

Chapter 2199: The ancient medicinal cauldron

“Oh? “This medicinal cauldron looks a little special ...” The heavenly silkworm transformation’s eyes brightened slightly as he took the medicinal cauldron and examined it carefully ... However, as he examined it, the heavenly silkworm transformation’s brows furrowed.”This medicinal cauldron is already damaged. What do you think, fifth uncle?”

“If the young sect Master says it’s damaged, then it’s naturally true.” The fifth elder took the medicinal cauldron from the heavenly silkworm transformation’s hand and carefully examined it for a long time. He returned it to zhentian you and said,””This cauldron is a good one. It should be a product from the ancient or even immemorial era, but it’s already cracked and damaged, so it can’t be used for alchemy ...”

“Then ... Can’t it be repaired ...” Zhentian you was disappointed after hearing the heavenly silkworm transformation and fifth elder’s evaluation.

“I can’t ...” The fifth elder shook his head and said,””The art of smithing has been lost, and that’s why our sky elixir sect can make grade one and two cauldrons, but can’t make grade three!”

“But even if it can’t be cast, can’t it be repaired?” You zhentian asked.

“Repairing, repairing isn’t any easier than forging!” The fifth elder said,”legend has it that forging requires a body with three attributes-metal, fire, and wood-to be able to learn it. As for repairing, one must have both metal and wood attributes at the same time ... The path of repairing weapons has been passed down in the world, but there is only the path of repairing weapons. There is no mental cultivation method to match it. Metal counters wood for the five elements. Ordinary mental cultivation methods can’t be cultivated at the same time! So, this medicinal cauldron of yours actually doesn’t have much value. If you want to talk about value, it can only be regarded as an ornamental item. ”

“So it’s like this ...” You zhentian felt a burst of heartache. He had spent a high price to buy this item from an antique collector. Because that person was a collector, he didn’t easily sell his collection. Therefore, in order to buy this medicinal cauldron, you zhentian had spent dozens of times the market price, as well as all the other costs. In the end, it was just an ornamental item, which made him regret it greatly.

If he had known earlier, he wouldn’t have spent so much money to buy it. You zhentian didn’t have a hobby of collecting antiques. Even if he did, wouldn’t he be stupid to buy antiques at this price? He’d had a good plan-he wanted to give it to the heavenly silkworm transformation to make a good impression on the house of you, but now it seemed that the sky elixir sect didn’t even want it!

“Zhentian you, I appreciate your kind intentions. You’ve been working hard for the sky elixir sect. I won’t mistreat you.” The heavenly silkworm transformation naturally understood you zhentian’s thoughts, but it comforted him indifferently.

“Thank you, young master Tian!” You zhentian was overjoyed when he heard the confirmation from the heavenly silkworm transformation.

“Alright, zhentian, you may leave.” Old master you was also a little disappointed. Although he had received a verbal affirmation from the heavenly silkworm transformation, this thing had never been taken seriously by others. The you family had bought a piece of junk at a high price, which made him a little depressed.

“Yes!” You zhentian turned around and retreated. As soon as he walked out of the secret room, his phone rang. He picked up the phone and glanced at it. He found that it was you Panhu calling, so he quickly picked up the phone, “Hello? Coiling Tiger, how is it? did you succeed?”

“Uncle, that Lin Yi seems to be on his guard this time. I offered him five second-grade pills, and they were all small Qi gathering pills, but he didn’t want them and just left ...” The right coiled Tiger smiled bitterly.

“Oh? What did he mean by that? Do you think that you have too little bargaining chips, or do you simply not want to exchange with you?” You zhentian asked.

“He really didn’t want to change, but since he showed it to others, he should be able to change it if I force him. When I mentioned the chips, he stopped and refused after listening to me ...” Right-hand Tiger said.

“If that’s the case, then it’s definitely because we didn’t offer enough chips!” “How about this?” you zhentian said after a moment of silence. “You can give him another Supreme-grade ancient medicinal cauldron and see if he wants to exchange it!”

“A Supreme grade ancient medicinal cauldron? Do we have such things in our house? Even if you do, you can’t give it to Lin Yi!” You Panhu said subconsciously after being stunned for a moment.

“Of course I do. Do you remember the medicinal cauldron I bought from an antique collector?” You zhentian raised the medicinal cauldron in his hand and said.

“Oh, I remember. But that medicinal cauldron, didn’t you say that it was to be presented to ... The person above our family?” You Panhu didn’t mention the name of the sky elixir sect directly. After all, he was in school, and it was better to avoid it.

“Al!” You zhentian sighed and said, “that cauldron is a good thing. However, the sky elixir sect can’t repair it. So, the cauldron is like a piece of trash. It can only be used as an ornamental item ...”

“It can’t be?” You Panhu pondered for a moment and said, “Sure, bring it over then. I’ll trick Lin Yi. That idiot doesn’t really know how to make pills, let alone have any knowledge. Maybe he thought he could fix it and get a bargain.”

“En, that’s what I meant! That Lin Yi, of course, doesn’t have the knowledge of the sky elixir sect. You can trick him into exchanging this cauldron for something useful to our house!” “The alchemist’s personal notes are more useful than this medicinal cauldron,” you zhentian said.

“I understand. How about this, uncle, take a picture of the cauldron and send it to me. Lin Yi’s the type of person who won’t do anything until he sees the opportunity. He might not believe me even if I tell him empty-handed,” You Panhu said.

“Alright, I’ll send it to you now!” You zhentian nodded and said.

Lin Yi and Jingjing walked into the classroom, and Jingjing only spoke up when she saw that Yu Panhu wasn't following them."Lin Yi bro, can't we give this back to you Panhu and get him something good?"

"Yes, but he gave us too little, and it's not very useful to us." "I already have three small Qi gathering pills," Lin Yi said."It's useless to have more. "

"Then, can we ask him for some ingredients to refine a second ranked pill?" "Although Jingjing's family is also in the business and has some connections with medicine, you can buy ordinary medicinal herbs. However, it's not easy to collect medicinal herbs for grade two pills ..." Han Jingjing said after some hesitation.

"Alright, what materials do you want? Make a list and I'll ask him for it!" Lin Yi said with a nod.

"Really? Lin Yi bro, you're so good to Jingjing!" Han Jing Jing was a little excited after hearing this. She had been worrying about finding the refining materials for a second-grade pill, and right Panhu had come to her door.

"You're learning alchemy for me, so it's only right that I help you get the materials. " Lin Yi felt a little guilty-why was han Jingjing grateful to him? (To be continued.)
