

BLACK PLAIN 478

Chapter 478: Important Concerns? (*)

At the same time, in which Ralf and Railan knew the new Dry City, Minos was in one of the residences of his mansion, together with the mother and daughter couple...

The three of them were doing what they most enjoyed doing while together, namely 'working' diligently on the bed!

The two beautiful women were around the young Stuart, with Mirya riding happily on his rod, while Viola had her little sister attacked by Minos' mouth and hands.

Other than that, the three were in a large bed, in a completely chaotic place, with clothes and armor thrown to different sides, in this room that was already marked by the body fragrances of the three.

They were very sweaty this instant and not for less. After all, three straight hours of sex wouldn't be easy for anyone, especially considering that those two women preferred wild sex...

And even though they were all cultivators and even had considerably high cultivation levels for this region, it didn't change their resistance in bed at all. That is, as they got stronger, their desires, or rather, their limits, would increase, and they would try to go even further.

Consequently, even if they were powerful, wild sex could still be quite tiring and tire them out quickly.

Of course, there would be exceptions for this kind of circumstance. For example, as long as a couple didn't go to their limits, after a certain level of cultivation, it would even be possible to spend days in bed...

Minos himself had already done something like that with Abby shortly after returning from the Kingdom of the Waves. At that time, they had taken two days off to rest from their journey, having spent most of that time locked in one of the rooms in the Spatial Kingdom house.

Anyway, as for Viola and Mirya, well, it would be impossible for Minos to perform that long. First, they didn't have that much time to spend together, as they had their responsibilities and didn't have a meaningful relationship. Precisely for that reason, usually, this young man could only be with the two of them simultaneously, something that demanded a lot from him...

Second, because these two had styles very different from Abby's, preferring to have sex until they fainted from fatigue!

With these two 'problems,' even though young Stuart was already stronger than these two women, he couldn't get a significant advantage over his two companions. So, he was almost as exhausted as they were at this point.

"Ahhh~"

"Oh~"

"Mmmm~~"

The three of them made sounds of pleasure in that place as Minos once again filled Mirya's interior. At the same time, this woman had come simultaneously, with her daughter sucking on one of her nipples.

Concurrently, the young ruler of the Black Plain felt a hot liquid in his mouth while Viola's legs trembled vigorously, still above his face.

'Ahh, that's remarkably good...' He thought to himself as he felt delighted.

Then the three of them slowly lay down on that bed, with the mother-daughter pair on either side of the young sovereign.

He smiled as he saw the two of them approaching to hug him. Then he opened his arms, catching them around their waists, and embraced them together in a comfortable position for the three of them.

"Ahh~"

"Ahhh~"

'Oh, I can understand the fascination of some men for having so many different women...'

'It's amazing to be able to be with more than one woman constantly, but it's not easy either!' He thought to himself as he looked at the two beauties resting their heads on his chest.

'These guys with more than five women are truly amazing! How do they do it? I hardly have any free time to do other things just to take care of Abby, Ruth, Elena, Viola, and Mirya!'

Young Stuart thought about it sometimes. After all, in addition to cultivating, training his spiritual techniques, and working, this young man only had time to go to bed with these five women!

So naturally, he couldn't help but admire those figures who manage to keep more than five wives or partners at once.

'But these people either have much higher levels than their partners, or they don't provide 'services' to all of them...' He thought for a moment, more or less understanding the resolution of the 'problem.'

'Well, I think when I become a Spiritual King, I will handle it easily, hehe...'

After thinking about these 'critical matters' for a while, young Stuart finally let it go and watched the two women around him again.

Viola had already fallen asleep at this point, as she was the weakest of the three and naturally had less resistance. As for this young woman's mother, Mirya had only their eyes closed as she lightly rubbed one of her hands over Minos' abdomen.

Seeing this, Minos brought her even closer to himself, making their lips meet each other while Mirya's full breasts pressed against his left shoulder.

"Mmmm~"

After a moment, the two parted their lips and looked into each other's eyes, seeing the burning desire they felt for each other.

Minos then smiled and said in a low voice so as not to wake the lady beside him. "I heard from Viola that you had proclaimed that you would never sleep with me again after that day we met..."

"Then why is it that since that day, day in, day out, you come to visit me?"

"I said that? I don't remember. I think my daughter got confused and ended up talking nonsense." She whispered next to his ear as she felt her nipples once again shiver with the touch this young man was giving her right now.

She then smiled and continued. "But she had said something like that, haha, that naughty girl doesn't keep what she promises and still blames her mother..."

"Maybe she learned that from an expert..." Minos vaguely commented as he watched this mature woman's game.

Mirya and Viola hadn't bothered trying to follow through on that earlier promise... After knowing the Dry City and understanding that the conditions proposed by Minos were not bad, the other day, both had already sought him out to look for his company!

And as a virile young man, full of energy to spend, Minos would not refuse the 'companionship' of two beautiful women, full of desire for him.

Finally, due to their non-commitment to that promise, this current situation had become possible, and they constantly had sessions like the one they had just ended.

"By the way, Mirya, when can I see Mendy again? You're not delaying this on purpose, right?" Minos asked this after a while.

"Of course not. I have already said that I was committed to your army and to the idea of ??being part of this city in the future. But for you to see Mendy, it will take a while." She explained to him, making a slightly more serious expression, typically not used by this woman.

"Usually, it's Mendy who visits me in the City of Waters, not because of my contact. However, although I can send her a message, the family may suspect me because all crows entering the headquarters are examined, including some letters."

That was something difficult to avoid. After all, even if a crow could be sent directly to the target person, this could be dangerous if the target person was inside a base with a defensive barrier.

Such a thing would limit the crow's possibilities. It could naturally be checked in situations like these. Hence, Mirya would not feel safe in sending letters with sensitive content to Mendy, as this woman had no way of knowing where that young woman was at this moment.

"But you don't have to worry about that. Mendy never went more than a year without visiting Viola and me. So, when she goes to the City of Water and receives my letter, she will immediately come to here."

"And since I haven't seen her for over six months, I don't think it will take much longer..."

"Oh? That's nice!"