

BLACK PLAIN 81

Chapter 81: Peculiar Early Morning

Hearing what Minos had said, Ruth felt better and almost forgot that he was holding her. 'That's right. There is nothing wrong with spending the night with him in the same bed. I've known him for months, and I know I can trust him.' Ruth began to convince herself that this was an acceptable situation for her...

She lived with Minos for a long time, and she spent a lot of time thinking about the mysteries that involved the young Stuart and how responsible he was. So, she would have no problem sleeping with him in the same bed. After all, she wouldn't make much difference sleeping in the bed or the armchair. They would still be in the same room, and if something were to happen, it wouldn't change much.

A few seconds passed, and Ruth finally noticed something. 'Heh? Is he hugging me all this time? How did I not notice?' She thought a little worried as she felt the heat of Minos' body enveloping her.

After feeling that Ruth was much calmer, Minos slowly released the hug and looked towards the bathroom before asking. "Do you want to use the bathroom first? I want to cultivate before taking my shower."

When she heard this, Ruth immediately stopped thinking about Minos and answered while she blushed. "Okay, I'll go first."

After that, Minos sat on the ground and cultivated for two hours straight. Ruth had also started to cultivate after taking her bath. After all, the cultivation itself was not very tiring for the cultivators. It was like meditation.

After Minos finished cultivating, he could feel that his advance to the next level was getting closer and closer and should occur in a week at most.

As for training the other techniques he used, Minos decided to do that tomorrow. This is because there was practically no single suitable place for this between the Dry City and the City of Waters. It was just a large, desolate plain, almost completely exposed to anyone passing by.

But after passing through the City of Waters, there were forests and some mountains between the cities that they were going to pass through until they reached the capital of the Cromwell Kingdom. With that, Minos planned to train during this trip, stopping at least once every two days to train his attack, defense, and support techniques.

After cultivation, Minos immediately went to take his bath.

It didn't take long, and both youths had already done their duties and had dinner when the two decided to go to bed.

At that moment, Ruth, who usually wore clothes that valued her body, was wearing a loose-fitting shirt and trousers so as not to attract Minos' attention.

On the other hand, the young Stuart usually slept only in trousers and did not differ this time. He was not a shy person, and if that prompted the beautiful Ruth to do something... Hehe, then he would be delighted.

Upon seeing Minos sitting on the bed, Ruth immediately grabbed one of the pillows and separated that area. She said. "This side of mine is mine, and this other side is yours. Don't go over this limit, right?"

"Haha, okay. Relax, I know that." Minos laughed and said while watching Ruth's beautiful, flushed face.

It didn't take long, and the two lay in silence on the bed. Minos soon fell asleep since he did not expect that something would happen. If Ruth had been easy, then it would have happened long ago...

As for Ruth, due to the nervousness of sleeping with a man for the first time, she took a long time to fall asleep, while her heart was racing, to the point that she could almost hear the sounds of her own heartbeat.

The night passed quickly, and the first rays of the sun could already be seen in the City of Waters.

The city soon began to come to 'life,' with some people leaving their homes and starting their respective duties.

Meanwhile, on the third floor of the Midnight Hotel, in the room where Minos and Ruth were staying, two youths were hugging each other in a big bed while they slept.

Pillows were scattered on the floor, while the blanket they used was now at the foot of the bed.

Minos was lying on his back, dressed in the same way he went to sleep, while his right hand was wrapped around Ruth's back. As for the beautiful young woman, she was without her shirt, hugging Minos with her head resting on his chest and her legs wrapped around the young Stuart's waist.

Her long black hair was tousled, and the young woman's beautiful breasts were clinging to Minos's body.

Nothing had happened between the two, but during the night, while sleeping, the beautiful young woman felt a little heat and decided to take off her shirt... And of course, while she was unconscious, she didn't mind doing this, even though she was in the same bed as Minos!

As to why she wasn't wearing a bra, well, that was because it was more comfortable to sleep without wearing it. And as a cultivator, she didn't have to worry about any problems that this could cause to her body.

Time passed, and soon Minos woke up.

He felt something strange while sleeping as if he were being touched by something. And as soon as he opened his eyes, he saw a beautiful scene in front of him.

Ruth was sleeping peacefully on his chest, shirtless, and with her breasts, the sample for him. He could even vaguely see the small, pink beak of Ruth's nipples, which glued to his belly.

'Hehe, I didn't think Ruth was so honest with herself while she slept.' He thought with a smile on his face as he stroked the young woman's bare back.

It didn't take long, and soon Ruth woke up from her beauty sleep. She had spent one of the best nights of the past few weeks!

'Mmm, what a good sleep...' She then massaged Minos's chest with one hand and touched something.

'Huh? Why is the bed so hot?' She thought about it just before opening her eyes and realizing what was going on. And she realized not only that but also that she was half-naked while she hugged Minos!

When he saw that Ruth was awake, Minos smiled at her and just said. "Good morning, Ruth."

But instead of answering him with a 'good morning,' Ruth just let out a cry of shock. Her face was flushed as she came out of Minos's embrace, covering her breasts with the blanket that was at the foot of the bed.

Minos then said with a provocative smile on his face when looking into her eyes. "Ruth, it looks like your body is pretty honest, so why don't you just take it? You don't have to be ashamed..."

"I... N... This's not..." She said, stammering, not knowing what to say to Minos. She was so nervous about going to sleep with Minos that she had forgotten that it was not uncommon for her to take off her shirt while she slept.

As to why she had crossed her partition and came to sleep hugging Minos, not even she was sure, she had been thinking about him a lot lately, but that was just because there were so many mysteries around Minos, it didn't mean she was interested in him...

At that moment, Ruth's heart was beating so fast that it looked like it could leave her body at any moment. 'What a shame... How am I going to look at him now?' She thought as she looked away from Minos.

Realizing this, Minos decided to comfort her.

If that wasn't resolved, then she might end up starting to behave differently to him, and that wouldn't be a good thing. He then got up and went towards her slowly.

"Okay, Ruth, you don't have to be ashamed of this. You don't have to worry about me thinking something strange about you." He said softly while taking the young woman's hands, while she was looking to the side, completely flushed.

As he got a little closer, Minos brought her hands to him while he pulled her waist to his. He then started to hug her while he said. "You are very beautiful, Ruth. I'm happy to see you that way, but know that if you don't want anything like that with me, just pretend this didn't happen. There is no need to be ashamed."

After hearing this, Ruth stood for a while and then slowly turned her head to look into Minos's eyes. Her heart was still racing when she slowly brought her lips closer to Minos'.

Seeing this, Minos celebrated internally and responded in the same way. The two finally kissed, while Ruth dropped the blanket that was covering her body to hold Minos' neck, and he held her around the waist.

The two kissed passionately for about 5 minutes while rolling over in bed and touching each other.

At that point, Ruth was on top of Minos while feeling the young Stuart's hard stick nudging her when she quickly stopped kissing him and said in a low voice. "I... I'm not ready for that yet."

"Okay, I can wait." Minos said, looking her in the eye.

After this peculiar early morning, the two youths ate their breakfast in silence before changing clothes and leaving the hotel to continue their journey to the capital of the Cromwell Kingdom.
