

BOOT CAMP 1701

Chapter 1701: If He Becomes His Love Rival

“There seems to be something wrong with you. You look like you have a lot on your mind ever since you came out of the hospital. Why do you look like you’re fine now? Are you so afraid that Azure Bird will dump Q King?” Han Zheng was puzzled. He should not be like K7 and G3, waiting for the day when Q King would be punished by Azure Bird.

T6 glanced at this ‘scourge’ who had harmed more than ten girls and said coldly, “You won’t understand my struggle. You’ve previously had more than ten girlfriends. I, a virgin, can never have those attainments.”

The voice fell, and a team member sitting in the aisle gasped as he stared at Han Zheng. “More than ten girlfriends! How capable! We don’t have any girlfriends.”

“Heh, I’ve never had a girlfriend before.” T6 wasn’t afraid of exposing his old age, so as to show how much of a playboy his ‘scourge’ comrade was, he said, “I’m not ashamed, I’m proud of it!”

Han Zheng chuckled. F*ck, this kind of topic shouldn’t be talked about. In the future, they should never talk about such topics. It would anger everyone!

“Good luck. Spring is coming soon, and so is your spring.” With Han Zheng between them, the comrade patted T6, who had never been in a relationship before, and comforted him. “After you get a girlfriend, you can tell her proudly that she is your first love!”

T6 nodded. He was already prepared to find his future girlfriend after this training!

As for how Q King and Azure Bird were getting along, T6 didn’t think about it anymore. He should just consider his marriage.

G3, who was sitting in the last two rows, said to K7, “I think Azure Bird is unlikely to break up. She’s very calm when dealing with things. She won’t alienate Q King because of this. She’ll understand Q King’s intentions.”

“Azure Bird is rational, and Q King is rational. If there are any misunderstandings, they’ll sit down and talk about them. Breaking up won’t be an option for them,” K7 said expressionlessly. He looked at G3 who was analyzing seriously. “Also, what I said in the washroom was to scare Q King. Don’t take it seriously.”

G3 was stunned. K7? Was the person sitting beside him still K7?

An immortal-like K7?!

Not only did he scare Q King once, but he even scared him a second time. The man even really believed it!

“Sleep.” K7 covered his face with his hat. He no longer cared about his comrade who was stunned. Under the hat, the expressionless K7 curled his lips slightly. With Azure Bird around, life in the army was much more interesting.

The matter of Major Xia dealing with Azure Bird seemed to have come to an end just like that. Only the people involved knew about it. Ha, the settling of scores had yet to begin.

Commander Xia, who was on the phone with his future daughter-in-law, finally felt relieved. His daughter-in-law was reasonable and didn't quarrel with his son. He wasn't worried that his future daughter-in-law would run away.

There was still a month of training to go. With his intelligence, he would probably make up for his mistakes and perform well. He would not give up such a good woman.

Commander Xia was relieved that his daughter-in-law didn't run away.

Commander Xia couldn't be blamed for worrying. The major general of the army had accidentally mentioned that the commander of the navy wanted to introduce Ye Jian to Li Jinnian. He even said that the two of them were a match made in heaven.

This Old Dong really knew how to steal someone's woman. He even managed to steal Old Xia's woman!

Li Jinnian, the captain of Storm Commando, was young, promising, talented, and capable. He was steady and had a mind of his own. He was a young major.

If she really became Xia Jinyuan's love rival, she would be a formidable opponent.

Chapter 1702: It's Not Good To Snatch Someone's Girlfriend

A girl like Little Ye was extremely rare. If one was not careful, she would be snatched away by others!

He had no choice. For the sake of the Xia family and for the sake of his son who had grown up with them, he could only be thick-skinned and be the father of his future daughter-in-law.

Fortunately, Little Ye didn't reject him. Otherwise, he would have personally gone over and tied Xia Jinyuan up. Then, he would hold him down and make him apologize to Little Ye!

Commander Xia never thought about whether his son had been beaten up by Ye Jian. To him, Xia Jinyuan's skin was so thick that even if Ye Jian beat him up, he wouldn't get hurt.

The commander-in-chief had the foresight and made preparations in advance.

At this moment, the commander of the navy was talking to Li Jinnian, who was sitting beside him. “Xia Jinyuan sent Little Ye to the hospital. Jinnian, your chance is here. You have to seize it, understand?”

“Little Ye, this female soldier is very good. She's capable and likable. She has a good personality and is a good person. She's not worse than a male soldier no matter which aspect you look from. You're not young anymore. It's time for you to start a family.

“I won’t introduce you to other female soldiers. They can’t handle your family’s messy affairs, but Little Ye is good. She’s from the special forces like you. If anyone in your family dares to be rude to her, you can settle it with force. Let’s see who dares to be impudent!”

“You don’t have to worry about your wife getting bullied. Don’t tell me that you don’t like Little Ye. I don’t believe that you won’t be moved by such a beautiful female soldier standing in front of you!”

After speaking for a while, the commander felt that he had hit the nail on the head. As he waited for Li Jinnian to answer him, he looked at Li Jinnian with a serious expression.

There was a stern-looking Xueyu unit member sitting in front of them. Luckily, they were separated by their own people. If not, with the hearing ability of the Xueyu unit members, the person would have heard the commander’s words clearly. They didn’t say anything in front of him but turned around and told Xia Jinyuan about it.

Snatching someone else’s girlfriend was a big deal!

Xia Jinyuan treated Li Jinnian as a brother. He treated him as a brother he would die for. He couldn’t do this to his brother.

There was another main reason. He really admired Ye Jian and had a strange feeling for her. Sometimes, when he saw her smile, he would feel happy too. It was as if he would be happy as long as she smiled.

This feeling... Li Jinnian furrowed his brows slightly as a faint smile appeared in his eyes.

If he really had a good impression of Ye Jian, after Xia Jinyuan appeared, the good impression that he didn’t even notice had disappeared.

That night when Ye Jian arrived on the island with the supplies, he had seen the secret interaction between her and Xia Jinyuan. The usually calm Xia Jinyuan even specially went down to the sea to welcome her. At that time, he thought that he was mistaken. Now that he thought about it, he was very sure that Xia Jinyuan kissed Ye Jian.

Later, the two of them sat together. Even though there was a certain distance between them, the atmosphere between them was as if they were isolated from the rest of the world. After that, Xia Jinyuan came to look for him at midnight and said, “In return for diligently training Ye Jian.” Now that he thought about it, this sentence was actually a declaration of his sovereignty and also a declaration of their relationship.

Ye Jian was sent to Storm Commando by the military. What did it have to do with Xia Jinyuan?

As long as one thought about it carefully, one would know why he said that.

Chapter 1703: The Bottom Line

It was because Ye Jian was Xia Jinyuan’s girlfriend. He was thankful that he was strict when training Ye Jian and didn’t treat her a certain way just because she was a female soldier.

He had already confirmed their relationship. Even if he wanted to make any advances toward Ye Jian, he had to scrap his plans. A friend's girlfriend was not to be touched. This was his bottom line. As a soldier, how could he cross that line?

Besides, he was not upset to find out that they were lovers. Instead, he felt that their relationship was normal.

Now, he was very sure that he only admired Ye Jian. He didn't have any other thoughts. Even the subtle feeling of happiness that he experienced every time he saw her smile was definitely not because he had feelings for her.

It was not that he had never been in a relationship before, nor had he never been moved. How could he treat the admiration between comrades as the romantic feelings between men and women?

However, he couldn't understand why he liked seeing Ye Jian smile so much and why it made him feel so happy.

This was his own private matter. He didn't want to bring it up, but now he had to talk to the commander-in-chief.

How should he put it?

He had to think about it for a while and string some words together to make things clear to the commander-in-chief.

Li Jinnian's personality was as cold as his expression. Plus, he was usually a man of few words, so there was no need to waste words during training. Hence, he wasn't used to speaking so much.

If possible, he really only wanted to say to the commander-in-chief, 'You're thinking too much.'

However, that would not do. If he did not say more this time, he might not be able to dispel the thoughts in the commander-in-chief's mind.

If he talked to Xia Jinyuan directly and said that he wanted to introduce Ye Jian as his girlfriend, he would be in big trouble.

At the thought of this possibility, Li Jinnian felt that he had to make things clear with the commander-in-chief immediately.

While he was still deliberating, the commander-in-chief of the navy turned anxious. "Li Jinnian, are you still a man? Is there a need to be so wishy-washy? Is it so difficult to give me an accurate answer?"

"Or are you embarrassed to tell me? Do you want to be bored alone?"

The cabin was quiet. The commander-in-chief of the navy raised his voice slightly. The comrades in the front row could hear him clearly. They were all shocked by the commander-in-chief's words, "Li Jinnian, are you still a man?"

They knew very well whether the devil king was a man or not! He was definitely a man! A very, very capable and majestic man!

“What’s the commander-in-chief talking about with Demon King Li? Why does it sound so awkward?”

“I don’t know. It even involves whether Demon King Li is a man or not! Cough, I can prove that Demon King Li is definitely a man.”

“What did you hear? I think it’s quite interesting.”

The comrades in the front row remained still, but their conversation wasn’t hindered at all. All of them were making guesses with great interest. Sitting in front of Li Jinnian was Big Prawn and Big Whale. Sitting across the aisle were the scouts. They had good hearing and could hear everything even if they didn’t want to.

Only the three of them knew what the commander-in-chief and Demon King Li were talking about.

They would definitely support the pursuit of Azure Bird, Ye Jian!

The two of them were well-coordinated in battle, and it was impossible to tell that it was their first time fighting. The two of them were very compatible when they stood together. Azure Bird was tall, and so was Demon King Li. Coupled with their good looks, it was indeed a joyous occasion for them to be together.

Chapter 1704: Talking About Feelings? My *ss

Li Jinnian, who was about to give a long speech, suddenly glanced at the scouts sitting side by side. As he glared at them, the three scouts reacted in unison. They all turned their heads toward the window.

Devil King Li had discovered them eavesdropping!

After stunning the scouts, Li Jinnian said in a deep voice, “Commander-in-chief, I know you’re doing this for my own good. However, I really don’t have any feelings for Ye Jian.”

“I admire her a lot because female soldiers like her are rare in the army. Every male soldier would be amazed by her skills and looks. I’m a man, the most normal man.

“I have to admit that Ye Jian is definitely very suitable to be a girlfriend to us soldiers. She wears the same military uniform as us. She also carries a gun and fights for her country and her people. She’s so outstanding. Upon entering the military unit, she’s like a fairy who descended from heaven. The male soldiers will inevitably be tempted.

“Even Big Shark joked that if Ye Jian had come to the military unit a few years earlier, he would’ve written her a love letter. You know as well that Big Shark is several years older.”

When the commander-in-chief heard this, he still felt that there was a chance. He pulled a long face and said, "Since you can't be exempted from the customs of a male soldier, that's fine! As long as you get along well, you'll eventually develop feelings for each other.

"For example, back in our generation, marriage depended on the matchmaker. The matchmaker came to talk about the family situation of both parties. The parents would think it through and come to a decision without asking about what we thought. We wouldn't even know what the person we're marrying looks like! When you get married and start being together, feelings will start to grow.

"You guys have already met each other before and know each other well. Moreover, you admire Ye Jian. Why are you still dawdling, then? When it's time to make a move, you have to make a move. After this, there won't be another chance. Where will you find a girlfriend like Ye Jian?"

Li Jinnian wanted to finish his speech in one breath. However, he was interrupted by the commander-in-chief. He even thought that he and Ye Jian could develop their relationship. Why was he getting more and more confused?

Li Jinnian raised his hand and rubbed his temples. He decided to make the long story short. "Let me tell you this. I don't have any feelings for Ye Jian. Similarly, Ye Jian doesn't have any feelings for me."

After all that talk, he was still talking about feelings with him!

Talking about feelings! My *ss. If there were no feelings now, how could there be feelings after marriage? Why didn't he understand what he meant?

The commander-in-chief felt as though he was suffocating in his heart. "I'm asking you to woo her first, then slowly cultivate your feelings for each other. Do you not understand, or are you deliberately playing dumb with me?"

"Commander-in-chief, forcing something won't result in anything good. Your era is different from our era. There's no way to pursue someone first and cultivate feelings later." Li Jinnian was helpless. He had clearly told the commander-in-chief that he didn't have any feelings for Ye Jian. Why didn't the commander-in-chief believe him?

At this thought, Li Jinnian's heart suddenly froze.

Did he do something that caused the commander-in-chief to misunderstand and think that he had feelings for Ye Jian? Or did he say something?

If this was the case, wouldn't Xia Jinyuan misunderstand as well?

He quickly went through the memories in his mind. He recalled the times when he needed to talk to Ye Jian during their training.. Li Jinnian was certain that he didn't do anything that would cause misunderstandings.

Chapter 1705: Nothing To Do With Romance

After confirming that he hadn't done anything that would cause others to misunderstand, Li Jinnian lowered his voice. "Commander, Ye Jian and I can be comrades, but we can't be friends or lovers."

"... You're making me so angry that I want to jump off the plane!" The commander-in-chief of the navy wanted to play matchmaker when he thought about how the two of them were so compatible with each other and how Ye Jian could handle the Li family's matters with her ability. "Why can't you guys become lovers? Do you not like Ye Jian?"

Li Jin smiled, "Commander-in-chief, think about it. Maybe Ye Jian doesn't like me? There are thousands of men in the world. There are many who are more outstanding than me. Since she's capable and educated, she can find a better boyfriend."

"What do I have? I don't have anything now. Why would she like me? Commander, you can't just ask me to chase after her. You have to get Ye Jian to agree to it as well."

"Moreover, I really only admire her, and it has nothing to do with romance. I don't have the time to talk about romance either. You gave out a military order to train our Storm Commando into the strongest maritime special forces that dare to compete with the Western maritime special forces."

"You've also given me an order to hold me accountable for not achieving any results. Commander-in-chief, the task at hand is not to find a girlfriend but to lead our team to become a special battle team that the country can trust."

This time, Li Jinnian finished his sentence in one breath. He didn't give the commander-in-chief a chance to interrupt him. "Give it a rest. Don't mention this again. It's impossible between Ye Jian and me. There's no chance."

He couldn't tell the commander-in-chief that Ye Jian had Xia Jinyuan by her side. Their relationship was still a secret. Even if he knew about it, he couldn't say it out loud. He could only tell the commander-in-chief this.

The commander-in-chief of the navy frowned at his firm tone. He looked at him with his sharp and dignified eyes. "You really don't want to chase after Ye Jian?"

"Really! If I have a woman I like one day, I'll definitely take action and tell you."

"No, don't tell me! I only admire female soldiers like Ye Jian." The commander-in-chief of the navy waved his hand dejectedly. He was no longer interested in his beloved general's personal feelings. He paused for a moment before continuing, "I just wanted to let Ye Jian stay in our navy unit. However, you don't want to do it, so the possibility has been reduced."

"By the way, have you asked her? Is she considering staying?"

“She told me clearly that her goal is to join the Xueyu unit. She just wants to be a special forces member. She didn’t even consider the navy,” Li Jinnian replied honestly. Since the commander asked, it was better for him to answer truthfully.

He didn’t want to have any misunderstandings with Xia Jinyuan. Since everyone was fine now, he wanted to make things clear beforehand so that they would not hurt each other’s feelings. He wanted to cut off all the bad seeds.

There was no misunderstanding and no indifference. In the future, they could still hand their lives over to their comrades.

The commander-in-chief of the navy sighed again and again. Nothing seemed to be really working out.

‘Old Yang, Old Yang, I really admire you. I truly admire you.’

Seeing this, Li Jinnian changed the topic. “Next up is desert training and altitude training. Commander-in-chief, I’m worried that our team members will have altitude sickness, so I plan to prepare more medicine.. We also need oxygen tanks with us, just in case.”

Chapter 1706: Loving Each Other

At the mention of training, the commander no longer paid attention to what he felt was a pity. Instead, he discussed with Li Jinnian the detailed arrangements for the training.

Xia Jinyuan, who was accompanying Ye Jian, was also making detailed arrangements. Desert training was actually more dangerous than altitude training. The biggest problem was the scarcity of water.

As for not having a compass for directions, Xia Jinyuan didn’t think it was a big deal. They wouldn’t be given much water either. They would have a few packets of pickled vegetables, some compressed biscuits, and peppers.

There was already a serious shortage of water, but the supplies that were given to them had to be swallowed with large gulps of water. Needless to say, it was the military’s intentional arrangement.

Cold resistance, heat resistance, thirst resistance... These were all training that a special forces soldier had to go through. Xia Jinyuan had no objections to this, and he had no right to object either.

Other than the occasional sound of paper being flipped, there was no other noise in the quiet ward.

Ye Jian was still sleeping. She had been overworking herself during the past few days of training. After five consecutive days of fighting matches, she got her period. Even though Ye Jian had good stamina, she was still exhausted. She needed to rest up so that she could participate in the next training.

She slept from noon to five in the afternoon. When she woke up, the sky was already dark and night had fallen.

When Ye Jian opened her eyes, she didn’t disturb Xia Jinyuan who was working. He didn’t realize that she had woken up. His head was lowered and he was writing on the paper.

He was making meticulous and detailed arrangements for the upcoming training. He also had to make arrangements for the routes and camps, as well as what tasks to complete every day, how many routes to take, and what to take note of.

This was the responsibility of a commander. The entire team would be mobilized for you, and the entire team would be under your control. The team members would listen to you and obey you. Then, as a commander, you had to shoulder the entire responsibility. Nothing must happen to you.

The war of modernization had already begun. From the era of cold weapons to the era of information and multi-functionalization, war had become a 'science'. It required scientific combat, reasonable arrangements, and strict organizational procedures. As the core of the Xueyu unit, Xia Jinyuan was being paid more than any other team member.

Although Ye Jian hadn't officially joined the Xueyu unit, she knew how hard it was for Xia Jinyuan.

He would always be at the most dangerous places. He would always have to deal with the hardest and most tiring things. He also had to rush to the front, where he fought and retreated with his comrades. He was not special because he was the leader.

She was fascinated by Xia Jinyuan.

Perhaps he had encountered some difficulties. The corners of his lips were slightly pressed together, causing his originally handsome side profile to reveal a hint of coldness. He looked even more like a soldier with a dignified aura.

The heater was turned on in the ward, and he was only wearing a tight-fitting long-sleeved shirt after taking off his combat uniform jacket. The hem of his shirt was tucked into his pants, and the leather corset outlined his beautiful and sexy waist.

From her angle, she could still see his beautiful and strong chest muscles. Just looking at it made her think that if she leaned on it, she would feel safe.

Unknowingly, she started having wild thoughts. Ye Jian's face was hot. She quickly looked away and looked out of the window.

It was unknown when it started snowing outside the window, but the snowflakes were drifting about. It was as though they could drive away all darkness and sins, burying all those unfortunate and painful things under the pure white snow.

Chapter 1707: That's My Honor

It was such a quiet ward. It was so quiet that his body and mind were completely relaxed. It was so comfortable that his mind was empty without a trace of disturbance. His mood was calm and distant, far away from all his worries.

Ye Jian had a smile on her lips. She didn't see the man who was working seriously raise his head. His deep and dark eyes were filled with gentleness that could make people sink. He looked at her deeply and smiled slightly. Then, he lowered his head and continued with his work.

Snowflakes were falling outside the window, and the ward was as warm as spring. One of them was sitting, while the other was lying down. Neither of them disturbed the other, but both of them were thinking about each other. They enjoyed the peace of winter and this rare moment when they got to be together.

Time ticked by. Ye Jian's neck was sore. She turned her gaze back to the man who was still working seriously with his head lowered. She saw that the corners of his lips were raised. He was smiling elegantly.

His smile was very infectious. Ye Jian couldn't help but smile too.

The man who was holding the pen suddenly smiled and sighed. He turned his head and caught Ye Jian's gaze. He raised his eyebrows slightly and revealed a dangerous yet elegant smile that Ye Jian was most familiar with. "Little fox, when you look at me like this, I can't concentrate on my work. It seems like you've taken a liking to my face. You can't take your eyes off me?"

"How is it? Are you satisfied?"

Ye Jian raised her eyebrows and nodded. She replied seriously, "Not bad. You're handsome. Most importantly, you have a good temperament. You're a feast for the eyes!"

"I look handsome on the outside. Yes, it's one of my strengths. I'm very handsome on the inside too. However, you'll need to dig deeper to discover it." The major, who had skin as thick as a brick from the Great Wall, accepted the compliment without any reservation. He didn't forget to praise himself some more. "I'm handsome on the outside but I'm also handsome on the inside. Are you satisfied with a boyfriend like me?"

His mouth was full of nonsense.

However, it was also very interesting. Ye Jian loved such lively and intimate conversations. That was why she felt that her life was so lively and full of endless energy.

After the fever subsided, she smiled with her pink lips. Her bright eyes were like spring water as she looked at the young major who was as happy as her. Ye Jian said, "I'm satisfied for now, but sometimes, you'll occasionally be negligent. It's okay. I need to train my boyfriend slowly. I'll train the major into becoming the person I like."

"It's my honor." Xia Jinyuan was a chauvinist but he wasn't an extreme chauvinist. Instead of saying that she was training him, he was willing to change himself for her.

Changing oneself for the person you loved was something to be happy about.

Seeing this, Ye Jian hugged the blanket and smiled even more happily.

Her sparkling eyes twinkled like a sly fox. Xia Jinyuan felt that even her hair was so cute.

Training the major? She wouldn't even have the guts to do that!

She was so happy that her eyes curved into crescents. Xia Jinyuan felt that his heart was as sweet as honey. Just then, he looked at his watch and frowned.

It was already so late!

He quickly tidied up the papers and notebook, saying to Ye Jian, "You must be hungry. I'll go to the canteen to get some barley porridge and longan red date porridge for you. The doctor told me that I can only give you porridge today.. I'll get you rice tomorrow."

Chapter 1708: Fluttering Heart

High fever caused the metabolic enzymes in the body to be inactivated, resulting in a decrease in appetite. Only porridge and soup would not easily cause nausea, and it could also promote the patient's appetite and increase nutritional intake.

Xia Jinyuan followed the doctor's instructions strictly. At the same time, he also ate porridge with Ye Jian.

He was packing the papers and notebook. Ye Jian looked at his hands and frowned.

He had changed to a new sterile gauze. If it was really as he said before that it was just a few small wounds, they would not need to be bandaged like this at all.

Also... Ye Jian seemed to have thought of something. Her relaxed expression tensed up.

When he applied medicinal oil on his back before this, he had used the back of his hand instead of his palm!

Ye Jian pulled the blanket away and got off the bed.

Xia Jinyuan was quicker than her. She had just grabbed the corner of the blanket when he came over with the notebook. "Don't step down from the bed. We'll leave the hospital at 11 o'clock at night and head to the second training base. Lie on the bed and rest for a few more hours."

The fever had subsided and the flush caused by the drug allergy had faded. She could be discharged after a 12-hour observation.

They didn't have much time to waste. The training progress and time couldn't be changed because of personal reasons. If Ye Jian hadn't suffered from an allergic reaction to drugs, she wouldn't have been sent to the hospital in a helicopter for emergency treatment.

It was normal for them to be sick when training.

Ye Jian grabbed his wrist and looked at him coldly. "It's serious, right?"

“A little. I didn’t wear my combat gloves when I climbed the ladder of the helicopter. I got injured by the rope.” Looking at her expression, Xia Jinyuan knew that he couldn’t hide it anymore. Hence, he told her the truth.

He told Ye Jian the truth and she felt relieved. “You need to treat your wounds as soon as possible to avoid making things worse when you’re training in the scorching heat of the desert.”

“Don’t worry and lie down on the bed obediently. I’ll go to the canteen.” As he lowered his head, a feather-like soft kiss landed on the tip of her nose. “I’ll be back soon. Take these documents. I’ll go out and get the doctor to come over to take a look. Put the documents under the pillow and keep them properly.”

All the training materials and schedules were military secrets. Other than the relevant personnel, no one else was allowed to read them.

Ye Jian counted 16 sheets of paper. There were pictures, notes, and detailed deployment information.

There were also two notebooks and a map of the desert. She hid all the information under her pillow.

Xia Jinyuan’s smile deepened.

She had always been very meticulous, and it was very reassuring to let her handle things.

If she left at 11 o’clock, she would have to pack up and leave at around 10 o’clock. However, she liked to prepare in advance, so she packed up now.

The doctor who came in with two nurses saw that the patient who was supposed to be lying on the bed was now dressed in the same clothes as a male soldier. She stood tall and straight beside the bed like a pine tree. She looked valiant and exceptionally energetic. It was impossible to tell that she was still sick.

When the two nurses saw Ye Jian in her military uniform, they felt that she was special.

It was rare to see female soldiers in 1999. However, it was the first time they saw a female soldier as beautiful as a star from Hong Kong or Taiwan.

“So cool! It’s such a refreshing sight.”

“She’s so energetic and pretty. Her facial features look like they were painted.. She’s so beautiful.”

Chapter 1709: Guardian Angel

The two nurses covered their faces using the clipboards and whispered to each other. They looked at Ye Jian with starry eyes. The more they looked at her, the more excited they became. Their faces were red.

The doctor turned his head and used his eyes to tell the nurses to be more reserved. Then, he said to Ye Jian, "Are you going to be discharged? No, you still have four hours of observation time. You can only be discharged after four hours."

"It's been hard on you, doctor. I'm just tidying up. After sleeping for a day, I feel much better now. My body doesn't feel as heavy as before. I feel very relaxed." Ye Jian sat on the bed and said to the doctor who was listening to her heartbeat, "I just want to ask if I'll continue to be allergic to fever medicine."

In her previous life, she had spent so much time in medical school. The professional courses she took were on par with what was taught in medical school. She more or less knew about drug allergies.

Normally, if one had an allergic reaction to drugs, the reaction of one's body to that particular drug would not change. Furthermore, once the body was allergic to a certain substance, it would not change for the rest of one's life.

However, she found it unbelievable that she was allergic to fever medicine.

After a simple check-up and seeing that the rashes on her body had subsided, the doctor couldn't help but smile. "You've indeed recovered well. Your physique is better than that of ordinary people."

"Your fever was more than 39 degrees Celsius. A normal person would need at least two days to gradually recover but you recovered in less than 12 hours. Your physical fitness is very good. As for the fever medicine allergy, your comrades said that all of you took strong fever medicine. I don't think you've taken it before."

Ye Jian was about to answer when one of the nurses placed the tray with cotton swabs, alcohol, and a thermometer on the bedside table. Then, she reached out and wanted to pick up the pillow. Ye Jian, who had her back facing her, seemed to have eyes on the back of her head. She turned around and pressed the pillow with her hand naturally. She smiled and said, "You can just take my temperature like this without me lying down."

"Ah, oh, okay." The nurse didn't think too much about it. She was a little embarrassed when Ye Jian suddenly spoke to her.

Ye Jian smiled at the nurse again before answering the doctor, "No, it was my first time. Is it because the medicine is too strong?"

She frowned as she tidied her clothes. If she became allergic to fever medicine in the future... it would be a little troublesome. A high fever wouldn't happen only once or twice during combat. It might happen again in the future.

Xia Jinyuan pushed the door open and heard the doctor speaking to Ye Jian with a gentle smile. "Don't take it too much in the future. You don't have to use strong medicine. You can use Chinese medicine to reduce your fever."

"Excuse me, is my comrade having a fever again?" He didn't even put down the porridge in his hand. He walked to Ye Jian and stood beside her like a guardian angel. He frowned and looked worried.

As a doctor, he could not stand talking to two soldiers with strong auras at once. He quickly said, "We're still measuring her temperature."

Ye Jian said, "I'm asking if I can still take fever medicine in the future. The doctor suggested that I take Chinese medicine to reduce my fever."

"You shouldn't carelessly take medicine." Xia Jinyuan raised his hand and knocked her head lightly. He said politely to the doctor, "You've worked hard today, Doctor."

"You're welcome. It's what we should do," the doctor said politely. He took the thermometer from the nurse and took a look. "Her temperature is normal. She can be discharged in four hours."

Ye Jian didn't like hospitals. Xia Jinyuan didn't like hospitals either. After receiving the doctor's confirmation, they smiled at each other. Even if she couldn't be discharged tonight, she would insist.

Chapter 1710: Reborn

After eating the porridge, Xia Jinyuan took out the documents under the pillow and said to Ye Jian, "Come, Little Fox, let's go through the desert training."

"You and Uncle Chen have gone to the desert for sniper training before. This time, it's a little difficult. You should understand the entire training plan first. As for the difficult parts, you have to persevere. There's no way to change it."

Ye Jian had taken a look at it before. She took out a document and asked, "Anti-war, anti-annihilation, counter-attack, and break-through. These four are all for group training. I've already found my weakness."

"I can fight alone, but I can't find my own position in a group battle. I always want to rush forward alone to settle things."

It was the same every time. It was like working with Demon King Li. She wanted to rush over alone to settle it.

All in all, she just wasn't used to team battles.

Perhaps she had gotten used to being alone in her previous life. Although she had changed a lot in this life, whenever she felt a sense of danger, she only wanted to face it alone and resolve it herself.

However, she didn't plan to tell anyone about these. She didn't even intend to mention Captain Xia.

Xia Jinyuan said, "It's normal. You didn't receive systematic training. All these years, you've been training as a lone soldier. You didn't have a team, so your subjective thinking is more serious."

"As an independent entity, all of us are like this. The army is like a furnace that can correct all your shortcomings. It will allow you to be reborn and become a real soldier."

He discovered this problem before Ye Jian. If not, why would he suggest she apply for the command specialization?

Not only did he want to solve this problem for her, but he also wanted to nurture Ye Jian's leadership ability and build a good foundation for her future development.

Hearing that, Ye Jian felt that what he said made sense. She didn't go through professional and systematic team training. Whether it was training with Grandpa Gen or training with Uncle Chen, she had indeed always trained alone.

"Anti-war, anti-annihilation, counter-attack, and break-through. These four aspects can increase your awareness in a team. Also, you can see how Demon King Li deploys troops and how he arranges every soldier to the correct position. Observing and thinking will greatly improve your combat skills and team coordination.

"More importantly, the school can't teach you this."

That was indeed the case. Hence, when she found out that she needed to go overseas for training before the match, she was filled with anticipation.

"The desert we are entering this time requires us to pass through borders. There is also the Gobi combat training. We have to cross eight provinces in total. Once we enter the borders, we will start moving. We will walk and train along the way. Take care of your body. If there are any problems, report back immediately."

Once they entered the desert, they could not allow anything to happen to their bodies. If something were to happen, it would be quite troublesome.

"We don't have a compass and we don't have many supplies. So, we have to be careful." Xia Jinyuan reminded her again. Then, he took the list of supplies and pointed at one of the supplies. He smiled and said, "There's good news. This time, we will use exoskeleton power equipment. We will be able to fly even if we enter the Gobi Desert."

This was a piece of equipment with a modular design. Each piece could be stacked in a standard individual protective equipment bag. The height could be adjusted, and it was suitable for individual soldiers of different heights.. It was convenient to wear, and it only took less than 30 seconds to take it off.
