

BLACK PLAIN 364

Chapter 364: Is This What You Want?

After Elen left that place, Elena stood in the same spot as before, staring at the young man in front of her.

Since she had seen Minos on Stone Island, he had risen several levels and had undergone a spiritual cleansing. Because of this, physically, the sovereign of the Black Plain was much more attractive to Elena.

'You've improved quite a bit, huh...' She thought as she appraised him.

After a while of silence, she finally asked something. "That girl from before, eh, Abby. Is she your girlfriend?"

After hearing this, Minos smiled. He already wondered why this woman had stayed behind, and she hadn't disappointed him. "We're not a couple, but we're getting along well. Why the question?"

"Oh? That's right? I don't know if she thinks that way, the way she looks at you..." Elena commented, remembering Abby's little gestures while she'd been with Minos during the breakfast.

She seemed almost in sync with Minos, watching him closely with a look that only lovers would have for each other. And as an attentive woman, Elena had naturally not missed such signs.

Elena then got up from her place and walked around the table that was separating her from Minos until she finally turned his chair sideways and sat on his lap. She then said something in a low voice beside his right ear. "Would she mind sharing you with me for a while?"

After that, Elena unbuttoned her shirt, showing her beautiful breasts to Minos until they finally kissed.

"Mmm~"

Elena was indeed a rare beauty to find. Even though she didn't have the best measurements among Minos' sex partners, she could still be considered one of the most beautiful. Because of this, an easy and shameless young man like this sovereign could not help but feel excited by Elena's 'attack.'

And his relationship with Abby, despite going very well, still didn't satisfy all the physical needs of a young adult at the beginning of his sex life...

He might be happy with all the progress he had made, but that doesn't mean he didn't want something more!

"Mmm~ Your skill is even better, huh..." Elena commented, right after separating her kiss with Minos.

And in doing so, Minos couldn't help but stop for a moment to touch her beautiful breasts, bringing one of them up to his mouth.

"Ahh~"

Moans sounded through that place until, after some time, Elena was on top of Minos' table while he sucked her fervently.

The young woman had her dress up, as her breasts jumped out of her clothes and she stared at the ceiling with her face completely flushed. One of her hands touched her left breast while the other massaged Minos' brown hair.

"Ahh~ Cumming~"

Squirt!

At that moment, a jet of liquid came out of Elena's little sister, wetting part of Minos' mouth as he drank most of the contents. He then thoroughly cleaned her lower lips until not a single drop was left behind.

And by doing that, Minos was already getting ready to take his clothes off and move on with it when he suddenly stopped. 'I better not do this...' This thought crossed his mind when this young man felt like he should hold back for the first time.

At this point, Minos couldn't help but imagine how disappointed Abby would be with him if he went ahead with such an action without speaking to her.

If he had sex with Elena, it would be very obvious to his friend!

However, by stopping here, the problem could be avoided. Such marks left behind by sex could mark a cultivator's aura for days to weeks, depending on the intensity of the thing.

But the aura could only be felt at higher levels than the level Minos and Abby are. As for the scent left behind, something that his friend could feel, it wouldn't last more than a day, even for wild sex sessions. And since Minos had only played with Elena for a few moments, the remnants of that would be gone when he saw Abby later in the day.

Elena finally noticed Minos' delay in progressing with the action when she finally looked at him and saw him standing still while one of his hands had stopped unbuttoning his shirt.

"Why are you stopping?" She asked.

"You are gorgeous, Elena, and you made me lose my sense for a moment... I want to fuck you, but I don't want to screw up my relationship with Abby."

"Oh?" She was surprised by such a statement.

Elena was quite experienced in these matters, and she had seen such things happen to certain men. But it was unusual to have self-control in the situation in which Minos was.

Elena was very confident in her looks and skills in bed, so she was interested in this development.

"Looks like you like her, and she must be pretty jealous. Am I right?" She asked.

"She's truly possessive, so I can't just act without thinking. And as my best friend, I care about her feelings." He explained while closing his shirt.

"I understand. How about if I join you two later? That way, she'll be part of the action, and it won't be a problem..." She was just suggesting that when Minos laughed at this comment.

"I would love to do something like that, believe me. But that must be impossible." He said as he closed his eyes for a moment and tried to visualize the scene. 'It would be interesting...'

Elena then sighed and said defeatedly. "Wow, so is she like that? Huh, okay, so we'll do it after you talk to her."

After that, the young blonde left Minos' office, heading back to the residence she had received at the local mansion.

She wasn't completely dissatisfied. After all, the young Stuart had even made her get there once. And given the fact that culturally many powerful men bonded with several women simultaneously, Elena didn't think Abby would fully restrict him.

Such a thing could have the opposite effect of forcing the figure of Minos away.

And Elena knew women like Abby. In general, these women didn't forbid their husband or boyfriend from dating others, as long as it was discussed first. That was a cultural habit...

As for Minos, after heaving a long sigh at the thought of what he had given up, he quickly returned to his daily work.

Night fell in the Dry City, and the streets had already lost much of their movement by this time.

It was a bit chilly locally when Minos finally returned from his training session in the Spatial Kingdom before Abby arrived at his residence.

The young Stuart had just finished his bath and still had his hair wet when a young woman wearing a discreet outfit appeared in his room.

She had a sweet smile on her face when she approached Minos and hugged him. Abby had also finished her training session before coming here and was ready to go to bed with her friend, as she had said she would do earlier.

"Good evening!" She said as she hugged him, already moving to kiss his lips.

"Mmm~" As they kissed for a moment, the blue-haired girl was quickly taking off her clothes, when suddenly Minos stopped her.

"Abby, we have to talk." He said as he stopped touching one of her buttocks and ran his hands around Abby's slim waist.

"Why don't we talk later?" She suggested as she helped him out of his shirt.

"I think you would probably be angry if I said that later..."

"What do you mean?" This time she looked at him more seriously when they were finally sitting on Minos' bed.

He then held one of her hands and said, staring into her eyes. "Abby, you know me, and you know I'm not a one-woman man."

After hearing such a comment, the eyebrows of Abby came together as she gradually understood what he was trying to say. "Do you want to have sex with one of those two?"

"Hmm."

"Which one?"

"Elena."

Abby then fell silent as she stared at Minos, a little unsatisfied to hear such a thing. As she did so, she ran her hand through her hair a few times, with her face gently tilted.

Abby was thinking about all this, but she couldn't deny that she appreciated the fact that he'd come to talk to her before something happened...

'That woman is gorgeous. Even I'm almost attracted to her...!' She sighed inwardly, feeling that she had no reason to forbid Minos from going ahead with his wishes. Abby then asked. "What about me? Will you leave me aside to be with her? Is this what you want?"
