

BLACK PLAIN 263

Chapter 263: Have We Been Persecuted? (*)

Minutes quickly passed, and at that moment, Mendy was on top of the young Stuart, riding him with enthusiasm. At the same time, her hips moved vigorously, rubbing her little sister against Minos' groin.

She had already had a series of multiple orgasms. However, the two were continuing their activity, as Minos was not there yet. But the two were very satisfied with their 'action,' especially the beauty on top of this young man.

Her entire body was soaked in beads of sweat, and her lovely pink nipples were rhythmically undulating with her movements.

The look on this young woman's face looked completely different from before when she was still unsure of such decision. At this moment, only the burning flame of desire could be seen in this young lady of the Stokes family, who seemed wholly given over to Minos.

"Mmm~"

As the inner walls of Mendy's cavity 'milked' Minos's rod, she bent down and then began a warm kiss with him.

Their tongues 'embraced' as if in a dance, with the two of them exchanging their bodily fluids and feeling each other.

"Ahhh~" She broke the kiss for a moment and then let out a heavenly moan, feeling her next climax coming.

And feeling his partner's natural reactions, Minos almost instantly lowered his mouth to her neck, starting to suckle it.

"Ahhh~"

Simultaneously, the skillful hands of this young man stimulated other erogenous zones of this beautiful young woman's body. He used one of his hands to lightly squeeze one of Mendy's nipples simultaneously as the fingers of the other hand massaged her sexy buttocks.

"Ahh~ I'm getting there again~"

"Hah~ Me~ Either~"

And finally, the two of them got there at the same time, this time when Mendy shivered vigorously, collapsing into Minos' chest.

The previous action had significantly stimulated her body, and now she could barely support herself.

Slurp!

Their bodies were still connected when little by little, Minos' rod slipped past Mendy's little sister, leaving a white trail behind.

"Hah, that was amazing!" She said in a low voice as she closed her eyes for a moment and smiled contentedly. Mirya indeed hadn't been mistaken! She then completed as she ran her small hands over Minos' chest. "Give me a break, and I'll join you again..."

Hearing this, Minos didn't say anything, just kissing her forehead and pushing her aside, when he finally turned to the side of the bed where Mirya and Viola were standing.

"Mmmm~"

At this point, the mother and daughter pair were in the '69' position, sucking and massaging each other's privates. At two, they had started their activity simultaneously with Minos and Mendy and had already reached their climaxes sometimes.

However, the night was just beginning, and the two still had energy for much more...

And seeing these two women right by his side, Minos couldn't help but lick his lips, soon engaging in their 'fun.' Viola had her hot ass turned toward him, with her mother sucking her. In contrast, this young woman's second hole twitched as if she were asking for something...

'Hehe, here I come!'

While the group of four had fun exploring each other's sexuality, elsewhere in the Cromwell Kingdom, Vivian was almost on the Hayes family territory.

She had traveled all the way to that place, only stopping when her spiritual beast needed rest. She was in a hurry, and with each passing day, Vivian became more and more anxious for the recovery of her friend, Grace.

Anyway, in the time that had passed, she and her bodyguard had crossed nearly a thousand kilometers and were now only a few dozen from the town where Grace was.

The family of the young lover of Vivian lived within the territory of the Hayes family, where the headquarters of that power was. But this was not related to the relationship of these two, but to the fact of the noble family that Grace came from this region.

Grace had been born into the third generation of this organization, which had been created by a former subordinate of the Hayes family. However, they had not yet received the merit of ruling their own territory, having only a few areas within the domain of Vivian's family.

Anyway, that was one of the reasons these two young women had met, and now Vivian was on her way to that location, where her friend and lover lived.

She and Samuel could already see the city skyline, where buildings with more than 20 floors appeared at various points, giving the impression of a prosperous place.

This city in front of them was called Primrose, where more than 3 million people lived. That was the Hayes family's headquarters, the home of Davy and Vivian.

Anyway, they mounted their spiritual beasts, chasing the soil path from where they were to that place. The two were finally approaching a small village when suddenly someone appeared descending from the skies in a winged spiritual beast.

The beast descended at that point, where there were several tall trees, a few dozen meters in front of a small village that was between the city of Primrose and the place where Vivian was.

The beating of the beast's wings lifted a layer of earth from the ground, along with several leaves that had fallen in that place.

Finally, a tall, muscular man, wearing armor bearing the Chambers family's symbol, climbed down from the back of that beast, looking deeply at Vivian and Samuel.

At the same time, as they saw that, these two people had been frightened by the arrival of that person, while their beasts seemed to be anxious too.

Vivian, who had seemed a little anxious to get to her town earlier, now had a perplexed look on her face, feeling a chill in her spine.

"Shit, was this person following us?" She asked, looking at her bodyguard.

"It's likely. We traveled in a lot of hurry. It wouldn't be impossible to track us..." Samuel replied.

He knew this could happen, but he had nothing to do with it. Vivian did not want to waste more time than necessary to return to Primrose due to the fear of not arriving in time.

Anyway, at that moment, the Spiritual King who had been chasing Vivian's tracks, Roy, finally stopped about 50 meters away from where Vivian and Samuel were and smiled. "Vivian Hayes, I didn't think it was you who left so many clues behind. But, hahaha, apparently even people famous for their intelligence can still act like idiots under certain circumstances..."

Hearing this, both Vivian and Samuel furrowed their eyebrows as beads of sweat were already beginning to form on their respective foreheads. The bodyguard then took a few steps forward and asked. "Mr. Roy, may I know the reason for your intrusion? Here is Hayes family territory. Remember where you are!"

"Hahahaha, do you take me for a fool? Asking me about something so obvious..." He said condescendingly. However, shortly after saying this, he changed his expression, becoming quite serious as he said it. "Ms. Vivian will accompany me back to the Chambers family headquarters to pay for her crimes! Breaking into one of our bases is a severe crime!"

"Invade one of your bases? What proof do you have that we did this? How can Spiritual Generals break into a base like that?" Vivian asked, trying to call out the man's reason.

"I don't know, but I think Ms. Vivian knows the answer." He then started walking towards those two while saying. "Make your choices, surrender without resistance, or suffer the consequences for antagonizing me!"

And at that, Samuel's expression grew even darker as he turned to Vivian and said in a low voice. "Ms. Vivian, run quickly. I'll hold him. You just have to run a little more until you get to the entrance of the city!"

Vivian then shook her head, indicating that she understood her bodyguard's plan. As long as she was within that city, it would be impossible for Roy to kidnap her!
