

BOOT CAMP 1081

Chapter 1081: Major Xia Appears

Ye Jian, who was walking, only remembered that she had been walking for twelve days. She didn't mind welcoming the Chinese New Year alone in the rainforest. She was trying her best to protect her own life as she was doing the outdoor inferno training alone without any reinforcement.

"I will maintain a clear mind and my vigilance. I will keep my body strong. Without them, I won't be able to repay the country. I will not disappoint my country and I won't ruin the reputation of my military unit."

"My goal is to complete this mission and complete my next mission alive!"

Every time her legs felt as heavy as steel, every time she got a low fever because she was bitten by bugs, every time she met wild beasts hunting for food and had to escape with all her might, Ye Jian would chant the pledges from the different Special Forces from the world. She would use these pledges and beliefs to force herself to move forward!

The first day of 1999 passed. The second day passed... until the third day. It was the third day of the Chinese New Year, at 2 pm. Ye Jian, who was completing her outdoor training alone, arrived at the final destination four hours ahead of the predicted time. This was her 15th day of outdoor training.

To make sure that she reached the final destination on time, Ye Jian split the six hours she used to clear up the drug dealers into six days. Every day, she would start her journey an hour ahead of the prearranged time so that she could catch up with her progress.

She reached the destination four hours ahead of the allocated time. She hugged her gun and leaned against a rock as she regulated her breathing. The fifteen days spent in the rainforest didn't tire her out but when she was finally able to relax and let down her guard, tiredness and exhaustion crept up her heart. Her eyes became so heavy it felt as though rocks were hanging on them.

"She's indeed tired. Let her have some rest." Looking at the exhausted figure not far away from him, Xia Jinyuan's gaze turned gentle. It was like the warm sunlight, protecting her silently.

The small and skinny girl had grown up into a qualified Special Forces soldier. She was walking on the path to becoming the most outstanding person she could be. He felt a little heartache when he saw how tired she was but he felt relieved too.

At 18 years old, Ye Jian used her ability to prove to the military that she could definitely become the rarest breed among the soldiers, a Special Forces soldier.

She needed to show the military that there was still endless potential in her waiting to be developed!

The sun was very warm. It shone on her body and warmed her body up. It was indeed easy for her to fall asleep. Uncle Chen felt that he could let Jian have some rest. There were still four hours before the mission ended. She could rest for four hours.

“Alright. She came back four hours ahead of time and helped our comrades to complete their mission. Jian is indeed tired. She’s the only female soldier who could do this!”

Uncle Chen’s gaze was amiable. As an elder, he was encouraging the younger generation. He was using his own method to groom Ye Jian.

Without Uncle Gen or Uncle Chen, Ye Jian wouldn’t be who she was today. Without these two elders to enlighten her, Ye Jian wouldn’t be able to walk on the military path even if she solved the issue that changed her life during eighth grade.

Xia Jinyuan respected Uncle Chen greatly.

“Uncle Chen, leave this to me. The major general is in front. You can discuss the details of Ye Jian entering the military ahead of time with him. I have a suggestion too. Maybe you can ask for some resources from the major general. For instance, the delegation of the students from the military school to the military units during the summer and winter vacation. Will he be able to arrange them for Ye Jian?”

“She has not come into contact with airborne landing, diving, and armored carriers. If she is able to learn these skills that are necessary for Special Forces soldiers in the military school, she would have a smoother career path after she graduates.”

“Experience in mountain warfare, jungle warfare, desert warfare, guerrilla warfare, counter- terrorism warfare, and snow warfare can be gained after she graduates. However, she needs to learn and be skilled in her techniques in school.”

Chapter 1082: Present-Age Ace Soldier

Uncle Chen couldn’t help but smile as he faced this young major who kept thinking for Ye Jian. “Major Xia, aren’t you worried that everything will be a wild goose chase after you groom Ye Jian to become such an outstanding person?”

He groomed Ye Jian in an all-rounded manner. You could tell how much effort he put in.

“Don’t you believe in Ye Jian? Or do you not believe me?” Xia Jinyuan gave an elegant smile. He stood in the warm sunlight. The jungle camouflage uniform he was wearing gave him a composed and calm aura. “No matter when, it will never be a wild goose chase.”

Uncle Chen always had the patience to discuss Ye Jian’s matter with him. Looking at the confidence on Xia Jinyuan’s face, he felt relieved. However, his words were entirely different. “What do you mean? Ye Jian is famous in her school. After she enters the military school, I’m sure there will be many suitors after her.”

“Uncle Chen, you’re wrong.” As a Special Forces soldier, Xia Jinyuan spoke in an appropriate and big-hearted manner as he faced this elder of Ye Jian who kept reminding him in different ways to treat her sincerely. “The more outstanding Ye Jian becomes, the higher her expectation of men. Thus, she will get pickier naturally.”

“Normal soldiers will not be able to catch her attention. This way, some of her admirers will flinch. As for those she lays her eyes on, she will need to group them into the outstanding ones and the elites.”

“Ye Jian will grow into an elite. There will be a distance between her and the outstanding soldiers. Uncle Chen, do you think that there will still be many people chasing her in the end?”

“There aren’t many elite special forces soldiers like Ye Jian who will be able to fight with her.” Xia Jinyuan smiled. His smile was elegant, handsome, and more mature now. His gaze was proud as he continued, “No matter how many elites there are beside Ye Jian, I will be the most outstanding soldier in her heart.”

“Someone who is compatible with her and can fight with her. A good man that will live and die with her.”

Uncle Chen couldn’t help but laugh. “Ye Jian has good eyes. I believe that you will become a comrade who can go through life and death with her.” He glanced at the lean and small figure. “I will have a chat with the major general. I feel at ease with you around.”

Chinese New Year was a time for family gatherings for normal people. However, to some soldiers on the frontline, this was the start of their training.

The armored force finished their military exercise and was resting on the grasslands in this forest. Ye Jian just needed to walk over a small hill and she would be able to see rows and rows of armored trucks resting.

Ye Jian knew that she had entered a military restricted zone so she was able to let down her guard completely and get some sleep.

At first, she just wanted to replenish some sleep and some stamina. However, after she fell asleep... she slept for a long time.

On the other side, the major general finally saw the world-class sniper who groomed Ye Jian ever since she was around 13 years old. He took a look and felt for some reason... he looked a little familiar. He seemed to have seen him somewhere before.

The major general was 54 years old and Uncle Chen was 47 years old. There was only a seven-year age gap between them. If he really saw Uncle Chen somewhere, he would definitely remember him.

After Uncle Chen walked closer, the major general suddenly went forward with huge strides. As he walked, he sized up Uncle Chen. He knew who this person was!

It was Chen Dongfeng, the ace soldier in the 1970s. He was a legend in the military in the 1970s. He was the god of war at that time!

Chapter 1083: You Make Me Proud

“I didn’t expect to see you after 18 years!” The major general felt emotional as he looked at the legendary ace soldier of the 1970s. “That year, I went down to the camps with the old chief. Your regimental commander reported his work and immediately introduced you to the old chief after that.”

“Old Chen, I still remember your superior marksmanship clearly! No wonder I felt that Ye Jian’s way of holding her gun seemed familiar. When I first saw that girl, I knew that she had great potential. I didn’t know that you were the one who groomed a talent like her!”

Uncle Chen... didn’t have much impression of this major general. In the past, he saw too many people. When he reached middle-age, he wasn’t willing to recall the past anymore. Occasionally, when he had a dream, he would dream that he was walking in a bloody mist. If Jian didn’t appear in his life, the dream would have continued.

When he took a break and started to relax, he would naturally think of the past. He put all his mind into grooming Jian. He felt as though he had returned to the battlefield and returned to his era. Rather than saying he groomed Jian, it was more accurate to say that Jian allowed the rest of his life to become more complete.

The major general knew that this 1970s ace soldier didn’t recognize him but it didn’t matter. He knew Uncle Chen, that was the most important thing. “Let’s have a seat in the tent.” Even though the major general was in a high position now, he didn’t know why Principal Chen retired from the military in the past.

Uncle Chen didn’t reject him. He didn’t expect this major general, who might become Ye Jian’s superior in the future, to know him.

The people in the commander tent chatted happily. Outside the tent, the sunlight was still warm. Ye Jian opened her eyes comfortably. Suddenly, she turned around and stared straight at the figure standing against the sunlight.

Captain Xia! Why was he here?

She was always shocked every time she saw him. He always appeared in impossible places. How could she not feel shocked?

“You slept for two and a half hours. You must be really tired.” When she woke up, Xia Jinyuan smiled and walked over. His gaze turned into a ray of warm light. Along with the faint sunlight, it landed on Ye Jian. He carefully and gently touched her face. 15 days of inferno outdoor survival training... She really pushed through on her own.

She completed a challenge that even male soldiers had to mentally prepare themselves for a long time before taking on. Also... she completed her mission ahead of time.

Ye Jian squinted slightly. The sun was a little bright. It shone on the leaves in the valley and occasional diamond-like bright shimmers could be seen. The grassland was bright too. There seemed to be tiny broken shards of lights sprinkled on the grasses. Xia Jinyuan walked against the sunlight as he moved towards her. Every step he took landed on the shimmers. He seemed to be bringing his splendor with him like a God.

“Captain Xia.” Ye Jian smiled. She was very happy to see him. She was happy to see Xia Jinyuan who was wearing a camouflage uniform like her. She saw his mighty aura like a king who came back victorious from war. He must have experienced sacrifices and must have seen his comrades collapsing.

He had seen it and experienced it. Yet, he continued standing tall.

He was always her role model and her goal!

When he saw her smile, Xia Jinyuan felt his heart drop a little. She was smiling but the tiredness in her eyes was apparent. There were dark circles under her eyes too.

The after-effects of the outdoor survival training had appeared on Ye Jian!

He lifted his hand and patted her shoulder lightly. “You did great, Ye Jian! You are the best soldier I have seen in this current era!”

My little fox, I will feel proud for my entire life with you by my side.

You make me proud. At the same time, I promise that I will make you proud too!

Chapter 1084: I’m Always By Your Side

“Honestly, it’s better to have a partner when you’re doing such survival missions. If you walk alone, you will feel that you’re the only person left in this entire world. Sometimes, you need to put in a lot of effort to suppress these negative thoughts.”

When she saw him, Ye Jian couldn’t control herself and started telling him about her experience during the past 15 days of survival training. Xia Jinyuan didn’t interrupt her. He wore a gentle smile on his handsome face and listened quietly to every single sentence she said.

15 days of outdoor survival training alone. It wasn’t just a test of her physique. It was a test of her mentality too.

She had been suppressing her emotions for too long so she needed to let them out. She needed to relieve her negativity and stress through the conversation.

Remove the bad and keep the good. This would allow her to achieve the results of psychological training.

She has just started the foundation of psychological training. In the future, more cruel training would occur. For instance, she needed to go through fleeing and resistance training. This would include escaping, camouflage techniques, and resistance when you get captured.

Xia Jinyuan’s gaze was warmer than the sunlight. It was so gentle Ye Jian was able to open her heart completely and tell him the entire psychological process she went through these 15 days.

Little Fox, the outdoor inferno survival training was a fundamental psychological training that every Special Forces soldier had to go through. This was to prepare them for the cruel psychological training in the future.

Motivation, responsibility, maturity, and stability. Team spirit, intelligence, the adaptability of your body, trustworthiness, how high your mental resistance was, and how powerful your escaping ability was... Ye Jian had to experience everything.

"Sometimes, when I sat down, I didn't dare to think too much. I was afraid that I would really get lost in the forest. When I sat down, I would start memorizing all the different pledges and beliefs of the various Special Forces from around the world." When she talked about this, Ye Jian smiled. There was a sly look in her black eyes as she continued, "Unexpectedly, it was quite useful!"

"These pledges and beliefs are the greatest weapons for Special Forces soldiers when they are trying to resist negative thoughts. It also helped me when I recited it. However, what I thought was, if the Special Forces soldiers of other countries were able to do it, how can the Chinese Special Forces be weaker than them? I must be able to do it! There are no whys!"

Xia Jinyuan held her hand. The combat gloves were worn out. Her survival training was five days longer than a male soldier and she completed it all alone. This was enough to shock the military.

"You did great. You also finished your psychological construction normally. Ye Jian, everyone can see how amazing you are." At this moment, Xia Jinyuan didn't point out her insufficiency. This wasn't the time for it. He needed to let her say her thoughts out first.

Now, there was only a record of Ye Jian's training in the military unit. There was no detailed record of her performance. Once she entered the military school, all her training would be systematically recorded. For some important training, even her facial expressions and actions would be recorded clearly.

He was certain that she would be able to qualify for her physique, wrestling, shooting, endurance, perseverance, and disguise skills. The most important aspect was her psychological training. In the future, he would suggest Uncle Chen to strengthen Ye Jian's psychological training.

Ye Jian tilted her head and looked at the familiar handsome face that gave her a sense of security. She touched her lips and smiled as she said, "I have not spoken to anyone for almost ten days. I'm really happy to see you, really. I originally felt that I had nothing to say but now, after seeing Captain Xia, I told you everything unconsciously. I went a little out of control."

Chapter 1085: Ace Soldier, How Strong Are You

"I'm really very happy that you're chatting with me. Listen, Ye Jian, what you experienced is psychological training. We call it 'The Survival of a Lone Ranger'."

"Considering that this is your first outdoor survival training, we chose the winter season. Next year, we will train you during the summer season. The purpose is to let you pass through deep mountains and dense forests, swarms, and many other hostile environments. It will help you to develop the psychological qualities a Special Forces soldier should have."

"The first year I entered the military school, I skipped the basic training and went directly into inferno training for the entire three and a half years. Ye Jian, this is just the start for you!"

The gloomy expression on her face was gone. Her smile was so bright it slammed into his heart directly. At a suitable time, Xia Jinyuan mentioned what kind of training she would have in the future.

It allowed Ye Jian to understand that the training she went through recently was just at the beginner level!

After hearing Xia Jinyuan saying that he skipped the fundamental training in his first year at the military school and went through three and a half years of inferno training, Ye Jian couldn't help but gasp.

No wonder, no wonder he was so amazing at 20 years old. No wonder he became a major directly after he graduated. No wonder... he said that he was working hard when she was working hard.

No wonder he gave her a meaningful smile when she said that he was her goal. He had actually gone so far and so fast!

"I have gone through four outdoor psychological strengthening training. Once, it was during Summer and I went deep into the mountains for training. There were all kinds of poisonous snakes and fierce beasts. Once, I went to an empty desert for training and almost got a heatstroke because of the scorching sun and fiery heat. Another time, I went to a world of snow and ice. It was so cold my hands and legs felt like ice sticks. The last time, I went for captivity training. Each training lasted for five days and nights. I can only end if I pass everything."

Ye Jian's expression turned serious. At the same time, she was curious. "Your training lasted for five days and nights. Why is mine 15 days?"

She was right on point.

"The fundamental training for male soldiers lasts for ten days. Your training is five days more than them. It's the same as soldiers in my military unit. Every one of us did it for 15 days." He was hinting Ye Jian about his plans.

Ye Jian's eyes shimmered slightly. She seemed to have understood something.

"It's good that you understand what I'm saying. This is what I plan to do. We still need to see what the military thinks." He winked at Ye Jian slightly. This iron-willed and gentle handsome Special Forces soldier appeared like a child suddenly. He leaned his thin lips close to her ear and smiled. "Secret. This is our secret. You can't tell anyone."

Ye Jian wasn't expecting this so she allowed him to get close to her. His breath floated past her ears. It felt itchy. She tilted her head unnaturally and said, "I'm kind of anticipating it!"

"I'm anticipating it too. You already have some real combat experience with us. Your psychological stability is quite outstanding. However, you started by having real combat experience so you lack fundamental training. Hence, when you see your comrades sacrificing, you will naturally become emotional."

She kept talking about her thoughts during the 15 days of training but she never talked about her fight with the drug dealers. He found out from Xu Yu that one of the sacrificed soldiers had some interactions with Ye Jian. She even sent the sacrificed soldier off with the last bullet in her sniper rifle. His heart dropped when he heard this.

During the past combats, Little Fox had never seen any of her comrades sacrificed! This was an important thing. By right, he shouldn't be here but he quickly sent a request and rushed to her immediately when his request to leave was accepted.

Based on his understanding, she would keep this matter inside her and not say anything.

This was what he was afraid of!

Chapter 1086: Another Kind Of Love You Don't Know About

No matter how high or strong her psychological quality was, when she had to face the fact that her comrades were sacrificed in the same battle, the stimulation wasn't just a single blow. It was multiple stimulations!

In the military unit, after every battle, there would be psychologists talking to the soldiers that went on the battlefield right after everything ended. This was to prevent them from getting any irrecoverable trauma.

Ye Jian had participated in many actual combats but she had never seen any of her comrades sacrificing before. If she didn't mention anything about it today, Xia Jinyuan wouldn't feel at ease. Instead, he would be even more worried.

Now, he mentioned her comrade's sacrifice when the gloominess in her eyes started fading. This was to stop her from holding back so that she was able to use her healthiest and strongest side, to use her willpower to overcome the stimulations the sacrifice her comrade gave her.

She mustn't leave any trauma behind. She must face them directly!

Xia Jinyuan's gaze landed on Ye Jian's face like the warm sunlight after the snow melted. When he mentioned her comrades' sacrifices, there weren't any changes in the gentle expression of his handsome face.

However, the faint sternness in his voice immediately caused Ye Jian to remember the bloody memory that she didn't want to recall.

Her pupils constricted as she pursed her lips tightly. She looked straight at the man who didn't allow her to evade his gaze. After some time, she gave a bitter smile and said, "Captain Xia, I need some time. Someone I know was still talking to me shyly in the morning but in the afternoon, he was dead."

"I always thought that since I have participated in actual combat before, I will be able to face death directly. I'm indifferent about my own death too. However, when I saw a comrade of mine collapsing in front of me, I felt..." Ye Jian stopped slowly and let out a long sigh. Then, she continued softly, "The feeling is hard to explain. It's painful, frustrating, saddening... All the emotions piled up so I have no idea how to explain it."

"I also want to say it but the more I want to talk about it, the more I don't know where to begin. I understand that once I wear the military uniform, there will be sacrifices everywhere. The next one might be you. Captain Xia, I understand everything but I'm still sad."

Xia Jinyuan placed his hands on her shoulders and said in a cold and low voice that was hard to reject, "Look at me, Ye Jian. Raise your head and look at me with your eyes. Look at me properly and listen to me carefully."

There was a very soft corner in her heart. This corner belongs to her comrades. Ye Jian wasn't afraid of sacrificing but she couldn't bear to see her comrades sacrificing.

"What is the meaning behind sacrifices? It's to protect something. We are using our lives to protect our country and the peace of our nation. You saw him sacrificing but you must remember why there are sacrifices! That is because there's evil in the world!"

"This world is full of evil. There are too many wars and harm caused to the people. Our presence is to use our lives to erase the evil that's harming our nation! If I'm sacrificed one day, Ye Jian, every single bullet from the gun in your hand that hits the evil is the best tribute to these martyrs!"

"You are sad over the sacrifice of your comrades not because you're not strong enough. You're a human, someone with your own thoughts and emotions. You will feel angry, sad, you will cry, lament. We are born with all these emotions. We can't erase them completely."

Chapter 1087: I Am Proud Of You

"However, you need to change your way of resolving these emotions that will affect our judgment!"

"Anger can become encouragement, sadness can become motivation, tears can become fearlessness, and sorrow can become courage! If you link them together, you can understand that all the sacrifices are to stir our motivation so that we can pass down the fearlessness and courage of our martyrs. We will use the guns in our hands to continue protecting our country! This is your best tribute to the martyrs!"

"You can only choose to face these cruel truths! You must face them seriously! Let me say it once again. Ye Jian, if one day, I sacrificed or you sacrificed, every single bullet from the gun in your hand that hits the evil is the best tribute to these martyrs!"

When she heard his words, it felt like a powerful bomb exploding in her heart. The impact pressed her spirit down forcefully and turned it into small broken pieces. Then, it got pieced back together by his cold voice again, pieced back together into a complete Ye Jian that was reborn from the fires.

The best tribute to the martyrs was to use the gun in their hands to shoot all the evils! This was the best tribute!

Ye Jian took a deep breath. She was a smart person and her ability to understand was strong. She had also experienced many difficulties before so she had a strong mentality. After Xia Jinyuan woke her up, she quickly walked out of the bloody memory that she didn't want to recall.

“During normal times, you won’t need me to persuade you. The fifteen days of the outdoor survival training was already a challenge to the mental and physical state of a person. When you walked through the rainforest alone, you would feel that you were the only person in this world. This is enough to affect your mentality to a certain degree.”

“When you saw one of your comrades sacrificed, it might be hard for you to accept this temporarily. It’s very normal.”

“We have experienced sacrifices before too. Once, we went out with ten people and came back with only nine. I locked myself up in my room for two days without coming out. G3 went to the training area and continued torturing himself for 24 hours until he collapsed on the ground, exhausted. J5 recited the military rules for an entire day while Han Zheng hung himself on the tree. In the end, the entire military unit was alerted because they thought that he was taken away by the tigers in the mountain.”

“All of us have emotions. However, we have already passed the age of getting psychologists to guide us so we had to take care of our emotions ourselves. Two days later, after we stabilized our emotions, we came out fine again.”

Ye Jian’s performance was already not bad. She didn’t appear frightened and timid in front of sacrifices. These emotions were taboo for Special Forces soldiers. She was just dejected and sad... These were normal emotions when your comrades died. Her performance was already not bad.

“Captain Xia, you really understand me. After listening to what you said, I feel much better.” In the end, Ye Jian cleared the layer of dust on her spirit and the gloominess on her face disappeared entirely. She lifted her head slightly and looked at the tall and towering soldier in front of her. There was a slight smile at the edge of her lips. “At the same time, you allowed me to see how strong the goal I’m chasing is once again.”

“Thank you, Captain Xia. Thank you for always appearing in front of me and solving these difficult problems that I can’t solve temporarily!”

Xia Jinyuan smiled gradually when he noticed that she had surpassed herself once again. He leaned over and gave her a warm kiss on her forehead. “Ye Jian, I’m proud of you! You are the most powerful soldier in my heart! I’m really proud of you!”

Chapter 1088: Legends Needs Grooming Too

Xia Jinyuan never just praised Ye Jian. His praises were a form of education too. Sometimes, he would mix sharp comments inside.

When the warm lips moved away from her forehead, Ye Jian looked at him intently. She waited for her to criticize her insufficiencies during her outdoor training. She was very willing to listen to his criticism.

Xia Jinyuan had said everything he should. If she still had things on her mind, she needed to rely on herself to straighten them out.

You didn't need someone to find a breakthrough for you for everything. There wouldn't be someone helping you to straighten out every single one of your emotional barriers. He only rushed here immediately because this was the first time someone she knew sacrificed.

This was the only time. There wouldn't be a second time.

He noticed her little stern face as if she was waiting for him to say something. He smiled and said, "Let's go and have a rest below. An armored force just completed their winter training. The major general is here too. He knew that you're having your outdoor training so he specially waited for you to come back. He has things he wants to ask you personally."

He didn't say anything additional. He walked out with huge steps and went towards the direction of the resting area.

"Hurry and catch up. The fifteen days of survival training has ended and there are so many days of break. You can stay in the armored force and learn new knowledge. The survival training will stop for this period of time."

The low and handsome voice floated over along with the breeze in the mountain. Ye Jian ran over with small steps. Her bright and clear eyes shone brightly under the sunlight like black obsidian shimmering. "The armored forces? How many armored vehicles are there? How long will they be staying here? How will I join the armored forces? Will the major general agree?"

Using the gun in her hand to make a tribute to the martyr with every single bullet. She felt that she would always use this method to remember the courageous heroes that sacrificed for this country fearlessly.

She took a deep breath and Ye Jian buried the bloody memory in the depths of her mind. She will use this memory to remind herself that one day when she wears her military uniform, she must remain brave even if blood stained her military uniform.

The meaning of sacrifice is the passing down of a legacy. Their ancestors used their bravery and fearlessness to tell people that soldiers weren't afraid of sacrifices and they shouldn't be afraid of sacrifices. They should face it with courage and fight for their country. They must fight for their people!

In front of her questions, Xia Jinyuan, who was wearing a jungle camouflage uniform, turned his head. The handsome face under the QGF02 aramid helmet suddenly revealed an enchanting and mesmerizing smile without any warning. His sexy and thin lips lifted at a sexy angle. "You will have answers to all your problems later. However, you still need to work hard."

"The major general admires you. Little Fox, whether you are able to learn with the armored force depends on how you convince the major general."

You need to fight for your own chances. He won't be staying here for long. He needs to leave on a plane at 3.30 pm today.

After confirming that she was safe and that she had listened to what he said, she just had to rely on herself in the future.

Ye Jian's footsteps got lighter. After she walked past a small upslope, the scene in front of her stunned her.

The armored forces had frightening killing power, attacking power, and damaging power on the battlefield. They are able to strike a few times within a single round too! This unit made up of armored vehicles and armored soldiers was a unit that was able to represent the strength of the army.

The tanks, infantry fighting vehicles, reconnaissance vehicles, and armoured personnel carriers... All kinds of armored vehicles were parked in an orderly manner. The scene was so astonishing it made people lose their breath.

Chapter 1089: Collaboration of the Strongest

"What do you think? Do you have the impulse to understand them?" Xia Jinyuan noticed that she stopped in her tracks and was staring at the rows of armored vehicles intently. Her eyes were shining as brightly as the light. He couldn't help but pinch her cheeks. "The armored forces are on the first line of combat. Go and take a look inside the tank, infantry fighting vehicles, and reconnaissance vehicles. It will be beneficial for you."

Another year had passed. Ye Jian was growing and the young Major Xia was becoming more and more mature too. The elegance within his actions was no longer as oppressive as before. He had become more reserved and deep.

The deep and black gaze that was filled with killing intent during combat had an invisible tinge of dignity when he looked at other people. There was also a depth in it that was hard to understand. It was deep and dark. Sometimes, it was kind, and sometimes, it was distant.

This gaze, which was hard to understand, turned simple, and easy to read when he was looking at Ye Jian. Ye Jian was able to look through him easily. He used the emotions in his eyes to tell her that he supported her as always.

"I will try!" Ye Jian nodded and winked playfully. The smile at the corner of her eyes became bright and cheerful. "Since you have already reminded me, how can I miss this good chance?"

Xia Jinyuan nodded too. "Clever girl. If we don't have a chance, we will create it. Now that there's an opportunity, how can we miss it? I support you in convincing the major general to let you stay in the armored forces for a week!"

The two of them exchanged glances and smiled at each other. In their smiles, they were able to understand each other.

The collaboration between the strongest was able to turn everything difficult easy.

The major general and Uncle Chen were having a good conversation. "You groomed her to become really outstanding. Our military needs an outstanding soldier like her. She's only 18 years old. We hope that she will be able to enter the military school as soon as possible and take part in actual combat."

“Let me give you an idea first. Ye Jian has amazing memory skills so our military unit plans to groom her into an all-rounded soldier. As long as she can enter the military school this year, we will recruit her into the military unit after the results come out. Then, we will start on the standard training.”

“Your four-year plan is planned really well. The military can jump past much fundamental training when they are grooming Ye Jian. After I go back this time, I will come up with a more thorough and upgraded training plan. At that time, I will share this plan with you and you can take a look at it.”

The ace soldier of the 1970s, an ace soldier who spoke with his ability. His opinion was very important!

Uncle Chen knew that the military had been keeping a watch over Ye Jian but he didn't know that they placed so much importance on her! They even made a special training plan for her! Did anyone else have such special attention?

Besides Jian, there was probably no other person.

“The military has such high hopes for Ye Jian because she worked hard for her achievements. I have already taught her everything I can. My past is history now. I'm outdated in all aspects.”

“This is the digital era. Informative and high-tech warfare is the current combat mode. My combat style is outdated. It can't keep up with the changes in our country's military combat. After I finish the remaining half a year of training, I will pass Ye Jian to the military without any worry. The military unit will train her to greater heights.”

Uncle Chen was speaking the truth. High technology weapons weren't something he could understand. Ye Jian would only be able to learn more if she entered the military unit.

After what the major general said, Uncle Chen felt more at ease. The little girl groomed by Uncle Gen and him was finally able to leave them and spread her wings to soar to greater heights!

Chapter 1090: Two Foxes, One Big, One Small

However, the major general denied it and said earnestly, “Without you, I can confidently say that Ye Jian wouldn't be who she is today. It is a tragedy if a talented person never found someone that recognizes his potential. On the other hand, it is a happy occasion if a talent meets his guide. You recognized Ye Jian's potential and used your unique method to groom her such that she is only a step away from becoming a Special Forces soldier. Old Chen, you are the model of all the generals!”

The guard outside the tent shouted, “Report!” The major general asked him to come in. Then, he saw two figures walking side by side.

The man was tall and elegant. The lady was slender and beautiful. She was wearing the jungle camouflage uniform. One represented the male soldiers while the other represented the female soldiers. They were both able to be the mascots used to promote the image of the military.

“Come, come, come. Have a seat.” The major general, who was sitting down, stood up when he saw Ye Jian. He welcomed her personally. “You look quite energetic. 15 days of survival training alone. Ye Jian, good job!”

Uncle Chen was looking at Ye Jian with an amiable gaze. His smile was filled with pride.

The little girl had finally grown up. She had the elegance of a lady and the aura of a soldier.

Her back was straight and her expression was confident and humble. When she spoke with the major, she was calm and upright... She had really grown up. She was an adult now.

The atmosphere in the commander tent was harmonious. Occasional laughter could be heard. The major general gave an objective evaluation of Ye Jian's performance during her survival training. Then, he said, "Based on your current performance, you have met the requirements for the entire training. You overcame your mental fears alone and even helped the border guards to complete their mission successfully. The military is extremely satisfied with your performance. At the same time, we hope that you will continue working hard so that you won't disappoint the effort Old Chen put in you."

Ye Jian remained calm and composed in front of her superior's compliment. She showed no signs of proudness at all. She felt that everything she did were things she should do. There was nothing to be proud of.

"Major general, speaking of this, there's another opportunity that can allow Ye Jian to learn even more. I'm just not sure about your opinion." A man that was very good at finding the appropriate time to give the appropriate suggestion raised this topic very naturally. Major Xia turned and looked at Ye Jian with a serious expression. "Why don't you ask the major general?"

Ye Jian was still wondering how she should bring the topic up. When he opened his mouth, she immediately put on an earnest expression and asked seriously, "Major general, I coincidentally have a week of holiday. Just now, when I saw the armored vehicles, I was wondering if I can stay in the military unit to understand the combat abilities of these self-propelled artilleries?"

After she voiced out her opinion, Uncle Chen looked at the major general quietly. This was a good idea! He was thinking about it too.

"Did Major Xia give you this idea or did you think about it yourself?" The major general didn't agree immediately. Instead, he gave a meaningful smile to the young major who was acting seriously. After that, he smiled and asked Ye Jian, "Why do I have the feeling that you discussed it with him just now?"

"We did discuss it."

Two voices sounded at the same time. One was Xia Jinyuan and the other was Ye Jian. Both of them replied in unison with loud voices.

The major general tapped his fingers in front of both of them. "This is a bold idea but it is practical. One week is fine. You might not be able to learn much but you can understand some things."

He allowed Ye Jian to stay behind with one sentence. There was no need to say anything else. Xia Jinyuan heaved a sigh of relief. “Major general, you should at least reject us first before agreeing. You agreed so quickly that I don’t even have the chance to perform!”
