

BLACK PLAIN 367

Chapter 367: Military Exercise 2

Immediately dozens of attacks were released towards the young Stuart, sent by those soldiers from the groups that were not under his attacks.

These individuals were far enough to be unaffected by Minos' techniques. And with that, they had quickly gathered together at different points to fight at a distance against that young sovereign.

Simultaneously, the group attacked by Minos had been wholly immobilized, while their energies were continually being drained.

'Damn!' Some soldier thought while he couldn't even move an inch.

On the other hand, several blades were heading towards some of these soldiers to eliminate them from the match.

Each blade contained just the power needed to bypass these soldiers' defenses and make them waste their energy. After all, if Minos used everything he had, not only would he destroy his sword, but his soldiers would also be killed...

Boom!

"Ahh!"

Finally, the blades cut through the defenses of that soldiers, with many of them being sent flying from that spot, screaming in pain.

Some had received blows on their defense techniques, only being thrown a few meters away, already pale and without energy. However, some hadn't even had time to try to defend themselves before being immobilized by Minos' technique.

As a result, several other soldiers received Minos' blows on their shoulders, back, and legs. Some were thrown into the distance, crashing heavily against the place's terrain, creating several craters there. Others howled in pain after falling and starting to vomit bloody mouths.

"Ahhh!"

And finally, after Minos' blows had eliminated several opponents, the attacks created by the other soldiers had gotten close enough to him.

Minos had already felt such attacks even before he had finished his first move and was already prepared to dodge most of them.

Pow!

Whoop!

Boom!

Several charges passed through that terrain while the young sovereign ran from one side to the other of the battlefield, dodging the attacks and counterattacking some of them.

Young Stuart's movement technique was excellent, and he had practically instantaneous reflexes. Because of that, even dodging those attacks that came closer to his body was not difficult.

However, Minos had not been able to defend himself against all of them due to the number of attacks. But nothing had happened to him.

When using his Indestructible Body, he would need to receive many hits of the level of those sent by the soldiers so that his technique would not work perfectly. So, Minos still hadn't taken any damage, even after so many attacks were sent towards him!

Boom!

The battle quickly became hectic as Minos moved quickly across the battlefield, slowly attacking his opponents. At the same time, he struggled to dodge and defend against the soldiers' charges, sometimes even using his opponents as human shields...

And amidst this chaotic scenario, ten soldiers were standing out in this battle, having managed to escape more than once from Minos' onslaughts.

That was precisely the group of soldiers who had gone with Minos to Stone Island and had had the opportunity to learn Silver-grade movement techniques!

And precisely because of these techniques, the ten soldiers had managed to escape Minos' advances. Although their techniques were of a lower caliber than those of their young master's, they had gained an advantage in this scenario where many other warriors lacked such a thing.

Apart from them, all the other soldiers used Black-grade movement techniques, something that made them slower in battle!

"Pyke, since we are the fastest of the group, we should become the bait so that the rest of the people can attack the young master." One of the ten soldiers said to Pyke.

"Okay, this sounds like a good idea. Let's go!"

After that, the group broke up, trying to get closer to the young Stuart and catch his attention. Then, as the fastest ones, they could attack and run more efficiently and create chances for other soldiers!

"Attack!"

Tens of seconds passed, and by this time, half of the soldiers who had gathered to fight Minos had been eliminated from the military exercise.

Of these numbers, naturally, some of the ten soldiers had been involved, as by putting themselves in the bait position, they would naturally be eliminated.

After all, the nail that stands out is the first one to be hammered!

However, such eliminations had not been useless. On the contrary, several soldiers had managed to deliver their blows on the young Stuart, causing him to expend much of his spiritual energy in defending himself.

But Minos still had the advantage. He was continually stealing energy from his soldiers, and each time he activated the Spatial Sword, several of them were eliminated in the next second.

Meanwhile, Elen and Elena stood with their mouths open, watching in awe Minos' fight on the spectators' side.

They couldn't help but wonder what would happen if they were in the young Stuart's place. 'I probably couldn't handle even 3 of them...' Elena thought to herself as she clenched her fists tightly.

She had thought to ask Minos for some tips, in a one-on-one fight, later when he returned from the Kingdom of the Waves. However, now seeing such a difference, she couldn't help putting that idea behind her.

'A common person can't fight a monster like that.'

On the other hand, Elen was pleased to see that some of the rumors she had heard were true. 'With such a feat, when he reaches the 6th stage of cultivation, he will already be considered a medium-level specialist in our region!'

"Amazing! The master is truly phenomenal!" Alison excitedly squealed as she chatted with Lee.

'One day, I want to be like this!' Lee thought to himself, seeing Minos taking down eight Sergeants at once while dodging the attacks of ten opponents.

Boom!

...

Boom!

"Elmer, this is your chance. Only you are left to give us a chance to win." Peter yelled aloud toward one of the soldiers that had his fists glowing red.

"Take advantage that Sergeant Pyke is trying to hold the young master, Elmer. Try to attack him with everything!" Another soldier yelled, already running towards Minos and attacking him.

Pow!

"OK!" After that, Sergeant Elmer, a person with an innate ability that made his fists as strong as high-level grade-2 weapons, began to move towards Minos.

The plan was to attack the young Stuart with everything and then finish the fight!

...

Swoosh!

Swoosh!

Boom!

The chaotic battle scenario continued in that place, with several attacks cutting across the sky. At the same time, noises of different intensities sounded around.

The terrain was already full of holes, some more than 3 meters deep, while small mounds of the earth began to form. At the same time, occasionally, the dust was thrown into the air, reducing the visibility of that place where screams of pain emanated.

"Ahhhh!"

Minos' blades threw another soldier, who already coughed up blood and falling into a corner away from the fight.

"Huh, huh, this is your chance, Elmer..." Pyke steadied himself in that spot as he saw from afar the chance he had just created.

At that moment, Minos, who already had his body covered in sweat stains, finally felt Elmer's movement towards him.

This soldier was quickly approaching Minos as he hopped from side to side, flexing his arms. And by the time the young sovereign's attack had hurled Pyke, Elmer had finally come close enough to his target.

Pow!

'Nice strategy, but it won't work.' Minos thought to himself while he had a smile on his face.

He knew Elmer's traits very well, but it was a pity that this soldier was only at level 42. Otherwise, if he were at the same level as Ruth was when traveling with Minos, level 46, then his move would be dangerous for the young Stuart.

Having sturdy fists as high-level grade-2 weapons were great. But that took energy from its user, and Elmer hadn't reached the point of having enough to threaten Minos.

And obviously, the soldiers didn't know about these higher-level strength differences than theirs, as Minos did... So, that's why they had believed in such a strategy.

Puff!

After that, the young sovereign made a horizontal movement with that sword, hitting Elmer heavily on this man's shoulder, sending him away already unconscious.

'Damn!' The other soldiers still standing thought about it when they saw Minos making his last movement.

"Let's finish this!"
