

BLACK PLAIN 483

Chapter 483: Gossip Isn't Pretty!

'Level 45? That's not bad... She's probably working hard.'? Minos thought to himself after hearing Ruth's answer.

He remembered Mona well since that young woman was always beside Abby during the Spiritual Tournament and had reached the dispute for third place in that competition.

And by remembering that, this young ruler couldn't help but admire Mona's cultivation speed. She probably only had Black-grade techniques and didn't have the same resources as the Black Plain Army soldiers. But even so, in less than three years, she had leveled up four times!

'The empire is fascinating. Even ordinary disciples can level up so often!'

On the other hand, Abby had a slightly different thought than Minos. 'Ahh, it's a shame... If Mona were with me here on the Black Plain, she'd probably already be between levels 47 and 48.'

This blue-haired young woman then sighed for a moment and asked Ruth. "Do you know if she can come here?"

"Yes, but Mona has to reach level 50 first..."

"I think maybe the next time I come here, she'll be able to do that. Do you want me to bring her here?"

"Yes..." She said without thinking as she slowly turned to look at Minos' face and asked him. "There is no problem, right?"

Hearing this, young Stuart smiled and massaged one of Abby's legs as he gave her an answer. "There are no problems. At that time, I think that our situation will probably already be known to other regional powers."

"Then I don't care if you invite that friend of yours here." He then briefly paused as he turned to Ruth's side until he went back to talking about this young woman's sect. "Speaking of the Gray Clouds Sect, Abby told me that Kara also joined this sect. Do you have news of her?"

"Hmm, Kara has adapted to the realities of empire a little better than Mona, as she has a Silver talent. With that, she has already reached level 47, and it shouldn't be long before she gets a new advance!"

"In fact, considering how long it's been since I last saw her, she's probably already reached level 48..." Ruth muttered in a low voice, remembering this person's spiritual sensation just before their farewell.

"Hehehe, she's not doing too bad either, huh? But I think she would be shocked if she saw me now." The young man commented with a smile on his face, recalling how that young woman acted in his presence whenever the subject of him not wanting to go to the empire sects came up.

At that time, he, Ruth, Kara, and Ford had lived together for several days in Capital City's Cultivation Tower. And in those moments of coexistence, in some moments, that young redhead had pestered Minos because he didn't take this opportunity seriously.

For her, young Stuart wanted to waste his talent, and she couldn't help but expose her disappointment to him.

Anyway, Ruth nodded in agreement upon hearing this. "Hmm, when I was in the sect, whenever we talked about you, she would talk about this. I think she's probably attracted to you because of your abilities. However, her choice not to go to the empire was like a cold shower for her."

"Oh?" Minos exclaimed in surprise.

Then Abby furrowed her brows and looked at Ruth seriously as if telling her not to throw any more fuel on the fire...

She then said. "I didn't expect that from that woman. She seemed like a very focused type of person, who doesn't care about these things..."

"Hahaha, focused? You judge people very poorly, Abby." Ruth commented after letting out a few laughs, remembering a particular secret she had accidentally discovered.

'Abby, if you knew Kara had already slept with her own brother, Ford, you wouldn't say those things. Hehehe.?' She thought, laughing at Abby's comment.

Ruth had discovered this during one of the sect's group missions, in which she had participated with Kara and a few others. At that time, Ford was camping in the same region as the group coming from the Gray Clouds Sect, and when they met there, he had accompanied Kara on a few occasions...

And like a brother and sister, spending time together as they saw each other after months apart wasn't all that strange. At least that's what Ruth thought.

But some morning, when Ruth was checking out the surroundings of her camp, she had seen the scene of the brother and sister pair having sex in a very discreet way.

She had hardly believed what her eyes had seen on that occasion. Still, by paying attention to the body fragrances of those two, this young woman had confirmed what her eyes had already seen...

Kara and Ford were two incestuous people!

She had been shocked by this, having had the thought of it in her mind for several weeks. But even if she disagreed with this practice herself, Ruth gradually dropped the subject.

That was not a subject that interfered with her life, and this young woman felt that she had no right to tell other people what was right or wrong. If those two wanted and enjoyed doing this, then for Ruth, they should be happy and not involve her!

It was a little weird to be around a person who does such a thing, but heck, everyone has their problems. And over time, Ruth had learned to converse with Kara without remembering that image constantly.

Upon hearing Ruth's comment, Abby continued to stare at that young woman and asked. "Why do you say that? Is Kara that different from what I think?"

"Hehehe, you had a vision of yourself very similar to Kara's, right?"

"But even so, look where you are... In less than three years since we met, you've gone from being a virgin to someone who goes to bed every day with Minos." Ruth teasingly? said as she changed the subject so she wouldn't have to talk about other people's secrets.

Maisie's young disciple had a wonderful friendship with Kara. And such a person didn't deserve to have her privacy destroyed just because Ruth had seen something she shouldn't...

In Ruth's opinion, gossip was not a nice thing to do!

So, of course, she wouldn't say about Kara and Ford's romance so casually.

Seeing how Abby was looking at Ruth, Minos soon decided to interfere, gradually using one of his hands to touch his girlfriend's twin peaks.

A good feeling traveled through Abby's body when she felt this, making her abandon the subject.

At the same time, young Stuart used his other hand to take one of Ruth's hands and direct it towards his rod, which was by now as hard as steel. 'Let's see how far we can go with this, hehe...'

'But this information about Kara is fascinating. Can't wait to see her again.' He thought inwardly, with a perverted smile at the corner of his lips.

This young man was not blind, and he was not ignorant of Kara's extraordinary beauty. So, he had naturally been quite pleased with what he had heard from Ruth.

Previously, he hadn't tried anything with Kara due to his situation during the Spiritual Tournament. Still, this Black Plain ruler would definitely sleep with that young redhead if he had a chance.

As for Ruth and Abby, he liked them both and was already feeling in love with his girlfriend, even though he never said anything to her. But that didn't limit this young man's carnal desires.

He felt he wanted to have a life with Abby and maybe even have children with her. But he also wanted to have fun with attractive women, as in the case of the mother-daughter pair who lived in the Dry City.

Only he and a few lucky ones in the Spiritual World could understand his excitement for having sex with those two!

And as much as he had no emotional feelings for them, nor they for him, Minos still appreciated such moments. For that reason, he would not stop thinking about other women because of his relationship with Abby and Ruth.

Maybe that would change at some point, but for now, it wasn't even close to happening...
