

BLACK PLAIN 679

Chapter 679 - Confrontation Of Deadly Enemies 2

After he finished saying those words, Minos saw Wallace's face grow darker and darker, as a maniacal look formed in this man's eyes.

He was genuinely furious at this moment, more than at any other time in his life.

The person in front of him had not only killed and humiliated Leroy in 'front' of thousands of people but also dared to utter such offenses to the deceased and also to him, the father of that young man!

As such, Wallace, a powerful level 56 Spiritual King, could not help but feel his blood boil as the will to kill exploded within his being.

"Brat!"

"I will ensure that not only you die today! I will hunt down your past and enslave your entire family, you bastard!" Wallace wildly said as his eyes turned red and began to attack Minos.

Too bad for Wallace that he didn't know that of Minos' family, half of it had already perished, the branch related to his father. As for the other half, his mother's branch was the powerful Coleman family, which has a Spiritual Saint as its leader...

Hell, just an ordinary member of that family from the Flaming Empire could crush the little House Chambers, even if such a person used only one of his fingers!

But at the end of the day, none of this would make any difference since Wallace had decided to be so negligent against young Stuart...

"Die! You cretin!" He shouted in fury as he activated his primary offensive technique with most of his energy reserves.

After that, large purple claws appeared on his hands, coming out of the bases of his fingers and stretching for more than 50 centimeters into razor-sharp blades.

Swoosh!

Then, he cut the air toward where Minos was standing, creating several semi-transparent blades, which carried enough power to kill individuals at level 56!

However, while some of the viewers were apprehensive about this initial moment of the fight, Minos finally began to activate his combat techniques, one after the other, without much delay.

He wanted to surprise the opposing side and cause maximum damage all at once at this beginning of the fight, the only moment when those people would underestimate him. After all, while they certainly knew that he was no ordinary level 50 warrior, they also didn't know exactly this young man's capabilities.

So, taking advantage of this initial moment was very important to Minos!

He wanted to use this situation to train his techniques with these individuals, but that didn't mean he would be foolish to allow those six people to unit against him.

That would be stupid since the combined power of those six indeed passed that of young Stuart!

But still, with his unique strategy and methods that only he had, this young man wanted to fight the remnants of that initial moment alone.

Such a thing would be within his means and an excellent simulation for the battles he would have to face during the future war against the Brown family.

He would undoubtedly have to face groups of Spiritual Kings made up of people above level 55, something challenging to train in ordinary situations.

So, since Wallace's group was not so much stronger than him that he needed help, he would make the most of this opportunity!

Indestructible Body!

Devouring Art!

Then, the first two techniques were activated, causing his body to become much stronger and more resistant. At the same time, the effects of his support technique began to appear in the surroundings.

"What's that? Why is it getting dark all of a sudden?" Paul asked aloud, not knowing what would happen next since this was his first time for him seeing young Stuart fighting.

As for those Chambers family nobles, they already knew about part of Minos' fighting style. After all, he already used this strange technique that stole his opponents' energies at that time when Leroy perished.

"What?"

"My energies are decreasing!"

But even knowing the effects of the Devouring Art, none of them expected that such thing would be so influential on them, who were 4 to 5 levels above Minos'!

Infinite Dream!

Explosive Steps!

Spatial Sword!

Next, Minos activated his other three combat techniques, already acting against specific opponents, those he wanted to take down at first.

With that, powerful waves of invisible energy flew from this young man's bright eyes, heading towards one of those level 54 Spiritual Kings, someone who could totally come under the effects of this technique.

'What's that? What is this power?' Such a person wondered, as his sights rapidly darkened, at the same time, where he was still running towards one of those Hayes family elders.

"Help me! Help me! I'm blind!" He screamed in desperation as he lost his sight, and his consciousness was thrown into a space entirely devoid of light.

But none of his companions could help him. After all, Minos had not invested his attention in that man even for a second.

Swoosh! Swoosh!

While dodging the attacks launched by Wallace, Minos used his two medium-level grade-2 swords to slice the air with great force. With that, he sent two mighty blades in the directions of two of those other four Spiritual Kings.

"Shit!"

"Damn, that miserable bastard is much stronger than us!"

"He's almost as strong as the patriarch!"

Those Spiritual Kings of the Chambers family screamed in desperation, realizing that they wouldn't have time to fight those other people in that place.

Just Minos alone would already be deadly dangerous for them!

As such, the moment they felt the strong fluctuations of the blades sent towards two of them, those people were already preparing to fight Minos with everything!

"Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh!"

"Ahhhhhhh! Miserable! My arm! You cut off my arm!"

Finally, the first desperate cries of pain resounded through that place, as a level 55 Spiritual King had his left arm immediately severed by one of the attacks sent by Minos.

On the other hand, the level 54 Spiritual King who had received the second blade sent by Minos had failed to defend himself from such a thing. Half of his belly had been cut off in that short instant!

"Ahhhhhhhh!" This person screamed in desperation as he fell to the ground, already holding part of his intestines in his hands!

"Son of a bitch! You act as if I am not here and still attack my companions?" Wallace finally had time to say something, as he saw half more of his fellow travelers suffer from Minos' techniques.

It had all happened so fast!

From one hour to the next, while he was trying to attack young Stuart, his opponent activated all his combat techniques and ignored him.

Almost simultaneously, Minos quickly acted against those people who were running in the directions of the other Spiritual Kings who were next to him in this place.

The young ruler of the Black Plain had specifically targeted those three weakest people in that enemy group, the easiest targets for him to hit, an essential part of his plan to dominate this fight.

One of them could be trapped in a dream controlled by the young Stuart, while the other two individuals could suffer severe damage from the attacks launched by him!

Because of his speed and the fact that those individuals were separated from each other, Wallace had had no chance to do anything against Minos' actions.

On the other hand, Minos' speed was much more significant than Wallace's, who had only a few months ago reached level 56. Hence, everything had happened too fast for this man to do anything about it, and he had just seen his family members suffer at the hands of this opponent!

"Oh? The way you talk, it sounds like you're asking to be the first to die..." Minos said in a firm tone, with no change in his voice, as if the previous action was no big deal.

Swoosh!

And with that, Minos quickly began to fight those people, already trying to eliminate those two most injured in this place while trying to weaken the remaining three!
