Chapter 211 – Shu's Confession

Yet Pinliang didnt really deserve that from Mengyao- even he realized what Yushu was doing after falling for her tricks the first few times.

But what if it really were Mengyao asking for it? What if Yushu wasnt lying that one time?? Pinliang would be in tears if something like that happened.

As a result, hed always carry out the requests, even when he knew Yushu was lying Just in case it was actually Mengyao. Better safe than sorry.

Mengyao, on the other hand, was quite looking forward to Yushus big moment. She finished her food quickly and noticed Yushu still nibbling at her swordfish slowly. Shu, whyre you eating so slowly?

Its healthier! Its not like we have anything important to do, whats the rush? Yushu mumbled incoherently with the fish in her mouth. What, did you have something to do, Yao Yao?

Yao Yao couldnt believe this woman- of course they had something important to do! Hmph, keep it up Shu. Well see how long you can drag this out..

Mengyao watched as Yushu took her time- it was quite a while before she patted her belly, satisfied. Im full Hm? Yao Yao, you and Shield Bro are done already? You two sure are hitting it off!

Is that so? Mengyao hmphed softly. Shu, didnt you tell me youve something important to say to Lin Yi? Didnt you say something about taking that big step in life? Well? Isnt now a good time? Im interested in what that is, too.

Lin Yi was preparing to go back to his room when Mengyaos words stopped him- he connected it to what Yushu had whispered to him earlier. Turning back to face Yushu, he wondered what she wanted to say- could this be the show he was supposed to put on?

Yeah. So Ill say it right now? Yushu looked at Mengyao, and looked at Lin Yi, fidgeting a little- the time had come.

Yeah. Mengyao urged.

Shield Bro..! I.. like you Ive actually had a crush on you for a really long time Yushu said, standing up all of a sudden and looking into Lin Yis eyes with her hands in front of her chest. It reminded her of that game she played where there was this girl making a confession under a tree.

Uhh Lin Yi blinked at the confession- this was probably what Yushu was talking about earlier. With that, Lin Yi stood up with a burst and grabbed Yushus hands. Shu, I like you too!! Ive actually liked you since the first time I came to the villa!! Ive just never had the courage to confess- I actually really like you and Yao Yao

Mengyao coughed a bit- what was Lin Yi doing, pulling her into that mess? She wasnt feeling very good from what Lin Yi was saying to Yushu, too- was he accepting her confession?

He wasn't that shallow, was he? Accepting Yushu's confession right away, just like that? He looked so excited, too, as if he'd been waiting for this moment for so long. Mengyao was feeling really conflicted at this point. She forced on a smile. Shu, I didn't know you liked him?

Yushu, on the other hand, was really panicking, not expecting this strong a reaction from Lin Yi, who even grabbed on her hand to confess to her!! Her heart was thumping as she tried to understand what was happening. Shield Bro likes me?? No way I thought he liked Yao Yao!!!

But she did tell him to put on a show with her. Was he acting?

Yushu sighed in relief, but felt a slight bit of disappointment. Would Shield Bro accept her confession if she did it for real? She blushed at the thought.

Mengyao's coughs brought her back to reality, and she looked at Mengyao shyly. I Yao Yao!! I confessed, so leave this all behind! Don't talk about this anymore!

Lin Yi, aren't you gonna say something? Mengyao asked, curious at Lin Yi having calmed down and returned to normal already. The guy had been so excited just a moment ago, too.

Say what? Lin Yi said as he sat back down. I did, I accepted her confession.

Just like that? Nothing else? Mengyao said, suspicious.

What else is there? Who knows if she's being serious or not. Lin Yi shrugged. She's always like that isn't she.

Ugh. Mengyao opened her mouth, but didn't say anything. So Lin Yi knew that Yushu wasn't being serious?

Her disappointment had a slight relief to it- so Lin Yi wasn't accepting her confession? She didn't know what to think anymore, her mind was a complete mess! She needed to go think things through quietly in her room!

Shu, come with me! Mengyao said as she pulled Yushu upstairs with her, leaving Lin Yi at the table, all alone.

Yushu turned her head back to make a face at Lin Yi, as if nothing had happened.

Lin Yi smiled- what were these girls even doing?

He put the leftovers away, thinking of making a dish with swordfish tomorrow as he went back to his room, not thinking much of Yushu's confession. He'd been warned from the start, after all.

Mengyao, on the other hand, had thoughts piling up inside of her. What if Shu hadn't got stuck today? What if she lost? Would she have confessed to him, and would Lin Yi have treated her seriously if she did?

She wasn't like Yushu, after all- she didn't bounce all over to place, and Lin Yi might've just believed her. Mengyao was starting to regret closing Lin Yi's door- she should've just hid in there and let Shu find her.

But why would she want to confess to Lin Yi in the first place? She didn't even like him? Mengyao shook her head, trying to push the mess in her brain away.

Yao Yao what do you want.. Yushu asked as she went up with Mengyao.

Shu, why didn't he believe your confession? Mengyao wasn't sure what she was asking at this point- nothing made sense anymore.

Oh I guess what I say isn't very believable Yushu said as she rubbed her head. I always do dumb stuff?

That might be it Mengyao said, shaking her head. Alright, sorry Shu, I went overboard today Shouldn't have forced you to confess to him- it's pretty bad for your reputation. Good thing Lin Yi didn't believe you How would you ever get a boyfriend if word gets out?

Uh..

Chapter 212 – Something Knocking On The Window

Ugh Mengyao's words were actually making Yushu feel bad. Yao Yao, don't say that I was the one who made the bet, too! Of course I'll honor the agreement. I mean I actually told Shield Bro about it when you were on the phone, I asked him to put on a show with me

Wha-?! Mengyao froze at the revelation- she hadn't expected the girl to manage that during those seconds! So what happened earlier was a complete performance, then? It was all fake?! Mengyao shot an angry glare at her. Shu!!

Uh I told you the truth, didn't I Don't get mad, Yao Yao Yushu said, startled as she ran for the room.

This Yushu Mengyao didn't know what to do with this girl anymore, but things had ended pretty well, hadn't they? She did go a little overboard

Zhong Pinliang was in his villa, watching a horror movie on his laptop as he sat in his room. He wasn't a very brave person- he still wet his bed at eight, didn't dare sleep alone at ten, and didn't dare go out alone at twelve

It was an image completely different from the one he had at school- to solve that he thought up a plan, and that was to hide himself in his room in the middle of the night, watching horror movies by himself

He always got scared shitless at the start, but he'd managed to force himself to become brave, even if by just a little. He could go out of the house at night now, on his own.

Yet the horror movies still scared him- he couldn't turn the lights off, and always watched them with the house completely lit He was watching this film about a kid living alone, who always heard something knocking on the window at night.

It was simply horrifying! Pinliang wondered if something like that would happen to him tonight, his parents weren't home with him after all

He was focusing on the movie when a black figure appeared outside his window

And started knocking on it.

AHH. Pinliang cried out, a little pee coming out as he fell on his butt. Who?! Who is it?!!

Pinliang was trembling, but he forced himself to look in the windows direction- his luck wasnt this shitty, was it? Something really came knocking on his window??

Eh? Pinliang sighed in relief after seeing who it was. He then wondered what the hell he was doing here. Ignoring his pee-stained pants, he quickly ran to the window and opened it. Heibao Bro, whyre you here?

It was Heibao, who had escaped from the police earlier today, sneaking to Pinliangs place during nighttime, and was thinking of getting some money for his escape plans. He also wanted to discuss revenge against Lin Yi.

Master Zhong, I beat a couple of cops up on the way to the prison- I escaped! Heibao said, vaulting himself into the room with an agile movement.

Pinliang, on the other hand, was stunned.

Heibao Bro Howd you get up here? Pinliang understood his villas structure well- the villas here had a clean, slippery mosaic over the walls, and no ledges or cracks for the guy to hold on to It was impossible for him to have climbed up, nor was it possible for him to have jumped up! It was a ten-meter jump!

I jumped up. Heibao said faintly. Master Zhong, Im not the old Heibao anymore- Im at the peak late phase of the golden class now!!

Golden class? Peak late phase? How strong is that? Pinliang didnt know the class divisions very well.

A little stronger than regular special ops! Heibao said. That Song girl, from the criminal police- shes just at the middle phase!

Oh, Oh Pinliang couldnt quite catch on to what Heibao was throwing at him. Heibao Bro, howd you get so strong all of a sudden?

Heibao looked pretty weak when he got messed up by Lin Yi that day, but the guy was claiming to be even stronger than Song Lingshan from the criminal police- from what Pinliang had seen, Heibao didnt seem to be lying.

Hed managed to level up all of a sudden. Pinliang wondered how nice itd have been if Heibao was this strong back when hed faced Lin Yi.

Pinliang was barely following, but he nodded. Then theres a flaw with this method right?

Yeah, and not just any flaw- a big one. You lose five years of your life! That, and the time period of one month- the body returns to normal one month later, and the main veins and everything get permanently damaged. Ill never be able to practice martial arts again! Heibao said. But thats worth it- its way better than what I was about to face.

Heibao only ran away because of how serious his fuck-up was this time- hed broken a number of laws! There was also his history of crime on top of all his illegal gun wielding and attempted murder- he had at least ten years waiting for him in prison!

Ten years in there was absolutely hell for someone like Heibao, who lived for pleasure- hed really rather die.

He had two main priorities he needed to take care of after escaping: the first was to shed Lin Yis blood!! The guy had thrown him in prison, and messed up his hand and half his face, too! It was an absolute disgrace, nothing like what Heibao had ever been through before!

The second was to get a sum from Pinliang, so as to leave the city and continue living in luxury.

Oh Then, Heibao Bro, you came here to Pinliang asked carefully, aware that he had a direct hand in causing Heibaos imprisonment- he was worried that the guy had beef with him because of that.

Chapter 213 – Heibao’s Revenge

Dont you worry, Master Zhong- Im not after you. Its that piece of shit Lin Yi!! Im out here to wipe him off the planet!! Heibao explained, noticing what Pinliang was worrying about. But I dont have a single penny on me now- Ill need Master Zhongs support financially!

Pinliang let out a sigh of relief upon hearing the explanation- everything was fine as long as Heibao wasnt after his blood. He wanted money, and that wasnt a big deal- he had money! Heibao had went in as his scapegoat, after all, and he was even talking about fucking Lin Yi up for him! Pinliang was but overjoyed to help.

Dont worry, Heibao Bro. Money isnt an issue here, Ill go talk with my dad! Ill get you a million kuai first! Pinliang said. As for Lin Yi, though, well need to talk about this a bit more- we cant get him at school anymore, well need a different location!

Thank you, Master Zhong! Heibao was relieved himself at Pinliangs generosity, pulling a million out right away- it seemed that hed come to the right place. The Zhongs treated him well, too He hadnt been a scapegoat for nothing! Pinliangs statement regarding Lin Yi, on the other hand, made perfect sense- hed never go after Lin Yi in public again. He nodded. Thats right, well need to discuss this later, but I cant stay too long. I wont be able to beat that shit up if my body goes back to normal.

Dont worry, Heibao, itll only be a couple days! Pinliang wanted Lin Yi dead as soon as possible, too- the guy had flipped his chair in front of everyone! It was too great a humiliation, and hed never rest until he got him to pay.

Alright, Ill be going! Here, my phone number. Heibao said as he handed a piece of paper to Pinliang. News of my escapes gonna become public soon, and theyll be on you when that happens. I should be fine with this body, but I wouldnt wanna drag you guys down.

Okay, Heibao Bro. Ill call you after I get the one million from dad! Pinliang said, a little touched at Heibaos concern for him.

Dont rush that- Lin Yi comes first. Heibao was really itching for Lin Yis blood. That fucking shit, I cant live on with him breathing!!

Okay then, you go first, Heibao Bro. Ill talk to my dad, and well talk about Lin Yi later. Ill call you. Pinliang nodded.

Heibao nodded as well, patting Pinliang's shoulder without saying anything else. He leapt off the windowsill and disappeared into the night.

Fuck, seriously? He's like a martial arts master in wuxia novels or something. Pinliang said, stunned as he stared at the empty windowsill. He looked down and found that Heibao had disappeared already.

He'd have thought he was dreaming if it weren't for the piece of paper in his hand!

Pinliang pulled his phone out and started dialing his dad up, who only picked up after quite a couple of rings. It was pretty noisy on the other end of the call- Fabai was outside drinking. Pinliang, what's the matter?

Dad, there's an emergency. Can you come home first? Pinliang said with a lowered voice, even if no one was there to eavesdrop on him.

What happened? I'm with a client, your mother's here too- they're old friends! It's not something I can just walk away from. Fabai said.

It really is an emergency, dad! Can you come home first? Pinliang was worried that someone on Fabai's end might hear him, and didn't want to risk exposing anything.

Pinliang, what is it? Dad's really busy here, can't you understand that?! Fabai was a little displeased at that point- how serious could it be?

Heibao escaped from prison.. Pinliang said, lowering his voice as much as possible.

What? What did you say?! Fabai froze. Alright, wait for me- I'm coming back now.

Fabai's heart tightened at the name- his clients weren't that big a concern anymore. After all, this was something that could get his own son in jail if he didn't sort it out properly.

He'd gotten a lawyer to meet up with Heibao, and got him to shoulder all the blame for a big reward after getting out. Things got really complicated if he just ran like that.

He turned to his wife. Hua, you chat with our old friends first- something's happened with Pinliang, I need to go back first!

Alright, hurry back then. Fabai's wife, naturally, understood the gravity of the situation if it could pull her husband away at a time like this. She didn't bother stressing him with any questions. Leave everything here to me- they all know I'm a big drinker.

The other people present at the table weren't too pleased with Fabai just leaving like that- they hadn't even started drinking yet! What Fabai's wife said, however, made the situation clear, and they just nodded in acknowledgement. They were old enough friends, after all.

Fabai left the pub and got into a taxi, leaving the car for his wife. It wasn't long before he got home.

He didn't even bother taking his coat off as he yelled for his son after opening the door. Pinliang, where are you? I'm home!

Pinliang ran out his room and down the stairs upon hearing his father's voice. Dad!

Tell me, where did you hear this It doesnt seem to be public yet? Fabai said curiously. Heibao breaking out of prison was a really big deal, after all- how would Pinliang know about it when the news hadnt reported anything?

Pinliang was about to speak when Fabais phone rang.

Fabai looked at who was calling, quickly gesturing for his son to keep quiet as he answered the phone. Captain Song- whyre you calling so late?

Chairman Zhong? I have bad news- Heibaos escaped. Lingshan didnt want to be making this phone call, but it was a necessity. After all, Fabai was one of the main targets for Heibaos vengeance

Lingshan had an idea of why Heibao had done all of that at school She also knew why Heibao was willing to take responsibility for all the crimes. Zhong Fabais influence in the city was strong, and he even had a close relative as a Pengzhan Industries shareholder. There were many parties involved, and Lingshan didnt want to have too many suspicions without proper evidence.

Chapter 214 – Midnight Plot

Zhong Fabai hadnt seemed to pay much attention to Heibao after hed gotten arrested He hired a lawyer for him, but that was it.

Logically thinking, Fabais connections in Songshan should have been enough to to influence the whole thing, but Fabai never even tried! Lingshan could only presume that hed given up on Heibao in fear that the incident would get linked back to his son.

Naturally, Lingshan wasnt aware of the agreement Fabai had brokered with Heibao- Heibao would never go back to House Zhong for blood.

Oh? Is that so? Fabai said faintly. Captain Song, Im not too familiar with Heibao- hes just the captain of a security detail I had. I only got him a lawyer out of courtesy and dignity; he no longer has any connection with the company

Lingshan was a bit irritated at what Fabai was saying- the guy was cutting himself clean with Heibao! How would he know if Heibao thought the same? He could very well intend to go back for revenge!

Chairman Zhong, what Im trying to tell you is that Heibao might seek you out for revenge. Lingshan said faintly as she suppressed her irritation.

Revenge? Why would he want revenge? I give him a salary every month, plus bonuses! Fabai said with a chuckle. Captain Song, youre overthinking things. But I do appreciate the gesture- Ill watch out for him.

Im sure you know why hed want that- Ill stop there. Lingshan said with a cold chuckle herself. Better assign a bodyguard to your son 24/7, too. Contact me if you need the police to help.

Lingshan hated the man, but she was a police officer- she had to prioritize the citizens safety.

Ah, I will. Dont worry. Fabai said. Ill contact you right away if news about Heibao comes up.

He hung the phone up and turned back to his son, a serious look on his face. Pinliang, how did you know about Heibao?

The police had just confirmed Pinliang's claim- his son was currently a good source of information.

Dad, I've met Heibao Bro! He just came by! Pinliang said.

He came? What for? He didn't threaten you, did he? Fabai's expression turned ugly at the words- Heibao coming to his son for revenge was still a possibility, despite what Fabai had said to Lingshan earlier.

Don't worry, dad, Heibao Bro isn't that kind of person! Pinliang said. He'd never do that to me, he said I'm not the one to blame! He's after Lin Yi, not me!

Oh? Did he tell you that? Fabai paused. Pinliang, tell me- what's going on?

Here's the thing, dad Pinliang started explaining. I was watching a movie in my room earlier when someone jumped up on the windowsill!

Jumped up on the windowsill- what're you talking about? He just jumped up ten meters to the second floor? Fabai asked as he stared in disbelief.

Well I'm not too sure there- but he said something about being part of a sect when he was younger, and there was this technique that powered you up at the cost of five years of your life, something about giving you golden class peak late phase strength for a month Pinliang said.

What?! Golden class peak late phase? Pinliang hadn't a clue what the division classes were, but the same couldn't be said for someone who lived a life like Zhong Fabai's

He had a friend, a master who'd just gotten to the early phase of the golden class- he'd told him that Fabai should only ask for his help when he really needed it

Yet even he trampled on all the fighters in the city! What sort of monster would a late phase golden fighter be? Heibao reaching that level, even if for just a month, was a feat enough on its own!

Yeah, he said so himself. Pinliang nodded. So dad, he's pretty strong now?

Yes! Insanely strong!! What else did he tell you? Fabai sighed, relieved that he'd talked things over with Heibao before anything else- the guy would've most likely been after the Zhongs first thing after breaking out otherwise!

He said he's gonna go after Lin Yi first, and then he said he needs money to leave the city. I promised him! Fabai said. Dad, I told him we could give him a million kuai, you wouldn't blame me for not asking you first, would you?

You did wonderful, son! Fabai said. A million isn't much to us, there's no problem there- even two millions fine! As for that thing with Lin Yi keep out of it

But dad, I really hate that Lin Yi too! You don't know what he did! I was sitting beside Chu Mengyao, talking to her when he felt like I was blocking his way! He sent me to the ground with a kick- it still hurts! Pinliang said passionately. This kid's a big obstacle in my path to Mengyao, dad! He needs to be removed.

Oh? If thats the case Dont involve yourself in public, just give Heibao some pointers in the dark. Fabai nodded. Youre not a kid anymore, Pinliang- from what Ive seen, youve gotten good at handling things. Do what you feel is right, Ill try not to interfere.

Thank you, dad! Pinliang nodded. Ah, right, I just gave Zhang Naipao that seven hundred thousand

Chapter 215 – Chance Meeting at the Hospital

Zhong Pinliang hadnt been raised in a conventional family- as a result, he had much more violent tendencies than other students. He was cowardly, but that didnt mean he was kind.

Wanting Lin Yi dead left no taste of guilt on his tongue- he even wanted the guy to die a more horrific death instead of simply dying.

That was the difference between Zhong Pinliang and a regular kid.

What could he do to intensify Lin Yis pain? Physical torture no longer held any pleasure for Pinliang to derive from- just beating the guy up wasnt very interesting at all.

An emotional trauma, on the other hand, was far more effective than a physical one- this was something Pinliang comprehended from his long hours of horror movie training. He had to attack Lin Yi mentally, for the maximum amount of pain possible.

Ah Pinliang suddenly recalled his meeting with Zou Ruoming, where theyd talked about Ruoming forcing himself on Tang Yin He should let Lin Yi have a nice view of that before he passed on to the afterlife- thatd be quite something.

A snicker slipped out at that thought, and Pinliang started laughing- he was such a genius for coming up with an idea as monstrous as that! Itd be really pleasing if Pinliang could see Lin Yi struggling to help Tang Yin as Heibao beat him to death, raging at his inability to do anything as his life faded away

Pinliang had made his decision: hed go talk about this with Ruoming at school on Monday. He couldnt involve himself in the whole thing directly, however he had to provide his aid in secret.

It was Monday morning, and Lin Yi was sleeping when Kang Xiaobos phone call woke him up.

Boss, Im thinking of visiting Fen at the hospital, you wanna come? Xiaobo hadnt gotten much sleep yesterday, again.

The first time was from going to the commoner beautys house, since it was something big for him to be boasting about But none of that concerned Xiaobo anymore- he couldnt stop himself from thinking about Fen.

It had been the first time his whole life to get insomnia over a girl. There was his compassion for her, and his hatred for his second cousin!

A fine girl, ruined! The guy didnt have the slightest shred of concern for her, never appearing again! Fens family was poor enough as it was- the sickness only made everything worse for her.

Hed been so angry that hed even considered calling his second cousin for questioning, but refrained from doing so. After all, hed only heard Tang Yins side of the story- he was leaning to her side, but he didnt have the details. It was something he had to ask Fen to know.

After all, a relationship turning sour usually had two sides to it- it was hard to pin the blame on just one person. Yet, should Kang Zhaoming prove to have done what Tang Yin had said he had, then the guy was a monster.

You want me to drive you, or you want me to come with you? Lin Yi said as he got out of bed.

Both Xiaobo chuckled. Boss, I was thinking of getting in your car, but theres also this other thing- its gonna look sudden if I just showed up alone, you know? Itsd be normal if you visited Tang Yins friend, you know, with your relationship with her.

My relationship with her? Lin Yi smiled bitterly. We dont have anything between us yet, okay?

That doesnt matter, does it? Youve gotta be a lot closer to Tang Yin than I am to Fen! Itsll be hard for me to go if you dont come. Xiaobo said. Come on, boss, think of it as looking out for your little brothers love! I wont back out mid-way after deciding on this.

Alright then- wait for me at the same place as yesterday. Ill be there in about an hour. Lin Yi said.

Xiaobo was Lin Yis only bro in school, after all- of course hed support him. He was a pretty nice person, too, an honorable man. Lin Yi wouldnt lose anything by helping him out, anyway.

He put the phone down and some clothes on as he looked at the time: seven am. This Xiaobo sure had gotten up early.

Lin Yi had been learning quite a lot from the old man in the jade every night he slept- it was like the guy was omniscient with that knowledge he had.

He went to the kitchen and took out the leftover swordfish from yesterday. He cut some potatoes up and put them in the electric pressure cooker- it cooked the potatoes faster.

Mengyao had everything in her kitchen, but most of it hadnt even been used before. The pressure cooker had been unboxed and placed on the counter, but there was still a manual in there.

The cooker had a timer function, and Lin Yi didnt have to do much. He left a note on the table for the girls, telling them to help themselves to the food after waking up- he had something to do.

With that, Lin Yi left the place.

Yushu had found out about the damage to her car already, and Lin Yi didnt feel like troubling himself with a phone call to Uncle Fu. He decided to just leave it be for awhile, since it didnt really affect his driving.

He reached the Time Street bus stop, and saw Xiaobo waiting for him. He picked him up and drove to Songshans First Hospital.

Yet Fen wasnt in her bed- some aunty was in her place. Xiaobo learned from the staff that shed been moved to the hospitalization rooms.

They walked out the room only to see Guan Xin, who blinked in surprise upon seeing Lin Yi.

Lin Yi? Whatre you doing here? Guan Xin said, pleasantly surprised.

Shed been worried about Lin Yis injury the past couple days- the guy had never come back after that last checkup, and she feared that something would go wrong with the wound That, and the fact that Guan Xin looked forward to seeing Lin Yi again. She had a really good feeling about meeting her savior, a feeling she couldnt really explain.

It wasnt really love, however- she wasnt that easy. It was more like a good impression, a positive, nice feeling towards him, causing her to think about him whenever she couldnt see him Shed thought that shed never cross paths with him again.

But here they were.

Guan Xin? Well, I have this friend who got hospitalized. Lin Yi said, not expecting to meet Guan Xin here.

Oh Guan Xin nodded. About your wound

Its been healed. Lin Yi smiled. Thanks.

Guan Xin wanted to say something when a doctor called for her- she only apologized to Lin Yi before rushing over.

She wanted to ask Lin Yi for his number, but couldnt bring herself to do it She was a girl, after all. It was too embarrassing to just ask a guy that.

It was quite troubling- couldnt this dude just ask her for her number??

Chapter 216 – You Get It, Right?

Lin Yi and Xiaobo walked into Fens room- there were seven other people with her, making the place more packed than the emergency room, especially with the visiting friends and family. The air there wasnt very good either.

Xiaobo frowned at the situation- this certainly wasnt the type of environment Fen should be recovering in. How would she ever get better with a noisy, crowded, room like this?

He remembered the situation Fens family was in, and sighed faintly. His own family wasnt too well-off, either Hed really have helped them financially for Fen to get a better room otherwise.

Lin Yi, as usual, noticed the expression on Xiaobos face. He patted his shoulder with a smile. The deposit I gave should be enough to get her a better room.

Lin Yi had no problem at all using Wu Chentians money- he wasnt even using it for himself, anyway. It might very well be for his bros future wife.

But, boss That money.. Xiaobo said hesitantly. After all, the money was meant to be lent to Fens family. The guy wouldnt get anything in return for spending this much on the girl.

Haha, just think of it as being used on you- you dont have to return it. Lin Yi said with a laugh.

Thanks Xiaobo nodded, not rejecting the offer. Lin Yi was being serious, he knew that- there was no reason to be shy about it. Hed chosen the right guy to call boss.

Xiaobo walked over to Fens bed with quick steps- the girl was awake, and her face wasnt as pale anymore. Both Tang Yin and Liu Xinwen were talking with her while Song Huiping peeled an apple for Fen.

Aunty Song Xiaobo said, a little embarrassed. He wasnt very close with the family Following them back to the hospital after saving Fen yesterday made sense, but coming again the second day

Oh? Xiaobos here! Huiping said, evidently quite fond of Xiaobo as she stood up smiling. She handed the peeled apple to him. Here, an apple?

No thank you- give it to Fen, aunty. She needs to nutrition. Xiaobo said.

Fen couldnt help but blush upon seeing Xiaobo- Tang Yin and Xinwen had told her about yesterdays events, about how she had mistaken Xiaobo for Kang Zhaoming yesterday.

Thank you, Kang Xiaobo. For saving me yesterday. Fen said, a little shy as she sat up, her face a bit red and her voice pleasant.

Ah, dont worry about it Heh heh Xiaobo said, waving his hands, a little worked up- it was his first time seeing Fen in her normal state.

And also, sorry for what I did yesterday I thought you were him Fen didnt want to be talking about this, but it was something she still had to apologize for.

A conscious Fen knew well that Zhaoming wouldnt be coming back for her again It was just that she slipped into her fantasies once in a while.

Its fine haha. Xiaobo said, waving his hands in front of him once more. As long as youre okay! Ah, thats right- I talked to my boss- were getting you a better hospital room!

Ah? Fens paused as she remembered what Tang Yin had said to her, about how Xiaobo might have feelings for her. She didnt think much of it- she was a disabled person, both mentally and physically Kang Xiaobo was a young, healthy boy, why would he ever fall for her? What Xiaobo was saying right now, however, confirmed Tang Yins suspicions. Why would the guy come back the second day, even get her a better hospital room, if it werent for that?

Huiping could tell what Xiaobo was thinking, too, and was a bit confused. Her daughter, while not as pretty as Tang Yin, may have been a nice flower in the slums, but

What did Xiaobo see in her daughter right now? Huiping couldnt quite wrap her head around this- there wasnt much her house had to offer, either, and with the state Fen was in

Ah, its a gesture from my boss, dont worry about it- his familys pretty rich, so its not too much to them. Xiaobo said, pinning the credit to Lin Yi.

Lin Yi was pretty speechless- his family, rich? The girls he was living with had rich families, but Fen, youre best friends with Tang Yin, and Tang Yin and Lin Yi you know, heh heh. Xiaobo said with a warm smile.

Lin Yi really wanted to kick this shit into a wall- what the hell was he doing, using his boss to hit on girls?! He was pulling Tang Yin and him into the whole thing!

As expected, Tang Yin shot an unpleasant glare at Xiaobo She couldnt really say anything there, however- Xiaobo had good intentions, he was offering to change Fens hospital room.

Tang Yin knew too that it wasnt a good environment for Fen to heal in- wouldnt denying Xiaobos words mean that Fen would have to continue staying here?

She thought about it: Lin Yi was a rich young master, this sort of money didnt matter to him. As for that little comment She had nothing going on with Lin Yi! The guy was just using their relationship to hit on Fen. Tang Yin felt better after with that in mind.

Fen turned to look at Tang Yin, confused. She wasnt saying anything She turned to Xinwen, who then nodded faintly to her. Tang Yin was in a relationship?!

With this boss of Kang Xiaobos?

There were other patients present, however, and her mother was here, too.. It wouldnt be very appropriate for her to ask for details, and she decided to just believe what Xiaobo had said.

Dont worry, Aunty Song- my boss is paying. Lets get Fen a better room! Xiaobo said passionately as he went for a doctor.

Lin Yi understood Xiaobos psychology here- it was the first girl he had fallen for, and it was only natural that hed want to make an impression. As for that comment he made Lin Yi only laughed it off.

He gestured to Tang Yin, telling her to come over. Tang Yin raised her head, confused as she pointed to herself, as if to confirm if Lin Yi was asking for her.

Lin Yi nodded, and she got up to walk over unwillingly. What is it?

Xiaobos trying to chase Fen, and he needs a reason to get close to her, so he used us Lin Yi explained. You get it, right?

Oh. Tang Yin nodded a little unhappily, but didnt give any retort to that. As long as you know its not real.

Ah, I know. Lin Yi smiled. Lets go, help Xiaobo out with the room change. Maybe also tell me what Fen thinks of him..?

Chapter 217 – Hospital Room News

Tang Yin hesitated, but walked out with Lin Yi all the same. Fen didnt say anything about Xiaobo yet, so I guess its just gratitude?

You think he has a chance? Lin Yi asked.

How would I know? Tang Yin hmphed softly. The people around you just do the same thing you do, chasing after girls when they should be studying.

Ah Lets not talk about me first. Lin Yi said. I think hes serious about this.

Tang Yin looked at Xiaobo in front of them- she wouldnt mind getting him together with Fen if he really was serious ltd help Fen get out of that trauma. You sure its not a one-time thing, that he wants to be with Fen the rest of his life? Hes not just playing around like you are, is he?

...Whyre you always pulling me back in? Also, I never said anything about just playing around with you! Lin Yi said, a bitter smile on his face. Not sure if hes just being impulsive or anything, but it doesnt look like it.

Tang Yin shot a glare at Lin Yi. A girls honor is a very delicate thing! Fens gotten hurt once, she cant go through that again.

Lin Yi hadnt expected Tang Yin to be the committed type, the type of girl whod never let go of a man after deciding on him. Men were usually worried that their girlfriend would leave them for another if they were too pretty, but it seemed like that kind of thing wouldnt happen with Tang Yin as a girlfriend.

The two were talking when Xiaobo started raising his voice.

He seemed to be arguing with a middle-aged man while Huiping tried to calm them down.

Its not like were not spending the money- why is it that we cant have a private room? Xiaobo was getting a little furious- hed been all excited, pulling Huiping along to the hospital room management deans room to get Fen a private hospital room, but they just denied him everything with no rooms!

Even that would be fine, if one of the doctors hadnt brought a patients relative in to get a private room right after they left the office! The dean of the hospital just gave them one without thinking about it, all because the doctor said the relative was his bro!

Didnt the guy say there werent any rooms left? So how come a room came up all of a sudden?

Its the last high-class room, for insiders. The dean explained faintly, not interested in arguing with Xiaobo.

What happened to first come first serve? Its not like were not paying for it, why dont we get the room? Just because we arent insiders? Xiaobo said, very displeased.

Dont come asking for rooms if you cant back it up- my husbands classmate is the hospital dean here! You think you can just ask for rooms without connections? Go back and cut some vegetables! A woman in heavy makeup said with a disdainful look at Xiaobo- she was the wife of the doctors bro. Look at that dumb face of yours, stop embarrassing yourself!

You-!! Xiaobo wasnt taking this well. Whose face are you calling dumb?

What are you gonna do about it? Youre obviously some villager getting cocky with that bit of money on you- look at what your mothers wearing, shes like a villager visiting the city for the first time! The man said with a glare after seeing Xiaobo raise his voice at his woman, thinking Huiping was Xiaobos mother. He spat at the ground.

The spit hit Xiaobos shoe, and it clearly wasnt the mans intention judging by the surprised look on his face.

You-! Wipe my shoe clean right now! Xiaobo had been following Lin Yi the last couple days- he had the boiling blood of men in his veins now!

Alright, alright, kid, enough. The man said as he pulled a hundred kuai bill out his wallet casually, putting it in Xiaobos hand. Go look for some shoe cleaner with this. Let me tell you, just money isnt enough these days. You need connections! Try to keep up.

With that, the man took his leave with his woman, afraid that Xiaobo would start to cause trouble. The doctor who was with them left as well.

The man was Zhao Guangdong, who had come to get his boss a private room. His boss wasnt in critical condition or anything, but he did have high blood pressure these past few days. He didnt need a private room at all, but Guangdong wanted to use some of his connections.

Xiaobo threw the money on the ground with a violent swing, his eyes bloodshot as he glared at the leaving Guangdong, panting with rage.

Ah Lin Yi walked over and picked the money up, handing it to Xiaobo. You still have to take the money- youre pissed at him, not the money.

Boss, I wanna beat him up! Xiaobo understood Lin Yis good intentions- Fen was at a delicate stage, and having more money would always help. Hed thrown the money away for his pride, but Lin Yi had picked it up and handed it to him- he had to take it.

Xiaobo, we dont need a private room anymore, dont get into a fight! That room isnt bad! Huiping said, worried that Xiaobo would get in trouble.

Tang Yin looked at Lin Yi, telling him to talk Xiaobo out of it. She understood where the guy was coming from- hed just gotten out of a situation much like what Tang Yin had gone through, understanding the cold cruelty of this world. She went to the factory herself to get her fathers medical compensation, but where did that get her?

People who had connections only needed to mention it, and theyd get money for the medical bills, regardless of how serious the injury was.

Sometimes, beating people up isnt the only way to handle things. Lin Yi said, patting Xiaobo on the shoulder. You need to adapt to the different people youre dealing with. Wait for me- Ill get them out of that private room the same way they got in.

With that, he started walking to the deans office. The dean was about to ask Lin Yi what he needed when he walked in his office, but one look at Xiaobo and his face grew dark. Didnt I tell you, there arent any rooms left. Whatre you here for?

You sure theres only one high class room, the one youd just given to those people earlier? Lin Yi asked without answering the question.

Yes. You may leave now. The dean said with an impatient wave of his hand.

Then get them out of that room. Lin Yi said faintly.

Hah.. The dean couldnt help but find Lin Yis words amusing. Who did that guy think he was, the head of the hospital? I still have matters to attend to- Ill have to call security if youre looking for trouble.

So youre not getting them out? Lin Yi said as he pulled his phone out. Then Ill just have to get someone else to do it

Chapter 218 – Blinking In Surprise

The dean curled his lips at the statement- who was this guy calling for? Why would he even come for him in the first place, if he had a connection like that? All he had to do was bring an insider along, and hed have gotten the room.

Yet the last room had been given out Even if this guy did have an insider connection, itd be difficult to just take the room back- itd piss them off.

Hello? Professor Guan? Im Lin Yi. Lin Yis connection, naturally, was Guan Xuemin! He was the head of Songshans First School of Medicine, directly above Songshans First Peoples Hospital! It didnt matter who it was in the hospital, theyd have to listen to the school leaders arrangements.

It was something hed learned from Xuemin during a conversation. While Xuemin wasnt in charge of the hospital rooms, one word from him would solve the entire situation.

Oh, Mister Lin- missing this old man already? Xuemin greeted, evidently very happy that Lin Yi had called again right after doing so yesterday. Hed wanted to get closer to Lin Yi in the first place, after all.

Well, Professor Guan, Im at Songshans First Peoples Hospital, and I have a friend hospitalized here I wanna spend some money to get her a private room, but the last privates room been given to an insider by the dean, even though we came here first. Lin Yi said, conveying the facts to Xuemin.

Haha, I understand- Ill call Old Qin right now, hes the head of the hospital. Ill contact you later! Xuemin said joyfully.

Any other person bringing something trivial like this to Guan Xuemin, and he wouldnt even bother- after all, Lin Yi had made it clear: the room had been given to another insider, and itd be a little inappropriate to just take that away from them. Xuemin wouldnt want to cause trouble for anyone for something like this.

Needless to say, it would look selfish for the head of Songshans School of Medicine. Naturally, that wasnt the key thing- what was important was that the hospital and the school were associated and built together, even if it were under the school. His own son was even one of the shareholders for the hospital!

As a result, Xuemin couldnt just meddle with the affairs of the hospital One phone call from him could cause a big ripple.

Yet it was Lin Yi who had come to him, and his relationship with him was a very unique one- it was both mentorship and friendship, one that transcended the age gap. It was only natural that hed take Lin Yis matters into his own hands.

He hung the phone up, and dialed up Old Qin.

The dean had been smiling coldly at Lin Yi, but froze immediately after hearing the words Professor Guan- he started sweating as he pondered who this person was.

Yet, who else could it be in the medical world? It was Guan Xuemin, the head of Songshans School of Medicine!! The dean went stiff at that point- after all, Guan Xuemin was a titan!

Even the head of the hospital paid respects to him! Guan Xuemin's own son was a shareholder in the hospital, completely capable of destroying a small dean like him if he wanted to! He only managed hospital rooms!

The problem here was that he didn't deserve this development! He didn't have a room for Xiaobo because the doctor from earlier called him in advance, just a short while before Xiaobo came in person!

If they were to talk about the first come first serve rule, the room should still go to the doctor, who had booked it first! Although, he had himself to blame for not explaining things thoroughly to Xiaobo- things might not have turned out this way if he had.

With that in mind, the dean stood up immediately, a little awkward and embarrassed. Brother, why trouble Mister Guan? I'm afraid I haven't explained the situation. The doctor from earlier did indeed arrive first- he'd booked the last room before coming over himself. That was why I told the brother over there that there weren't any rooms left.

You think you can just say that stuff now, and I'll believe it? Lin Yi didn't care if the guy was telling the truth at that point, and he wasn't interested in listening to his explanations, either.

The dean's face reddened in embarrassment- he was about to say something else when his phone rang, the ringtone piercing the silence of the room. The dean tensed as he picked the phone up, getting into a humble attitude as he looked at the display- he knew who was calling already.

It really was the head of the hospital!! Mister Qin How may I be of assistance

The dean hadn't finished speaking when a raspy voice came from the other side, coupled with the dean's yes and I understand from time to time. He couldn't even get an explanation in when the Mister Qin hung up on him.

The dean put the phone down, and turned to face Lin Yi, a bigger smile on his face. My apologies for earlier, brother- I'll have them give you the room this instant!

The dean had made his decision- pissing that doctor from earlier was worlds better than pissing Guan Xuemin or Mister Qin off

He regretted looking down on Xiaobo, but there wasn't much he could do about it now. Xiaobo, on the other hand, was looking quite pleased as he stood beside Lin Yi, his anger completely released as he grinned coldly at the smiling dean.

The dean couldn't believe it- did he find pleasure in doing this? Was it fun to pretend to be some nobody, begging a hospital room dean for a hospital room when his friend knew Guan Xuemin??!! Couldn't he had just called him in advance?!

Yet he had to keep the smile on his face. Please, follow me- Ill assign the room to you right away!

Tang Yin looked at Lin Yi, thoughtful It seemed that there was nothing this man couldn't solve! He was employing different approaches to his problems, too, using violence at times, and using his connections other times when needed She massaged her forehead as she tried to calm herself down, unwilling to think about Lin Yi.

They walked out the office, and Lin Yi noticed Guan Xin looking around. Curious, he waved to her. Guan Xin! Over here!

The deans eyes widened. Dude!! You even know Guan Xin??!! Whyd you even bother with the phone call, just ask her to talk to me!!

Chapter 219 – Getting Out The Same Way You Got In

The dean was one of the higher-ups at the hospital- it went without saying that he knew who Guan Xin was She was Guan Xuemins granddaughter, daughter of one of the shareholders! A lower ranking doctor might not know about that, but the dean was no low ranking doctor! No one would want to cross a girl with a background like that.

Up until that point, the dean was still trying to figure out exactly how close with Guan Xuemin this Lin Yi was That was a factor that directly affected the seriousness of the situation. The whole thing would blow over if they just knew each other A closer relationship, on the other hand, meant that Guan Xuemin, whether intentional or not, mightve made the dean look bad in front of Mister Qin

And out of nowhere, it turned out that Guan Xuemins granddaughter knew Lin Yi- it meant that Lin Yi was close with Guan Xuemins whole family!!

Guan Xin had finished up her work, and started walking around without really a purpose in mind, just wondering if shed get to bump into Lin Yi. She hadnt asked him which room he was in, too.

A sweet smile formed on her lips with a spark of joy when she heard Lin Yi call out to her. Lin Yi- I was just wondering if there was anything I could help you with.

Oh. Nothing now- I just took care of it. Lin Yi said as he eyed the dean.

Guan Xin wasnt quite sure how to continue the conversation when she saw a girl as pretty as her standing beside Lin Yi, disappointed. Is this your girlfriend?

No, no, Ive got nothing to do with him Lin Yi didnt even have a chance to speak when Tang Yin jumped out in self defense.

Oh. Guan Xin relaxed with a sigh. Lin Yi, give me your phone number- I still hadnt thanked you for last time yet. Ill treat you after work.

Lin Yi didnt mind- he told her his phone number, and Guan Xin dialed him up to get her phone number to Lin Yi as well. Tang Yin, on the other hand, was frowning- Had Lin Yi helped this girl before? She started regretting clarifying her relationship with Lin Yi that quickly What was the rush?

This dude was pretty lucky with the ladies, it seemed, bumping into a pretty nurse all of a sudden! Tang Yin continued moving, down-spirited as she quickened her steps.

Guan Xin was a bit older than Tang Yin, and more mature as well- she couldnt help but smile at Tang Yins reaction. I think your friends getting jealous. Ill be going then- call me when youre free.

Ah Lin Yi smiled at that. Yeah, keep in touch.

Guan Xin had only wanted to come see Lin Yi for a bit- she hadnt a clue what she was supposed to do after really bumping into him.

She sighed as she watched Lin Yi walking away with Tang Yin, wondering at the same time what she was even sighing for

In a high-class hospital room was Zhao Guangdong, who was peeling a mandarin orange for his boss. Hows the room, Chairman Zou? Not much different from a five-star hotel, right?

Yeah. Not bad, Guangdong- didnt think youd have connections in the hospital! Ive underestimated you. Chairman Zou said. Looks like Ill have to promote you!

Heh heh, its nothing, its nothing! Im just a social man, good with people, friends everywhere! They just give me face, thats all! Guangdong said with a laugh.

Thats right, Chairman Zou! My Guangdong has a lot of friends, if nothing else! The woman with heavy makeup chimed in. There was this idiot from earlier asking for a high-class hospital room the dean didnt so much as look at him! All my Guangdong had to do was bring his friend in, and heres the room!

Who are you calling an idiot? Xiaobo said angrily as he pushed the door open, his finger pointing at the woman.

Oh? Thats right, Im talking about you! Whatre you going to do about it, coming all the way here? Unhappy with how things turned out? Should we call security? Ill count to three- get out of our sights! The woman said, reaching for the button at the bed.

Thats right- the idiots are the ones getting out. You guys can leave now. Lin Yi said as he followed Xiaobo into the room. Hey, idiots- should we call security?

What is the meaning of this? Who are these people? Chairman Zou said a little unhappily as he looked at the intruders.

Chairman Zou, Ill get security right now! Guangdong wasnt a brave man, but he was a prideful one.

No need for that! This room is theirs now! The dean said with a sigh- these people werent joking around, barging in and spitting at the occupants like that There was no salvaging this mess now.

The dean had wanted to explain his situation to Guangdong beforehand, get them to leave nicely. There was no point to that now. Whatever happened, it was simply a certainty that he had to be on Lin Yi's side.

Hear that? Xiaobo's cocky levels started skyrocketing as he pointed at Zhao Guangdong. Get out the same way you got in!!

Xiaobo was quoting what Lin Yi had said, but he didn't care- there wasn't anything wrong with using the boss words. He thought it was a really powerful sentence.

Guangdong's face changed instantly upon hearing the dean's words- not paying any attention to Xiaobo, he tried to talk to the dean, to no avail.

They were in the hospital- the dean's territory. He wasn't influential enough to be standing on equal ground with the dean, too, and had to plead his case with a confused smile on his face. Mister Ma, hadn't we talked about this earlier?

They were the ones who came first- it's a simple rule. The dean was starting to get impatient- he didn't want to keep Lin Yi waiting. He waved a dismissive hand to Guangdong. Alright, you three pack up and move to a double room- I have everything arranged.

But, Mister Ma. For the sake of Doctor Xiaoliao. Our Chairman Zou is here, too. Guangdong didn't know why the dean had changed his mind all of a sudden, but he knew that the chairman wouldn't be pleased if he had to move out of the room like that, especially after all that boasting he just did.

Guangdong was trying to figure something out when Chairman Zou spoke up. Mister Ma, is it? I'm Zou Tiandi, chairman of Tiandi Industries, close friends with Director Sun of the Health Department.

Songshan's First Hospital was a municipal hospital, and it wasn't under the Department of Health. Yet the two were in the same category, and no one in the hospital wanted to cross those in the health department. After all, the director of the health department had to have connections in the Bureau of Health, definitely not someone you'd want to piss off for nothing.

But the dean didn't care anymore- he'd rather piss the director off than cross Guan Xuemin!!

Chapter 220 – Free Ride

Zou Tiandi's face darkened at the dean's silence. Few would dare cross me in Songshan- you're embarrassing me here, Mister Ma.

Chairman Zou. The dean was in a difficult position. Despite not having made the acquaintance of Zou Tiandi, he'd heard his name- he was quite well-known throughout Songshan. He'd started from humble beginnings, but had managed to start a large-scale KTV business, yielding him quite a couple of connections.

Enough with this nonsense- I've no intent on leaving this room, who's telling me otherwise? Tiandi would never just leave the hospital room like that- The room itself wasn't the most pressing of concerns anymore, his name in Songshan was at stake here.

He'd be made a laughing stock the next day should he comply to something like this.

Besides, he believed that logic was on his side- Zhao Guangdong had paid for the room officially, with a receipt and everything- where did these people come out of, kicking him out?

So youre not moving? Ill help you out then. Lin Yi said, not bothering to waste his words on the man- Fen was waiting for them! With that, he walked over and grabbed Tiandi by the collar before swinging him out the door, his feeding tube still attached to him. He flew through the air and landed heavily on the sitting bench outside the room, the tube still miraculously hanging off a clothes rack behind the bench.

Lin Yi was generous enough to have let the guy fall on the bench- he couldve thrown him under it if hed wanted to.

Tiandi hadnt thought much of Lin Yi as he walked over with his hands raised. Who did this guy think he was? Did he have a death wish attacking a person of his caliber like that?

He was already floating five feet off the floor when he opened his mouth, finding himself on the bench outside the next instant.

The dean, on the other hand, hadnt expected Lin Yi to be doing something this violent, throwing the guy right out without even bothering with words. He smiled bitterly at the development- at the very least, however, he neednt explain himself anymore.

Guangdong was in disbelief as well- who the hell was this guy? One wrong word and he threw you straight off the ground? But Guangdong didnt have quite the guts to stand up or say anything to Lin Yi. Being the cowardly type he was, Guangdong fled the hospital room to check on boss after hed flown out the room.

Chairman Zou, are you alright? Guangdong asked, his face pale as he reached his boss in the corridor.

Tiandi was fine. Hed been taken aback by what had happened, but who wouldnt be after getting thrown out like that? Especially when that person was as aged as Tiandi was. He felt as if his heart had almost fallen out.

Ill say this once, stay in the room if you dare. If not, get out in the next hour! Tiandi took a short breath, and continued to threaten the people in the room. If you do decide to stay, Ill make sure that you stay in that room for no longer than Bam! Lin Yi slammed the door shut before Tiandi could finish his rant.

You Tiandi was so pissed that hed lost his breath. Very well, you chose this yourself. Guangdong, call Ruoguang, tell him to bring his men! Tiandi instructed as he motioned Guangdong to call.

Of course, Chairman Zou. Although Zhao Guangdong had already thought about calling Ruogang, he was waiting for his boss to give the orders, as he didnt want to do anything that his boss didnt want done. Once Ruogang arrives, the people in that room would definitely be done for! Zhao Guangdong smirked as thought to himself.

Tang Yin usually didnt approve of violence, but this time was an exception and she snickered at what Lin Yi had done to Tiandi. Lin Yi had always been reckless, like the day hed smashed Zhang Biaogans barbeque stand.

Like what Lin Yi always said, Different people require different approaches. When dealing with a violent man, violence is always the answer.

Lin Yi, this man you just messed with he has some ties with some very powerful people you might want to be more careful with him next time. Ma advised as he was concerned about Lin Yi. He even suggested calling security.

Thanks Mister Ma, but I think Ill be fine. Although you might need to call a couple of paediatricians to come up soon. Lin Yi said confidently.

Huh? The dean was at a loss. But as he started to think about it, he wondered if Lin Yi was trying to imply that after Zou Tiandis men arrived, he would be so badly injured that he would need medical assistance from the paediatricians.

But why go through it at all? Why would he want to get beat up? Ma was even more confused. But since Lin Yi had said so, he had no choice but to agree and improvise.

Xiaobo, you and Miss Song will go and pick up Fen. Tang Yin and I will stay here in this room instructed Lin Yi. Zou Tiandis probably not going to leave without a fight. And if were going to face him, we might as well do it today.

Lin Yi was never afraid of a fight. The incident with Tiandi didnt seem to budge him a bit.

Kang Xiaobo was well aware of Lin Yis capabilities. He wasnt worried at all. He had this weird confidence in Lin Yi– no matter what Lin Yi did, he always thought his boss placed first at whatever it was he was doing.

On the other hand, Song Huiping didnt really know what to do. She knew from Kang Xiaobo that Lin Yi was an aggressive man, so whatever Lin Yi was doing, she didnt know how to help. Instead, she just spectated from a corner.

If it had been another time, she wouldnt have dared to mess with a figure like Zou Tiandi. But this time, Lin Yi was around. And she definitely wasnt going to stop Lin Yi from messing with Tiandi.

At this point, she could only follow Kang Xiaobos lead, and they both walked back to the original room where Fen was at.

As the two left, Tang Yin and Lin Yi were left alone in the room. When Lin Yi suggested that she would stay in the room with him, she didnt say anything, but she had an unnatural look that seemed to be against it. To be honest, we didnt have to change the room. All this hassle for a new room I dont think its worth it. Tang Yin said.

What hassle? Lin Yi questioned with a grin. That guy at the door, he couldnt even look me in the eye. If he wants a fight though, hell sure as hell get one.

Having heard that, Tang Yin couldnt help but burst into laughter. Why do you like to bluff so much? Even if you were a young master, hes still a pretty powerful figure.

Ha Lin Yi chuckled. When you know youre in control of someones life, a persons occupation or status doesnt seem to matter that much anymore.

Since Lin Yi's solo missions from the age of ten, he saw his targets as only targets, even though some of them happened to be billionaires or mafia gang leaders.

You and your retarded laughs Seeing that Lin Yi was not going to respond to her comment, she angrily turned her back towards him, giving him the cold shoulder.

Would you believe me if I told you I'm helping Fen because she's your friend? Tang Yin was pretending to be angry, and Lin Yi couldn't help but tease her a bit.
