mom. But this time mom had done something which might make the situation worst as dad is overprotective about me and he wouldn't spare Shaub not anymore.

"Enough! Rory, I thought you were inviting Luimon to join us as he is dating our daughter but you.." Dad put the gla on the table with a thud and his words made me to choke on my food.

"Here drink this. You couldn't eat properly." Shaub made me drank the water and I relaxed placing my hand on my chest.

"I know what I had done isn't something reasonable but I'm extremely sorry for the things I have done. But please give me a chance..." Shaub apologized looking guilty and gave a sad look to me.

"You don't deserve a chance and just get the hell out of our house. You ahole." Syong spat with disgust and gave a blow to Shaub as he was sitting across him.

"SYONG! I TELL YOU TO ACT CIVIL AND NOW APOLOGIZE TO SHAUB. YOUR ACTION IS IRRELEVANT." Mom shouted and gave an apologetic look to Shaub.

I then get up from the chair and ran to the kitchen to bring the first aid. This is why I don't want my dad to sue him nor meet him and now my brother is equally pissed. But I knew Shaub had seen that blow coming towards him instead he remained still and let my brother paint his face.

Is he insane or what?

ADVERTISEMENT

"... it's my fault anyway and I should be sorry." I hear Shaub said once I enter the dining area and he stopped when he see me with the first aid box. I avoided making eye contact with anyone and sat down on my chair. I made Shaub look at me and apply medicine on his face while ignoring the looks my dad and brother were giving me.

“I think you’re happy to cause this disastrous dinner. Aren’t you?” I sarcastically said once I had finished applying the medicine and didn’t give him a chance to speak as I dragged him out to the front door and closed the door once we were out.

“Listen, Shaub! Now you have apologized to my family and got the blow so please don’t ever cross our path.” I said in a firm voice without showing any emotion and gave a get-away look.

“Why should I never come here? So that your boyfriend would get mad and you will have a hard time sending me away?” He seethed giving a harsh to me.

“And I know you miss me a lot as I miss you. Also, you’re angry with me but I won’t give up. I will make up to you, my love.” He said in a challenging voice giving me make-me-go-away look.

“Shaub! I don’t understand why do you want me to listen to you when there’s nothing I want to do with you. You are a certified jerk and seeing you made me feel the pain which I so wanted to subside but you didn’t let me do so by constantly reminding me of your existence.” I said in a pained voice and control myself from breaking down in front of him.

“So, I gave you pain? I...” Shaub asked in a broken voice with a hurt face and made me to look at his face.

His deep ocean blue eyes were not shining anymore but they were dull as if it has lost their shine and I couldn’t point out why he was hurt listening to my words.

“Tell me that you don’t want me around you. Tell Shalifa that I only give you pain. Tell me git.” Shaub furiously yelled at me and shake me to answer him.

“Mr. Shaub Reghen from the day I met you, all I have got was the pain and hatred from you. So do the favor of not coming back ever again.” I said looking directly in his eyes and he stares at me for a second and drove away getting in his car in a high speed.

I-I didn’t say the whole truth as it was a lie that he gave me only pain while he was the one who made me feel something special which nobody had ever made me feel. He is the jerk but at some point, he made me like that side of him too.

Ugh I’m going insane!

And when I entered the living area after five minutes of Shaub’s departure, I didn’t see anyone so thinking that they might have called it a day, I went to my room and after changing into my pj I lay down on the bed. I closed my eyes to sleep but I saw Shaub's hurt face and I tossed around on the bed to get some sleep but I became restless.

Then at midnight I received a call from an unknown number and I was about to reject it when I accidentally pressed the accept button and after listening to that person, all color drain from my face and I abruptly sat on the bed with a panicked expression.

"I'm coming there in a couple of minutes. Please take care of him." I then placed the mobile on the nightstand and ran to my closet putting on my shirt and pant. I took the mobile and grabbed the car key before getting out of the house to drive towards the stated address.

God! Please let him be okay. I-I regret saying those things to him.

Dramatic?

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 45

Sometimes you do wish for someone to hurt so badly just like that person had hurt you but why didn't you feel satisfied after seeing them hurt?

Why do you feel the pain as if you're the one who is hurt? The person who has given me the unbearable pain is in the bed surrounded by doctors and the medical unit yet I'm not happy to see him in pain.

"Mam, please take a sit." The lady in a nurse outfit told me as I was standing in the middle of the room gawking at the person lying unconscious in the bed.

When I had received the call informing me about Shaub's car accident and was told that he is being taken to his penthouse for the checkup, for a second I stop breathing and all sorts of negative thoughts clouded my mind. The whole ride here I was praying that he would be okay and the accident is not so major.

On my arrival, I met the policeman and he told me that Shaub had crashed his car near the pole and he was found unconscious in his car with smoke coming out from his car engine.

The first person on his favorite list was me so they had called and informed me. After doing his checkup and giving necessary medicine the doctors and medical unit left the place saying that he had just hit his head in the stirring wheel so there are no major injuries just a small wound on his forehead where they had put the bandage and he would be up in few hours.

When I was walking out of the room I heard his phone ring and the caller was Len. So I accepted the call recounting the whole incident and he asked me to take care of him as he was out of the country and Nicho and Nussy were on the vacation.

I so wanted to deny but remembering the days Shaub had taken care of me I felt selfish to go back. So I told Len that he doesn't need to worry and it's better that we don't inform Nicho and Nussy as Shaub is not hurt badly and they would worry a lot.

After looking at Shaub for the last time I get out of the room walking towards the kitchen to cook him some healthy food.

Even though we had dinner at my home, it wasn't like a normal dinner so I take the ingredients from the cabinet to prepare the soup. I looked around to find someone such as a maid but there was no soul around.

He lives here all by himself? But I have never seen him cook or maybe I have when he had made pizza in the mansion. And I must say it was delicious and he is a good cook while I lack the cooking skills.

After the soup was prepared I pour it in the bowl and covered it with a plate. Then I took it to his room and saw him lying awake on the bed while holding his head with his hands.

The sound of the spoon moving in the tray made him look at me and I just gave a small smile sitting near him and forwarded the tray.

"Here. Take this. It will help you to feel good." I said placing the tray in the side and gave him the bowl of soup.

And he have it without speaking a word while looking intensely at me as if he was searching for something inside me with his penetrating gaze.

I couldn't withstand his deep ocean blue eyes staring directly into my soul so I picked up the tray and was about to get up when he holds my wrist and made me sit down.

"Shalifa! I a-" He was about to say something but I cut him off.

"How are you feeling Shaub? Are you feeling light headed? Does your head hurt?" I questioned looking at his forehead.

"I'm fine now and thanks for the soup. But you have over cooked it." Shaub said drinking the water and I feel embarrassed that I couldn't cook even at my age.

I'm a horrible cook.

“Don’t be sad love. I appreciate that you at least try to make it.” He gave me a genuine smile and I get lost in his hypnotic eyes.

“I’m sorry Shalifa. I know I somehow used you but it wasn’t my intention to hurt you. Yeah! At first I thought I would make you fall in love with me and then leave you broken-hearted to see that ahole broken but when I got to know you, spend time with you all thoughts fly out of my mind. Since I was a little boy I hated women so much as I think they are like my mom who only think about themselves and wanted me for my fame and luxury but you....” He trailed off looking at me and caressed my hand slowly with his thumb.

“I never thought that it would hurt you when you would find out that I manipulated you to marry me and play with your feelings. But that day when you came and slapped me telling me that it’s the end of the unfortunate marriage, I then realized that I fed up. That day I was planning to tell you everything and ask for your forgiveness but that p destroyed everything. And truth to be told I didn’t like you from the first day I had met you and that’s the reason why I pull that act. I know my reasons are childish but my mom had hurt me so much emotionally that I couldn’t think rationally. I became so blind to take revenge that I didn’t care of anyone.” His voice cracks and he looked at me with guilt filled eyes.

ADVERTISEMENT

“You should have think Shaub. You had hurt not only me but my family too. You had manipulated us and played with our feelings. My mom had treated you like her son and my brother, whom you have used as a pawn in your revenge. You didn’t feel an ounce of guilt to betrayed them? For your sadistic pleasure, you made my life miserable for a year. A whole year I was tied to you and you know how many times I had been mentally hurt. You’re a selfish b and here you’re asking for forgiveness. Will you forgive me if I had hurt you? No. You even hadn’t forgiven your mother and you’re wanting others to forgive you. You’re pathetic....” I gave an accusing gaze and looked away from him.

“I’m pathetic Shalifa. I tried forgiving her and you know I did forgive her.” Shaub said gripping my hand tightly and I turn towards him.

“You forgive her?” I asked looking bewildered as I couldn’t believe that the jerk had let all his frustrations and anger to subside.

“I-I forgive her as you have told me that it’s better to forgive than to hold the grudge and if we forget our past and live our present then it will easier to live. And that’s the reality of life. I know you hate liars and still do but can you consider me? The day you have left me I have become a drunken mess and I don’t know when I will...” I placed a finger on his lips to stop him from saying further and then we stare at each others eyes while drowning in them.

Then he cupped my cheeks caressing them with his thumb and looked intensely at me which made heat to spread on my body.

His face came dangerously closer to mine and slowly he pressed his lips on mine, making my heart to beat abnormally.

It was a paionate kiss not too slow nor fast but the kiss to heal the pain he had given me. This time I didn't protest nor my mind told me to shove him away. It was like the right thing to do when he was the one whom I was yelling at the moment ago.

The kiss made me breathless and he pulled away to let me catch my breath then again place his lips were on mine making me moan in delight.

He pulled me towards his torso and trailed kisses down my jaw to my neck. He then found my sensitive spot and s it and place kisses making me to place my hand on his hair and he groans flipping me on my back.

"S-Shaub..." I moan his name while pulling his hair and tilted my head to give him more access.

He trailed kisses from my neck to my cleavage and I tightly gripped his hair when it was more than I could take. He placed a kiss on top of my cleavage and then my senses came back to me.

ADVERTISEMENT

Am I really ready for this? Have I forgiven him? Moreover, will I regret it?

As if sensing my discomfort he stopped placing kisses and looked at my eyes for a moment. His ocean deep blues eyes were so mesmerizing and there were full of lust and want.

I have never gone this far with anyone before and I hadn't thought I will let Shaub do this but something about him made me to believe him and I do what is right at the moment.

I pulled him to my level and kissed him like my whole world deepen on him. At first, I find him surprised by my sudden blunt act but later he too kissed me with same intensity.

That moment I let all the rational thoughts to fly away and let the moment to take the lead. The kiss and his touch awoke something inside me which made me to enjoy the moment of pleasure even if it's for a while.

"Shalifa I ca-" Shaub was about to say something while taking a long breath as the kiss had made us both gasp for breath but I stop him.

“Mm..I’m feeling sleepy. Just go to sleep.” I mumbled snuggling with my new pillow which is his chest and listened to his soft intake of breath.

“Good night, my love.” Shaub said pecking my forehead and a smile formed on my face.

“Good night, my jerk.” I mumbled drifting to dream land while drd on his arm.

The night turns out to be paionate with the heated kisses but the next morning....

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 46

Shaub's POV:

The intense light from the huge window made me groan and I snuggled deeper into the pillow. I tried to pull the soft body lying beside me a little bit closer but I didn't feel a thing. And I flew open my eyes and saw the space empty. I felt a pang of hurt in my chest and the smile disappeared from my face.

The images of yesterday's night came flashing on my eyes and I inhaled her scent which lingers in the air. I could still feel her soft body pressed against mine and how she shivers in my touch.

I have never felt attracted to any woman before but she...she would make me lose my sanity. Her body was perfect for me and the way she moans my name and the noises she makes was the song to my ears.

I have never slept with a woman in my bed let alone take her to my home but she is something special to me. She is the first woman I have ever lay in bed just for sleeping. I so wanted to do more than just kissing but I didn't want to make her feel uncomfortable so I stop from going further.

Other days I would have to kick out the woman from the bed but today when I see the spot empty I felt hurt and I feel bad for pulling that stunt. She hadn't told me that she forgave me but she didn't stop me. She had responded to my kisses and the way she kisses me back tells me that she too wants me as much I want her.

I now know that she is way too special for me and I can't lose her. If she needs some time then I would give her the time she wants to consider me. But now I have waited enough and let my stupid brain take its way.

Did I just say that?

Stupid brain? Seriously!

Then I abruptly get up from the bed and sprinted towards the living area. I searched for my car keys on the coffee table and then I heard a humming sound coming from the kitchen.

I haven't called the maid and no one lives here except me then who could it be? I listen carefully to the sound then find out that it's a woman's voice as it was soft and sweet to listen.

I tiptoe towards the kitchen and find the back of the woman who was humming Charlie's song. I leaned on the doorframe and watch Shalifa stir the mixture in the bowl.

She was wearing the same dress she had worn yesterday night but she was looking damn sy in that outfit. And I recalled the time when she had wore my shirt.

ADVERTISEMENT

Before when she had worn my shirt, it was really hard for me to shrugged off the feelings but now I wouldn't run away from my true feelings.

I slowly walk towards her and back hug her putting my chin on her shoulders and inhaled her scent which has made me addicted to it.

At first, she became tensed from the sudden contact but later she relaxes on my touch. Her soft skin was inviting me so much that I place pepper kisses on her neck. When I'm with her I just can't stop touching her and pulled her in my embrace.

"I thought you have left me." I said once I have heard her moan my name.

"Hmm...Why? Should I?" She mumbled playing with my fingers which were on the top of her stomach.

"Never. I want you to stay with me like this forever." I turn her around and placed a sloppy kiss on the corner of her lips.

"Nope. I can't stay like this forever. I..." Her stomach grumbled loudly and her cheeks turn a darker shade of red.

I raise her chin up to make her face me but she looks down due to embarrament and I pecked her cheeks making her closed her eyes in delight.

"What were you making?" I asked looking at the bowl she was using before.

"Uh I was trying to prepare pancakes. I..." She said in a low voice while making a sad face.

"It's okay. I will make the breakfast." I said in a cheerful voice and opened the refrigerator to take out eggs then her voice stops me.

"Shaub! You're hurt and I wa-" She was saying in a concerned voice but I cut her off taking out the eggs and bacon.

"No can do love. I'm fine now and I want to cook for you." I said taking out the pan and put it over the stove.

ADVERTISEMENT

"You can cook?" She sounded excited and gave me a bewildered look.

"Of course, my love. Once you eat the food I cook, you wouldn't want anything more." I said with a proud smile and started making the breakfast.

The whole time I find her gawking at me shamelessly but I didn't mind as her gaze made me to cook more attentively. I could find the amus*t in her eyes and the frown on her face when she sees how good cook I am.

I wasn't good at cooking at first but when I went on vacation in Hazel Wonder there Nessy taught me how to cook and now that cooking claes have help me to impress my love.

Once the breakfast was ready she helped me to set the table and we eat in silence. It wasn't some awkward silence but the one where we could stare at each other without averting our gaze and I cherished our little moment together.

And she didn't talk about yesterday night so I too didn't say anything. I don't want to spoil our mood by talking about something which would make her frown.

"Thank you for the breakfast, Shaub." She said getting up from the chair and picked up the plates.

"It's my pleasure and you don't need to do the dishes. I will call the maid." I said getting up but she just shakes her head stating it's okay and went inside the kitchen to do the dishes.

For a minute I just awkwardly stare at her back and finding me standing still she asked me to clean the counter and the table. I was so much hypnotized by her hazel brown orbs that I compile her words without registering what she was saying.

"Shaub! I was just joking. I don't mean to ask the heartthrob billionaire to wipe the table." She voiced out and then I regain my composer.

"I can't believe my own freaking eyes. The jerk is doing as I say?" She chuckled seeing me cleaning the table and I just continued on hearing her chuckle which has become the best music to my ear.

After doing the dishes and cleaning the table, we flopped down on the sofa and look at each other eyes. When our eyes lock the room disappeared and we went to our own land. I couldn't resist myself from tasting the sweet lips like strawberries so I pull her into the kiss which she returned with the same paion.

ADVERTISEMENT

"So what is your plan for today?" I asked once we pull apart leaving us both gasping for air.

"Umm What plans?" She asked with a raised eyebrow.

"You are going to spend the day with me, yeah?" I asked with the hope that she would say yes.

"Shaub! I have appointments and I can-" She was saying with some hesitation so I cut her off.

"Can't you take a leave? Please this one." I made puppy eyes and she began thinking for a moment but I couldn't hear her rejecting me so I say the three words that were the most difficult and beautiful words I have ever said to anyone.

"I love you." I blurt out in a go.

"What?" She snapped with wide eyes and looked bewildered.

"I-I Love You Shalifa. I'm in fing love with you. I have denied it earlier but now I realize the true feelings I have for you which is bigger than anything. My mind is always clouded about you and the days I live without you were the most difficult times of my life. I couldn't imagine my life without you. There is only you and you." I said placing my hands on her shoulders and looked intensely at her breathtaking hazel brown orbs.

Man! I'm seriously whipped.

"Ooo....What a nice show?" A familiar male voiced came from the front door and my body burned with rage the second I recognized that voice.

AN: Will choco reply the same?

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 47

The second we heard Luim's voice, Shaub's grip hardens on my shoulder and his face turn red with rage and anger. He gave a hard glare to Luim and left my shoulder sensing the change in my face.

"What the hell are you doing here? Get out this instant you a**hole." Shaub screamed clenching his fist till it turns white.

"I'm here for choco." Luim stride towards the sofa where I was sitting.

"Don't call her that? You p*****." Shaub said through gritted teeth.

"I will call her whatever I want and you don't have any right on her." Luim retorted with the same hatred.

"Right? I do have right on her. She is my f***ing wife." Shaub gave me a proud look when he said the last part.

"Wife? The hell she is your wife. The day it's complete one year she is out of the unfortunate marriage. So, stop saying b*****." Luim raised his voice and increased his speed towards me.

"She didn't sign any divorce paper nor the contract ending paper so she is legally my wife and you don't have any say in it. I may have fake the marriage but the marriage registration paper wasn't duplicated. Our marriage is rightfully done in terms of law." Shaub said with a smirk.

"Choco! Don't listen to his a**hole. Come here I will take you home. Yo-" Luim hold my hand and the second his hand came in contact with mine it was pulled away in a flash of light.

"You b*****! How dare you touch her?" Shaub punches him on his face and Luim landed on the side of the coffee table.

"She is m-" Before Luim could say more Shaub hover over him and beat the s*** of him.

But Luim too didn't give up and when he got the chance, he too returned the punches and they began fighting like the hormonal teenagers.

They stumbled upon the sofa and landed on the floor beside it. Luim was wearing a t-shirt and pants whereas Shaub was in his sweat pants and shirt which makes him more flexible and he threw punch over punch.

“JUST STOP YOU TWO.” I screamed trying to get their attention but they both were riled up with so much anger that they didn’t see anything other than each other.

“You’re just like your father. Huh, stealing other’s wife!” Shaub yelled while gripping Luim’s neck with a force.

“She is the woman I love so the f***er who is saying the s*** is the one who has come between us.” Luim muttered trying to shove his hand away but Shaub tightened the grip making Luim face to turn pale.

“Shaub! Leave him. You will kill him. SHAUB.” I couldn’t stand their childish act anymore so I pull Shaub’s hand away from Luim’s neck.

“Shaub! Please.” I literally begged him with a terrific voice and in that condition too Luim try to twitch his lips to smile.

“Luim! Are you okay?” I asked once Shaub has pulled his hand away and Luim was breathing hard.

I glare at Shaub who was looking at me with a blank look and I walk to the kitchen pouring the water into the gla** and walked towards Luim but Shaub stops me midway.

“Shaub! What are you doing?” I shouted when he blocked my way and He gave me a hurt look.

“What I’m doing? What you’re doing? You came to rescue him when I..” He sounded frustrated and ran his fingers through his hair.

“Was going to kill him.” I completed it for him.

“Shaub! He needs to drink the water. Please step aside.” I tried to reason out but no he let out a long sigh and gave me a menacing glare.

“Do you love him? That a**hole!” Shaub screamed making me flinch at his intensity.

“Answer me g*****it. Do you love him?” Shaub said through gritted teeth and clenched his fist till the point it will cause the blood to come out.

I could not take his s*** anymore so I brushed past him and crouched down on the floor next to Luim and made him drank the water. I rubbed his back while he was drinking the water and I felt Shaub’s scrutinizing gaze on my back.

“How are you feeling? Better?” I asked Luim once he had finished drinking the water and he nodded getting up and I help him to stand up steadily.

“Damn woman! You didn’t answer me.” Shaub pulled me towards him and gave me an impatient look.

“What’s there to tell? You have seen how much see care for me.” Luim speaks in a mocking tone and that’s what made Shaub angrier.

“Shaub! Calm down.” I said while holding his arm when he was about to pounce on Luim.

“Don’t calm me down? For god sake tell me how you feel about him?” Shaub swatted away my hand and ran his finger through his silky hair.

“Luim is my friend Shaub. I know him since college and he is my colleague. He is a good doctor. An-” Shaub loud sigh stop me from saying further.

“You only see him as a friend or...love just say it.” Shaub said in a cracked voice and gave me a pleading look telling me that he can’t take it anymore.

“H-He is my on-only guy friend.” Shaub’s tense shoulders relaxed but Luim raised his voice.

“Choco! You friend zone me because of this b*****. Who is the biggest liar?” Luim gave me a hurtful smile and look at me with disbelief.

“Luim! I have always seen you as my friend. I have never felt anything special with you and that day when you had proposed me to be your girl, I had told you that I couldn’t do that yet you told me to think about it.” I hear something broken and it was Luim who had accidentally dropped the vase off the table.

“I asked you to think about me but you...” He gave me an accusing gaze and I couldn’t withstand any of my anger.

“Truth to be told Luim, I hadn’t told you that I would say yes and we would be together. So stop accusing me of your feelings. I have every right to have feelings for anyone I want and I wouldn’t say sorry cause when you love someone then we wouldn’t expect them to return the same feelings. Love is not about having but giving.” I stated in a firm voice as I couldn’t control my anger when he looks at me like I have betrayed him.

“You don’t have to say sorry choco. It’s me who wanted to come when he knows that he would make fool of himself. But I hope you will choose the right guy for you. I will take the leave.” Luim didn’t meet my gaze and I know that he was trying hard to not to breakdown here. And he left the house with a broken face and maybe h-heart.

"It's okay. He needs to accept the truth and I will tell Max to look after him." Shaub wrapped his arm around me and pulled me in his embrace.

We didn't say anything for a while just stay in each other embrace while collecting our thoughts and then I remembered why Luim might have come here searching for me.

"Mmmm Shaub! I need to go." I said pulling away and walked towards his bedroom without giving him chance to speak.

"Where are you going?" I hear him ask when I was looking for my car keys and my phone which rang at the same time.

"Hello! Bell. Yeah! I forgot about it. But now I will meet you guys at 4 straight in the airport." I answered looking at the mirror and tucked my hair at the side.

"No. I will ask mom for help and are you sure you would be alright?" I ask remembering about her fever and picked the car keys from the nightstand I then walk out the door with Shaub trailing behind me.

"Oh! I'm heading to pack my clothes. Okay. Bye. See ya." I was shoving my phone in my pant pocket when Shaub gives me a questioning look.

"Shaub! I'm leaving today for the medical camp. I'm getting late so this is it." I said moving towards the front door but he holds my wrist and halts me on the track.

"How long?" He croaked out with utmost difficulty which was laced in his voice.

"Two months." I replied looking at his eyes which were begging me to don't go but I have made my decision.

"I love you." I recalled his voice and closed my eyes tightly and opened them giving a small smile to him. Then I sprinted out of the door and ran towards the elevator.

When the elevator door was closing I saw his mesmerizing deep blue orbs which made me to fall deeply and at the moment they were full of undeniable love for me. A part of me wanted him to run and stop me from leaving but another part wanted me to leave.

I left the person who told me he love me and I don't know whether I would regret it or.....

AN: Will she regret it or not?

"God Bell! you're literally making me lose my weight. I can't hold these heavy bags." I winced like a child and scrunch my face looking at the shopping bags.

"It wouldn't hurt to shop for the last time. Let's chill and enjoy the last moment in this beautiful place while we do some shopping." Bell had said that for the nth time and still she wasn't tired of it.

"We would get late for the flight Bell. You have done enough shopping." I yelled at her when she was busy looking at the five inch stilettos.

"I still have a lot more to shop so you can also look for something you want. And talking about the flight your hubby will send us his private jet if he had to, wouldn't he?" Bell said with a smirk and told the sales girl to pack the stilettos.

"He would be pissed if I don't get there in time." I muttered rolling my eyes and she chuckled in response.

"Oh! I have forgotten the main purpose of this shopping trip. Let's go there." Bell pointed towards lovely secrets and dragged me to the shop.

"Bell! I don't need new bra and p. I have enough." I groan at Bell when she was looking at the section of my size.

"Choco! You need to buy some lingerie and thongs. I know your hubby will go crazy when he sees you in it." Bell ignored my glares and continue looking at the lingerie.

Ever since I had told her that Shaub had once got a peek of my lacy p* while were video chatting, she was adamant about Shaub's having ws about me.

It happened accidentally when I was sitting crossed legged forgetting that I was wearing a sun dress and when I had looked up at him he gave me a heated look and my susion was confirmed.

So to fulfill his so called fantasy she wanted me to wear whatever she is buying at the moment. I wouldn't deny that Shaub is sy and hot but I don't know whether he finds me sy. It's just that he has been with so many gorgeous women that I'm don't find myself in the list of the competors.

Geez, what am I thinking?

He must have found me attractive otherwise he wouldn't have called five times a day. Yeah! he has video call countless times that sometimes my patients were irritated by my ring tone.

And whenever I would tell him to hang up, he would whine like a child and prolong our conversation talking about anything and everything.

The minute I had landed here, I got a call from him and he told me that he would give me space but just for two months.

He had told me that he loves me so much that it was difficult to not come here and take me back but he respects my decision. Then he flattered me by saying cheesy romantic lines and I was kind of impressed to see the efforts he was making to change my mind.

But I'm too hard headed so I stay rooted with my decision and let him do whatever he can to make up to me. He was quite a distraction on my work and I had told him to lessen the calls which he obviously denied.

Rather he sends me pictures or may I say selfie captioned I miss you and so on. The experience was of teenagers who were insanely in love with each other. And I tried to harden my heart but it has already created a space for him that was so damn hard to remove.

At last, the jerk has his way into my heart.

"I know the looks he had given you when you had worn the sy gown at Nicholas party and I also know the sual tension between you two so don't let him wait longer." Bell gave me an encouraging smile and I don't know why but I blushed imagining the possibilities.

"Three hours seems like a fing three years. Can't wait to see you wrapped in my arms? Come soon love." I read the message he had sent a second ago while I was blushing hard and show it to Bell who gave me a teasing look.

After groaning and yelling at Bell for a while, she finally stated that the shopping was over and we headed towards the airport. We meet with others there and the flight took off to NY.

I slept for an hour and then later Bell and I have a movie time. When the pilot announced that we're going to land my heart jump with joy and anticipation of meeting him form a huge grin on my face.

When we were walking out to the exit after collecting our luggage someone pulled me into a bone crushing hug and later kiss the life out of me. The kiss was full of love and longing.

It took me off guard for a few seconds but later I too kiss him with the same paion. I forget about my surroundings and my BFF for a while and when the sound of the camera flashes was heard we pull apart.

Then I look around to find the reporters capturing us and three bulky men were stopping them from reaching us.

I looked at Shaub to see him giving me an apologetic smile and he pulled me into his embrace possessively wrapping his hand on my waist and walked towards the exit. We ignored the paparazzi and I tried to hide my face by resting my head on Shaub's chest.

And Bell insists on taking the cab but Shaub gave her a lift. After dropping Bell at her apartment, I thought Shaub would drop me at my home, instead, he took me to his mansion.

I asked why he was taking me there but he remained silent giving me a huge grin. So, I texted my mom that I had arrived and will come home in a while.

When he stopped the car at the mansion I was about to get out when he opened the door for me like a gentleman and we walked inside with a huge smile while holding each other hands.

"Choco! I miss you a lot." Nicho came running towards us and engulfed me in a hug till Nussy replaced his place.

"I too miss you guys a lot. Nussy! Brown looks better." I said pointing towards her hair and she mumbled thank you while taking us to the living area.

There I hear some familiar voices having conversations and I was surprised to see mom and dad scolding Syong in a hushed voice. Syong noticed me first and he ran towards me giving me a hug and later mom and dad too join us.

Then I find out that it was some kind of reunion of two families and I was happy to hear that dad and Syong are okay with Shaub's presence. But then I didn't miss the glare my father was giving Shaub whenever Shaub would touch me.

Also, my dad was more hard headed than me that Shaub had to chase him for the whole two months to made him forgive him and I know that my dad still has some grudge against him. And it was midday when I had arrived here so we planned to cook dinner together. As I had come back just a while ago, Nussy and mom volunteered to cook and it was nice of them as I don't know how to cook.

So, I hang out with the men and dad became protective when Shaub asked me to come with him for a while. I tried to reason out to dad but he didn't let us sneak out.

Syong gave us a teasing look and I told him to help but he back out when dad warned him reminding him about their earlier conversations. And I sulk staying with them and listened to their conversations while Shaub and I text each other like teenagers. Well, my dad too was acting like one, and being the good daughter I'm, I follow his words.

Like that the dinner time came and we gather around the dining table with mom and Nussy joining us with the food. I sat between Shaub and Syong with Nicho at the head chair and dad at his side following mom and Nussy. We eat dinner while chatting a little and everyone appreciates their cooking.

I frowned when I remembered about my horrible cooking and Shaub gripped my hand reassuring me with his eyes while telling me that it's okay. I gave a huge smile to him and he too smiles in return then dad clear his throat making us continue eating our food.

When the dinner ended I tried to volunteer to clear the table but Nussy dismisses me saying that the maid will do it and then Nicho told us to gather in the living room to have deserts while watching a movie. While I was walking towards the living room someone holds my hand and dragged me down the hallway entering a room.

"Your Dad is becoming a grumpy old man." Shaub said with a distaste and closed the door.

"Shaub! He is my father and he can be grumpy. B-But today he overreacted." I frowned remembering the whole day.

"Finally, we are alone. I missed you a lot, my love." Shaub wrapped his hand around my waist and leaned down to come to my level looking intensely at my eyes.

"I too miss you a lot my jerk." I cupped his cheeks with my hand and gaze at those mesmerizing deep ocean blue eyes which were shining with joy.

"Still going on with the name jerk." Shaub furrowed his eyebrow at me with a cute pout.

"Yeah! My jerk." I caress his cheek with my thumb and he pulled me more into him.

"Your jerk? Sounds great, my love." He said in the same tone like mine and I drowned deeper in his eyes.

"I'm all yours." He gave me a sy smile and we stay in each other embrace for a while.

And all the things he had done and told me came flashing on my mind and I recalled his voice saying "I love you."

"I love you my jerk." I voice out softly overpowering my emotions and wrapped my arms around his neck and a huge smile plastered on my face when I registered my own words.

"W-Wh..." He trailed off when he finds me giving him a huge smile and then he too smiles like a fool.

"I love you too my love." He said closing out the distance of our mouth and seal it with a paionate kiss.

I finally confessed to my jerk. Only mine.

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 49

"Mmm Shaub!" I groan snuggling deep into the pillow.

"You're so beautiful." Shaub whispered beneath my lips and his breath fan on my face making shiver ran down my spine.

He placed pepper kisses on my face till my neck and I suppressed the moan which was trying to escape from my mouth. He then found the sensitive spot on my neck and I tilted my head giving him more access.

"S-Shaub! What time is it?" I asked running my hand through his silky hair.

"Mmmm maybe 8" He mumbled kissing the sensitive spot.

"What? 8? Bell and Rachel are coming for breakfast. I need to shower and get ready." I said in a frantic tone and shove him away.

"Umm...Can't it wait for a while?" Shaub said with a pout but I ignored the look he was giving me and walked towards the bathroom.

"If I don't get down for breakfast then dad will be susious. You must have sneak in my room early in the morning, yeah?" I whispered yell from the bathroom while putting the paste on the tooth brush.

"I...you know it's really difficult to stay away from you and your dad is not helping. But my love you don't need to worry anymore." He said standing at the bathroom door frame with his sy smile.

"Are you joining us for breakfast?" I asked spitting the foam on the sink and washed my mouth with the tap water.

"I would love to but I have important things to do. And if I do something for us then would you be happy? I mean..." He trailed off and looked at me with pure adoration.

"I love you." I whispered in his ear while engulfing him in a hug to let him know that I believe him and then mom knocked on my room asking me to get down soon.

"I can't get enough of you. I love you infinite my love." He said with a peck and then we hear my brother's voice inside my room.

"Bro! Time is up." Syong whispered yell and Shaub walked out the bathroom.

I then hear Syong scolding Shaub for taking a longer time than they had agreed on and demanded to doubled the offer. Then I know that my brother has helped him like he has done many times.

Dad usually goes for morning walk around 5 in morning and that's the time when Shaub sneaks into my room with the help of my brother and they have done this for a while.

My mom knows all about this but she didn't mind it whereas my dad has become quite strict. He is guarding me like I'm his little princess. And from all this, the one who is benefited is my brother as my jerk has bribed him.

God! All the teenage phase is going in my life when I'm a grown up woman which is thanks to my dad for being overprotective. And he still seemed to have some trust issues with Shaub and it's hard for me to see the tension between them.

After taking a shower and putting on the pink tops and skinny jeans I went down to the kitchen and hear laughter and familiar voices coming from the dining area.

A smile form on my face when I saw my BFF and Rachel talking with my brother or moreover arguing with him.

"Good morning guys." I chirped with a huge smile and all the eyes were on me.

"Morning beautiful and what's with the giddy smile?" Rachel spoke up wiggling her eyebrows at me.

“Umm it’s b-beautiful...morning and I got to see you guys.” I replied taking the plates from mom’s hand while hiding the blush that crept on my face and I placed the plates on the table without making eye contact.

“Oo...beautiful morning! We understand it, yeah Bella?” Rachel said with a teasing smile and all of them laugh except me of course.

Since the night we had confessed our love to each other we have been going on dates, sometimes sneaking out, attending romantic dinner with lots of making out.

And it was hard to see Luim giving me a hurt look whenever I’m with Shaub while ignoring me but I have made it clear that I don’t see him more than a friend and he should let his one sided love to fade away.

Also, not having more strength to tolerate their constant argument and the hatred they show to each other, I somehow pursue them to act civil at least once.

It was really a difficult task to make them tolerate each other presence but Shaub promised me that he would try even if it is difficult. And same goes with Jade and Shaub’s relation.

Shaub had told me that he had forgiven her but I know that he still couldn’t call her his mother. Anyways they all are trying to start the new chapter of their life and I’m happy that Shaub is changing.

I’m not happy because he is changing for me but he is changing for his own good. And we also went to meet Mr.Andre Detex, Luim’s dad who had called Shaub his son and I saw Shaub feeling guilty when he found out Andre was a nice guy.

Jade wanted us to visit them often but Shaub declines telling that he wasn’t ready to move on to that phase and Jade was hurt hearing that but later she too agrees with him.

When Len heard about us being together he was extremely happy and told us that he would try his best to make up with Rachel. And talking about her we have become quite close as we have met few times and she had lunch with us saying that she misses her Shabby a lot.

And when I hear Shaub call her princess I couldn’t deny that I wasn’t feeling jealous. I felt like an insecure woman who couldn’t see her man even looking at other women but when he told me that I was his queen then all the jealousy and insecurities flies away.

I saw the sincerity and the true love for me in his eyes which made me to fall harder for him. I got more attached to him and I have become quite possessive of my jerk.

“Oh! Choco! We are here to lighten your mood but seems like someone else...” Bell teases me with a smirk.

ADVERTISEMENT

“Bella Stark!” I hissed when I saw dad coming towards the table and it was not usual when I take her full name. She knows that Shaub was in my room but no she needs to tease me about it.

“Honey you... Oh! What have we got here? Two fine pretty ladies to have breakfast with us.” Dad said with a welcoming smile and both Rachel and Bell share the same greetings.

I excuse to help mom bring the food on the table and we eat breakfast listening to Syong’s movie reviews.

When breakfast ended Bell help my mom to clean the kitchen and I washed the dishes not letting Rachel to help me. Then dad and Syong disappeared to somewhere I don’t know and when I asked mom she just shrug it off.

And I hear dad ask mom about his tux and I wonder where he is going wearing it. Also, why did he need it now?

“Um Choco! Rachel here has something to tell you, yeah?” Bell looked at Rachel gesturing her to speak.

“Uhh yeah. Sh..choco I want you to come with me. Now.” Rachel speaks looking a bit hesitant and I looked from Bell to Rachel as they were sharing looks like you-tell-her.

“Okay. But where?” I asked with a confused look.

“Huh. Where is it Bell?” Rachel asked raising her eyebrow at Bell who was looking as if she is trying to think of something to answer.

“Oh choco! You will see it once we reached there. So, Rachel let’s hit the road.” Bell literally dragged me towards the Rachel car and we drove to God’s knows where.

I tried to make them speak the truth by irritating them by asking the same questions again and again but they didn’t give away a thing.

I could see them sharing an ambiguous look from time to time but no one answers my questions. And I know that these two friends of mine were hiding something huge from me but what?

Time to think hard choco.

After driving for 20 minutes we came to halt at Beauli which is the bridal shop and I gave a bewildered look at the two women at my both sides who were looking like my bodyguards but they just gave me a sheepish smile.

I forced my leg to walk inside as I have no idea what we were doing here and then out of no where a girl came with a wedding gown. At first, I thought it wasn't for me but when she passed the dress to Rachel and Rachel look at the gown and then at me. I then know that she wants me to wear that dress.

"What the hell is going on? Why have you brought me here? Earth to Bell." I snapped my fingers at Bell and Rachel gave me a huge grin which was kind of suspicious.

"Well, choco! I had given your photos to one of the wedding photographers and now he wants you to pose for him. He wants a new girl and I thought of you as you have got a pretty face and you're perfect to wear this wedding gown." Rachel blurted out while trying to hide her nervousness.

"But. Bell..." I was about to deny it when Bell cut me off.

ADVERTISEMENT

"No but. Choco! Look you have made her sad and you're perfect to wear this beautiful dress. And I bet Shaub would go head over heels for you. He is already though. And please put on the dress if we don't want to be late for the w..what's it called? Umm yeah! photoshoot." Bell literally pushed me to the changing room along with the dress and locked the door from outside.

"Bell! I haven't done the photoshoot before and I don't think I..." I tried to protest banging my hand on the door asking to let go but my stubborn BFF wouldn't listen to me.

Ughh! I have done the mistake of coming here with those two devils who claim to be my friends. I sigh in frustration when I didn't hear anything from outside and my gaze fell on the wedding gown which was ethereal.

And it was inviting me to wear it. After waiting for a while I decided to wear the gown and then in a while the door was opened by Bell who gasped looking at me from head to toe being mesmerized by the beauty of the gown.

"God! Choco! You're looking breathtaking." Bell yelled giving me a hug and Rachel too share the same expression.

"I really don't know how to pose in front of cameras but you need to cover up for me." I said to Rachel and she nodded calling the makeup artist who helped to make me more beautiful me.

“Do I need to put this on?” I pointed towards the veil when a girl placed it on the table.

“Without veil, you wouldn’t look like a bride you silly girl.” Bell said sarcastically which made me to roll my eyes in annoyance.

“Well! Congratulations Ms.Shalifa. Y-” The makeup artist was going to say something but Rachel interrupted saying that her work was finished here.

How rude of her!

“Congratulations?” I murmured with a bewildered look when I registered her words.

“Oh! She was congratulating you for the...” Bell trailed off looking at Rachel who was acting weird than earlier.

“Pho-Photoshoot.” Rachel voice out not meeting my gaze and I find both of them sighing in..relief.

Relief?

What are these women up to? I smell something fishy.

AN:Can anyone guess what’s going on?

Billionaire's Unfortunate Marriage by Yu tanit Chapter 50

I eye the two devils sus**iously from head to toe to find anything off but they gave me a sheepish smile which creeps me out and somehow all sorts of ridiculous thoughts came into my mind.

“Why are you guys wearing the gown?” I asked with a raised eyebrow.

“It’s what every bridesmaid wear. Choco! You need to just relax and wait till...” Bell said with hesitation but didn’t complete the sentence. And she looks anxious, excited and irritated at the same time.

“Bridesmaids? Why are you wearing it?” I voiced out as I thought I was only doing the shoot but I don’t get any reply.

And I looked at them to find Bell busying picking out the lipstick and Rachel was nowhere to be found.

“Are you guys selling me?” I raised my voice a little bit as Bell had ignored me a minute ago.

“Selling? You? Are you out of your mind choco? You think of us as some sort of dealers or whatever they are called them?!” Bell shakes her head with a chuckle and picked out three different shades of red lipstick from the makeup box which didn’t do any good to my mood.

“Then why are you acting weird? It seems like you guys are trying to hide something from me. What if you are giving me away to some psychopath who likes to kill women in bridal attire?” I said whatever my mind was thinking at the moment.

“No. No, we’re not going to do any of those things. I know you are surprised by all of this but you need to trust us.” Rachel said with a chuckle and get interrupted by a girl who was holding the shoe box.

Rachel gestured the girl to place the shoes in front of me and I wear them without complaining as the shoes were perfect for the gown I was wearing.

I don’t know why but I was freaking out for some unknown reason. All the impossible things were clouding on my mind and I was being dramatic.

For a moment I imagine this two women as some kind of villain who wanted to send me away from my love.

My love?

God! I need to talk with Shaub. He might know what these two are up to. I hope they wouldn’t betray me.

“Bell! Where is my mobile? I need to call Shaub.” I asked trying my best to look calm and cool.

“Why?” She said putting on the lipstick and did not bother to give me my mobile.

“Why? Why are you asking me that? I can call him whenever I want. So tell me where is my mobile.” I said in a b****y tone as she was completely ignoring me and how dare she asked me why I need to call him?

Geez! I don’t think I’m on my period.

Before Bell could say anything or I could look for my mobile Rachel came running towards me and do the last touch up telling me that we’re getting late.

I saw Bell looking for something on the chair where she was sitting and then she picked up a black object from the floor near the dressing table which seems like my mobile but she put it in her bag before I could see it clearly and she walked ahead of us ignoring me.

Different scenarios played on my mind about what the hell is going to happen and if I could really do this..this photoshoot but somehow my heart was at ease.

As if it knows whatever is going on it's for the best. Then Rachel leads me towards the parking area and we get in the car with me freaking out from inside.

God! I'm going crazy.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Choco! We have reached our destination." Bell said in a serious voice giving me a nervous look when the car came to halt but Rachel squeezed my hand giving me an encouraging smile.

I took a long intake of breath and get down from the car holding the gown with the two hands then the sound of the car roaring made me snap out of my thinking and I looked around to find the two devils disappeared or may I say there were nowhere to be seen.

For a second I felt like what-the-fudge-is-going-on? I then turn around to look at the car but it too was vanished which made me to look here and there and then I find a man who was wearing a black tux striding towards me with a look of happiness, nervousness, and annoyance.

"Dad." I whispered yell when he came to stop in front of me.

"Princess." He said pulling me into a bone crushing hug.

"Honey! You're ruining her makeup." I hear mom said from the side.

"Ooo..my baby girl has grown so much that it's finally the biggest day of our life. And you're looking beautiful." Mom said with few tears br***** in her eyes and before I could say anything she too engulfed me in a bone crushing hug being extra careful of my beautiful attire and of course makeup.

"Your grandma would have been so happy to see you like this. She..." Dad trailed off when he saw the lone tear slip from my eye.

"It's okay choco. She would be watching you from above and yeah she would be the one who will be more than happy to see you guys together." Mom took out the tissue paper from her glittered clutch which she had match with her long wavy gown and she wiped the left corner of my eye without ruining my eyeliner.

“She had told me that he is something special and he is the one for you. Before I couldn’t understand her words but now I know that you two are made for each other.” Mom beamed with happiness and kind of get emotional.

“Mom..” I was about to tell her that I’m wearing the gown for the photoshoot then dad interrupted me.

“Princess! Are you sure about it?” Dad asked in a stern voice as if he need some kind of a**urance.

“Yeah. Why ar-” I was cut off again.

“OH MY GOD CHOCO! You’re looking absolutely gorgeous. Are you sure you’re the doctor Shalifa who wears hospital suit more than the causal dresses?” Syong gaped with wide eyes while putting his chin on mom’s shoulder and gave me a mocking grin.

“Dad! Am I not looking good?” I asked feeling a little bit down from my little brother’s words.

“Good? You’re looking absolutely stunning hun.” Mom said smacking my brother in his head and he shields his head with his hand moving far away from mom.

“Syong! You shouldn’t have said that to her. I have seen you complimenting other girls with a b***ery tone but you couldn’t do that to your own sister.” Mom scolded him shaking her head with a huff.

“Okay. I’m the culprit who has gotten his punishment so now let’s go inside before he will freak out.” Syong said running his hand through his hair as mom had ruined his hair.

“Mrs.Velour, mom has been looking for you.” A familiar voice called from behind and it’s none other than Luim who was looking quite handsome in his three piece suit.

“Uh..I was also looking for her. Nat, I will be inside so best of luck to you.” Mom gave an encouraging smile to dad and giving a motherly look at me she walked ahead along with Syong to the side where Luim had appeared a minute ago.

“Umm...Princess. I know it’s new for you and also the happiest moment of your life. But it’s equally hard for me to send you off my princess, my bundle of joy, and my first born. You are the piece of my heart and it’s difficult for me to give it to someone else.” Dad suddenly became emotional and I felt to cry my heart out.

“Anyways I’m happy that you have found someone whom you love from your whole heart and hopefully he too does the same.” Dad gave me a sad smile which makes it hard for me to not to go all emotional.

“So my princess! You up for walking down the aisle with your dad to marry the man who has your heart.” Dad said forwarding his right hand towards me.

“Wait. You’re asking me to walk down the aisle to marry Shaub?” I asked with disbelief with a wide mouth making my dad scrunched his eyebrows in confusion.

“Umm..if you’re planning to back out or run away then I’m up for it.” Luim gave me a sheepish smile and wiggled his eyebrow pointing towards the parking lot.

“Yeah, choco.” Dad said with a hopeful smile.

“Dad! You still have a problem with Shaub.” I asked with a frown sounding a little bit sad.

“No problem Princess. But I want you to be happy and make the right decision unlike before.” Dad gave me a look which tells I’m-happy-with-whatever-you-choose.

And Dad’s words made to look from Luim to dad and I did the one thing which would make everyone happy.

“I love you dad.” I said holding his left arm while giving him a heartwarming smile.

“I love you too princess.” He too returns the same smile and we walked ahead me calming my inner turmoils which doubled when I hear the news of me marrying the man of my heart.

Jerk. He had secretly planned this along with our family members and I thought I was doing some photo shoot.

Foolish Choco!

I was two seconds away from greeting an attack when the door to my wedding hall was opening and thanks to dad that his a**uring smile and his firm hold didn’t let me to land on my b*** when I saw the people looking at our way with awe and a huge smile plastered on their face.

Saying I was nervous wouldn’t be an understatement as I was freaking out from inside and I was sure that the people could see that on my face.

I was a bad actor and I wonder why Shaub has told me that I’m way better than his model girlfriends? I was trying to divert my mind from the current situation thinking about some random stuff and then I met the gaze of the two devils who were giving me a sheepish smile yet were beaming with happiness.

Traitors.

“She is my princess and the precious piece of my heart so treat her with love otherwise you wouldn’t be able to handle my wrath.” Dad’s deadliest voice made me snap out of my thinking and we have come to halt near the center of the altar where Shaub was waiting for me.

“Will do dad.” Shaub said with a heartwarming smile and after a few seconds of pin drop silence Dad places my hand on Shaub’s who was looking at me with pure adoration and love.

“You’re looking phenomenal my love.” Shaub said in a hushed voice when the priest began to start the ceremony and I just gave a shy smile to him.

“Mr.Reghen you can proceed.” The priest said once he has said few words which I didn’t hear as I was busy looking at those breathtaking ocean deep blue eyes.

“You, my love is the reason for the happiness I got to witness in my life and you’re everything I could ask for. And I’m the lucky one to have your heart which is full of love for me and with you by my side we will surely enjoy the life we have got to live. Our love will help us to forgive each other, to believe each other and to make our family together. I, Shaub Reghen will cherish you till my last breath.” Shaub said each and every word with utmost love and the people witnessing our moment make an awe sound.

“Ms.Velour you may proceed.” I heard the priest said from the side.

“No. I mean uh..” I blurted out obliviously creating a scene as I heard what? Is she alright? coming from the people sitting on the chairs.

“What do you mean to say my love?” Shaub spoke sounding hurt yet he tried to look calm.

“You never ask me to marry you.” I exaggerated the word marry.

“Huh. You want me to propose you. I ha-” Shaub was trying to reason out or maybe something close to it but my mind rewinds the time back in the morning when he had actually indirectly asked me for marrying him.

God! How can I be so foolish? Now I understand why he was asking me that question and I didn’t give him time to say further. All the time the people around me were showing me how happy they were of our decision and I’m the one who couldn’t make it out.

Gosh! I’m embarra**ed.

No bride would have come with the propose question when it was her time to say her vows. I-I'm the different bride who is just difficult to understand other than her medical skills.

"You're the most infuriating person I have ever met and you're so much egoistic that it took me a whole year to understand the real you. Yet you're the one who has my heart even though you act like a jerk. I, Shalifa Velour love you enough to be with you till my last breath." I said whatever I felt at the moment pouring my heart out while gaining all people's attention.

"Huh." Shaub voiced out looking bewildered but the priest cut him off.

"With the blessings of the god, I may pronounce you husband and wife. You may kiss the bride." Then all the people cheered for us and in a swift, I was in Shaub's embrace and we kissed like there is no tomorrow.

"God! For a second I was gonna have an attack when you told me that I didn't propose you." He said resting his forehead on mine with his killer smile.

"Well it's the pay back for lying about the photoshoot. And you didn't propose me Mr.husband." I said with an accusing gaze.

"Oh really. You didn't remember the special night when we had made love and you were screaming my name, Mrs.Wifey." He whispered in my ear slightly grazing his lips on my earlobe as we were being posed for a photograph.

"Th-that doesn't count as the proposal." I stuttered when the flashes of that pa**ionate night came through my mind and my cheeks get a darker shade of red.

And it's the story for another day as it was really a long night and his proposal was...

"Love, you really forget how I propose you after the three rounds of...wait we have got enough time to make you remember it or maybe it will be more..." He got interrupted when our family came to congratulate us.

Mom, dad, Syong, Nicho, Nussy, Len, Rachel, Bell, Jade, Luim and his dad and my colleagues and Shaub's close business a**ociates joined us to celebrate the happiest moment of our life.

They all were happy for us and the wedding party began with loud music and our loved ones gathered together.

And I know that grandma is looking at us from her new home and she is happy to see us together and her choco has finally found her love.

I have never thought that the person whom I had not like from the first moment will be the one with whom I will want to spend my whole life and give all the love I have had.

He is not the perfect person and nobody are entirely perfect even I'm not, so I need to say that we're perfect for each other as our heart belongs to each other.

"You happy with the things going on my love? I can propose you like how the guys do and we can marry again if you..." Shaub mused with a slight frown when I have just come to him after dancing with my dad which was kind of emotional.

"I'm happy that you're the man I love even your proposal s***s and I love you." He then crashed his lips on mine and we began the new journey of our fortunate marriage.
