

BO LOVE LIFE 151

Chapter 151: Luo Zheng Will Love Xi Mubai For Life

End of our cooperation? Chu Ci's eyes grew darker, though no one could see his expression beneath the mask.

"Tsk, tsk, I didn't expect that you'd one day value women over brotherhood, Third Brother! How rare of you..." He sighed with a defeated expression.

He watched Bo Hancheng gently carry Luo Zheng into the car. The car soon sped off and he turned around to deal with the aftermath.

As if he suddenly understood something, he laughed. There are billions of people in this world, but they all have their own destinies... destinies that cannot be escaped.

"Love" was a poison that would penetrate one's bones and drive one crazy because of the paranoia and fear of losing their lover.

He initially thought that Bo Hancheng would not fall in love since he was from the Bo Family... However, it seems that he had probably fallen in love without his own knowledge!

...

In the car, Bo Hancheng hugged Luo Zheng tightly and tried his best not to hurt her arm.

At this moment, the poison in Luo Zheng's body had begun to take effect. The cold sweat on her forehead and her pale face made her look pitiful and lovable.

Actually, it was not Luo Zheng's first time getting poisoned. In the previous life, she used to serve Gu Changye. In private, he would torture her and feed her with drugs. Although it was just a little bit, Luo Zheng almost got addicted to drugs. It was only after a lengthy period of bearing with the pain did she finally manage to quit it!

However, Luo Zheng remembered everything and kept it deeply etched in her memory. She did not expect to be drugged with Blue Vixen tonight. Although it was only half a syringe, Luo Zheng grew drowsy and slowly began to lose her rationality.

All of a sudden, she felt sick and wanted to vomit but all she did was retch.

"It's so warm..."

Luo Zheng muttered while trying to scratch her own skin. All of a sudden, she was wrapped by a large hand and he said in a clear and crisp voice, "Bear with it, we're going to reach the hospital soon..."

"Who are you? I want Brother Cheng..."

Her consciousness was blurry and she seemed to have been overwhelmed with torment. Luo Zheng was throwing a fit and she could not even sleep in peace.

In order to avoid irritating her wounds, Bo Hancheng held her down and whispered into her ear, "I am Brother Cheng..."

In the beginning, Luo Zheng enjoyed addressing Bo Hancheng as 'Brother Cheng' but he did not take it to heart... However, he suddenly felt that that nickname was pleasing to hear like music to the ears.

"Brother Cheng... it really hurts..." Luo Zheng complained upon hearing his response.

Bo Hancheng had never cajoled anyone before and hence could not help but feel like he was at a complete loss. "Where does it hurt?"

"Everywhere! Brother Cheng, help me..."

Luo Zheng spluttered while wriggling in his embrace like a caterpillar.

How am I supposed to help her? He wondered. Thinking about this, Bo Hancheng had no choice but to urge the chauffeur, "Hurry up!"

As soon as she finished speaking, she suddenly opened her eyes while in a daze and inched upwards. "Brother Cheng, kiss me! If you kiss me, it won't hurt anymore..." She then puckered her pale lips which were once pink.

Bo Hancheng did not turn her down and instead wanted to comfort her because she had made his heart melt. He ordered the driver to put up the partition without hesitation, after which he bent forward and cupped her face.

Before he could even reach her, Luo Zheng's eyes widened in shock and she barked coldly, "Xi Mubai, will you only love me after you die? In that case, go and die! Go and die..."

Bo Hancheng stopped trying to kiss her and he felt like his heart had been stabbed when he saw the helplessness in her eyes.

"Luo Zheng, who did you call?" He tightened his grip around her while questioning her.

Luo Zheng seemed dumbfounded, as if she was struck by a sudden memory. She cried and shook her head frantically. "Brother Mubai, I don't want anything! I only want you. It doesn't matter even if you don't love me! It really doesn't matter, I can love you forever... I, Luo Zheng, swear to love Xi Mubai for the rest of my life..."

Chapter 152: Luo Zheng, Don't Hold Yourself Cheap In Front Of Me!

She was sobbing between words and she sounded extremely serious, melancholic, and determined! Clearly, it was a desire within her.

At this moment, it seemed that it no longer mattered who Mr. Bodyguard was!

Most importantly... Hah, she loves Xi Mubai?

"Luo Zheng, how dare you!?" Bo Hancheng suddenly felt like he had been deceived and the feeling of betrayal made him lose his cool.

“Brother Mubai, I’m so glad to be your bride! Brother Mubai, are you happy?” Luo Zheng had no idea what she was doing and was simply smiling foolishly like a blissful child.

She then raised her head and pouted. “Brother Mubai, kiss, kiss me... coughs”

Bo Hancheng frowned menacingly and placed his hand on her swan-like neck, slowly increasing his grip. Moments ago, he was just taking pity on her and yet, her behaviour made his heart turn into stone.

However, she kept messing up his rationality and making him act out of the ordinary. He was not like himself at all and he wished he could... destroy Luo Zheng!

Once he destroys her, he would be free from worry and distraction!

“Mr. Bo, the ambulance is here...” At this moment, the chauffeur pulled over and reminded him.

In order to avoid letting Luo Zheng get into any mishaps, Bo Hancheng quickly called for an ambulance to rush to the scene at the same time that the chauffeur was rushing to send them to the hospital.

Yes, they coincidentally ran into each other just like that!

Although the chauffeur had no idea what was going on, he could tell... that Luo Zheng meant a lot to Bo Hancheng.

In fact, they seemed to be lovers. However, in the blink of an eye, Luo Zheng brazenly called another man’s name when she was laying in Bo Hancheng’s arms!

To men, such behaviour would be considered as cheating and being unfaithful. It was no wonder that Bo Hancheng would be angered!

While the chauffeur was feeling frightened and fearful, Bo Hancheng stopped and slowly let go of her neck.

“Coughs... Brother Mubai, hug me and kiss me...” Luo Zheng coughed subconsciously and gasped for air while clamouring continuously.

The chauffeur almost begged her to stop blabbering, for fear that she would lose her life. He thought, can’t you see that Mr. Bo is emotionally unstable, and is feeling the urge to kill you!?!

Luo Zheng naturally failed to see it since she was in a subconscious state where she was hallucinating. It was the happiest scene of her previous life, where she was clad in a white wedding gown with a fresh bouquet of red roses in her hands, getting ready to marry Xi Mubai.

“Luo Zheng, you won’t be...” On the eve of their wedding, Xi Mubai said those words to her while dressed in an impeccable suit. She smiled radiantly and confessed shyly. She could not see his silhouette and all she could hear was his warm and gentle voice when he spoke.

Perhaps, those were not sweet nothings but she cherished that side of Xi Mubai because he rarely behaved that way with her.

At this moment, she looked up at Bo Hancheng and her vision was blurry. He seemed to be Xi Mubai to her.

“Great, Luo Zheng, well done!”

Bo Hancheng pressed his hand against her mouth with a sullen expression as he quipped coldly.

He then glanced at Luo Zheng who was obsessing over Xi Mubai. He sneered, “Luo Zheng, stop holding yourself cheap in front of me, it’s disgusting!”

The paramedics arrived at the car politely as soon as he finished speaking. He then brashly pushed Luo Zheng out.

She rolled out of the car unsteadily and the paramedic quickly held onto her in time to stop a disaster from happening!

“Take her to the hospital for treatment...”

Chapter 153: Why Provoke Me When She Loves Xi Mubai!?!

Bo Hancheng clearly did not plan to go on after giving instructions to the driver.

“Yes, Mr. Bo.”

The chauffeur acknowledged politely before getting out of the car and stepping forward.

They then placed Luo Zheng on the stretcher which they then carried onto the ambulance. Seeing this, Luo Zheng reached her hand out to him pitifully while keeping her eyes wide open. “Brother Mubai... don’t abandon me...”

It ended up being a joke anyway.

Bo Hancheng’s eyes turned gloomy and he smirked in a self-deprecating manner. He looked away and turned around to stop paying attention to her.

However, when the chauffeur was about to get onto the hospital, he said, “Send her medical report to me via text message.”

The chauffeur again acknowledged respectfully while sighing helplessly.

He thought, how can Miss Luo call another man’s name while she was with Mr. Bo? She even asked him for hugs and kisses. What an insult!

Soon, the ambulance whizzed past, leaving behind only Bo Hancheng who was leaning against the car. In the morning, the roads were empty and no one was in sight.

There was no expression on Bo Hancheng’s handsome face and he simply whipped out a cigarette in a bid to light it up. He then tried to calm himself down.

However, there was a sentence that popped up in his mind continuously like a demon.

I, Luo Zheng, swear to love Xi Mubai for the rest of my life!

I, Luo Zheng, swear to love Xi Mubai for the rest of my life!

I, Luo Zheng, swear to love Xi Mubai for the rest of my life!

...

“F!”

Bo Hancheng cursed menacingly. It was rare of him to hurl vulgarities.

No longer in the mood to smoke, he chucked the cigarette aside and began to feel like his heart was getting heavy.

Great, Luo Zheng!

Since she loves Xi Mubai, why does she have to pester me? She even harassed me to the point where I can't ignore her!

For the rest of her life? Hah, for the rest of her life, great!

...

“Xi Mubai... I hate you... go to hell...”

The blue poison reminded Luo Zheng of her past and invoked the feelings of resentment within her.

Along the journey to the hospital, she had been behaving hysterically and murmuring about Xi Mubai as images of him ran through her mind continuously.

When they arrived at the operating theater, Luo Zheng was still quivering continuously and refusing to let anyone touch her.

The doctors and nurses looked at each other in shock and dismay, not daring to touch her forcefully. They had received orders from their superiors not to injure her and to treat her with care instead.

However, Luo Zheng's behavior made it impossible for them to even run a checkup on her, let alone give her treatment.

Clearly, Blue Vixen was highly toxic and stimulated all of her senses, making it impossible for her to even calm down.

The doctor had no choice but to inform the chauffeur that they could only bring someone to calm Luo Zheng down or allow her to be injected with a sedative.

However, sedatives were used to suppress one's senses forcibly and there may be allergic reactions since Luo Zheng had already been poisoned!

Seeing this, the chauffeur felt like he was put in a spot and had no choice but to make a call. “Mr. Bo, will you make a trip here? Or would you like to let the doctor inject her with a sedative?” He asked anxiously after giving Bo Hancheng a brief explanation.

Bo Hancheng remained silent.

After a long while, he said, “I'll go over...”

The chauffeur hung up and returned to the ward.

To his horror, a slender and elegant girl who was dressed in white, appeared in front of him. She was a complete stranger.

“Who is she? What is she doing here!?!” The chauffeur asked the doctor and was about to chase the girl away.

However, she answered truthfully and arrogantly, “I’m Luo Zheng’s cousin, Luo Tingxue.”

Chapter 154: Give Her A Sedative, I’ll Be Responsible For The Consequences...

Actually, Luo Tingxue ran into Luo Zheng at the hospital, purely because of Xi Mubai.

Previously in the afternoon, Bo Hancheng brought Luo Zheng away from Capital University in the rain while Xi Mubai fainted and lost his consciousness.

Luo Tingxue got a great shock and frantically dialed 120 to call for an ambulance, after which she contacted Xi Mubai’s parents... However, the Little Princess of the Xi Family, Xi Qianqian unfortunately went missing and seemed to have gotten abducted.

Hence, Xi Mubai’s father, Mr. Xi frantically tried to search for Xi Qianqian in a bid to rescue her while Mrs. Xi headed to the hospital to visit her son.

Usually, the Xi Family and Luo Family were in close contact and hence, Luo Tingxue stayed behind to accompany Mrs. Xi.

The doctor ran a checkup and discovered that there were no issues with Xi Mubai’s body but he somehow wasn’t willing to come to... it was as if he had slipped into a trance which was bothering him. If they were to try and force him to wake up, they might end up damaging his brain.

Hence, they had to wait for Xi Mubai to come to by himself.

Mrs. Xi was initially relieved to hear that her son was safe and sound, but at this moment, the dazed Xi Mubai was acting rather strangely as he continuously murmured someone’s name.

After listening clearly, they realized that he was calling Luo Zheng’s name!

Mrs. Xi had heard about Luo Zheng before and insisted that her son’s emotional trauma stemmed from Luo Zheng’s harassment... If it weren’t for Luo Tingxue’s presence, Mrs. Xi would have begun lashing out.

At the end of the day, Luo Zheng was still Old Mr. Luo’s granddaughter and hence, Mrs. Xi decided to remain silent on the account of the Luo Family. With a sullen expression, she remained seated and waited for her son to regain consciousness.

Upon seeing this, Luo Tingxue felt awkward about staying in the ward, so she stood up and excused herself.

After leaving the ward, Luo Tingxue grew flustered as she thought about Luo Zheng’s misdeeds.

However when she walked past one of the wards, she heard the sounds of a girl yelling, whose voice sounded familiar. Hence, she took a casual glance.

However, she happened to see Luo Zheng!

Hence, she entered and tried to see what was going on.

Miss Luo's cousin...

The chauffeur did not chase her away after hearing her identity.

He then looked at the barefooted Luo Zheng whose hair was messy and unkempt, hiding in a corner of the medical ward stubbornly and glowering at everyone in the ward with resentment and anger. She looked rather pitiful and horrible.

Thinking that it would take some time for Bo Hancheng to arrive, the driver asked, "Since you're Miss Luo's cousin, can you appease Miss Luo? She has been drugged by blue poison and she's no longer conscious or mentally sound. She refuses to let anyone near her..."

He initially thought that Luo Tingxue was concerned about her cousin.

As the chauffeur finished speaking, Luo Tingxue said in disgust after being shocked, "What did you say? She took drugs!?! Luo Zheng, you've really pushed yourself to the doldrums. Don't you know how to love yourself?"

The chauffeur got a great shock because he could tell that she was not concerned about Luo Zheng at all.

He wanted to explain that Luo Zheng did not take the drugs voluntarily and had merely gotten involved with an incident. However, he had no choice but to remain silent since it would be inconvenient to let outsiders know about what happened.

Seeing that Luo Zheng was struggling, Luo Tingxue sneered in her heart while thinking to herself in disgust.

Tsk tsk, why does Grandpa bother paying so much attention to a fool like her... if Auntie Luo Huawei was still alive, she'd definitely sever ties with her!

She reckoned that Bo Hancheng would definitely shun far, far away from her if he were to see her acting that way.

All of a sudden, Luo Tingxue felt a strong urge to take some photos of Luo Zheng suffering a drug relapse.

However, she had no choice but to suppress her urges since the doctors, nurses and chauffeur were around.

At the end, she said, "Doctor, look at her, you can't keep letting her go on like this! What are you guys waiting for? Hurry and check how serious her addiction is. If she can't kick the addiction, send her to rehab!"

Hearing that Luo Tingxue was Luo Zheng's cousin, the doctor spoke the truth and told her that he could use a sedative to calm Luo Zheng down before conducting a checkup.

"In that case, hurry and inject her with the sedative!"

Luo Tingxue exclaimed in annoyance, thinking that they should not drag it on any longer.

“Miss Luo’s heavily drugged and if we forcibly inject her with a sedative, it might clash with the blue poison in her body! If it results in any damage...”

“She’s already taken drugs, what else is there to be afraid of? Hurry and inject her! If anything happens, I’ll bear the consequences...”

Luo Tingxue interjected calmly.

Anyway, Luo Zheng deserves it, as long as she doesn’t die!

Chapter 155: No Brother Mubai, Only Brother Cheng!

Upon hearing her words, the doctors and nurses looked at each other in dismay, feeling like they were stuck in a dilemma.

In the end, they glanced at the chauffeur.

The chauffeur was initially Chu Ci’s confidant and was sent to be Bo Hancheng’s chauffeur. He was well aware that Bo Hancheng had an extraordinary identity and that Luo Zheng meant a lot to him.

Besides, Bo Hancheng had also mentioned that he would be making his way there personally!

Hence, he glanced at Luo Tingxue and said, “You may be Miss Luo’s cousin but you’re in no place to make a decision! My master is on his way here now and we’ll be adhering to his instructions...”

“Who’s your master? Is it Mu Tianwei?”

Luo Tingxue simply thought he was the Mu Family’s chauffeur and reckoned that he was referring to Luo Zheng’s father.

To her surprise, the chauffeur quietly denied, “My master’s surname is Bo not Mu.”

Bo?

Rather startled, Luo Tingxue suddenly thought of something. “His surname is Bo? What’s his name!?!”

Before the driver even answered, she continued to probe anxiously, “Is he Bo Hancheng? Is it?! Is he the one...”

The chauffeur found it strange that Luo Tingxue had guessed Bo Hancheng’s identity and even reacted so agitatedly.

While waiting for the answer, the door of the ward was opened and Bo Hancheng said coldly in a clear voice, “It’s me.”

Luo Tingxue was instantly flabbergasted and she could no longer keep up with her elegant facade. She turned around and muttered, “Mr. Bo...”

She could not believe that it was Bo Hancheng!

Bo Hancheng did not look at Luo Tingxue and instead entered the ward. He looked in front to see that Luo Zheng was shivering uncontrollably in a corner, appearing extremely disheveled.

She had cut her own arm with a dagger and although it was already bandaged, it began bleeding again because of her vigorous movement. Hence, the bandage was stained with blood.

He looked down at her feet and his heart sunk when he realized that she was barefooted.

Great, she's turned herself into such a state!

"Mr. Bo, I don't know what happened to Zheng but she suddenly took drugs! Look at her..."

Luo Tingxue stepped forward and deliberately said those words to Bo Hancheng in a bid to make him feel disgusted towards Luo Zheng.

However, before she could even finish speaking, he ignored her and walked past her to go to Luo Zheng.

Sensing that someone was approaching, Luo Zheng widened her eyes but was still muddled up. She grabbed the cup on the table and threw it at Bo Hancheng. "Get lost... don't come near me..."

Bo Hancheng raised his hand nonchalantly and grabbed the cup.

He put it aside and asked the doctor, "What checkups must be done?"

Staring into his gloomy eyes, the doctor answered anxiously, "We'll have to conduct a blood test, take her temperature and run a full-body checkup. However, whenever we approach her, she would scream and struggle vigorously..."

Bo Hancheng continued to move forward slowly.

Like a frightened animal, Luo Zheng turned pale and said with a hysterical gaze, "Xi Mubai... you're not Xi Mubai... I want to see Xi Mubai..."

At the same time, she seethed and flailed her arms about to stop Bo Hancheng from getting near her.

In the end, she grabbed a vase and tried to smash it at Bo Hancheng.

His face grew sullen and he grabbed it before glancing at Luo Zheng. "You want to throw a fit, eh? Go ahead then, I'll see how long you can last..."

Bo Hancheng then smashed the vase onto the wall.

Bang!

The vase was smashed into pieces with loud and crisp noises. It gave Luo Zheng a great shock.

At this moment, Bo Hancheng extended his arm and hugged Luo Zheng tightly in his arms. Luo Zheng's arm was still bleeding and Bo Hancheng inevitably touched her wound.

She immediately began bawling like a child. "It hurts... Let go of me... it hurts... I want Brother Mubai..."

"There's no Brother Mubai, only Brother Cheng!"

Bo Hancheng murmured a word, after which he ignored her cries and pried her sleeves open to reveal her arms. He ordered, "Draw her blood..."

"No... I don't want to get an injection..."

Luo Zheng was on the verge of despair as he restrained her.

Seeing that the doctor was stepping forward with the syringe, she shivered uncontrollably, especially when he was poking the needle into her body. She began twitching!

“Crook... I hate you... I don’t want you... I want Brother Mubai... Give Brother Mubai back to me... “

Chapter 156: She Wants Xi Mubai Not You

Luo Zheng was behaving hysterically and spluttering incoherently.

However, she continuously repeated Xi Mubai’s name and it was hard not to notice it!

Xi Mubai... Xi Mubai... Xi Mubai...

Bo Hancheng frowned, wishing he could push Luo Zheng away and stop bothering about her.

However, in the end, he decided that he could not leave her in the lurch because she had been drugged by the blue poison, all because of him!

“Ouch... It hurts... I’m in so much pain... Brother Mubai... ”

Luo Zheng turned as pale as a sheet and she broke into cold sweat as her face twisted into a grimace.

In the end, she seemed to be unable to take it any longer and cocked her head towards the side to bite down on Bo Hancheng’s arm, as if she bore a strong grudge and hatred towards him.

Bo Hancheng glanced at the syringe angrily to see that it was slowly getting filled with blood.

His eyes turned gloomy and he asked coldly, “You’ve already drawn so much. Is it still not enough?”

“It’ll be enough soon! I just need a little bit more... ”

Overwhelmed by his domineering aura, the doctor broke out into a cold sweat and his hand began to tremble. The doctor was finally done. Bo Hancheng’s arm was bleeding, obviously because of Luo Zheng’s bite!

Seeing this, Luo Tingxue could no longer stand it and stepped forward to say, “Mr. Bo, Zheng keeps addressing you as Mubai. I think Mubai is the only one who can appease Zheng...”

“Get out...”

Before Luo Tingxue could even finish speaking, Bo Hancheng chided calmly without even raising his head.

Feeling indignant about his attitude towards her and considering the fact that Xi Mubai was also hospitalized, she continued, “Why don’t I tell Mubai to come down and accompany Zheng? Mr. Bo...”

“Get out.”

He immediately raised his head and repeated while glaring at her menacingly.

Luo Tingxue immediately turned pale and almost lost her composure. “Mr. Bo, Zheng is my cousin, I don’t want to see her in so much pain! She wants Xi Mubai, not you. If this goes on, I’m afraid she won’t be able to persist longer...”

“Scram!” he hollered in a hostile manner to chase her away.

Luo Tingxue was incredibly embarrassed. As a princess who was always put on a pedestal, she was loved, pampered and praised all the time. Since when had she ever been treated so unfairly?

She had always had a huge bunch of suitors but she had never liked any of them.

Bo Hancheng was the only one who caught her eye and yet, he did not reciprocate her feelings for him. Luo Tingxue turned around and left. However, when she arrived at the door, she turned around to glare at Luo Zheng, feeling incredibly indignant.

Luo Zheng!!!

Why!?! Just why!?!

I was the one who met Bo Hancheng first, not Luo Zheng!

Yet, Luo Zheng had already beat her to it and managed to attract him within less than a month... Although Luo Zheng was already drugged, he still cuddled her in his arms and refused to look at Luo Tingxue.

That made her feel... incredibly embarrassed!

If she lost to someone who was more outstanding than her, she would probably retreat... but since it was Luo Zheng, she could not take it lying down at all!

...

A blood test, temperature check and physical examination were conducted.

The doctor finally came to a conclusion and answered cautiously, “Mr. Bo, the blue poison in Miss Luo has fused with her blood! It won’t be easy for her to kick it...”

He then glanced at Luo Zheng and said, “Moreover, Miss Luo is young and probably lacks willpower. She may not be able to restrain herself and have a tendency to self-harm! Therefore, there must be someone to accompany her...”

Bo Hancheng was poisoned himself and hence, knew what the doctor meant. He asked calmly, “She keeps complaining about pain, how can we stop the pain?”

Chapter 157: If It Were All Just An Act

“Mr. Bo, the drug is taking effect now and Miss Luo keeps wailing about being in pain. However, it may not be just physical pain. It could be emotional pain too! She probably thought of the memories that were deep within her and hence, began to behave that way...” The doctor explained truthfully and politely.

So, Xi Mubai is her deepest memory? She kept shouting and wailing in pain because of Xi Mubai!

Staring at the girl in his arms, Bo Hancheng's eyes turned gloomy and he held her in his arms tightly. He said coldly, "I want a solution, not the cause of her illness! Give her treatment immediately and stop her pain..."

Seeing that Bo Hancheng's aura was austere and was clearly about to fly into a rage, the doctor frantically said, "It's Miss Luo's first time getting drugged. It's normal for her to have such a reaction. The only way to stop her pain is to give her a sedative and allow her to fall into deep sleep..."

Before Bo Hancheng questioned him again, the doctor continued, "Based on the examination just now, a little bit of sedative will not result in too serious of an effect. Once she wakes up, she may feel weak and possibly even vomit. She'll feel better after a few days of rest..."

Bo Hancheng did not agree immediately.

Luo Zheng struggled continuously and began twitching while in his embrace. She had clearly gone hysterical because of the pain. "I'm in so much pain... Brother Mubai... please save me..."

Seeing this, the doctor seemed to have suddenly thought of something. He added, "If you don't give her a sedative, the only solution to treat her emotional illness, is to find the person whom Miss Luo is clamoring about, to appease her..."

"She can dream on!" Bo Hancheng interjected coldly before the doctor could even finish speaking.

He then came to a decision and hollered menacingly, "Give her the sedative! Immediately..."

The doctor broke out into cold sweat and he hurriedly expressed assent before instructing the nurse to prepare the sedative.

Bo Hancheng lowered his head again and kept his eyes fixed on her. He then mocked in sarcasm, "You're really cheap eh! While pestering me, you continuously clamored about wanting to see Xi Mubai. Hah..."

As soon as he finished speaking, he frowned and added indifferently, "You want to see your Brother Mubai? Find him yourself after you come to. Forget about getting me to help you!"

She was calling another man's name while laying in his arms. He would rather let her die of pain than agree to help her look for Xi Mubai!

At a complete loss, she stared at him, as if she had understood his words. With a tinge of grievance on her face, she pouted and muttered, "You're so mean... you don't want to give Brother Mubai to me... You're so mean..."

Bo Hancheng frowned and barked, "Luo Zheng, I really feel like strangling you to death!"

The doctor happened to step forth and stabbed Luo Zheng with the syringe of sedative.

Luo Zheng teared up uncontrollably while struggling non-stop and muttering, "Jerk... I hate you... Let go of me..."

The memories of her previous life seemed to be caging her and putting her in purgatory.

Luo Zheng watched herself chase Xi Mubai continuously in the hallucinations of her previous life... In the end, she did not catch up with him and had no choice but to cry and beg.

The emotional stress and the physical pain destroyed her rationality and pushed her into despair!

With the injection of the sedative, Luo Zheng's body weakened and she closed her eyes slowly, finally putting an end to the madness.

Bo Hancheng got up and put Luo Zheng down angrily, not wanting to stay any longer. He then turned around and left.

After turning around, she raised her hand and grabbed the corner of his shirt.

Tears rolled down her cheeks and she muttered, "Mr. Bodyguard... I don't want you to die..."

Clearly, the dreams about Xi Mubai were fading and the only dreams left... were those of Mr. Bodyguard!

Unfortunately, Bo Hancheng did not have any interest in listening any longer. He shrugged her hand away coldly and strode out of the ward.

Why bother getting so vexed over a girl!?!

Yet, the words that she said left such a deep impression on him.

She said, she would give everything to him as long as she had the means to.

She said, that she would be his partner in bed once she turns 18 years old.

She said that she would be willing to take the risk for him as long as she could see him.

...

Was all of that fake?

If it were all just an act, what exactly is real then?

Bo Hancheng left in anger and he did not hear what she said.

Before she slipped into deep slumber, she murmured softly in the ward, "Bo Hancheng... you're the only one I have... don't leave me..."

Chapter 158: Past and Present Life – Luo Zheng VS Xi Mubai

Do you believe in previous lives?

In the past, Xi Mubai had never believed in previous lives but at this moment, he shockingly discovered that he had slipped into a dream that he could not wake up from.

Things unfolded differently in the dream.

Luo Zheng still loved and adored him, and created plenty of occurrences. She pursued him in a high-profile manner and caused everyone in Capital University to know about it.

He was deeply worried about it and had no choice but to ignore it!

There was even an unsightly video that circulated online.

The background of the video was the room of a love hotel and she was scantily clad and in the company of a few gangsters.

It seemed that the girl in the video was shameless, dirty and lewd!

“Brother Mubai, I’m begging you, believe me, I was really framed...”

At the door of Capital University, she scurried towards him and blocked him while pleading.

She was Luo Zheng, the girl in the video!

At this moment, she looked incredibly haggard and was dressed in patients’ clothing, seemingly having escaped from the hospital.

He had never felt good about Luo Zheng before and always found her to be silly and retarded... she was so young and yet, she was always wearing heavy makeup and indecent clothes. She looked just like a hooker.

The video that leaked simply proved... that she was a sl*t!

“Brother Mubai, look, this is my virginity test report. This proves that I’m still clean and untainted!” Seemingly afraid that he would be disgusted, Luo Zheng hurriedly took out a document and presented it to him.

He looked at her in disdain and said coldly, “So, you got your hymen reconstructed before you went for the virginity test!”

Suddenly, Luo Zheng turned as pale as a sheet and glanced at him timidly.

“You drugged yourself so that you could devote yourself to me and make me be responsible for you? I didn’t go in the end so you ended up attracting those hooligans who took liberties with you! Luo Zheng, you brought this upon yourself. Stop pestering me again from now on. I will never touch you at all...”

Luo Zheng’s eyes were full of shock, guilt and shame as he spoke the truth. He knew about it because someone sent him a text message to inform him about it.

“Brother Mubai, I did bring this upon myself. I shouldn’t have tried to give myself to you and force you to be responsible to me! I’m sorry, I’m really sorry, don’t ignore me...” Luo Zheng did not deny it and simply apologized repeatedly while admitting it.

“Luo Zheng, do you know how disgusting you are? Don’t appear in front of me again from now on. I find you really filthy!” He then turned around and strode away.

All of a sudden, he heard the sounds of plenty of students from Capital University pointing fingers at Luo Zheng and criticizing her harshly.

Luo Zheng then anxiously retorted but her voice was too weak, and was drowned out by the remarks of others. The only thing she could do was cry her lungs out in agony.

He grew a little flustered and turned around to take a glance at her.

She squatted on the ground and her hair cascaded onto the ground, appearing pathetically skinny and frail. At that moment, he thought, she's still a kid after all, was I being too harsh with my words?

However, in the blink of an eye, he beat down his own idea and thought that it was all her own fault!

Later, Luo Zheng had to drop out of school because of the video and he finally got rid of her.

However, at this moment, his sister was abducted.

His parents frantically called the police and tried to search for her. At last, they found her in one piece. The girl who found her was Mu Nianqing.

He heard that she had gone to the underground gambling den to approach Scarface out of bravery, and ended up succeeding in finding Old K.

Unlike Luo Zheng, Mu Nianqing was beautiful, studious, kindhearted and well-mannered. When he communicated with her, he felt like he had met someone of his kind.

Gradually, he came to a shocking discovery. Mu Nianqing was not only his sister's life savior, she was also his benefactor. He had been searching hard but to no avail.

To his surprise, he met her by such a coincidental chance!

Gradually, he began to feel good about her. Unfortunately, she had no feelings for him.

Mu Nianqing told him that she admired a man who was precisely the reason she took the risk of approaching Scarface, for she wanted to catch his attention!

Despite being rejected, he continued being a gentleman and gave Mu Nianqing his blessings.

Luo Zheng still appeared from time to time and slowly weaved into his life.

After the video leaked, she became cowardly, silent, and even developed an inferiority complex. Unlike before, she no longer appeared obnoxiously and simply followed him from afar... When he discovered her presence while turning around, she would often shun and hide in a corner like an ostrich to make herself scarce.

The only thing that remained constant was her love for him.

"Brother Mubai... your stomach is prone to discomfort... remember to take your meals on time..."

"Brother Mubai... you hate taking medicine... pay attention to your health..."

"Brother Mubai... you're great at painting... but don't stay up late..."

Chapter 159: Is Mu Nianqing The One Who Saved You?

She knew everything about his life and his habits.

She knew him better than he knew himself!

Brother Mubai...

She called him again and again, until she possessed his soul, making it difficult for him to forget her!

“Luo Zheng...”

Suddenly, Xi Mubai broke a sweat and continuously chanted her name while waking up from the dream of the previous life.

He was greeted with the sight of a white ceiling and the smell of antiseptic wafted into his nose. He was obviously in a hospital ward!

Looking back at the scene in his dreams, Xi Mubai suddenly found it to be absurd.

However, he had no choice but to admit that he did want the dream to continue so that he could see what happened in the end... though there was nothing he could do since he had already woken up abruptly.

Everything that happened in the dream was worlds apart from reality.

In reality, there was no such video and Luo Zheng was still going to school, but she was no longer infatuated with him... and Mu Nianqing, his abducted sister's savior did not exist!

“Mubai, you're finally awake! You've frightened me...”

A middle-aged female voice sounded beside him.

Xi Mubai recognized her to be his mother and he was just about to look at her and comfort her that she was alright.

However, a slender figure suddenly fell into his arms and she weeped miserably. “Brother, I was kidnapped, I thought I would never see you again! I got framed by a bitch and the gangsters shot my leg. I'm afraid I can't dance anymore...”

Xi Qianqian was just like a princess of the Xi Family and everyone in the family doted on her, just like Xi Mubai.

She was his only sister and was pitiful to have been born with a frail body. He sympathized with her and often gave in to her... Hence, the two of them shared an incredibly close relationship!

In fact, Xi Mubai even promised Xi Qianqian that he would let her assess and screen his future girlfriend.

If she was not pleased with the candidate, he would not get into a relationship with her!

Hence, getting kidnapped and shot in the leg was the biggest pain and torment that Xi Qianqian had been through... especially when she was sent to the hospital after her father arrived with the police to rescue her.

When she heard the doctor say that she had to recover for a long time, and may not be able to dance again, she could not help but be agitated. She loved dancing and was still attending the Arts Academy. Now that her leg was ruined, her future had become bleak!

Now, Scarface had escaped and the police only managed to catch Li Mazi who wasn't the culprit... she was so infuriated and annoyed with the fact that there was nowhere for her anger to be vented. Resentment grew within her and she put all the blame on Luo Zheng!

Therefore, she purposely moved to Xi Mubai's ward in a bid to complain to him about Luo Zheng as soon as he came to, so that he would stand up for her!

After hearing her complaints, Xi Mubai squinted and questioned instead of comforting her, "What did you say? You were kidnapped!?!"

Xi Mubai's heart wrenched up at the thought of his younger sister getting abducted.

Xi Qianqian's gaunt face was full of tears and she answered, "Yeah, just the day before yesterday afternoon, I was kidnapped at the bar! Brother, I almost died there, it was Luo Zheng's fault. If she didn't leave me in the lurch, I wouldn't have gotten shot in the leg..."

The mention of Luo Zheng made Xi Mubai's heart twitch again. "What does it have to do with Luo Zheng?"

"Luo Zheng was there when I was kidnapped! I begged her to save me, but she chose not to and even deliberately hurt me! She is a sl*t, a b*tch, a hooker..." Xi Qianqian began cursing softly.

Xi Mubai usually pampered her but at this moment, his temples began to pulsate and throb violently as he felt flustered, perhaps because the dream had affected him too much.

Suppressing his impatience, Xi Mubai thought about the life savior and asked, "Who was the one who saved you? Is it a girl named Mu Nianqing?"

"The ones who rescued me were the policeman and Father! Mu Nianqing? Who is she..."

Xi Qianqian was confused, for she had never heard of that name.

"It's not Mu Nianqing? How can it not be her!?!"

Chapter 160: Dial The Number To Verify If Mu Nianqing Exists!

Xi Mubai was pale and lost his usual composure.

A doubtful expression formed on his handsome face and he questioned Xi Qianqian, "Think through it carefully. Is there a Mu Nianqing?"

Stunned to see this for she could not understand why her brother was acting that way, Xi Qianqian groused, "Brother, I was kidnapped and shot in the leg. Why aren't you concerned at all? You keep asking about irrelevant things!"

Upon hearing this, Mrs. Xi found her son to be acting strangely too. "Xianxian, your brother has just come to and he hasn't recovered yet! In our family, your brother dotes on you the most. How can he not be concerned?"

After Xi Mubai realized it, he found himself in a dead end.

He smiled self-deprecatingly and thought to himself, it's just a dream, why did I take it so seriously!?!

Xi Qianqian was kidnapped but that could just be a coincidence with the dream. He thought, it only happened because of the telepathy between us... Otherwise, why doesn't that lewd video exist? Luo Zheng is still in school and she no longer adores me!

So, isn't this all just a dream?

However, for some reason, he felt empty and overwhelmed with unknown emotions.

"Qianqian, tell me about the process of you getting kidnapped. Don't miss out any characters, time, and place..."

Xi Mubai continued to ask in a bid to get a thorough understanding.

Xi Qianqian thought that her brother was concerned about her and hence felt a little less aggrieved, she then began to tell him everything.

Of course, she skipped the beginning where she met Li Mazi's subordinates at the bar, who wanted to tease and flirt with her... As the heiress of the Xi Family, she would never allow herself to be humiliated. Hence, she splashed some alcohol at them, causing them to take revenge on her out of anger. That led to the abduction!

The more Xi Mubai listened, the more shocked he was.

Putting the timing aside, the location was also the underground gambling den, just like in his dream... in terms of characters, it was also in line with that of the dream – international criminal Scarface and the drug lord Old. K!

"Brother, you have to do me justice and take revenge on Luo Zheng! That b*tch ruined my leg and she must pay a hefty price for that!"

Xi Qianqian spared no effort in criticizing Luo Zheng and her tone was full of resentment.

Hearing that her daughter's leg got injured because of Luo Zheng and that her son continuously called Luo Zheng's name when he was in a coma, she got flabbergasted!

All of a sudden, she barked angrily, "Mubai, is Luo Zheng that shameless sl*t who keeps pestering you? She's so young but so shameless! Knowing that Qianqian is your sister, she not only did not help, she even deliberately framed Qianqian. Who does she think she is..."

"Shut up!" Xi Mubai barked coldly.

Mrs. Xi, Xi Qianqian and even Xi Mubai himself was slightly startled.

After a few seconds of silence, he calmed himself down and said, "Mother, please mind your language, don't be so vulgar! Qianqian, since your leg is injured, just rest well and don't run around again. It's not good for healing! You guys go out first. I'm a little tired and I'd like to get some rest."

"Brother, what's the matter with you? Am I still your sister or not?! What's wrong with Mother scolding Luo Zheng? She is a b*tch, a sl*t, and a whore..."

"Xi Qianqian, mind your manners!" With a splitting headache, Xi Mubai suddenly grew infuriated after hearing her words.

He had always been a gentleman to Xi Qianqian, and had never lost his temper... Seeing how angry he was, Xi Qianqian was first frightened, then frustrated. She left indignantly, and returned to the wheelchair.

“Luo Zheng was clearly the one who harmed me. Not only did you not avenge me, you even stood up for Luo Zheng! Brother, I hate you...” After lashing out at him, Xi Qianqian sulked and struggled to leave in the wheelchair.

Mrs. Xi looked at her daughter before turning to glance at her son. She chided, “Mubai, how can you treat Qianqian that way because of an outsider!?! It’s not like you don’t know how much Qianqian loves dancing. She’s definitely heartbroken and devastated about her injured leg! You seriously...”

Mrs. Xi felt deeply distressed after seeing that her son was staying silent.

Her son suddenly fainted, and her daughter got kidnapped. What has she done to deserve this!?!

Mrs. Xi sighed and left to go comfort her daughter after making sure that her son was fine.

In the ward, Xi Mubai was the only one left and he had no idea what was going on, and why he was not acting like himself.

Recalling the dream, he lamented that they were all just bits and pieces. Hence, he could not get the full picture.

The last memory stopped at the good impression that he had formed of Mu Nianqing. He had no choice but to give her his blessings after finding out that she was in love with someone else.

He rubbed his temples and felt overwhelmed with fatigue.

Xi Mubai seemed to have suddenly thought about something as his heart began to ricochet.

He looked at the table and grabbed his mobile phone. Known as a studious prodigy, Xi Mubai indeed had a brilliant memory. Hence, he still remembered Mu Nianqing’s mobile number.

He tried to punch in every digit until a complete number appeared.

He then pressed the dial button...
