

BLACK PLAIN 85

Chapter 85: Valley of the Beasts

After cultivating for 4 hours continuously, Ruth finally reached the peak of level 45 and advanced to the next level!

Crack!

She quickly felt her spiritual energy rise when she realized that she was already at level 46!

After that, Ruth slowly opened her eyes, stepping out of her meditative position. In doing so, she saw Minos not far away, looking towards her with a smile on her face.

"Ehh, it looks like you just leveled up, right? Congratulations on that."

"Hmm, thanks." She said, pleased with herself. The feeling of leveling up was always very good for any cultivator, making them very happy after getting it.

It didn't take long, and the two went to bed to rest for the next day of travel that they would have ahead of them. And, of course, the two exchanged some caresses before going to sleep and stopping while the flame of desire was still controllable.

The night passed quickly, and the day had already dawned in the city of Santa Clara, where Minos and Ruth were staying.

At that moment, on the fifth floor of the Hotel Viola, where the two youths' rooms were, there were two half-naked people in the big bed of the room, 'playing' with each other.

The young man with brown hair was fervently kissing the young woman with full breasts who was lying on top of him. He had one of his hands on one of the young girl's beautiful breasts, which had a small, pinkish nipple, which was stiff at that moment due to constant stimulation.

At the same time, Minos's other hand was on Ruth's seductive ass, while he occasionally made his fingers follow the path of the long-haired girl's little sister. She was very wet at that moment, and every time the young Stuart touched her, Ruth let out a sensual moan of pleasure.

"Mmmm!"

They continued their wonderful early morning when the young woman suddenly opened her misty eyes and said while she was breathing irregularly. "Ahh... Something is... coming..."

Upon hearing this, Minos continued his movements, making her moan even louder than usual, as he touched Ruth's small pink pearl.

That was when she finally released her sweet juice, wetting her panties entirely and leaving Minos' fingers completely soaked.

"Haaa... Haaa..." Ruth lay next to Minos, breathing quickly as she felt her conscience float. She had never felt such a pleasant sensation in her life.

At that point, she turned to Minos and watched him with a happy look on her face.

However, Minos's following action made her a little nervous when he slowly brought his fingers wet with Ruth's juices to his own mouth and tasted it.

"No..." She said in a low voice when she saw Minos's sudden action.

She did not expect that he would do such a disgusting thing. After all, she was a maiden who had no experience. As for the young Stuart, well, he had learned from the experienced Elena, who had shown him many exciting things...

"Hmm, you taste fabulous, Ruth." Minos said after experiencing his partner's taste and looking into her eyes.

Upon hearing this, Ruth did not understand very well, but unconsciously she was pleased to be praised by Minos.

After that, the two took a long shower while playing a little more, but nothing more 'in depth' had happened. They quickly put on different clothes and left the hotel to travel for a few more hours.

At that moment, Minos and Ruth were flying on the great white eagle, while they saw from a distance the place where they were going to stop for training.

This was the Valley of the Beasts, a considerably large region of the Cromwell Kingdom, where there were several races of low-level beasts.

According to the information that Minos and Ruth had obtained, this place was even bigger than the entire Black Plain, and there was no city in the middle of these areas.

After the city of Santa Clara, they could fly for just over a day on their 4th stage spiritual beast, arriving at the next town on their way, which was called the City of Flowers.

But Minos wanted to stop to practice on his trip, so they had to pass through the Valley of the Beasts and go through it, little by little, until they arrived in the City of Flowers in about three days.

Upon seeing an excellent place to land, Ruth immediately ordered White to descend to that place, where their group could stop to begin their daily training.

A few hours passed, and Ruth and Minos had already fought a few times, but the young Stuart had lost even more decisively. After leveling up, Ruth was able to ignore his support technique, Devouring Art, completely, so he was even more vulnerable.

But this was still decent training for Minos since he could understand better the differences in levels. After all, even though he had the knowledge of the God Henricus Longus, learning from practice was always better!

There were specific details that only through many battles could he understand.

At that time, Minos had just cultivated his spiritual energy, which he had previously exhausted by training his battle techniques.

After fighting with Ruth, Minos still had to devote time to training his support technique since it was not being so well-trained when fighting with his mate.

So, he took the time to exercise it after repeated defeats.

"Ruth, come on. We are going to travel for a while and find a place to camp." He said after getting up from the floor and walking over to where Ruth was waiting for him.

"Hmm."

The two then walked to the great eagle that was drinking water from a stream that passed close to that place. They climbed on the great spiritual beast and set off towards the south of the Valley of the Beasts.

...

More than 3 hours later, Minos and Ruth had arrived at a place at the foot of a hill. There was a small lake in that place, there was a flat terrain just a few dozen steps from the lake, and there were not many trees.

It seemed like the best place for them to spend the night. So, the two youths went down with White in that place and set up a temporary camp in a short time.

They had bought a medium-sized tent and some low-grade spiritual arrays to spend the night in this region when they were in the city of Santa Clara.

After a while, the sun slowly began to descend on the horizon, making room for the night. Minos and Ruth were sitting in front of a fire while looking at the starry sky and talking about their lives.

"Oh! So, do you mean you have an older sister? What's her name?" Minos asked with interest.

"Hmm, her name is Talia Miles, she is six years older than me, and she is already at level 53."

"It looks like your family has great talents, huh..." Minos said as he thought about the things Ruth had said to him.

It seemed that this young woman came from a large family of the Gray Cloud Sect, which greatly influenced the sect with their many talented Silver members.

"Ehh," When Minos was going to say something, Ruth interrupted him and said in a serious tone. "It looks like a group of spiritual beasts is approaching this place."

The great eagle that was resting beside their tent raised its head and looked in the direction where the beasts were coming from and then looked at Ruth. She then said that. "There are about 50, 4th stage spiritual beasts, all of which are at the limit of that stage of cultivation."

'Well, it's not that bad. Since it is approaching us, we can only use it for my own training...' Minos sighed as he reflected on what was going to happen.

He would not hunt spiritual beasts unless he needed to do so. But it was not because Minos had an equal thought with these beasts but that he would not provoke any struggle of life and death without there being a need for it.

He liked fights, but he was not a fanatic who is always looking for problems, creating chaos wherever he goes. But if the enemy, whether human or not, came to look for problems with him, then Minos would fight with everything he had.

That was his personality, and that was what he would do in situations like this.

"What do you want to do?" Ruth asked.

She knew this could be suitable training for Minos, as fighting with her was very stressful for him. After all, no one likes to lose repeatedly to the same person.

With that, this was an excellent opportunity for Minos to vent the 'stress' accumulated in the last two days!

"Well, let's do this. You go up to White and watch me from the sky. I want to fight these beasts alone, but you can come down and help me if there is a need." He said with a slight smile on his face.

"Hmm, okay." Ruth nodded in agreement and soon went over the area with her eagle.
