

BOOT CAMP 1501

Chapter 1501: All Provinces Attack

Slowly, she dragged the woven bag out of the water bit by bit until it reached her shoulder. Ye Jian used her dagger to cut the tightly woven rope and took out rocks one after another. When there were no more rocks in the bag, she used her hands to carry the woven bag and walked to the shore with a solemn and cold expression.

Ye Jian placed the woven bag down carefully. She stood up straight and saluted the woven bag. "Please wait for two more days. I, Ye Jian, swear to you as a soldier that I will bring you away and send you to your family."

Standing upright and saluting, Ye Jian, alone in the dark, swore to the dead policeman.

It wasn't over yet. She still needed to pass through a place.

Fu Hui provided a total of eight locations, which meant that the dead policemen were buried in eight places under the instructions of Chen Jiafu's believers.

Tonight, Ye Jian needed to find four places. Tomorrow night, she will find the other four.

There were two burying points in the vegetable garden of the villagers. Ye Jian didn't plan to look for them tonight. Instead, she went to a place far away from the houses and used her fastest speed to find the remains of the policemen who were killed while trying to bring justice.

At 3:00 AM, the director of the Snow Region Brigade received a call from Xia Jinyuan. He said that Ye Jian, who had infiltrated the mountain village, had found four woven bags. However, he couldn't confirm which policeman the body belonged to. They needed to do a DNA test.

This was good news for the Guilin police. Some people were so excited that their eyes were red.

Their brothers could go home. Their brothers could go home.

"It's a life-and-death battle. Cooperate with the military and wipe out all the cultists!" At four o'clock in the morning, the Guilin Police swore an oath and walked to their respective posts in the night.

Because of the news from Ye Jian, the entire province was locked down. All the exits were strictly checked. At night, someone was taken away. Some were even taken away by the police in their sleep.

The police launched a surprise attack on the 'Golden Bath.' The so-called technicians, masseuses, waiters, and the people busy in the kitchen were all taken away by the police. As for the senior management, they were taken away alone.

The Golden Bath was in a mess. Some people wanted to use their phones to inform the others secretly, but they realized that there was no signal on their phones. The phone line had been cut and they couldn't contact anyone outside.

"No signal. My phone has no signal."

"Neither does mine. What should we do? What should we do? How should we inform Sister Li?" The people who were not brought away immediately discussed it secretly. However, it was useless. They had no way of contacting the outside world.

Li E, who was far away in the mountain village, didn't receive any news. She was sleeping soundly on her lover's shoulder.

"We're still 41 kilometers away from our destination. Now, we need to walk into the village." They left at 9:00 PM, and it was 5:21 AM. Xia Jinyuan looked at the time and pushed the motorcycle into the forest.

The backup gasoline and the motorcycle were separated and hidden by tree branches. Five minutes later, they came out and walked into the thick fog.

Mist started rising in the mountain. Ye Jian, who had hidden the four woven bags, came out of the forest. Hearing the barking of the dogs in the village, she rushed towards Fu Hui's house.

It was almost dawn. She needed to hurry back.

Chapter 1502: Ungrateful

Fu Hui was extremely anxious. She didn't sleep for the entire night. She laid on the bed and maintained her original position, afraid that she would miss the signal.

Time ticked away. It was already 5:30 AM. Her parents, who usually woke up early, were probably already up and dressed.

"Why isn't she back yet? Why isn't she back yet? Did something happen? I must ensure that nothing happened to her." Fu Hui, who was nestled under the blanket, placed her hands together and spoke softly. Her face was filled with anxiety.

Her parents had already woken up so that they could call their son.

She heard footsteps through the door. Fu Hui's heart was in her throat. She popped her head out of the blanket and was about to look outside when a black shadow suddenly covered her.

"Do you have any clothes? I need a change of clothes." Ye Jian, who was drenched, stood by the bed and smiled. "I'm sorry to make you worry."

Ye Jian saw the worry in the young lady's eyes.

She had just changed her clothes when she heard the sound of knocking on the door. It was Fu Hui's mother.

Ye Jian opened the door and said unhappily, "Auntie, what are you doing? I'm not awake yet." Fu Hui was so frightened that she was shivering under the blanket. She could only let her open the door.

"Have breakfast." Fu Hui's mother couldn't speak Mandarin, so she said these three words seriously. She looked at the slender girl with a meaningful gaze and nodded in satisfaction in front of Ye Jian.

She was worthy of her son.

Ye Jian frowned slightly. She closed the door and turned around. "There's something wrong with the way your mom looked at me just now. Why don't you ask her what is happening during breakfast?"

Without needing Fu Hui to ask, her parents took the initiative to tell her the reason.

"Your parents want me to be your daughter-in-law?" Ye Jian's expression turned cold. After a while, she smiled. "That's interesting. Where is your brother now?"

They would regret letting her be their son's wife.

Fu Hui's eyes were filled with tears. She raised her head and didn't want her tears to flow out. "I think it's interesting too. For my brother, my parents are really..." Her parents had committed too many mistakes. She sniffled furiously and took a deep breath before continuing, "They are heartless."

"Don't be sad. You're doing well." Ye Jian never hugged people voluntarily. She hugged the girl whose heart was broken by her parents and said gently and calmly, "You need a new environment. Your path is different from theirs. Everything will get better, so don't be too pessimistic."

Such a kind and righteous girl would have a good ending.

Li E only appeared at noon. When she saw the two girls sitting on one side with at least three meters between them, she couldn't help but relax.

"Sister, I'm really sorry. I've been busy until now." Li E, who was still wearing the same clothes as yesterday, walked over with a smile. "Sister Li wants to apologize to you. I'm afraid I can't bring you to hunt in the mountains today. You'll have to wait until tomorrow."

Ye Jian seemed to have just woken up. She tried her best to open her eyes and blinked. It was as if she finally saw who it was. She said weakly, "Sister Li, I seem to have caught a cold. Let's do it tomorrow. I want to sleep."

Chapter 1503: Infused in Battle

Ye Jian's words hit the nail on the head.

Hearing this, she immediately waved her hand and signaled Fu Hui, who was sitting far away, to come over. "Fu Hui, this is the VIP I brought over. She's also your VIP. You must accompany her well."

When Fu Hui walked closer, the smile on Li E's face got deeper. "We have to explain things to our esteemed guest properly. We can't mistreat our esteemed guest or tire her out, understand?"

She spoke to Ye Jian directly and turned around to face Fu Hui.

The moment she turned around, her expression changed, turning cold. She reached out and held Fu Hui's hand tightly. In a low voice, she warned, "You're not allowed to bring her anywhere except the village! Not in the neighboring village or the mountain."

"You can't let go of her until your brother comes back. Do you hear me?" Li E didn't like to study. Why did a girl like her study so many books?

If you study too much, your heart will become wild. It's not easy to control your heart!

Fortunately, her entire family was obedient. If not, she would definitely find a way to deal with them.

Fu Hui was already wary of Li E. When she heard that, she nodded with a blank expression. She was so obedient that she didn't seem to have any opinions of her own.

Seeing this, Li E nodded in satisfaction. She turned around and continued smiling at Ye Jian. "Sister, let her accompany you to the village today. Aren't you afraid of dogs? Every family in the village has a guard dog. Don't run around. Be careful not to get bitten by dogs."

"If you feel bored, come and find Sister Li. When Sister Li is free, I will bring you around to play."

To prevent her from wandering around the village at night and seeing things she shouldn't see, Li E not only instructed Fu Hui to keep an eye on her, but she also asked the villagers to be careful.

Ye Jian yawned and replied casually, "I know. Also, Sister Li, is there a phone in the village? I want to call my family." Similarly, Ye Jian would confuse her enemies.

"My husband is poor. He doesn't earn much money in a year. How can he afford a phone? Let's stay for three days. You can contact them when we reach the county city." Li E just wanted to see if the person was still around. She didn't want to continue talking. After she left with Chen Jiafu, everything in the village would have nothing to do with her.

However, she really regretted bringing her back. Fortunately, someone took over. If not, she would be a burden.

Li E was afraid that Ye Jian would cling to her because she wanted to contact her family. At first, she just wanted to chat for a second, but she had no choice but to stay for a while. She only left after her parents came back.

Chapter 1504: Heaven's Justice

Seeing that her parents were so stubborn, Fu Hui stood there in a daze as if she had lost her soul. Even though she was standing under the sun, she was shrouded in despair as if she couldn't see the future. It was gray, and she had lost the smile that she should have at her age.

Cults had existed since ancient times. God's Church was not the first cult and would not be the last. However, they would never allow it to develop and harm the peace of society.

Ye Jian looked at Li E's back view as she left. She clenched her fists slowly. Just you wait, Li E. Your days will not be long!

The 30-odd families in the small mountain village lived on the mountain and were not gathered together. Besides the six families that were gathered near Chen Jiafu, the rest were all unaffiliated families.

"How many siblings does Chen Jiafu have? Who are the closest ones? Who are the ones that appear in his family frequently?" After understanding the exact number of people in the village, including men, women, and young adults, Ye Jian asked about Chen Jiafu in detail.

The information provided by the Guilin Police wasn't detailed enough for Ye Jian and the Snow Region Brigade. There were different levels of criminals too. They had to be clear about who they wanted to catch.

Finally, there was someone beside her who could talk to her. Fu Hui's words became clearer and clearer. "There are two brothers and two sisters who married into other provinces. Chen Jiafu is ranked third. He is closest to his two brothers. If anything happens, they will be the ones to handle it."

"The second is Li E. The next is the neighbors of the six families that live near his house. The village leader of our village is also surnamed Chen. They are brothers with him. The village leader gets the benefits first."

The two of them chatted as they walked. Ye Jian maintained her vigilance. Once someone approached her, she would immediately stop the conversation. After reminding her twice, she was surprised.

She didn't feel that the villagers were following her. However, Ye Jian noticed it when she was at least five meters away.

"You're amazing. How did you know that someone was following you?" Fu Hui, who was relieved, blinked and looked at Ye Jian with sparkling eyes. "You know even when they're so far away."

Ye Jian smiled. "We soldiers train. If someone is following us, we will know immediately. They are not professional stalkers. We will be able to find them from afar."

Fu Hui exclaimed in admiration, "Your training must be tough. You must be the best police officer in the police station." If not, they wouldn't have let her enter the village alone.

Thinking of this, Fu Hui felt more at ease.

She could already see the hundred-year-old maple tree in the village. It was autumn, and the maple tree had turned yellow. The simple and peaceful scenery made Ye Jian stop in her tracks.

Such beautiful scenery. Unfortunately, it would be hard for the villagers to see it again.

"You will only gain if you put in the effort. Just like how you are going through hardships now. In the future, you will be able to face any hardships calmly." There was only one main road in the village. If she followed it, she would be able to walk through the entire mountain village. Ye Jian, who was comforting others, didn't walk blindly. She had a purpose. Every time she finished walking, Ye Jian would draw the terrain in her mind.

When they reached a stone tablet, Fu Hui said in a soft voice, "We can't go further. There's a path into the mountain ahead. We can't go out of our village easily, and the people outside can't enter the village easily either. We need to get the approval of the Chen family before we can do anything."

Chapter 1505: Return

Even though she didn't sleep last night, Fu Hui didn't feel sleepy at all. She kept talking about what happened in the village.

She had suppressed her emotions for too long. There were too many things in her heart. If she didn't say it out loud, she would drive herself crazy.

Ye Jian listened quietly and didn't interrupt her. She knew that this strong girl needed to vent. Just like in her past life, she needed someone to help her when she was cornered.

"When you entered the village last night, did you see the two houses at the village entrance? That's Chen Jiafu's two elder brothers' house. They are guarding the village entrance. If anything happens, they will inform the entire village immediately."

"They raised four wolfhounds. The feeding matter was handed over to the entire village because Chen Jiafu said that these four wolfhounds were the guardian angels of the village. Isn't it funny? The dogs have become 'gods' and often receive the worship of the villagers."

Fu Hui, who revealed her thoughts one by one, gradually lost her composure. She was very relaxed in front of Ye Jian. It was as if she had found a close friend. She was not afraid of others so that she could speak her thoughts out loud.

Ye Jian raised her hand and gently wiped away the tears that flowed out from the corners of Fu Hui's eyes. "A cult will always hurt the innocent. It will lead the villagers who were originally kind but didn't know the law to the wrong path. They will go to the extreme and become the tools of the Chen family."

"From this, it can be seen that our country didn't do thorough and comprehensive law promotions in the remote mountain areas. As a country governed by law, the law must be implemented."

Ye Jian never knew how to comfort other people, but her words always had a calming effect. Just a few sentences were enough to calm Fu Hui down.

Thus, Ye Jian changed the topic.

When she entered the village last night, she did see two houses at the intersection, but she didn't hear any barking. After a while, she let out a sigh of relief and pursed her lips. Ye Jian asked, "Do you know when the four wolfhounds are active?"

It was better to do less to deal with wolfhounds, not to mention there were four of them.

“They will be locked up during the day. They will be released around seven at night. There are no chains on them. Someone in the village was bitten by them. The person who was bitten didn’t receive treatment. Chen Jiafu even said that he was possessed by an evil spirit, so he was bitten by the wolfhound.”

When these things were mentioned, Fu Hui’s emotions would fluctuate. Chen Jiafu’s words were not trustworthy at all. Yet, the entire village believed in him.

After Fu Hui finished speaking, Ye Jian narrowed her eyes slightly. Captain Xia and the rest definitely couldn’t enter the village directly from the village entrance. They could only sneak in from the mountain.

“Bring me to the place where the other four woven bags are buried. I didn’t know the place well last night, so I took a detour. I will rush back as soon as possible tonight.” She didn’t want this girl whose heartstrings were about to break to worry anymore. Also, she received Captain Xia’s message at 5:25 AM. They were only 41 kilometers away from the village. They must have arrived at a place to rest.

Three days. They only had three days. She couldn’t waste any more time.

During the day, they would step on the spot accurately and survey the area. At night, they would be able to increase their speed. She wouldn’t be able to find the other four woven bags as quickly as last night.

The second night after arriving at the village, Ye Jian left Fu Hui’s house at 11:00 PM. When she came back, she was drenched again. Her main mission was completed.

After sending out the exact location of all the woven bags, Ye Jian held her phone and waited for Xia Jinyuan’s good news.

At five o’clock in the morning, she received two words on her phone: “All is well.”

After waiting for an hour, Ye Jian finally closed her eyes and fell asleep.

Chapter 1506: Hateful and Disgusting

To retrieve all eight woven bags smoothly, Xia Jinyuan and the rest stayed in the forest for an entire day. When the woven bags were transferred to their hands, even the Special Forces soldiers, who were used to seeing life and death, had red eyes.

“All of them are sealed to prevent any smell from leaking out. Put on the combat uniforms in the backpack and bury the casual clothes on your body. Carry the bodies of the police brothers!” After Xia Jinyuan finished instructing, he started changing his clothes.

The military ordered that the first priority of the Snow Region Brigade was to bring all the police officers back so that their souls could rest in peace. They would carry their comrades who fought for justice on their backs. There was no fear in their hearts!

A few policemen died in the hot weather. Their limbs had turned into white bones. As a forensic expert, K7 couldn’t tell who the bones belonged to. He could only temporarily place them into their military backpacks.

“Have a good trip, brother.”

“Brother, let me bring you home.”

“Thank you for your hard work.”

The three of them took out the white bones one by one. Their expressions were the same as Ye Jian’s. They were extremely solemn and filled their backpacks with respect. K7 touched a piece of the broken bone with his fingers. His thin and handsome face was tense. “It was cut with a blunt ax and sawed with a steel saw. This is the skull. It was once hammered by a heavy object.”

Xia Jinyuan stood up. A cold light flashed in his eyes as he looked at the mountain village filled with smoke. “We can meet them tonight.”

The sun rose. The sunlight dispersed the mist in the forest. Xia Jinyuan and the rest hid their traces and returned to the tree. They waited for the police to arrive.

Ye Jian, who started her day’s activities, finished the most important thing and had no worries anymore. However, she still asked Fu Hui to bring her around the village. The villagers received Li E’s instructions and saw that Fu Hui was always following the unfamiliar girl, so they weren’t as vigilant as yesterday.

Fu Hui was very responsible. This quiet girl wouldn’t ask any questions. She would do everything silently.

Ye Jian liked her personality. She was opinionated, principled, and righteous.

After walking for a while, Ye Jian realized that two villagers had been following her for a long time. When she purposely mentioned that she wanted to go to the hundred-year-old maple land in the village, she saw the expressions of the two villagers who followed her from the corner of her eye. One of the villagers quickly turned around and walked towards the village entrance.

There was still a distance from the big maple tree. A few villagers blocked Fu Hui. They stopped Fu Hui from bringing strangers over to take a look.

“You can’t go any further. She hasn’t become your sister-in-law. Be careful of the Grand Commissioner getting angry.”

“You went out for a day yesterday. Why are you still going out today? Why aren’t your parents taking care of you?”

“Hurry up and bring her home. Don’t go near the door of the Grand Commissioner’s house.”

Chen Jiafu was their faith. They wouldn’t allow anyone to destroy their faith.

Ye Jian’s heart trembled as she looked at the weathered faces and thought about the dead policemen.

She couldn’t understand why they were willing to kill other people for their so-called ‘faith.’ In the end, they listened to their leader and dissected the limbs of the policemen.

On the other side, the villager who turned around and left brought two middle-aged men over. They looked extremely serious as they walked to Fu Hui's side and spoke in a low voice.

Ye Jian looked at the two middle-aged men who just arrived. When her gaze landed on their waists, she felt sorrow in her heart.

Chapter 1507: Fake News

The sun was shining brightly in the afternoon. Ye Jian raised her hand and covered her eyes.

One of the middle-aged men was wearing a leather belt that was stained with dirt. This belt didn't belong to him at all. It belonged to one of the dead police officers. Now, their murderer was using it openly.

Fu Hui was a quiet person. The villagers asked her a few questions and she answered them. Soon, she brought Ye Jian away.

"Chen Jiafu's younger brother asked me to bring you home. You're not allowed to walk around the village anymore." Fu Hui walked over and said nervously, "Let's go home quickly. I'll bring you out later."

They walked for a long time. It was already 11:30 AM.

Ye Jian raised her eyes and looked at the two middle-aged men who blocked her way. She glanced at the man with the belt. "Is the man wearing the belt Chen Jiafu?"

"It's him. Don't look at him. Let's go." Fu Hui was very afraid. Even her fingers were trembling. "Hurry up. If he sets his eyes on you, you will be in danger."

Before she reached Fu Hui's house, she saw a few villagers chatting outside the house. When they saw her coming over, they immediately stopped chatting and sized her up.

"Don't worry about them. Just follow me." Now that Fu Hui was protecting Ye Jian, she felt that she had the responsibility to protect the young policewoman who was trying to save her.

Ye Jian didn't tell him her real identity. Fu Hui always thought that she was a policewoman.

The food had started to smell good. K7, who was squatting in the forest, ate his compressed biscuits and drank the spring water from the mountain. He finished his lunch.

"There are a lot of dogs. There are four wolfhounds at the entrance of the village." Xia Jinyuan's voice came from the wireless earpiece. It was cold like the spring water. "There are 34 houses in total. Every house has one dog. If you don't put them down, our tracks will be exposed at any time."

It was really impressive. They actually asked every household to raise dogs.

It wasn't easy for Little Fox to find the four woven bags last night!

Holding a compressed biscuit in his right hand and binoculars in his left, White Crane asked in a low voice, "How's the situation on Ye Jian's side? When is she going to administer the medicine?"

After observing for less than half an hour, he saw six mutts running over from the fields. If she didn't take care of them, it would be difficult for them to move.

Xia Jinyuan looked down at his phone and smiled. "It has started. There will be news in the evening. Pigeon and the rest have met up with the police. White Crane, send him our coordinates."

One short message after another was sent over. Xia Jinyuan replied quickly too. "The preparations are done. Leave the woven bag to us. You are in charge of finding the woven bag that is buried in the vegetable garden."

"Okay, we will act at eight tonight. I will be responsible for diverting their attention." Ye Jian received his reply and immediately replied. Her exquisite face was tense and there was a hint of viciousness between her eyebrows. "Chen Jiafu is the first criminal. His brother is involved in the murder of the police too while Li E is the main culprit. The four big fish will be arrested."

The first message was sent out. Ye Jian immediately typed the next message. "The firepower is unknown for the time being. After investigation, I didn't find any weapons. I suspect that the weapons provided outside the borders are fake news. We can't rule out the possibility that the three Chen brothers and Li E have guns and ammunition to protect themselves."

Xia Jinyuan couldn't help but stare at the message. Fake news?

Chapter 1508: A Greater Scheme

This was intriguing.

Little Fox wouldn't send such a message for no reason. Did she discover something?

This piece of news was provided by the Guilin police. If Little Fox said that it was fake news, could it be that the first offender was bluffing?

Xia Jinyuan was still staring at the message when Ye Jian's second message came. "We must investigate Charlie again. I suspect that he has other motives."

Sitting at Fu Hui's house, Ye Jian stared at the Chen brothers who came. During the day, she felt that she had seen them somewhere, but she was sure that she had never seen them in this lifetime.

Just now, when Chen Jiafu, who was wearing a black jacket and had even combed his hair, walked in, Ye Jian finally found out where she had seen him.

In this life, she had never seen them before, but she had seen them in her past life!

Their photos appeared on a website of a certain western country. They openly challenged the dignity of the country and they were forced to go overseas because of the country's persecution! It was mentioned that the entire village was unhappy with the government's arrangements and received inhumane treatment. They vaguely mentioned that the military participated with guns.

She didn't pay attention to the impact of this matter at that time, but she guessed that it wasn't very big. At least, the domestic news didn't report it. It could be seen that after the country knew about it, they immediately came forward to solve this matter.

Outside, Fu Hui's parents said anxiously, "We don't have any ulterior motives. The Grand Commissioner has given us money. We can't be ungrateful! And Sister Li, she didn't say anything and just gave the girl inside to my son as her wife. The Grand Commissioner and Li E treat us so well. How can we betray the Grand Commissioner?"

Chen Jiafu guessed that there was a spy in the village, so he asked his brother to investigate. He was going overseas, but he would not let the spy live!

After asking for a long time and finding no abnormalities, the two brothers from the Chen family finally let Fu Hui's parents off. With fierce and cold expressions, they started talking about Fu Hui again. "Outsiders are not allowed to go around the village. From tomorrow onwards, you and your sister-in-law are to stay at home and not go anywhere. Do you understand?"

She was referring to Ye Jian.

Fu Hui was flustered, but she was still calm. She didn't say anything and just nodded obediently.

The Chen brothers didn't probe further when they saw that the family was obedient. However, they didn't see Ye Jian coming out so they said worriedly, "Call her out to take a look."

"Hurry up and call your sister-in-law out!" Fu Hui's mother heaved a sigh of relief when she heard that everything was over. Her family relied on the commissioner to lead a good life. Her future would be better too. How could they betray him?

Ye Jian put down her chopsticks and walked out. She frowned and pretended to be unhappy as she looked at the Chen brothers. However, she was secretly sizing them up.

If Chen Jiafu really had guns and ammunition from overseas, the two brothers that he had the best relationship with would definitely have the smell of gunpowder, especially since the entire village was at the center of the storm.

They even dared to kill the police. If they really had weapons, they would be even more arrogant.

After the two brothers left, Ye Jian used the excuse that she was uncomfortable to return to her room. She didn't relax her eyebrows. In her past life, the Chen brothers had indeed left the country. Then, in her past life, did the military and police enter the village with guns and let the helpless villagers receive inhuman treatment?

According to the information provided by the Guilin police, their village had weapons from overseas. They were not defenseless!

Chapter 1509: Enlightenment

Thinking about her past life and now, Ye Jian's brain never stopped working.

In this life, with the nurturing of Grandpa Gen, Principal Chen, and the military, Ye Jian was no longer as ignorant as in her past life. Combined with the comments she saw on a western website in her past life, she thought deeply and meticulously.

The country was holding a huge celebration and was the center of attention. All the major foreign media outlets reported about this celebration. The warmth of the celebration hadn't disappeared. There were even foreign media outlets staying in Beijing.

If there was suddenly a huge piece of breaking news in the country that was related to the military and the police, the foreign media would definitely publicize it and report it. Social media would definitely become the focus of the entire world.

The anthropologist, David Cole, once said, "Without rituals and symbols, there will be no ethnicity." The purpose of the celebration that was held a few days ago was to remember history, remember the martyrs, cherish peace, and create a future. It would also strengthen the citizens' sense of identity and belonging to their country, as well as their strong sense of honor. But at this moment, the military or the police suddenly raised their guns at the small mountain village. What would the citizens think?

After much publicity and expansion, a crisis of trust between the people of the country might occur.

Because of this, Ye Jian felt enlightened. She sat up in shock.

That's right. In her past life, the Chen brothers appeared on a certain western website less than a week after the big celebration. Although she didn't pay attention to this matter after that, she could still feel how huge the commotion was when she thought about it!

Ye Jian didn't know if she guessed wrongly. She didn't have the political acuity of a country leader, nor did she have any contact with the politics between countries.

However, Charlie's identity was definitely not simple! Perhaps he was intentionally revealing misleading information about the Grand Commissioner and the Chen family.

The guns and ammunition from overseas was fake news. This was the first message Ye Jian sent to Xia Jinyuan.

Ye Jian quickly pressed the buttons with her fingers and sent out her guess. The word count was so long that a message was sent to Xia Jinyuan's phone four times.

Her speculation and analysis made Xia Jinyuan's handsome face sink. He had never considered this!

This was politics!

In a small town, the director-general had already received a call from the highest-ranking official in the conference hall. The capital city had intercepted two sets of suspicious satellite signals. After an assault investigation, they found out that one of the signals came from the secret communication between the two major news agencies of a country and the three reporters who stayed in the capital city.

Now, the three reporters had been secretly controlled, but they were not alerted. They were only intercepted and changed the content of the signal.

The other signal source appeared near Xia Jinyuan's destination tonight!

From the discovery to the capture, it took less than two hours for the conference hall to reach the director-general and explain the situation. Everything was under the control of the conference hall.

"Okay, I will contact the various teams immediately!" The grim-faced director-general nodded and agreed. Although he was skinny, the majestic aura of a leader of a country could not be ignored.

Beside him, a phone belonging to a staff member rang. This was the director-general's office. The staff member immediately picked up the call. Before he could speak, a man's voice came through the phone. It was so cold that his heart trembled.

Chapter 1510: I'm Here

"I'm the person-in-charge of the military operation team, Xia Jinyuan. I have something important to report to the director-general." Xia Jinyuan had the director-general's official phone number. After two missed calls, he immediately contacted the main staff around the director. The moment he finished reporting his identity, the director-general's voice sounded.

"There's a problem with Charlie's identity. A certain Western country wants to use our country's celebration to create international news. The assembly hall has already been deployed." The director-general didn't give Xia Jinyuan a chance to speak. He took over the phone and said in a deep voice, "The Great Hall already has a corresponding plan to provide the Western country with the opportunity to create public opinion in our country. At the same time, we will arrest the main criminal, Chen Jiafu. The two brothers will not be arrested for the time being."

After he finished speaking, the director asked Xia Jinyuan what urgent matter he had for him.

Since the Great Hall had already come to a conclusion, there was nothing else to do. Xia Jinyuan smiled and said, "What I reported to you is similar to what you told me. Ye Jian noticed something amiss and suspected that other countries were interfering. Shall I send you her message?"

The director-general was surprised when he heard this. Did Little Ye notice something amiss?

"Okay, send all her messages over." How could he not be surprised? The people at the Great Hall only noticed the abnormality two hours ago. Other people, including him, as a leader, didn't notice it. Yet, a cadet from the school noticed it. This was extremely sensitive politics!

As he was talking to the director-general, Xia Jinyuan received another message. He hung up the phone and opened it. It was from Ye Jian.

"The whereabouts of the other dead policemen are unknown. We can't rule out the possibility that they have fallen into the hands of the three Chen brothers." Xia Jinyuan replied after he finished reading the information. "The abnormal situation was known two hours ago by the Great Hall. The two brothers will not be arrested for the time being. Contact at 5:00 PM. Over."

Ye Jian, who was leaning against the window, heaved a sigh of relief when she saw the reply. This would explain why the Chen brothers could still go overseas.

It turned out that they purposely let them go. In that case, the reason why their post on the website didn't cause a huge commotion in China was because the Great Hall had a plan.

A great country wasn't so easy to bully. A certain Western country shouldn't be too conceited. They had to pay for their actions.

With this message, Ye Jian felt relieved.

At five o'clock in the afternoon, Ye Jian turned on the signal receiver on time and received a message from Xia Jinyuan. The Guilin police had split into five batches and arrived in the forest about five kilometers away from the village. They were waiting for tonight.

The tough battle had begun. Tonight, the net was closed!

This mission could be said to be the one where Guilin sent out the most police officers. The director of the small county town would receive the situation in the village immediately and report it to the Great Hall.

As night fell, the temperature in the mountain gradually dropped. The wind blew past the treetops, bringing with it a soothing rustling sound. After dinner, Ye Jian received Fu Hui's signal. She gave the dog at home the medicine and it suddenly went crazy. It was a high concentration stimulant.

Half an hour later, the dog started barking. Fu Hui couldn't help but shiver.

"Don't be afraid." Ye Jian mouthed to her. "I'm here for you."
