

BO LOVE LIFE 361

Chapter 361: Bo Hancheng... She Was The One Who Forced Me... She Forced Me To Kill Her...

Bo Hancheng lived right beside Royal Orchid Garden which was near the suburbs and not in the center of Beijing.

Everyone who lived there was wealthy and wanted to live in seclusion.

“Help... someone wants to kill me... save me...”

Mu Nianqing had been there before and was well aware of where the people were. Hence, she scurried towards the areas that were more crowded.

Soon, a commotion broke out.

There were plenty of wealthy people in the area and hence, the security was tight. In less than three minutes, there were already security officers rushing over to protect Mu Nianqing.

They then called the police and ambulance while guarding against Luo Zheng.

All of a sudden, everyone gathered together and began gossiping about Luo Zheng.

Luo Zheng’s mind was empty and she held onto the bloodstained knife while standing helplessly.

“Oh my god, someone’s trying to commit murder! Who’s the murderer...”

“Look, that person got stabbed. How pitiful! I wonder if she’s alright.”

“The security measures here have always been great. The murderer is probably mentally unsound. It’s hard to guard against such people...”

...

While everyone was gossiping, a security officer tried to step forth to restrain Luo Zheng.

However, Mu Nianqing who was as pale as a sheet, quickly stopped them and said, “Miss Luo is just mentally unstable. She definitely didn’t do it on purpose! Don’t go there, lest you agitate her...”

“Miss, you’re really kind. She hurt you so badly and you’re still speaking up for her! Are you alright? You must persist on. The ambulance is about to arrive soon...”

The security officer was looking after Mu Nianqing and he felt extremely worried when he saw the bloodstains on her white dress.

Mu Nianqing clutched her stomach which was bleeding continuously in a daunting manner, and carefully stepped forth.

However, Luo Zheng was standing rooted to the ground with the fruit knife in hand.

The security officers had all gathered there and were stopping the bystanders from approaching while keeping their eyes glued to Luo Zheng.

If not for the knife that she was holding, it would be hard to associate Luo Zheng with a murderer!

There were plenty of people who were taking photos of Luo Zheng.

Luo Zheng was emotionally unstable and she could not help but stagger backwards while being caught up in her trance.

At this critical juncture, a slender man appeared all of a sudden.

Staring at the scene before him, Bo Hancheng could not imagine what had happened.

It's only been half a day. What exactly happened?

Looking at Luo Zheng who was singled out, he could not help but stride forwards quickly.

While in a daze, Luo Zheng caught sight of Bo Hancheng and her eyes which were initially glassed over, suddenly lit up and she was about to run towards him.

However, she suddenly remembered something and glanced at the fruit knife that was in her bloodstained hands.

"Bo Hancheng... she forced me... she forced me to kill her..."

Luo Zheng spluttered helplessly like a child who had done something wrong.

"Sir, be careful, don't go forward, she's a murderer..."

The security officers tried to stop Bo Hancheng who was walking forward dauntlessly.

However, they couldn't stop him.

They then noticed that he seemed to know Luo Zheng and hence wondered if he was her family member.

"Little Imp, come here."

Bo Hancheng said as he stopped in front of Luo Zheng.

Although he did not know what was going on, he knew that Luo Zheng had been suffering from drug relapses and was incredibly feeble. She could not afford to be agitated either... Hence, he decided to get someone else to accompany her because she would be repulsed by the sight of him.

"Bo Hancheng... trust me... she forced me to do it..."

With resentment in her eyes, Luo Zheng glanced at Mu Nianqing who was standing at a spot that wasn't too far away.

Chapter 362: Let Her Die... I refuse To Let You Touch Her... She's Going To Harm You...

Upon hearing her words, Bo Hancheng stopped paying attention to the rest and repeated, "Be good and come here. Give me the knife..."

She was immersed in his voice which was familiar to her. Besides, he also looked exactly the same as Mr. Bodyguard. She stepped forward subconsciously and handed the fruit knife to him.

She then smiled feebly and tried to please him while muttering, “Bo Hancheng... don’t be scared... I won’t let her hurt you... I’ve already killed her... she’s going to die soon... she won’t be able to hurt you again...”

At the same time, another feeble voice sounded and it was Mu Nianqing. “Mr. Bo...”

Bo Hancheng turned around to take a glance at Mu Nianqing whose body was covered in blood. After thinking about the fruit knife that Luo Zheng was holding onto, he immediately guessed what was going on.

His heart sank slightly in an instant.

“Miss Luo... I don’t know why but Miss Luo... was bent on killing me...”

Mu Nianqing walked towards him and said feebly.

She then shuddered and was about to fall onto the ground.

Bo Hancheng reached out to hold her, only to realize that Mu Nianqing was severely wounded and that her life was in danger!

Needless to say, Luo Zheng must have been the one who hurt her.

All of a sudden, he couldn’t think about the process that took place in between and all he knew was that he couldn’t let Mu Nianqing die in front of everyone. Otherwise, Luo Zheng would be labeled as a murderer!

“Bo Hancheng... don’t touch her... she wants to harm you...”

Luo Zheng staggered forward while watching Bo Hancheng hold onto Mu Nianqing in a caring manner.

She reached out in a bid to push Mu Nianqing away but she was still holding onto the fruit knife.

All of a sudden, the frightened Mu Nianqing ducked behind Bo Hancheng while breathing irregularly.

“Mr. Bo... I’m so scared... save me...”

Seeing this, Luo Zheng widened her eyes and raised the fruit knife in an agitated manner in a bid to stab her again, for she absolutely hated how pretentious Mu Nianqing was.

“Mu Nianqing, go to hell!” At the same time, Luo Zheng stabbed at her.

However, Bo Hancheng managed to stop Luo Zheng by grabbing her wrist. “Luo Zheng, are you out of your mind!?!”

Luo Zheng raised her head to look at him in shock while calling, “Bo Hancheng... she’s going to harm you... I must kill her... kill her...”

Seeing that she was mentally unstable, Bo Hancheng tightened his grip on her wrist.

Soon, Luo Zheng let go of the fruit knife with agony written all over her face.

The fruit knife landed on the ground with a clatter.

Bo Hancheng kicked the fruit knife far, far away before letting go of Luo Zheng. "Stop this nonsense. Go back!"

He then picked Mu Nianqing up in his arms in a bid to hurry to the hospital.

"Bo Hancheng... let her die... I don't allow you to save her... she will hurt you..."

Luo Zheng's mind was in a whirlwind and she was full of resentment when she saw him carrying Mu Nianqing away.

At the next moment, she reached out to grab his arm and stood in front of him.

"Luo Zheng, stop acting crazy! Move aside..."

Bo Hancheng frowned as he hollered at Luo Zheng.

However, Luo Zheng shook her head and insisted maniacally, "No... she must die... you can't save her..."

Luo Zheng's reaction was clearly abnormal and she seemed to have suffered a blow which caused her to become delusional.

Those who have been drugged with blue poison would tend to act in a deranged manner at some point.

Bo Hancheng did not want to waste anymore time and he just wanted to carry Mu Nianqing away. However, Luo Zheng intervened stubbornly. "Bo Hancheng... why do you want to save her... why..."

"Luo Zheng, have you had enough!?!"

Chapter 363: Sir, She's A Murderer...

"Luo Zheng, have you had enough!?!"

Bo Hancheng hollered and swung his hand because he wanted to push her away. Hence, he used quite a bit of force.

Bang!

Luo Zheng was thrown off balance and she fell hard onto the ground.

All of a sudden, Bo Hancheng stopped in his tracks while glancing at the girl on the ground.

"Mr. Bo... I don't want to die... save me..." Mu Nianqing muttered weakly while lying in the man's embrace.

She then closed her eyes slowly and fainted while her hand fell from her body. She seemed to have lost all signs of life!

All of a sudden, Bo Hancheng could no longer be bothered with Luo Zheng.

Luo Zheng was still young and had gotten agitated because of the blue poison. That was why she assaulted Mu Nianqing.

Mu Nianqing can't die. Once she dies, there'll really be no way to clear Luo Zheng's name... Unlike me, her life should be clean and full of warmth. She can't shoulder such a burden!

Besides, if she finds out that she had killed someone after she turns sober, she'll definitely feel regretful, terrified and shocked.

"Bo Hancheng... don't go... don't choose Mu Nianqing again... don't leave me behind..."

Luo Zheng fell onto the ground and watched as Bo Hancheng slowly walked out of sight with Mu Nianqing in his arms. She continued to mutter incessantly.

At the end of the day, Bo Hancheng still walked out of her world without stopping.

Luo Zheng was left alone by herself.

She was facing the bystanders who were shooting glances at her, berating her and trying to watch a good show.

Not long after, the sounds of the police siren could be heard and a few police officers alighted from the police car.

"Sir, she's here! She's the murderer..."

Everyone immediately pointed at Luo Zheng who was seated on the ground, and reported the details of the situation.

"We saw with our very own eyes, her stabbing another woman with a fruit knife..."

"The victim lost a lot of blood and her life is probably at stake! Fortunately, her boyfriend or husband brought her to the hospital..."

"Sir, a murderer like her must be kept behind bars and she must never be released! Otherwise, what are we supposed to do if she goes mad and kills again..."

...

The police first tried to understand the situation and placated everyone's feelings. They then stowed away the fruit knife which was the suspected weapon.

At the same time, another policeman approached carefully with handcuffs and said, "Little girl, someone reported that they saw you trying to kill someone in public... so, please come with us!"

Luo Zheng sat on the ground, gazing at her bloodstained hands and shaking her head profusely. "I didn't kill anyone... she deserves to die... she deserves to die in the first place..."

"Are you admitting that... you stabbed the victim?"

The policeman could tell that Luo Zheng was mentally unstable.

There had been plenty of cases of lunatics committing murder. Due to the fact that Luo Zheng looked innocent and harmless on the surface... the policeman deduced that the only reason for her actions was a mental illness.

He reckoned that she must have ran out to hurt others because her family failed to keep an eye on her!

However, after a moment of silence, Luo Zheng seemed to have sobered up a little but she was even more maniacal. She chuckled and spluttered, "It's me... I was the one who stabbed Mu Nianqing... she deserves it... how can stabbing her once be enough... I wish I could stab her a million times..."

The policeman immediately pinned Luo Zheng as a dangerous person and stepped forward to grab her arms to restrain her.

"Don't touch me... let go of me... I'm in so much pain..."

Luo Zheng struggled to break free but to no avail.

She was feeling pain from head to toe but she had no idea where the pain was coming from. It seemed that there were thorns that were growing and piercing through the flesh of her chest, causing her immense pain that was spreading endlessly.

Chapter 364: Mr. Bo... I'm Scared... Don't go...

Soon, a pair of handcuffs were cuffed onto Luo Zheng's hands with a loud click.

The handcuffs were freezing cold and due to the fact that she was being restrained, Luo Zheng struggled continuously, resulting in red welts on her wrists because of the friction.

"Save me... Mr. Bodyguard... save me..."

Luo Zheng muttered and called her only savior.

Despite being well aware that Luo Zheng was a murderer, the policeman was still rather sympathetic towards her.

"Ah, how pitiful! I wonder which family this girl belongs to. They clearly know that she's mentally unsound and yet, they still allow her to run around freely and commit murder. She'll probably be given a heavy sentence..." a policeman gasped and remarked after shoving Luo Zheng into the car.

However, there was another policeman who seemed to be much older. He suddenly said, "She doesn't seem to be mentally unsound. Could it be... that she's suffering from the withdrawal symptoms of a drug addiction?"

...

Bo Hancheng handed Mu Nianqing over to the doctor who pushed her into the operating theater.

All of a sudden, Mu Nianqing sobered up and tugged on the sleeves of his shirt. "Mr. Bo... I'm scared... don't leave..."

With a sullen expression Bo Hancheng smacked her arm away and said indifferently, "Okay, I won't leave, you'll be alright."

Upon hearing his words, Mu Nianqing closed her eyes again and said, "With Mr. Bo around... I'll be fine... I can live on..."

Seeing that the doors of the operating theater were closed, Bo Hancheng glanced at the blood on his body.

All of a sudden, his expression changed and he finally remembered about Luo Zheng.

He saved Mu Nianqing in a moment of panic, lest she died and Luo Zheng became a murderer... However, he forgot that Luo Zheng was not in a good state and shouldn't have been left alone!

He held his breath and looked through his mobile phone for Chu Ci's number before calling him and instructing, "Instruct the subordinates from Royal Orchid Garden to bring Luo Zheng to the private room!"

On the other end of the line, the confused Chu Ci instructed his subordinate while asking curious, "Third Brother, what happened?"

Bo Hancheng couldn't explain it clearly and he simply questioned coldly, "Chu Ci, I still want to ask you something. Even though you hate Luo Zheng, she's still my person. I got you to arrange for a girl to accompany Luo Zheng, why did you arrange for Mu Nianqing to go instead?"

Luo Zheng somehow detested Mu Nianqing and Chu Ci knew about that too.

At the thought of Chu Ci deliberately arranging for Mu Nianqing to accompany her, Bo Hancheng felt infuriated.

"Mu Nianqing, how could that be? The girl I arranged to accompany her is the new model Zhou Jingyi! Third Brother, there must have been some misunderstanding..."

Chu Ci was extremely confused as well and he frantically tried to explain.

"You were the one who made the mistake, so you'd better find out carefully. I want a reasonable explanation!"

Bo Hancheng said before hanging up.

At this juncture, it would be too late to rush there.

He hoped that Chu Ci's subordinate would be able to stabilize Luo Zheng for the time being!

He had to stay calm for the time being and see if Mu Nianqing could stay alive... If she could, there would definitely be nothing wrong. If she were to die, he would have to think of a way to handle it.

He did not want Luo Zheng to shoulder the burden of being a murderer. Besides, she had also attempted to kill her because of him... After all, if it weren't for him, Luo Zheng wouldn't have been drugged by the blue poison or have lost control of herself and attempted to kill someone!

Time passed minute by minute. Before the surgery even ended, Chu Ci hurried over.

"Third Brother, the people I sent didn't find Luo Zheng! I asked them and found out that the police had arrived previously and had already taken Luo Zheng away..."

Chu Ci said somberly with disbelief within him.

What's going on? Luo Zheng killed Mu Nianqing! Chu Ci was utterly confused by the situation.

Chapter 365: Zheng Gets Put Behind Bars

“How’s Mu Nianqing? Is she alright...” Chu Ci asked.

Bo Hancheng had already grabbed Chu Ci by the collar and he questioned coldly, “What did you say? She got taken away by the police!?!”

He was filled with frustration and anxiety.

He thought, well I should have long expected this. There would definitely be someone who called the police since such a shocking incident happened.

I shouldn’t have abandoned Luo Zheng. She was mentally unstable, she must have been lonely... Even if I wanted to save Mu Nianqing, I should have sent someone else to send her to the hospital.

I should have stayed and comforted Luo Zheng!

However, the incident happened too abruptly and he didn’t have time to send any of his subordinates. He could only handle it himself.

“I’ve already asked Zhou Jingyi about this matter. She’s running a high fever and she couldn’t go to Royal Orchid Garden! She shares a close relationship with Mu Nianqing so she asked Mu Nianqing to go and counsel Luo Zheng in her place. I didn’t expect such a thing to happen. Why did Luo Zheng kill Mu Nianqing? There seems to be no feud between the two of them...”

Chu Ci suddenly thought of something and his heart shivered a little.

At this moment, the doctor walked out of the operating theater and said with a sullen expression, “Mr. Bo, Miss Mu lost an excessive amount of blood and she has just been through a surgery. She’s still getting a blood transfusion now and her life is out of danger.”

Upon hearing her words, Bo Hancheng felt a sense of relief. As long as Mu Nianqing was still alive, Luo Zheng would be safe,

Before the doctor could finish speaking, he added, “However, the knife was stabbed too far into Miss Mu’s abdomen and it had touched her womb. It may affect her fertility...”

For a woman who had never married before, having her fertility affected would definitely be a huge blow.

Chu Ci felt a little sympathetic while Bo Hancheng’s face was rather composed, so much that his emotions couldn’t be seen at all.

After the doctor’s departure, the two of them were the only ones left in the corridor.

“Stay here and look after her while I make a trip to the police station.”

Bo Hancheng then turned around to leave after saying those words.

“Third Brother, let me go! You can’t expose your identity because of such a trivial matter...”

Chu Ci explained in a bid to stop Bo Hancheng.

Bo Hancheng remained silent and smacked Chu Ci’s arm away before trying to walk away.

“I finally guessed why Luo Zheng wanted to kill Mu Nianqing!”

Chu Ci said, seemingly hinting at something.

Upon hearing his words, Bo Hancheng turned around and looked at Chu Ci coldly.

“Since Mu Nianqing was chosen by Auntie, there should be no problem with her background. I’ve never run a background check on her. Didn’t Luo Zheng attack Mu Nianqing at the Gu Family banquet a few days ago? I went on to investigate her, only to discover a shocking secret. Mu Nianqing turned out to also be Mu Tianwei’s daughter...”

While speaking, Chu Ci deliberately reminded, “Third Brother, Luo Zheng’s father is Mu Tianwei, so if the information is accurate, the two of them are half-sisters. I reckon, Luo Zheng hates her because she found out about it...”

Luo Zheng and Mu Nianqing are half-sisters?

Even Bo Hancheng could not help but be shocked.

There’s actually such a strange thing in this world!?!

...

In the police station of Beijing.

“Don’t... don’t pierce me with the needle... I don’t want to have my blood drawn...”

Luo Zheng struggled vigorously but managed to have one syringe of her blood drawn because she was being held down by some law enforcement officers.

She was then sent to the holding cell.

It was Luo Zheng’s first time going into a holding cell. She looked around to see that there were bars around her and that there wasn’t a single gap at all. She was stuck in a tiny place with no means to get out.

“Behave yourself, don’t stir up any trouble!” the police officer ordered and turned around to leave.

Chapter 366: Little B*tch, Don’t Feign Dead, Get Up!

Luo Zheng folded her arms and squatted in the corner while feeling a sudden cold chill.

She only regained some of her calmness now and was slowly sobering up and realized the seriousness of the situation that she was currently in.

There were three other women who were also locked in the cell for committing a crime.

They were all sizing up Luo Zheng who had yet to turn 18 years old and was rather pretty and puerile. She looked extremely dejected and was clearly easy to bully.

The three women glanced at each other and began surrounding her. “Hey, little girl, what did you do to get yourself arrested?”

Luo Zheng's mind was in a whirlwind and she knew clearly that she wasn't dreaming. Hence, she was trying her best to calm herself down.

All of a sudden, she was immersed in her own world and she ignored everyone else.

"Hey, we're asking you a question. Did you hear us?" the woman questioned angrily while kicking Luo Zheng.

As pale as a sheet, Luo Zheng exclaimed impatiently, "Get lost, stay away from me!"

Seeing this, the three women flew into a rage and grabbed Luo Zheng's long hair. "Hah, you're really asking for it! Do you know the rules? You're already here and you're still trying to go against us? Sister, teach her a hard lesson..."

The three of them began hitting Luo Zheng.

Although Luo Zheng was not familiar with the environment, she knew clearly that the weaker she was, the more she would get bullied!

Since she had already lost hope and was just an empty shell, it would be amusingly pathetic if she were to let others bully her for no reason.

At the next moment, Luo Zheng stood up with all her remaining might and collided into the three women before hitting them as hard as she could.

In the end, Luo Zheng was covered in bruises but the other three women were also heavily wounded.

"Damn it, she's a lunatic, she doesn't even want to care about her own life when she's fighting! Damn it, there must be something wrong with her brain..."

The three women backed away and kept their distance from Luo Zheng. Their urge to bully her had also faded.

After all, the weak would be afraid of the strong and the strong would be afraid of those that did not fear death!

At this moment, they felt that Luo Zheng clearly wasn't afraid of dying.

"Which one of you wants to try next? You may go ahead! Anyway, I am now a murderer. Killing one, two, three, or four won't make a difference."

Luo Zheng touched her red lips and looked at them coldly without fear.

Upon hearing her words, the three women's hearts skipped a beat and they retreated in unison with fear within them.

Murderer? They still wanted to live, so it'd be better not to provoke a murderer!

Luo Zheng continued squatting and about an hour passed. She felt her blood gushing through her veins and sudden desire.

Whenever it was nighttime, the blue poison would seem to devour her, making her suffer.

At this moment, Luo Zheng was as pale as a sheet and there was sweat on her forehead which she found hard to tolerate.

All of a sudden, the three women sensed that Luo Zheng was growing weak and the desire to take revenge arose within them as they shot each other a glance.

They stepped forward abruptly and held Luo Zheng down in a bid to beat her up.

“Little b*tch, do you think you’re very capable? See how we’re going to teach you a lesson! Kneel down, kneel down and admit to your mistakes...”

They then picked Luo Zheng up and tried to force her to get on her knees.

Seeing that Luo Zheng was stubbornly refusing to do so, one of them raised their leg to kick her in her gut.

Bang!

At the next moment, Luo Zheng fell to the ground and the pain seemed to have intensified. She clutched the ground with her fingers and almost left a trail of blood.

“Little b*tch, get up! Why are you feigning death? Get up!”

The three of them looked at Luo Zheng, and felt an urge to pick her up and torture her again.

Bang!

She heard a loud thud again all of a sudden.

Chapter 367: Bo Hancheng, You’re Wrong, I Really Wanted To Kill Her!

All of a sudden, the three of them froze, thinking that the police officers had come to maintain order. Hence, they hurriedly released Luo Zheng, and behaved themselves.

They then raised their heads to look in front.

A man suddenly appeared outside the cell and he was extremely handsome. He gave off a domineering aura and there was a dangerous glow in his eyes that were as dark as an abyss.

“Mr. Bo, this was just an accident. We didn’t expect that such a thing would happen...”

The police officer explained quickly, and hurriedly unlocked the cell.

Prisons were generally chaotic and the new prisoners would usually be bullied by the ones who got jailed before them.

However, they did not expect Luo Zheng to be the culprit of the assault that happened in the afternoon. They initially wanted to subject Luo Zheng to an interrogation... but much to their surprise, in the blink of an eye, they discovered that Luo Zheng had strong connections which helped to get her released from prison.

No one knew of this “Mr. Bo” and could only vaguely guess that he was one of the wealthy and powerful people of Beijing!

Bo Hancheng remained silent and as the door of the cell opened, he quickly stepped inside and leaned over to hug Luo Zheng who was on the ground.

He moved the hair away from her face and glanced at the welts and scars on her face with an apologetic gaze.

He had never felt apologetic towards anyone before.

At this moment, the injured Luo Zheng was agitating him and he somehow felt distressed and sympathetic towards her.

“I’m sorry, little imp, I’m late.”

Bo Hancheng whispered, kissing Luo Zheng’s forehead tenderly with some sympathy.

The three women at the side looked at each other in dismay, feeling a strong ominous hunch.

The police officers stared at them and thought, all they do is bully the newcomers. Now that they’ve gotten into trouble, they really deserve it!

Luo Zheng was in pain and she was still a little rational. She ignored his apology, pity and sympathy.

“Is Mu Nianqing dead?”

Luo Zheng’s rose-colored lips curled up as she asked the question softly all of a sudden.

Bo Hancheng’s face grew sullen and he was about to answer truthfully.

With a gloomy gaze, Luo Zheng asked, “She didn’t die, did she? You saved her...”

After all, Mu Nianqing is his woman, if she really dies in my hands, he probably would come here and settle the scores with me. How could he come and show me concern!?!

He thought about Chu Ci telling him not too long ago, that Luo Zheng was probably Mu Nianqing’s half-sister.

In the past ten-odd years, Luo Zheng never knew that Mu Nianqing existed.

There should be some past matters involved which were absolutely shocking!

“Yes, she is not dead. Luo Zheng, I know you were just affected by the poison, you didn’t really want to kill her...”

Bo Hancheng was about to pick Luo Zheng up as he spoke.

It was true that Luo Zheng could not accept Mu Nianqing’s identity, and the fact that they were sisters... However, the two of them didn’t know each other. Even if they hated each other, Luo Zheng wouldn’t go to the extent of killing her!

To his surprise, Luo Zheng laughed self-mockingly and tugged at his shirt. “Bo Hancheng, you’re wrong. I really wanted to kill her!”

They were in the police station and there were police officers around. Luo Zheng’s words would undoubtedly make others get the wrong idea.

“Do you know that she is not a good person and will hurt you? Why... I tried to kill her wholeheartedly... and yet, you tried to save her...”

Luo Zheng questioned while pain filled her heart.

“Luo Zheng, she can’t die! If she is dead, you will be ruined...”

Bo Hancheng explained softly with a little seriousness.

In his eyes, Luo Zheng should be clean, passionate, and should not be stained with blood!

She would never know how dirty it would be to have her hands stained with blood, and how she would forever only be able to live in darkness.

Chapter 368: Slapping Him Again

He was born to live in darkness and had already adapted to it. It didn’t matter to him... but Luo Zheng was different. He hoped that Luo Zheng would live in the open and live a warm life just like before.

“As long as Mu Nianqing can be killed, I’d be willing to ruin myself! Bo Hancheng, why is it you? Why were you the one who saved her...”

Luo Zheng questioned and coughed several times while tears formed in her eyes.

Upon hearing how much she had given up on herself, Bo Hancheng said coldly with disappointment, “Because she is my woman, why can’t I save her? Luo Zheng, stop being capricious!”

As soon as he finished speaking, he looked at the haggard Luo Zheng and tried to pick her up in his arms forcefully before walking forwards slowly.

“She is your woman and I’m the one who tried to kill her. Are you sure you want to save me? Bo Hancheng, why are you holding yourself this cheap and to such an extent!?!”

Luo Zheng giped coldly as she felt a thorn in her flesh.

She then struggled violently and slapped him hysterically. “Bo Hancheng, let me go! Let me go...”

However, she could not break free at all and he didn’t mean to let go of her either. He tightened his grip around her and forced her to stay in his embrace.

Bo Hancheng’s expression was calm and he simply told himself that Luo Zheng was in an unstable mood and hence, he didn’t have to bother about her.

At the same time, he also felt that she was getting increasingly repulsed by him.

She really wanted to break away from him and it was as if she would run away as long as he let go of her. She would never come back!

“Bo Hancheng, I almost killed Mu Nianqing. If she were to know that her man deliberately rescued me from prison, what would she think?”

Luo Zheng didn’t have much energy and couldn’t push him away. Hence, she decided to give up and mock him instead.

“What she thinks has nothing to do with me.”

Bo Hancheng said with composure.

All of a sudden, Luo Zheng felt that men were indeed very heartless!

Seeing that she couldn't get rid of him, she got up and bit him on his shoulder, causing there to be blood and bruises on him even though he was wearing a shirt.

He simply frowned but he did not let go of her. He was not affected at all.

Afterwards, he carried her away from the cell and slowly walked out while the numerous policemen watched.

Like an emperor, Bo Hancheng was born with a noble aura, which was daunting, so much that no one dared to step forward to stop him!

Pak~

Someone in front stopped him almost as soon as he stepped out of the police station.

Luo Zheng could not help but raise her hand and slap his handsome face. “Bo Hancheng, let me go, I would rather continue to go to jail than let you save me!”

All of a sudden, the atmosphere was silent.

Bo Hancheng's patience was growing thin and he looked down at Luo Zheng, with a gloomy gaze.

Ever since he began to remember things, no one in his life had ever dared to slap him. Besides, this was the second time... and it was the same person!

“Sister Zheng, don't try to challenge my bottom line again, otherwise... you can't afford to bear the consequences!”

The aura around him seemed to darken as he said those words with menace.

Since he couldn't slap her back anyway, he had no choice but to bear with it.

Luo Zheng's palms were sore from the slap that she had given him just now, because she hated that he was controlling her forcefully and restricting her freedom.

At this moment, his warning made her heart wrench up.

However, it only lasted for a moment. Luo Zheng then approached him dauntlessly and questioned coldly, “Bo Hancheng, even if Mu Nianqing is not dead, I'd still be found guilty for attempted murder. I should be jailed! Hah, you insisted on rescuing the murderer. Aren't you afraid... that I'll try and kill your woman a second time?”

Chapter 369: Are You Satisfied? Mr. Bo!

Luo Zheng then raised her eyebrows and smiled maliciously. “I don't know if your woman will be so lucky as to survive again the second time!”

Bo Hancheng remained silent at first and carried her to the car, he opened the door of the passenger's seat, and shoved her in.

He then forcefully tried to fasten her seat belt and placed a hand on her shoulder. He then exclaimed, "You will never have the opportunity to commit a crime again!"

Seeing that Luo Zheng was not sober yet, Bo Hancheng didn't want to continue fighting with her. Once she kicks the addiction, she would return to normal.

Drug addicts were mentally fragile and were often prone to extreme thoughts, and would even be delusional. They could not be agitated at all!

Luo Zheng got infuriated and she tried to unfasten the seat belt. "Bo Hancheng, unless you can protect Mu Nianqing forever... I'll definitely kill her whenever I have the chance to!"

She then sensed that his body had turned extremely cold and she looked up at him with a radiant smile. "Of course, if you are worried about Mu Nianqing, don't rescue me and just let me die in prison! Or, you can kill me too!"

"Luo Zheng!"

Even though he knew that she was intentionally trying to provoke him, Bo Hancheng still felt agitated and infuriated by her.

At the next moment, he pinched her chin with his large palm.

Perhaps because of his emotions, he couldn't be sympathetic and instead, grabbed her chin roughly, leaving behind a red mark.

Luo Zheng wanted to avoid him but could not do so because she was fastened to the seat of the car seat.

The smell of tobacco on his body was mixed with a touch of cologne and he seemed to give off a vibe of authority.

Luo Zheng felt indignant because she could not break free from his arms. Her eyes turned gloomy.

However, she smirked and bit him.

He immediately seethed in pain and stared at the bite mark on himself. Soon, there was a smell of blood which began to trickle from his hand.

Luo Zheng tasted the blood and she retreated slightly. "Are you satisfied with my behavior? Mr. Bo!"

"Yes, of course I'm satisfied!" He retreated slightly, with blood on his hands as he had obviously been bitten by her!

The surroundings at night were quiet and the sky was starry.

Luo Zheng gazed at Bo Hancheng, seemingly refusing to admit defeat.

"I didn't expect you to like this! Hah, let's just feel the pain together..."

Bo Hancheng said surprisingly after a long while.

While Luo Zheng was confused, he pressed her down again forcefully.

This time, he bit down on her shoulder and he was like a hungry wolf that had seen fresh and delicious food, wishing he could devour her and leave nothing behind.

Luo Zheng frowned and felt like she wasn't being herself as she was bleeding from her shoulder and feeling an excruciating pain.

At last, he bit her again.

He was using a lot of force and Luo Zheng shivered, feeling as if he was going to bite her to death!

Blood began to flow down her shoulder again and Luo Zheng turned as pale as a sheet. She barked, "Bo Hancheng, you lunatic!"

He ignored her and asked calmly, "Are you still going to continue?"

"You..."

Luo Zheng slapped him in exasperation.

This time, he held onto her tightly and warned with menace, "Luo Zheng, there are limits to my patience!"

"Bo Hancheng, let me go! Let me go..."

Chapter 370: Remember This, Remember It Well, You were the One Who Provoked Me First...

"Bo Hancheng, let me go! Let me go..."

Her body was extremely weak and after the scuffle, she almost couldn't hang in there.

"Let you go? Dream on!"

Upon hearing that Luo Zheng wanted to leave him, he grew even more sullen.

"Luo Zheng, remember this and remember it well, you were the one who provoked me first..."

...

On the way back, the two of them remained silent.

Luo Zheng stroked her bleeding lips with disappointment and melancholy in her heart.

At midnight, they arrived at the residence but Luo Zheng refused to alight at the thought of Mu Nianqing having lived there before.

Seemingly having guessed her thoughts, Bo Hancheng turned the steering wheel and headed to the Royal Orchid Garden.

Luo Zheng had confronted Mu Nianqing in the room and the mess had yet to be cleaned up. Hence, it wasn't suitable for Luo Zheng to stay there.

After getting out of the car, he opened the door and took Luo Zheng upstairs where he arranged for her to stay in the private room.

While they were ignoring each other, Chu Ci called and said anxiously, "Third Brother, you've brought Luo Zheng out, haven't you? I don't know who exposed this matter to the media, but its blown out of proportion now..."

Bo Hancheng glanced at her and rubbed his forehead in fatigue before walking out of the private room to answer the call.

It turned out that the residents in the vicinity of Royal Orchid Garden were all wealthy people who lived in seclusion. Since an attempted murder suddenly happened, the news would definitely spread like wildfire.

Besides, some people had revealed the matter to the media and the news had then also spread on the Internet, and almost everyone in Beijing knew about it.

That was not all. The person who leaked the news also revealed that the attempted murderer was Luo Zheng, the heiress of the Luo Family!

There was no time to salvage the situation or pull public relation stunts.

"As soon as I heard the news, I immediately sent someone to stop spreading the news on all major media platforms but it was too late! This matter has already become a hot topic on the internet. Luo Zheng should be in prison at this time! Yet, you rescued her from prison and people are definitely going to oppose it. Plenty of media personnel are blocking the entrance of the hospital and asking to interview Mu Nianqing."

Hearing Chu Ci's words, Bo Hancheng's eyes grew gloomy.

Chu Ci was the one who arranged for Luo Zheng to be bailed out of jail and he didn't reveal his identity.

However, the development of things was truly beyond expectations. Why did it feel like... someone was deliberately trying to blow the matter up!?!

"Third Brother, everyone now thinks that Luo Zheng is going crazy and killing people! For the sake of placating matters today, you either send Luo Zheng back to prison or make Mu Nianqing deny that Luo Zheng did it intentionally, and claim that they were only getting into a conflict, but Luo Zheng will have to clarify matters..."

Chu Ci analyzed and decided on two solutions.

Bo Hancheng thought about how Luo Zheng got bullied as soon as she got imprisoned... and felt that she couldn't stay in such a place because it would still be prison even if she was moved to a solitary cell!

"If we choose the second option, it will be easy to handle it! We just have to reveal to the media that Luo Zheng and Mu Nianqing are half-sisters and then convince Mu Nianqing to play along. Afterwards, Luo Zheng will apologize and pretend to patch things up with her. People will then understand and be appeased. It will be easy to resolve the matter then..."

Apologize?

Bo Hancheng's eyes turned gloomy at the thought of Luo Zheng's animosity towards Mu Nianqing.

At this moment, there was a crackling noise coming from the room.

Bo Hancheng hung up and hurried back to the room, only to be greeted with a huge mess.

Luo Zheng was standing in the middle and her seaweed-like hair was draped messily along her shoulders. She was fumbling and rummaging through things randomly, causing them to be scattered over the ground.

Bo Hancheng knew that she was suffering another relapse.
