

Chapter 1381: Shouting Abuse

Ye Jian stayed in the village for one night. The next day, she left Shuikou Village at 5 am. When a villager wanted to call Ye Jian to his house to have breakfast at 7 am, they found out that she had left.

“This girl is still the same as before. She’s afraid of disturbing others.”

Principal Chen smiled. “She was in a hurry to catch the train and didn’t want to miss the reporting time. She would rather be safe than sorry. She didn’t wake me up and packed her luggage and left.”

The child has finally grown up and flew far away. Principal Chen chatted and laughed with the villager as they walked towards the vegetable garden. Ye Jian went to school. He will tidy up the vegetable garden and report to the military the day after tomorrow.

“Before I left, I reminded you repeatedly that if Ye Jian comes back, don’t go against her!” After receiving his wife’s call, Ye Zhifan, who drove back early in the morning, scolded her angrily, “You are good. The moment she came back, you blocked her way before she even entered her house. You even dared to scold Uncle Gen. Sun Dongqing, did water enter your brain?”

Ye Zhifan didn’t even enter the house. After he picked up Sun Dongqing, he immediately drove off. He couldn’t afford to lose face!

Sun Dongqing, who didn’t sleep for the entire night, was still in a sorry state. Her hair wasn’t combed and her face was swollen. When she heard this, she covered her neck that still had marks and retorted. “Ye Zhifan, do you still have a conscience? I was almost killed by a little girl. You didn’t stand up for me and even scolded me! Are you a man?”

Ye Jian was so ruthless yesterday that her voice was hoarse now.

“Little girl? Sun Dongqing, she wants to kill you. Do you think she’s still a little girl?” Ye Zhifan really didn’t want to bother about his stupid family member. She was always creating trouble for him. There was no time to rest!

That’s right. Yesterday, Ye Jian really wanted to kill her. Sun Dongqing felt a chill on her neck. She hurriedly covered her neck and revealed a frightened expression.

Ye Zhifan got angrier when he saw this.

She couldn’t win against Ye Jian, but she still dared to provoke Ye Jian!

Zhang Defu called last night and said that the villagers of Shuikou Village wouldn’t dare to have anything to do with Director Ye in the future. They were afraid that Sun Dongqing would scold their ancestors too!

Those words were extremely harsh!

After all, he was an official from Shuikou Village. If even the locals didn't acknowledge him... his reputation would be ruined if this got out! If his political enemies took the chance, who knew what kind of trouble it would cause?

His career is going to be affected... Ye Zhifan's eyes flashed with anger and his voice became fiercer. "Do you think that you will have an advantage if you scold her? Sun Dongqing, will you only be satisfied if I get investigated and the province takes my position away?"

"If you really had the upper hand, it would've been fine. But in the end, she almost killed you! I say, why didn't she just kill you?"

Ye Zhifan was furious too. He was still trying to pull strings with the officers who came to Uncle Gen's funeral yesterday but she blocked his path with one sentence!

Once Ye Jian and Chen Dongfeng told Commander Liu and Commissar Yan about this... Ha, don't talk about sending his daughter into the capital city's political regiment. There was no hope of even entering the local military unit!

Her husband didn't help her and even cursed her for not getting killed. Sun Dongqing had always been able to stand up straight in front of Ye Zhifan. When she heard this, she felt like a volcano had erupted. She immediately scolded Ye Zhifan in the car, "Good, good, you finally said the truth!"

Chapter 1382: You Did Something Stupid!

"You want me to die? Fine, kill me now! Ye Jian doesn't need to do anything. I'll let you do it. Please kill me!"

Ye Zhifan was so angry his temples were bulging. He stopped the car by the side of the road and shouted, "If I can kill you, I will fking kill you, you idiot who ruined our daughter's future!"

"What do you mean?" As long as Ye Ying was involved, Sun Dongqing would be able to grasp the main point instantly. She stopped making a fuss and stared at her husband with disheveled hair. "What do you mean? What does scolding Ye Jian have to do with Yingying's future?"

Ye Zhifan, who had been having a hard time for the past few days, rolled down the car window in frustration. He lit a cigarette for himself and took a puff. "Ye Jian attended Uncle Gen's funeral while wearing her military uniform and insignia."

"Isn't she a military student? What's so great about wearing a military uniform?" Before her husband finished speaking, Sun Dongqing pouted and said, "Our Yingying can also wear a military uniform even after entering the capital city's political regiment."

The lesson last night had some effect. Subconsciously, Sun Dongqing didn't dare to call her 'wicked girl' anymore.

“So what if I scold her? She deserves to be scolded!” Sun Dongqing didn’t know what trouble she caused Ye Zhifan. When she mentioned Ye Jian, she didn’t realize that her arrogance had diminished. “Stop scaring me!”

Ye Zhifan sneered when he saw that she still didn’t notice anything. “I’m scaring you? Sun Dongqing, let me tell you. Ye Jian is a soldier with a military rank now! She’s not a military student!”

“The day before yesterday, she met the soldiers as Uncle Gen’s granddaughter. Do you know who those soldiers were? The leaders of the military school came, the leaders of the military came... and even a lieutenant general!”

“They were all there to attend Uncle Gen’s funeral! They all know Ye Jian! Ye Jian knows them all!”

Ye Zhifan shouted until saliva flew everywhere.

Sun Dongqing was still in a daze. She twisted her body uneasily. It seems... As she thought about it, she finally understood the main point. Her expression changed drastically. Then, her lips trembled and her face turned pale.

“Ye Jian... knows them? Are... are you sure?” Her daughter was going to the capital city. If Ye Jian really knew so many officers... Sun Dongqing felt her hands and feet turning cold. Even her heart had turned cold. “No, that’s impossible. She’s an orphan. No, that’s impossible.”

“Uncle Gen, that old thing... How is that possible? How can there be so many officers attending his funeral? Ye Zhifan, don’t scare me.”

Afraid? Now you know what fear is?

Ye Zhifan glared at her viciously. He gritted his teeth and sneered, “Are you afraid? Are you afraid now? Also, the lieutenant general personally sent Ye Jian back to the guesthouse that night! It doesn’t matter if she doesn’t know other officers. She just needs to know the lieutenant general!”

“I tried my best to make connections with the military unit but you ruined all my efforts! Sun Dongqing, did you have no other person to scold? How dare you scold Uncle Gen?”

“The dead are the biggest. Do you know that? If you dare to scold like this in the village, people with children will come to your house to fight you! Are you stupid? Don’t drag me and our daughter into this.”

“Our daughter wants to enter the capital city’s political regiment? Let me tell you, Ye Jian just needs to report what happened yesterday to the officers she knows and she can forget about even entering a local military unit!”

Chapter 1383: Show Mercy

Sun Dongqing was stunned. “I didn’t know... I thought that after Uncle Gen died, Ye Jian would return to before... I don’t know. You didn’t say anything. How would I know when I’m in the village?”

She stammered and couldn’t make a complete sentence. She was at a loss for words.

“You didn’t tell me anything. How would I know that she’s so powerful? How would I know who she knows? If I were there, I wouldn’t have dared to say anything.”

The more she spoke, the more confused Sun Dongqing became. She started to panic. She turned around and stomped her feet. She was like ants on a hot pan.

Ye Zhifan finished his cigarette in a few breaths and glanced coldly at Sun Dongqing. She was getting anxious now. He opened the car door and got in with a dark face. “Do you think you can come up with a solution just by staying here? Get in!”

“Okay, okay, okay.” Sun Dongqing didn’t dare to argue anymore. She could only rely on her husband to explain the mess she created. It was better for her to listen to him. The most important thing now was to settle their daughter’s matter.

“I’ve thought about it. Apologize to Ye Jian first and then go to the cemetery to pay respects to Uncle Gen.” Ye Zhifan couldn’t think of a better solution. They could only apologize to Ye Jian so that she wouldn’t say anything. He couldn’t think of any other solution.

He wanted her to apologize?

Sun Dongqing felt a sharp pain in her chest. “I was almost killed by her. Why should I apologize to her? Do I have to do something so demeaning?” She was so angry!

“If you want to apologize to her, you have to see if she’ll accept it in the first place!” Ye Zhifan didn’t want to say anything else. He was prepared for the worst. If Ye Ying couldn’t enter the military unit, she would be sent overseas.

Not only was Sun Dongqing’s chest hurting, but her liver was hurting too. After some time, she suppressed her anger until her expression was distorted. She gritted her teeth and said, “Apologize! For Yingying, I will apologize even if I have to kneel!”

“Where is she? Find her now!”

For her daughter’s future, she was willing to risk everything! As long as her daughter was successful, she would teach Ye Jian a lesson one day!

“If I knew where she was, I would have brought you over! We’ll go directly to her school.” Ye Zhifan was probably too angry. He gritted his teeth tightly every time he spoke. He even tightened his grip on the steering wheel.

Both husband and wife were in a bad mood. The gloominess on their faces was so strong that the sun outside couldn’t brighten them.

Ye Jian, who was driving, didn’t expect Ye Zhifan and his wife to go to her school because of Ye Ying. She used her peripheral vision to look at Xia Jinyuan, who was resting with his eyes closed. Before she could retract her gaze, she heard him say lazily, “Little Fox, if you continue to peek at me, my sleepiness will be gone.”

Ye Jian didn't feel awkward. Instead, she smiled and said, "I still don't know who won the competition."

As soon as he returned to the military unit, Commander Liu and Commissar Yan dragged him to the shooting range and the obstacle course to compete with the soldiers. Commander Liu only told her that Captain Xia was outnumbered by the soldiers but he didn't tell her the final result.

"There's only one result." Xia Jinyuan smiled. There was a hint of evilness in his elegant and handsome face. He sighed. "I pity the 24 soldiers. They are probably still being punished."

Competing with a Special Forces soldier on comprehensive skills usually didn't end well.

However, she didn't expect him to not show mercy. "You know that they are pitiful. Why didn't you show mercy?"

Chapter 1384: The Start of Glory

"I cannot show mercy. Commander Liu and Commissar Yan said that they want to test if I'm qualified to be your boyfriend. Little Fox, I'm trying my best to prove to them that I am."

Xia Jinyuan was no longer sleepy. He turned his body and looked at the girl he loved with a gentle gaze. When he saw that she was smiling because of what he said, he couldn't help but smile too. "I can't show mercy in yesterday's competition. If I lose, Commander Liu and Commissar Yan will definitely call you. They will advise you to carefully consider becoming my wife or not."

...

"Captain Xia, where did Brother Zi say he was waiting for us?" Ye Jian didn't want to know the results. She only knew that if she continued, the thick-skinned Xia Jinyuan would say more things that would make her blush. She forcefully changed the topic, making Xia Jinyuan raise his eyebrows and laugh.

Ye Jian couldn't help but blush when she heard his low laughter.

During the six-hour drive from Shuikou Village to Anyang City, the laughter in the car never stopped.

He accompanied her all the way. On the 31st, she reached school. The smile on Ye Jian's face never ceased. With someone who was wholeheartedly good to her, someone who was willing to coax, pamper, and love her, no matter how cold Ye Jian's heart was, it was slowly warmed up.

"I can report in on my own. You don't have to accompany me." When they reached the Chinese Academy of Sciences, which was even more solemn than other universities, Ye Jian whispered to Xia Jinyuan, "You should go back and report in too. Don't always get distracted because of me."

Xia Jinyuan didn't mind rushing back for one or two hours. He changed into his military uniform and pointed at the entrance. He smiled and said, "It's the cadet military training period now. If you go in like this, the sentinels won't let you in."

At the mention of the sentinels, a young man in a military uniform walked over and saluted Xia Jinyuan. "Hello, teacher. How can I help you?"

“It’s alright. I’ll bring her to complete her registration.” Xia Jinyuan returned the student’s salute and asked, “Where is the registration place for the new students? Just tell me.”

After checking the relevant documents and confirming Ye Jian’s identity as a new student, the strict security of the Chinese Academy of Sciences allowed Ye Jian to enter the school.

One step, two steps. As she walked past the school gate with the national emblem on it, Ye Jian finally started her military school career.

This was a new page of her life. It would push Ye Jian into glory step by step!

“Congratulations, Little Fox. You’re one step closer to your goal.” Xia Jinyuan handed the training uniform to Ye Jian personally. He focused on the girl that set him as her goal. “I spent four years here. Now, you will be spending four years here too. Little Fox, see you in the military unit four years later.”

His little fox has finally grown into a pine tree that could withstand wind and snow. And he would wait for her return four years later!

“New student, Ye Jian, reporting!” The late new student, Ye Jian, finally arrived in front of the 45 new students and recruits. As a girl and one of the only three girls in the class, Ye Jian’s appearance was like a breeze in the scorching summer, blowing away the heat from the 42 boys.

The ones in charge of the military training were the seniors of the Chinese Academy of Sciences. It was an old rule in this school. The new students were all trained by the outstanding seniors.

Although the students in charge of the military training were in their fourth year, Ye Jian could see the qualities that a military officer should have in them. They had cold expressions and sharp eyes. Ye Jian straightened her back and accepted the gazes.

Chapter 1385: Ready to Fight at Any Time!

The military training for the cadets was an order issued by the general political department. Their enrollment day was a month earlier than the new students in other universities.

The new cadets must follow the rules stated in the notification letter and end their holiday one month earlier to complete their military training that was much harsher than other universities’.

The freshmen cannot be excused from the military training. This was because they could only wear their glorious military uniforms and become a member of the military school after going through brutal and strict military training.

From formation, internal affairs, disciplinary education, general knowledge of the military, basic tactics, use of light weapons to knowledge of services and arms, they have to go through all these during the freshmen military training period

To get all the freshmen to completely transform from local youths to qualified soldiers as soon as possible. They would get used to life in the military unit in advance. They would follow all the rules and regulations and obey orders unconditionally.

All the new students followed the rules strictly. Even if they were so tired that they could only crawl back to their dormitory the first day, they still gritted their teeth and persevered the next day.

Someone couldn't take it anymore and wanted to drop out of school in a fit of anger. On the same day, he was called over by the political instructor for a talk. The next day, he was seen on the training ground again.

"Since you chose to enter the military school, you should know that this is not a place where you can come and go as you please! No one is special and no one can escape the orders from the government. No matter how good your results are, you will not be special here! Persistence is your only choice!"

No one was special. No one could escape the military training. Then... why didn't this new student, Ye Jian, participate in the military training in advance?

Being stared at by her senior brothers and the other 45 students in the class, Ye Jian maintained her posture and accepted the gazes.

Only the school leaders knew that Ye Jian went to the skerry to complete her frogmen training. The senior-year student in charge of the military training didn't have the right to know. Thus, when Ye Jian suddenly appeared, he was stunned for three seconds. In a breath's time, he reacted and said in a low voice, "Fall in!"

He didn't know what was going on but Ye Jian was able to complete her enrolment without participating in the military training. She was able to collect her uniform to participate in the last day of the military training assessment. It was evident that she had already submitted relevant files to the military district and the school and they agreed to waive her military training.

Since she had made it to the final physical fitness test, she would have to complete the test like all the new students.

The squad leader only took three seconds to realize the crux of the matter. He didn't question Ye Jian and asked her to return to the team immediately.

"Eighth horizontal bar exercise, you pass if you complete the third exercise. Seventh parallel bars exercise, you pass if you complete the third exercise." In the afternoon, there was a comprehensive physical test for the military training. It was also to test the results of training after a month. The instructor announced the subjects that needed to be tested in the afternoon. "1500 meters of lightweight, fully armed running, 800 meters of running, and sit-up test."

"All tests will be carried out according to the 'Physical Test Scoring Standards'. Single-unit percentile scoring will be implemented."

After the leader finished talking about the physical fitness test, a smile suddenly appeared on his serious face. "Junior Brothers and Sisters, I wish you all the best in passing the test and getting your own military uniform."

His gaze gradually shifted to Ye Jian, who was standing in the first row. "New student Ye Jian, are you ready?"

"I am ready for the test at any time!" Ye Jian replied calmly. This was her journey. Why wasn't she ready?

Chapter 1386: A Strong Opponent

As they looked at the girl standing straight in front of them and listened to her confident and calm reply, the male students in the class, who had the upper hand in physical fitness, felt nervous for some reason. A few words appeared in their minds simultaneously: A strong opponent has arrived.

The squad leader, who had switched his identity to a 'Senior Brother', nodded and smiled. "Not bad, you're very confident. What we want is confidence. Also, Senior Brother wants to tell you something. Students with good stamina will be able to enjoy many benefits in the future. As long as their results are good in that month, they can arrange their own training schedule for the next month."

Pointing at himself, his senior brother started boasting shamelessly. "Take me for example. I can arrange four months of training for myself every year. Every time I go back to the dormitory and see them exhausted while I can go to the laboratory feeling refreshed, I am so proud of myself!"

In other words, not only was the squad leader a top student, but he was also a top student in physical skills!

"In the military school, physical fitness and learning are equally important. We, the cadets, call them a 'second life'. Sometimes, it's even more important than studies!"

"Especially the physical fitness assessment that takes place weekly and monthly. All of you need to be mentally prepared. Many of the weaker students who studied in high school just to get into a good school couldn't pass the physical fitness assessment so they had to sacrifice their free time that was more precious to military school students than jewelry. They used the weekend to train their physical fitness."

"Junior Brothers and Sisters, all the best! This assessment will affect your physical fitness schedule for the next month. Those with good results can go to the library, the laboratory, or the classroom. Those with bad results can continue to enjoy sunbathing under the city's sun."

Victory seemed to be right in front of them. They thought that if they survived today, they would be liberated tomorrow. Who knew... that there would be days and years of physical training after that. Those who were physically weaker turned pale immediately.

"Ten minutes' rest on the spot. When our brothers next door are done, it'll be our class's turn." A sharp whistle sounded. The senior returned to being the squad leader and shouted, "Attention, at ease! Dismissed!"

The sudden increase in psychological pressure didn't make the students smile. A few arrogant boys clenched their training clothes tightly and said indignantly, "Are you kidding me? A test every week and every month. Do we still need to study?"

"Are we here to learn or to train? Damn! What are they planning?"

"Stop talking. You're not the only one like this. We're all the same. It's the same for the second-years, third-years, and fourth-years. We're no exception!"

"Tsk, let's not say that we have no exception. Isn't there an exception in our class? Why is that new student an exception? F*ck! We came a month in advance just in time for when the sun is at its hottest. Good for her. She came here easily, all fair and clean."

Another boy picked up a military canteen and drank a few mouthfuls of water. He continued unhappily, "She's quite pretty. I'm afraid she's from another high official's family. She's already making an exception from the start. I wonder how many more exceptions she will have in the future."

"Do you want to be criticized again? Didn't you learn your lesson last time?" The male student sitting beside him warned in a low voice. He glanced at Ye Jian, who was talking to the squad leader and lowered his voice. "If she really belongs to a high official's family, we can't afford to offend her."

Chapter 1387: No Psychological Burden

"Besides, she doesn't have military training now but what about in the future? Didn't you hear what Senior Brother said? If she doesn't pass the physical tests in the future, she will have to suffer. No pain, no gain!"

It was probably a psychological effect. The male students, who were unhappy that Ye Jian didn't participate in the military training, felt a little better. Actually, it was nothing. They just felt that it was unfair and said a few words.

The students resting on the ground under the scorching sun will more or less talk about the student who came out of nowhere. One of the students suddenly exclaimed and slapped his forehead. He said to the students beside him, "Ye Jian, Ye Jian! She's that Ye Jian! The country's top scholar, Ye Jian!"

The students who were able to enter the Chinese Academy of Sciences all had good results. When he mentioned this, a few people reacted immediately. "Yes, yes, yes. It's that Ye Jian! Her scores were frighteningly high! Oh my god, she got into our school."

The topic started to revolve around Ye Jian.

The squad leader was explaining the subjects that he had tested in the morning to Ye Jian. "Student, since you're here, why don't you do a make up for the rest of the tests you missed? You can report with me later. After you finish the afternoon's tests, you can do the retests."

Push-ups, standing long jumps, 10-meter runback, sit-ups, squats... Ye Jian's focus was not on these tests. Instead, it was on the brackets behind each test. The bracket said 'unlimited'.

“Excuse me. I want to know what ‘unlimited’ means.” She wasn’t worried that she wouldn’t be able to pass a simple test. She just wanted to understand the rules.

The squad leader explained with tears in his eyes, “It means that there’s no time limit. Let’s see what your limit is. The more you do, the better your physical performance scores will be.”

“The highest score can’t be higher than 100 points,” Ye Jian joked without any psychological burden.

The senior squad leader replied seriously, “We can put 100+ on it. That means that it is outstanding.”

That meant that there was no problem. Ye Jian smiled and pointed at the earliest test. It was a five-kilometer cross-country run. “Then I’ll leave this for tonight. Can you arrange it tonight?”

Her sudden appearance caused some students to be unhappy. In a military school that emphasized power, Ye Jian didn’t mind using her powers to tell her classmates that it wasn’t that she didn’t come because she didn’t want to. It wasn’t because she wanted to avoid military training.

She glanced at the male students who were drinking water and smiled. “Let’s complete all the tests in one day.”

Everyone finished their military training in one day. Since she was here, she couldn’t leave an ‘exceptional’ impression on her classmates.

She still wanted to enjoy her four years of military school life.

“Sure, we will make the arrangements.” Seeing that the new student was competent, the squad leader relaxed. He maintained a serious expression and reminded Ye Jian, “You will be the last one to go up later. You can watch how they do it first.”

Weren’t they taking the test together?

Ye Jian narrowed her eyes slightly. She had another idea in her mind. “It’s a little late to be the last one. How about this? I’ll go and complete the afternoon tests first and then rush over to finish the morning tests. What do you think?”

There were students who volunteered to take the test but most of them were students with outstanding physical fitness during the military training... This was the first time the fourth-year senior brother met a new student who volunteered to take the test the moment she entered.

Chapter 1388: Stand in Military Stance for Half an Hour

The squad leader didn’t agree to Ye Jian’s request immediately. He pondered for a moment before replying, “I need to report this first. You can rest here first. I...”

“Class Three’s squad leader, come over for a moment.” A loud and clear male voice was heard. The Chief Instructor, who was in charge of the new students, strode over. “Bring your new student, Ye Jian, to Training Field One. Hurry!”

Ye Jian was standing beside the squad leader. Hearing this, she saluted the chief instructor and reported, “New student Ye Jian, report!”

“You...” The gaze of the chief instructor, who received the instructions from the general affairs department, swept over.

Ye Jian? Her voice was strong but she was a little skinny. The Chief Instructor seemed to want to say something. He paused for a moment and said, “Okay, go to Training Field One and complete the tests with Class Six. Then, rush back to finish the afternoon tests!”

Ye Jian didn’t even need to mention it. The school arranged for her to complete the test as soon as possible.

After speaking, he turned to the squad leader of Class Three and said, “Call a few students over to take down the scores. Class Six is conducting their tests now. She needs a scorer.”

“Yes!” The squad leader turned around and called some students. “The few of you, follow the Chief Instructor.”

The boys’ expressions turned a little stiff. They had just said that the new student didn’t come for military training because she was from a high official’s family. In the end... they were being taken away by the Chief Instructor.

When they stood up, the boys’ faces were pale.

Once the few of them left with the Chief Instructor, the rest of the students were surprised. The squad leader explained, “Ye Jian will complete the morning tests before coming back later to complete the afternoon tests.”

“That can’t be. Immediately going for the afternoon tests after completing the morning tests... I only know that her results are amazing. I didn’t know that she could do this too.”

“Whether she can or not, she has to take the tests.” The expression of the senior squad leader changed instantly. His expression turned cold as he shouted at the students who still had five minutes of rest. “You can still talk about other people. It looks like you are quite energetic. Everyone, stand up!”

None of the students dared to say a word. They stood up one by one.

“Since you’re so energetic, stand in military stance for half an hour.” There was nothing else, he only asked them to stand in military stance. The squad leader was quite ruthless. “Don’t move your hands. Your head must be straight and your feet must be aligned! Open your eyes and look forward properly.”

Standing in a military stance was also called ‘stand at attention’. It was the first lesson for every soldier when they entered the military.

It was the same for the cadets. It could be said that standing at attention was the mother of all military movements. The significance behind it was quite deep.

Ye Jian had been training for more than five years. Normally, she would stand for two hours every day. When she stood, her military posture and military appearance immediately surpassed the male students standing behind her.

The male students couldn't tell the difference between her and them but the chief instructor could tell at a glance. He nodded secretly and signaled Ye Jian to start the test.

In the office of the general affairs department, Xia Jinyuan was talking to his former form teacher. "It's good to let her follow her classmates to finish the tests today. The students these days are not as well-behaved as we used to be. All of them have their own ideas."

"She didn't participate in the military training and suddenly reported in. There will be some criticism. You once taught us that power is always the strongest defense. Let her use her power to resist the criticism."

The head of the department looked at his most outstanding student who graduated five years ago. He laughed and said, "You are still the same as before. That's right. At that time, you used this method to respond to the students that criticized you."

Chapter 1389: Come, Begin!

"The school leaders have told me about Ye Jian's situation. We know that she's special. We thought about letting her report to school tomorrow but we didn't consider if the other students would have any thoughts about it."

"This is good too. Using her capabilities to resist criticism. Once the students see it, they will not talk about it anymore."

This was the effect Xia Jinyuan wanted. He didn't want Ye Jian to be criticized from the start.

She might as well stand out and use her ability to stop all the criticism. She would let the students know that she didn't participate in the military training not because she didn't want to but because if she did, the pressure on them would be even greater.

In military school, physical fitness was the 'second life' of the students. His little fox will not have a problem using her abilities to do the talking.

Smiling, he nodded and replied, "New life, new semester. There needs to be a new beginning. No one is special, and no one can criticize their classmates. In school, they are schoolmates. When they leave school, they are comrades. Disagreements and conflicts shouldn't exist within military school students."

The seemingly elegant Xia Jinyuan was definitely ruthless. If not, the members of the Snow Region Brigade wouldn't have accepted him as their commander so quickly.

The head of the department agreed with him. After talking about Ye Jian for a while, he pointed at Xia Jinyuan and said, "It should be time for you to be promoted. Why are you still a major? You should at least be a lieutenant colonel."

"It's fine as long as my salary increases," Xia Jinyuan replied amusingly. "I'm pragmatic. I'm more interested in salary increases. I just want to earn enough money to marry a wife."

This reply was very like Xia Jinyuan!

The head of the department laughed even louder. "Oh, you. I have so many students but I have the deepest impression of you. Last time, the lieutenant general teased me and asked how many times Xia Jinyuan angered me that I had to be sent to the hospital."

"I told him, there are at least three times. I'm mainly angry that I can't teach a student a lesson!"

When he talked about the interesting things that happened in the past, the head of the department felt emotional and relieved. "Time flies. In the blink of an eye, all of you have walked to your positions and became outstanding soldiers that are useful to the country. There were many famous people in your batch."

Xia Jinyuan smiled. There were many famous people in his batch. However, when it came to Little Fox's batch... His thin lips curled up a little. For truly great men, look at this age alone.

This year was Little Fox's era.

He was confident in this belief.

He looked at the time. It had been half an hour since the chief instructor left. He was sure that Little Fox was using her capabilities to resist all the criticism!

"The few of you, come over and take a look at her movements, speed control, and breathing regulation. This is the standard demonstration template!"

The new student, Ye Jian, completed two tests. The Chief Instructor's gaze landed on her. This girl is really good!

She placed her feet on the round pole 30 centimeters above the ground and placed her hands on the ground to complete 50 push-ups.

These kinds of push-ups were much more difficult than the ones on flat ground. Every time they lifted their legs, they had to maintain a certain angle at the waist. When the new students did this training, those who were not flexible enough, started screaming. Blood rushed to their faces and the veins on their foreheads appeared.

Also, the slogan was "One, up", "two, stop", "three, down" instead of the continuous "one, two, three"... It was more difficult to shout out the slogan.

Chapter 1390: The Fighter of Genius Students

50 push-ups were difficult for the new students but for Ye Jian... 50 more was not a problem.

It was not time for Ye Jian to continue. The other boys who were called over by the chief instructor were stunned when they saw the girl's slender body moving up and down.

The male student in the same class as Ye Jian looked even more awkward.

The few of them had good stamina. However, when they started training... they didn't do push-ups without panting like she was doing now.

"Are your faces red? Are they red? A man that is not even as good as a girl. Look at how tall and skinny she is. And look at you... Aren't your faces red?"

The Chief Instructor criticized the boys who needed to focus on training and didn't meet the requirements. "Why aren't you practicing? You said that you're here to study, not to learn to be laborers!"

"Ye Jian, the nation's top scholar. She came here to study like all of you! She's a senior high student like all of you. But she can still do it. How dare you find excuses for yourselves?"

Ye Jian became a model student for the teachers to educate other students on her first day of school. She didn't leave any criticism and used her abilities to shut the boys up.

The top student of the national university entrance examination had good results, good stamina, and was a girl. What about them? Their results were not bad, but they were not as good as Ye Jian. They still had the cheek to say that they were here to study and not to work!

After Xia Jinyuan left, Ye Jian used one and a half hours to complete all the tests in the morning. She pulled the training clothes that were tied up by her belt and stood in front of the Chief Instructor. "Reporting, new student Ye Jian has completed her tests. Please give your instructions!"

A few boys who were taking scores stood behind Ye Jian orderly. Their expressions were even more serious than when they were training. They were frightened!

The few of them had good stamina... but they couldn't complete so many tests within one and a half hours without resting! How did Ye Jian do it?

They also vaguely understood that Ye Jian was not given exceptions. She just had the ability to skip the rookie-level military training.

"Your skin and flesh can fall but never fall behind your troop. You can shed blood and sweat but never tears. If you boys want to cry in the future, think about Ye Jian! Think about how she did it just like you! What else do you have to say?"

...Nothing to say!

The boys from the other classes watched Ye Jian finish the tests. Then, the chief instructor showed mercy and let some of the boys, whose faces were red, leave.

The boys from Ye Jian's class became well-behaved. They stood behind her with their heads high and chests out, waiting for the chief instructor's instructions.

There was no need to say anything else. She was qualified.

The chief instructor was very satisfied. He smiled and said, "Not bad. Go back and finish your afternoon tests. Gather at six tonight and complete the cross-country test."

"Yes!" Ye Jian, who had long become a soldier, answered swiftly. She followed the orders unconditionally and completed the arrangements of her superiors... Grandpa Gen, Uncle Chen, Captain Xia, and all the soldiers in the military unit were the same. She was no exception!

The male students in the class were sweating. When they went back, they glanced at Ye Jian from time to time. They wanted to say something but hesitated.

They wondered if she heard what they said earlier.
