

BLACK PLAIN 472

Chapter 472: Research Results 1

"Ahhhh~ Coming~" Ruth moaned in pleasure as she felt her little sister spurt her love juices as she 'embraced' young Stuart's rod with even more passion than in the last 3 hours...

At the same time, she felt her uterus being filled with Minos' special liquid once more as she sat on top of him, with her beautiful body trembling.

After that moment, the two sweaty youths lay side by side on that bed, breathing hurriedly, as they faced each other, with satisfied smiles on their faces.

"Ahh, that was fantastic! You don't know how much I've been looking forward to this moment..." Ruth commented with her tired voice as she ran a hand over young Stuart's chest.

Then, Minos immediately smiled back at her when he ran one of his hands over Ruth's pretty face and said. "I also loved these last few hours with you..."

Finally, when Ruth's eyes slowly found Minos' little brother, she suddenly smiled and asked. "Is it just me, or is it bigger?"

"Hehehe, did you notice?" He smiled for a moment and then continued. "I don't know if this is normal for other men, as there are no public records on these things. But it seems that there is a certain margin of growth..."

After hearing this, Ruth's eyebrows rose while her face flushed even more. "Although this is a little weird... I think it makes sense. After all, our appearances get better, so why can't other things go through the same?"

"Hmm, it probably has something to do with the impurities in our bodies..."

The two then continued this unproductive conversation for some time, having touched on some very intimate points of each other and even having a few laughs. After that brief moment, the two took a long shower until they finally got dressed and left that residence they had used.

A short time later, the couple arrived at Minos' office, where Mia was already working. As they passed her, Ruth promptly greeted this secretary, having been only a little surprised by this woman's strength and physical improvement.

After all, even though Ruth saw Mia when this secretary was only in the 4th stage of cultivation, this woman already expected this kind of thing to happen in this place.

Consequently, even if she could still be surprised by certain things, she wouldn't think for long about anything she saw in the Dry City. She had already got used to the local reality and had learned not to doubt the Black Plain's potential!

And eventually, the couple entered the main office of that place, where Minos had to do his job, and Ruth wanted to spend her time watching him before going to do other things.

Ruth truly enjoyed being involved in Minos' daily affairs and watching him make decisions. She felt excellent about it and even felt a particular pride in the things this young man did.

That was strange for her, as she didn't usually get involved in such matters when she was in the Flaming Empire, even if she had such an opportunity... But, there was nothing to do, Ruth was like that with Minos, and she felt good when doing this.

Yet, she had no intention of accompanying this young man all day. No, Ruth knew Minos was much faster at cultivating than she was, so if she didn't want to be left behind, it would take a lot of effort on her part!

So, this young woman planned to spend only a tiny part of her days with Minos at times like this and would spend all the remaining time, except for their fun, training, or doing productive things.

First, she planned to get to know the Dry City better, as this place had undergone many improvements since the last time she was here. That's because, even though she didn't need to be attracted to this place like other people, she still intended to live here for the next year and a half.

Thus, getting to know the city once again and discovering the services that could become useful in her daily life would be something important to do!

Finally, after doing that, she intended to start a training routine.

Ruth felt that she was no longer a match for Minos. And, while fighting him wasn't a bad idea, she also wanted to face opponents who would pose challenges to her without jeopardizing her chances of victory in a fight.

As there were already other Spiritual Kings locally, it would be perfect for her to fight such people!

Anyway, as Minos gave orders to one of the local officials, he finally got a report from Mia about two soldiers that wanted to see him. After that, those two people quickly entered Minos' office and were greeted and invited to sit down.

"Hmm, Sergeant Humbert, so you've finally returned from the Kingdom of the Waves, huh?" Minos said with a sincere smile on his face.

"Hmm, I had some difficulties on the trip back, but everything worked out in the end. In addition to being able to bring the young master's medicine safely, I also collected a lot of Blue-grade and Black-grade techniques, hehe." At the same time, Humbert explained that he took Minos' King-grade medicine from a spatial ring.

"That's great!"

Immediately after that, Minos stored his medicine in his own spatial ring, not giving much thought to its appearance. Such a thing would make no difference to him.

In fact, the moment he felt the energy fluctuations common to King-grade medicines, he stopped paying attention to it and felt relieved.

"Now I just need to reach level 50, hehehe..." He thought about it for a moment, seeing Ruth looking at him with an interesting look.

Finally, he looked at Humbert and thanked this soldier for this service. "Sergeant Humbert, if you want, you can take a month off."

"Thank you, young master!"

After that man left that office, Minos looked at Joey, who had accompanied Humbert here, and asked. "And then, Mr. Joey? What is the subject you want to talk to me about?"

"It's about the Maritime City investigation mission, young master."

"Oh? I thought Abby was responsible for this..."

"Why are you the one to talk to me?" Minos asked, not understanding this change.

Upon hearing this, this old figure swallowed his saliva and said. "Young master, Ms. Abby advanced a military exercise she was going to do later. So, as I was second in command on this matter, I knew about this before she did, so I came to inform you about it."

"Oh? So, that's what happened..."

'Poor soldiers...' Minos inwardly thought as he looked at Ruth sideways and understood the reason for this.

At the same time, Ruth was smiling as if she had won a small battle. 'Looks like she got a little annoyed...'

'Haha, if you're like that, then it looks like you're not such a big obstacle!'

Seeing Ruth's reaction, Minos sighed briefly, shaking his head from side to side. 'Ah, how am I going to solve this?'

However, he soon put those thoughts aside and tried to focus on this matter of the Maritime City. "Uh, okay, so tell me the results." He said.

Joey then started reporting. "Young master, all soldiers sent to that city already returned, and all results have already been compiled."

"We found out that..."
