

BO LOVE LIFE 9

Chapter 9: I Don't Touch Underage Girls

She was extremely brazen and she looked rather sultry yet, still a little innocent.

She was absolutely alluring!

Bo Hancheng felt a strong tension in his abdomen and a lump formed in his throat. "Why would I mind it?"

He proceeded to caress her skin uncontrollably.

Although he did not know how she ended up in his bathroom, he knew that her identity was not simple!

"It's illegal!"

Luo Zheng looked at him innocently.

She then raised her head to hold his gaze before winking mischievously. "I'm not 18 years old yet and I'm still considered underage... if you were to touch me, wouldn't that be illegal?"

Luo Zheng felt like she was good at judging people, perhaps because of her rebirth.

Although she could tell with one glance, that he was cold, aloof, dangerous and not to be provoked... at the same time, he also had his own set of principles that he stood firmly by. He definitely would not go back on them easily.

She reckoned that he probably would not get intimate with underaged girls!

Of course, that was just a conjecture of hers and she would try to shun him again if he were to insist on doing it... Humans definitely had to weigh the pros and cons of everything. She was just making a gamble!

"Underage?"

Just like she had expected, Bo Hancheng's desires completely vanished even though he was still feeling warm.

Luo Zheng's features were pronounced and she looked a little like a Eurasian. She was extremely beautiful and she was an early bloomer as well... Hence, one would not be able to tell her age just from her appearance. Bo Hancheng guessed that she was still rather young.

However, he did not expect her to be underage!

The thought of himself harboring designs on an underage girl and almost getting intimate with her, made him feel extremely resentful.

At last, he panted heavily and tried to get rid of the reaction that he should not be having.

His expression could be seen clearly even with the mask on.

Yet, she continued to cock her head towards the side and asked smilingly, "So, you really mind?"

“What’s the matter? Are you bothered by the fact that I mind?”

Bo Hancheng felt that she was young yet difficult to guess.

Luo Zheng remained silent and instead bent forward to pick up her robe before draping it over her body to cover her private areas.

Look, she won and she still had her innocence!

In high spirits, she explained, “Hmm, I’m not bothered, nor do I find it a pity! However, you can probably tell that I’ve been drugged with an aphrodisiac too... so, I was preparing to let us be each other’s antidote! Of course, since you mind that I’m underage, we’d better settle it ourselves.”

Bo Hancheng frowned. Although he was not drugged with an aphrodisiac, he felt that there was no need to let her know.

However, he did not expect her to be so dauntless even during such circumstances... Is she not afraid that I might act like a beast and force her to get intimate with me?

The only possibility was that she had already become intimate with a man before and has a promiscuous sex life. That must be why she does not care about her chastity!

He was somehow displeased with that and remarked in disdain, “Hah, you’re so young and yet, you’re already such a loose woman.”

Is he... minding the fact that I am filthy?

Luo Zheng could tell that he had misunderstood her but she did not deny it. Instead, she said smilingly, “Life is short. What’s wrong with having fun?”

In her previous lifetime, she had been saving her virginity for ten years, all for Xi Mubai.

What happened in the end?

She died a virgin and had never experienced the holy grail of coital pleasure. The thought of it... what a pity!
