

Chapter 1131: I Chase It Because I Like It

Ye Jian, who was only a little distance away from becoming skinny to the bones, smiled. Her eyes were so bright they looked like the sun at this time of the day. It was glistening with a mesmerizing glow. She said, "Let's go back, Uncle Chen."

She was really hungry. But, she had reached the limit of her hunger so her stomach felt loaded. She wanted to eat and her body needed food too but her stomach was rejecting it.

"You need to eat some white porridge and let the easily digestible white porridge help you resume your gastric motility. You won't need to participate in any training for the next week. Let your stomach heal first," Principal Chen smiled as he reminded Ye Jian. The two figures stepped on the rays of sunlight and moved further away.

On this military path, Ye Jian used her perseverance and her willpower again and again as she conquered the difficulties that surpassed her age.

When the other students were still sitting in their classrooms and studying hard, she had already found her future path and was walking on it without any regrets.

It would take two hours to travel from the chemical defense regiment to the city. Ye Jian didn't go back immediately. She went to the infirmary of the chemical defense regiment to get a simple checkup and then drank a bowl of plain white porridge. The regimental commander of the chemical defense regiment and the political commissar were staring at her intently so she put down her empty bowl and smiled as she said, "After I got used to it, it felt like nothing. In ancient times, before fire was discovered, humans ate raw food too. I felt that I returned to my original nature in the past few days."

A young lady who experienced hunger for seven days used 'returned to my original nature' to summarize her hunger training... Her heart was really big!

"On the first day of your school's military training, I knew that you weren't simple. It has only been two years but you've already progressed so far. You are better than the soldiers that had been in my regiment for two years. Ye Jian, good job!"

The political commissar couldn't help but exclaim. He still remembered that year when she wore her camouflage uniform and appeared in front of everyone with an indomitable aura. She performed the military postures with her instructors and earned a round of applause. At that time, there was still a slight immature look on her face.

Now, even when she was sitting down, she still exuded the dignity of a soldier. It was impossible to disregard it. This was the first time he saw someone being able to do this at the age of 18!

When other people complimented her, Ye Jian was always able to remain calm and not be proud. She smiled politely and replied, "I like it so I chase it. I will never easily give up something I like. Entering the military is my dream. Wearing the military uniform is my goal. I have never given up in the past few years."

“Success relies on perseverance. Your spirit is worth praising. You have persevered for so many years. It’s something all of us should learn!” The regimental commander had a deep impression of Ye Jian. Yesterday, his old comrade came to his office and told him with a mysterious expression that a girl whom he really wanted to let her stay at the chemical defense regiment as a soldier would be coming. He immediately thought of Ye Jian from the Provincial No.1 Middle School.

He said the name he guessed and his old comrade looked at him in surprise. “How do you know? Did the superiors inform you?”

It had been two years since they last met and the soldier’s aura on her was getting stronger. She is becoming more and more outstanding too... He really wanted to snatch her to the chemical defense regiment.

“Student Ye, do you have a military unit you want to go to? If not, can I have a chat with you along with the political commissar? You can use it as a reference.”

The regimental commander of the chemical defense regiment turned into Grandma Wolf[1] and smiled gently and amiably. “Let’s talk about our chemical defense regiment. The chemical weapons will definitely enchant you. Our chemical defense regiment...”

Chapter 1132: Boyfriend’s Job

He said that he was going to have a chat with her so that Ye Jian could use it as a reference but for the entire five minutes, his conversation revolved around the chemical defense regiment. “...There are many troop units below. We have the sterilizing troop, the fire-spraying troop, the smoke troop, the observation troop, and the scouting troop, you can go to any troop that you want.”

“Also, we are different from the local forces. Once a war starts, our soldiers will be in charge of chemical defense missions for the military units participating in the war. We need to get rid of harmful chemicals as well as to detect their presence.”

“We won’t fight face to face with our enemies but we are fighting against them in the dark. Student Ye, if you come to the chemical defense regiment, you can fight enemies too! What do you think? Our chemical defense regiment is not bad, right!”

The regimental commander wasn’t good at having conversations or heart-to-heart talks but everything he said was true!

The political commissar cooperated by nodding his head at the side. Occasionally, he would explain in detail the missions every troop went on. He looked as though he couldn’t wait to pull Ye Jian to the soldier recruitment assessment and let her come to the chemical defense regiment as soon as possible.

During her two-hour stay in the chemical defense regiment, Ye Jian talked to the regimental commander and the political commissar for two hours. After she left, the regimental commander and the political commissar felt heartache. "A bowl of porridge wasn't enough to keep her here. The young lady is smarter than before!"

"She's already being polite since she didn't reject you directly." The political commissar drank some water and smiled as he lamented, "Look at her training. She walked out of the mountain after seven days of not having proper food. Which military unit requires this type of training? Old partner, only the special forces will have this kind of training."

The regimental commander and the political commissar exchanged glances. Then they sighed in unplanned unison and waved their hands. They went back to their work.

Her goal was to become a special forces soldier. The chemical defense regiment couldn't keep her.

Wherever she went, there would be people wanting her to stay. After Ye Jian left, she felt sweat on her back. She wasn't good at having conversations either. It was hard for her to accept the enthusiasm of the two biggest leaders in the regiment. Fortunately, they let her go in the end and started talking about other things.

Principal Chen, who was sitting on the passenger's seat, laughed heartily. "That's a good phenomenon. It means that your ability is recognized by the leaders and they think that you're worth grooming. The military is a huge family. All the leaders welcome soldiers with real abilities to take on special roles. They saw endless potential through your performance and ability. It's normal that they want to keep you in the military unit."

As she listened to Principal Chen's voice, Ye Jian started swaying along with the jeep. The porridge cushioned her stomach, and her eyelids were uncontrollably starting to feel heavy. In addition, the environment made her feel at ease so as she swayed, she started to fall asleep with a smile.

The car drove for two hours until they reached the small district behind Provincial No.1 Middle School. Even after the soldier parked the car, Ye Jian didn't wake up.

Principal Chen looked at the dark eye circles under her eyelids and said to the soldier that sent them back, "Can you please carry her for me? She's too tired. Let her have a good sleep."

"Yes, Old Chief!" The soldier immediately opened the door. Just as he was about to bend down and carry Ye Jian, a voice sounded faintly behind them. "Let me do it. You can help the old chief to carry his bags."

He waited there for more than an hour before his little fox came back. As her boyfriend, it was his job to carry her upstairs.

Chapter 1133: A Responsible Boyfriend

Principal Chen was taking his luggage at the boot. When he suddenly heard Xia Jinyuan's voice, he hurriedly turned his body. He saw Xia Jinyuan bending down and entering the vehicle.

He said to the soldier that hadn't managed to react. "Come, Little Ding, help me to open the door. Thank you for your hard work."

In the car, Xia Jinyuan was just about to place his right hand at the back of Ye Jian's neck so that it would be more convenient to hug her shoulders when he carried her out. The moment he did this action, Ye Jian, who was sleeping soundly on the seat, opened her eyes abruptly. She squinted in the not-so-bright environment and said tiredly, "You're here..."

She woke up with a start but when she saw who it was, she closed her eyes and disregarded everything.

Xia Jinyuan looked at the skinny person who fell asleep again within a second. He pursed his thin lips tightly. Seven days of 'escape from death' training had made her lose a lot of weight. He could see it from her face.

Her dark circles were very heavy. There was a huge area of blue-black below her eyes. Her smooth and pinkish lips had a layer of pale white dried skin on them. It was so dry her lips were starting to crack. From her head to her toe, she was giving off an exhausted feeling.

Thin, she was really thin. She got so much skinnier that when he carried her in his arms, he could feel her bones.

"Principal Chen, I'll carry her up first." Xia Jinyuan carried Ye Jian, who was so light that she didn't weigh much. There was pain in the depth of his eyes. He had never accompanied her during her training. Every time, he could only calculate when she would end and hurry over. He just wanted to see if she was fine.

Sometimes, he would wonder if she could relax a little in front of all the high-intensity training. However, when he remembered the cruelty on the battlefield, his heartache would get suppressed by reality.

K7 was captured once and was injected with an unknown medicine that increased the sense of pain in his body. After he came back, he had to rest for three entire months!

No matter how painful it was, he must bear with it.

It was dinner time so you could smell the fragrance of food from every household. All the houses were lit up in the entire city. Xia Jinyuan placed her lightly on the soft bed and gently took off her outerwear. Then, he took off her muddy military boots and placed them on the balcony.

When Principal Chen came in, he saw Ye Jian sleeping with a thin blanket laid over her. Then, he turned to look at the tall figure bustling on the balcony. He smiled gently and closed the door.

Major Xia truly cared about Jian. Every time Jian finished an exhausting training, he would come and accompany her. He would even take care of her emotions and earnestly point out her flaws.

With this person taking care of Jian, Old Gen and he could feel at ease.

Outside, all the houses were lit up. As for Ye Jian's room, her curtains were closed such that no light could enter. No sound could be heard too. You could only hear two sets of long breaths in the dark.

Xia Jinyuan rushed here overnight from the grassroots companies. Halfway through the journey, they met a landslide so the path from the company to the city was blocked. Xia Jinyuan asked the soldier to drive back to the company alone while he carried his backpack and climbed the dangerous hill. He walked for over forty kilometers throughout the night before he reached the city.

From yesterday night until 6 pm today, which was the time he arrived in the city, he didn't rest at all. He drove the car prepared by Xia Yiwei to school and finally saw Ye Jian coming back at 7.20 pm.

Both of them were racing against time. In the end, they could finally lie on the same bed and rest. To Xia Jinyuan and Ye Jian, this was a date.

Chapter 1134: A Rare Moment When They Could Sleep Together

There wasn't much time for them to use. They didn't have the time to be romantic either. Every single minute and second was exceptionally precious to them. They didn't know if they needed to travel far away the next second. They could only treasure the current time they had together. It's extremely rare for them to be able to sleep together on the same bed! Ye Jian woke up at around 2 am. She moved a little and Xia Jinyuan, who was lying beside her, opened his eyes immediately. His voice was a little hoarse as he asked, "Are you hungry? There's some hot porridge in the kitchen. Do you want to have some?"

Her head was still resting on his muscular arms. Ye Jian missed the warmth of his body so she rubbed against his arm for a while before replying, "I'm not just hungry. I'm so hungry I want to eat fatty meat... Principal Chen asked me to drink one week of plain porridge so that my stomach can heal properly."

Xia Jinyuan laughed at her words. He pulled his arms tighter around her and hugged her. He laughed until his chest heaved up and down. "You can't eat fatty meat. Listen to Uncle Chen obediently and rest your stomach for a week."

After he finished speaking, he took a few deep breaths around her neck and his laughter got louder. "I feel that we need to have a good bath. I haven't bathed in three days and two nights. You probably haven't bathed in a week, right?"

Girls were always shy about this topic and Ye Jian was an extremely shy person. Hence, when she heard this, she crawled out of his arms directly and rushed to the bathroom in the bedroom.

When he heard the sound of water flowing in the bathroom, Xia Jinyuan laughed loudly.

He stopped teasing her. Xia Jinyuan decided to be a gentleman and went down to the car to take his luggage first. After that, he went to the kitchen and scooped a bowl of white porridge. He placed it on the dining table for it to cool down. Then, he saw Ye Jian walking out wearing a sports T-shirt and shorts. Her hair was wet.

She just bathed so under the light, there was a pearl-like glow on her fair skin. However... she was a little skinny.

Ye Jian's face was finally not red anymore. She walked in the forest for seven days alone, and she was hungry all the time so she had no time to take care of her personal image. She would at most wipe her body with a towel... However, she shouldn't have any smell!

At 18 years old, Ye Jian wasn't as restrained as she was in the past. At that time, she was easily embarrassed. Now, she could maintain her expression.

When he looked at her, Ye Jian walked over calmly. Xia Jinyuan pursed his lips a little and quickly held her hand. He said in a gentle voice, "There's no meat, only porridge. After your stomach heals, I will bring you to try Xia Yiwei's cooking skills."

"Her cooking is so good even my grandmother compliments her. However, she rarely cooks. Hou Zi only ate her cooking two times."

Cooking required talent. Xia Yiwei was talented in cooking. She always said this to Xia Jinyuan, "After I retire, I will open a Chinese restaurant in France! I will show them how broad and profound our Chinese cuisine is!"

Ye Jian sat on the chair he pulled out for her and teased him, "Brother Zi only ate it twice. How many times have you eaten it?"

The white porridge boiled until the bubbles formed flowers. It looked really appetizing. Ye Jian took a scoop as she spoke.

"I've eaten a few more times. In the past, when I was in Fujun Town, I would go and look for her whenever I'm free. I probably ate ten times more than Hou Zi." Xia Jinyuan waited excitedly at the side as he looked at Ye Jian eating the small millet porridge he cooked. He waited for Ye Jian to praise him.

For instance, 'the porridge is not bad', or 'I want to drink this tomorrow...' words like these to compliment him.

Chapter 1135: Good Brother, How's This

Xia Jinyuan and Ye Jian were the only ones in this huge house. Now, he was standing beside her and looking at her intently as she ate the porridge. Ye Jian glanced at him secretly. As she lowered her head to eat the porridge, the corners of her lips lifted slightly.

So Captain Xia made this porridge. Was he standing beside her because he wanted her to compliment him?

Ye Jian smiled secretly as she buried her head in the porridge and drank it. Captain Xia, you teased me so many times in the past. Now, I can finally tease you.

After she finished the bowl of porridge, she turned her head and said earnestly, "Captain Xia, are you hungry? Do you want a bowl too?"

He stood there for so long with a 'are you pleased with the food' expression... Yet, in the end, his little fox didn't notice anything even after she finished the food?

That was impossible...

But, from her expression, she really didn't seem to know... Could it be that she thought Uncle Chen made it?

"How's the porridge?" He asked.

Ye Jian nodded and said, "Uncle Chen's porridge is not bad." She maintained her earnest expression so that the man in front of her wouldn't notice anything.

Major Xia, who was always good at observing people, believed her. He raised his hand and touched her head. Then, he gave a long sigh and said, "This was a rare chance for me to perform but my girlfriend didn't feel it at all. What a failure."

"It's alright. You can continue performing tomorrow morning. I will definitely see it!" Ye Jian couldn't help but laugh when she said this.

The moment she laughed, Xia Jinyuan realized that this cunning little fox fooled him!

"So you're teasing me. Stop struggling and let me carry you into the room." Xia Jinyuan raised her eyebrows and gave an evil smile. Before Ye Jian got up, he carried her in his long arms and turned to walk into the bedroom.

This was a relaxing moment. Even though they were the only ones in the house and he carried her into the room, Ye Jian didn't feel any sense of danger. Instead, she laughed continuously and commented, "Very nice, it was fragrant! It was on par with a five-star restaurant! Amazing! I really like it! You've worked hard! Captain Xia!"

"I feel like I've waited an entire year for your compliment. Now, it's time to get some interest." Xia Jinyuan placed Ye Jian on the bed gently. Then, he leaned over with his slender and long body and placed his handsome face directly in front of Ye Jian. He gave a low laugh and said, "Interest, a kiss."

Xia Jinyuan had experienced seven days of hunger before. He also knew that even after drinking some hot porridge, your stomach would cramp.

Just now, she was lowering her head as she ate her porridge. In fact, she was doing it to hide the uncomfortable feeling in her stomach. How was she still able to fool around with the pain?

Ye Jian slowly kissed his cheeks. Then, she looked at the man who was taking care of her with a shimmering glimpse in her eyes. "Thank you, Captain Xia."

"Captain Xia? I don't like this address. Can you change it?" His kiss landed on her lips. His gentle voice floated under the lights of the table lamp like the notes of a piano. "How about good brother?"

Disgusting!

Ye Jian closed her eyes. She smiled as she kept repeating, "Captain Xia, Captain Xia, Captain Xia, Captain Xia..." She seemed to be enjoying calling him. It sounded really sweet.

"Disobedient lass. Next time, we will discuss this again." It was 2.30 am. After waking up for half an hour, it was time to rest again. He kissed her on her forehead before getting up. "I need to bathe too. I haven't bathed in three days and two nights. Did you smell my sweat?"

Chapter 1136: Don't Unbutton Anymore!

If there really was a smell, Ye Jian would have smelled it already. There wasn't any smell of sweat. She could only smell a refreshing fragrance in her nose.

Ye Jian teased him, "Captain Xia has a natural body fragrance. Why will you smell like sweat?"

"Really?" Xia Jinyuan smiled as he raised his hand to unbutton his cuff. There was a lazy expression on his handsome and elegant face. He smiled mysteriously at Ye Jian and said, "Not bad, at least I didn't scare my girlfriend away with my smell. In the future, when I sneak into your room in the middle of the night, I won't have to worry about waking you up because of my sweat."

If she wanted to fight with Xia Jinyuan's shamelessness, she could only lose.

Ye Jian recalled the image of him sneaking into her room in the middle of the night. Her face turned red unconsciously. She took the blanket and hugged it in her arms. She said in a tense voice, "I'm just being polite. Captain Xia, you are busy every day. Don't you know how dirty you are?"

...He really wasn't dirty. After taking off his outerwear, there was a clean white shirt inside. There was no sweat stain on it and it was so clean and white that she could almost smell the fresh laundry. He raised his head slightly and revealed his sexy neck. Then, he started unbuttoning his shirt with his slender fingers, starting from the top. As his fingers moved, Ye Jian, who never had any interest in a man's body, stared at him intently.

She didn't know that a man could look so handsome when he was unbuttoning his shirt. His expression was relaxed and his laid-back posture naturally merged with his elegant aura. It combined to form an extreme kind of sexiness.

At 24 years old, he was able to capture her attention even more than when he was 20 years old. He was mature, sexy, stern, composed... In front of her, he would occasionally reveal the gentleness of a soldier. Ye Jian could almost hear her heart pounding.

Xia Jinyuan was a sensitive person. When he noticed the girl he liked staring at him intently with an enchanted expression, the corners of his lips lifted a little. He was always confident in his body.

Little Fox saw the naked body of many male soldiers when she was training with them... He couldn't deny that he was a little jealous.

She never really looked at his body much.

"Stop, stop, stop. You can go to the bathroom now..." After Major Xia unbuttoned the third button and his chest muscles were almost revealed, Ye Jian, who remained firm that she wouldn't be seduced by a man, quickly asked him to stop and pointed to the bathroom. She said seriously, "You can take it off inside. Place your dirty clothes in the laundry basket."

If she didn't stop him now, she would keep admiring him until... he took off his pants!

Xia Jinyuan always had this thought: when the time comes, he must show off more of his figure in front of his girlfriend. Hence, it was impossible that he would go into the bathroom obediently and take off his clothes. That wouldn't be Xia Jinyuan.

His fingers stopped beside the fourth button. As he unbuttoned it slowly, he smiled elegantly and said, "If I take it off here, I can throw it into the laundry bag before I go into the bathroom. When I take off my pants, I don't have to worry about slipping. If I fall, you might have to come in to pull me up."

He was probably the only person that could come up with a reason like this.

After he finished speaking, he raised his head and looked at the bed. Under the dim and warm light, he could clearly see the embarrassment on Ye Jian's face. There weren't any impurities on it. It was as clear as the spring water. It made him feel like teasing her and loving her after that.

Ye Jian looked into his eyes. She saw the smile in his eyes. In the end, the room was filled with his bright laughter. Ye Jian was so embarrassed she jumped up from the bed abruptly.

Did he get addicted to undressing? Why was he unbuttoning his clothes so slowly?

Fine, since he wanted to take off his clothes to show her his body, she would help him to take them off!

Chapter 1137: Tore A Major's Clothes With Bare Hands. How Wild

"Hey, hey, hey, slowly, slowly. The bed has a good spring. Don't jump and hit your head on the ceiling." Xia Jinyuan got a shock when he saw her sudden change of movement. He couldn't care about teasing her anymore. He hurriedly hugged Ye Jian who was planning to jump down the bed. "Why did you suddenly..."

Ye Jian, who was in his arms, decided to be fierce, which was a rare thing. She grabbed his collar with both hands and pulled his clothes apart viciously as he was talking. There was no need to unbutton the fourth button anymore. She had pulled off everything for him.

Xia Jinyuan was speechless when he saw how fierce Ye Jian was. At first, he wanted to ask why she suddenly got so agitated... She was really agitated now. The remaining buttons were all pulled off by her.

The pearly buttons bounced on the wooden ground and gave off clear and crisp sounds. Xia Jinyuan was in a daze as he followed the direction of the sounds and looked on the ground. He saw a button bouncing and rolling under the bed.

"Why did you suddenly... become so agitated?" He finished saying the words he wanted to say and looked at Ye Jian with his deep gaze. He continued, "Tearing my clothes with bare hands. That's a little wild."

Fortunately, he was wearing a shirt. If he was wearing a T-shirt, he might be able to see a wilder side of her.

He recalled the moment when Ye Jian tore his shirt with bare hands. The 24-year-old major felt his nose getting a little... itchy. The image was a little exciting!

Ye Jian didn't just tear his shirt apart. She continued grabbing his collar and pulled his clothes down his shoulders. She snorted, "There's no need to take it off slowly for me. I will take it off for you!"

"I have never helped a man to take off clothes before so I'm a little unfamiliar with it. Don't blame me," Ye Jian added. She wanted to appear more domineering but Major Xia burst out laughing instead.

He laughed so loudly that his chest muscles started vibrating. Ye Jian was looking down so she could clearly see the sexy chest of the man heaving up and down after she tore off his clothes. He was exuding the beastly charisma of a man everywhere.

She seemed to have been a little overly wild, Ye Jian wondered to herself.

"It looks like I need to prepare more shirts in the future for you to tear." Why was the girl he liked so interesting? He raised his eyebrows and said with an evil smile, "Coincidentally, I have never helped a woman to take off her clothes so I'm not familiar with it either. My actions might be even more unfamiliar than you. Little Fox, don't blame me if I take them off too slowly in the future."

When the same words came out of his mouth, Ye Jian, who was already feeling embarrassed, turned extremely red in the face. Her face started burning all the way to the back of her ears.

“It’s wild but it’s exciting too. Why didn’t I realize that you have such an interesting side in the past?” Xia Jinyuan really loved the other sides she revealed occasionally. It was so real.

Other people wouldn’t know these sides of her. He was the only one who would see the other sides of the woman he loved. Just thinking about this made his heart fill up with love.

Ye Jian didn’t want to listen to him anymore. She started regretting her wild actions.

When she heard his shameless words again, the easily shy Ye Jian covered his mouth and glared at him with her black eyes. “Xia Jinyuan, don’t talk anymore. Shut up!”

Even though his mouth was covered, it didn’t stop him from laughing. The gentleness in his eyes was as deep as the sea. It was enough to drown Ye Jian. He looked at her intently and a deep voice came from his throat. “Alright, I won’t talk about it anymore. I won’t.”

Chapter 1138: If You’re Unfamiliar With It, You Should Practice

His thin lips moved against her palm gently. It was moist, warm, and a little ticklish. It felt like she got electrocuted. Ye Jian got a shock and retracted her hand quickly. Then, she put on a stern face and said, “Hurry up and bathe! Don’t mention what happened just now ever again!”

Why did she tear his clothes just now?

But, she didn’t regret it. At least she was able to see a stunned look on his face that lasted for 30 seconds. He was shocked by her actions.

“Why don’t you help me to the end and take off all my clothes for me?” His shirt was hanging below his shoulders. Xia Jinyuan continued to discuss the fun of ‘tearing clothes’ shamelessly. There seemed to be an ancient well embedded in his black and deep gaze. It was so deep it felt endless. He smiled as he looked at Ye Jian and said, “If you’re unfamiliar with it, you should practice. You will get skilled at it one day after a few rounds of practice.”

As he spoke, he gave an ambiguous smile and moved closer to Ye Jian’s ear. He whispered something into her ear and Ye Jian bit his shoulder immediately without any hesitation.

Xia Jinyuan, you’re a scoundrel!

“You called me a scoundrel in your heart, right? Little Fox, if both parties love each other, I’m not a scoundrel. That should be called mutual affinity.” Her bite felt like a small puppy licking his shoulder. It was so gentle. She couldn’t bear to hurt him.

She bit him while he said the things he wanted to say in his heart. His cheek rubbed her ear lightly. Under the warm light, two figures were hugging each other and rubbing their heads. Time seemed to have stopped. The atmosphere was even sweeter than honey.

Xia Jinyuan was a gentleman and he was a responsible person. However, he had a common fault all men have: domineering.

However, his dominance was a little different. It was not the kind where the other party must listen to him. It was dominance filled with much care and thought. Ye Jian was able to feel love and the happiness of being taken care of by him.

Just now, he said, "A person will meet many people in his life. However, the only person he can hug is his woman. He doesn't know how to love her but he will work hard to love her and let her know that his love is all put into action."

"As a normal man, anyone will have some thoughts towards his woman. That was normal. He hoped that one day, he could explore with her and wish that she would be able to accept it and not run away abruptly. Of course, everything is built on the fact that she's willing to do it."

Ye Jian always thought that she was someone who wouldn't feel touched easily. However, when she heard this, she couldn't deny that she was really moved. She was extremely touched.

As he hugged the boney Ye Jian in his arms, the adult conversation ended. It couldn't be helped. The little fox in his arms was no longer the little girl he met in the beginning. She should know all the things 18-year-olds should know.

"Bear with it. If you really want to eat, I don't mind you biting me a few times. Be obedient and go back to sleep. If you don't want to sleep, you can read some books. After I finish bathing, I can chat with you."

She had slept for a few hours so Ye Jian didn't feel sleepy anymore. She hadn't talked to him in a few months so it was a good idea to have a chat with him.

Xia Jinyuan bathed quickly. Three minutes later, he wore a sports shirt and shorts and sauntered over carrying a cool atmosphere. "Switch on the main light if you're reading. The table lamp is too dim. It will hurt your eyes."

Chapter 1139: Broad-minded Major

"I'm just flipping through it. I don't plan to read it." She has known him for a long time. From rejection to gradually accepting him, Ye Jian could clearly feel that even the topics they talked about changed dramatically. They became naturally intimate. She looked at the man sitting beside her with water droplets on his skin and smiled. "After bathing, you smell nicer."

May just came. At night, the temperature was perfect. Their physiques were good so they didn't need to cover their bodies with a thin blanket. They placed a pillow behind their backs and started chatting in low voices.

At the start, they talked about sweet things and towards the end, they started on serious topics.

“The navy commando will be having Frogmen training in July and August. The major general has already helped you to send the request to the navy. We are waiting for the navy to reply. If everything goes according to plan, after your university entrance examination results come out, you will have to leave immediately to participate in a foundation training that will last around ten days.”

When he spoke about serious matters, he became stern. “You have never experienced any navy training so it’s good for you to learn from them for a month.”

Frogmen training?

Ye Jian’s eyes lit up when she heard this. She tilted her body unconsciously. “It sounds so mysterious. Is it a special forces unit in the navy?”

“It’s about the same. However, we are used to calling them the commandos. The instructor in charge of the training is a famous person in the navy. I have worked with him two times. The first time I trained with him, I entered the special forces unit and he entered the commandos.”

One wanted to go navy while the other wanted to go army. They used half a year to create their own path.

The corners of his lips lifted a little as Xia Jinyuan recalled the past. “He’s an outstanding commando. In our batch, he’s the one that always competes with me. Even the instructors felt helpless when we competed.”

What a powerful person!

“Why did they feel helpless? Did you fight him?” Ye Jian was interested. It wasn’t because this person was powerful. It was because she noticed Xia Jinyuan’s expression. He seemed to feel very appreciative of this person. In her heart, Captain Xia was really amazing. She didn’t know that there was someone as strong as him!

Her eager expression made Xia Jinyuan raise his eyebrows. “Do you want to see me fighting with someone else? In that case, do you want me to win or lose?”

Ye Jian smiled. She wanted to see both!

“You can’t help an outsider, Little Fox.” He raised his hand and flicked her forehead lightly. Then, he laughed and continued, “The result you want to see didn’t happen. In the half a year of training, I didn’t lose and he didn’t lose. We ended in a tie.”

Two equally strong soldiers came together and got distributed to the same training team. One wore a clean white army uniform while the other wore a dark green military uniform. They left a lasting impression on their instructors.

“He’s not a bad person but he doesn’t like to talk. I lived in the same dormitory as him. When we wake up, he nods at me. After we come back, he nods at me. The same thing continued every day.”

“One day, our instructor saw us and asked if we had cervical spondylosis since we kept stretching our necks every day. At that time, everyone laughed. Thinking back about it, I want to laugh too.”

When talking about an outstanding soldier from the same batch, Xia Jinyuan wasn't stingy with his praises. Li Jinnian was indeed a soldier worth respecting.

Although they belonged to different military units, he heard of his affairs occasionally. When the ships at the bay area caught fire, he was the one who led his commando team to dive into the sea and saved multiple civilians at the risk of being burnt alive. An outstanding person who wasn't afraid of sacrificing should be respected!

Chapter 1140: A King Meets A King

Ye Jian, who was listening quietly, felt that Xia Jinyuan really admired this person. She couldn't help but smile, “That means that if I go there, I can't tell him that I know you. He might make my training harder. Oh right, what's his name?”

“He will really make your training tougher.” Xia Jinyuan laughed softly. This little fellow had so many thoughts in her mind. Was she afraid that Li Jinnian would abuse his power for private revenge?

He didn't have any grudges with Li Jinnian in the past. He only contacts him one or two times a year but they don't have any conflicts.

He looked at Ye Jian's glistening eyes. She seemed to think that he had definitely been beaten by Li Jinnian before. He felt speechless as he said, “I have no grudges with Demon King Li. Training is training. If you don't want to be the first, you aren't a good soldier. Both of us wanted to be the first during training but we have a good relationship in private.”

Ye Jian retracted her gaze. In her past life, Ye Ying's mother-in-law was surnamed 'Li' too. However, the person Ye Ying married was a mystery. Even the people in the village didn't know who Ye Ying married.

She never cared about Ye Ying's in-laws. In her past life, the people that harmed her were Ye Zhifan and Ye Ying.

“Li Jinnian is a perfectionist. Once he notices an unqualified person attempting to pass his time in the military by playing small tricks, he will 'invite' him out of the commandos without any mercy. He went to a military school in the west for half a year so his way of doing things is a little cruel and ruthless.”

Since Ye Jian was going to Li Jinnian's team, Xia Jinyuan started telling her some classic experiences that were able to portray this person's personality. He didn't notice the gloomy gaze that flashed past Ye Jian's eyes.

“He gives equal treatment to everyone that goes to his team, no matter what their identity is. He has an upright personality, an admirable person.” As he spoke, he placed his hands behind his head. His long legs were crossed lazily and he exuded a natural elegance. He would occasionally touch Ye Jian's feet lightly. When Ye Jian glared at him, he immediately smiled and retracted his leg.

“Last year, a soldier with quite a powerful background went into his team. I heard that he’s the son of a certain adviser of a certain military district. That fellow did have some ability too. He represented the country for boxing and came back with a silver medal.”

“Since he had the ability and his background was good, it was inevitable that he was a little proud. On the first day, he was dissatisfied with the arrangement of his dormitory and said that he wasn’t used to living in a four-person dormitory so he requested an individual room. At that time, Li Jinnian didn’t say anything. He just turned and called the headquarters of the navy. Two hours later, the son of the adviser was asked to leave the training camp.”

“Everyone is equal. Everyone had the same training and the same learning. There is no special privilege and no difference in status. Little Fox, after you go in, he will also say that there’s no difference in treatment between a male and a female.”

After hearing so many things about Li Jinnian, Ye Jian started to get curious about the content of his training. “He sounds like a good person with a strong principle. Is he very strict in his training?”

Xia Jinyuan pondered for a moment before replying, “His training is stricter than what other soldiers imagine. Every year, during the recruitment of commandos, he can pick only ten to twenty soldiers out of thousands of navy soldiers.”

“If you are in his team, one month of training is worth three months of training outside. Learn properly and lay a good foundation. It will be beneficial for your training in the future.”

Xia Jinyuan didn’t play down his strongest opponent from the past. Instead, Ye Jian could feel his admiration for Jinnian in all his words. He wasn’t worried about ruining his image to raise another person’s image when he complimented another man in front of Ye Jian.
