

BLACK PLAIN 907

Chapter 907 The Walker Family Tragedy! 1

Immediately upon activating his techniques, Minos saw every person in that place become motionless, almost as if time had stopped and only he could move.

However, time had not stopped!

As such, while those people felt the despair of not being able to move, they were also under the effects of the Devouring Art, which unceremoniously devoured the energies of its targets.

Because of young Stuart's level and innate ability that increased his natural energy reserves, the absorption capacity of that technique was already at an incredible level!

So high that practically all those individuals, except for ancestor Walker, were losing their energy at alarming rates!

But there was nothing they could do at that instant.

They had lost control of their bodies, could not circulate their energies, and were being weakened by a 'parasite.'

Meanwhile, Minos still had three different ways to attack them!

And that was what this young man did in that instant when the two previous techniques were disrupting the enemy's suicide plan.

He launched several attacks in sequence with his mental technique, intent on at least taking out several of those opponents who wanted to blow themselves up.

On the other hand, he soon moved around that place while dancing at high speed with the sword he had received from Gloria.

First, he attacked in the direction of the Walker family ancestor, the strongest person there, who had the best chance to cause damage in that place.-PANDA-NOVEL.COM

Swoosh!

He cut the air diagonally, making a movement with his hands from the ground upwards, creating a great blade of greenish spiritual energy, which immediately slashed towards that individual's body.

Afterward, Minos did not even pay attention to the fate of the strongest person here, as he had great confidence in his newly acquired strength.

Minos knew that he could not let that old man act freely since a sacrifice of such a strong person would be problematic. But that did not mean that he was not capable of eliminating this enemy quickly!

After his advance to level 53, Minos could do this with a certain tranquility that even if that old man were at level 60, young Stuart would not despair!

And in fact, the only sounds that had spread through the place were the sounds of the bones breaking, as the flesh split and blood poured out of his neck like water from a fountain.

It was truly terrifying!

Seeing all this, Minos felt relief in his heart, as he had prevented his future subordinates from being murdered by those lunatics. 'Looks like I was fast enough, huh?' He thought about this as he looked in the direction of Emmett's sliced body.

That all had happened in a matter of seconds, something that was possible for young Stuart due not only to his high speed and attack power but the restrictive feature of the Spatial Sword.

That technique allowed Minos to immobilize all those opponents during that short time while he moved and attacked at high speed.

Hence, he had had that high margin of success in such a short time!

So, when he finally deactivated his techniques, Minos saw the result of his action taking shape in real-time.

Emmett's body began to separate diagonally from his left shoulder to the right side of his waist, with one of the heavier parts falling to the ground first.

Puff!

But not only did the pieces of that old man's body fall off. No, the heads that were still spinning in the air and the bodies of the others killed by Minos' mental technique also descended to the ground!

"AHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

"AHHHH!"

Those weaker women trembled in fear, feeling that everything that was happening today was too sudden for their hearts.

Not only had Minos already made that previous show, killing two high-level Spiritual Kings and then beheading Charles' mother. Suddenly, several experts tried to kill themselves, and then that young man mutilated their bodies.

That was enough to make anyone scream in despair!

As for Charles, he was still crying next to his mother's head, seeing that he had no chance of escaping. Furthermore, this whole tragedy of his family would probably just be forgotten without justice being done.

Who would fight against Minos? Who would avenge the death of all these people?

No one!

That was the answer Charles already had in his heart, finally regretting all his decisions.

'If it weren't for my will to become the king, none of this would have happened!' So, he thought as he felt that only death could free him from all this misfortune.

"Ahhhhhhhh!" Charles screamed as he drooled blood and saliva, his eyes twitching in a way that made anyone there realize that he had already lost his sanity.

"Kill me! Kill me!" He began to scream like a madman, begging for someone there to end his physical and mental suffering.

But nobody there did anything.

Not only were they afraid, shocked, physically and mentally weakened. But they already knew what that person's fate would be and understood that it was not their place to get involved in it.

As for Minos, he did not give a damn about what Charles was asking. He just looked at that person as his eyes shone in rainbow colors. "Quiet!"

Puff!

Then, Charles screams ceased as his body fell to the ground, already unconscious.

"Sigh..." Minos sighed in delight that his work here had finally reached its final moment.

He then looked at those women and also at Wilfred. "Do what you promised as soon as possible!"

"Get your state troops out of the Black Plain and wait for my orders. Then, when we officially settle our affairs, I will release your mother and your stepmothers."

Gulp!

"Now, you will sleep for a while!"

Infinite Dream!
