

Bodyguard 93

Chapter 93 – Weird Dreamscape

Yao Yao, whats wrong? Yushu was startled- what happened? Why was Mengyao tearing up like that?

Its nothing Mengyao sighed softly. Shu, dyou think I crossed the line today?

Not at all! Yushu picked up something from Mengyaos words, and wondered if she was still hung up about the whole thing earlier. Was Yao Yao always so emotional like this?

Maybe not, I guess He doesnt care anyway Mengyao said, shaking her head.

Yao Yao Your test paper..? Yushu suddenly noticed the packed writing on the back of her friends test paper, a little surprised. Shield Guy wrote all this for you? Wow, hes really nice to you, isnt he?

No one would go to such lengths to squeeze in steps and explanations like that on someone elses paper, let alone to that detail; people were better off doing that for their own test papers. It wasnt a surprise then that Yushu would be shocked at Lin Yis actions, also understanding why Mengyao would even tear up upon seeing the gesture.

Mengyao left it at that, not saying anything else as she went back to her test paper. Yushu did the same soon afterward.

Mengyao wasnt expecting this level of detail from Lin Yi- it was even more thorough than the explanations the teacher had provided! The guy was so minute with everything that it took her by complete surprise- Mengyao even started to suspect who Lin Yi actually was!

Who was this guy, and where did her father find him? Shed thought that he was some farmer who came into the city for work, but there was no way a farmer could solve twelfth grade math problems to this extent, was there?

Mengyao was even more so surprised when she got to the last problem- didnt she answer it correctly? She was even feeling a bit smug as the teacher gave her explanation; there were a ton of her classmates that didnt even get it right! Mengyao couldnt help but feel some pride and satisfaction for her performance.

But Lin Yis suggested solution blew her mind- it was something shed never even seen before, a lot more straightforward and simple than the method shed employed!

Mengyaos heart swelled up with emotions- this was genuine care for her well-being. Lin Yi wasnt just throwing random stuff on her paper because her dad hired him! There was no reason whatsoever to go so far as to provide solutions from outside of school teachings just for her!

Shu Look at this one Mengyao sighed as she handed her test paper to Yushu.

Hm? Yushu assumed that Mengyao was having trouble with one of the questions and was asking for her help, but one look at the solution that Mengyao was pointing at and Yushus mouth gaped wide open. Seriously? Is Shield Guy this overpowered?? Hes good at both fighting and studying?! Yao Yao, you really got lucky this time!!

Lucky? Mengyao asked, not quite understanding what the girl meant.

You think its easy to come across a guy like this? Youd better make him yours soon, otherwise someone else will get him!! Yushu continued.

..... Mengyao only curled her lips in response. Him? Who would want him?!

Hehe Yushu laughed slyly. Plenty, Yao Yao. Just wait and see.

Lin Yi gave the last two ribs to the general after finishing dinner- hed wanted to make some noodles with those tomorrow, but Uncle Fu did say that hed take care of all three meals during the weekends The girls probably wouldnt wake up very early on a saturday, and there wasnt really a point for him to be making breakfast that early anyway.

He jumped in bed upon entering his room. A lot of things took place today, and hed even spent hours on Huaijuns medicine this afternoon He didnt feel like getting up after lying on the bed like that.

Skipping one day of training wouldnt hurt, would it? Lin Yi thought in hesitation. Hed never slept after getting out of that cave, replacing it with training every single night Luckily for him, the training fueled him with plenty of energy, completely replenishing him the way a ten hour sleep wouldve.

Lin Yi would never slack off back home, not when Old Lin was always staring at him. It was the same for when he went on missions, as well- he had to maintain a state of alert all the time, not even daring to properly go to bed.

A situation like this was a first- no old man staring at him, and no threat from a high-stakes mission. Lin Yi wanted to slack off!

Peace made people lazy, it seemed.

Lin Yi sighed. It really had been a long day, and he really didnt want to do any training A nice, healthy sleep would be real nice

His surroundings started to gradually darken as Lin Yi seemed to enter a void of black space

Lin Yi tensed up in alert instantly- where was he? Could he be dreaming?

As if sensing Lin Yis thoughts, the space brightened in an abrupt flash.

A human form then started to condense and appear in front of his eyes

Who.... are you? Lin Yi asked subconsciously.

It'd been years since hed experienced a dream, and Lin Yi didnt quite remember how it was supposed to feel like. Was he really dreaming tonight?

Im Jiao The human shape took the form of an elderly man, an aura of a seasoned master permeating from him. His voice was indifferent as he spoke.

Hah? Sex? (My family name is Jiao in chinese sounds like the word intercourse..) Lin Yi only looked at the old man, stunned. *Whats with this guy, sex? Hes lower than I am! Wait, Im in a dream, so its my fault? Is it because of all that p*rn I watch?*

Ugh The old man only blinked awkwardly in response. My family name is Jiao- people refer to me as Jiao Yazi. (Fang) (On a side note, Heibao means black panther)

Huh? Feet? (Jiao Yazi sounds like feet) Lin Yi didnt know how to react- what was up with his dream? Was it some sort of comedy?

Jiao Yazi didnt know what to say as well- itd been many years since someone called him by that nickname, and he didnt expect this kid to bring it back up again. He wasnt very happy about that. Its Jiao Yazi, not jiaoyazi! Dont disrespect me, kid!

Sorry, Elder Jiao I misheard Lin Yi apologized, feeling bad. Though, the guy was a dream character He didnt have to care at all, did he?

You must think youre in a dream right now. Jiao Yazi said with a cold laugh, as if reading Lin Yis mind.

Huh? Am I not? Lin Yi asked curiously, startled by the statement.

Why dont you give yourself a pinch, see if that hurts? Jiao Yazi said mockingly. Never imagined that my masters ancestors would seal a part of my image in the jade A fated ones finally come- though you do look pretty dumb.
