

Hallucinations? - 35

Ava's POV

It was almost 6pm and a lot happened today. I got moved by Mr. Cooper into the event section of the restaurant. I'm very thankful and great full for all of this. I had made a few friends here and we were organising a wedding's food section that's coming up soon.

Mr. Cooper stood near he doorway waving his hand in a way to make everyone come closer to him so I stepped towards the crowd surrounded around Mr. Cooper. He cleared his throat and said. "We have a very important event to prepare for in less than a weeks time." everyone gasped cause of how short the time is to prepare an important event.

"I want the event to be very grand as our restaurant has been o ered for working with-" Mr. Cooper got cut o by a man running frantically behind him. "Mr. Cooper I'm sorry to disturb you but we have an emergency." the man said to Mr. Cooper, they both spoke to each other in low voices, then Mr. Cooper waved him o and turned back towards us.

"I can't stay for any longer and explain but the event should be taken place in our restaurant in a weeks time and I will put Ava in charge for all the arrangements. Now everyone start working and I don't want anything wrong to happen, this is important for my restaurant." with that he walked out the doorway everyone scurried o to their counters.

I stood there dumbfounded cause of how can Mr. Cooper give me a job to arrange everything for this event when I just started working here today it's unfair for everybody else.

What do I do?

A voice interrupted my thoughts. "Ava can you tell us where to start o with?" a woman named Amber asked me as everyone else huddled around me asking for the same question. I shook my head to get rid of my thoughts and start focusing on the important event coming up that Mr. Cooper wants us to prepare for.

A er a while all of the sta and I had discussed the plan for the event. I'm tired as hell, the sky was turning dark so I quickly texted Rose that I'm leaving and she replied to me that she is waiting for me at the entrance of this restaurant. I said goodbye to everyone here and headed out of the doorway and walked to where Rose was waiting for me.

My thoughts got interrupted by a sound of footsteps coming from behind me. I realised that I had walked into a dead end. I walked into a totally di erent area of the restaurant and not to Rose cause I was distracted by my thoughts.

I turned around and I felt chills rise as a figure walked towards me slowly. I panicked and backed onto the wall behind me, it felt as if I was drowned in my nightmares I've been having before.

Dead end, Dark corridor and... Carter.

The figure now stood right in front of me. I struggled to breathe as the figure's hand reached up to cup my cheek. I screamed on the top of my lungs hoping someone could help me. Tears dripped from my eyes as I shook in fear. "Shh...It's okay calm down, it's me." the voice said and I immediately recognised it. It belonged to Carter.

Carter hugged me tightly as I tried to fight against him. "I-I don't know what I did to make you run away from me but please come back." he said. I sobbed as a whimper escaped my lips. "I love you." he said and I lost it, I let my emotions spill.

"Go away from me." I yelled at him making him slightly flinch at the change of my tone. "Ava pl-" I cut him o by screaming. "Leave me!" I cried as new tears sprang to my eyes. He seemed to get the message so I felt him back away from me. "I'll get you back no matter what." he said before completely letting go of me and disappearing. ↵

I fell to the ground and bought my legs up to my chest and cried my eyes out. I didn't know if I was imagining that or it was all true. I was shaken up by it. I began to get light headed as my vision slowly started to spin. I clutched my head in my hands but it didn't help.

My body fell onto the floor but I felt as if someone was calling out for my name, the last thing I saw was Rose running towards me but then my eyes closed as the darkness consumed me. ↵

Carter's POV

Ava collapsed down onto the floor as I rushed up to her but stopped when someone turned on the lights so I quickly hid behind a wall. "Ava! Wake up." she shouted shaking Ava's shoulders as Ava was lying unconscious on the ground.

My plan was to arrange a party with Mr. Cooper and get Ava back.

It was easy to do that since Mr. Cooper was thrilled to meet me a er all these years that he agreed for arranging a party. He told me all about Ava, that she was one of his best workers.

I was really happy to know about that but she won't even talk to me.

When she told me to leave her I respected her decision but I will get her back no matter what.

By the time I broke out of my thoughts Ava was sitting on the ground with Rose rubbing her back. "What happened why were you on the floor?" Rose asked Ava. "I-I saw him Rose, h-he found me" she cried hugging Rose.

"Who found you?" Rose asked Ava so ly. "The man that broke my heart..." Ava replied sobbing.

I broke her heart? I didn't do anything to her. ↵

Rose sighed in confusion, " Him?But I never saw anyone when I came in here, maybe you are hallucinating" Ava shook her head and said, "I just wanna go home." Rose nodded and got up helping Ava stand up as well. "We'll talk about this later, but let's pick up Noah and we'll get you to the hospital, you seem very pale." Rose said and Ava nodded her head as they walked away from me.

"I was so scared. I was worried about you cause you never came to me when I messaged you to..." Rose's voice faded as they disappeared from my view.

I'm so confused... why was Ava saying that I broke her heart? Did I do something that she thought I didn't love her? ↵

Or did anyone threaten her? No then why would Ava say I broke her heart? I need answers. And I know how to get them. ↵

The party coming up this week between Mr. Cooper's restaurant and my company will get me my answer.
