

BO LOVE LIFE 211

Chapter 211: I'm Good, I'm Good, I'm Very Obedient!

Chu Ci barged in right away because he knew that Luo Zheng was unconscious and that Bo Hancheng was there too.

He did not expect to be greeted with such a sight.

Hence, he immediately fell silent!

Unbelievable, simply unbelievable!

What did he just see?

Luo Zheng was lying intimately on top of Bo Hancheng and they were hugging each other. The usually lofty Bo Hancheng, was a little flushed and his clothes were all messy. Not to mention, his belt was unbuckled too!

It was undoubtedly a once-in-a-blue-moon sight!

While he tried to scrutinize further, the frightened Luo Zheng stared at Bo Hancheng helplessly. "Brother Cheng..."

Bo Hancheng was feeling extremely helpless. What he dreaded the most, actually happened in the end. He did not mind it... but after seeing how Luo Zheng seemed to be begging him for help, he placed a hand on her waist and turned her over.

The two of them switched positions and he was now on top of her. While holding her in his arms, he warned, "Chu Ci, keep looking and see what you'll get from me!"

Fortunately, the situation was special this time. Luo Zheng was neatly dressed and none of her skin was exposed.

Otherwise...

Bo Hancheng frowned at the thought of this.

He had no idea what he would do if that were to really happen... However, he was sure that he would never forgive Chu Ci easily even though the latter was his brother!

"Um... Third Brother..."

"Leave first..."

Chu Ci recovered from the shock and began to feel a little awkward. He turned to the side and was just about to say something, but was soon interrupted by Bo Hancheng.

All of a sudden, he could not help, but feel conflicted.

"Okay, I'll get out. I'll get out right now! You guys continue..." Chu Ci quickly scurried out of the ward.

Leaning on the wall of the hallway, Chu Ci was still in doubt and he muttered under his breath, "Am I dreaming? Yes, I must be dreaming!"

Otherwise, how could a singleton like Third Brother who doesn't care for romance or lust, do something like that!?!

Is he an iceberg which has melted!?!

...

"Brother Cheng, what do we do now? Someone really walked in on us!"

Luo Zheng did not expect it to really happen. She hugged his waist and buried her face in his chest in embarrassment.

"Little imp, so you know what shame is!"

Bo Hancheng found her reaction to be extremely interesting.

He then tugged her hair and asked, "Since you do, you're not allowed to play a fool like this in the future without my permission. Got it?"

"Well then, Brother Cheng, you're not allowed to ignore me!" Luo Zheng sounded rather self-righteous.

If it weren't for the fact that he had ignored her, she wouldn't have had the courage to press him down beneath her!

Upon hearing her words, Bo Hancheng frowned and gave it some consideration... In the end, he still gave in with a sigh. "As long as you're obedient, I won't ignore you."

"I'm good, I'm good, I'm very obedient! Brother Cheng..."

Luo Zheng smiled and reached a hand out in a bid to hug him.

"Sister Zheng, if you hug me again, I won't stop..." He said helplessly.

Luo Zheng immediately understood what he meant and a burning sensation formed on her face.

At the next instant, she quickly let go of him, not allowing him to touch her again.

She then stealthily watched as he got up.

His clothes were messy and there was a bite mark on his chest. His neck was a little red too because of the hickeys... He then looked down and saw that his trousers were crumpled and he seemed to be extremely disheveled.

The sight of his handsome face and his unkempt attire made her heart race.

Luo Zheng quickly placed her hands on her face to dispel the heat when she thought of the fact that she was the one who had done that to him.

All of a sudden, she actually heard the sound of her heart beating!

Mr. Bodyguard is so handsome that I'm about to cry!

Chapter 212: Third Brother, You're So Coquettish!

At this moment, Luo Zheng no longer felt impulsive and she finally realized how brazen she was when she pinned him down!

She secretly glanced at him as he entered the bathroom. The sounds of water splashing and the tap running could soon be heard. She reckoned that he should probably be cleaning up.

Luo Zheng could not help, but turn red and shy again.

After just a few minutes, the sounds of the water flowing suddenly stopped and the door of the bathroom was pushed open again.

For some reason, Luo Zheng felt embarrassed. She could not help, but roll around a little and bury her head in her blanket.

She could subtly hear his footsteps approaching.

He then pulled her hand all of a sudden and placed a warm and wet towel on her palm.

Greatly taken aback, Luo Zheng stuck her head out and stared at the warm towel that Bo Hancheng was holding onto. He then gently wiped her palm with it.

That was the palm that she used to touch him with.

Soon, he wiped it clean, leaving no trace behind.

Luo Zheng found it a pity and her eyes turned gloomy. She was initially feeling extremely curious about what it would look and taste like!

"Do you find it a pity?"

He said in a low voice, immediately exposing her inner thoughts.

Greatly taken aback, Luo Zheng denied while stuttering, "No, no no... no! Brother Cheng, I didn't..."

"Is that so?"

Bo Hancheng questioned as he put down the towel.

He continued, "Sister Zheng, you don't have to be so eager! There's plenty of time for us in the future. When the time is ripe, I'll go ahead with whatever you want to do. Even if you want to taste it, I'd be willing to satisfy you..."

"!!!"

Luo Zheng felt a chill down her spine after hearing his words.

When the time is ripe? What does that mean!?!

Was it an illusion? Why do I feel like I was digging my own grave?

Ah, it must be an illusion!

Bo Hancheng did not explain any further, lest Luo Zheng tries to avoid him.

He took out a bottle of pills from the drawer and took out the right dosage. "Finish these before I come out."

"Huh?"

Luo Zheng glanced at the white pills on her palm and began frowning.

She then looked at Bo Hancheng to see that he was walking out of the ward.

Luo Zheng continued to stare at the pills on her palm while fretting over them!

Chu Ci had been waiting for a long time outside the ward.

Seeing that Bo Hancheng had exited, he smiled ambiguously and exclaimed, "Third Brother, turns out you're so coquettish on the inside!"

Bo Hancheng glanced at Chu Ci and remained silent.

Chu Ci coughed a little and started to talk to him about the serious matters. "Third Brother, you guessed it right. I found evidence of Scarface's true identity being Old K! He's really smart, he made up the identity of Scarface, which is a perfect facade for him!"

As soon as he finished speaking, his eyes turned gloomy and he said, "Old K might have been able to stay strong in Beijing because of the four major families! I'm currently investigating the Chu Family and it's likely that the Chu Family has nothing to do with him. That leaves us with the Gu Family, Xi Family and Luo Family. I wonder which one of them is involved. Or maybe, all three are involved! After all, such a major family can't be that clean..."

Bo Hancheng's eyes turned gloomy and he remained silent.

"Li Mazi has confessed that Blue Vixen is the latest kind of poison! So, there's no antidote, and the people who are infected can only try their best to resist it. At the beginning, the relapses will occur once every few days, which aren't too serious yet! Later on, the relapses may happen once a week, or fortnightly. Each time, the pain will debilitate them and in probably less than three months, she would be able to kick the addiction as long as she doesn't touch the drugs..."

Three months?

Just nice. She'll be turning 18 in three months and if she can kick her addiction, it would be considered her coming-of-age gift!

"Third Brother, I think it'd be hard for Luo Zheng to kick the addiction..."

"She must kick it!"

Chapter 213: It's Tough Handling A Spoiled Wife

Before Chu Ci could even finish speaking, Bo Hancheng calmly interjected in a firm tone.

Drug addicts must kick their addictions right from the start.

Otherwise, it would be harder to kick the addiction as time drags on. Over time, the addiction will become worse and stay for life!

Little imp is so beautiful and clean. She shouldn't be ruined by this!

Seeing this, Chu Ci began to feel a little bewildered and he asked softly, "Third Brother, do you really want to let Luo Zheng stay? Indeed, she has proven her loyalty but aren't you afraid... that she'll detest you from now on? You guys might turn against each other too!"

After all, Bo Hancheng would one day ruin the Luo Family by himself.

As long as Luo Zheng cares about the Luo Family, she would definitely resent him.

Bo Hancheng tried to get a grip on his emotions with an icy cold gaze. "She's the one who's willing to stay behind, so she can't blame me! If she really wants to hate me, she can do so..."

It would take some time to ruin the four major families.

However, he would leave the Luo Family last.

By then, Luo Zheng would matter to him much less than she does now!

After he destroys the Luo Family, he'd at most make arrangements for the rest of her life, if she were to really hate him and turn against him.

"Wouldn't that be... a little too cruel?"

For the first time, Chu Ci took sympathy on Luo Zheng whom he usually detested.

"Is that cruel?"

Bo Hancheng smirked and said, "There's nothing too cruel about that. People have to face reality when they grow up. Besides, this is her own choice..."

After all, he had been avoiding her and she was the one who insisted on provoking him. Hence, she would have to bear the consequences regardless of what they may be!

"How about you? Can you really guarantee that you won't waver..." Chu Ci sighed softly.

"Third Brother, you must know that humans are the most determined creatures in this world, but also the most fickle ones."

Bo Hancheng remained composed.

Seeing this, Chu Ci was extremely clear that Bo Hancheng was definitely different from ordinary people since he grew up in the Bo Family... hence, he reckoned that what he was worried about probably wouldn't happen.

"Look at this magazine. It's your little vixen! Once it's published, she'll definitely rise to fame. She has great potential..."

Before leaving, Chu Ci took out a magazine and handed it to Bo Hancheng.

Bo Hancheng grabbed it and glanced at the cover to see that the model was Mu Nianqing!

“Tsk, tsk, I really envy you. Both Luo Zheng and Mu Nianqing are absolute beauties! You’re really lucky...”

“Are you very free?”

Chu Ci was about to tease him, but Bo Hancheng interjected coldly before adding, “Lately, the company needs to send someone overseas for reconnaissance...”

“Don’t, don’t, don’t! Third Brother, I’m busy at the moment. I’m extremely busy...”

This time, Chu Ci was the one to interject, after which he turned around and hurriedly scurried away.

Bo Hancheng did not stay any longer and instead headed to the ward with his magazine.

Chu Ci walked towards the corner and turned around to look at the ward.

Can humanity really be controlled? Can acting and reality really be separated?

No one could tell what Luo Zheng meant to Bo Hancheng!

However, Chu Ci was sure that he was destined to be king.

Just like Mu Nianqing, Luo Zheng will never be good enough for him, let alone become his wife!

...

“Brother Cheng...”

Luo Zheng was battling the pills. Whenever she swallowed one, she would barf a little.

After a long time, she finally managed to swallow them all and accomplish the task that he assigned her to.

He pushed the door open and entered, after which she scurried towards him pitifully.

Bo Hancheng glanced in front to see the petite Luo Zheng whose feet were like jade. Even her toes looked just like pearls that were tugging at his heartstrings.

He frowned and reached a hand out to pick her up. “Why aren’t you wearing your shoes? Why are you in such a hurry?”

“Brother Cheng, hurry and give me a compliment! I just finished the pills and there’s a bitter taste in my mouth...”

While Luo Zheng was complaining aggrievedly, she threw her arms around his neck.

Seeing this, Bo Hancheng felt worried, which was rare of him.

Why is little imp so spoiled? She seems tough to handle!

Chapter 214: She’s Really Spoiled!

He then looked down and granted her wish by whispering into her ear and helping her get rid of the bitterness.

After a long, passionate kiss, Luo Zheng panted heavily and asked, "Brother Cheng, it's really bitter, isn't it? Can I not take these tablets ..."

Bitter?

Bo Hancheng thought to himself in bewilderment, it's clearly sweet!

"Is it still bitter now?" he asked, while lowering his head.

Luo Zheng puckered up and smiled before saying, "It's so amazing. It doesn't taste bitter anymore after you've kissed me, Brother Cheng! However, I can't make you kiss me whenever I take my medicine, that seems a little troublesome..."

"You're already giving me enough trouble." He interjected calmly.

An idea popped up in his mind.

What a silly kid. If she thinks the tablets are bitter, she can just get rid of the bitterness with some candy, can't she?

Since she did not think of this, I shall pretend that it didn't cross my mind either. I'm not going to intentionally remind her and let go of such a great opportunity!

"Brother Cheng, do you mean that you'll let me kiss you to get rid of the bitterness whenever I take tablets from now on?"

Luo Zheng asked while glancing at him with bright eyes, eager to hear his answer.

Somehow, Bo Hancheng's ears turned slightly red, though he remained expressionless because he knew that he was taking advantage of her. He nodded and said, "Yeah, can't help it since you're so troublesome. I have no choice but to bear with it and help you."

"Wow! Thank you, Brother Cheng..."

Luo Zheng propped herself up happily and pecked him on his cheek to encourage him.

She was filled with joy deep down.

She was not bragging but she would be willing to continue eating the tablets as long as she could kiss him!

She subconsciously began craving for his kiss again. She tried to ask for it shyly, "Brother Cheng... well... I think there's still some bitterness in my mouth... can you..."

Luo Zheng did not finish her sentence but she was obviously asking for a kiss!

She's really spoiled rotten!

Bo Hancheng sighed helplessly and glanced at her before kissing her again.

He tasted her sweet lips and slowly began to get addicted. In fact, he did not wish to pull away at all.

At last, he closed his eyes and immersed himself.

Luo Zheng could not find an explanation for the joy that she felt whenever he kissed her.

She widened her eyes and stared at him conscientiously.

His brows were neat and his eyes were dazzling, complemented by his beautiful features that made him look like a Greek God. Luo Zheng suddenly thought of something.

Everyone said that men who had thin lips were heartless. What about Mr. Bodyguard?

Is he heartless, or... sentimental!?!

He should be the latter. Otherwise, why would he have secretly carried a torch for me in the previous life... and become my saving grace at the end? He even helped me take revenge.

My Mr. Bodyguard!

She would never forget the scene of the fire.

He gave her a new life and she was willing to die for him!

She could not help but feel an urge to touch his face.

At this very moment, Luo Zheng unintentionally shifted her gaze onto his hand... he was holding onto a magazine that was particularly eye-catching.

Luo Zheng subconsciously took a few more glances at the magazine.

She could instantly see who the model was.

At that instant, her mind went blank, as if she was struck by lightning.

Ignoring the fact that he was still kissing her, she quickly let go of his neck and propped herself up.

Mu Nianqing... Mu Nianqing... Mu Nianqing...

The person on the magazine was none other than Mu Nianqing!

Chapter 215: Untitled

Luo Zheng avoided him, causing him to stop.

He frowned and opened his eyes in displeasure. Still lusting for her kiss, he asked, "Little imp, is that enough?"

How heartless, she stopped as and when she wanted, with no consideration for my feelings at all!

Does she cherish it less because she got it easily?

I must punish her!

If she tries to please me and ask me for a kiss again, I definitely won't agree so readily!

At the same time, Bo Hancheng noticed that Luo Zheng had been staring at his hand.

He looked down to see that he was holding onto the unpublished magazine... it turns out that the magazine had caught her attention and caused her to be distracted at the crucial moment.

At the thought of this, Bo Hancheng released his grip and dropped the magazine on the ground, seemingly trying to make her change her mind.

The magazine fell onto the ground with a soft thud.

To his surprise, Luo Zheng's pupils constricted and she bent forwards.

She caught him off guard and slipped out of his arms, so much that he could not hug her in time!

Bang!

Luo Zheng fell onto the ground forcefully with a loud thud.

"Little imp, what are you doing!?!"

Bo Hancheng asked coldly and leaned forward, trying to help her up.

Luo Zheng thought about it, reached out to pick up the magazine, and clutched it tightly with both hands. "This magazine ... how did you get it... "

She seemed to be weeping and her tone was full of disgust, repulsion and hatred.

Bo Hancheng suddenly felt like he could not understand her.

She was clearly still smiling and acting all bubbly, jovial and joyous with him a moment ago.

Yet, her mood changed drastically at the next moment. She gave off a lonely, sad, melancholic and vicissitude vibe. She didn't seem like an eighteen-year-old at all!

Right from the beginning that they met, Bo Hancheng knew that Luo Zheng was a person who had secrets.

However, he did not want to know what it was.

After all, they were from two different worlds.

So, why should he be bothered about her wellbeing and her feelings?

Chu Ci often said that humans are fickle and he was not wrong.

He changed his mind and decided to find out her secrets... At least, it would get rid of her worries. A teenager like her should not be overwhelmed with so many troubles that brought her sorrow!

"Why? Are you interested? Chu Ci gave it to me... "

"Chu Ci!"

Luo Zheng interjected before Bo Hancheng could even finish speaking.

She then grabbed the magazine and stared at the beautiful and alluring Mu Nianqing coldly. She muttered, "Chu Ci? Hah, so it was him! I should have thought of this, I should have long ago... "

In her previous life, Mu Nianqing was a supermodel who was idolized by many and branded as the nation's goddess.

All women loved Xi Mubai and all men loved Mu Nianqing!

Initially, Mu Nianqing was only a part-time model. Although the Mu Family invested plenty of money to support her... she did not become extremely famous since she didn't have that strong of a background.

That was the case until she happened to get signed to Star Path modeling agency by chance, and managed to impress the CEO who decided to nurture her and help her shoot to fame.

Star Path was an up and coming elite modeling agency.

Luo Zheng did not know exactly, who the CEO of the agency was and simply heard that he was known as "Master Chu"... No one knew their identity, origin or background, and his only striking characteristic was the fact that he wore a mask all the time and never showed his true face.

After linking the pieces together, everything was clear as day.

It turns out, Chu Ci is Master Chu and Mu Nianqing was the lucky one he chose!

Chapter 216: Brother Cheng... My Heart Hurts...

Having figured this out, a sarcastic smile formed on Luo Zheng's face and she stared at Mu Nianqing who was on the cover of the magazine. Hatred began to grow within her.

Tear

She began to rip the magazine into shreds and she scattered the pieces all over the floor, making it seem like the ground was covered in snow.

"Luo Zheng, you..."

Bo Hancheng was about to say something.

However, at the next moment, Luo Zheng extended her arms and turned around to hug him, burying herself in his arms... like a pet that was yearning for warmth. She began rubbing her head against his chest continuously.

Although he could not even figure out what was going on and was feeling stunned, he nonetheless put his large hand on her back and rubbed it to comfort her.

"Brother Cheng... my heart hurts..."

Luo Zheng said sullenly, unable to hide her sorrow.

Bo Hancheng's eyes turned gloomy and he asked, "Why does it hurt?"

However, she did not answer, but hugged him even more tightly like he was the last straw she could clutch at for dear life. She refused to let go at all!

For three whole minutes, she ducked like an ostrich.

Seemingly having thought of something, she frantically took a step back and looked up at him. "Brother Cheng, what's between you and Chu Ci? How do you know him!?!"

She was clearly trying to sound him out.

Bo Hancheng's heart skipped a beat and he could not answer her.

After all, he came from the Bo Family which was situated in faraway Britain while Chu Ci was from the Chu Family, one of the four major families of Beijing. There shouldn't be ties between them... However, the two got acquainted and began cooperating with each other after an abduction that took place 10 years ago!

It was that abduction that forced Bo Hancheng to get involved with drugs, causing him to suffer a monthly relapse.

As for Chu Ci, he was also tortured and had to leave the Chu Family, after which he ended up in the terrible state that he was in now!

It was a grave secret that was known only to a few!

He stayed silent after giving it some thought.

Luo Zheng had already guessed the answer that he was going to give her. "Surely it can't be that he's your superior?"

The two of them seemed to be on good terms with each other.

When she went to get close to Scarface a few days ago, Chu Ci was there too.

Back then, she guessed that Bo Hancheng should be a superintendent or something!

After all, he was extremely outstanding and wasn't likely to be an ordinary person... although according to the chronology of events in the previous life, he would become her bodyguard in seven years!

However, it was understandable since seven years was a long time and it was enough for one to make a name for themselves. Likewise, it was also enough for one to plunge into the doldrums.

She reckoned that he must have gotten into some trouble during those seven years, which left him with no choice but to swallow his pride and become her bodyguard!

Bo Hancheng glanced at Luo Zheng nervously and hesitated for a moment before nodding slightly. "Well, I guess."

He and Chu Ci were in a cooperative relationship and also shared a close friendship. In fact, they were just like brothers. However, they could also be considered subordinate and boss... though Chu Ci was the subordinate while he was the boss, the opposite of what Luo Zheng thought!

"Brother Cheng, stay away from Chu Ci from now on, he's not a good person!"

Having confirmed her conjecture, Luo Zheng frantically said those words with a firm gaze in her eyes.

Upon hearing her words, Bo Hancheng's heart sank and he asked, "Do you know Chu Ci?"

Luo Zheng had no idea how she should explain to him.

Perhaps, I shouldn't force Mr. Bodyguard to think the same as I did just because I'm angry.

However, she could not help but feel disgusted at the thought of Chu Ci grooming Mu Nianqing and pushing her to fame. She did not want Mr. Bodyguard, whom she cared about, to continue hanging out with him!

She knew that she was extremely selfish but she still stood firm to her own thoughts. "Brother Cheng, I don't know him! But promise me you'll stay away from him, alright? Promise me..."

Bo Hancheng looked down and glanced at her to see that she was seated on the ground, with her hair cascading down her back. She looked so petite and pitiful.

"Brother Cheng, if you need a job, I can help you find one that will definitely pay just as well! Chu Ci is not a good man. Brother Cheng, stop working for him, alright?"

Seeing that he had been remaining silent, Luo Zheng held onto his arm and continued to plead.

Seeing this, Bo Hancheng sighed and asked, "Do you dislike him, only because... he's a bad person?"

She insists that I stay away from Chu Ci because he's a bad person. What if she finds out one day, that I'm even more horrible than Chu Ci? What would she think?

Will she also... think of leaving me!?!

Chapter 217: Cold And Aloof

At this moment, Luo Zheng nodded without hesitation. "Yes, he's a crook and I particularly dislike him!"

She would be able to tolerate Chu Ci if all he did was just verbally attack her... After all, she was an ultimate dimwit before she was reborn!

However, Chu Ci should have never gotten involved in promoting Mu Nianqing... She had seen clearly on the magazine cover that she ripped up, that the agency Mu Nianqing was signed to was Star Path.

Hence, Chu Ci was definitely Master Chu!

Mu Nianqing had just returned to Beijing and yet, Star Path had already allowed her to take part in a magazine shoot... Is Mu Nianqing purely lucky or has Chu Ci developed an interest in her!?!

Bo Hancheng's eyes turned gloomy and he thought, little imp is really confusing. It's good to draw a clear line between love and hate but... she seems a little too extreme in some aspects?

"Brother Cheng..."

Luo Zheng called his name, for fear that he wouldn't answer her.

If he refused to answer, she wouldn't force him to promise her but she would definitely feel uneasy. From now on, it would forever be a thorn in her flesh!

Bo Hancheng glanced at Luo Zheng whose eyes were as bright as the moon and full of himself.

An idea immediately popped up in his mind.

Why should I let her know the dark side of me?

Isn't it good to let her continue being reliant on me like she is now?

No one could guarantee what would happen next, but at least for now, he was sure... that she belonged to him!

After coming to a decision, he nodded gently in agreement, not realizing that he was betraying Chu Ci. He said calmly, "Okay, I promise."

"I know I'm putting you on the spot Brother Cheng, and you might not be able to agree immediately... huh? Brother Cheng, what did you say!?!"

Luo Zheng thought that he would definitely turn her down and hence, was a little distracted. Hence, she tried to find something else to say.

All of a sudden, she widened her eyes in disbelief because she thought that she had heard wrongly!

Seeing this, Bo Hancheng rubbed her head and repeated, "I said, I promise."

He had to avoid getting close to Chu Ci whenever he was in front of Luo Zheng in the future.

He did not feel a tinge of guilt for choosing Luo Zheng without hesitation!

"Brother Cheng, you're so nice to me! Mwacks..."

Luo Zheng was over the moon and she happily moved her lips towards him.

Bo Hancheng's Adam's apple rolled a little and he lowered his head in a bid to kiss her. However, he was reminded of something.

When he was kissing her passionately just now, she was not focused on it at all and instead, let herself get distracted easily by the magazine, with no consideration of his feelings!

After a second, he refuted coldly, "No."

"Why?"

Luo Zheng was stunned for a moment, feeling confused and bewildered.

He even agreed readily to stay away from Chu Ci. Why can't he kiss me?

"Do you want to know why?"

Bo Hancheng asked as he lowered his head expressionlessly.

She frantically nodded, after which he answered aloofly, "Figure it out yourself!"

Hmph, she still doesn't know why she's at fault. Not going to kiss her!

However, how should I respond if she were to act coquettish, play cute and insist that I do?

Forget it, I'll then tell her the truth and help her turn over a new leaf!

Luo Zheng thought about it for a long while and tried her best to come up with an answer.

She reckoned that it might be because she had been kissing him too frequently and hence, made him feel disgusted... mm, I kissed him too many times today, my mouth hurts!

Luo Zheng changed her mind and continued to reach out to him. "Brother Cheng, if you don't feel like kissing me, you don't have to. Brother Cheng, hurry and carry me onto the bed. The floor is really cold!"

Bo Hancheng was greatly stunned and he thought to himself, is she going to just give up this easily?

She could not help, but feel awkward after thinking about it.

He refuted coldly with a sullen expression, "No! Get up on your own!"

He then stood up.

However, before he could even take a step, he felt his thigh being hugged... He looked down to see that she was playing coquettish and lamenting aggrievedly, "Brother Cheng, I can't get up. My legs have gone numb!"

Her gaze was so pitiful and lovable, like a wave of electricity.

One gaze of hers was enough to make his heart grow soft.

She's really spoiled and way too fragile. If she continues being so reliant, what's going to happen... when I leave her alone in the future!?!

Chapter 218: In My Heart, You Are The Best Person In The World

"Brother Cheng… "

Luo Zheng called again and winked mischievously, looking extremely alluring.

Bo Hancheng sighed and leaned forward again silently in a bid to carry her.

At the instant that he got up, he looked at the pieces of paper on the ground that were scattered all over like snowflakes. The magazine was ruined beyond recognition.

Does Luo Zheng only dislike Chu Ci?

Or… does she dislike Mu Nianqing too!?!

Bo Hancheng was just about to get up after putting her down on the bed.

Unexpectedly, Luo Zheng refused to let go of his neck and asked, "Brother Cheng, it's midnight now, do you want to … sleep together?"

She then blinked again with a bright smile that made her seem like a sly little fox.

Ah, she was seducing him again!

This little imp really doesn't stop at all. She keeps thinking that she can push the limits and do whatever she wants just because she's underage. Why didn't she consider the fact that I'm a man too?

Once he sets his mind to it, he would definitely make her his forcefully and put her in a dangerous situation, with no regards for her tender age!

He initially wanted to ignore it, but after he recalled what Chu Ci said just now, he simply sat down instead of lying down, lest he lose control of himself again.

Seeing this, Luo Zheng rolled her eyes and rested her arms on his lap while leaning forward.

Bo Hancheng looked down at her tiny head, feeling an urge to caress her.

“Luo Zheng…”

“Brother Cheng…”

At the next moment, they spoke in unison.

“Brother Cheng, go ahead.”

Luo Zheng then looked up at him, looking like she was all ears. He rubbed the crown of her head and began to tell her about the poison.

He then explained solemnly, “From now on, every relapse of yours will be worse than the one preceding it. Whenever you get a relapse, hold yourself back from taking drugs and contact me immediately. Got it?”

Throughout the past few days, she had had a total of two relapses and she got sedated both times. Everytime after she got sedated, she would slip into unconsciousness, which was not too serious!

The subsequent attacks would be increasingly horrid and since she was that young, it would probably be hard to kick it!

He was telling her in advance because he wanted to help prepare her psychologically.

Luo Zheng nodded obediently, and her heart sank slightly.

The taste of kicking a drug addiction was really equivalent to gradual suicide. This time… it was blue poison. In her previous life, she was forced into taking drugs by Gu Changye, and almost died while trying to kick her addiction!

Hence, Luo Zheng could not help but shudder.

“Don’t be scared, I’ll stand by you until you completely kick the addiction.”

Bo Hancheng decided to comfort her gently because he could sense that she was scared.

Luo Zheng nodded before asking softly with a frown, “Brother Cheng, is Scarface really Old K?”

She did not expect Bo Hancheng to answer her truthfully.

“No wonder! I knew it, he was so scheming. He didn’t seem like an ordinary subordinate at all…”

Luo Zheng began to get distracted.

She was reminded of the time when Gu Changye brought her to City That Never Sleeps where she met Scarface… If Scarface was Old K, what about Gu Changye? What was his identity!?!

The thought of Gu Changye made Luo Zheng shiver and she felt immense fear from the bottom of her heart.

“Little imp, why are you so afraid of the cold?”

Bo Hancheng frowned and casually grabbed the blanket on the bed which he then gently put over Luo Zheng.

Luo Zheng took a deep breath, suppressed the displeasure within her and tried to continue the conversation, as if nothing had happened. “Brother Cheng, apart from being an arts teacher and Chu Ci’s subordinate, are you a police officer too?”

Arresting the drug lord Old K was something that the police ought to do. Yet, Chu Ci did not seem like a policeman. What is going on?

“I’m not a superintendent or something of the sort, but I have studied martial arts before and have dealt with Old K. This time, I just happened to find his location and decided to take control…”

Bo Hancheng answered briefly, considering it a form of reasonable explanation.

After he finished speaking, his eyes turned gloomy and he asked, “Why? Sister Zheng, are you very… interested in my identity?”

“Of course!”

Luo Zheng answered genuinely in a clear and melodious voice.

Having thought of something, she got up from his lap and sat down on the bed half-kneeled, while her hair formed a beautiful arc.

She then looked up at him while touching his face with her hand that was as pale as jade. She said solemnly, “Don’t be discouraged, Brother Cheng. It’s alright if you’re mediocre now. In my heart, you’re the best person in this world! So, believe me, one day, I will send you soaring and give you a splendid future, making you the most outstanding person in the world!”

Chapter 219: You’ve Already Given Me What I Want

Bo Hancheng was the third son of the Presidential family of Britain, and was destined to be above everyone else.

Ever since he was a child, he had been showered with compliments, but he never believed any of them... because he felt that those were just perfunctory gestures. Besides, Luo Zheng’s words were absurd and condescending!

More often than not, his family background, status and power would be better than the people around him... hence, everyone was self-aware and conscientious enough to not say such callous things to him!

Hence, Bo Hancheng was filled with a complicated mix of emotions because it was his first time hearing this.

Her thoughts were innocent and amusing, so much that others would definitely sneer at her in disdain if they were to hear her... Yet, she did not know who he was and her tone was full of sincerity. He could not help but be touched.

Why would a girl like her exist in this world?

She's bold, passionate, pure and precious!

"Brother Cheng, trust me, once I become an adult, I'll be able to give you what you want!"

Having noticed his calm smile, Luo Zheng repeated herself because she thought that he didn't believe her.

Once she turned legal, she would be able to inherit the assets that her mother had left behind for her.

Be it in the previous life or the present, Luo Zheng had never regarded money seriously... In her previous life, Mu Tianwei conned her out of her shares, but she was determined not to let history repeat itself in this lifetime!

Hence, she decided to use her shares to help him rise to the top... she felt that an outstanding man like him ought to achieve greater things than being a lowly bodyguard.

"Why? Sister Zheng, are you trying to make me your kept man?"

He asked coldly, recalling the time when Luo Zheng gave him five million yuan.

However, he found it interesting and was not disgusted like he was at that time.

After all, he could be sure that Luo Zheng genuinely wanted to treat him well, regardless of what her agenda was.

She was sincere even if she had Xi Mubai and Mr. Bodyguard in her heart!

"No, no, no... no! Brother Cheng, why would you think that way? I just wanted to give you what you want..."

Luo Zheng did not expect him to misunderstand her and was worried that their relationship would be strained again. Hence, she frantically explained.

Glancing at her, he grinned and fiddled with her hair. "Sister Zheng, I accept your good intentions, but you don't need to..."

Just as Luo Zheng was feeling confused, he continued in a low and almost inaudible voice, "You have given me what I want."

He had never lacked credit, fame or money!

What he truly wanted, was right in front of him.

Unfortunately, she was a petite little fool who did not understand what he meant.

He caressed her head affectionately... while she watched and yawned uncontrollably. She then rubbed her head against his palm and said, "We'll talk about this in the future, I'm so tired, Brother Cheng..."

He listened and smiled happily before saying ambiguously, "Okay, we'll... talk about it in the future!"

Luo Zheng was sleepy and hence, could not tell what he meant. She snuggled into his embrace and tried to find a suitable position before falling asleep slowly.

Bo Hancheng looked at her while she slept, bent down suddenly, and gently kissed her forehead.

There were benefits of her being young. For example, she was clean, simple, and loyal.

However, the bad thing was, she was puerile, silly and slow-witted... he reckoned that he had to wait for her to grow up before he could devour her!

Forget it, what can I do since I chose her myself?

He glanced at his member and realized that he was having a reaction simply from hugging her!

She even asked me to sleep with her?

He smiled wryly and thought, she is truly a test of my self-control!

...

Chapter 220: Evil Girl, It's Only Right For Me To Take Your Things

Due to the poison, Luo Zheng had been staying in the hospital for a week and only got discharged after her condition was stabilized.

During her hospitalization, she revised the notes stored in her mobile phone because she realized that the exams were just around the corner.

Even though she was crazy about Xi Mubai in her previous life, she was confident of getting in the top ten after doing some hardcore last minute revision because she felt that she had a strong foundation!

However, one could never be too careful.

After all, the consequences of losing the bet would be dire.

First, she would have to run around the field in a swimsuit for 10 kilometers and slap herself in front of the teachers and students... she even had to drop out of school and remain as a high school graduate forever!

Hence, she had to win and winning was her only option!

Standing at the door of the Mu Family mansion, she could not help but feel disgusted when she thought of the family's hypocrisy, and the fact that she used to live in the lies fabricated by the Mu family for more than ten years.

In fact, she could move out, or just fall out with the Mu Family and drive them away.

However, that would be giving the Mu Family an easy way out and she would not be taking any revenge.

The greatest revenge she could take, was to ruin the plans that they had been hatching for more than ten years, and make their efforts go in vain!

The Mu Family had been acting for more than ten years and she really wanted to see them realize that their greedy plans had been foiled.

She was truly not in a hurry since she had yet to face Mu Nianqing.

In her previous life, they could spend more than ten years destroying her. Six months would be really short compared to that! Besides, she was not just waiting blindly, because she had already started hatching plans to ruin Mu Sen first!

Luo Zheng entered to see that the servants were the only ones in the living room.

“Miss, Miss, Miss... Missy! What brings you home?”

Auntie Li asked in shock when she saw Luo Zheng.

Immediately, she thought of something and hurried upstairs while deliberately raising her voice. “Old Madam, Missy is back!”

What is... going on!?!

Luo Zheng guessed that something was up and walked upstairs quickly.

She was greeted with the sight of the door of her room being wide open and three figures strutted out almost at the same time.

An icy cold gaze formed in her eyes and she walked forward like a prestigious princess. “Grandma, Aunt, Cousin, how rare to see all of you together! Why are you guys suddenly so interested in my room?”

At the same time, Luo Zheng glanced at her room, only to see that it was in a complete mess, with items strewn all over the ground like a burglar had broken into it.

Previously, Luo Zheng was hospitalized for getting drugged and Bo Hancheng applied for a leave of absence for her from school. She even lied to the Mu family and told them that she would be staying over at her classmate’s place to revise for the exam.

The Mu Family were obviously not concerned about Luo Zheng and hence, accepted whatever she said.

To their surprise, Luo Zheng suddenly returned when they were ransacking her room. Li Shufen, Mu Cuiyun and Su Xuanxuan looked at each other in shock and dismay, feeling extremely embarrassed.

“Why don’t you explain why you’re rummaging through my room?” Luo Zheng questioned with disgust.

Seeing this, Li Shufen slammed her walking cane against the ground and hollered, “What’s up with your tone!?! Do I not have the right to rummage through your room?”

She admitted that she was just throwing her weight around as an elder... after all, Luo Zheng used to be the most afraid of her!

To her surprise, Luo Zheng did not retreat and simply smiled gently. "Grandma, do you know that it is unethical to search someone else's room without their permission, even if you're the relative of the owner of the room!?! If you happen to steal any valuables during the search, I can hold you liable and take legal action against you. Got it?"

"Evil girl, I'm your grandmother. It's only right for me to take your things. How can you call it stealing!?!"

Li Shufen's face grew sullen and she slammed her cane again in a bid to scare Luo Zheng.

Overwhelmed with disgust, Luo Zheng thought, seriously, she's always playing the same tricks. Could she come up with something new?

"So, my kind Grandma, Auntie and Cousin, can you guys tell me why you searched my room? There are a lot of valuables in my room. When you searched, did you casually take some things away too? I hope you can clarify accordingly and you'd better make sure your explanation is satisfactory. Otherwise... I really won't mind handing you over to the police!"
