

BOOT CAMP 1121

Chapter 1121: Special Forces Don't Brag

It was normal to not have noticed the scout. Ye Jian was capable, but the army was not weak either. That was why Xia Jinyuan wanted her to keep training and improve her combat skills.

With every successfully completed training, it does not always mean that you are already outstanding. It just meant that deeper and more dangerous problems have not surfaced!

The scouts of the Southern Military District were well-known throughout the military. Although the scout missed the opportunity to see Ye Jian directly, he immediately put away his binoculars and whooshed down the trees when he saw the leaves swaying abnormally.

At 11.30 am, the sun began to shine, and soldiers of Team A were camouflaged in the leaves and behind the vines. They stood there quietly, waiting for their prey, waiting for the female soldier that they needed to hunt down.

The scout ran towards his camouflaged captain and whispered, "Captain, the female soldier may have discovered our tracks. I saw the leaves shaking at a distance of five hundred meters away, but I could not see her figure."

"You didn't see her?" The captain showed a hint of surprise on his face. Sometimes even the large military units were unable to gain an advantage over these scouts. This time, they only managed to see a shadow?

"I didn't see any figures at all. When I noticed, only the leaves were moving. There wasn't any wind blowing, otherwise, I would have thought that it was just a breeze." The scout reported truthfully. "We have to withdraw, we shouldn't stay long."

They had to withdraw. Their target had already found them long ago. They could only be the ones who found the female soldier, how could they be discovered by her?

"Contact Team B and find out where they are!" After gathering, Team A's captain immediately asked a soldier to contact Team B. She was being chased, and there's an ambush in front of her. Fourteen to one, it can't be possible that she could escape from their grasp in three days.

Team B was not much better off than Team A. After all, Ye Jian has trained for four years. Although she has no military experience, she was still better than the few soldiers who only joined the army two or three years ago.

The soldiers sent by the military district were not weak. Neither was Ye Jian. It took a long time for Team B to find two places with Ye Jian's traces that were smoothed out.

"We shouldn't be too far away from you. The female soldier that we are chasing is not your average soldier. Old Ding, you have to be careful, we only found two traces of her on our side." Captain Xiao said helplessly. It was embarrassing for him.

“The instructor said that this female soldier is from the Special Forces. Her training is ten times more demanding than ours. Old Ding, in terms of training, we fall a lot behind her.”

These soldiers were not field troops. Other than their daily drills and regular field trainings, they did not have cruel and tough trainings as Ye Jian did. Although they had the numbers, it was not easy for them to capture Ye Jian alive.

The two captains were aware of this, and they were aggrieved after the call.

Realizing that this female soldier was extraordinary, the two teams progressed more cautiously. Ye Jian discovered their whereabouts an hour later and saw them passing in front of her under the disguise of leaves. In an instant, she realized the ‘narrow escape from death’ does not only mean that she was deprived of food. She also had to be careful and not be caught by these soldiers.

Knowing that these people were soldiers from the unit, Ye Jian felt relieved. She no longer had to waste time looking for them. She would be fine as long as she stayed far away from them and not be discovered.

Chapter 1122: Ye Jian’s Strength

Now knowing that she had to avoid them, she became more cautious. If there was no time for her to cover her tracks, she had to not leave any traces before moving. Ye Jian endured hunger all the way and did not eat for a whole afternoon before she pulled her distance away from the soldiers.

On the second day of ‘escape from death’ training, Ye Jian starved continuously.

Grass roots are edible food while walking. Having relied on them to replenish her energy for five hours of walking, Ye Jian removed two bird nests and ate six small eggs.

She ate half a slice of raw snake meat in the morning, drank stream water at noon, ate grass roots in the afternoon, and had six eggs for dinner!

There was no way for her to relax now. Soldiers were chasing her. She had to be on guard at all times to avoid being discovered.

“Three of you, flank here. The two of you will cut off the road ahead. I will attack with Rock. Focus!” Once again, Team A discovered Ye Jian’s tracks and began to form a triangle formation and move towards the direction of her resting area.

And Team B, who managed to catch up, will proceed to attack directly, in a bid to rattle her and catch her by surprise.

In the evening, the golden clouds on the edge of the sky plunged into the sea, and the sky darkened, consuming the last ray of sunlight. Ye Jian, who was resting while leaning on a tree, suddenly rushed down the steep mountain like an arrow leaving its bow. Her speed was so fast that leaves swept by her ears. She was not afraid of the branches and leaves stabbing or cutting her!

“Damn!” The soldiers who were still lurking in the bushes saw her desperately rushing down, and they immediately tightened their rucksack and followed.

Captain Xiao and Captain Ding led the team and followed the sound of swishing leaves, rushing down the mountain without any regard for their lives.

“Flank, flank! Three each on the right and left! The rest go straight and give chase!” Before the fourteen of them dispersed completely, Captain Ding said to Captain Xiao, “If we don’t catch her tonight, it will be difficult tomorrow!”

Ye Jian realized that someone was approaching and ran onto the route that she was going to take tomorrow. Not only did she have to run, but she also had to run to a place with a slightly wider view, but she also had to turn her head and look at the mountains under the night sky.

Otherwise, she would not be able to draw her topographic map!

The map that was given to her was not a city map that was bought outside, it was one with the contour lines! She wanted to draw a map herself, and that can only be done by observing the surroundings.

Ye Jian took twenty-seven minutes to reach the mountain saddle from the ridge. She ran for nearly half an hour without stopping when she was hungry!

The soldiers were still chasing. Ye Jian did not continue to run. After leaving some distance from the soldiers, she quickly found a place to seek cover. There were too many soldiers. She had to get rid of a few of them secretly. There are still five days left. She cannot possibly keep running around the mountain and forest in the middle of the night.

She already found a cover, and quickly got up when she heard nearby movement. She approached silently. “Don’t move!” The dagger was already on the soldier’s back when he turned around. A cold voice reached the soldier’s ears. “You’re dead.”

The dagger was already at his vital point. How is he not ‘dead’?

Ye Jian motioned for him to squat down, and laughed, “You can rest now, comrade.”

Chapter 1123: The Military Dagger With A Fuller

Ye Jian did not even ask how many soldiers were with him and touched his rucksack. She then moved her hands towards his waist...

“Comrade, a distinction should be made between males and females. Where are you touching?” The soldier was young, and his face turned red with embarrassment when Ye Jian’s hand moved towards his waist. “I have nothing on me. Watch where you’re touching.”

Ye Jian was checking where he kept his rifle, and if there was any pistol on his body. “I’m checking what’s in your rucksack, and if you have any weapons.”

“Yes, yes, yes. All blanks, no live ammunition! I’m just wearing a pair of pants. You... be careful.” The male soldier was not only feeling awkward but embarrassed as well. “I won’t move an inch, and I will never reveal your whereabouts, how about that?”

Why does this female soldier not have any sense of shame? He’s a male soldier!

“Where’s the rifle? Is there anything else?” Ye Jian touched him because she did not see him holding any weapons.

The male soldier lowered his head and looked at the rifle by his leg. “It’s under my leg. Type 95 rifle with ten blanks. There’s no pistol.”

It turns out when Ye Jian had the dagger behind his neck, the male soldier reacted fast and hid the rifle in his hand first to avoid the rifle from being handed over.

There was indeed nothing in the rucksack except for his blank ammunition. After searching through, Ye Jian picked up the rifle and laughed, “Comrade, I’m doing a routine search, I’m not touching you. You’re a man and you’re afraid of being touched by a woman?”

“Okay okay... Rest.” That last word whirled on the tip of her tongue as she said it lightly. Someone was approaching.

“Tweet, tweet...” There were birds chirping, followed by the rustling of leaves and a low voice, “Damn, I don’t see anyone.”

The squatting soldier closed his eyes. The female soldier behind him was already approaching his comrade like a phantom. Now... there was going to be another person accompanying him.

The sky was so dark that you could see the stars in the sky when you looked up, and the forest was so dark that you couldn’t see your fingers. There was no night vision, and there was no light. A group of soldiers was carefully taking their steps.

There was a fine rustling sound as the leaves brushed past their bodies. No one could see anyone and no one knew where the others were. Ye Jian did not know who they were, but as long as she could hear any movement, she would move in quietly for the ‘kill’.

The captains realized that things were going wrong after two soldiers were taken down. They immediately stopped the search. “I think Rock and Guozi have been dealt with. I hear nothing from them.”

“Don’t move, stay! Listen to the movements. We have many soldiers. If anyone moves, we will think that they are one of us. She’s just by herself, catching fishes with her harpoon!”

She had already caught two!

The sound was soft like a mosquito in the dark. Ye Jian could not hear it no matter how good her hearing was. However, she was already on her third ‘fish’.

“Don’t move. I have a Type 95 bayonet in my hand. If you struggle, it might pierce through your flesh.” Ye Jian’s hand squeezed the soldier’s shoulder like pliers and pressed the bayonet’s fuller across the soldier’s neck. “If I really want to kill you, you won’t have the chance to move. Lie down.”

The male soldier really did not move. The bayonet’s fuller was notorious. When the bayonet pierces into the body, it causes spasms and the blade will not be able to be pulled out instantly.

Chapter 1124: An Interesting Female Soldier

The fuller of the bayonet will then allow blood to flow out, acting as a lubricant, and reducing the amount of friction between the blade and the flesh. It can then be pulled out and a second stab can be executed. If the soldier was really stabbed, it would be disastrous.

Three out of fourteen soldiers have been dealt with. Ye Jian stopped searching. Hearing that there were no more movements around, she slightly twitched the corner of her mouth. Ye Jian, who only had a Type 95 rifle, evacuated quietly in the direction where she needed to move.

The ‘narrow escape from death’ included soldiers that were chasing her. She did not know and Uncle Chen did not remind her. It looks like the military was involved.

The conversation with the major general during the Spring Festival was vivid. He said, “If there are incidences in your future training that weren’t planned by you, it must have something to do with the military. There’s no need to make a fuss. Just complete your training.”

A group of soldiers appearing in front of her and another group chasing her from behind was all part of the military’s training plan.

And her plan was to escape from death in seven days! It was not to stay and hunt down the soldiers that were chasing her!

She must complete her training and not stray away from her objective!

The wind started blowing in the mountains. It blew softly, and the leaves swayed gently. Ye Jian, who always recognized what she needed to do, didn’t have the excitement for combat. She stayed away from the mountain saddle where the soldiers were lurking.

The flashing red light continued to move in the direction she needed to reach. Not long after, she was far away from the twelve stationary red dots.

Li Jinnian unbuttoned the top two buttons of his white navy shirt, revealing his wide collarbone. He focused on the flashing red dot, which left after getting rid of three other red dots.

That was interesting.

Soldiers must avoid two things in training – being provoked and being distracted.

Once these two were violated, it means that the soldier is easily influenced and does not have self-control. His decision-making has to be improved.

To him, it meant that the soldier is unqualified.

The female soldier is interesting. Firstly, she knew exactly what her training objective was. Secondly, she dealt with three soldiers and managed to rattle the others. Thirdly, she now knows about the identity of the ones chasing her, and she would not have to worry about that.

Calm, smart, and slightly capable. And the military wants to train her because of that? There are many calm, smart and capable people in the military. It was because she was a female soldier, that is why the military paid more attention to her.

“Still observing? Did you notice anything?” The office door opened, and the navy commander stepped forward. “I mentioned it to the army and the nature of our training. Jinnian, the army is very persistent.”

Before the commander approached, Li Jinnian immediately fastened his two buttons, before standing and turning around, “At the moment, she seems capable, she dealt with three soldiers in five minutes, and is very clear of her objective, and relatively calm.”

“According to you, she’s not bad?” The commander laughed. It was extremely rare for him to praise any soldier.

“I can only say that she’s calm.”

The commander smiled and shook his head, “What can I say. You are too harsh. It will scare off soldiers with potential. You have to give them a chance to adapt. You can’t always deny their ability.”

“I personally think Ye Jian is really brilliant. The army said that her memorization skill has reached a capacity that no one knows. She remembers everything she sees, to the point where people are amazed by her.”

Chapter 1125: Demon King Li Of The Commando Unit

“She can repeat clearly what happened a few months ago, what she said, and what others said. Such a powerful memory is indeed shocking. I was shocked too.”

The navy commander had not yet seen Ye Jian, but just by communicating with the army major general, he already admired her.

“I can see that she really has potential. This female soldier has impressed me for now.” At 8 pm, the sky in the Southwest Sea started to fade, and Li Jinnian took out a name list from his desk and handed it to the navy commander. “Look at this name list. I don’t deny any soldiers with potential.”

“After the basic training, they will be ranked accordingly, and those who fail are eliminated. Those who pass will proceed with the second phase of training.”

When he spoke, his facial muscles stayed motionless. The cold tone of his came out, and it was as if the room temperature dropped suddenly.

A pure white 97-style navy uniform was supported by his perfect and sexy figure. There was not a crease at the corners of his uniform. Not only did he portray the majesty of the navy with the uniform, but also an indescribable sense of abstinence.

The navy commander opened it. The details of each soldier were clearly written. Their strengths, weaknesses, potential were all noted down. If it was the work of Li Jinnian, he had nothing to worry about.

“The basic training is in June, and the devil training is in July and August. As for the army, we will try our best to cooperate with them. Good or not, we will know after they are sent to you for inspection.”

“Yes!” Li Jinnian did not say anything else. He was not an outspoken soldier. If the army insisted, he would certainly accept it. As for how the arrangements and training will be, it was not something that the army could intervene.

The long honking of the warships came from the sea, and the navy soldiers dressed in dark blue training uniforms gathered, ending a day of regular training.

The sentinels at the pier changed guards with the next group. As the sun went down in the crimson background, two sentinels had their bodies straightened. The sentinel received the rifle and saluted his comrades, starting his shift.

Amongst the white uniforms, the black reef, the blue sky, and the red setting sun, there were warships docked in the distance. Several rows of navy soldiers marched towards the barracks neatly, outlining a day in the naval barracks.

Seagulls flew over the ocean surface, bringing with them joyful cries. On an unknown island, the figures of several frogmen went back to the surface from the depths of the sea with heavy oxygen cylinders on their backs. They gestured an ‘okay’, and like a shark, they swam to the shore with the power to split the sea.

“How many of them are still down there? Speed, speed. If Demon King Li comes, everyone has to dive for another twenty minutes! Until our lungs are filled with water.”

“We dived forty meters today, and we have to dive sixty meters tomorrow. Someday, I have to see how far Demon King Li can dive!”

“So much nonsense. Unload your equipment! We carried tens of kilograms on our backs the whole day. My back is almost crushed.”

The soldiers in the Navy Storm Commando are both ‘frogmen’ and ‘divers’. They train for an average of eight hours a day, and for about four to five hours, they will be underwater undergoing training.

Li Jinnian is the captain of the Navy Storm Commando. He was called Demon King Li by the newly-selected soldiers because of his harsh training and coldness. However, the official members of the Navy Commando have absolute respect for their captain and are full of admiration for him.

Chapter 1126: So Hungry, I Want To Eat Meat

The four official members of the Storm Commando had a cold smile on their faces when they saw the new soldiers complaining as they got out of the water. These soldiers just passed the first round of assessment. They waited for the new soldiers, who still wanted to see their leader dive, to take off their diving equipment.

The salty wind blew and the calm waves turned forceful as they slammed against the rocks. After the soldiers took off their heavy diving suits, the four official members appeared from the back on the rocks. They stood in front of the 40 soldiers in their black outfits and said, "Form up!"

A new round of night training started.

Ye Jian raised her head and looked at the sky full of stars. She touched her empty stomach. She let out a long sigh... In her past life, no matter how bad her situation was, she was still able to have three meals a day. This time, she was really hungry.

She carefully took out the four little bird eggs from her back and crushed them with her fingers. The egg white and the egg yolk flowed into her mouth.

Her dinner would be these eggs.

It looks like she will need to store some food tomorrow. She mustn't throw any snake meat away. She should use leaves to wrap the meat so that she could replenish protein anytime.

The two teams that the provincial military sent were still searching for her. Ye Jian climbed on a tree and pondered about her food tomorrow.

The owl made a weird cry and landed on the tree opposite her lightly and quickly. The wild chickens in the mountain clucked. Then, the mountain slowly became quiet.

The second day of training ended as dawn broke on the third day.

There was a thin layer of mist in the forest. Ye Jian who disguised herself simply didn't move forward heedlessly like the first day. She needed to be wary of her chasers. But, there was also the possibility that they were in front of her since she slept through the night.

Every day at allocated destinations, she needed to send her location. If the soldiers chasing her knew her destinations, they could ambush her and wait for her there.

As she bent down to pick the mushrooms in the woods, Ye Jian still made sure that if something happened, she was able to protect herself immediately.

Ye Jian had mushrooms for breakfast. She didn't stay in one position for long and didn't leave behind any traces for her chasers to find. She seemed to have disappeared from the forest. There were no traces left at all.

Captain Ding and Captain Xiao led their soldiers and were indeed walking towards Ye Jian's destination. Yesterday night, she silently took care of three soldiers. She attacked them from the back and placed her dagger against the back of their necks. The three soldiers felt fortunate that they met the female soldier yesterday night instead of some other enemy.

The three soldiers that got 'killed' waited in their original location. The other eleven soldiers hurried through the night and were ahead of Ye Jian now. They didn't wait for Ye Jian at her first destination of the day, Instead, they waited for her at the destination she needed to reach in the evening.

The sun rose and set in the west. The eleven soldiers surrounded the location carefully. Tonight was their last chance. If they don't catch the female soldier this time, they would have to go back dejectedly.

At this moment, Captain Ding and Captain Xiao felt that they had accepted a troublesome mission!

"Scouts, be careful. Report if you notice any leaves swaying. Be careful of the gun she has." Captain Xiao held his forehead when he remembered the guns she snatched. They sent weapons to the other party... They shouldn't have alerted her yesterday night!

Captain Xiao wasn't the only one having a headache. Captain Ding was having one too. The female soldier had a powerful anti-reconnaissance capability. She took care of one of his scouts instantly yesterday night. He suspected that she purposely chose to 'kill' the scout in his team.

Chapter 1127: The Difference Between Field Operations And Local Forces

Someone that was able to take care of his scout in the dark. Captain Ding felt a chill down his back when he thought about this.

"Old Ding, I have a feeling that we might have to return empty-handed." He wasn't speaking up for the party and belittling themselves. This was indeed what Captain Xiao was thinking. He couldn't tell this to his soldiers so he could only say it to his comrade who was also a captain.

Captain Ding's soft sigh was heard from behind the leaves. "I feel frustrated. We are chasing a female soldier today. What if we were chasing a criminal? This mission exposed our abilities. We still have to train harder."

"Although I know that the person we are chasing is a Special Forces soldier who is more powerful than us, I still feel frustrated and uncomfortable."

From this, we can tell the difference between local forces, field forces, and special forces.

Field forces, especially Class A armies are in charge of combat missions and cross-region missions. As long as there was a war, they could immediately be dispatched. The local forces were in charge of support, defense, and guarding the city. They wouldn't participate in cross-region missions normally.

One was in charge of fighting and the other was in charge of support. From their equipment, their people, their level of training, and their level of command, the former was obviously stronger than the latter.

As for the special forces, it was a military unit where one soldier was the equivalent of an entire army. An outstanding Special Forces soldier might be able to destroy a company or an entire camp!

Captain Ding and Captain Xiao belonged to the second line forces, which were the local forces. The major general sent a team of local forces, who weren't even able to win a field forces team, to catch a Special Forces soldier. Actually, he didn't bear much hope. He just wanted the navy to see how Ye Jian was able to deal with a sudden change of plan.

Captain Ding and Captain Xiao didn't know what the major general was thinking. They just felt that they were facing a huge problem now. At the same time, they had a frustrating mission on hand.

Captain Ding remained quiet after he finished speaking. They were both soldiers and wore the same military uniform but the difference between them made him embarrassed.

"Let's not talk about it anymore." Captain Xiao wiped his face and shifted his gaze to the front. He continued in a soft voice, "Fortunately, the scouts in our military district are not bad. They didn't embarrass us."

He felt a little consolation.

A batch of scouts from the Southern Province military district would be chosen to send to the field forces every year. The motorized infantry in Fujun Town was in charge of guarding the entire residential compound of the top party leaders. These two strengths were known to every military unit in the country.

They had the ability but unfortunately, this mission didn't require a motorized infantry soldier!

They didn't know that Ye Jian had entered the motorized infantry to learn for as long as two years. If they knew, they might feel even more frustrated.

A female soldier that was stronger than them in all aspects. How upsetting was that?

The tired birds started returning to their nests. After a day of getting scorched by the sun, the little bugs started moving at night. Chirps from insects could be heard in the forest. A slender figure was walking through the forest amidst the insect chirps.

The female soldier who gave a headache to the local forces had appeared.

This time, when Li Jinnian saw the red dot, which represented the female soldier, moving quickly on the screen and closing in accurately on the local forces soldiers that weren't moving, his cold expression finally relaxed a little.

She seemed to know where these soldiers were hiding. The moment she acted, she would take care of a green dot.

Instinct?

It was impossible to just rely on instinct.

Observation!

This female soldier had frightening observation skills and her abilities were not bad too!

Green dots started disappearing one by one. Demon King Li, who wore the same expression all the time, squinted slightly.

Chapter 1128: Untitled

Ye Jian didn't know that her position was exposed to someone else. She armlocked a soldier and placed his rifle on his shoulder as she pushed him into the forest. She took care of another soldier.

Her inferno training started from October last year until now when there is only slightly more than a month left until her university entrance examination. Ye Jian experienced many cruel training. If she wasn't able to take care of a few local forces, the most disappointed person would be Principal Chen.

"There are ten soldiers altogether, right?" After taking care of the soldiers quickly, Ye Jian smiled and pulled a soldier up. She said apologetically. "I'm sorry. I was a little rough. Did you get hurt?"

At a moment like this, even if they got hurt, they wouldn't say it...

Ten soldiers? The number wasn't right. There should be eleven.

Who was not caught by her?

Old Ding?

That was possible. He was probably the only one left.

Brother, hang in there. You are everyone's hope!

Looking at the female soldier whom he couldn't see clearly in front of him, Captain Xiao relaxed his shoulder that was numb due to the hit from the butt of the rifle. He bore with the pain and said, "No, the number is not right." It was really painful. She wasn't just rough, she was really rough!

Tomorrow, there will definitely be a huge bruise on his shoulder! His muscles hurt!

The number wasn't right. That meant that there was still someone hiding. The target was too small and the range was too wide. It would be a waste of time to look for the person. Why don't she ambush the person and wait for him to walk into her trap?

None of them wore any night-vision goggles so even if they laid an ambush, they had to have close combat. Ye Jian stopped hiding and used her voice to lure the soldier that hadn't appeared.

She heard the male soldier gasping in pain. She felt a little embarrassed so she said, "Are you alright? Do you want to spray some medicine?"

Although she knew that it was inevitable, she still blamed herself when someone got hurt.

It was alright if she used her hand but she used the buttstock. With her strength, she would definitely be able to hurt the soldier.

The soldier was hurt but he couldn't treat his injury in front of a female soldier. He already felt embarrassed so he mustn't be embarrassed again... He couldn't afford it.

Captain Xiao stopped turning his shoulder. He smiled and replied, "It's alright, it's alright. I have to thank you for showing some mercy and not firing an empty bullet. You didn't hit the buttstock directly on my head either."

Based on their distance just now, the female soldier could have been even more vicious. She probably held back a little because of their identity.

Captain Ding, who was hiding, heard the female soldier talking to Old Xiao softly. Slowly, he held his breath and closed in on her. All his soldiers were caught. He was the only one left. No matter what, he needed to take the risk.

His military boots landed lightly on the ground. The closer he moved, the more stable he was. The female soldier smiled and replied to Old Xiao, "It's not good to fire an empty bullet in the middle of the night. If fired at a close distance, there will be a small hole in your body."

Closer, closer. The soldier was already very close to her...

Right now!

"That's why I have to thank you..." Captain Xiao's sentence was interrupted. He felt a strong wind blowing right into his face. The female soldier in front of him suddenly turned... That was when he finally noticed another black figure closing in on them!

Old Ding, it was definitely him.

Ye Jian's reaction was so fast it scared Captain Ding for a moment. The unguarded female soldier suddenly turned and pounced on him like a ferocious beast. Her posture was swift and fierce. It was fast and vicious. He looked haggard as he dodged.

Ye Jian already had experience dealing with the local forces so this time, she relaxed a little and locked the gun in his hand. She detached the magazine and twisted the entire gun. Her opponent had no choice but to release his hand. Then... they started fighting with their hands and feet.

Chapter 1129: Not On The Same Level

To Ye Jian, jungle combat was the same as normal combat. To put it simply, she felt that she was still on flat ground!

The lower half of her body was extremely stable. Her military boots stepped on the uneven ground and her legs seemed to be stuck to the ground. Her body wouldn't shake at all. When she raised her legs to kick, the wind caused by her kick was enough to make the leaves on the ground fly. This proved how much force she had on her feet.

On the first meeting, Captain Ding got suppressed by Ye Jian's force of presence. He became unstable because of Ye Jian's kick and he started grabbing the leaves and branches around him. His palm was hurting because of the branches and leaves.

"Old Ding, hold on!"

In the dark, Captain Xiao carried his last ray of hope and cheered for his brother... He just didn't know if his brother was able to withstand it.

Captain Ding gave a bitter smile. He wanted to resist but he couldn't...

The attack was really fierce and there was killing intent in it. The entire mountain ground was uneven so he wasn't able to stand properly. The leaves around him rustled loudly because of his movements. His actions were big and he was in a terrible state.

The soldiers that had been taken care of by Ye Jian stood together silently and listened to the sounds in the dark. They clenched their fists tightly and cheered for their captain.

Among the fourteen of them, Captain Ding and Captain Xiao's fighting skills were the best. Captain Ding was better than Captain Xiao but he wasn't able to resist Ye Jian for long. He tried to attack a few times but got suppressed by Ye Jian mercilessly.

Impressive!

He wasn't her match at all!

The local forces could only lose when they face special forces. Even if the other party was a female soldier, he didn't have the chance to win completely.

Ye Jian captured ten soldiers before this so she knew that their skills were not as good as the field forces. Thus, she controlled her strength to prevent hurting the other party.

She forced Captain Ding between two trees. Then, with a low shout, her long legs pressed down on him like a mountain. Captain Ding had nowhere to retreat so he hurriedly lifted his hand to protect his head instinctively as he waited for Ye Jian's right leg.

He bent his knee due to the force on his right leg. He felt as though he was holding a lifting jack above him. It was so heavy he wasn't able to push it away no matter how much force he used.

One minute later, Ye Jian kept her feet and smiled. "This is the 11th one tonight. There are no more left, right?"

There was no need to fight anymore. Captain Ding knew that he was 'killed'. He was suppressed for an entire minute. He failed...

After Captain Ding opened his mouth, the other ten soldiers sighed. There was no more.

On the third night, at 8.30 pm, all the 14 soldiers sent by the provincial military unit 'sacrificed'. No one 'survived'.

"Eleven tonight and three yesterday night. All 14 soldiers have been captured." They lost but they mustn't lose their dignity. Captain Ding spoke in an upright and straightforward manner like a soldier. "You're amazing. We admit defeat wholeheartedly."

“We received an order to capture a female soldier alive within three days. There are only a few hours left. We failed our mission.”

She was right. The military took part in this.

Would the military add more spice into her training in the future? She didn't know. Uncle Chen didn't know either. She needed to notice them along the way. For the next few days... would there be more surprises?

This time, she didn't understand the additional hurdle the military gave her. Why did they send the local forces to train her?

Chapter 1130: The Indomitable Spirit Of A Soldier

The lights were on. Captain Ding led his soldiers to stand in the row among the bushes. Ye Jian shook hands with them individually and smiled as she said, “Thank you for your hard work. I was a little rough. Sorry about that.”

Her face was covered with a thick layer of camo cream such that even with the light, they weren't able to see her features. They could only see her bright eyes. It was shimmering like the stars in the sky. There was a cold light deep inside her gaze too.

However, there was only one thought in everyone's mind. She was so small. The female soldier that won them was so small!

“So small... You must be younger than me,” The youngest soldier in the team muttered to herself.

Ye Jian pretended that she didn't hear anything. She said to Captain Ding and Captain Xiao politely, “I'm not sure why you appeared in my training. If I did anything to offend you, please pardon me.”

The military had their own intentions but she didn't understand why they made this arrangement.

The local forces versus the special forces. It didn't make sense.

“I feel that you taught us a lesson instead. After we go back, we need to self-reflect. We are the local forces and we are not as strong as the field forces or the special forces but there are 14 of us. We feel... embarrassed that we weren't able to retaliate at all.” Captain Xiao gave a forced laugh. He didn't evade the problem because he failed. “Thank you for your hard work tonight! You're the strongest female soldier!”

The heated course of events ended politely. Ye Jian stood on the spot and sent them off with her eyes. She rubbed her stomach after she couldn't hear their footsteps anymore and went back to the sleeping spot she found. She waited for the sun to rise on her fourth day of training.

After she woke up, Ye Jian spent quite a long time clearing away the signs of the fight. It covered a wide area and some bushes were stepped on so it was impossible to clear the traces completely. Ye Jian spent ten minutes before she moved towards her destination for the fourth day.

All until the seventh day, she didn't meet another ambush. She was so hungry that her already fair skin was starting to turn pale. She relied on snake meat, insects, rats, tree barks, grass roots, and stone crabs to get her nutrients. Finally, on the seventh day at 3 pm, she appeared within the range of the chemical defense regiment.

During the entire training, she never released a single help signal. She didn't make a single call and she endured everything with astonishing perseverance.

When she appeared, she even walked quickly to Principal Chen and smiled. "Uncle Chen, I'm back."

She didn't have a proper meal for the entire seven days. She never had any cooked food or drank warm water. She relied on food that normal humans would never eat to survive. As he looked at Ye Jian who became skinner, the old man's eyes turned red.

Ye Jian had gotten skinnier. She wore a jungle camouflage uniform and her face was so small it could be covered with a palm. The backpack she was carrying looked like a mountain that could crush her at any moment. However, her energy wasn't the least affected. She still gave off an upright and indomitable spirit.

Standing under the sunlight, she didn't collapse because of hunger. The indomitable and strong aura of a soldier exuded from her body.

"It's good that you're back. Your endurance is powerful and you're getting stronger. You will have a bright future!" Principal Chen patted Ye Jian's shoulder. His voice choked a little.

Jian relied on herself to reach this stage today. She took one step at a time and created her path slowly and firmly. Even though she had a good relationship with Major Xia, she never thought of relying on him and always remembered what Principal Chen and Uncle Gen said: Relying on yourself is better than relying on other people. She gained the recognition of the higher authorities because of her own capability.
