

Bodyguard 38

Chapter 38 – Need Me To Take My Pants Off?

Lin Yi tapped the gun against Baldys head. Dont move around now you guys, else Ill kill the hostage! Tell them, Baldy.

Guys... dont move around.. Baldy couldnt help but feel helpless- the kid was saying the same things he said to the police! Karmas a bitch!

Hm, not bad. Lin Yi nodded, pleased. You can start talking now, Im sure. Whos this Cihua Bro?

Its my boss. I dont know much else, Im just following orders, bro... Dont shoot Baldy didnt hesitate to put his pride away- now was not the time to be acting tough. After all, his life was on the line!

He accepted the job for a life of comfort in the first place- it wasnt worth it if that life was at stake.

Lin Yi frowned at Baldys answer, but he understood his position. The guy was just a grunt; he wouldnt know anything significant.

Fine. Just stop the car. Lin Yi ordered.

Stop the car? For what? Baldy asked, looking blankly at Lin Yi.

For us to get off, what else? What, youre still planning on kidnapping her? Lin Yi challenged as he gave his hostage a glare.

No, I mean Youre not sending us to the police..? Baldy was confused, not expecting Lin Yi to just let him go.

Why would I do that? Lin Yi asked with a roll of his eyes. Im not a cop- theyre not gonna give me a salary or anything.

Baldys heart lit up upon hearing Lin Yis words. So the guy hadnt planned on turning them in at all! Theyd fail the assignment, but that was fine- hed still get away alive and rich from all the money he took. With that, Baldy excitedly ordered for the car to stop.

Lin Yi then pulled out a gun from Baldys pocket, tossing it to Mengyao. Take this. Aim at their tires later.

...Okay Mengyao didnt know what Lin Yi was up to, but she took the gun regardless, holding it tightly in her soft hands.

Lin Yi let Mengyao get off before he did, making sure to issue a last warning to the group before exiting. You guys can choose to shoot us, but make sure I actually die- else Ill blow your oil tank up. Understand, Baldy?

No, no, we wont do anything like that Baldy said, a chill running down his spine. This Lin Yi person was not someone he wanted to mess with.

Lin Yi checked the jade as he got off the car- it wasnt reacting at all, and Lin Yi breathed out in relief. The robbers had chosen wisely.

Any change in the jade at all and Lin Yi wouldve spun back, to pull the boss down the car with him.

The SUV vanished in a line of smoke a moment Lin Yi slammed the door shut- they had decided to leave him and Mengyao alone.

What are you looking at me for? Maybe call Uncle Fu to come get us? Lin Yi didnt know if he should be pissed or amused at Mengyao- the girl was staring at him with a blank face on.

Okay. Mengyao couldnt believe it. They survived? She then took a look at the now faraway SUV- they survived! But what was this, why was Lin Yi talking to her with a condescending and even commanding tone?!

Hey, why didnt you take all their guns and have them sent to the police station? Mengyao hadnt let go of what Lin Yi said back in the car yet. Salary..? Couldnt he just do something good for once?

The car was full of cowards. Cowards, people who value their lives. They wouldnt try anything when their boss had a gun pointed at him, but taking their guns away? Theyd never let me do that. Theres no telling what theyd do as a last ditch effort. Lin Yi explained.

But you had their boss under your gun? Mengyao asked, not quite catching on.

You think theyll give a shit what happens to their boss at that point? Theyre all about to be sent to prison! Jeez, can you not be that naive? Lin Yi answered helplessly. We got lucky, okay? What kind of people did you piss off anyway, those guys were after you specifically, with a plan and everything!

Jeez! Stop your farting!! Mengyao was not pleased with Lin Yis attitude. Youre my follower! What kind of follower talks to his master like that?!

..... Lin Yi was speechless. This girl didnt listen to reason at all.

Yushu, on the other hand, was wiping her tears as she sat in Li Fus car. What would happen to Mengyao and Lin Yi, now that they were captured? They might be able to come back safe if they got lucky, but if not Li Fu was trying to contact the chairman, to no avail, when his phone rang. His face burst into worry and joy upon seeing the contact name.

It was Mengyaos phone, but it could be the robbers calling him with it, most likely asking for a ransom from the chairman. But news was news- better than nothing.

Hello? Li Fu made sure to speak with caution.

Uncle Fu, come pick me up Mengyao said, finding Li Fus voice to be sweeter than ever to her ears.

Li Fu arrived a moment later, with Song Lingshans entire team behind him.

Yao Yao!!! Yushu was the first to come charging out of the car, lunging at Mengyao for a tight hug. I thought Id never see you againnnn!!

You idiot! What were you thinking?! Mengyao had recovered from the shock already, and didnt know if she should be crying or laughing at what Yushu said.

Mister Lin, are you okay? Li Fu asked, concerned over the blood on Lin Yis leg.

Got hit by a bullet, no big deal. Lin Yi said as he limped over. It did hurt quite a bit.

Li Fu was fully impressed- no big deal? There was a bullet in the kids thigh! What a man he was!

Mister Lin, is it? Please come with us to the police station for a report. Song Lingshan said formally as she walked over to Lin Yi.

Lin Yi only frowned- was this chick blind? Couldnt she see all that blood on his leg? Lin Yi wasnt planning on replying nicely, that was for sure. Need me to take my pants off for you?
