

BOOT CAMP 1441

Chapter 1441: Calm Down, Major Xia

Ye Jian didn't open her eyes. She seemed to have fallen asleep.

Actually, she didn't. From her fluttering eyelashes, one could tell that her emotions were fluctuating.

There were too many things that she couldn't tell him. She wanted to tell him, but she didn't know how to do it. She didn't know where to start either. She was the only one who knew those secrets.

She wanted to settle these matters herself.

After a long time, Ye Jian slowly opened her eyes. She tried her best to smile and tell him that she was fine.

Xia Jinyuan felt a pain in his heart. He was familiar with her gaze now. She used to look at him like this too.

There was deep sorrow and struggle in her eyes. Her eyes were as bright as obsidian and seemed to be covered with dust. Although she was smiling, it made him feel sad.

His girl, his Little Fox, what... secrets can't you tell me?

Xia Jinyuan was certain that Ye Jian had a huge secret that she couldn't tell anyone.

After a while, Xia Jinyuan smiled and said in a low voice. "It's good that you're fine. Go to sleep."

If she didn't want to say it, then she shouldn't. The secrets hidden in the bottom of her heart were like a seed that hadn't germinated. One day, he would hear them.

He held her hand. She could feel that he was using his strength to comfort her. His gentle gaze was like a feather that gently caressed her cold and hard heart. It inadvertently left behind a gentleness that made her feel warm.

This gentleness made her feel at ease.

Ye Jian nodded obediently and closed her eyes.

The entire flight lasted for about three hours. It was enough for Ye Jian to have a good sleep. She didn't feel sleepy at first, but she felt at ease under Xia Jinyuan's gentle gaze. She didn't even know when she had fallen asleep.

G3 tilted his head and looked at Xia Jinyuan again. He raised his eyebrows and mouthed, "This matter seems a little tricky. Calm down. She will tell you when she wants to."

Even G3 could tell that something was bothering Little Fox.

"I'm not in a hurry. I'm here. I'm not afraid," Xia Jinyuan replied. He raised his hand and kissed the back of Ye Jian's hand.

G3: "... " The chili water entered his eyes. He wanted to use the water to flush it! He was agitated again!

The plane was about to reach the capital city airport. When it landed, Ye Jian had already woken up. Two flight attendants stood by the aisle when the plane stopped to prevent the passengers behind from suddenly walking over.

"F k, what do you mean? I have to wait for the people in front to leave before I can leave too!" Sun Yaozu's dissatisfied voice floated over from behind. Ye Jian smiled slightly and left the plane quickly under the leadership of the cabin crew.

The moment they walked out of the airport, someone came to fetch them. They were all soldiers in plain clothes.

Ye Jian didn't take the same car as Xia Jinyuan and G3. Instead, she took the same car as Major General Yang.

Fortunately, she had seen this scene before. When she got into the car, she saw Major General Yang, whose military rank was shining brightly. Ye Jian reacted quickly and didn't forget her manners.

"Hahaha, Little Ye, did I scare you?" When Major General Yang saw this, his smile became even more amiable. "Long time no see. You're getting more energetic and more military-like!"

Chapter 1442: They're Protecting Your Peace

The last time she met the major general was during the Spring Festival. It wasn't too long ago.

Major General Yang was more and more satisfied with this soldier. Her performance in the navy was so outstanding that the navy commander would call him from time to time to ask when he would send Ye Jian to study.

Fortunately, the army acted early. If not, the navy would have snatched her away.

What scared him even more was that the navy commander still dared to play matchmaker! He wanted to matchmake Ye Jian to Demon King Li and even said they would be family in the future. He welcomed Ye Jian to visit him anytime.

He had malignant ulterior motives. He even used a honey trap!

Now that he was in the capital city, he needed to squeeze out some time to have a heart-to-heart talk with the future outstanding special forces soldier.

"Don't be too reserved. We're just here to have a chat today. There's nothing else. Don't be too nervous." The major general noticed that Ye Jian's expression was a little serious. He couldn't help but slow down his pace and ask if the three-hour trip was pleasant.

It could be seen that the major general was very professional. He rarely talked about family matters and the topics he chose were a little awkward.

Ye Jian relaxed and smiled. "Everything is fine. Commander Xia and the rest took care of me. I went to sleep less than ten minutes after boarding the plane. I didn't wake up until the plane landed."

There was no pressure or nervousness throughout.

"Not bad, not bad. You need to hurry up and conserve your energy. Did he tell you about the mission he will be carrying out in the next few days?" The major general's psychological resistance was good and his psychological quality was good too. He even restrained his military might a little. This showed how satisfied he was with Ye Jian.

The Head appointed him personally and the military cooperated fully. As a major general, he was under a lot of pressure. He was worried that Xia Jinyuan would scare Ye Jian because she was young. Now, it seemed like he was worrying for nothing.

As the car started moving, Ye Jian had a feeling that... the major general didn't just come over to chat with her.

Ye Jian's sharp sixth sense kept reminding her that the major general was personally making a move. She could relax her tone, but she needed to be tense! She mustn't get complacent because of the major general's gentle attitude.

Her relaxed attitude made the major general even happier. "Relax when you need to relax. You're right. Little Ye, the Head has high hopes for you. You can complete this mission perfectly."

As he spoke, he handed over a military camouflage file to her. "Look at this document. You can consider it yourself. There's not much time left. We will go from the airport to the place where you will be staying tonight."

As expected, there was something else.

Ye Jian heaved a sigh of relief when she received the folder. A beam of light shone from the side. It was too dark inside the car. The major general opened the flashlight for Ye Jian so that she could see clearly.

Ye Jian wouldn't let the major general raise the flashlight for her. She quickly reached out her hand, but the major general avoided it. "Look carefully. Don't get distracted. Memorize what you see.."

The major general's expression was extremely stern and cold. Ye Jian narrowed her eyes and opened the file.

After looking at it for less than three minutes, Ye Jian's calm expression became more and more serious. She started frowning too. When she saw the number of deaths below, her eyes twitched furiously.

"You can't see the danger because someone used their body to block it."

This sentence appeared in her mind.

Just because you couldn't see the danger didn't mean that it didn't exist; it just meant someone blocked the threat and allowed you to be safe.

Chapter 1443: Need Your Attack

“The most dangerous evil organization since the founding of the country. They created and spread rumors that harmed the stability of society. They also made many public speeches and attacked the country and the government. They had a motive and organized groups to smuggle and distribute large amounts of books and public goods.”

In the car, as the Major General spoke coldly, the temperature dropped several degrees. “This organization isn’t just found in our country. There are in other foreign countries too. As the person in charge of this case, you are privy to the information.”

“According to the intelligence, this organization has launched a series of assassinations. They are trying to use the person in charge of the assassination to stop our country from investigating them. Ye Jian, once you accept the follow-up mission, the danger you will face will be greater than the mission you carried out in Pakistan.”

It was indeed very big. The Pakistan army had a gun on them when they carried out their mission. They could kill them anytime.

If you can’t do it in the country, you can only complete the shooting under special circumstances!

As the light source of the flashlight was turned off, Ye Jian’s expression was illuminated by the street lamps outside. He couldn’t see through Ye Jian’s thoughts.

In the past, she always carried out missions with Xia Jinyuan. He was the one who told her about it.

What about this time?

Was Xia Jinyuan going too?

There was still a time issue. After pondering for a moment, Ye Jian asked, “Major General, I only have seven days of leave. I’m afraid I’m in a hurry.”

As if he was sure that she would agree, the Major General said, “You don’t have to worry about the time. We will communicate with the school. If you agree, I will contact the military immediately and the local police.”

After two seconds, the Major General asked Ye Jian, “Xia Jinyuan told you what unit he is in. Do you have any thoughts?”

Thoughts? What thoughts?

“A super-elite unit,” replied Ye Jian with a smile. There was a look of yearning in her eyes. “I’m not afraid of being laughed at by you, Major General. This is my goal. I think that every soldier will be proud to be able to enter such a unit.”

It was different from what he expected.

He wanted to ask her if she had any concerns, fears, or hesitation. However, he heard a completely different answer.

The Major General narrowed his eyes slightly. The golden leaves on his epaulet and the golden star emblem shone brightly under the neon lights. The Major General turned around and faced the young cadet. He wanted to see if she really thought that way and if she was really so fearless.

Ye Jian didn't avoid the Major General's gaze and allowed him to size her up.

The sound of a motor could be heard outside the car. It was silent inside the car. The air seemed to have frozen. Even the people in the car seemed to be holding their breaths.

The guard was not affected and drove properly. After a long time, he heard the Major General's laughter. It was light and comforting. He laughed harder than when winning a battle.

"Good, good, good!" The Major General didn't say anything else. He just repeated 'good' to express his happiness.

Such a soldier, such an outstanding female soldier, a heroine!

In another car, G3 said to Xia Jinyuan, who was sitting by the window, "The Major General came personally and asked Ye Jian to accompany him alone. Q King, something is amiss."

He could smell danger.

However, Q King's expression was calm. He wondered if he was overthinking. If not, why didn't Q King feel anything? It was impossible for him not to feel anything!

Chapter 1444: A Different Love

The Major General came personally and called Ye Jian to the car alone. This was an unusual matter so there was no need to think too much about it.

"The leader she's protecting is not ordinary. After the celebration, it's not impossible for her to have any follow-up missions. Haven't we experienced it before?" Xia Jinyuan said calmly. There was no emotion on his handsome face. There was only calmness that no one could understand.

"If she has a personal mission, the military won't let us know. I have no right to ask."

In short, he wouldn't interfere with Ye Jian's actions or ask about them. This was the basic principle between soldiers.

G3, who had always been silent, suddenly raised his eyes and looked at Xia Jinyuan. "Ye Jian is your girlfriend. Aren't you worried?"

"What's the use of worrying?" Xia Jinyuan smiled calmly in the face of his comrade's surprise. "Will worrying be useful when I'm on a mission? G3, Ye Jian is my girlfriend and my comrade."

“On the battlefield, I will fight alongside you and Ye Jian. When we are carrying out missions, we will split the workload and cooperate with Ye Jian.”

“We are not just lovers. We are comrades who protect our country. She is carrying out a mission, and I hope that she can come back safely. I also hope that she can complete the mission.”

“Of course, I’m worried about her. That’s why I pay great attention to her training. I turned my worries into harsh training so that she can complete her missions and return safely.”

Xia Jinyuan and Ye Jian’s relationship was strict, supportive, and guarded...

That was because there were too many unknowns and too many dangers. Talking about love couldn’t make the two of them stay together forever. They could only work hard to make each other happy.

G3 was speechless for a long time. After at least five minutes, he nodded gently. “I understand.” It was a different kind of love and another way of getting along. It was Q King and Ye Jian’s unique love.

At night, Xia Jinyuan didn’t meet Ye Jian. The next day, at four o’clock in the morning, Xia Jinyuan saw Ye Jian, who was dressed in a low-key attire, flashing past his eyes.

He was in charge of keeping watch in the dark while she protected the target. They did their jobs and didn’t disturb each other.

“Director, this way, please.” Ye Jian, who had only slept for three hours at night, memorized the leader’s schedule. She spent two hours walking through the places that the director-general needed to pass during the day. She confirmed that there were blind spots and possible dangers, so she went through all these details in advance.

The director-general wasn’t tall and was a little skinny. However, he walked with a majestic aura. Even though there were white spots at his temples, he was more energetic than a young adult.

The director-general couldn’t bear to see the female soldier sent by the military. However, it was useless to say anything now. He could only accept it.

“Little Ye, walk behind me. There’s no need to stand in front of me.” At four in the morning, all the leaders had already started working. The 54-year-old director-general didn’t want Ye Jian to protect him with her life, so he reminded her from time to time.

Ye Jian was wearing a black slim-fit suit and a white shirt inside. She was dressed like a translator. She smiled and said, “Don’t worry, nothing will happen.”

Chapter 1445: Eye-catching

If the director-general wanted to walk in front, Ye Jian would be able to protect this man who had been working hard day and night. She would be able to escort the director-general into the bulletproof car.

This was Ye Jian’s second mission to protect the director-general. She didn’t have any stage fright or fear.

The soldier driving the car was from Zhongnanhai. Coincidentally, Ye Jian had trained with him in the underground training room of the abandoned factory in Zhongnanhai.

The soldier was surprised when he saw Ye Jian.

The bulletproof car drove towards the parade observation city tower. It wasn't slow, but it was very stable. There wasn't any shaking.

The director-general was wearing a grayish-green Chinese tunic suit. He didn't forget to tidy up his appearance when he got in the car so that he wouldn't be rude to the highest-ranking official later.

Ye Jian wasn't the only one protecting the director-general. There were soldiers from Zhongnanhai too. They were in charge of moving from the hotel to the parade observation city tower. After that, Ye Jian would escort them all the way to the city wall.

The celebration started at ten o'clock. All the leaders would enter the city tower in advance.

The capital city was under control. The main road was empty at four in the morning, but no one knew that elite special forces soldiers hid in the dark.

It was autumn in October. The capital city was already cold. Ye Jian alighted the bulletproof car and used her fastest speed to block the blind spot. She asked the director-general to alight the car.

Someone's gaze landed on her. It was cold and hard, like a cold blade brushing past her scalp.

It was the vision of a sniper hiding nearby. It was very realistic.

"Thank you for your hard work, Little Ye." The director-general was very polite. In front of a female soldier who was only four years older than his granddaughter, the director-general was so kind that he looked like an ordinary grandpa.

Ye Jian pursed her lips and smiled. "You're welcome. This is my job. Please come over and sit in the lounge."

"How can I sit still? My heart is surging. I'm looking forward to the grand celebration of the century."

The temperature in the capital was lower than in the morning. When he alighted the car, he could still feel the cold wind blowing on his face. The director-general walked calmly and casually with the composure of a leader. He started chatting with Ye Jian casually. "The last military parade was 15 years ago. Our country experienced so many storms before it became prosperous today. In the future, our country and our people will become stronger."

Ye Jian, who was closest to the director-general, lowered her head and listened attentively. When the director-general asked her a question, she would answer immediately. She concentrated her energy and confirmed that she could hear every word clearly.

Time ticked by. The morning sun arrived as expected, clear and bright like a mirror.

On the main road, the 17 teams had already prepared themselves. They stood facing the sun and waited for the day of the inspection.

The mobile column was also waiting. There were main battle tanks, combat vehicles, anti-tank missiles, ground missiles, aviation missiles, and other high-tech weapons and equipment.

The flight team had already taken off. They would appear in the sky above the “heart” of the motherland and be inspected by everyone.

This was a grand ceremony that represented the strength of the country and the prosperity of the nation. It was a report from the soldiers of our country to the country and the people. It was a ceremony that didn't forget history and the success of the martyrs. It was to create a glorious era for our country.

“All snipers are in position. City tower, be ready. City tower, be ready. Prepare to enter. Prepare to enter.” A cold and metallic voice came from Ye Jian's earpiece. She followed the director-general's footsteps and climbed up the city tower. Amidst the music, they reached the city tower.

Chapter 1446: Promising

People gathered on the lower left side of the city wall. There were business representatives, company representatives, national representatives, overseas Chinese representatives... All of them had undergone strict inspection and were confirmed to be outstanding representatives of the country that did not carry any dangerous items.

On the other side, the ordinary citizens of the country would be watching the celebration with the country's top leaders.

Sun Yaozu's body was fat. He felt a little breathless as he sat among the ordinary people. As he listened to the soldiers' welcome music, he whispered to Ye Zhixiang, “Damn it, I really came in! These people are too impressive. They even managed to get me in!”

“Tell me, what can't I do in the future? A big celebration? Hahaha, I, Sun Yaozu, can actually come!” He used to be a fugitive who had to hide his identity when he saw someone!

Now, hahaha, it felt good!

He had become a good citizen. Now he could watch the celebration.

Ye Zhixiang was recording and taking photos of herself. She raised her chin proudly and said to her husband, “This is nothing. Our lives will only get better in the future. That year, the fortune-teller who combined our birth characters said that I will bring prosperity to my husband! I will bring prosperity to you!”

“That's right, that's right. You're really a good wife!” Sun Yaozu felt the same way too. Ever since they got married and had Grandma Ye's help, she got a sum of money. After ten years, her family became huge and her business flourished until she had so much money that she had nowhere to put it down!

Ye Zhixiang picked up the video camera and aimed it at the city gate tower. Her red lips were moving up and down as she said, "Just enjoy it. In the future, our family will have a mountain of gold and silver. We won't be able to spend it all in a few lifetimes... Huh?"

Before she could say the word 'money,' Ye Zhixiang stared at the small square camera screen in disbelief. She nudged her husband. "Yaozu, look at the city tower. Why do I see that wicked girl, Ye Jian?"

Sun Yaozu was stunned. "What?" He thought he heard wrong.

"Let me take a look, let me take a look again." Ye Zhixiang actually suspected that she had seen wrongly. She tiptoed and looked at the city gate tower again... but she didn't see Ye Jian. "Did I see wrongly just now? Did I mistake someone else for Ye Jian?"

Of course, it was! Needless to say?

Sun Yaozu glared at his wife. "Take your photos properly. Stop talking nonsense! How can she come to the top of the city tower? You should leave with your brain too."

But her eyes weren't playing tricks on her.

Ye Zhixiang looked over again. She didn't see anything.

They didn't know that a retired police officer was staring at the television screen with wide eyes in a police station in a county city. He was focused on the face of a young lady in formal attire.

Ye Jian!

This was the Ye Jian he had trained with two years ago!

She hit the target 100% of the time. Ye Jian's military posture made her look even more like a soldier!

She actually... actually accompanied the country's leaders to the celebration and watched the military parade with many other leaders!

The policeman didn't say anything. He just watched silently and happily.

That year, he said that Ye Jian would have a bright future. Look, look, he was right... She actually reached this stage. Impressive, impressive!

Amazing!

The policeman wasn't the only one who saw it. An Jiaxin saw it too. She was watching television in her house. She screamed, "Ye Jian! I saw Ye Jian!"

Chapter 1447: Looking Up

After screaming, she immediately covered her mouth and glanced around the house.

Fortunately, she was at home and no one heard her scream. There was no news of Ye Jian participating in the celebration. Could it be a secret? She was a cadet now.

For some reason, An Jiaxin felt a little nervous. Of course, she felt proud.

Ye Jian's figure was only swept by a set of cameras. In less than three seconds, her figure flashed past. It wasn't the cameras that moved over, but she felt the cameras moving towards her and reacted quickly to avoid appearing in public.

She reacted quickly, but those who were really familiar with her, who were watching the television seriously, still noticed her.

Uncle Chen, who was in the military unit, wiped the corners of his eyes. Gen, Gen, you left early.

Ye Jian has become successful. She has become successful. She accompanied the leader to the city tower to watch the celebration.

You left early and didn't see this scene.

No, no. He must go to the provincial city and tell Gen.

"Old Chen, why are you crying alone? Ye Jian is promising. You should be happy." Commander Liu and Commissar Yan were watching too. As the people who were most familiar with Ye Jian, they recognized her right away.

Commander Liu laughed. "I think you're crying from happiness."

"Of course, we're so happy that we're crying. We're all happy that Ye Jian is successful." Commissar Yan laughed and patted Old Chen's shoulder. "Not bad. You can rest assured. Ye Jian's path will only get wider and wider in the future. She's promising."

Old Chen wiped the corners of his eyes again and smiled. "I'm happy. I'm happy but Gen didn't see it. When you enter the provincial city next time, bring me along. I will tell Gen and let him be happy in the netherworld too."

The celebration continued. Ye Jian, who was avoiding the camera, pursed her lips.

It was a live broadcast. Even if it only lasted for three seconds, it would appear on television... She wondered if there would be any trouble.

Fortunately, it only lasted for three seconds. Even Ye Zhifan and Ye Ying didn't notice it. They didn't expect Ye Jian to appear on the city tower with the leader.

A fighter jet flew across the sky. The rumbling sound was extremely intimidating.

Even the audience couldn't stay calm. They looked up.

Ye Jian didn't raise her head. She knew that the security was so tight that even a mosquito wouldn't be able to escape, but she still kept her job and paid attention to the surroundings to ensure the safety of the director-general.

The peaceful jet spread its wings and flew high. It flew past the city tower and into the sky. This meant that the celebration was about to end.

Ye Jian raised her hand and pressed her earpiece. After hearing the voice from the other side, she approached the director-general gently. "Director, we have caught four criminals."

"Okay, tell them to keep a close eye on them." The director-general maintained his smile and didn't show any emotions when he heard such good news. "Little Ye, tell them that the net has been cast. Don't be in a hurry to take it back. I've already used such a huge bait. It's not a big deal to catch four major criminals. We need to catch all of them."

Ye Jian nodded and repeated what the director-general said.

All the leaders walked down the city tower one by one. The contingents who were participating in the celebration started to march out in an orderly manner. The city tower was dark. The armed police and military officers who were maintaining order started to organize them to leave.

Ye Jian's work had just begun.

Amidst the crowd, Ye Zhixiang, who was waiting in line to leave, quickly replayed her camera. When a blurry face flashed past the camera, she held her breath. She was extremely flustered as she turned back and replayed slowly...

Her hands started shaking and the blood on her face drained almost instantly. She didn't see wrong... She didn't see wrong!

Chapter 1448: Speed and Passion

She didn't see wrongly; she didn't see wrongly. The person standing on the city wall was her, it was Ye Jian! It was really her!

Ye Zhixiang was scared stiff. Her hands and feet trembled as she stared at the frozen figure. She didn't know that the audience had already walked away. Cold sweat dripped from her forehead.

Sun Yaozu, who was walking behind her, didn't know what was happening. His wife didn't leave after a long time. He urged her impatiently, "Why are you still standing there? Hurry up and move!"

The crowd at the back urged her, "Can the lady in front please move?"

Ye Zhixiang didn't know how she walked out. When she woke up, she was already standing by the side of the street. She raised her head and looked at her husband. Then, she looked around, and finally, her gaze landed on the city tower.

"It's her. It's really her. I didn't see it wrongly. Yaozu, I didn't see wrong just now." She was so frightened that her voice cracked. It was so soft that she didn't have any confidence.

Sun Yaozu, who was fat, was sweating profusely. He was holding a tissue and was about to take off his sunglasses to wipe the sweat on his forehead. When he noticed his wife's abnormality, he took off his sunglasses and used a tissue to cover his blind eye. He replied casually, "What did you not see wrongly?"

"Ye Jian, just now, I saw her!" Ye Zhixiang's gaze was fixed on the city gate tower. She blinked and said in a dry voice, "When I saw Ye Jian standing on the city gate tower, I didn't see wrongly. She was really standing there together with the leaders of the country."

Sun Yaozu didn't believe her. His face twitched, and he scolded Ye Zhixiang, "Are you crazy?"

"Take a look for yourself." Ye Zhixiang handed over the video camera that they brought back from their overseas trip. "Look carefully and see if it's her."

Sun Yaozu snatched the camera and took a look at it. Then, his face twitched. He gritted his teeth and said viciously, "Damn it, it's really her. It's really that bastard!"

A car drove along the side of the street. The person sitting inside was Ye Jian, whom Sun Yaozu hated and wished to kill with his own hands. She sat in the car that was picking up the director-general and looked ahead coldly.

At the side of the road, two men stuck their heads out and looked around. They took out their phones and dialed a number. "Commissioner, the car has just passed. I can't see how many people are sitting inside."

"No matter how many people there are, we must do it. Hahaha, the matter is about to be done. We will become famous and heroes of the country!" Someone laughed and replied. It was filled with cruelty.

At noon, all the streets were cleared again. Ye Jian's bulletproof car got on the highway and started driving towards the capital city's suburbs.

"There are two cars behind us. Speed up." Ye Jian saw two heavy vehicles trying to flank them from the rear-view mirror in the middle of the car. "Drive in the direction of Tongzhou."

The driver was a soldier who had trained with Ye Jian before. He glanced at the rear-view mirror outside, and his face turned stern. "They want to crush us."

"That's right. That's why we're walking in the direction of Tongzhou. The highway there is newly repaired, and there are few cars." Ye Jian smiled lightly. She was calm and composed, but there was a hint of excitement. "Let's have a round of speed and passion first."

Speed and passion?

The soldier couldn't help but smile too. He held the steering wheel with one hand and gave Ye Jian an 'OK' gesture with his right hand. He started intentionally hanging the two heavy vehicles behind him.

Chapter 1449: This Is Her Support

The motorized vehicle sent from the South China Sea was exceptionally good. Also, the performance of the bulletproof car was quite good. As long as he stepped on the accelerator and increased the speed, he could shake off the two heavy vehicles in the blink of an eye.

However, the soldier driving didn't. He needed to guide them towards Tongzhou. The speed of the car was neither fast nor slow. He wouldn't let the heavy car get too far away or too close. It was like a big fish that got hooked. The driver didn't need to be too anxious. He just needed to stabilize the fishing rod.

Xia Jinyuan and the rest had not finished their work. They needed to wait for all the leaders to leave safely.

"The Falcon team has already caught four criminals. The Director's intention is very clear. Four criminals are not enough. He wants to catch all of them in one fell swoop." K7's calm voice came from the noise-resistant earpiece. "The director has set off for Tongzhou. Two cars will leave one after the other. Pigeon and T6 will cover her. Ye Jian will take point."

Xia Jinyuan didn't stop packing his gun. He said calmly, "How do you know so much? Are you participating?"

"Yes, I'm heading to Guilin now. The so-called 'Grand Commissioner' of this organization is in Guilin. Ten minutes ago, the latest news came from the local area. Four police officers entered the mountain to investigate and lost contact. There's a rumor that the four of them are already dead. The Head ordered the military to send people to cooperate with the local authorities and enter the mountain together."

"The Falcon team will be in charge of clearing the area. We will be in charge of clearing the area inside. The car will reach your location in three minutes. See you there."

After he finished speaking, K7 cut off the communication. He turned around in his casual clothes and saluted the Major General. "Reporting! Major General, the mission has been issued. We will leave at any time!"

"The firepower of the enemy is unknown. They have the support from overseas and the protection of the local civilians. The conference hall and the military district clearly cannot harm the local civilians. They will carry out the assassination immediately." The Major General, who had just finished attending the celebration and hadn't returned to the military district, gave an order in the city tower. "The Snow Region Brigade will send a total of six soldiers to Guilin. Six soldiers will go overseas to join the mission and cut off the link between the foreign and the local cults."

There were Ye Jian, Pigeon, K7, T6, Q King, and White Crane.

J5 led the way outside the borders. He had just received a mission, so he left the base with his five comrades from the Snow Region Brigade. They took a private plane and cooperated with the foreign military to maintain peace between the two countries.

Xia Jinyuan guarded one seat by himself. He kept his guns neatly and stuffed them into an inconspicuous travel bag. Dressed like a mountaineer, he left with steady steps.

He didn't ask Ye Jian about her current situation. The director-general went to Tongzhou to lure out the members of the cult that were hiding deeper. Ye Jian would definitely charge forward and direct all her attention to her to protect the director-general's safety.

He pursed his thin lips slightly and pressed the button for the basement on the elevator. His gaze was deep and calm as he slowly closed the elevator door. Until his line of sight was cut off, his gaze remained on the shiny steel door.

Downstairs, White Crane calculated the time. Seven seconds left to the three minutes. The commander of the two teams, Q King, will appear in front of him.

White Crane was a major. He was proficient in the language of the Six Nations and was an expert in electronic blasting. He was an assaulter when carrying out missions.

White Crane, who was 1.82 meters tall, had a refined look on his face. He dressed calmly and elegantly. His tie was meticulously tied, and he even had a steel mechanical watch on his wrist. His temperament was similar to J5's. There was a gentle smile on the corner of his mouth. He was like a mathematics professor in a university, full of temptation.

Chapter 1450: An Expected Cooperation

"This is my first time working with Ye Jian. Are there any taboos?" White Crane jumped into the car first. Then, he asked the captain, who was bending over, "I've been looking forward to this mission for a long time. I'm a little nervous."

White Crane, Pigeon... They were in charge of assassinations and reinforcements. Ye Jian and the Snow Region Brigade carried out a few missions at the frontline. Hence, Pigeon was the only one who had seen Ye Jian.

He fell in love with Ye Jian at first sight! Every now and then, he would mention Ye Jian.

Xia Jinyuan closed his eyes and rested when he got on the car. Hearing that, he said calmly, "She's good. She won't be a burden to anyone as she's accurate, agile, and has good judgment. She's adventurous. Working with her will give you a visual feast."

It wasn't an exaggeration. It was the truth.

"I'm looking forward to it." White Crane smiled slightly. He looked forward with his beast-like black eyes. The smile on his face gradually disappeared as the car started moving.

They needed to fetch K7 before they could discuss their plan. Xia Jinyuan didn't have enough sleep last night. He didn't want to delay his next mission, so he needed to catch up on his sleep.

The two of them didn't talk much. They saved their energy so that they could receive the important mission in a better state.

Ye Jian didn't know that Xia Jinyuan had joined the operation. At this moment, she was on the phone with Pigeon and T6. "There's still 500 meters away from the highway entrance in the direction of Tongzhou. We will seize the opportunity to create a car accident. Protect the Director and leave quickly."

The car that the director-general was in was still at the back. It didn't exceed the car that Ye Jian was in. The car that the director-general was in would only pass quickly a few minutes before the car accident.

Pigeon said in a low voice, "Okay, we will seize the opportunity. Be careful on your side. The mission will only be carried out when you come."

It was not easy to create a car accident and not implicate oneself. It was as dangerous as a firefight.

"Don't worry. I'm looking forward to working with you again." Hearing Pigeon's concern, a faint smile flashed past Ye Jian's eyes. It was light, happy, and without any fear.

Ye Jian was a real special forces soldier. In the face of imminent danger, she remained calm and didn't allow herself to panic.

Under her influence, the soldiers who were driving were very calm. They held the steering wheel with both hands, and their eyes were calm. They slightly accelerated and entered the Tongzhou highway entrance.

The people in the two heavy vehicles didn't realize that Ye Jian's car was intentionally lagging them. They happily contacted their people. "We're already on the Tongzhou Expressway. When we reach the entrance of the Guilin Expressway, we can take action."

They were all equipped with walkie-talkies. Sitting beside the passenger seat, a middle-aged man in sloppy attire was chewing on Areca continuously. After listening to the driver's conversation, a hint of panic flashed past his face.

Someone laughed wildly on the other side of the walkie-talkie. "We have insurance, so we just need to hit the car! If we succeed, we will have money, and the commissioner will take a liking to us. By then, our entire family will become officials."

"Close subordinate of the emperor!" The young man added, "Uncle, you can take the money and marry a wife to warm your bed."

The two drivers chatted happily. It seemed that as long as they completed this collision, the future would be beautiful. There would be no more troubles. They could do whatever they wanted in the future!